Welcome to Continuing Education!

I am a firm believer that education is a lifelong learning process that directly impacts workforce development in everyone's community. Individuals should be prepared to be innovative in today's world, with complete actions with little direction and be creative and resilient. The demands in the workplace are changing at an incredible pace and coupled with ongoing technology, change in workforce development is paramount. To answer this demand, customized workforce development training is offered through Georgia Southern University's Continuing Education Center.

Moreover, a growing demand for workforce development training is becoming increasingly important to workers seeking a rapid transfer into the workforce and workers seeking skill maintenance or upgrading. The workforce skills that are required in today's economic environment are extremely different than they were 15 years ago. Additionally, technology is rapidly changing on a daily basis and being able to keep skilled workers will continue to grow. In the face of change, the employee and employer must understand the value of lifelong learning as it relates to workforce development.

There is a need for re-training workers, honing skills and keeping employees current with the rapidly changing economic environment. The 21st century worker needs to develop interpersonal communication, basic employability skills, self-management, time management, computer technology, and decision-making skills to have an increased knowledge-based education. Workforce education is directly related to the needs of current and future business and industry employers. Lifelong learning is essential for sustained employment and career advancement. Our programs are developed with you, your organization and that process in mind. We invite you to “Advance” through Georgia Southern University’s Continuing Education offerings.

Sincerely,
Dr. Tony Bretti

08AACCE2475A • CERTIFIED FIBER OPTICS SPECIALIST IN TESTING AND MAINTENANCE (CFOS/T)

This 2-day (16-hour) program is designed to offer specialist fiber optics training to anyone involved with the testing and maintenance of fiber optics networks. This advanced fiber optics training is strictly a practical course, yet it includes more background information than is typical in basic courses to allow the student to understand what they are testing and how to troubleshoot problems in long-haul and short-haul fiber optics networks.

One of the most important points of the program is to teach current day technology. Too many courses teach obsolete theory and practice, out of obsolete textbooks! This course will teach differences between applications (telco/CATV/LAN, etc.) so the student can intelligently work in today’s fiber optics cable environment. Another focal point in the program is to offer a general, easy to understand approach to fiber optics testing standards. We attempt to explain the variety of testing standards, equipment and technological approaches used in fiber network testing and how to choose among them.

Many courses are criticized because they are too specific or prejudiced to one application, technology or manufacturer. We explore the overall spectrum of testing and maintenance of fiber optics networks and strive to provide a better comfort level for our students with regard to testing and maintenance of both single mode and multi mode fiber optics networks. Subject matter includes a detailed study of ANSI/TIA/EIA-526-14A, OTDR Fundamentals and Uses, OTDR vs. Insertion Loss Testing, Return Loss Testing, and Proper Maintenance of High-Performance Fiber Networks.

The Certified Fiber Optics Specialist/Testing Exam is given and graded the final day of class. The course fee includes all study materials, consumables, manuals, and PC-Based OTDR Simulator. The program provides for 75% hands-on activities.

Prerequisites: FOA CFOT Course or any other formal Fiber Optics training course within previous 6 months, or one year of Fiber Optics related experience.
