

My News

April 3, 2017

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/mynews>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

For supplemental articles, click on the link in the recommended citation.

Recommended Citation

"My News" (2017). My News. 115.

<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/mynews/115>

This newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Office of Strategic Communications & Marketing at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in My News by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

MyNews for April 3, 2017

Volunteer at this year's Army ROTC Freedom Run

The Georgia Southern University Army ROTC program is looking for volunteers for this year's Freedom Run 5K/10K race set for April 22 at the RAC Pavilion.

Volunteers are needed at water points throughout the race route and for general route management as they guide runners on course.

Read More »

Jeremy Horstman named Veteran Small Business Champion by SBA's Georgia District Office

The U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) Georgia District Office has awarded Jeremy Horstman the 2017 Veteran Small Business Champion in the 2017 National Small Business Week awards for Georgia.

Horstman is the director of the Veterans Business Outreach Center (VBOC) at Georgia Southern University's City Campus in downtown Statesboro. The Center is one of 20 VBOCs nationwide.

"The Veterans Business Outreach Center team is excited to receive this award as an advocate for 'vetrepreneurs,'" said Horstman. "As an SBA resource partner, we strive to empower veterans in the small business arena and when they are successful, we are successful. As veterans ourselves, we enjoy helping transitioning veterans on the path to business ownership.”

Read More »

Graduate student pulls local artifacts for Museum’s latest WWI exhibit

A pressed rose lays across a handwritten letter from soldier Joe Hollingsworth. “There is something still alive so near the trenches, even the gas has not touched it,” the letter reads.

Read More »

Georgia Southern alumni recognized for outstanding achievements

For more than 40 years, the Georgia Southern University Alumni Association has honored alumni who have distinguished themselves with outstanding professional and personal achievements, and those who have loyally dedicated their time and service to the Eagle Nation.

Read More »

Students participate in Blue Mile Cleanup

On Saturday, March 25, more than 100 student volunteers participated in a Community Cleanup event in downtown Statesboro. The event was planned by Georgia Southern student Jefferson Doehling, a community liaison in the Office of Leadership and Community Engagement. The revitalization effort, led by Habitat for Humanity, included picking up litter and trash from approximately 26 blocks along 11 streets in the Blue Mile Neighborhood Revitalization area, filling up nearly 100 large trash bags.

The event was sponsored by Bulloch County Habitat for Humanity, with refreshments provided by Three Tree Coffee Roasters.

City of Statesboro provides new resource to report illegal wrecker services

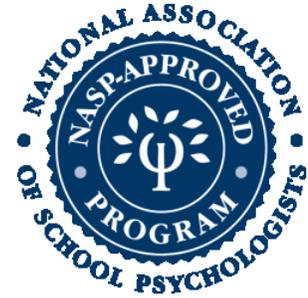

The city of Statesboro has added a new feature to its website where anyone can file a complaint regarding wrecker services. The website also provides a helpful summary of towing fee guidelines for students, residents and visitors. In an effort to further support the community, the Statesboro Police Department is addressing allegations of wrecker services operating using illegal means, specifically “non-consensual towing,” when vehicles are removed from private property at the property owner’s request.

Individuals are encouraged to file a complaint online if they feel a violation of local ordinances has occurred. Each complaint will be reviewed by the Statesboro Police Department and action will be taken if necessary.

School Psychology program receives NASP national recognition status

Georgia Southern University's College of Education received notification that its Ed.S. in School Psychology program has been awarded full-approval/national recognition status from the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP), a recognition of the program's demonstrated consistency with NASP standards. Georgia Southern is one of only three universities in the state of Georgia with NASP-approved school psychology programs and has the only specialist degree program in the state that is nationally-recognized and NASP-approved.

During this time, Anderson provided consultation to ECU faculty and led lectures on how faculty can help facilitate ECU's goal of implementing curriculum on family care into their undergraduate to doctoral education programs. She also helped faculty become more comfortable having a family nursing, or care of families, focus in their curriculum.

Read More »

Women's Leadership Series creates leadership, service opportunities in Statesboro

The Women's Leadership Series (WLS) kicked off 2017 with its first session, "Perceptions and Identities of International Women in the Workplace" on March 9. The WLS will meet next on Friday, April 7, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Read More »

Georgia Southern faculty serves as visiting professor at Australian University

Kathryn Anderson, Ph.D., ARNP, PMHCNS-BC, LMFT, professor in the School of Nursing, was appointed visiting professor at Edith Cowan University (ECU) in Perth, Australia, from Jan. 30 to Feb. 10.

During this time, Anderson provided consultation to ECU faculty and led lectures on how faculty can help facilitate ECU's goal of implementing curriculum on family care into their undergraduate to doctoral education programs. She also helped faculty become more comfortable having a family nursing, or care of families, focus in their curriculum.

"I participated in numerous individual research consultations with faculty, participated in a manuscript writing retreat and lead a 'Next Steps in Research' session," Anderson said.

Read More »

Follow Georgia Southern on Snapchat!

Scan our code to add us as a friend.

On-Campus News

- Georgia Southern's student government leads with Vision 20/20 initiative
- Student media announces new staff for 2017-2018 school year
- Register your little Eagles for the i²STEMe Experience Summer 2017
- Georgia Southern ranked in the Top and Most Affordable Military-Friendly Online Colleges
- Georgia Southern to hold free Edcamp for area K-12 educators
- MHA Symposium to take place April 12
- Georgia Southern hosts Walk a Mile in Her Shoes

In the Media

- College Choice Releases 2017 Ranking of the 25 Best Online Colleges in Georgia —Savannah CEO

- 2nd Medical Recruiting Battalion visits with Georgia Southern students—WTCO
- On Aging with Dr. Roger Branch Sr.: Looking at ways to go—Statesboro Herald
- Harmony, friendship color annual Holi Festival—Statesboro Herald
- Phi Kappa Theta at GSU holds BBQ fundraiser for local law enforcement—WTCO