This Week in CLASS

March 19, 2018

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/class-week

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons, and the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "This Week in CLASS" (2018). This Week in CLASS. 8.
https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/class-week/8

This newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Arts & Humanities, College of, Publications at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in This Week in CLASS by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.
This Week in CLASS

Monday, March 19

Cyndy Epps: Considering Perspectives

Considering Perspectives explores the ideas of perspective, in how our vantage point and presuppositions affect how we feel about certain spaces. The subjects of the paintings are spaces or things that are often overlooked or considered mundane. By splicing together multiple perspectives the viewer is asked to consider that there may be more than one way not only to view but to feel about the subject.

Reception: March 23, 5-7 PM
University Gallery | Center for Art & Theatre | 3/8-23

Kyle Hooten: Deconstructing Abject Complacency of Ascribed Gender

Funneling his experience as a Drag performer into his artwork, Kyle has created a series of works that address gender in today's society. Taking stereotypically feminine craft materials and using them to adorn found objects that are stereotypically masculine, Kyle shows how we ascribe a gender to objects and then use them to reinforce our conception of gender stereotypes.

Reception: March 23, 5-7 PM
Contemporary Gallery | Center for Art & Theatre | 3/8-23

Tuesday, March 20

Seventh Annual Distinguished Lecture in Irish Studies

Prize-winning historian, broadcaster and best-selling author Turtle Bunbury presents an illustrated lecture "Vanishing Island" March 20 at 11 a.m. in the Information Technology Building, room 1004 on the Statesboro Campus. The event is free and open to all and proof-of-attendance is available.
Wednesday, March 21

Love Your Body
Women's Empowerment Month Event
Hosted by the University Wellness Program
Russell Union | 11 AM - 2 PM

Arabic Coffee Hour
To Learn about the Arab culture, make new friends, practice Arabic and drink coffee.
Forest Drive Building | Room 1227 | 4 PM

Mesa de conversación
The Spanish Conversation Table is open to all interested students in Spanish language and culture.
Russell Union Tables by the Theater | 5 PM

Senior Recital Steven Cooler, Oboe
Carol A. Carter Recital Hall | 7:30 PM

Thursday, March 22
Visiting Artist: Ashley Zelinskie

Imagining a world where computers outlast humanity, new media/tech artist Ashley Zelinskie's artwork is made to be interpreted by machines. Her work explores a variety of media from sculpture to computer programs incorporating repetitive patterns, recursive structures and computer code, the better to pass the story of mankind and human culture into the future. Zelinskie has a range of professional experience including managing an artists studio, showing her work internationally and working on projects with NASA.

Arts Building | Room 2071 | 5 PM

Friday, March 23

Queer Femme Activist Ericka Hart

Women's Empowerment Month Series

Queer Femme Activist Ericka Hart
7 p.m.
Nessmith-Lane Auditorium Room 1915, Statesboro Campus
Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies

Transportation available from Armstrong
Sign up to travel to the Statesboro Campus at http://cah.georgiasouthern.edu/wgender/womens-empowerment-month

Nessmith-Lane Conference Center | Room 1915 | 7 PM

Senior Recital Dylan Boyd, Trumpet

Carter Recital Hall | 7:30 PM

Sunday, March 25

Senior Recital Maggie Paul, Soprano

Carter Recital Hall | 5 PM