Lunch-N-Learn: Managing and Publishing Your Working Data with Digital Commons @ Georgia Southern

Noon - 1pm, Tuesday, April 5th
Library Conference Room

RSVP Now!

Do you need a home for your "working" research data or a way to securely share data with your CO-PIs during active research? Bring a bag lunch and join us to learn how Digital Commons @ Georgia Southern can provide you with a secure platform for managing your data. When you are ready to publish your data, we can help with that, too. Drinks and dessert will be provided.

Data Management Workshop: Getting Started with DMPTool

2 - 3pm Friday, April 22nd
Library 1308

RSVP Now!

Many research funders, including the NSF and its directorates, require submission of a data management plan with your grant proposal. DMPTool is a powerful online tool for creating, managing, and sharing datamanagement plans. DMPTool includes templates and advice for most major funding agencies, as well as useful collaboration and reviewing tools. During this workshop, attendees will set up their own account and learn the basics of using DMPTool to prepare successful data management plans.
