Assessment Document Writers Group

Summer 2020

Register now to join the one of our summer writers group sessions!

The Office of Institutional Effectiveness is offering a new program this summer geared toward any assessment coordinators looking for camaraderie and support as they work through the development of annual student learning assessment documents.

The writers group will include:

- Writing support resources, such as checklists, worksheets, and tips for organization
- Opportunities for peer feedback on initial drafts or ideas
- Weekly workshops over a four week period with targeted writing tips and tools for each section of the assessment document, including specialized sessions for program and core reporting
- Discussion boards to share progress with colleagues
- Ongoing Q&A with OIE staff and/or peer reviewers

Participants will attend two one-hour workshops via video conference each week with additional opportunities to connect and share ideas and drafts throughout the four-week session.

Whether you are brand new to assessment responsibilities or just want a structured approach to getting started on your annual documents, we invite you to join!

Click below to register for one of our four-week sessions. (Specific dates and times for workshops will be scheduled according to availability of those who register.)
