GSU English Language Program : Become a conversation partner

The ELP Conversation Partner Program is an opportunity for Georgia Southern students to meet an international student and assist them with practicing their English. By volunteering your time you will help them reach their goals and could possibly be their first American friend. We try our hardest to match you to a student that may be from a country or language group that interests you. By meeting with an international student you will:

- Learn about a new country and culture
- Get inside tips about places for future travels
- Learn phrases in a new language or improve your pronunciation/vocabulary in a language you are already learning
- Help an English language student build their confidence in speaking English
- Fulfill service hours for certain classes and programs

If you are a current Georgia Southern University student, staff, or faculty and would like to participate in the ELP Conversation Partner Program please e-mail the Division of Continuing Education, English Language Program at elp@georgiasouthern.edu. Please include any country or language preference you may have and your interests. Also, please let me know if you are going to receive credit for volunteering.
