Biographical Note:

Frank W. Spencer was born November 19, 1882, the son of a 52-year master river pilot, in Savannah, Georgia. He embarked on a nautical career at the age of sixteen, attending New York Nautical College and eventually holding the U.S. Master’s and Marine Engineer’s licenses for ocean-going vessels and the State of Georgia License for Pilotage Service. He served as Master Pilot for the Port of Savannah from 1917 to 1947 and as General Manager of the Atlantic Towing Company from 1920 to 1968. He is credited with the opening of a new channel in the upper stretch of the Savannah Harbor for ocean going vessels in 1915-17, which allowed the development of the Savannah Sugar Refinery and, later, other industrial plants. He served as the French Consular Agent from 1929 to 194-?; as the local manager of the U.S. Shipping Board Recruiting Service during World War II; as district representative and finance committee member of the American Pilot’s Association; and as director of the Atlantic Coast and Gulf of Mexico Tow Boat Association.

Known for his civil rights activism, Spencer’s community involvement included service with the Chatham Council Boy Scouts of America, where he started a Sea Scouting program and the first Negro Scout Troop in the county; the Savannah Rotary Club; the Mayor’s Commission that established Armstrong Junior College in 1935; the bi-racial Chatham Council on Human Relations, 1961-1968; the Georgia Council on Human Relations, 1960-1974; the Georgia State Board of Public Welfare, 1935-1945; the Georgia Academy for the Blind in Macon, Georgia; Greenbriar Children’s Center, becoming the board’s first white board member in 1945; the West Board Street YMCA; the NAACP, 1945-1973; and the local American Red Cross chapter. He served on the Chatham County Board of Education for eighteen years and in 1955, after his retirement, he was named Honorary School Board President and a Black elementary school was named in his honor.

Spencer married Lillian Windau, his second wife, in New York in 1938. He had twin sons, Frank Wilson and Hugo Johnson, and three daughters, Margaret, Adelaide, and Jeanne, from an earlier marriage. During the latter part of their life the Spencers maintained residences in Savannah and at Hilton Head, South Carolina. Spencer died on July 26, 1979.

Lillian Windau Spencer was born on September 14, 1901 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She had a degree in social work and moved to Savannah in the early 1930s. She actively supported her husband’s career and was a driving force behind his community service. Through her philanthropy and community involvement she continued to support their common causes after his death. She moved back to Wisconsin in 1987 to be cared for by her niece, Patricia Windau. She died on October 14, 1996 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Scope and Content Note:

The collection comprises of the papers of Frank W. Spencer Papers (1921-1979) and Lillian W. Spencer (1940-1987). The bulk of the collection is subject files arranged by Frank W. Spencer over his lifetime. The bulk of the papers range from the 1940s through the end of the 1960s. The papers were weeded by Spencer’s niece, Patricia Windau, before being donated to AASU. Those that remain focus on his community and civil rights activism, with the exception of one file, titled Port and Trade, which deals with his career and the development of Savannah’s port. About half the materials are newspaper clippings. The subject files also include correspondence, meeting agendas, photographs, ephemera, and publications. All types of materials are scattered throughout the subject files. The collection is particularly pertinent to the history of the civil rights movement in Savannah. Spencer kept some files on national civil rights efforts to inform his local efforts and they can be found the Desegregation folders, #24-35 or, in the case of some prominent people, filed by name. However, the vast majority of the papers reflect his work at the local level. Correspondence with the major civil rights leaders and activists including, among others, Martin Luther King, Ralph Mark Gilbert, M.E. Tilly, R. L. Russel, R.M.L. Kirkwood, Rev. Charles M. Jones,
Bishop James A. Pike, and J. Waties Waring are scattered throughout the subject files. Lillian E. Smith (b.1897-d.1966), a prominent author and civil rights activist, is well represented in five folders #66-70, which contain predominantly correspondence and clippings from 1941 to 1979. Spencer’s files about Armstrong Junior College (1935-1963) were added after the Collection was processed/out of original order, files 88-90. Biographical information and death notices along with the text of his Memorial Service are also included.

The second record group is a small collection of the papers of Spencer’s wife, Lillian W. Spencer. They include one file on her activity with the League of Women Voters. Her other remaining papers deal largely with her support of her husband’s causes and correspondence dealing with her efforts to honor him after his death. Because she worked collaboratively with her husband, some of her correspondence related to their work with organizations can be found in his subject files. Both record groups also contain correspondence with various members of Hubert Humphrey’s family.

Original order and file names have been maintained for the collection with the exception of the biographical information about Frank W. Spencer. Found in an unmarked folder, it did not appear to be a part of Spencer’s original subject files but did appear to have been collected and filed separately by him and his wife, Lillian. It has been arranged in a second series within record group 1. The collection was donated to AASU in 1998 by Spencer’s niece, Patricia Windau. Dr. Robert Strozier, AASU alumni, professor of English Emeritus and close personal friend of the Spencers, encouraged the donation. Strozier delivered the eulogy at Frank W. Spencer’s funeral in 1979, the text of which can be found in Box #78. He also delivered the eulogy at Lillian Spencer’s funeral in 1996.
