The 2011 edition of the Armstrong Atlantic State University Factbook is a point of reference that we hope will help answer any questions you may have about Armstrong. The Factbook is an annual publication that includes information on nearly every aspect of Armstrong. It includes data about our administration, enrollment, credit hours, academic achievement, and finances. The 2011 edition of the Factbook mainly uses Fall 2011 census data and fiscal year 2011 data. We tried to provide five years of trend data for your reference.

History of the University

Armstrong Atlantic State University, part of the University System of Georgia, was founded in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College to enhance higher educational opportunities in the community. The college was established by the mayor and alderman of the City of Savannah and was housed in the Italian Renaissance Armstrong House, a gift to the city from the family of George F. Armstrong. Over the years the college occupied six additional buildings in the Forsyth Park and Monterey Square areas.

In 1959, as Armstrong College of Savannah, it became a two-year unit of the University System of Georgia. The Board of Regents conferred four-year status on Armstrong State College in 1964. Two years later the college moved to its present 250-acre site, a gift from the Mills B. Lane Foundation and Donald Livingston. Additional buildings joined the six original structures as Armstrong added professional and graduate programs and quadrupled in size. On July 10, 1996, the institution gained university status and a new name: Armstrong Atlantic State University.

Today, Armstrong offers more than 100 academic programs and majors in the College of Education, College of Health Professions, College of Liberal Arts, College of Science and Technology and School of Graduate Studies. The academic community includes more than 7,500 students from nearly every state and 69 different countries, and more than 580 faculty and staff members. The university granted its first Doctor of Physical Therapy degree in May 2010. Armstrong Atlantic State University has been accredited as a senior institution by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools since January 1, 1968, and was last reaccredited in December 2002.

Armstrong celebrated its 75th anniversary throughout the 2010 calendar year. Fall 2010 brought the opening of the new freshman residence hall, Windward Commons, and Armstrong welcomed its largest freshman class in history. The number of students living on campus grew to 1,389. The 61,000 square-foot Student Union (the first green building on campus), which opened in April, quickly became a hub of activity for on- and off-campus students alike.

The inauguration of President Linda Bleicken on September 17, 2010, coincided with the opening day of Armstrong's campus in 1935, and brought the opportunity to celebrate Armstrong's history in a number of ways: a community day of service, an alumni recognition event, a 5-K run and release of Armstrong's history, From the Mansion to the University, authored by professor emerita Janet Stone.

The University System of Georgia

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia was created in 1931 as a part of a reorganization of Georgia's state government. With this act, public higher education in Georgia was unified for the first time under a single governing and management authority. The governor appoints members to the Board, who each serve seven years. Today the Board of Regents is composed of 18 members, five of whom are appointed from the state-at-large, and one from each of the 13 congressional districts. The Board elects a chancellor who serves as its chief executive officer and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The Board oversees the 35 colleges and universities that comprise the University System of Georgia, Skidaway Institute of Oceanography and The Georgia Public Library System. These institutions enrolled approximately 311,442 students for the Fall of 2010 and employed 41,680 faculty and staff to provide teaching and related services to students and the communities in which they are located.

Dr. Linda M. Bleicken joined Armstrong Atlantic State University on July 1, 2009, becoming the seventh Armstrong president and the first woman to lead the institution since the establishment of Armstrong Junior College in 1935.

President Bleicken's arrival on campus proved auspicious for planning the university's 75th anniversary in 2010. Lane Library

Lane Library, built in 1966 and extensively expanded in 1975, supports the academic programs of Armstrong Atlantic State University. The staff combines the traditional repository responsibilities of academic libraries with newer concepts of librarianship, including course-integrated bibliographic instruction, computer-assisted information retrieval, and media production/circulation.

The library collection consists of more than 900,000 total items, including over 200,000 book volumes, close to 550,000 microforms, records, slides, motion picture kits, and videotapes, and 496 periodical subscriptions. The Florence Powell Minis Collection contains university archives, material of local color, and a special collection of first editions by Conrad Aiken and other Savannah authors. An automated interlibrary loan service permits access to the resources of other libraries throughout the United States.

Lane Library utilizes state-of-the-art technology to improve its services and operations. Cataloging is enhanced though membership in a national bibliographic utility. The reference services are reinforced with computerized bibliographic searching, and media services encompasses distribution and presentation of materials in a variety of formats.
