To the University Community:

As I have mentioned previously, Salinda A. Arthur, Vice President for University Advancement has announced her retirement effective December 31, concluding five years of service with Georgia Southern University.

Ms. Arthur, who also serves as president of the Georgia Southern University Foundation, led the division to a 143 percent increase in gifts from 2011 to 2015 and an increase in funds awarded in student scholarships.

Ms. Arthur departs after serving as the University's first female vice president for Advancement and first female president of the Georgia Southern University Foundation. She and her husband, Chet, will be relocating to Virginia to be nearer to their children and grandchildren.

I am sincerely excited for Salinda and Chet as they enter this new phase of their lives. I hope you will join me in congratulating Salinda for an outstanding career in philanthropy and her upcoming retirement.

Sincerely,

Jaimie Hebert, Ph.D.
President
