Georgia Southern University Study Adding Protection to the Coast

February 8, 2012

A Georgia Southern University researcher recently received a $377,000 grant to better protect the southeastern coast of the United States from the threats of flooding, storms, hurricanes and erosion.

The Governors' South Atlantic Alliance (GSAA), an environmental organization headed by the governors of the four involved states – Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and North Carolina – received $1.06 million from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Regional Ocean Partnership federal funding opportunity to fund several grants.
