"Geechee" Mascot

"FREDDIE III"

Claus Frederick Lubs, "Geechee" Staff Mascot, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lubs, Jr. Mrs. Lubs was, until last year, an instructor of French and assistant treasurer of the college.

"Freddie" and Mother

of 1940 to preserve cherished memories of Armstrong.
May it be a lasting source of pleasure to them and a guiding light to the future students of our college.*

ATHLETICS

Physical Education

Armstrong Geechees in their third season of inter-collegiate football had a colorful, hard-fighting team. With but a few veterans around which to build his team, Coach Shiver, assisted by George Van Giesen and Walter Gilbert, produced a fighting combination that made every game a thriller.

“Pug” Pinckney, guard and captain of the Geechees, was honored by being chosen on the All-State Eleven.

From the first game of the season when the Geechees tumbled to a fall at the hands of Gordon Military College’s State Champions until the final contest in which "Lady Luck" presented the Profs of Georgia Teachers College with a victory, the Geechees failed to win a game, despite their hard-fighting and brilliant playing.

the Maroon and Gold again were defeated by the powerful eleven from Belmont Abbey. This exciting game was one of the best exhibitions of football seen on the local gridiron in many a day.

Basketball

After suffering thirteen straight defeats the Geechee eagers with but two veterans, Captain Bob Gordon and Alternate Captain Bob McLaughlin, came to life and in addition to advancing to the quarter finals of the State Junior College Basketball Tournament won three out of the last six contests.

Next year it is expected that the Geechees will return to their proper place as one of the foremost powers in junior college basketball in Georgia. With all but two of this year's squad returning for further competition and with some new material to fill in the empty places, Armstrong should produce serious competition for the State Championship.

Dancing

Ballet dancing is taught under the instruction of Ebba Thomson, outstanding dancing teacher in Savannah. The classes are divided into two groups, upper and lower. Basic and fundamental ballet steps are a part of the regular routine. One lesson a month is set aside for the study of the more famous ballets. In this way the pupils get a better idea of both the story and the music, and can appreciate the fine art of dancing.

In March the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo gave three ballets: "La Boutique Fantasque," "Gaité Parisienne" (choreographies by Leonide Massine, who was director of all three ballets), and "Carnaval" (choreography by world-famous Michel Fokine, under whom our instructor once studied). The performances were given at the Municipal Auditorium and most of the dancing classes attended.

Ruth Christiansen is first in line to be number one player. Julaine Walker follows a close second. The rest of the team will be chosen from the tennis classes or from the newcomers of the Spring Quarter. Our cameraman could not get a picture of the entire prospective team, but he did get a candid of the number one player, Auth Christiansen. As usual, there will be several local matches played and possibly a few out of town ones.

Looking Back On November

With the the Savannah Playhouse presentation of "Stage Door" on November 1-4, Armstrong Junior College entered upon a very active month.

Before the final performance of the play, David Barnett, Bill Penney, and Irving Victor left for Athens to attend an Institute for Junior College editors at the University.

Named on November 2, the Homecoming Committee met two days later to elect Frank Maner chairman and to lay plans for the second annual celebration at the college.

November 6 saw Dr. John P. Dyer returned from Lexington, Ky., and a meeting of the Southern Historical Society where he was selected chairman of the program committee for next year's meeting.

Armistice Day was celebrated with Dean Askew delivering an address to the student body on November 9. On the same day, Tilston Bryce, Shakespearean actor, gave a dramatic recital before the English class.

November 10 brought forth the announcement that Julius Landsberg had been selected as instructor for the ground school work in the aviation course, which began November 13.

The athletic member dent, 2 Stought Laughlin Ihley, t An at Novemt coming, meeting ing in college a bon-fi Satu ed a gala parade, in which Alpha Tau Beta won the prize for the best decorated float and Janie Belle Lewia for the best individual car. Rain fell on enthusiastic rooters at the Armstrong-Belmont game that afternoon. Festivities ended with a dance Saturday night.

Mid-term examinations loomed large November 21, just before students were granted a four-day holiday for Thanksgiving.

Initial appearance of the Glee Club took place at assembly, November 30, just as the month of activities closed.

Student Opinion

Open Squares

Savannah's beautified squares should not be opened for traffic—so think a cross-section of students at Armstrong Junior College.

Expressing the general opinion that other streets could be improved for straight traffic so that the squares which are "part of Savannah" could be left intact, students approached on the subject uttered the following thoughts:

Ed Baggs, sophomore: "It's a nuisance to go around the squares, but it would spoil them to pave through the centers. I think it would be better to pave Drayton, Whitaker, and Habersham to make them decent enough to travel on."

Sarah Owens, freshman: "I really don't think they should go to all that trouble to beautify the squares and then want to open

Glee Club To Sing Before Rotary Club

Armstrong's Glee Club will sing before the Rotary Club on Tuesday, December 19, according to Robert M. Strahl, director.

Submitting a "report" on its progress, the Glee Club made its first appearance before the student body in Chapel on November 30, when forty members sang "Going Home", from the New World Symphony by Anton Dvorak and Armstrong's "Alma Mater."

An "A" and a "B" group compose the Glee Club as organized this quarter by Mr. Strahl. The "A" group, being the actual Glee Club, is the group which appears in public and is the only one for which credit is given.

The "B" group is the training group, and here Mr. Strahl endeavors to teach the fundamental operations which are necessary for smooth controlled tones. Promotions to the "A" group are awarded. (Continued on page three)

The 1939-40 season of the Savannah Playhouse has been outstanding in more ways than one. Its director, Stacy Keach, has rapidly gained recognition throughout the South for his successful productions during the past four years. Mary Peckham Keach has also proved herself an asset to the Playhouse as a director.

STACY KEACH

A new interest in the theatre has been aroused among students and audiences. Savannah people demanded professional performances and the casts had to see that they maintained these standards.

First of the plays was "Stage Door." This was a good curtain-raiser for the season.

Director Keach gave an outstanding performance in the second production "You Can't Take It With You." Several new faces also appeared on the stage in the cast of this show.

What followed gave the cast and the technical backstagers an idea of real work. Mr. Keach threw restraint to the wind and produced the powerful anti-war play, "Paths Of Glory." In spite of criticisms that might have been made of the show, it showed definitely that the Playhouse is alive to current situations.

As the "Geechee" goes to press, the fourth play is being cast. "Personal Appearance" is the climax of an eventful year in the history of the Savannah Playhouse.

Good luck in the future!

Delta Chi

With the motto, "Amitié du coeur et de l'esprit" as its goal, Delta Chi Sorority makes social life at Armstrong enjoyable for both sorority members and student body. The sorority shares its pleasures with the student body by giving an All-Armstrong Tea Dance every year. Another of its aims is "Congeniality." This is shown among the Delta Chi's in every way, and at all times.

The members show their love and loyalty to Armstrong by participating in as many activities as possible. Every girl can say that she is on the roll of some club or organization.

Advised by Mrs. Stacy Keach and Mrs. John P. Dyer, the sorority had many social events during the year. Some of these included: Tea for Freshman girls, a Christmas banquet and dance, Spring houseparty at Tybee, All-Armstrong Tea Dance, and a closing formal banquet and dance.

Alpha Tau Beta

Alpha Tau Beta was organized in 1938 by combining Alpha Tau Beta and Phi Delta Mu Sororities. The purpose of Alpha Tau Beta is to further social and intellectual interests among the students at Armstrong, to do welfare work, and to perpetuate the memory of Joan Dodd.

The social life of Alpha Tau Beta began this year with a tea in honor of the freshman girls. The other socials have been a steak fry, a luncheon in honor of the new officers, and the annual banquet and dance held in the late spring.

Student Senate

Organized during the spring quarter of 1939, the Student Senate functioned for the first time this year.

A coordinating body designed to regulate student activities, the Senate is headed by the president of the sophomore class, with the president of the third year class as vice president and the president of the freshman class as secretary. Members include the sophomore vice president, editors of the two student publications, and a representative elected from each of the recognized organizations on the campus.

The formation of an honor society for the college has furnished the Senate's first major undertaking. Next on its schedule is the drafting of a Constitution for itself.

Supervising the work of the Senate is the faculty committee on student activities, composed of Foreman M. Hawes, Reuben Holland, Ivey M. Shiver, Stacy Keach, and Robert M. Strahl.

Wings

An aviation class began at Armstrong in the winter quarter, and since then a great deal of progress has been the result of hard study. Julius Landsberg, ground school instructor, is extremely pleased with the success of the student fliers. This is evidenced by the fact that most of the students have made solo flights already.

There are many subjects that a student flier must pursue, some of which are history of aviation, aero-dynamics, plane construction, meteorology, aero-navigation, and aeroplane engines and radio.

In March the class applied for membership to the National Aeronautics Association. Immediately they received a charter, granting them the right to organize a chapter. A formal banquet was then given to celebrate the formation of the Armstrong Flying Club.

Joseph Perelstine gave the college a trophy which will be won each year by the outstanding flier of that year's class.

Following the theme of "Personality and Its Development," the Home Economics Club brings to a close, with "Personality Week," another successful year of work and fun.

Under the guidance of Miss Ennis and the leadership of Miss McCreery and Miss Patterson, the club has enjoyed many interesting talks by both members of the faculty and civic leaders.

Several outdoor socials as well as the regular house party in the early spring were enjoyed by the club.

APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to those who have contributed their services in publishing this yearbook. Without the help of Arthur M. Gignilliat, Bill Bond (Foltz Studio), Ruth Alexander, William Cone, Ruth Christiansen, A. J. Cohen, Jr., Albert Schleuning (Dixie Engraving Co.), J. V. Heltsley (Review Printing Co.) and many others, this annual would not have materialized. Best of luck.
