Statesboro PCA to Meet Here January 20th

J. E. Hodges, president of the Statesboro Production Credit association, announced this week the annual meeting of that organization to be held here Tuesday, Jan. 20, 1942. The meeting will be held in the county courthouse beginning at 2 p.m.

Mr. Hodges stated that this is the eighth annual meeting and plans are being made to make it the best meeting in the history of the organization. A complete and detailed report on the operation of the association for the past year will be submitted by the officers and plans for further developing the service which the farmers' co-operative has to offer will be discussed.

At the meeting two directors will be elected and other business will be transacted, said Mr. Hodges.

The association made loans in 1941 totaling $199,000 to its members for production and general agricultural purposes.

To encourage a large attendance, Mr. Hodges stated that four valuable awards will be made at the meeting.

BULLOCH COUNTY GINS

11,388 BALES OF
COTTON TO DEC. 13

According to a report of the department of commerce, bureau of the census, Washington, D. C., Bulloch county had ginned 11,388 bales of cotton of the 1941 crop. This is 8,683 bales less than the 20,071 bales ginned of the crop of 1940.

Defense Head Urges Sale of Scrap Iron

The growing needs of a nation at war have served to intensify the demand for scrap iron and steel to feed the hungry mouths of arms factories, W. A. Hodges, chairman of the Bulloch county USDA defense board, declared this week.

Mr. Hodges directed an urgent appeal to the public, particularly the farmers of Bulloch county, to gather up all available scrap iron and steel and carry it immediately to the nearest scrap dealer for use in charging the nation's steel furnaces.

A list of scrap dealers is on file in the local agricultural conservation association office and may be consulted upon request, he said.

"We're not asking people to give their scrap metal to the country," he said. "We ask only that they sell it, at prevailing prices, and thus make it available at once for the great defense effort. There's no time to lose."

Mr. Hodges explained that prices for scrap vary in different sections, and that dealers have been authorized to deduct the cost of transporting scrap from the shipping point to the basing point, as well as the cost of compressing it into bales. The financial return to persons collecting scrap metal, he said, cannot be expected to be large, but the results will be of untold value to farmers and to the whole victory effort.

"It's not merely a matter of patriotism," Mr. Hodges declared, "but a matter of duty. It's time for every person, whether in city or on the farm, to take his or her part in this thing to win, and if victory is to be assured, every shoulder will have to be at the wheel. The collection and sale of scrap iron and steel is only one of the thousands of ways we can help to lick the Japs, the Nazis and the Fascists."

A. M. Seligman Is Worshipful Master of Ogeechee Lodge

At the annual communication of the Ogeechee lodge held in the new Masonic building on Dec. 16, election and installation of officers were held.

The following officers were installed: A. M. Seligman, worshipful master; J. Frank Olliff, senior warden; J. B. Rushing, junior warden; Frank Smith, treasurer; Josh T. Nesmith, secretary.

Red Cross Call to Service

YOUR RED CROSS NEEDS YOU!

The dramatic poster by James Montgomery Flagg is the first war poster of the new World War. It is an appeal for a $50,000,000 American war relief fund to feed, shelter, clothe and give medical aid to American men, women and children bombed by the enemy. It is an appeal for funds to provide comforts for our American Army and Navy, and for welfare work for our troops at home and abroad, and their families on the home front. President Roosevelt asks you to give. Your dollars will serve humanity. Give through your local Red Cross Chapter.

Red Cross Chairman Makes New Appeal

Local Business Firms to Close from 10 to 1 Today for Prayer

According to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by the merchants' council of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce, the business houses here will close from 10 o'clock a.m. to 1 o'clock p.m. to comply with the proclamation issued by President Roosevelt making today (New Year's day) a day of prayer.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian church beginning at 10:30 this morning in observance of the day.

EMERGENCY CROP, FEED LOANS NOW AVAILABLE

Emergency crop and feed loans for 1942 are now available to farmers in Bulloch county, and applications for these loans are now being received at 202 West Main street, Statesboro, Ga., by F. C. Parker, field supervisor, of the emergency crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made as in the past to farmers whose cash requirements are relatively small and who are unable to obtain from other sources including production credit associations loans in amounts sufficient to meet their needs.

The loans will be made to meet the applicant's cash needs in preparing for and producing his crops, or in purchasing or producing feed for his live stock. Mr. Parker pointed out that eligible farmers desiring to do so might apply now for loans to take care of their production needs for the entire 1942 season. Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. will be charged only during the period the borrower actually has the use of the funds.

Farmers who obtain loans for the production of cash crops are required to give as security a first lien on the crops financed, or, in the case of loans for the purchase or production of feed for live stock, a first lien on the live stock to be fed.

With Bulloch county's Red Cross wartime quota of $2,500 only half subscribed, the local chapter directors are renewing their appeal.

Allen Lanier, disaster chairman, in charge of raising the quota, stated this week "we need your help to raise our quota of $2,500. Will we fail our boys?" He pointed out that many who intended to make a contribution were waiting for someone to come to them to take the subscription. He added that this was not necessary; that checks could be sent to C. B. McAllister, Charles E. Cone, to himself or any county school superintendent.

In making this appeal, Charles E. Cone, county chairman of the Red Cross, released a telegram he received Sunday from Norman H. Davis, national Red Cross chairman, as follows:

"The bombing of Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, Manila, the invasion of the Philippines, submarine attacks in the Atlantic and Pacific have dramatically brought home to us the cruelties of this war. Wherever our heroic soldiers, sailors and airmen are so valiantly defending our soil there you will also find the Red Cross flag unfurled alongside the Stars and Stripes. Red Cross men are on every front. Funds are urgently needed to keep intact these front lines of mercy. The enemy respects neither holidays nor week-ends. The Red Cross war fund should be pushed to rapid over subscriptions. Give all the people an opportunity to participate. The Red Cross is a peoples' partnership in time of need. It is patriotism in action to give to the Red Cross. Miseries of war cannot be measured by quotas and mathematical yardsticks and our fighting men expect much of us. An avalanche of giving now will help the Red Cross to deliver the goods."

BULLOCH COUNTY COUNCIL, P.-T. A., TO MEET AT ESJA JANUARY 10

It was announced this week that the first meeting of the new year of the Bulloch county council, P.-T. A., will be held at Esja school Saturday morning, Jan. 10, at 10 o'clock. The program will be announced next week.

Statesboro to Observe Day of Prayer Today

The people of Statesboro and Bulloch county will join President Roosevelt and the nation in a day of prayer on New Year's day, Thursday, Jan. 1, 1942.

In compliance with the proclamation issued by the president, a union service will be held at the Presbyterian church this morning (Thursday) at 10:30 o'clock. The union service was planned by Dr. C. M. Coalson, pastor of the Baptist church; Rev. H. L. Sneed, pastor of the Presbyterian church; L. E. Williams, pastor of the Methodist church, and Allen R. Lanier, representing the pastor of the Primitive Baptist church.

A representative of the ministers' conference stated "this prayer meeting is Statesboro's part in complying with the president's proclamation of a day of prayer. It is firmly believed by all of us that our greatest victory will come in the realm of the spiritual and that our God waits to give us the desires of our hearts when we have fully yielded ourselves to His will."

Continuing, he said: "Surely we need God always. If there is ever to be a permanent and just peace on this earth it will be because men shall submit themselves to the will and direction of our Heavenly Father. It is urged that all our people attend this meeting. Come in the spirit of real prayer. God has heard us in times past and will hear us again."

Rev. L. E. Williams, of the Methodist church, will lead the meeting.

Applications for 1941 Soil Payments Ready January 15

Applications for the 1941 soil conservation payments will be ready for signing about Jan. 15, Carl V. Summers, administrative officer for Bulloch county AAA, announces.

Mr. Summers stated that for some reason, lots of farmers had the idea there would not be any soil conservation payment for the 1941 operations. This report is not true, he explained, and just as soon as the applications can be prepared, operators will be advised to drop by the office and sign them.

Applications are later this year for signing due to the dry fall that made it impossible for most of the farmers to get their fall plantings finished in time for the last check-up before Jan. 1.

Statesboro's First Blackout is Considered 100 Per Cent

Declaring Statesboro's first blackout Monday night a 100 per cent success, Roger Holland, local air raid warden, congratulated the people of the city and the members of his committee for the excellent co-operation in this brand new experience.

Sharply at 9:30 the city fire siren, Darby Lumber company and Howard Lumber company sounded the alarm and the lights in the homes and business houses of Statesboro blinked out under a brightly shining moon and remained out for half an hour.

The order came from Savannah stating that several cities in this area were blacking out and asking Statesboro to co-operate. About 7:30 a plane was heard over the city and again later lending a degree of grimness about the approaching blackout.

At 8:30, Roger Holland called a meeting of his air raid wardens, Bill Strickland and Edgar Hart met with the police wardens and Will Hagins and Logan Hagan with the fire wardens. Instructions were issued and at 9:30 found them all at their posts and seeing that the blackout was complete.

Only in isolated places was it necessary for the wardens to request that residents turn off their lights for the blackout. Cars were stopped at the city limits and asked to wait for "all-clear signal" at 10 o'clock. Cars in town were stopped and their headlights turned off.

Mr. Holland stated that the next blackout will be faster and absolute complete.

Barney Shellnut Believed Killed in Action October 26

What is believed to be conclusive evidence of Barney Shellnut's death was received by his mother, Mrs. B. W. Shellnut, of Statesboro, yesterday.

Young Shellnut was reported missing by the RAF in England on Oct. 28. Yesterday a letter was received from the International Red Cross, which, upon investigation, reported that young Shellnut is believed to have been killed in action in an air raid over Europe on Oct. 26, 1941.

Red Tyson Picked as Coach- of-the-Year by Claxton Paper

Beginning what they hope will be an annual affair, the Claxton Enterprise last week selected an All-District Football team and selected Coach Geo. ("Red") Tyson, Blue Devil mentor, as the coach-of-the-year in this district.

Two Statesboro High Blue Devils were named on the Enterprise first team. They were Henry Pike at right end and Waldo Martin at right tackle. Bo Hagan was named quarterback on the second team. Bernard Morris and Red Brown were given honorable mention.

In making the selection the Enterprise states: "With malice toward none and justice for all," the Enterprise seeks to present to the First district its selection for All-District Honors for 1941. This is something that we have long felt should be done. We have waited for others to do so, but have waited in vain. Our hope is that this beginning effort will bring about a yearly selection of an All-District Football Team.

These selections have not been easy. We did not see all of the teams in action. However, each coach in the district was written and asked to recommend not only players from his team but from over Coach Page, of Lyons, and Strickland, of Claxton. Both did excellent jobs. Their material, however, was larger and more experienced. So hats off to Coach ("Red") Tyson as the coach-of-the-year!

Now for the teams:

First Team

Right End—Wilkes, Lyons. Quarterback—Parker, Claxton. Half Back—Branch, Lyons. Half Back—Stone, Waynesboro. Fullback—Fordham, E. C. I.

Each of these boys was outstanding throughout the season. They were highly praised by coaches, players and fans. Several of them already have scholarships for further playing in different colleges.

Second Team

City Schools to Re-Open Jan. 5

J. H. Morrison, city school superintendent, announced today that the Statesboro schools will resume classes Monday morning, Jan. 5, after two weeks Christmas vacation.

At the same time, he announced that resignations of two teachers had been accepted. Miss Elizabeth Garbutt and W. L. Flannagan have resigned to accept other positions.

Miss Dorothy Chisholm, of Macon, a graduate of Mercer university, with a major in science, will replace Miss Garbutt. It is expected that Mr. Flannagan's place will be filled in a few days.

Supt. Morrison announced that new concrete walks have been completed on the grammar school grounds, thus increasing the comfort of the smaller children in approaching the building on cold and rainy days. He expressed his appreciation to the members of the city council for the new walks.

The halls of the buildings have been worked on and the floor of the gym has been given a new finish.

Famous Baptists on Radio January 4

Dr. George W. Truett, world famous Baptist preacher, will be heard next Sunday morning, Jan. 4, 8:30 to 9, EST, in an independent south-wide network broadcast known as the Baptist Hour. Dr. Truett's message will come to us from the studios of radio station WFAA, Dallas, Tex., his home city, and will be heard in this area over stations WSB, Atlanta, and WTCO, Savannah.

This is the first in a series of thirteen broadcasts on successive Sundays by the outstanding Baptist preachers and laymen throughout the South at this same hour every Sunday morning. It is announced that Dr. T. F. Adams, of Richmond, Va., will speak on the network the following three Sunday mornings on the subject, "The Home." Other prominent speakers will be heard in February and March. Each message is accompanied by the best sort of Gospel singing.

The people of this area are fortunate to have these splendid religious programs brought to us by radio in these early morning broadcasts.

HAL MACON SAYS 'SHOW GOES ON' DURING BLACKOUT

"A blackout doesn't affect the showing of our programs at the Georgia and State theaters," said Hal Macon this week after the first blackout held in Statesboro Monday night.

Mr. Macon explained that he co-operates to the fullest extent in the blackout by turning off all the outside lights, and that because of the nature of the construction of a theater, lights inside could not be seen anyway.

In making this statement, Mr. Macon points out anyone may attend the theaters and see the full show without a break during the time of the blackout.

Right Tackle—Sellars, Vidalia. Right End—Burke, Lyons. Quarterback—Hagan, of Statesboro.

Half Back—Cumbie, Lyons. Half Back—Rogers, Claxton. Fullback—Coalson, Vidalia. We pay our tribute to many other fine players of the district:

Honorable Mention

Thompson, of Lyons; Anderson, of Claxton; Morris, of Statesboro; Lynn, of Reidsville; Horton, of Claxton; Yates, of Millen; Brown, of Statesboro; Moody, of Glennville; Hall, of Millen; Curl, of Swainsboro; Hare, of Claxton; Brown, of Vidalia; Westbrook, of Claxton; Hodges, of Millen; Brinson, of Sylvania, and Crumbley, of Sylvania, and Toole, of E. C. I.

HOME AGENT GIVES METHOD OF MAKING LARD FOR FARM USE

Home demonstration agent Miss Irma Spears this week offered a few suggestions on rendering lard on the farm.

She pointed out that about 16 per cent. of the weight of the average butcher hog is made into lard. She said that the best fat makes the best lard; the back fat, the second best, and the gut fat, the poorest.

"Cut the fat into small cubes. It is not necessary to rub the skin. Place the fat in a cool, thoroughly cleaned kettle. Cook over a moderate fire and stir to prevent sticking to kettle or scorching."

Do not fill the kettle too full. When the fat is melted, skim off the scum. The fat will form on the cracklings, and the cracklings turn brown and float, it soon be time to remove lard from the fire. As a final test dip some of the cracklings up on the stirring paddle. If they fry themselves very quickly, it is ready to come off."

Strain lard through a cloth into cans, the home agent says. As the lard cools it will solidify and slowly in order to make it whiter and more uniform in texture.

Cover cans tightly and keep in a cool, dry place, she adds.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity of thanking everyone who was so kind to us in the recent death of our dear husband and father, Mr. E. W. Powell with special thanks to Mr. J. B. Parrish who accompanied them back to Bainbridge.

Alfred Dorman is Named Polio Party Chairman

Alfred Dorman has been named county chairman of the Bulloch county celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday on Thursday, Jan. 23.

The announcement was made by Cason J. Callaway of Blue Springs farm, Hamilton, Ga., state chairman of the 1942 Georgia Committee for the celebration of the president's birthday.

Mr. Dorman will organize the county for the annual "Fight Infantile Paralysis" drive.

The Bulloch county chairman announced that he will name the county committee and plans will go forward this week for the celebration parties.

In accepting this appointment, Mr. Dorman stated that he expects every citizen of the county to co-operate with the committee in order to make this year's celebration one of the best. He stated that he did not need to point out the worthiness of the cause for which the celebration is given since everyone was familiar with it.

Mr. Dorman, in a brief talk, pointed out the need of the county to "guard their health now as never before." Chas. E. Cone, Jr., chairman of the Red Cross, T. J. Morris, representing the State Defense corps, and Mr. Renfro, representing the Bulloch county Polio Party, were present.

Dr. Mooney, in a brief talk, pointed out the need of the county to "guard their health now as never before." Chas. E. Cone, Jr., chairman of the Red Cross, T. J. Morris, representing the State Defense corps, and Mr. Renfro, representing the Bulloch county Polio Party, were present.

WE TURN TO THE GREATER POWER TO HELP US

JANUARY FIRST—a day of prayer, upon proclamation by the President of the United States.

The people of Statesboro and Bulloch County met at the Presbyterian Church and spent an hour forgetting the outside world and turned to God for faith and courage in the beginning of the most far-reaching year our nation has ever known.

We have been joined into the realization that this country is in a tremendous struggle for freedom and justice and truth. For a long time the war in Europe and Africa was just a shadow to us which appeared on the front pages of our daily newspapers. It was unreal and we read about it like we would a serial story whose episodes unfolded from day to day. But we now find it real, and at our front doors.

As this is being written, word has just come over the radio that Manila has fallen into the hands of the enemy. To those mothers whose sons are in the Philippines and the war area, there is nothing fictional about this war at all. To those families whose sons, husbands and fathers are being called into the service of this country the shadow has become a grim reality to be dissolved only by the realization of its territoriality and the full mobilization of all our resources.

At another crucial moment in our American history, when in 1787 Benjamin Franklin, in the midst of a seemingly hopeless Constitutional Convention, arose and addressed the president of the convention, said: "Sir, we have searched for three weeks in political darkness and have found nothing. The longer I live and the more I know, the more I believe that God governs in the affairs of men; and if a sparrow cannot fall without His motive, is it probable that an empire can rise without His assistance? Let us invoke the divine guidance of the Father of Light upon our proceedings."

And so, last Thursday morning, New Year's Day, the people of this community joined the peoples of this great nation and turned to God, seeking His guidance and protection in the nation's day of peril.

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

WHAT OF THE SMALL BUSINESS MAN?

RECOGNIZED authorities who are supposed to know about what they are talking, predict a dark picture for 1942 for the small business not engaged in defense industries.

Roger Babson, famous for his business forecasts, in a release on New Year's Day, says: "Merchants in the defense areas should have a good year. I am not so hopeful for those outside defense areas. Certainly, the number of sales will be smaller, although the total gross may hold up. Expanding the draft age may have a dampening effect on retail trade later in the year. The new draft law call may also cut the labor supply in many industries. Blackouts are another factor in retarding consumer buying. Hence, merchants should increase advertising appropriations if they expect a good year in 1942. I advise merchants to keep down expenses; avoid wage increases; and get out of debt. If someone else offers your employees more money than you are now paying, let him have such. After the war they will come back to you glad to work for less money than you are now paying. Don't speculate in merchandise. Keep well stocked on standard goods, but avoid style goods which are hard to carry over. Inflation is with us and is gradually increasing prices at the rate of from 10 to 15 percent a year. Legislation can check it, but it can no more stop inflation than can legislation stop crime. Remember that when the war stops, it will stop suddenly. Therefore, merchants should keep close to shore."

We doubt if many small businessmen will pay much attention to Mr. Babson's statements or act upon his advice. But we do venture to say that the small business man, still the foundation of this great nation, will work out his own salvation while at the same time contributing more than his share to that which may, in the end, engulf him. For argues he, "Better to have nothing and be free than to have everything and no freedom."

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

IT MIGHT BECOME THE REAL THING

STATSBORO PROVED that she is as good as the best of them when it comes to blacking out. Upon very short notice and under excellent organization, Statesboro presented an almost 100 per cent. blackout immediately upon the sound of the "air raid alarm" last week. Except in isolated cases, all unintentional, every home and business blacked out against an imaginary air attack.

It was an excellent example of the co-operation which characterizes this community.

As the air raid wardens, the auxiliary firemen and the auxiliary policemen received their instructions just before the blackout, the entire proceeding took on the air of a big game being played. But, at the same time, we know that in the hearts of all there was the thought, "If this were the real thing, I would be doing it just this way."

And, day after day, there comes the possibility that it might become "the real thing."

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

LET'S STOP PIDDLING AROUND AND GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!

BRYAN COUNTY raised their Red Cross quota of $1,000 in six hours!

In more than three weeks Bulloch County is still far short of her quota of $2,500!

Now is no time to have to stop and give long selling talks to individuals to make contributions to one of the greatest causes this nation is asked to support. Now is no time for the individual to consider himself. It is the time to GIVE!

Those at Pearl Harbor didn't stop to figure before they gave—they gave all they had. Those in the Philippines are not stopping to figure out how much they can give—they are giving everything they have and then some.

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

And we are only asked to give $2,500! Sure we'll raise it, but why piddle around with it. Let's go ahead and give while it can do the most good. There are going to have to be other sacrifices so we might begin by conditioning ourselves by giving to the Red Cross.

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

BULLOCH COUNTIANS ARE VOLUNTEERING FOR DEFENSE

MORE THAN 1,000 people in the county have volunteered for some sort of service under the local Civilian Defense Council.

With that spirit which has won every war that this nation has had a part, the people of Bulloch County indicated what they could do best and offered their services when and as needed.

Registration is still going on at the Red Cross Center in the Armory and anyone not yet registered, let us go to it any time during the day. It's your chance to do your part where you can do the most good.

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS!—

CHURCHILL'S SPEECH

FROM THE SPEECH of Winston Churchill before Congress we quote these statements that particularly impressed us:

"Way back to those aristocratic, Victorian days when, as Disraeli said, the world was for the few and the very few."

"I have steered toward the Gettysburg ideal of government of the people, by the people and for the people."

"Public men are proud to be the servants of the state and would be ashamed to be its masters."

"We have a time of tribulation before us."

"We have performed the duties incident to peace. They have plotted and planned for war."

"The year 1943 will enable us to assume the initiative upon an ample scale."

"Our peoples would rather know the truth."

"As long as we have faith in our cause and unconquerable will power, salvation will not be denied us."

"With proper weapons and proper organization, we are able to beat the life out of the savage Nazis."

"Considering how slowly and reluctantly we brought ourselves to large-scale preparations, we had no right to expect to be in such a fortunate position today."

"We shall never cease to preserve against them until they have been taught a lesson which they and the world will never forget."

"If we had stuck together after the first World War this renewal of the curse never would have fallen upon us."

"He must indeed have a blind soul who cannot see that some great purpose and design is being worked out here below for which we have the honor to be the faithful servant."

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week on . . .

Today, Thursday, January 8, Will Be a Cold Wave. Best Fishing. Tomorrow, Friday, January 9, Will Be Stormy. Best Fishing. Saturday, January 10, Will Be Rainy. Excellent Fishing. Sunday, January 11, Will Be Rainy. Good Fishing. Monday, January 12, Will Be Cloudy and Rain. Fair Fishing. Tuesday, January 13, Will Be Fair. Fair Fishing. Wednesday, January 14, Will Be Clear and Cold. Poor Fishing.

But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

CATCHING UP. Our uneasy chair has been vacant for three weeks, and the second week in the New Year finds us back in it, just as uneasy as ever, if not more so.

WE WERE FLATTERED when several of our readers told us that they missed our editorial page and were trying to make some money during the Christmas shopping season. It made us feel good.

THE COMPLAINT DEPARTMENT. One of our readers caught us at the post office recently and told us that we ought to conduct a campaign against car drivers who fail to dim their headlights at night on meeting another car. Feeling that he had a just complaint, we made a survey covering five nights of driving within the boundaries of Bulloch County on the principal highways. We found that only one out of about twenty-five drivers failed to dim their lights as we approached them with our lights dimmed. We think this is a good average, but we agree that that one may be the one to cause us to hit a cow in front of us or run off the edge of the pavement. As for a campaign against such drivers—that has been going on ever since the state patrol was organized.

ANOTHER OF OUR readers pointed out to us that we should conduct a campaign against flies in Statesboro. Now he's got something there. But until we cover every garbage can behind our places of business, and until every place that handles food-stuffs cover completely the scraps that are swept and thrown out back of buildings—can a campaign do any good. The way to beat the fly nuisance is to clean up and keep clean.

ANY MORE COMPLAINTS? We'll take 'em on. But results are guaranteed only upon complete co-operation of those making the complaint and others affected.

THE WEEK-END following Christmas day we made a flying visit out to Montgomery, Ala., to see brother Jim, who is stationed at the Southeast Air Corps Training Center at Maxwell Field. We saw and heard a lot that we would like to write here in this uneasy chair, but the things we saw and heard are too long to write here. We'll write them in the future. At the moment we are too busy to write them.

THE LOWLY MULE finds himself returning to favor in the eyes of farmers who deserted him with the advent of the tractor.

GENERALLY CONCEDED "no-count" male members of the family are finding their standing in the community improved in the light of the need to "Remember Pearl Harbor."

SOCIAL CLUBS and bridge clubs are finding a new incentive to get together in turning their meetings into supporting the national defense efforts.

LET IT BE A LESSON to us: This week we toss up our hats to cheer the members of the Girls' Cotillion. They had planned their New Year's party before the Pearl Harbor incident. Their party budget called for an expenditure of more than $100. Then when the Red Cross appeal came through the girls up and gave their entire fund to the Red Cross and borrowed a "jock organ" from downtown Front—and had a wonderful party New Year's eve. We know 'cause we were there—and how!

UP until this time in their lives the twins have lived almost identical lives. They are natives of Bristol, England, where they attended Fairfield School, it was here too that they worked at almost the same type job in an office. In December, 1940, they enlisted in the Royal Air Force and were sent to America to learn to fly. Southern Field, Americus, Ga., was their first stopping place in this country, and it was there that they picked up the fundamentals of flying.

For basic training they went to Cochran in Macon, Ga., and now they are at Turner Field in the process of completing the last steps in the difficult Advanced course and soon, very soon, they will be going back to England. The twins are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Shapley, of Bristol.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is the family name for a group of diseases which differ in their symptoms but have many respects but which are alike in producing inflammation of the joints or muscles. In itself, rheumatism is not a disease, but a symptom. Rheumatism is one of the most crippling of all diseases, and rheumatic fever may severely injure the heart.

Any persistent ache or pain in the joints or muscles should have immediate medical attention. It may not be rheumatic—BUT let the doctor decide.

Rheumatic Fever—Acute Inflammatory Rheumatism

WHAT IT IS. Rheumatic fever is an infectious disease which is most common among children and young people. The infection causes inflammation of the joints, which may spread later to other organs of the body, especially to the heart.

If the inflammation of the heart is slight, the patient may recover completely, but if the inflammation is severe, the heart probably will be damaged permanently. The heart is the pump which keeps the blood moving through the body. If it is damaged, the blood will not flow properly, and the body will be injured by rheumatic fever. It is called rheumatic heart disease. Many persons who had rheumatic fever in childhood die from rheumatic heart disease in early adult life.

WHAT CAUSES IT. The identity of the germ or virus which is the cause of rheumatic fever is still in doubt. An attack of rheumatic fever frequently is preceded by a cold or sore throat. From the throat, the bacteria travel in the tonsils or mucous membrane of the throat and later affect the joints and other parts of the body. The present theory is that the bacteria enter the body through the mouth and travel through the blood stream to the joints. The bacteria are called streptococci. They are the same bacteria which cause the common cold and the flu.

HOW IT IS PREVENTED. Rheumatic fever can be prevented by keeping the throat clean and by taking medicine to kill the bacteria. If a person has a cold or sore throat, he should see a doctor at once. The doctor will give him medicine to kill the bacteria and to reduce the inflammation. If a person has rheumatic fever, he should see a doctor at once. The doctor will give him medicine to kill the bacteria and to reduce the inflammation. If a person has rheumatic fever, he should see a doctor at once. SOCIETY

CHRISTIAN WOMAN'S UNION GIVE PROGRAM TUESDAY

The regular meeting of the Christian Woman's Union was held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. A program on "Peace" was arranged by Mrs. Z. S. Henderson and her committee composed of Mrs. C. B. Matthews and Miss Aline Whiteside.

Miss Eunice Lester, president at the business session, Mr. Aldridge, of San Antonio, Tex., a widely-known Presbyterian layman, gave an inspiring devotional, using prayer as his topic.

Peace quotations from the Bible were given by Mrs. Bruce O. Olt, Mrs. C. B. Matthews, Mrs. B. L. Smith and Mrs. Roger Holland.

Miss Mary Hogan read appropriate hymns. Miss Sadie Maule Moore closed the program with an interesting talk.

Refreshments were served in the Sunday school room by the Presbyterian ladies.

CLUB MEETS FOR DEFENSE

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Kermit Carr was hostess to the Friendly Sixteen club at her home on Jones avenue. The bridge tables were converted into sewing tables as the group sewed for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Carr served ginger bread topped with ice cream, and coccias. Her guests were Mrs. Harry Dodd, Mrs. Charlie Simmons, Mrs. Ollie Everett, Mrs. Billy Simmons and Mrs. Roy Bray.

DOUBLE DECK CLUB LUNCHEON

A patriotic motif featuring red, white and blue place cards, tallies and with tables centered with red carnations in blue vases on white paper lace mats marked the lovely luncheon given Tuesday by Mrs. Percy Bland at her home on Savannah avenue.

Mrs. Bland's guests were members of the Double Deck club and a few others. Defense Stamps were given as prizes. Mrs. Glenn Jennings won high score and Percy Averitt was awarded the cut prize.

Others playing were Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Devane Watson, Mrs. Jack Carlton, Mrs. Lloyd Brannen and Mrs. J. S. Murray.

STATESBORO BRIDE HONORED AT VIDALLA PARTY

Mrs. Joe Joyner who, before her recent marriage was Miss Frances Deal, will be the center figure at a bridge party in Vidalla this afternoon. The party is being given by Mrs. Joyner's sister, Mrs. Henry McArthur. Mrs. Deal is using narcissi and white carnations to accent the bridal motif. Her gift to the honoree will be a piece of silver.

The hostess will serve creamed chicken in timbales, open-faced sandwiches, bride's cake and coffee. Silver bride's bells tied with white satin ribbon will be placed on the plates as favors.

Going with Mrs. Joyner from Statesboro are Mrs. Stothard Deal, Mrs. A. B. Green, Jr., Mrs. Frank Hook, Mrs. George Lanier and Mrs. Lehman Franklin.

Essential Tire Users Must Apply to Local Ration Board

Supplementing information published last week on the rationing of tires, we furnish the following interpretations of regulations covering the rationing. The information came to us in a statement made by the Office of Price Administration.

In order to secure a new tire or tube under the quotas the purchaser must fill out an application which must be certified to by an inspector as to the condition of the tire or tube being replaced. This application must then be taken to a local rationing board which, if it falls within the eligible classifications, can issue a certificate for purchase. This must then be taken to a tire dealer from whom the tire or tube may be purchased.

Following are the interpretations, in question and answer form, made thus far of the rationing regulations issued Dec. 31.

Q. Are seconds of new tires or tubes "new" tires or tubes?

A. Yes.

Q. Do bicycle tires within the scope of the rationing regulations?

A. No.

SECTION 401. (Eligibility to Purchase or Transfer New Tires or Tubes.)

Q. Can an interstate common carrier which has delivered to, and deposited with various tire service stations along its route a supply of its own tires bearing its own brand to be used to service its own trucks under a service contract with the local agency obtain such tires from the local station?

A. This depends upon whether the release of tires amounts to a delivery or transfer within the contemplation of the order. Opinion reserved for written submission of facts.

Q. Can tires in possession of seller on which full payment has been made be delivered to the purchaser?

A. No.

Q. Does payment make no difference?

A. No.

Q. Can tires on which a down payment has been made but which are still in the possession of the seller be delivered to the purchaser?

A. No.

Q. Can tires now owned and in possession of a fleet operator be transferred from one of his fleet garages to another? From truck to truck?

A. Yes.

Q. Can tire dealers exchange tires now owned by them for black wall tires owned by automobile dealers?

A. No.

Q. Local Boards Can't Add to "Eligibles"

SECTION 404. (Eligible Vehicles.)

Q. Have the local boards any discretion in extending the list of eligible classes?

A. No.

Q. To whom must one apply for modification in the list?

A. Leon Henderson, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

Q. Is a horse an eligible vehicle?

A. No. In emergencies, ambulances, which are on the eligible list, may be used as hearses.

Q. Is a truck used to deliver coal to both the manufacturers and private consumers entitled to tires?

A. Yes.

Q. Does the exception in section 404 relating to deliveries to ultimate consumer prohibit the delivery of coal to an ultimate consumer?

A. No.

Q. Are trucks used to repair telegraph lines eligible vehicles?

A. Yes.

Q. Are passenger cars used to repair telegraph lines eligible vehicles?

A. No.

Q. Are cars used to deliver telegrams in rural areas eligible vehicles?

A. No.

Q. Are passenger cars used by wholesale grocers to make deliveries to retailers eligible vehicles?

A. No.

Q. Are wholesale grocers' trucks used to make deliveries to retailers eligible vehicles?

A. Only when the deliveries and solicitations coincide. Trucks not used as salesmen's vehicles.

Political Announcements

FOR CHAIRMAN OF BOARD

To the Voters of Bulloch County: Subject to the Democratic primary to be held on Feb. 18, next, I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of chairman of the board of county commissioners of roads and revenues of Bulloch county, for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1943.

I will appreciate the vote and support of all and will continue to serve you to the best of my ability, as in the past, if re-elected.

Very respectfully, FRED W. HODGES.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as one of the county commissioners of Bulloch county, subject to the rules and regulations of the Democratic primary to be held on Wednesday, the 18th day of February, 1942. During my first term which expires on Jan. 1, 1943, it has been a pleasure to serve Bulloch county and I hope it will meet with the approval of the people of Bulloch county.

I will appreciate the vote and support of all and will, if re-elected, assure you that I will continue to serve you to the best of my ability. This Jan. 6, 1942.

T. O. WYNN.

FOR JUDGE OF CITY COURT

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election as Judge of the City Court of Statesboro, day of February, 1942. During my short period of Judge of the City Court of Statesboro, it has been my earnest desire to be fair to the public and expedite the business of the court as rapidly as possible in order to save time and cost.

I will appreciate the vote and support of all and will, if re-elected, continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

It has been a very pleasant duty for me to serve you during my first regular term in office, and I trust it will meet with your approval for me to serve you for a second term. Words fail me to express my gratitude to you for your past patronage.

Respectfully submitted, LINTON G. LANIER.

SPARE TIRES BANNED FOR NEW LIGHT TRUCKS

An order prohibiting producers, dealers or any other person from equipping, selling, shipping, or delivering new light motor trucks with spare tires or extra tires was issued Dec. 31 by Priorities Director Nelson.

A light truck is defined as of less than 1 1/2 tons. The order is effective immediately. It is similar to one issued Dec. 21 banning long-distance delivery by dealer as well as manufacturers of new passenger cars equipped with more than four new tires.

The order represents a further step in the effort to conserve rubber, vitally needed in the country's huge war effort.

Dorman to Name County Committee

Alfred Dorman, chairman of Bulloch county committee for the celebration of the president's birthday, announced this week that the members of his committee would be named this week and announced in next week's newspapers.

He asks that every person in the county do his part when the plans are announced. "The cause," said Mr. Dorman, "is one of the most worthy of which we are called upon during the year to support. We realize that in these times we are being called upon to contribute to many worthy causes, but this is to help our children who are afflicted with that dread disease, infantile paralysis."

Mr. Dorman did, however, state that J. G. Watson, city clerk, had been named as treasurer for the Bulloch county organization.

He also stated that C. B. McAllister, at the Sea Island bank, and Dean Anderson, at the Bulloch County bank, had been named to receive any funds that an individual wished to contribute.

"Everything is being done to keep the expenses of the celebration to a minimum," said Mr. Dorman, "so that all we raise can be used for the purpose of the celebration."

Excelsior REA to Hold Annual Meeting

The REA electro-economy show will be a feature of the annual membership meeting of the Excelsior Electric Membership corporation at Metter on Jan. 19, according to E. L. Kennedy, president of the local co-operative.

This is a traveling display of electrical equipment, sponsored by the Rural Electrification Administration, demonstrating how electricity can pay its way on the farm and in the home. The show will feature many home-made devices, which will help to increase farm income and add to productive capacity. At least one such device will be constructed at the meeting. In addition, the display includes such things as chick brooders, water-pump irrigation, milk coolers, and much other useful equipment.

REA specialists conducting the show will give short demonstrations of the electrified equipment. The demonstration will be given throughout the business session. The co-operative will elect members to its board of directors for the coming year. A report of progress for the past year will be given by C. E. Miles, superintendent of the co-operative. The financial report will be given by J. A. Holloway, secretary-treasurer. Other matters of importance to the co-operative will be discussed at the meeting.

J. A. Bunce Sells 54 Turkeys In Atlanta for $331.80

"Bulloch county farmers can produce as good beef and turkeys as any place," J. A. Bunce declared this week.

Mr. Bunce made this statement after he had delivered a load of turkeys in Atlanta and they were graded on him. There were fifty-three out of fifty-four of the turkeys he carried to Atlanta that were strictly graded. The 54 turkeys returned him $615 each or $331.80 total.

Mr. Bunce was offered 18 cents per pound for these turkeys before Christmas and sold them for 22 cents this week.

Dan Shuman to Talk to His Parents Over Short-Wave Radio

Saturday night of this week, Dan Shuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Shuman, will talk to his parents over the British Broadcasting company from England.

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. Shuman that their son, Dan, who is with the Royal Air Force, will be on the radio with the American Eagle club Saturday night, Jan. 17, between 7:30 and 8 o'clock EST. The program is made possible by the North American service of the British Broadcasting company. It will come over the 6.11 megacycle band and the 9.58 megacycle band.

ATHLETICS TO BE DISCONTINUED AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

Intercollegiate athletics at the Georgia Teachers college here were abolished for the duration of the war, it was announced this week, following action by the faculty committee on athletics.

The motion passed by the faculty athletic committee, of which W. S. Hanner is chairman, read: "That Georgia Teachers college discontinue intercollegiate athletics for the duration of the war." This action does not affect the present basketball schedule which will run through February.

DANCE AT ELSA SCHOOL FOR THE RED CROSS

There will be a round and square dance at Elsa school Friday night, Jan. 16, at 7:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by a string band. The public is cordially invited. A small admission will be charged. The proceeds will be given as a contribution to the Red Cross.

The bull pen should be situated on well-drained ground, thus eliminating filthy mud holes.

To furnish nutrients needed by live stock, a variety of feeds is necessary.

When pigs are 4 weeks old they should have access to corn and tankage, fed in a creep where the sows are not allowed to enter.

Steep, erodible land can often be put to its best use by planting to trees.

Since 1925, the proportion of cash income received from crops has tended downward.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH to help American Defense. That's the theme of the above poster, one of the newest of the Defense Savings promotional pieces now going up in streets, on bulletin boards, and at other public places. This poster emphasizes the point advanced by the Treasury Department that every American can—and must—pitch in if the United States is to have the arms and the necessary to protect her freedom.

Dr. D. L. Deal Has Opposition In County Primary February 18

Only one candidate running in the Bulloch county primary to be held Wednesday, Feb. 18, will have opposition, it was announced here Saturday.

When the qualifying deadline was reached Saturday, Dr. Dan L. Deal, candidate for representative in the Georgia general assembly, had no opposition. Darwin B. Franklin announced as a candidate to succeed Dr. Deal. Harry S. Aiken is unopposed.

The ballot will be a brief one and will carry the names of the following: For Judge of the City Court of Statesboro, Linton G. Lanier; for chairman of the board of county commissioners, Fred W. Hodges; for member board of commissions, J. A. ("Gus") Denmark and T. Oscar Wynn; for the general assembly, Harry S. Aiken, Dr. Dan L. Deal and Darwin B. Franklin. In this race Mr. Aiken is unopposed and Mr. Franklin is running against Dr. Deal.

A Despicable Form of Fun !

(AN EDITORIAL) It couldn't have been very much fun for the pranksters who set off the "screamer tracer" on Zettertower Avenue Sunday night of last week for they didn't stay to see and note its effect on those who heard it.

A "screamer tracer" is a form of fireworks which when set off sounds exactly like we have been led to believe a bomb would sound when it is released from overhead planes. After the fuse is lit there comes a whistling for a few seconds and then a terrific explosion, giving all the sound effects of a bomb striking its target.

Sunday night on Zettertower Avenue, someone was "having fun" playing at "dropping bombs."

But those "having fun" must not have enjoyed their fun for they didn't wait to see it. As soon as they had lit the fuse they jumped in their car and fled the scene like rats from fire.

They didn't wait to learn that a lady, desperately ill in a home near the "fun" was fighting for her life. They didn't hear the lady who woke up screaming with the words burning in her brain "AIR RAID." They didn't wait to see light after light turn on in the homes all along Zettertower Avenue—citizens worried about what sounded like a bomb exploding.

No, they were "having fun!"

With the city in the midst of training for Civilian Defense in the case of an actual air raid, some one is mean enough to imitate, in sound, that which we pray will never happen to us, but know that it can.

With a ship sunk off the coast of North Carolina—not so far from here—some person or persons are mean enough to go around "playing at bomb dropping."

It was a mean and despicable form of fun. With our nation at war and our citizens exerting every effort to take it in their stride, some one sinks low enough to play at what could prove a stumbling block to that stride.

To those who have had their fun we say that we have so great a contempt and detestation for meanness of that sort or any sort, that we could sooner make a friend of one who had committed murder.

Under such meanness we comprehend dishonesty; under dishonesty, ingratitude; under ingratitude, irreligion; and under this latter every species of vice and immorality in human nature.

Drive Begins for Polio Funds Here

Alfred Dorman, county chairman of the diamond jubilee celebration of the birthday of President Roosevelt to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis with free-for-all party at the high school gym, announced this week that Statesboro will celebrate on Friday night, Jan. 30.

Mr. Dorman said that the feature of the party will be a community sing arranged by the Statesboro music club, with a "very short" short talk or two and dancing to the music of the S. H. S. all-girl orchestra under the direction of Marlene Carpenter.

Mr. Dorman stated that drive for funds for the fight against infantile paralysis will begin in the city immediately and conclude Wednesday, Jan. 28. Personal solicitation will be made in the city. The members of the county committee will work out their own plan.

Individuals who are not called upon by the city committee may go by and leave their contributions with C. B. McAllister at the Sea Island bank or take S. H. S. all-girl orchestra under the direction of Marlene Carpenter.

The following committees have been named, together with the area in which they will work. (The first name on each committee is the chairman.)

23 1/3¢ of your Bus Fare Dollar... Goes just for TAXES!

Out of every dollar you pay for a Southeastern Greyhound ticket, 23 1/3¢ goes just for taxes. For the 12-months ending August 31, 1941, the State of Georgia has levied a tax of 23 1/3¢ on every dollar paid for a Greyhound ticket.

Yes, every Southeastern Greyhound bus PAYS ITS WAY... and more! Buses perform a service that has become a vital necessity to every community and to the entire nation. Directly or indirectly, they are important to YOU.

They serve the armed forces with schedules to move troops and cargo faster than any other means of transportation. They serve defense workers with frequent service for defense workers between factories and homes.

They serve both rural communities and cities by providing convenient, economical transportation that links communities into one. To business men, to housewives, to school children, to vacationers—buses play a prominent part daily in the American Way of life.

Buses Pay Their Way

New Program Designed to Help Farmer Do His Part

A new program to help the small farmer do his part in serving the nation and winning the war was explained today by William W. Moore, Farm Security Administration supervisor, after the FSA regional conference in Montgomery, Ala., at which the plans were developed.

Mr. Moore reported that the conference placed the FSA program on a war footing, for the purpose of increasing food production. To this, he said, every other part of the program will be seconded for the duration.

Minimum goals of food production by families on the FSA program were fixed. Mr. Moore said, and practical help for the small farmer, both on and off the program was planned, with arrangements for loans to those farmers who cannot obtain credit elsewhere and who must help in buying chickens, cows and hogs, in getting seed and equipment.

The plans put into shape the part which Farm Security will have in the department of agriculture's "Food for Freedom" campaign, in which all agencies of the department are participating.

The goals were an extension of those established by FSA in its "Food for Defense" program started last spring and which already is adding $15,000 to $20,000 daily to the income of the small farmer through increased production of eggs, milk and pork products.

Besides seeking to double the food production by FSA families, especially in the essential items of eggs, milk and dairy products, cheese and vegetables, the new program includes the following general goals:

1. Addition of one acre per family of sorghum or sugar cane.
2. Efforts to transfer cows from one family to another and in some cases from one area to another where families have more than two yet have failed to manage and feed them efficiently.
3. Continued effort to cause FSA families to keep and fully develop.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take chances. It is a disease less potent than Cremonium which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Cremonium blends beechnut essence by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Cremonium with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Proper Nutrition Makes Foundation for Strong Nation

"In 1941 many a world event struck home to us the fact that good nutrition is one of the foundations of a strong nation," points out Home Demonstration Agent Miss Emma Spears.

"Headline news stories demonstrated that soldiers and civilians need well-balanced meals to be strong in body, sound in mind, and high in morale—that diets lacking in one or two vital food values can subside a populace almost as effectively as famine."

Three food headlines stand out charge.

Active pallbearers were nephews, W. Earl McElveen, Arthur Buncie, Lee McElveen, C. S. Proctor, Winton Brannen and Wilford Hagin.

Honorary pallbearers were E. J. Reid, Donnie Warnock, C. W. Lee, T. S. Richardson, J. H. Taylor, W. Brannen, J. H. Findley, E. H. Knight, J. P. Brown, H. C. McElveen, J. H. Woodward, J. B. Atkins, Brooks Fitch, A. B. Burness, S. A. Gigners, Dr. W. L. Deal, Dessie Brown and Dan Lee.

The small farm family is still buying food, feed and seed. Now we see, and should help this family to see, the really important ways in which it is to get the food it needs. Now we see that we should quit worrying about a cash economy until we get the Number One job done."

The goals were an extension of those established by FSA in its "Food for Defense" program started last spring and which already is adding $15,000 to $20,000 daily to the income of the small farmer through increased production of eggs, milk and pork products.

Besides seeking to double the food production by FSA families, especially in the essential items of eggs, milk and dairy products, cheese and vegetables, the new program includes the following general goals:

1. Addition of one acre per family of sorghum or sugar cane.
2. Efforts to transfer cows from one family to another and in some cases from one area to another where families have more than two yet have failed to manage and feed them efficiently.
3. Continued effort to cause FSA families to keep and fully develop.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take chances. It is a disease less potent than Cremonium which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Cremonium blends beechnut essence by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Cremonium with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. for 1941.

First is LEND-LEASE BILL, BECOMES LAW—March. Passage of this bill made it possible for the president of the United States to lend or lease food as well as other war materials to Great Britain. With shipping space at a premium the foods being sent to Britain are the foods that pack a lot of concentrated nourishment. Between April 29 and Nov. 1, two-thirds of all the food delivered at shipside for shipment, to Britain were dairy products, eggs, or meats. These are the foods Great Britain needs most to balance her diet nutritionally.

Second big headline of 1941—NATIONAL NUTRITION CONFERENCE ANNOUNCES NATIONAL NUTRITION YARDSTICK—May. This yardstick is a new high goal for diet planning. It marks the first time nutrition workers in the United States have had one clear-cut yardstick for the whole country. On this yardstick countless menu plans, marketing lists, rules of cooking, and the like are now being based.

Third headline—FOOD-FOR-FREEDOM GOALS FOR 1942 ANNOUNCED—September. Enough food for use in this country and enough to help feed the nations resisting aggression—that is a summary of the food goals announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. To the nutrition worker one of the most cheering things about the new Food-for-Freedom goals is that they take into account the nutrition needs of the country. The table-fuls—milk, eggs, vegetables—are all on the "more" list.

Good health rests on a foundation of good nutrition. The simple task of planning good food for the family is a vital factor in the defense program.

Milk has a prominent place in the well-planned diet. The daily quota of one quart for children and one pint for adults may be in the form of whole milk supplemented by buttermilk. When food money is limited, evaporated milk and dried milk will be found cheaper.

Eggs are important in all diets. They are an excellent source of protein and furnish some of the more important vitamins and minerals. These, like dairy products and eggs, are rich in minerals and vitamins.

Use vegetables generously in the diet, especially tomatoes, the green leafy ones, and the yellow ones. These, like dairy products and eggs, are rich in minerals and vitamins.

The body must have plenty of protein for building the muscle tissues. So, in addition to milk and eggs, the diet should include meat, fish, poultry, as well as peas, beans and nuts. These protein foods also help to supply the vitamins and minerals needed for health.

Never buy chicks from any hatchery that is not blood testing all the breeding stock from which it is getting eggs.

AGENT ANNOUNCES NEW PROJECT FOR 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

Bullock county 4-H club boys and girls will give their assistance this year toward defeating the Japs and Germans by enrollment in a food-for-victory contest, County Extension Agent Byron Davis announced.

Under regulations of the new contest, club boys will be asked to carry out projects in poultry, vegetable, corn, wheat and other crops. Boys will enroll in poultry, gardening and canning. This increase in these food products is being requested for both home use and surplus for sale in co-operation with the nation's food-for-victory campaign of the department of agriculture.

Any bona fide 4-H club member is eligible to enter the contest, according to national department regulations. However, all products must be produced and owned by the club members.

To further the winning of the war, the winning members will receive defense stamps as awards. County Extension Agent Byron Davis will be in charge of the contest.

Contest Opens for High School Seniors

As a part of their diamond jubilee celebration, Rich's is offering a scholarship covering tuition for one of the students of the high school in Georgia for the best essay in the state written by a high school senior on the subject, "The Citizen's Duty to the Nation." The award also includes dormitory and board fees for the freshman year in college.

The diamond jubilee contest is open to all seniors in every city, county and private senior high school in Georgia and involves the writing of an essay based on personal research. It is designed to encourage the future citizens of the state with the most useful men and women produced by their state.

Each county winner in the contest will receive a $25 defense bond, together with a trip to Atlanta as the guest of Rich's for the diamond jubilee celebration. The winner of the second best essay will be given a $10 award.

Special awards of $25 will be given to the writers of the best essays in each congressional district of the state, while the English teachers of these winners will receive $100 and a trip to Atlanta.

The diamond jubilee contest is under the direction of Miss Jessie H. O'Neil, principal of the Georgia High School in Atlanta. The closing date of the contest is Feb. 28, 1942.

The contest is sponsored as part of Rich's seventy-fifth anniversary celebration. It is a part of the essays scheduled for the judges which will continue throughout 1942.

LET'S LET OUR COMMON SENSE REASSERT ITSELF

TO HOARD—means to store secretly; to collect and lay up; to amass; accumulate.

People in Statesboro and Bulloch County are losing their heads because they fail to understand the meaning of the word SACRIFICE.

People in Statesboro and Bulloch County are creating a phony shortage—in SUGAR.

A survey made of the grocery stores in Statesboro Saturday morning revealed that people "are running hog-wild," to use the expression of one grocer, over a self-conceived shortage of sugar.

Regular customers of stores are buying all their grocerman will sell them, then they go from store to store, grocermen with whom they seldom do business, over town and buy all each will sell them.

And this hoarding of sugar is not confined to Statesboro. It is a wave that is sweeping the nation. And it will end with us finding ourselves entering our grocery store with a sugar ration card in our hands entitling us to just so many pounds of sugar a week.

The grocermen, both retail and wholesale, agree that if the people would use their common sense and buy the same amount of sugar they have been accustomed to buying to fill all their weekly needs that there would be no need of Federal rationing to handle this "hog-wild" buying.

Statesboro grocers are trying to be sensible about this evident epidemic of lunacy, but they are helpless unless they secure the co-operation of the consumer.

Let's get our feet back on the ground. When we stop to think and let our common sense reassert itself we'll find that the sugar situation will return to normal, with plenty for all reasonable needs.

WHAT MATTER WOULD THE FACE OF A CLOCK SAY!

ON FEBRUARY 9TH, by act of Congress, your clock and our clock will be stepped up one hour. President Roosevelt signed a bill January 20th putting the entire United States on daylight-saving time beginning on February 9. The purpose of the change is to conserve electricity for the gigantic war effort.

After 2 o'clock A. M., Statesboro and Bulloch County time, February 9th, the clocks in our homes will be turned ahead an hour for the duration of the war.

Governor Eugene Talmadge pledged his support to the measure and agrees to do whatever becomes necessary to put the state on the new time basis.

This morning you got up at 7 o'clock. It was not yet bright daylight. Monday week you'll get up and it'll be 8 o'clock.

Frankly we do not know what affect the change will have on our community. We'll have to wait and see. But we must remember that we are at war and this is a war measure. The people here will go along with it the best they can to help out and we'll hear little complaining. People here know that to kick at a time like this only makes for confusion. The man who labors by the clock will change his hours or change his habits.

But if this change in the time will help root the Japs, the Jerries and the Wops... then you'll find us going along.

IT'S ALL A PART OF VICTORY!
HAVE YOU checked the books in your home that you have already read and are now standing on your bookshelf only as space fillers?

If not, then do so—get them down and add them to the Victory Book pile. Leave them at the library. They'll bring many happy hours of reading to soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen.

The Victory Book campaign is being sponsored by the Red Cross, the American Library Association and the United Service Organization. Books are being collected and placed in army camps all over the nation to fill the leisure hours of the men in our armed forces.

Give a book to the Victory Book campaign.

IF YOU COME IN THE AGE LIMITS—REGISTER FEB. 16!

ON OCTOBER 16, 1940, more than 2,500 young men of Bulloch County between the ages of 21 and 35 registered for Selective Service.

Observation at the registration places that day revealed that the young men were registering with good humor and in a spirit of it being good clean fun.

Then on July 1, 1941, there was another registration of young men who had turned 21 years old since October 16, 1940. There was a little more grim note attached to this registration for the Hitler menace was becoming more and more widespread.

And then Pearl Harbor on December 7th and now a new registration on February 16th.

Every man in Bulloch County, Georgia, and the nation who may have reached his twentieth birthday on December 31st and not past his forty-fifth anniversary on February 16, 1942, must register, and, having registered, he takes his place with the millions who registered in 1940 and 1941.

And when this group registers it will be with a brand new feeling... for the United States, our nation, our homeland, is now at war... a war for keeps.

So on February 16th, if you are within the age limits, register!

STATESBORO'S TRASH PAPER IS PLAYING ITS PART

YOU who have worried about the conservation of waste paper in Statesboro can now know that it is being picked up out of your trash box and playing its part in the national defense effort. It is being gathered and sorted and baled and sent on its way back into channels designed to aid the government in its gigantic defense program.

So just continue throwing your trash paper and pasteboard boxes in your trash box and know that you are helping your community in its helping the nation in helping keep us free!

CONGRATULATIONS TO the City of Statesboro, and thanks for filling up all those small holes in the pavements of the streets of the city. These small holes were playing havoc with the tires on the autos of citizens of the city and visitors. And now they have been filled and we can seek new ways of taking care of our tires.

FROM OTHER PAPERS
WE MUST NOT FORGET

There are some duties which, despite the war and its complete absorption of our minds, must not be forgotten. To forget helpless ones who look to us as the source of hope would be criminal, under any circumstances.

The annual drive for funds to continue the war against infantile paralysis, poliomyelitis, is now on. We have, annually, contributed according to our means to this great cause, a cause launched by President Roosevelt himself.

Half of the funds we raise in Georgia remain in this state, to directly aid our own sufferers from this mysterious and dread malady. Half goes to the Foundation for research work, for the seeking out of the cause and cure of the disease. The second half thus aids those stricken, and those who will be stricken, all over the world.

We have given generously before. This year we must give more generously than ever. For, this year, we are giving our all to win a war, and we are promising ourselves that, after the war is won, we shall create a better world than mankind has ever known.

And, if that better world does not include a better chance, a brighter hope for the conquest of disease, it will be but a delusion to thousands who suffer.

Therefore, let us dig deep in response to the call of the polo campaign this year, and thus prove to the world that this America of ours can take care of all responsibilities and does not forget, in times of war or in time of peace—Atlanta Constitution.

WHAT ARE YOU SCARED OF?

There's a lot of darn foolish talk and sheep-like panic action in this community—and others. Among merchants. Among consumers. And don't think it isn't aid to the enemy. It most certainly is. Of course we can't have "business as usual." But we don't have to stop trying to sell people the things we do have on our shelves. Of course we can't buy the things that have been restricted—but we can and SHOULD buy the things we need. As for all this wild talk about this or that item going to be taken off the market tomorrow or next week—why, who on earth could suggest such rumors without realizing that they help our enemies—Cobb County Times.

War Needs Money—YOURS!

This war calls for every ounce of energy, every dime and dollar we can muster for ships—and planes—and guns.

Hit the enemy with a $25 Bond. Hurt him with a $50 Bond. Help to blow him sky-high with a $100 or $1,000 Bond.

SAYS WHAT NOT TO DO AS VITAL AS WHAT TO DO FOR COMMON COLD

Educating parents in what not to do is as vital as instructing them in what to do in treating children who give evidence of common cold.

Don't delay every hour counts. Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps TODAY.

There is hardly a practicing physician who has not encountered some grave illness which has been treated as a cold for days or even weeks.

Dr. John DeLoach, of the health magazine, points out the almost universal unintentional mis-treatment by mothers of young-sters who are attacked by the al-most universal common cold.

As the safest and most economical measures to be followed at the onset of that which parents ordinarily interpret as a cold, Dr. John suggests: (1) Isolation of the patient from others (2) rest in bed if there is any suspicion of fever and (3) immediate notification of the physician.

"Certain seasons of the year," he says, "are characterized by a prevalence of certain diseases and the experienced physician usually has a fair idea of what is 'going around' in the locality at a particular time. At any rate he will be able to tell you what to do until he sees the child."

No parent is justified in tampering with a condition that is full of serious possibilities. Dr. John advises, suggesting a number of procedures and home remedies which over-anxious parents should guard against as being potentially harmful to the child.

"Don't give a cathartic without the advice of the physician," he cautions. "No amount of bowel purging will 'drive' the infection out of the upper respiratory tract. And never, never give a cathartic on your own initiative to a child with abdominal pain. If there is no obstruction or inflammation of the intestines a cathartic is not needed. Should there be inflammation or obstruction the results may be disastrous."

"Don't pour oily drops into the nose of a child. There are many cases on record in which pneumonia resulted from breathing these medicaments into the lungs. Most of them died little if any good."

"Don't rub his chest with medicated ointments. They only add to discomfort."

"Don't attempt to alkalinize. Your child does not have acidosis. If he is in that imminent physiologic state, he will need more medical treatment than you yourself can supply."

Don't let the child talk you out of (his) remaining in bed as long as he has fever. In the case of an infant remember that it is just as easy for him to fuss in his crib as it is in your arms. He can rest much better when he lies down than when you carry him around.

"Don't take it for granted that sneezing and sniffing are due to 'nothing but a cold.' Let your doctor make the diagnosis."

"Don't overlook the fact that the common cold is the most contagious disease known to man. Unless you use ample precautions you and every one else in the family may contract it."

"In the interest of your neighbors' children don't send your youngster to school with a runny nose. Perfect attendance is no longer a fetish with well-informed teachers."

The common cold, it is recalled, is the most contagious of all known diseases, and the crowding which is common in modern living serves as a constant medium of exposure."

Regarding the stages of the common cold, Dr. John says: "The stage of invasion may occur within a few hours after exposure. There is congestion and inflammation of the nose, throat and trachea (windpipe). This congestion lasts one or two days and produces an irritation of the cells lining these structures."

"The second stage is that of se-

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

This week your editor has been summoned for jury duty and, being one of those persons who takes his duties seriously, it did not even occur to us to be excused in order to work up to be the issue of The Herald. So it's going to be late, I'm afraid. We have done all our news writing and editorials at home after every one else is long and we have had to let our advertising slide.

We don't mind jury service, as some people make out like they do. Sure, it seems like a waste of time often when you sit there in court waiting for the lawyers to get together on some trivial point, or you serve on a case that should never have been brought into court.

But this is a democracy in which we live and a trial by jury is one of the things guaranteed us in children who give evidence of common cold.

Maybe some day we'll find ourselves in trouble and we would like to know that our neighbors and friends are willing to serve on the jury and see that we get a good fair trial.

And in order that we might get off to bed to-night before it gets too late we'll oversleep and be late for court tomorrow and hold up the works we are going to borrow some stuff from other Georgia writers.

The first place comes from the Fitzgerald Herald: IMPORTANT VITAMINS (Presented by the Great Physician) Judge not, that ye be not judged.—Math. 7:1.

CADET TRAINS TO AVENGE DEATH OF FAMILY AT HANDS OF NAZIS

RAF Captain E. J. Lischke, whose father, mother and sister were killed "as traitors to the German Reich," is now learning to fly in the Southeast Air Corps Training Center so that he can help in the crusade to rid Europe of the Nazi gangsters.

Along with a large number of Englishmen he is now at the Basic Flying school at Gunter Field, Ala. He soon will be promoted to an advanced school and after that will come his chance to get to the Nazis.

A native of hapless Sudetland, Lischke is a member of the handsome blond, blue-eyed Nordics whom Hitler has named as the class privileged to help him rule the world. According to the racial theories advanced in Mein Kampf, he is the type who should have a bloodthirsty devotion to nazism.

But instead of being on the S. S. troop lists, Lischke is on the Gestapo's blacklist of death. For he was only 16 when he was a flying cadet and parachutist in the Czech air force and an active member and son of a leader in the anti-Nazi social democratic party in his native Czechoslovakia.

Lived Behind Bars

Only fifteen miles from the German border behind the Bohemian bastion lived the Lischke family before that fatal day at Munich when Czechoslovakia was dismembered by the acquiescence of France and England to Hitler's demands. Friends and relatives who lived in the small German community tried to compel this family to bow to the swastika—but they were not swayed.

Then came Munich. Cadet Lischke was in the Czech air force; his family in the party opposed to the Nazis.

Four months were required for that circuitous trip to England—skirting Hungary, through Rumania, then up Russia, inching across Poland, into the Baltic from Gdynia, to Sweden, across Scandinavia, and finally England was sighted on a lonely Christmas eve in 1938.

Letter Gives News

Europe was not yet at war, but about a month after his arrival in England, Lischke received a letter from a friend—but it was German-censored. It told only of general news except for one strange sentence which read: "Save these stamps for your album. Don't destroy them."

Lischke had no album, but one day he noticed the stamps, steamed them off, and underneath in a finely pencilled hand was the news, "Your mother, father, sister killed as 'traitors to the German Reich.'"

On that day he went to the RAF and pleaded for an appointment—but to no avail. He obtained a job, but kept asking authorities for flight training. Finally he was taken into the ranks of the ground crews—and his abilities—plus the grim determination behind them—soon gained him an appointment as a cadet. Then he was selected for training in America.

He's a fun-loving kid—not yet 20—but for Lischke there is only one purpose in his life—and that is to rid the world of the curse of Hitlerism. Beyond that, he has no plans.

Report of Grand Jury for January Term of Court

We, the Grand Jury, chosen and sworn to serve at the January term, Bulloch Superior Court 1942, submit the following report:

We recommend that Mr. Wade C. Hodges be appointed as member of the board of education, Bulloch county, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. J. A. Metts and also the ensuing term.

We recommend that Mr. James F. Everett be appointed as notary public and ex-officio justice of peace in the 48th G. M. district to succeed Mr. O. O. Stewart, whose term expires March 23, 1942.

We recommend that Mr. Cohen Anderson be re-appointed as notary public and ex-officio justice of peace in the 1209th G. M. district.

We recommend that our legislators endeavor to change the closing date for making application for increased exemption, said change to be made from April 1 to May 1, each year.

Also recommend that tax commissioners receive taxes according to law until changed by legislative act.

We recommend that the officers strictly enforce the law regarding fishing and hunting on Sunday in this county.

We appreciate the able work being done by county welfare workers and also the report made by Mr. Frank W. Hodges, chairman of the board, and Mr. Earl McElveen as superintendent of the county schools.

We recommend that these presents be published in The Bulloch Herald and the Bulloch Times and that the usual amount be allowed for publishing presents.

We wish to thank Judge Evans for his able chairmanship and for his general for his assistance in matters presented to this body.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. WYATT, Foreman
H. ULMER KNIGHT, CL.

COUNTY AGENT SAYS BUMPER CALF CROP WILL AID SOLDIERS

Bulloch county farmers have a chance to help win the war in making plans for a bumper crop of beef calves this spring.

Agent Byron Dyer said this week that the beef calf is the meat that is used in greatest amount by our soldiers, he declared, it is imperative that the producers of beef cattle plan now for the production and feeding of the 1942 calf crop.

"Calves will be dropped in the late winter and spring months," Mr. Dyer said. "For the production of strong calves, the winter ration of the brood cows must be balanced. Scanty, unbalanced rations to them in winter months will result in small, weak calves at birth."

The county agent asserted that there is an inclination to neglect the brood cow herd during the winter months. Too many cows are turned loose in the woods and fields during the winter months with no regard for feed, shelter, or personal supervision, he added. He also said expensive burns are not necessary, but the ground should be well bedded with straw or other material to keep the cows dry.

CEREAL DESSERTS ARE ENERGY FOODS AND GOOD TO EAT

"A cereal dessert can be a real 'rainy day' bargain," points out Miss Irma Speers, home demonstration agent of Bulloch county. "For not only are cereal puddings, cookies, and cakes good to eat, but they are inexpensive energy foods as well. And if made from a whole-grain cereal, they can be a top-notch source of important food values."

According to the home demonstration agent, whole-grain cereals are especially valuable in low-cost meals, because they furnish some of the vitamins and minerals likely to be low when the quota of milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables must be kept at a minimum.

Food value of desserts made from either refined or whole-grain cereals can be bolstered considerably by the addition of milk, molasses and other such nutritious ingredients. Red Cross Call to Service

Benjamin Ernest Holland, of Statesboro, who received his appointment to ensign in the United States naval reserve Dec. 24, 1941, has reported to the commandant of the Sixth Naval district for active duty with the navy in communications.

Holland attended the University of Georgia in 1930-31 and graduated from the South Georgia Teachers college at Collegeboro, Ga., in 1934.

He was a member of the Georgia National Guard and in civil life was in the insurance business. He is stationed at the Charleston, S. C., post.

loss, will be paid in cotton of the same grade and staple as the crop insured, or in the cash equivalent.

These peanuts are being distributed at cost. The No. 1 runners cost $90 in five-ton lots. To get them in small lots, they are costing $97.50 per ton put up in 100-pound bags. Spanish would be some $10 per ton higher. However, most of the Bulloch county farmers plant runners for oil stocks.

Co-operative orders are also being grouped for lespezea seed. A supply of mixed lespezea, composed of common, Kobe and Korean lespezea, is being shipped to the county by the Bulloch county farmers' co-operative. Where Kobe alone is wanted, the price is $11.60 per hundred delivered and Korean is $8 per hundred.

Phosphate is now being applied to the fields where the lespezea is to be planted about Feb. 15.

'Now Is the Time to Top Dress Oats For High Yields'

Now is the time to top dress oats for the highest yields, E. D. Alexander, extension agronomist, stated here Saturday while inspecting some fields of small grain.

Mr. Alexander stated that over a thirteen-year test at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station oats top dressed with 100 pounds of nitrate of soda gave the following results:

No top dressing—34.1 bushels per acre.

Top dressed Jan. 15—39.0 bushels per acre.

Top dressed Feb. 1—41.9 bushels per acre.

Top dressed Feb. 15—41.6 bushels per acre.

Top dressed March 1—40.0 bushels per acre.

Top dressed March 15—35.9 bushels per acre.

Mr. Alexander explained that farmers desiring soda for any reason should make their needs known to their fertilizer dealer immediately so they could procure it.

The specialist was here to examine some of the fields of wheat turning yellow. He thought the best thing for this condition was to graze them as close as possible, then let them come out again.

"CHEERIO, MY DEARIO," TO BE PRESENTED AT LEEFIELD SCHOOL

The three-act comedy, "Cheerio, my Deario," will be presented at the Leefield school on Friday evening, Feb. 18. The play is being sponsored by the Leefield Parent-Teacher association and the cast is the same as the one who presented the play at Middleground school.

'Stand Behind the Bulloch County Library'

One of the greatest educational institutions in this county is the Bulloch County Library. Most of the citizens of the county would be surprised to know to what extent it is being used, not only for pleasure reading, but also for purposeful reading.

This should be a cause for rejoicing among the different sources from which the library gets financial help.

Modern teaching methods require daily use of a variety of books which makes it imperative that a public library be available. The bookmobile takes books in every community in the county. The teachers of the county have access, in addition to bookmobile service, to the library to use any number of books for a certain planned work.

The library board appreciates every source from which it gets financial help. It would be tragic if the fine impetus toward education and inspiration from reading books should diminish because of lack of means to keep it going.

Mrs. Fred Hodges, the president of the Library Board, has issued an annual report of the library's work, which is interesting. Read it on the editorial page of this week's Herald. — Mrs. F. W. Hughes.

FEBRUARY SET ASIDE AS EMPHASIS MONTH ON GOOD NUTRITION
Members of the Georgia nutrition committee for defense have set aside February as "special emphasis month" to distribute information material concerning proper eating and balanced diet for Georgia people.

Miss Lurline Collier, state home demonstration agent and chairman of the state nutrition committee, declared this week, in speaking of the need for emphasizing the right kind of food as national defense measure, that "we are striving to do three things in an effort to make America strong, not only during this emergency but for all time to come."
"First, to produce an abundance of food which will be consumed by the producers or by those who have money to buy it. Second, to get all consumers to like and eat the right sort of food that will make them strong for our national emergency today and for future protection of our country. Third, to distribute information to what constitutes a balanced diet," Miss Collier added that every

(Continued from Editorial Page) from your physician what you may do and what you may not do, and plan your life accordingly.

Proper hours of rest at night are of great importance. When you are asleep the heart gets the most rest. Eight hours in bed should be the minimum—ten is better.

If you are overweight, your physician may put you on a diet to reduce your weight. Keeping your weight down to normal is one of the ways in which you may avoid placing a strain on the heart.

Follow the instructions the physician gives you for improving your general health so that you will be able to put up a strong resistance to infection. Remember that colds, sore throats, and other diseases due to germs sometimes serve to start a more or less prolonged illness in a person with a weakened heart.

Never take medicine for your heart except by your physician's orders. Some forms of heart disease may be benefited by medicine. But drugs which affect the heart are extremely powerful in their effects on the body.

Guard against worry and all infection must be taken only under careful medical supervision.

Tomorrow you call the doctor and tell him "can't make it today, Doc; oh, it's all right, really. Then the next day, with your "furniture" giving you hell, you drift into the doctor's office, a sort of sheepish look and say, "Doctor, you gotta do something," and so taking you at your word he does. OWNERS OF TRACTORS URGED TO CARE FOR TIRES DURING 1942
Farmers' attention was called this week by G. I. Johnson, agricultural engineer of the Georgia Agriculture Extension service, to the necessity of making their tractor tires last as long as possible.

"Over 95 per cent. of the farm tractors sold in recent years," Johnson said, "have been equipped with rubber tires. Tire wear may vary according to soil conditions and intensity of use but in many cases excessive wear is the result of improper utilization."

The extension engineer declared that since food will play such an important part in winning the war and as a great deal of the farming in Georgia is dependent upon farm machinery, it is imperative that Georgia farmers take care of their present tires. He added that the possibility of serious damage from careless handling or even unavoidable accidents must not be overlooked.

"Under present conditions," Johnson said, "such a simple thing as backing the tractor into a sharp projection on some machine may ruin a tire or make an expensive repair necessary."

CD Auxiliary Firemen to Hear Expert

Logan Hagan, assistant chairman of the auxiliary firemen of the Bulloch county civilian defense council, announced this week that on Thursday night, February 19, the citizens of Statesboro will have an opportunity to see an actual bombing of the type used in bombing cities in the World War II.

Mr. Hagan stated that on that night Herman M. Hulnisch, chief inspector of the bureau of fire prevention of the Savannah Fire Department will be here to acquaint the people of this section with how they may be expected to protect their homes and towns.

Mr. Hulnisch received his training at the U. S. Chemical Warfare School at the Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland. He will explain the technique of fighting fires, bomb protection, use of sand, water, etc.

Will Hugins, local fire chief, is chairman of the local auxiliary firemen, and is vice-chairman of the first district. Walter S. Blanton, chief of the Savannah Fire Department, is chairman of the district.

Prior to the meeting at 8 o'clock there will be a conference of all auxiliary firemen.

Chief Boatwain's Mate P. E. Larson of the Savannah recruiting office of the United States Navy in Savannah this week pointed out that "never before in the history of the United States has there been a greater opportunity for local young Americans to serve their country and build their own future than right now."

Young men interested may see or write to the Navy Recruiting office at the post office, room 236 in Savannah.

Appeal Made for Tornado Victims
The Bulloch County Chapter American Red Cross is asking the people of the county for clothing for the families whose homes were destroyed in Friday's tornado.

Also any old furniture such as bedsteads, dressers or anything that would help these people to get settled in new places and with warm clothing, furniture and bedding. I visited these homes and saw the need is urgent. If you have anything that will help these families, will you deliver it or call and let us know what you have.

There are twelve boys, ages as follows: 17, 15, 12, 9, 7, 6, 4, 3, and 2 mos. There are eight girls, ages: 14, 13, 11, 10, 7, 5, 2. Four men and four women. Allen R. Lanier, Disaster Chairman.

BOB SHEPPARD FALLS THREE FLIGHTS OF STAIRS AND BREAKS 4 RIBS
It was learned here this week that R. E. (Bob) Sheppard is recovering from a fall in which he broke four ribs about four weeks ago.

Mr. Sheppard, well known here to the tobacco growers and business men, tripped and fell three flights of stairs in the hotel in which he was living at Morris-town, Tenn.

He was treated at Nabor's Clinic there and was expected to be dismissed this week.

Stilson 4-H Club Holds February Meet
The Stilson 4-H Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, February 10, with Miss Irma Sparks, Co. Home Dem. Agent, presiding.

Thirty-eight members were present. Miss Sparks asked the girls to have their sewing boxes ready for the next meeting. Miss Sparks talked on gardening for the benefit of the girls taking gardening for a project. Her subject which was very interesting was "Gardening For Victory". All 4-H Club members were classified to which center they will enter.

Two of our members were elected officers in the County Council meeting Saturday. They are James Davis, President, and Effie Brown, Secretary. Effie Brown gave a report on the meeting Saturday.

Men Between 20 and 45 to Register Monday Feb. 16

For the first registration since "Pearl Harbor," every male citizen of Bulloch county as well as in the United States between the ages of 20 and 45, who have not registered in one of the two previous registrations, will go to the nearest point of registration for possible military service under the provisions of the Selective Service Act, Monday, February 16, by proclamation of the President of the United States.

Marshall Robertson, secretary of the local Selective Service board, announced this week that the schools of Bulloch county were co-operating in the registration work by having registration centers on that day. All schools will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 9 p. m. on February 16 with a full corps of assistants to take care of the registration. This will be under the direction of W. E. McElveen, county school superintendent.

Emphasizing that the Selective Service Registration on February 16 will complete the registration of America's potential military manpower, Brig. Gen. Sion B. Hawkins, State Director of Selective Service, this week pointed out that it is making every effort to exercise complete impartiality in carrying out the tremendous task in the selection of men for induction into our army," said Mr. Robertson.

Men between 21 and 36 years of age who registered in 1940 and 1941 are not required to register again, the Director stated.

While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on the registration place most convenient on that day, Director Hawkins said, he urged all Georgia registrants to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register while away from his home, he warned, should be careful to specify his HOME ADDRESS so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board and to ensure that he will be included in its potential manpower to fill calls for quotas.

Every man subject to registration who is an inmate of an asylum, jail, penitentiary, reformatory, or similar institution on February 16 is required to register on the day he leaves the institution.

The registration of the colored men in the county will be handled at the Statesboro High and Industrial School here in Statesboro. Pope's Junior High School, Willow Hill, Brooklet, New Hope (near Register), Nevils, Sandridge (near Stilson) and New Sand Ridge (near Ogeechee).

James Davis Named 4-H Club President
James Davis, Stilson, was elected president of the Bulloch county 4-H club council Saturday. James has been a 4-H club member for five years, majoring in hogs and beef cattle. He has one of the best steers for the season that has ever been fed out in the county. He raises purebred hogs and is now president of his club at Stilson.

Other officers named were: Miss Joyce Riggs, Register, vice-president for the girls and Herman Hendrix, West Side, vice-president for the boys; Miss Effie Brown, Stilson, secretary; Ed-ward Lewis, Denmark, reporter; Mrs. P. F. Groover, Warnock, sponsor for the girls and Doris Cason, West Side, sponsor for the boys.

The council will direct the 4-H club activities in the county. The regular meetings will be held each first Saturday afternoon.

Miss Sparks asked the girls to have their sewing boxes ready for the next meeting. Miss Sparks talked on gardening for the benefit of the girls taking gardening for a project. OUR CONGRESS HATCHES A "RETIREMENT PLAN"

A MAN WE KNOW who has spent all his life eeking a living out of a stinky piece of land, paying taxes, raising children and contributing to the general good of the community put it this way "It's the most outlandish thing I ever heard of!"

The congressmen of the United States, a majority of the house and senate, have voted to provide themselves a pension for life on completion of a specified period of service.

All over the nation a wave of protest followed the announcement of the "retirement plan." These protests took the form of downright ridicule as represented by the "Bundles for Congressmen," organized to send old shoes, old clothes to the aid of members of Congress who are paid $10,000 a year and almost that amount for secretarial help to scathing editorials in the daily and weekly press like the one written by Ralph McGill in the Atlanta Constitution.

The provision providing our congressmen with velvet for life turned up on the end of the bill with an unassuming title "A bill to amend further the civil service retirement act." The day the bill came up in the house a little more than 60 members were present. In the senate 42 voted "aye," 24 said "nay" and 30 did not vote at all.

When the people of the nation realized what had happened, they began clamoring for a "why." Congressman Robert Ramspeck, of Georgia, the author of the bill offers this defense: "The taxpayer will be better protected, because legislators can better resist the pressure groups."

Has it time come when we must pay our congressmen and senators to "better resist the pressure groups?" Do our elected representatives need special inducement to keep them honest?

Can one wonder that our own farmer friend labels it as "outlandish?"

Every day the people of this nation are being asked to make more and more sacrifices. We are asked to live harder and on less and less. Every man woman and child is called upon every day in the week for contributions to aid our immense victory effort. Business, large as well as small, is feeling the pinch of the war. People are conditioning themselves to pay the greatest tax bill ever known.

And in the face of all this our congress hatches a "retirement plan!"

We agree with our farmer friend, it's outlandish!

YOUR REGISTRATION WAS A DECLARATION OF VICTORY

IF YOU CELEBRATED your twentieth birthday on or before December 31, 1941 and did not register in one of two previous registrations then, on Monday, February 16, you reported to your nearest registration place and registered.

Of if you had not celebrated your forty-fifth birthday on or before Monday, February 16, 1942 and did not register in one of the two previous registrations, then on Monday, February 16, you reported to your nearest registration place and registered.

By proclamation of the President of the United States February 16 was set aside for the third registration for possible military service.

All over the United States men marched up to their Uncle Sam and by action said, "Here I am look me over, if you can use me you'll find me ready and willing to give all I have to give in your all-out "Victory Drive."

There is a new significance attached to this third registration. At the time of the first registration in October 1940 and the second registration in July 1941, Pearl Harbor had not been attacked, Manila had not fallen, The City of Atlanta had not been sunk in our front yards, Singapore was still in the hands of the British, and General McArthur and his Jap-blasters were not making golden history in the hills of the Philippines.

So when you registered Monday it was a declaration of victory to be heard in every corner of the world where people are looking up to you to restore them the freedom they once knew and now so dastardly wrested from them.

THINGS BEGIN SHAPING UP ON THE HOME FRONT

EVERY DAY the news columns tell us of things to come.

We now know we are in for an increasingly drastic rationing program, in which sugar is just the first act. We can look forward to a time when a new radio may be as hard to come by as a new tire. We know that shortages are going to effect how we will look when we go to church Sundays and how we look when we go in swimming.

Most of the trends developed in the last few days are of particular interest to women. Their kitchen shelves and icebox, and in the contents of closets and bureau drawers, as well as in the living room.

We're going to see a great deal less of the tin can the tin can is going to go through this war primarily as a container for vegetables and meat products. Already the new war production Board has cut in half the amount of tin which may be used in cans for baking powder, beer, biscuits, candy, cereals, flour, chocolate and cocoa, coffee, dogfood, spices (as well as to get out of the kitchen for a moment—petroleum products and tobacco.

Who would think that Fido's dog food used 820 tons of tin. Did you realize that your pet birds, will feel the thinks to come for the hemp seed you've been feeding him will be used to grow more hemp to make more rope to use on more ships to sink more Japmarines.

Initial sales of sugar under the rationing system now being worked out may be limited to three-quarters of a pound per person per week. At any rate there'll be enough sugar throughout 1942 to supply basic dietary needs. And plans are being worked out to provide sugar for home canning during the summer.

Women's styles will probably be altered by the need to conserve textiles; chances are we're in for a period of slim silhouettes and short skirts. But it looks as though the foundation were safe, anyway. For it is learned that a limited amount of crude rubber is being made available for manufacture of foundation garments—girdles and corsets.

Today these things to us are just news—tomorrow they will be with us as realities.

WE CAN'T JUST GO ON CALLING IT "THE AIRPORT"

WE CAN'T just go on calling it "The Airport." Work is well under way at "the airport" and before we realize it it will be finished—two long hard-surfaced runways, fencing—all ready for fast and heavy planes to put down on. Our air field deserves a better name than just "the airport."

Many communities with similar airports honor a valiant son who has given his life in the service of his country by giving name to the airport. Other communities honor its living by giving the name of a person who has done great service to his community.

Why not a committee get together and agree on a name for "the airport?"

Let the committee be made up of representatives of the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce, the Woman's Club, the Business Girls Club, the American Association of University Women, the Boy Scouts, the City, the County, the School and the community at large. They should be able to agree on the proper name.

"AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN', AIN'T HEARD NOTHIN' AND AIN'T TELLIN' NOTHIN'"

Rumor was the messenger Of defamation, and so swift, that none Could be the first to tell an evil tale.

—Pullock.

Now as never before we must be careful of what we say. Now as never before we must be careful of what we hear.

Since time began carelessly repeated rumors have been hurting people but now with a war on our hands and nothing but Victory in our hearts and minds we must put down Dame Rumor and give heed to the task before us.

You can always tag a rumor. It begins "I heard" or "they say." A rumor beginning in a far away place finds innocent victims in Statesboro. Rumors beginning here find believing ears all over the state.

A man here suffers because a rumor was spread. A woman finds herself subjected to idle gossip because a rumor was spread.

Think! If you repeat a rumor about someone which you have no way of knowing is true, then someone may be repeating a rumor about you which is not true. So your best bet is to stop repeating rumors.

Adopt the policy of officers, cadets and civilian employees at Maxwell Field, Montgomery: "ain't seen nothin', ain't heard nothin' and ain't tellin'!"

DANGER SIGNALS!

Normal vision is considered the ability to see objects at a distance of 20 feet, or more, without difficulty. Children should be watched for the following symptoms of visual abnormalities. If any of these easily noticeable behavior reactions appear consistently, the child should be placed at once under the observation of an eye specialist.

1. Blinks continuously when using the eyes for close work.
2. Attempts to brush away a blur from the eyes.
3. Cries easily or has frequent temper tantrums.
4. Holds objects close to the eye when examining them.
5. Seems tense or appears uninterested when watching distant moving objects such as an airplane in flight or a parade.
6. Frowns and scowls or becomes irritated over tasks.
7. Consistently selects small toys to play with and keeps face close to them.
8. Rubs the eyes often.
9. Distorts faces when trying to see nearby or distant objects.
10. Shuts one eye or covers it with hand when trying to see things.
11. Tilts or thrusts head forward.
12. Does not attempt to catch ball when it is tossed to him.
13. Complains of dizziness, headache or nausea.
14. Has red rims on eyelids, crusts among lashes, swollen or watery eyes.
15. Tends to be cross-eyed on any occasion.

IMPORTANCE OF TEETH TO LONG LIFE

The enjoyment of good food is one of man's greatest pleasures, but many men, women and children are denied the gratification arising from a well-varied diet because they lack the equipment necessary to prepare the food for digestion.

Every one of your teeth has a definite function to perform. These functions are implied by their names. For example, the incisors, the front teeth, are for cutting. The cuspids, or "eye" teeth, sometimes called canines, are for tearing. The bicuspids and molars a reform mulling, grinding or chewing.

Because each of these teeth has a certain job to do, a tooth should not be called on to perform the tasks which should have been done by a missing or a damaged tooth. In case your molars are missing, you may expect your front teeth to grind your food, but they are not shaped or intended for grinding.

If food is swallowed without proper mastication, normal digestion is impossible and the unprepared food is injurious rather than nourishing. The overworked stomach empties the food into the intestines without proper preparation and indigestion may occur. Stomach ulcers are sometimes caused by improper mastication, the result of carelessness or imprecation of the masticating apparatus, the teeth.

To avoid these dangers lost and broken teeth should be replaced as soon as possible. Even decayed teeth can cause digestive difficulties from improper mastication. The teeth become sore and the natural tendency is to avoid using them for chewing.

Even the man or the woman with perfect teeth very often has digestive difficulties because of improper mastication of food. This can be attributed to the American habit of eating too fast. Good teeth are essential to long life and every precaution should be taken to preserve them.

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week on . . .

TODAY, Thursday, February 19, will be stormy. Fishing poor. TOMORROW, Friday, February 20, will be variable. Fishing poor. SATURDAY, February 21, will be cold. Fishing still poor. SUNDAY, February 22, will be pleasant. Washington's Birthday.

Fishing good. MONDAY, February 23, will be variable. Fishing getting better. TUESDAY, February 24, will be windy. Fishing very good. WEDNESDAY, February 25, will be cool. Fishing excellent.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

Remember some time ago we advocated in this column a plan which would turn over the entire street, sidewalks and all, to Bulloch county shoppers and visitors in Statesboro on Saturdays? Well, like all good suggestions—nothing ever comes of them. Well we got another one to solve the problem created when friends and neighbors get together and turn our sidewalks into an outdoor parlor in which they catch up on all the latest gossip and swap recipes and talk politics. This idea is workable—Kingston, N. C., uses it to the satisfaction of all. In this town "Conversation Zones" are indicated on sidewalks to prevent blocking entrances to business houses. Gossips are not allowed to stand and talk outside the conversations zones. What a boon to the merchants and stores of Statesboro if we could establish such "zones" here.

"The sky scout offered me some soft money to spin in early to get me some bunk fatigue, but a blister foot slightly draped blew in and began slipping the clutch about a six and twenty tootsie and it looked as though he were being thrown the book"—Get it? No! Neither did we but here is how an old timer in Uncle Sam's new army would translate it. "The chaplain offered me some paper currency to go to bed early to get some sleep, but an infantryman with a couple of sheets in the wind of inspiration blew in and began talking too much about a girl who makes a flying cadet so heedless of time that he returns late from week-end leave, thereby incurring six demerits and 20 punishment hours and it looked as though he were getting the maximum punishment."

So if you are about to get off to the army the Associated Press has prepared a glossary of the latest in lingo the kids in the camps are using: Here are some that may help you: Army brat—officer's daughter. Army banjo—shovel.

Slipping the clutch—talking or criticizing too much.

Skirt patrol—search for feminine company.

Soft money—paper currency.

Spin in—go to bed.

Street monkeys—members of the band.

Sweating—anticipating (a letter, for instance).

Throw the book—maximum punishment.

Up the pole—on the wagon.

Swanks—soldier's best clothing.

Short circuit—between the ears—mental lapse.

Tiger meat—beef.

Jim Sends News from SEACTC

MANY STORIES have been written which depict the feeling and emotions of Aviation Cadets on their first solo flights, but the qualms and misgivings of the instructor who has struggled to prepare the boy for the big moment, as he watches his charge take-off alone for the first time, have been neglected.

One of the flying officers at the Army Flying Corps Basic Flying school at Shaw Field, Sumter, S. C., offers this instructor's soliloquy. The instructor is standing on the ground, his eyes squinting at the sun, as he follows the progress of his student on his first solo flight:

"Well there he goes. I bet he taxis toward a boudry marker. Wonder of there will be a num-slaughter charge against me. Or maybe murder!"

"I should have waited another day—he can't land an aeroplane—hasn't the faintest idea. Hey! Don't taxi in that soft spot! Look out for the boudry markers!"

"Hurry. He missed it. I'm in luck today. Hope nobody lands on that side of the field before he takes off—the poor goof wouldn't think of looking before he gives it the gun.

Home Council Studying Freezer Locker Cooperative

"Alert to the economical and nutritional advantages of freezer locker storage, members of the Bulloch county home demonstration club are studying this most modern form of refrigeration." Miss Irma Spears, Bulloch County home demonstration agent, said this week.

Miss Spears pointed out that families all over the state are studying the possibilities of co-operatively owned and operated freezer locker plants. She went on to say that the people of Troup county are planning on buying a local commercial food preserver unit and turn it into community cooperative. She stated that the Troup county's freezer-locker system has provided patrons with a source of fresh vegetables, fruits and meats during "off" seasons, lowered the family food bill considerably and has restricted the waste of surplus crops.

The plant at LaGrange is owned by a private enterprise who planned to move the 500 food storage locker plant to Atlanta until a group of local citizens thought of buying it and operating it as a cooperative.

There is now on the State College of Agriculture campus in Athens, a 50-locker plant which is used by members of the university faculty and other Athens citizens on a cooperative basis.

"It is inevitable that Georgia will take her place with the other states which use freezer locker plants," said Miss Spears, "and the state affords rural families the opportunity to butcher livestock at any time, thereby eliminating the cost of feeding until cold-weather weather. It permits people to keep fruits and vegetables, as well as poultry and meats, frozen fresh until needed at home for nutritive meals or for sale at higher out-of-season prices."

FSA Farmers Plan Gardens

Bulloch county farmers co-operating with the Farm Security Administration are busy this month preparing their garden sites. Frances E. Phillips, Home Management Supervisor says, "Although those with year-round gardens are still getting cabbage, mustard, turnip greens, lettuce, and rape from their gardens, FSA farmers will have their garden plots prepared for spring planting by March 15th."

"By March 30th our families expect to have planted in their gardens: turnip and mustard seed, beets, carrots, lettuce, snap beans, pole beans, pole butterbeans, and squash," Miss Phillips declared.

"They have also carefully planned their schedules, with the aid of Miss Phillips so that they will have green growing vegetables coming in every month in the year."

"During February those families will plant English peas and rape and put out onion sets and cabbage plants," she says. Each family of five will also set out 100 strawberry plants.

"By March 30th our families expect to have planted in their gardens: turnip and mustard seed, beets, carrots, lettuce, snap beans, pole beans, pole butterbeans, and squash," Miss Phillips declared.

"The Farm Security Administration is encouraging its borrowers this year to prepare hot beds so that they can get an early start with some vegetables," Miss Phillips says that beets, carrots, and lettuce will be planted in these by March 1st.

"2,535 pounds of certified garden seed will be planted in the county by Farm Security Borrowers this year."

New Army Meal Ticket Good News for Restaurant Owners

What may be a boon to restaurant owners is the Army's new meal ticket instead of cash to soldiers for the food they travel. These tickets allow a soldier to spend a maximum of 75 cents a meal in restaurants and $1 a meal in railroad dining cars—in many instances more than he would spend if he were paying cash.

The tickets (one of which is reproduced below) are slightly larger than a currency note, are white and must be filled out by the issuing officer. When a restaurant operator receives one in tender for a meal, he fills in a few blanks and mails the ticket to the finance officer at the post from which the soldier traveled. When the meal tickets are received by the finance officer, they are given immediate attention and checks for the full amount are sent at once.

Now that the United States is at war, more and more of these meal tickets will be used. Restaurant operators who wish to share in the task of feeding the soldiers will acquaint themselves with the new meal tickets and be prepared to honor them.

UNITED STATES ARMY MEAL TICKET
No. A. M. T. 687401
February 4, 1942
Issued at Fort Churchill, Alabama
To: Chester, Georgia
For: 2 meals at a rate of 75 cents per meal and 100 cents for a drink each
T.R. No. 3693791
I certify that the above mentioned meal ticket was issued to the person named above and that it is valid for use at the place named above for the period of time specified above.

Deadline Close for Insuring Cotton Crop

While south Georgia cotton farmers hurried to get under the cotton crop insurance application wire by March 2, those in north Georgia closed again at the deadline, an eye on March 16, their own deadline for applying for "guaranteed cotton yield."

In Athens, T. R. Breddlove, state administrative officer of the AAA, issued an appeal to all south Georgia cotton farmers to investigate this newest development in the agricultural program, and to file their applications for cotton crop insurance before the close of business Monday, March 2.

In all counties including and lying south of the following, no crop insurance applications will be received after Monday: Muscogee, Marion, Taylor, Crawford, Bibb, Twiggs, Wilkinson, Baldwin, Hancock, Warren, McDuffie, and Columbia.

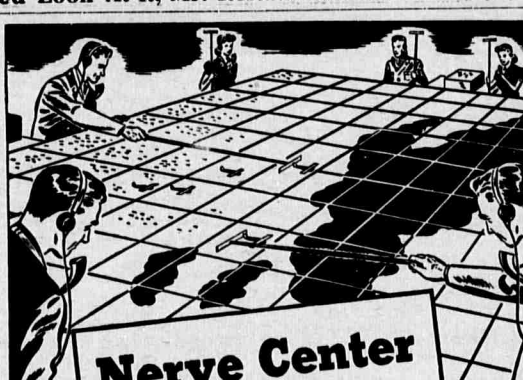

Growers north of that line will have until the close of business March 16 to file applications.

Under the cotton crop insurance program, Mr. Breddlove pointed out, a grower may insure against all unavoidable natural hazards, for either 50 per cent or 75 per cent of the expected average yield. Yields and insurance rates are based on computed averages covering the past seven years' record or each individual farm.

No cash outlay is required, he said, to take out cotton crop insurance. A farmer may sign a non-interest-bearing commodity note which will not mature until the cotton picking season. The note may be paid on or before the maturity date in cotton, its cash equivalent, by deduction from payments, or by deduction from the next government benefit payment earned in connection with the federal farm program.

"It is not one minute to lose," Mr. Breddlove declared, "because the designed closing dates for applications will be absolute, and no exceptions will be made."

"Any clear-thinking cotton farmer knows that cotton placed in loan is insured. And every cotton farmer realized how much more important it is that his crop be insured during its most perilous days—during the growing season. Cotton crop insurance will protect it from the moment the seed goes into the ground until it is delivered to the gin."

Nerve Center of Defense

STRATEGICALLY spotted along our coasts . . . on far-off island possessions . . . are scores of "plotting rooms"—nerves centers of defense against attack. Here, information of approaching enemy planes is received and instantly flashed to submarines in areas affected.

On home fronts, too, industries and citizens are on the alert against unscrupulous individuals or small groups whose lawless conduct constitutes another, equally-challenging peril to our American way of life.

Typical example of this vigilance is the Self-Regulation program of Georgia's $10,000,000 beer industry. When this Committee finds unlawful conditions at a retail outlet, action starts. Unless the place immediately cleans up, it is turned over to the authorities to close up.

Only the reputable beer retailer deserves reputable patronage. That's how YOU can help.

Slap the Japs With Scrap for McArthur

Saturday, March 7 has been designated as "McArthur's Day" and the nation is observing it by cleaning up their attics, their back porch, their barns, their out-houses for old iron, and scrap metal.

Bulloch county joins the nation in the celebration of that day. More than 96,000 pounds of scrap metal have been moved already from this county and plans are being made to move more on "McArthur's Day" Saturday.

F. C. Parker, Jr., of the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company is the successful bidder for the sale Saturday, March 7. Mr. Parker is offering 53 cents per hundred pounds of scrap iron, 20 cents per hundred for tin, 20 cents for old tires, and five cents per pound for metals and four cents for rubber and 65 cents each for old batteries and 50 cents each for old auto radiators.

The scrap metal will be weighed in at Fox Brothers Ginery from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

The first collection uncovered many items such as wheels, spindles, axles, cultivator parts that farmers found to be valuable to repair their own machinery. At the same time hundreds of worthless scrap pieces were found and turned into cash.

The campaign is one to steel mills and war industries to turn out materials needed in the vast Japbusting program now engaged in by the United Nations.

It's an All Out War We're In Says Rotarian

"We must carry this war to the front door of the enemy across the Pacific Ocean," said Ed R. Bentley of Lakeland, Fla., and past district governor of Rotary, at the Monday meeting of the Statesboro Rotary Club.

Proclaiming that the best way to defend our nation is to turn it into an offensive war, Bentley pointed out that the people of this country must come to realize that we are in an "all-out war" and that only a total war effort can win it. He said that more men, more planes, more guns, more munitions, more every type of equipment necessary in this new type of war.

Mr. Bentley spoke briefly on the four objects of Rotary pointing out that Rotary had a great part in solidifying the friendly feelings between the South American nations and the United States, stating that those countries "take to Rotary like ducks to water." He announced that the 1943 Rotary International president would be a man from Peru.

"This is a different kind of war," Mr. Bentley said, "but it is a war of front line trenches but a war in which the greatest casualties are among civilians, with attacks being made by the enemy in the form of gas, poison, and other weapons."

Commenting on the unity of the people of the United States the speaker said "We are not wholly united yet, but we are united in our purpose to win this war. We have been attacked and we will be attacked again in the future," Mrs. Emily Atkins have been named delegates to the spring conference of the seventh district division of the Georgia Congress of P. O. U. which will meet in Springfield, Mo., March 14, from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. The conference will be held in the city building.

Mrs. R. E. L. Majors, district director, urges all members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce and their guests, the firemen of the city of Statesboro, Thursday night of last week.

C. E. Tankersley, assistant director, will be served at the conference and reservations may be made with Mrs. W. R. Webb in Springfield not later than March 11.

Tire Ration Board Issues 84 Certificates

R. H. Kingery, secretary of the local Tire and Auto Rationing board, announced this week that certificates were issued during February for 14 passenger car tires, 10 tubes, 31 truck tires and 31 tubes, 23 tractor and farm implement tires and 23 tubes, together with 38 tires and 37 tubes of obsolete sizes and not charged to the local quota.

Mr. Kingery added that effective March 1 all certificates issued for tires and tubes for tractors and other farm implements will be charged against the quota of trucks and bus tires. The allotment of new passenger tires of an obsolete type is not limited by a quota but applicants must establish their eligibility as well as need before the board can issue certificates for the purchase of tires and tubes in this class.

The February quotas for passenger car and light truck tires were 14 and 12 tubes, 31 truck tires and 34 truck tubes.

CERTIFICATES ISSUED FOR PASSENGER TIRES AND TUBES

Mrs. R. E. L. Majors, district director, urges all members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce and their guests, the firemen of the city of Statesboro, Thursday night of last week.

C. E. Tankersley, assistant director, will be served at the conference and reservations may be made with Mrs. W. R. Webb in Springfield not later than March 11.

Jaycees and Firemen Hear Safety Talk

"Safety in the Home" was the subject of a talk and a sound film made and shown to members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce and their guests, the firemen of the city of Statesboro, Thursday night of last week.

C. E. Tankersley, assistant director, will be served at the conference and reservations may be made with Mrs. W. R. Webb in Springfield not later than March 11.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY TO BUY DEFENSE BONDS

It was announced this week that the members of the American Legion Auxiliary will do its part in the national Victory campaign by buying defense bonds.

A container has been placed in the M. E. Grimes Jewelry store, together with a big placard and all members of the Auxiliary are asked to place their contributions in this container. It was pointed out that anyone wishing to make a contribution may do so. The funds received in this way will be used to buy bonds in the name of the Auxiliary.

Suppose You Were a Soldier And Flat on Your Back...

Let us suppose you are a soldier and in the hospital at The Savannah Air Base or at Camp Stewart. Pretty tough break eh? And suppose you had to stay in bed with nothing to read, no cards to play, no bridge, rummy or solitaire. Still pretty tough, right? And then someone you do not know comes in with a copy of that day's newspaper, a new magazine, a small radio, and say "From me to you soldier. It's not much but here 'tis" Feel better wouldn't you?

Well here's an opportunity to give that feeling to some soldier. Fill his back, or confound it to a wheel chair, at the Air Base in Savannah or at Camp Stewart.

The Camp and Hospital Service Council of the Red Cross is collecting decks of cards, subscriptions to daily newspapers, magazines, soft balls, water glasses, games to be placed in wards for the comfort and pleasure of men in the service who are confined to the hospital.

If you wish to donate a subscription to some magazine like Colliers, Liberty, Saturday Evening Post, Readers Digest, Detective Stories, etc., call 421 or come by the office of the Bulloch Herald and send us the check and specify which magazine. Make ethe check out to the "Camp and Hospital Service Council." We'll see that it is properly taken care of. Clean up the drawers in your living room and leave those old decks of playing cards at our office. We'll see that they are properly placed. Give us the names of the cards you can fill with them with us we'll see that they are sent to the Air Base and Camp Stewart.

Just be guided by what you would like if you were a soldier and in a hospital. Then give!

WEST SIDE COMMUNITY CLUB

The West Side Community Club met in the Home Economics room February 4.

Mrs. Spears gave a demonstration on deep fat frying and canning fresh sausage. She gave each member a sheet of recipes for canning fresh meats. While the meat was processing the business meeting was held.

Mrs. J. D. Blitch had charge of the devotional.

After a report from the scrap book committee the club adopted the following:

Club Song—"God Bless America"

Club Colors—"Green and White."

Motto—"Ambition never dies."

Mrs. J. E. Parrish was selected nutrition chairman and Mrs. B. F. Sherrod program chairman.

The Golden Rule Chairman gave notebooks to the members of which they might record beautiful thoughts submitted each month.

The club voted to help raise money for the scholarship fund and also to buy a defense bond.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

What About Our Air Raid Warning System?

Bulloch county is well organized for civilian defense.

More than 4,000 men, women, and children have registered for a part in the county-wide defense program. Nearly 100 have qualified under the Red Cross First Aid program. The Emergency Medical service has purchased enough equipment to equip two First Aid posts to be used in case of disaster. Personal work is well organized. Messenger service has been set up and ready to serve. Auxiliary policemen are in training. Auxiliary firemen are in training and ready to function. Our air raid service is organized.

Everything set up and ready to function except... We have no adequate Air Raid Warning System! We have no way to warn our citizens of approaching disaster. No signal to set into motion all the civilian defense units organized for the purpose of easing the pressure of disaster.

The chief of the county Air Raid Warden service states the orders have been placed and cancelled for four air raid sirens. And so we are without adequate warning services.

Plans are to utilize the present fire alarm sirens. According to the plan the fire siren is to be placed on a high pole near the court house and set off in case of need. We just wonder if this will prove adequate and effective. We have been trained for years to expect a fire with the sounding of the siren and only a system of complicated blasts will tell average person be able to tell the difference between a local fire and air raid... if and when we have an air raid. If the fire siren is used it will take many soundings for the citizens to learn to recognize an air raid warning. And if we should be subjected to an air raid (and don't believe that we will not) and only the fire siren to warn us, many of us will be found going about our business: 'as usual,' realizing too late, perhaps, that we are in the middle of an air raid.

It can't be a question of expense when one thinks of the purpose of an air warning system. Let's get together on this thing and realize that something must be done and done now!

Ladies Getting Suspicious Of Door-to-Door Salesmen

Ladies in Statesboro are beginning to worry about answering doorbells and finding a stranger standing at their door selling or soliciting of some sort.

The papers are filled daily with stories of aliens going about over the country gathering data for transmitting to the enemy which will prove detrimental to this country.

And so our ladies are worrying about strangers at their front doors. And they are suspicious of them... and rightly so.

We must realize that we are at war and it is an "all out" war and that we are in Statesboro are not as far from it as we let ourselves believe. One lady giving the problem thought, has suggested that every solicitor be made to register with the city police or the county sheriff, and having registered be given a certificate indicating that he has been investigated and found to be OK and that when he calls on the lady of the house he be required to show this certificate. And if he can't produce a certificate then it becomes the responsibility of the lady to call the police or the sheriff and have the man or woman checked.

Sure, it sounds foolish and like a lot of tommyrot. But who can say what lies behind a smooth door-to-door salesman's line when he calls at your home? If he's OK he will not mind submitting to an investigation and it'll be a safeguard worth taking for the satisfaction of our ladies.

To The Fathers and Mothers Who Send Sons to Uncle Sam

Today another group of Bulloch county's finest young men answer the call of their Uncle Sam.

Today another group of sons of Bulloch county fathers and mothers leave there "life as usual" to take up training to take their part in this nation's all-out program for victory.

Today there was much tear drying as mothers sent their sons off with an attempt to remain brave and not let their sons see they were sorry afraid in their hearts. Fathers said good by with just a firm grip of the hand and a jocular "give 'em one for me son" and the county as a whole sent them off with good wishes in their hearts. Uncle Sam treats his soldiers fine, the finest of any nation in the world. If you are the father and mother of one of those boys who left today or who has his left since October, 1940, you should feel proud of his having been selected. For your Uncle Sam is careful in his choice of his fighting men. From village and city, farm and office and factory, hundreds of thousands of young American boys, just like yours, have been selected for military service—without distinction of class, or creed, or color. The aim has been to choose those American men who have the best physical and mental qualification to become efficient soldiers.

The Army will keep your son in top-notch physical condition and for that purpose provides good food, clothing, sanitary facilities, physical training, and medical care. Your son will be given a chance of promotion with an opportunity to qualify to enter an officer's candidate school.

And your Uncle Sam appreciates the fact that you want to know all about your son, and is doing his part to keep you informed.

The American spirit is your spirit—prizing freedom and fighting for freedom. Entering the Army of the United States in that spirit your son will easily make the adjustments needed to become a good American soldier. Your son will have an experience of great personal benefit and lasting satisfaction.

And keep your chin up. We know a mother who has a son with General McArthur's grand bunch in the Philippines. She just knows he is alright and that he's going to be alright all along... if or is he not an American Soldier.

Slip Up The Slack, Gather Up Your Scrap To Slap The Jap

Saturday, March 7 has been designated as national "McArthur Day" and people all over the nation will bring in their scrap iron, burlap, paper, rubber to be sold and used to build more bombers, more guns, more bombs, more planes, more of everything needed to slap the Japs.

Bulloch county will join the nation in the observance of that day here Saturday.

Already more than 96,000 pounds of scrap have been moved out of Bulloch county, more is expected here on McArthur's Day.

We've got to slap those Japs hard and slap them quick. Many of our steel mills are already running short on that precious metal.

It is not now far-fetched to say that our folk on the farm can keep these steel mills going, but it's down-right hard, cold fact. It's up to us to gather up every bit of scrap metal we can lay our hands on, and move it swiftly into industrial channels.

Old plows, old dinner bells, old pitchforks, old bathtubs, old this and old that... and it's a good opportunity to clean up round the house and around the barn and profit from it at the same time and then too know that you are playing a part in keeping General McArthur and his boys equipped so they can keep on giving the Japs hell.

So Slip up the Slack, gather up your Scrap to slap the Jap.

Statesboro P-T. A. Celebrates Forty-Fifth Anniversary

In 1926 Mrs. Guy Wells organized the first Parent-Teachers Association in the Statesboro school. J. L. Renfro was made the first president and is the only father to serve in the organization devoted to the promotion of a closer relationship between parents and teachers.

Since 1926 the Statesboro P-T. A. has developed until now it is one of the most powerful forces for community welfare in the city.

On Thursday afternoon, February 26, the organization here celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of the National P-T. A. founded by Mrs. Theodore Birney, assisted by Miss Phoebe Apperson Hearst in 1897.

At the celebration the past presidents were awarded a red rose for their service. They are Mrs. H. P. Jones, Mrs. W. G. Nevills, Mrs. B. H. Ramsey, Mrs. Charles E. Cone, Mrs. W. H. Blitch, Mrs. Grover Brannen, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Ernest Brannen, Mrs. Tommy Rushing, Mrs. Grady Johnston, and Mrs. B. B. Morris. Mrs. Morris is the present president.

The celebration program included the highlights of National P-T. A. beginning in 1897 and continuing through today, the reading of the creed which was compiled by the Hawaii P-T. A. by Mrs. Bruce Olliff and a piano solo.

The Home Front... The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week on...

Tomorrow, Friday, March 6, will be changeable. Fishing good. Saturday, March 7, will be threatening. Fishing fair. Sunday, March 8, will be cloudy. Fishing only fair. Monday, March 9, will be quite cool. Moon in last quarter. Fishing just fair. Tuesday, March 10, will be stormy. Fishing poor. Wednesday, March 11, will be stormy. Fishing very poor.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

LAST WEEK OLIN MILLER our friend of the Quaint Tales from Georgia Quills in the Atlanta Journal gave us a mild roasting because we were publishing weekly weather reports which might serve as important information to the enemy. He derided us for admitting that he had figured out why we were doing it—"to confuse the enemy and get them to go fishing." Olin is quite right, but we had hoped that it wouldn't ever be necessary to explain for now, since the "enemy" knows that we publish the report in order to confuse them, they will put no more confidence in our reports and continue fighting and put their fishing off. So we content ourselves with hoping that our Bulloch county readers will realize that our reports are not to be trusted and will stay away from the creeks and rivers with their fishing poles and devote their entire time to jabplasting and Hitler-ridding.

FRED HODGES TOLD a good one at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday. A negro friend of his was called upon by his pastor to do a bit of praying at a meeting of his church. The negro got down on his knees and began "Oh..." hesitating he backed off and began again, "Oh..." again hesitating he made another start, "Oh..." and by this time it was becoming embarrassing so the negro stood up and apologized to the congregation, "As well as ah knows that gentlemen, ah jest cant remember his name."

SOME OTHER GOOD tales passed at that meeting at the end of the table where Lammie Simmons, Hoke Brunson, Charlie Olliff, Hinton Booth and Fred Hodges sat. Yeah yeah yeah was there, but his uneasy chair is no place to repeat the tales told.

HOW MANY OF YOU had given thought to what

How can Southern agricultural towns produce guns and tanks and ships? They can't turn them out whole, but here's what has been done in some of our small towns: A Georgia cabinet maker is now producing ten cabinets for the Army. Details are a military secret, but on one of our small towns, a small Georgia town is filling direct orders for both Army and Navy. A machine shop in Tennessee makes airplane parts. A small plant that made knitting machinery for hosiery mills now turn out shell-loading equipment. A town in Florida rounded up all its machine tools, obtained a government war contract, and staved off community stagnation by peeling everybody's plant facilities.

Operated by Neighbors We've heard a lot of talk about Northern industrial centers getting all the business. But millions of dollars in contracts are now going to our own neighbors. Little wood-working shops, two and three-man machine shops and similar establishments right here in the Deep South.

They aren't run by big-shot executives. Operated by our own folks, they bring dollars into our town. And they are doing their part to supply our fighting men with the tools of war. The battle plan is in full swing not only in Detroit, Baltimore, and Pittsburgh, but right here at home. The government is asking everybody who wants a war contract in this locality to write the Division of Contracts Distribution, War Production Board, 150 Hurst Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

COTTON, TOBACCO GROWERS WILL GET PARITY PAYMENTS Parity payments for 1942 will be made to growers of cotton and tobacco who have complied with parity regulations under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. T. R. Bredlove, state administrative officer of the AAA, announced this week.

Mr. Bredlove cited an announcement made in Washington by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As in the past, he said, 1942 parity payments are to be made on four basic crops—wheat and corn, in addition to cotton and tobacco—whose production is a total return less than parity. Parity payments, he said, will be made from an appropriation of $212,000,000 which was approved July 1, 1942. Rates of payment for 1942 have not yet been established, he added.

WAR NEEDS MONEY! It will cost money to defeat our enemy aggressors. Your government calls on you to help cover Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Make every pay day Bond Day by participating in the Pay-roll Savings Plan.

Bonds cost $18.75 and up. Stamps are 10¢, 25¢ and up. The help of every individual is needed.

Do your part by buying your share every pay day.

would happen here in the event of an invasion on the Georgia coast? Not many, we venture to say. We just figure that we have an army and navy to protect us... but we must become reconciled to the fact that our army and navy and air corps and what takes over in their absence?

THE ANSWER is in the Georgia State Guard, which is the new National Guard. In Bulloch county more than seventy five men are training weekly in the art of war. The local unit has already been put on notice that in event of an invasion the task of repelling it and defending our homes and people become the job of the State Guard. All over the state units of the State Guards are in training and Georgia is recognized as having one of the best organized outfits in the country.

IF IT'S NOT COLLECTED WHY SAVE WASTE PAPER? Much has been said and written about saving waste paper. But little has been said about provision for collecting of this saved waste paper. An announcement was recently made that provisions were being made to pick it up and so far it has not been in operation.

Patriotically inclined citizens who wish to participate in this program are complaining that their savings are backing up on them and it's becoming sort of a nuisance. They say that they have piled it up in a convenient place for collection and since it is not being moved it is now getting in their way. It's hardly fair to ask these people to go to the trouble of gathering up their waste paper and saving it and then not be collected.

Only when regular collection are made can people be expected to save it.

Captain Winburn Shearouse of Camp Blanding, Fla., spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. J. N. Shearouse. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Robertson of Atlanta were weekend guests of H. M. Robertson. Doolittle, to whose squadron the plane was assigned. That's right, it was the missing door, smoke begrimed, burn-marked, but unharmed after a 7,000 foot drop.

A young hunter who had read the advertisement found it in the woods and returned it to nearby Langley Field. From there it was flown to Turner.

SOLDIER BUILDS OWN EDITION OF BICYCLE FOR TWO One of the first men at Maxwell Field to resort to a bicycle for local transportation, long before there was anything of saving wear and tear on automobiles and tires, Pfc. Bert O. Trumble, Jr., quartermaster soldier stationed here, is pioneering again.

His latest feature is a 1942-model "Bicycle built for two," equipped with a reasonably comfortable wooden seat, painted to match the rest of the bike, on the bar between handle-bars and rider's seat. It's cosier than the bike-for-two of the Nineties, but the rider has to do all the work on the pedals. Pfc. Trumble is practicing up steering his mates around the post at present, but hopes to do some dating on his machine in the near future.

When the plane was returned to Turner, minus the door, another one was requisitioned. None available, the door was advertised for in a New-Port News, Va., paper. Weeks later Turner's Air Corps Supply Sub Depot received a door and notified the squadron commander, 1st Lt. Robert P.

We Launch A "Spring Offensive" Of Our Own

This week the Herald launches its "Spring Offensive."

Every year about this time we renew and continue our fight for a recreational center, including a swimming pool, for the young people of our community. For five years we have beat our heads against stone walls of indifference on the part of those on whom the responsibility rests for providing for the welfare of the city's kids. Several false starts have been made but "something always came up."

We have offered reasons for building a recreation center until we are blue in the face and every-body agrees with us. But we still don't have a place for the kids and our neighbors' kids to play and use their summer vacation and leisure time.

This year with World War Number II covering the entire world there is a new and more important reason why provision should be made for the kids in this community.

Last year and years before mothers and fathers carried their children to Tybee over the weekends and on Sundays for swimming and having a good time. Kids drove Dad and Mother's car over to Millen's Magnolia Springs, and Metter's Lakeside, but this year Dad and Mother's cars are not going to be available to go to these places. The tires on the family car are precious possessions, not to be used for such things as transporting yunguns to the swimming places in this section. The family car itself will be something to be treasured and petted and nursed along to secure its maximum use. Gasoline will be something to think twice over before using it for pleasure.

And so Statesboro's kids and youth are going to find themselves having to stay at home and figuring out the best way they can to use their leisure time and keep out of trouble and mischief. Mothers are going to feel the brunt of active children about the home with no way to work off surplus energy with the unspoken and spoken words "I wish there was someplace you could go so you would not disturb me for a while."

Fathers will find it hard to explain to their youngsters why they cannot use the car and why they cannot get tires and why gasoline will have to be conserved. They are not going to be satisfied with the answer "because of the war."

Allen Lanier expressed the sentiment of these fathers and mothers when he told the Rotary Club Monday that someone is going to have to take the lead in satisfying that restlessness which comes to young people in the Spring and Summer.

We here in Statesboro wanted an airport. We got it! Anything the people here want they can get it. We've just got to get to the place where we want a playground and swimming pool—then nothing in the world can keep us from getting it.

And so we loose our "Spring Offensive" in an attempt to blitz the people here into wanting adequate recreational provisions made for their children. Then our private war is over. WE'LL HAVE IT FOR THE KIDS OF STATESBORO!

We Must Take This Thing Serious Or Else

This week we began a series of articles on Civilian Defense. We began with the Air-Raid Wardens outlining their duties, their names and the zones in which they are attached.

Right now there are many who see no particular reason for so much emphasis being placed upon the training of air-raid wardens and attitude preparations for air-raids. This same attitude prevailed in England. When no bombs dropped on British cities for the first nine months or so the air raid precautions seemed to many non-essential.

It is going to take a lot of selling on the part of our air-raid wardens to get the people of Statesboro to regard air-raid warnings seriously. We are still living under the "it can't happen here" idea and a blackout still is just a game to be enjoyed here in Statesboro.

We are living in a coastal town, even though we are about 70 miles from the ocean. The War Department regards all cities and towns within 300 miles of the coast coastal and therefore subject to air raids.

We've had one blackout. It was very satisfactory with only a few hours notice. But the enemy is not going to call us up by long distance telephone at 8:00 p. m. and tell us he will be over Statesboro at 10:14 1-2 and to get ready for a blackout. An air-raid warning comes with the air-raid and an air-raid happens fast.

And so Statesboro finds herself with air-raid wardens and an air-raid warning chief, with the city zoned off into air-raid zones . . . and no adequate air-raid warning system!

Jack White Gives His Life That We May Live Free

Another Bulloch county mother and father may find solace in a famous saying of Garfield:

"Fortunate man! your country lives because you died. Your name is placed where the breath of calumny can never reach it, where the mistakes of a weary life can never dim its brightness! Coming generations will rise up and call you blessed."

Jack White, 20-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks White, has given his life in the services of his country that those he loved may continue living in the ways of freedom.

Young White lost his life when the U. S. S. Resor the ship on which he served was torpedoed February 27. His body will rest in Bulloch county.

We salute Mr. and Mrs. Brooks White and can only hope that they know that their son must have been proud to give his life for that which he believed to be precious—Freedom.

Pay Your Income Tax—Uncle Sam Is Needing It!

Ever been short of cash? And you had accounts on your books that represented good cash when you could get around to collecting it?

Well Uncle Sam finds himself in just that fix. He is now a little short of cash. But he has on his books a vast number of accounts which he will call in on March 16.

Many millions of his nieces and nephews are this week making out their income tax returns for 1941 and are making preparations to send in a check to pay for the privilege of being able to make some money last year.

Uncle Sam is asking that those income taxes be paid promptly. He has urgent need for the money and if we wish to be able to remain free to continue working and living in the American way we will answer his call and with good grace and a P. S. at the side of our check saying "give 'em hell Uncle Sam."

Save Your Antifreeze Says OPA

Automobile owners should save their antifreeze mixtures this spring instead of throwing them away as many did in previous years, Dan A. West, director of the Consumer Division of OPA, advises.

The chemicals used in making antifreeze compounds are needed to make explosives, and for Army and Navy and airplane operation.

Here is another opportunity for the average Mr. American and Mrs. American to aid the war effort, protect their cars, and help their pocketbooks. Drain the antifreeze now in your radiator and put it away save it until next winter.

A Prayer For The Homes Of Soldiers

OUR FATHER, we thank Thee for the strength which comes to us when we pray. We are grateful for that steadiness of soul, that assurance of heart, which are ours through prayer. We pray especially for those homes whose sons are marching out to battle. We are grateful for those parents who have built into their sons high ideals of character and of service who have trained their boys to take a worthy place in the world's life. And now that they are called to so unusual task and to so costly a service, we pray that Thou wilt strengthen the heart of every parent for the sacrifice he must make, and of every son for the service he must render. May the sacrifice and the service not be wasted, but may they contribute to the building of a better world. We pray through Christ. Amen.

Goose, Duck Feathers Reserved For War

Hereafter goose and duck feathers may be used only for filling defense orders. Such feathers may be sold only to dealers, Defense Supplies Corporation, or manufacturers, to be used only in filling defense orders. Civilian orders now on hand may not be filled. An order (M-102) to that effect was issued February 24 by the War Production Board.

Duck and goose feathers are used in the manufacture of sleeping bags. The Army and Navy needs far exceed the production. The order is intended to supply this deficit by taking over existing supplies in the hands of dealers and manufacturers.

LIST TEN AIDS BEYOND TO BE USEFUL IN REALIZING RELAXATION

Ten "tricks" which are believed to be useful in realizing relaxation are presented in The Journal of the American Medical Association for February 14 in an editorial which points out the importance of relaxation in relation to longevity. The Journal says:

"If we could learn how to balance rest against effort, calmness against strain, quiet against turmoil," says Dr. Josephine Rathbone, "we would assure ourselves of joy in living and psychophysical health for life." The psychologist believes that people who live dynamically without being too tense have four main attributes: first, rhythm in their activities with great swings in output and accomplishment, alternating with periods of repose; second, a sense of value which makes it possible to minimize effort and minimize strain; third, ability to reduce muscular tension in any part of the body consciously whenever desired; and fourth, a readiness to fall asleep at will.

"While these attributes may develop spontaneously to some extent in some persons, it is also possible to cultivate them in a measure. In order to aid such cultivation, ten tricks are presented which are believed to be useful in realizing relaxation. They are:

"1. Cut down on the intensity of your thinking half an hour before retiring. (Play Chinese checkers, plan an excursion for the week end, write a letter to a friend, fill with pleasant things you have been doing.)

"2. Take plenty of time to get ready for bed (next morning's clothes, laundry bath and so on.)

"3. If you like to read in bed choose nonfiction or a hard book. Force your mind to grapple with cumbersome facts, bore it into unconditional surrender to sleep.

"4. Transplant your mind from fears or hates to a field which has interest without excitement (a new warbook, possibly.)

"5. Make your mind hop from one idea to another. Just let the mind loose consciousness and sleep come, thoughts become disjointed and scattered. (Start with some happy episode in childhood, for example.)

"6. To quiet the body, get rid of any pressure or pain. (Lighten weight of covers, clothes.)

"7. Tepid bath without a rub-down. (Get into bed with damp and chilly. As the body becomes warmed it becomes more and more comfortable. If during the night one becomes restless, throw back covers until body becomes uncomfortably chilly. Then when the covers are pulled up again, the body once more sinks into coziness.)

"8. Imitate the slow, deep rhythmic breathing of sleep. (Helps regulate the circulation and may ease the mind and emotions; also tensions in the abdomen.)

"9. Relax the muscles completely.

"10. Get rested before trying to sleep. (Get into bed an hour or more before your regular time for retiring. Do so night after night to build up a reserve of rest and fall asleep without the old struggle.)

"The balance between what can be accomplished by education and practice and what is innate in producing relation and longevity is a delicate one. Physicians have long known that people with a low blood pressure, a low basal metabolic rate, a low pulse rate and a low intake of food—all of these are not too low—tend to live longer than those in whom these physical factors are at extremely high levels. Perhaps equally important is a low threshold for the humor—a mental attitude which does not take life too seriously."

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week on . . .

TODAY, March 12 will be blustery. Fishing very poor.
TOMORROW, Friday, March 13 will be cloudy. Don't go fishing!
SATURDAY, March 14, will be cool. It's not a bit of use to go fishing.

SUNDAY, March 15, will be cool. No fishing. You'll be working on your income tax return.

MONDAY, March 16, will be blustery. New Moon. Fishing still poor.

TUESDAY, March 17, will be mild. No fishing yet. . . . But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

WE SAW IT with our own two eyes. The "Skipper" and I were "victory driving"—only 35 miles per hour—out toward the Coleman log manor Saturday about dinner-time and noticed a bunch of buzzards "hedge hopping" in neighbor Smith's field on the Cane Farm. Commenting on it the Skipper saw that the buzzards were "dive-bombing" a little pig. They maneuvered that little pig off into the corner of the field and let him have it. We notified neighbor Smith of the aerial attack and he drafted the old trusty blunder-buss and with excellent anticraft work, broke it up.

ED HARDING, Rotarian of North Carolina, and guest speaker of the Statesboro Rotary Club Friday night at their annual Ladies' Night proved to be the greatest morale builder the group has come to know. Talking on "What's the Matter with the Biscuit" he let the fairer sex have it with both barrels—and the not so fair sex came in for a short barrel—for an hour he told the boys and girls what was wrong with the biscuit. And it of joy in living and psychophysical health for life. The psychologists believe that people who live dynamically without being too tense have four main attributes: first, rhythm in their activities with great swings in output and accomplishment, alternating with periods of repose; second, a sense of value which makes it possible to minimize effort and minimize strain; third, ability to reduce muscular tension in any part of the body consciously whenever desired; and fourth, a readiness to fall asleep at will.

IF THE GEORGIA Teachers College should ever let Mamye Josephine Jones, the director of speech there, go the people of Statesboro should rise up in arms. For 'tis not every year that a community like ours can claim a person who can provide us with two stage productions which border on the professional.

A TEACHER WHO can take college students, some of them first year students, and put them in costume and turn them loose on a stage and they not look like scared rabbits—then we should join forces to see that she doesn't leave us.

The preachers in Bulloch county and Statesboro might just as well become reconciled to slim congregations in their churches Sunday, March 15. Since the fifteenth falls on Sunday the tax payer will have an extra day of grace and can quietly go crazy all day and all night Sunday finishing up his income tax return.

WINGED WONDER

FINALLY RETURNS

Early last week at Cochran Field an unharned and very much alive—cadet squadron commander—gave the following report at four consecutive formations:

Monday—Retreat: "One man still flying sir."
Tuesday—Reveille: "One man still flying sir."
Tuesday—Breakfast: "One man still flying sir."

Tuesday—Dinner: "One man still flying sir." The absent "winged wonder" finally returned safely to the fold at retreat formation, and his commander was able to give with evident relief, "All present sir."

ALONG WAY TO GO

Four thousand miles separate the Britishers training in the Southeast Air Corps Training Center from their "emerald isle," but they are more than willing to be this far from home so that they can learn to fly the airplanes for a "shot at Jerry."

In fact 34 members of a recently graduated class of Britishers are staying in the United States to instruct fellow-Britons in the art of flying. This will mean more months before they see their homes and families again.

But Britain, like the United States, is in this war until the enemies are vanquished, and the American melting pot.

subject of His Majesty's regard their personal sacrifices small indeed if they bring victory nearer.

SIDE BY SIDE

At Shaw Field a Japanese and Chinaman met face to face the other day, looked at each other silently for a moment, realized that they were both Americans, then sat down to eat side by side.

That is America, the great melting pot of all nations, the land of opportunity for every man regardless of race or color. This land was founded upon the principles of equality for all, and for those same principles we now are fighting.

These years in the Army are a great experience for American youths, for men from every section, from every strata of society are working together, fighting as one. They hear the opinions of the conservative Vermonter, the liberal New Yorker, the progressive mid-westerner and the reactionary Southerner in a single argument.

Then too those men who were born in other lands, or whose parents migrated to this country can talk on equal terms with their fellow-soldiers. This will be a different generation from that which we knew on that September morning in 1939 when Hitler's legions violated Poland's borders.

The fire is burning brightly under the great American melting pot.

AGENT GIVES SOME INFORMATION ABOUT COOKING PRACTICES

This week County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Irma Spears offers a cooking quiz which should prove helpful to homemakers.

Are your cooking methods up-to-date? Do you waste food? Does your family get the money's worth in food value from the food you buy? The following quiz worked out by the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will help you to test yourself on these points.

1. Do you cook all protein foods—eggs, milk, meat, cheese, poultry, and fish—at low or moderate heat to keep the protein tender?

2. Do you cook meat according to cut—tenderizing tender and less tender cuts differently?

3. Do you avoid overcooking of all foods?

4. Do you cook vegetables in as little water as possible, as quickly as possible, and use all cooking water in sauces or gravies if you can't serve it with the vegetable? Do you leave the lid off the pan while you cook green vegetables and never add soda to them?

5. Do you combine leftovers into appetizing new dishes?

6. Do you avoid thick peelings?

7. Do you save food attractively—have variety of color, of texture, of flavor?

8. Do you save bacon fat and meat drippings to add flavor to other foods?

9. Do you avoid thick peelings?

10. Are your sauces and gravies free from lumps, your hot food hot, your cold food cold?

Grade yourself by the number of times you can answer an unqualified "yes." If you answered yes to all, keep up the good work to over half, on the right track.

The Home Front...

Hunting and fishing come mightily close to being necessary recreations in most Southern cities and towns. When war affects the price of trout lures or the cost of shells, it steps in to help. The OPA stepped in last week.

Prices of sporting goods have been rising like a flushed covey of quail. No more of this, the OPA declared. Sporting goods are needed to maintain civilian morale, and prices have been ordered back to January levels the War Production Board took a trip into the woods and named new firearms for civilian use. Outdoor men may still hunt, but they'll have to dream about new shotguns, pistols, and rifles until the war is won.

SAVE YOUR ANTI-FREEZE
Here's a tip to car owners: The anti-freeze mixture in your radiator is now a strategic war material. Don't drain the precious fluid into the ground; get a funnel and catch it in bottles or cans—anything which may be sealed up. (You'll need containers for about two gallons of the stuff.)

Store in a cool place and when cold weather arrives next fall, the probably shortage of anti-freeze won't worry you.

OPA says a civilian who applies for a priority ration card of food, clothing, or other goods is just wasting his time. Decisions are up to local rationing boards.

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE"
NO FANCY PARTS
War effects in men's clothing become effective the end of this month. No more trouser cuffs; suit-coats will be an inch shorter, while patch pockets, pleats, tucks, and other details are being cut out of the cloth which now goes into four.

The stuff that whitens the weekly wash—chlorine—has become so scarce that laundries and makers of cleaning agents are ordered to cut down its use to 10 per cent. Tattle-tale gray won't smudge the Southland where boys of Scout age would be boys of Scout age if they were given the opportunity to join. This is a real home front burning. How could we better prepare our boys for what lies ahead than to teach them to be "physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight"? If no one has asked you for a contribution and if you of glass jars are now being manufactured to replace tin cans. Result—the same food in a visible container, and no more husbands joggle about the little wife who cooks with a can opener.

NO SCARCITY EXISTS
Despite shortages, we face no alarming scarcity. Tin is needed by the army. So what? Millions of glass jars are now being manufactured to replace tin cans. Result—the same food in a visible container, and no more husbands joggle about the little wife who cooks with a can opener.

Typewriters were frozen last week. All right, we'll peek away on the old... Extra typewriters were limited to get along with one before, we'll keep walking those few extra steps... No "all wool" blankets, but blankets there will be—80 per cent wool, and not many people can tell the difference.

Even with this gigantic war to win, there will be plenty of food, lot of clothing, ample shelter for all the folks back home.

Calves 10.00 to 12.50; Bulls 7.50 to 9.50.
Buyers from North Carolina, Virginia and those local buyers were limited to one head of stock to fill their demands.

Scouting

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Bulloch County:

Dear Fellow Americans:
The Boy Scouts of America have always done and are doing at present a noble piece of work for our country. This organization of red-blooded American boys totals nearly 2,000,000 strong. They are our future leaders, fighters, and businessmen. Last year they distributed over 1,500,000 defense bond posters in one week's time; they personally collected 10,000,000 pounds of the thirteen million pounds of scrap aluminum collected; they have already received several thousand tons of waste paper collected for defense work, and are still going strong. The work of the Boy Scouts in the first World War is a matter of record. They have a big job ahead of them in the present world war. Every well organized local civilian defense organization is depending on Boy Scouts as messengers, first aiders, orderlies, and many other defense jobs. The English Boy Scouts have been performing 180 separate war service jobs for over two years. Bulloch County needs a vigorous, active Boy Scout organization. Scouting depends entirely upon voluntary leadership and financial support.

This county is the midst of its financial campaigns to raise its share of the council budget which provides for the placing of a professional Scout Executive in Bulloch County. At present there are five organized Scout Troops in the County; there are at least ten additional communities in the county where troops should be organized. Ninety-five percent of our boys of Scout age would be boys of Scout age if they were given the opportunity to join. This is a real home front burning. How could we better prepare our boys for what lies ahead than to teach them to be "physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight"? If no one has asked you for a contribution and if you of glass jars are now being manufactured to replace tin cans. Result—the same food in a visible container, and no more husbands joggle about the little wife who cooks with a can opener.

Jack J. Emanuel, 71, died at the home of his son at Arcola Tuesday after an illness of one year. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Corinth Church with burial in the church cemetery.

Mr. Emanuel was born in South Carolina, but had lived in Bulloch county for fifty years and at one time was a large planter. He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Miss Gussie Emanuel of Savannah; Mrs. C. R. Minney of Pinecroft; three sons, J. E. Emanuel of Arcola; Joe B. Emanuel of the United States army, stationed in Alaska; and J. J. Emanuel of Arcola. Barnes Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

REGISTER SCHOOL AIDING FARMERS TREAT THEIR COTTON SEED
O. E. Gay announced this week that the department of vocational agriculture at Register school would again this year aid the farmers in treating their cotton seed. The department is equipped with the machinery to treat the seed as well as to re-clean their cotton seed. The only cost to the farmer will be cost of the materials. He is also asked to furnish his own labor to do the work. Material is also on hand to treat seed peanuts and seed corn. Seed may be brought any day except Saturday before 4:00 o'clock p. m.

Superintendent Urges Teachers To Qualify
Earl McElveen, county school superintendent, this week urged school teachers to file their applications for positions in the county system early this year.

Mr. McElveen pointed out that many of the teachers in this county are being called into the services of the nation and that a shortage of teachers is eminent. He suggests that persons who are qualified to teach to make their application early.

In order to receive a state teacher's certificate, Mr. McElveen stated that a beginning teacher must have at least two years of college work and three courses in education with an average of "C" grade on all work done since September 1, 1939.

Mr. McElveen states that an inventory of available teachers reveals that a number of persons who are not teachers have let their certificates expire, and in order to renew it it will be necessary to take two courses in education or one in education and another in a content subject related to the work to be done.

Mr. McElveen said "The summer schools are planning courses in 'Methods and Materials,' 'Directed Observation,' 'The Work School,' and others that are appropriate. Correspondent and extension departments offer courses such as 'School and Society,' 'The High School or Elementary Curriculum' and 'Methods in Elementary School.'"

The state department of education is doing its utmost not to lower standards. They have extended the date for teachers who are working now to renew their certificates from March 1 to June 1. "The guidance of a good teacher is a prime factor in the education of the child," said superintendent McElveen. "In building our system of schools we should working now to renew their certificates from March 1 to June 1."

Let All Keep Faith

A man living in Helena, Arkansas writes a son in the U. S. Marine Corps and today he, like many you, does not know where that son is, except that wherever he is he is giving his all for what you and I think of as The American Way of Life.

This man, John C. Sheffield, attorney, and member of the American Expeditionary Force during the World War I wrote a letter to the Commercial Appeal of Memphis, Tenn., recently.

The letter struck such a responsive chord in the editorial office of that newspaper that it was printed in the Commercial Appeal as a front page editorial.

Since its publication it has been reprinted in many newspapers. Business men's clubs of Memphis have been distributing reprints of the letter to thousands of citizens and a Memphis mother who has two sons in the armed forces of the United States has begun a house-to-house canvass of the city, asking citizens to write their congressmen, enclosing copies of the letter asking their attention to the matter on which it touches.

The letter as it was written by Mr. Sheffield is as follows:

"To The Commercial Appeal:
"My only son was born while I was in France during the first World War. Today he is a member of the United States Marine Corps. He sailed from California the first of January, and we have heard nothing from him since. We know he is somewhere in the Pacific. We are anxious about him. Thousands of other parents are like us.

"The President says we do not have enough ships to send supplies to our troops, and that we must build ships in a hurry. Even as he spoke several hundred shipbuilders refused to work on Washington's Birthday because they were not paid double time.

"How can fathers and mothers of boys who are in the danger zone and who are being called upon to sacrifice their lives feel any 'surge' of unity when the President and the Congress permit a bunch of shipbuilders and munition workers to quit when they get good and ready?

"Do our boys at the front get overtime and 'double time' in the fox holes of the Philippines? Do our sons who are giving their lives to protect the jobs of these and others like them quit on holidays? Like hell they do!

"One of my friends, who is a good mechanic, with a family to support, went to get a job in a munition plant. Every day we hear on the radio and read in the newspapers that such men are needed to turn out munitions for our soldiers, sailors and marines. But this man was refused a job until he could get a union card. He could not get a union card because he did not have enough money to buy one.

"Is it the idea of our government that it is more important to preserve labor unions than it is to preserve the American Union? Why can't a freeborn American citizen get a job in a plant where the government needs workers without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader.

"If our sons are to be drafted to give their lives for their country, why should not Labor and Capital be drafted to supply them with munitions of war? Why should Congress, which has the power to make laws, be so tender of the regard for laborers and management who work and prosper in industry while having an utter disregard for the lives of the boys at the front?

"We don't like it, and we don't mind saying so right out loud. Maybe it is time we were electing some senators and congressmen who will crack down and compel Capital and Labor to get into this war. And come to think of it, this is election year, and we might as well get busy while we have the time and opportunity.

JOHN C. SHEFFIELD.

And So A New Fire Is Built!

Who next?
First Dr. Marvin S. Pittman. Then came Dr. C. M. Destler, Miss Franseth, Miss Mamie Veasy, and now Miss Mae Michael.

Monday of this week Miss Mae Michael, secretary to the president of the Georgia Teachers College was fired.

She was fired it is said because of "disloyalty to the college and the president."
And you and we and the hundreds of graduates of our college here know that it is inconceivable that Miss Mae Michael could be disloyal to that which she loves with all her heart and soul and which, for the past fifteen years, she has devoted her entire time, energies and mind.

You can't become disloyal to that which you have given fifteen years of your life—to that which has absorbed fifteen years of your love and devotion.

You can't become disloyal to that which stands for and represents that which you have given years of service whether it be man, student body, alumni or an ideal.

When we were in high school we were given a passage from Shakespeare to memorize and we remembered it when we learned of Miss Michael's dismissal:

"To thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not be false to any man."

An undercurrent of uneasiness is running through the members of the faculty of the Georgia Teachers College, with the knowledge that others must follow Miss Michael.

And so a brand new fire has been built under the College which belongs to the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county. Previous fires had died down to only smoldering embers and only time was needed to completely put them out. And out of ashes a new and greater Georgia Teachers College was the ideal and dream of the people in this section.

The State Guard Doing A Fine Job

When the National Guard unit here was called into service last year it did not occur to the people of Bulloch county that they might again have a home defense unit or at that time that there ever would be the need of a home guard.

But for the past few weeks there has been building up, not only in Bulloch county but all the counties in the state a new home defense group, the Georgia State Guard.

Here in Bulloch county nearly seventy-five men are now training weekly for the job of defending our home lands.

There are more than fifty Bulloch county men in the rifle unit here; more than 20 make up the medical unit and six include the signal corps. Statesboro is the headquarters for the 18th district of the State Guard made up of Bulloch, Evans, Tattnall, Effingham, Scriven and Candler. Units are organized in all these counties except Evans and plans include it in the next week.

The men here are already in uniform and are getting together once a week and going through intensive training conditioning them for what can come, but we hope will not come.

We Would Have Done The Same Thing

Dudley Glass of the Atlanta Constitution is one of our favorite people and we follow with enjoyment what he writes. Tuesday of this week he included in his stuff a priceless story which could happen to any one of us. We loved it and are passing it on to you just as he wrote it.

"This one floated into me through a man who knew a man who was there where it happened. My informant thinks Macon was the scene but he wouldn't swear to it.

"Young tire dealer had a large stock—which had been frozen. He was not allowed to sell one except on a certificate from the rationing board.

"But last week he received a telegram from the War Department: 'Liquidate your stock at once and report to Blankville for active duty.'

"So he hung out a sign announcing new tires for sale and the buyers lined up for a block, money in hand.

"Tires were going fast when the government man arrived, out of breath. He purchased two tires, handed over the money—just to get good evidence—and arrested the dealer.

"You can't do this to me," protested the dealer. "Look at this telegram. The War Department is bigger than you are."

"Upshot was that he stopped retailing tires. The tire manufacturer agreed to take them back for what he'd paid—except what had got away. So he liquidated his stock and reported for service.

"True or false? I don't know."

—GIVE TO THE RED CROSS—

Congratulations to the members of the Stillson Basketball team. They are now the state champions in class "C." In twenty starts the Stillson boys lost only two games. For the fourth straight year they have won the district championship under Coach Driggers. Those boys down there at Stillson grow up with basketball for a pillow, a basketball for a rattler, a basketball for a desert.

The Briar Patch Philosopher . . .

DEAR ED:

I got your letter. Ma handed it to me just about the time I got set to wash my feet. I put it over on the table by the bible and went ahead and got my feet clean cause I knew your letter would wait and Ma was awaiting the washman, and like a ham, if it's cured just right, it improves with time, so I figured that your letter was worth right it would improve with time.

It was a right good letter at that. 'Course after I finished it I just knew you were slick talking me into something . . . all them fancy sentences about how people liked what I wrote for your paper before . . . just plain "fiddlesticks" says Ma. But it did read nice, and it made me feel good when you said that Dan Bland had been after you cause I stopped writing. You used to tell me about how folks told you how much they read what I wrote, but I just figured that you was just saying that.

Well about me writing some for your paper, I reckon I can do it. I talked to Mr. Bland and he says he can't see as how there'd be any harm to it. He said that last time I was sending in you a little stuff that he liked. The boys folks talk about it cause she didn't let on to them that it was that that was awaiting it. But don't get riled up if sometimes I don't send anything in. You know how it is. Sometimes I just want to be able to get it out. So I just figured that you was just saying that.

Me and Ma'll be in town some time next week reckon. She ain't good for a thing hardly now since she's been a-knitting for Miss Maude Edge's Red Cross. I get plumb cross at it some times. But she keeps at it and she says she's got to do something in this big war we're in.

We was to the funeral of Brooks White's boy last Thursday. Ma broke down and squaled like a whipped yungun, when the young navy man walked over to Brooks and handed him the flag all folded up and said about how in the name of the navy of the United States he presented this flag and then Brooks broke down and put his face in that flag. Well, Ma ain't the only one who cried. My handkerchief was as wet as Ma's dishrag after drying dishes on second Sunday when she's had the preacher to home and chicken on the table. And plenty more had the sniffles there and it wasn't cold either.

Like what you wrote about Hunter Sudditt's boy. You know when you check up I bet you'll find that there's a big bunch of us farmers with boys in the war and you'll find them making plumb good soldiers. I'm a good mind to join up with Math Alderman's bunch what drills every Wednesday night here in Statesboro. I hear that a lot of that bunch, they call them the state guards, they believe in country boys and they go in town to drill and that they are affixing to use shotguns. I got a old 12-gauge double-barrel and I bet that I can pepper fair any of them Japs that took a notion to drop over my place in Bulloch county from a airplane, so I speak I could make 'em a good soldier. Ma just laughs at me and allows as how all I want is to dress up in one of them uniforms. She says that there ain't but one kind of uniform that I am worth any salt in and that's a pair of overalls and that I can do us all more good by staying to home and plowing ole Jake.

Well, I'll close this time. If you still want me to do this I will. But if I say something that will get you in a tight place you'll just have to leave it to reckon.

Yours truly,

The Briar Patch Philosopher.

BICYCLE RIDERS ARE HARRASSED
Bicycle riders have been harassed in Statesboro ever since 1894 when the first ordinance controlling bicycle traffic appears on the city books. That year an ordinance was passed prohibiting people to "ride any bicycle up the following named streets, to wit: North Main from the Rustin House to the junction of East and West Main; East Main from Chance's store to the junction of North and South Main; South Main from Martin's store to the junction of East and West Main; West Main from Walnut Street to junction of North and South Main." Violators were fined from $1 to $25. J. L. Coleman was recorder and treasurer and E. M. Smith was Mayor at that time.

SPEED LIMIT SET AT 8 M. P. H.

Then twenty-four years passed before bicycles were paid any more attention. On August 11, 1925 an ordinance was passed requiring bicycles to come to a complete stop before crossing a paved street in the city, and then 11 years later, on January 17, 1934, "U" turns made on a bicycle were against the law and riders were made to obey the traffic light at the intersection of the four main streets.

BICYCLE SPEED LIMIT MOVED UP TO 35 MI. P. H.

With the pace of the world becoming faster and faster, the city fathers moved the speed limit of bicycles up from 8 miles per hour to 25 miles per hour.

And then on October 8, 1940 the bicycle attained the full status of a vehicle to be given the same attention as the automobile.

And since January 1, 1942 the bicycle has caught the fancy of tire-short auto users and is becoming their emergency form of transportation.

Business men are using them to go to and from work. Housewives are using them for shopping. Children are finding themselves being asked to "ride your bicycle to school, the tires on the car are in bad shape." Fathers are borrowing son's wheel; mothers are borrowing daughter's bike.

Ladies riders are greeting Spring in gay "bicycle-costumes" . . . and fat men are huffing and puffing—all determined to do their bit.

GET YOUR INCOME TAX OFF?

Monday, March 16 was more than just a Blue Monday this year. Loyal Americans had the satisfaction of knowing that with their income tax return and check in the mails they had done a great bit toward the job of Japbusting. Statesboro's business men, this year, were proud over the privilege of paying an income tax.

COMES THE SPRING and with it comes Spring Offensives. The United Nation's Spring Offensive against the smart . . . Our Spring Offensive against work . . .

license, can't become an aviation cadet, the examining board at Moody Field, Valdosta, Ga., has ruled.

The young pilot applied for admission as a cadet after receiving numerous letters from the Civil Aeronautics Authority about the draft. The letters suggested enlistment in the Air Corps as a flying cadet instead of waiting for the draft.

When the would-be cadet appeared before the board, the officers refused to consider the case, would not even allow a physical examination by the medical board.

The reason? Well, David Marion Smith happens to be a very pretty girl—and regulations don't allow the acceptance of women for cadet training.

For each automobile we are not making this year we have saved enough zinc and copper to make brass for 2,400 brass CARTRIDGE CASES for the .30 caliber ammunition used in our machine guns and our Garand semiautomatic rifles and our Springfield.

MORAN-WORMACK
Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Alene Moran of Washington, D. C., and James Wormack, D. C., which was solemnized Wednesday, March 11, at the Francis Asbury Methodist church in Washington, D. C., the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Robin Gould.

The bride was dressed in light blue, and wore a corsage of white flowers. Her only attendant was Miss Mild Green of Lake City, S. C.

Collins Durham of Marietta was the groom's best man.

The bride is the daughter of T. J. Moran of Franklin, Tenn. For several months she has had a position in Washington.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Aquilla Warnock of Albany, former of Brooklet. He is a graduate of Brooklet High School, of Emory Junior College, and of Vanderbilt University. For several years he has been connected with the Public Welfare Department of Georgia, and he is now an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Warnock are now living in Washington City.

MISS MAUDE WHITE
The "Dads Night" program held in the Home Economic Building, last week-end, was a success. The outstanding features of the program were: The splendid educational and inspirational address delivered by Dr. Gates, President of Teachers College, Collegeboro, Ga., and the Quartet rendered as a tribute to "Dad" by the Bulloch county Quartet composed of Rufus Anderson, Statesboro, Wilbur Cason, Statesboro, Ray Charles, Statesboro, and Delmas Rushing of Nevils. After the above contributions the following hospitalities were served: Refreshments: Mrs. Chando Burness, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Hodges, Mrs. Hewell O'Kelley, Mrs. B. F. Rooks, Mrs. Charlie Hodges, Mrs. Chaney Futch, Mrs. H. W. Nesmith, and Mrs. Teell Nesmith. Immediately following the serving, the local committee of the "Personal Works Council of the Civilian Defense Program" of Bulloch county, composed of Miss Maude White and Mrs. R. E. Kiddlighter, chairman and co-chairman, directed several recreational numbers.

The delegation of the Nevils P. T. A. that attended the P. T. A. Spring Conference held at Springfield Saturday were: Mrs. Johnnie Martin, Mrs. Delmas Rushing, Miss Maude White and Mrs. Rebecca Young. This group was accompanied to Springfield by Mrs. A. J. Trappell who represented Brooklet P. T. A.

Since one of the helpers left the Nevils school lunch room to accept a better position in Savannah, it became necessary for the local committee to make a few changes. Her guests were Mrs. W. B. Parrish, Mrs. J. N. Rushing, Mrs. Lester Bland, Mrs. John A. Robertson, Mrs. Joel Minick, Mrs. W. D. Lee, Mrs. T. E. Daves, Mrs.

What Should You Save To Help?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The following table issued by the Treasury Department is intended as a savings yardstick for the average income-earner. It suggests how everyone of the 48,000,000 employed persons in the United States may participate in the war effort through the systematic purchase of Defense Savings Bonds.

"The job asked of us is far bigger than most of us realize," Secretary Morgenthau declared in making the table public. "I know that the American people are ready to do their part to win the war. One of the ways we can do much more for us by intensifying our effort in the purchase of Defense Bonds."

While persons without dependents may be able to set aside more than the suggested figures, persons with several dependents, or with other heavy family obligations, may be unable to save at the suggested rate, the Treasury Department pointed out.

Farm Women Help With Victory Campaign

A farm woman who makes over an old dress, or turns out lamps when it isn't needed, learns thrifty buying practices, better use of skimmed milk, better care of her clothes, her pressure cooker, her broom, is making a contribution to America's Victory Program.

And if hundreds of thousands of farm women do such things, they will not only release a vast amount of material and power needed in war production, but will keep up their standard of living in the future.

That's the theory behind the Farm Security Administration's enlarged Food For Freedom program for helping farm families contribute to civilian defense according to Miss Cornelia Phillips, Assistant F. S. A. home management supervisor for Bulloch county.

"More than 240 families who are F. S. A. borrowers are already skilled in economizing and planning," Miss Phillips said, "but now like all other families, they must manage their homes under war-time conditions. Drastic shortages in metals, kitchen utensils, fats, oil, and many other everyday commodities will hit us soon."

"Every housewife must economize during the war, and F. S. A. borrowers are already setting an example which can be followed successfully and profitably by other farm families."

All kinds of economical practices vital to our war effort can be made by saving both food and material. Carry on your gardening, twelve months in the year, and save everything you raise to use fresh, store, and can. Do not waste food in thick peelings, by carelessly burning food, or letting it spoil. Save all fats, and use fats that cannot be eaten for making soap. Clothing material may be saved by keeping clothes clean and in good repair, and by remodeling old garments. Even placing patterns carefully in order to cut with little waste results in substantial savings over a period of time. Using scraps of material for making bed quilts, quilted house coats, pillows, and draperies; using home made buttons and buttons, saving thread used in bastings, snap, buckles, etc., all important to our war effort.

Also because of increased need for work on the farm and in civilian defense, efficient use of time is today highly important. Miss Phillips declared. She suggests that families should not only plan for convenient arrangements of labor saving devices in the home, but should learn additional skills, where time permits.

Food For Freedom

Dairy and livestock products are receiving first call from American farmers under the Food-for-Freedom program, Walter T. Smalley assistant soil conservationist, said this week, and he pointed out that for cows to reach the maximum production they must have the best possible forage.

Good pasture is the cheapest feed a farmer can produce, the conservationist said. A good pasture can frequently be made to produce more feed per acre, at less cost, than many of the other feed crops. Also a good pasture and protects the land against erosion.

However, on many farms pastures are subjected to greater use and more abuse than any other portion of the farm, Mr. Smalley said. This accounts for the failure of many pastures to provide adequate grazing at a time when it is needed.

The conservationist warns against too early grazing of pastures in the spring. Too early grazing and continuous close grazing always results in plants of low vitality. When grasses go into the hot, dry summer months in a weakened condition, they frequently die.

Other practices which Mr. Smalley recommends include the application of lime and fertilizer, spreading of barnyard manure, clipping as often as necessary to prevent weed seeds from maturing, and the provision of supplemental pasture such as pearl millet, Sudan grass, or kudzu for use during the summer months when the

Are You Asking Yourself "How Can I Help Win This War?"

With a War being fought on a thousand fronts in this world, and millions of men and billions of dollars being spent, have you stopped and figured out "How Can I Help Win This War?"

Well, one man stopped and thought it out. Here are the results of his thinking.

THE THINKING

I am a plain, private individual. I've spent many years abroad. I know what totalitarianism means. I am an individualist. And there are more than 130,000,000 of us. As a member of this multitude, what can I do—what can any one of us do—to help beat the Axis and all it stands for—to help America and her Allies win this terrible war?

THE WRITING

I took a pencil and put down on paper all the questions I could think of which an American living in the armed forces ought to be asking himself if he is going to help win this war. When I got through, I found there were ten important ones. Here they are, as I could write them:

1. Do I realize we are fighting, not for conquest, but for our very existence as a people?
2. Have I stopped putting my personal profit above the national interest?
3. Am I willing to use my spare time (I do have to make a living) to cooperate in civilian defense work?
4. Am I determined (a) to stop grubbing about the job that's being done when I'm not sure of my facts, and (b) to send constructive suggestions to the proper authorities?
5. Am I being as careful as I can about repeating groundless rumors that might obstruct the work or help the enemy?
6. Am I doing everything possible to economize in my use of essential materials—rubber, oil, electricity, etc?
7. Am I trying to save waste materials—paper, tin cans, metal tins, etc.—and to facilitate their collection by segregating them from other waste?
8. Am I buying defense bonds to the limit of my ability?
9. Am I contributing as much as possible to the Red Cross and other welfare organizations which need funds now more than ever?
10. Do I always and ever remember Pearl Harbor and my pledge to help pay back this treacherous assault a thousand times?

THE DOING

I myself am trying to answer YES to every one of the questions. I determined to publish them as a reminder to my fellow citizens who maybe have not had my experience, or time to think about what they can do now.

If they—you, I really mean—can, or will, answer YES to all my ten questions, we'll WIN THIS WAR—by getting behind the boys who are giving their lives to protect ours.

—So one man answered the question How I can help win this war?

If You Are Between 45 and 64 Be Sure to Register April 27th

Uncle Sam is holding his Fourth Registration on Monday, April 27th.

If you became 45 years of age on February 16, 1942, and will not be 65 until after April 27, 1942, you will present yourself to the nearest school building and be registered for possible military service with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

It is not only necessary that you register, but it is the law that you register. You should not only register, but you should be glad to register.

Visit Your County Hospital On Hospital Day—May 12

It never crosses our mind until we have to be sent there . . . or a member of our family is placed there . . . or a close friend of ours has to be carried there.

The Bulloch County Hospital . . . our hospital. The one asset in Bulloch County that quietly goes about its business of housing, caring for and administering to the ill of our people.

However, there is one day in the year that the Hospital and those interested in it point to it with pride—May 12, Hospital Day.

Hospital Day is observed all over the nation. It developed spontaneously as an outgrowth of the idea that men and women relieving pain and suffering in our hospitals should have a day of public observance of its services. The minor purpose is to salute the hospital worker. The major purpose is to educate the public to an appreciation of the facilities and services of our modern hospital.

The Bulloch County Hospital was completed in 1937 and after suffering a series of "growing pains" has now become one of the best in the country.

Having in mind the year-round service offered by the hospital all the citizens of this county, city and community, whose health it protects and restores, should pay it a visit and tribute on its one day—Hospital Day, May 12.

Brooklet News

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Warnock are spending several weeks at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

William Cronley has been chosen by the members of the Senior Class to be the class speaker on the night of graduation, May 22.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daves and Miss Lawana Daves were called to Jesup Wednesday because of the death of Mr. Daves' niece, little Sara Daves, the six-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Daves. They were accompanied to Jesup by Mrs. John Robertson.

The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church elected the following new officers Monday night: Lawrence McLeod, president; Olan Usher, vice-president; Betty Belcher, secretary; Bessie Moore, treasurer; Orelia Usher, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffith and children, Barbara and Ronnie, were called to Danielsville Thursday night because of the serious illness of Mr. Griffith's father, James A. Griffith, age 64, who died Friday night after an illness of two days. Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at Danielsville. The deceased had been school superintendent of Madison county for the past thirteen years and was an ex-mayor of Danielsville.

The Beta Club of the Brooklet High School elected at their last meeting the following officers to serve for the next school year: president, Betty Belcher; vice-president, Carolyn Proctor; secretary, Jo Ann Trappell; treasurer, Mary McElveen; reporter, Kathleen Lanier.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Simon spent Sunday with relatives in the 29th Street neighborhood.

The forty-one members of the Junior Class of the Brooklet High School will entertain the fifty-three seniors with a banquet in the school lunch room, followed by a social in the gymnasium. In addition to the seniors the other invited guests are the members of the school faculty, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McElveen of Statesboro, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McElveen, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daves, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McElveen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cronley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Trappell, Mrs. J. H. Griffith, Mrs. Shelton E. Gable, Mrs. Olin D. Coleman, F. W. Hughes, John A. Robertson, W. D. Lee, J. H. Hinton, Hamp Smith, and Julian Hodges.

The address of welcome will be given by Richard Weeks, president of the Junior Class, and the response will be made by Yvonne DeNitto, president of the Senior Class. Patriotic talks will be made by three Juniors, Myron Harrison, D. S. Fields, Jr., and Betty Belcher. Supt. Gable will render a vocal solo, and a quartette will be sung by Jack Harrison, James Brinson, Irvin Brinson and Robert DeNitto. The sponsors of the banquet are Mrs. J. H. Hinton and Mrs. John A. Robertson. The patriotic idea will be carried out in the decorations, program and the menu.

Mrs. Robert Spiers of Atlanta has spent several days here with the G. K. Spiers, Sr. menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton E. Gable have moved from the Moore apartment into the Parrish bungalow, recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Milford.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

This week we're going to turn over our chair to a man who is "FIGHTIN' Mad". It is written by Walter J. Weir, copy director of the advertising agency Lord & Thomas. Read it and we hope it makes you "FIGHTIN' MAD".

(Editor's Note: The following editorial was written by Walter J. Weir, copy director for the famous advertising agency of Lord & Thomas. It was first published in the magazine, "Printers Ink," of March 13 last. It should be read by every American.)

DON'T GET ME WRONG—I'm just an ordinary guy. I'm not trying to pose as an expert on the mauling of public opinion. I'm not talking big about what I'd do if it was my job to whip the country on the war effort.

I'm talking as an average citizen. I'm saying, not what I'd like to tell them, but what I'd like to be told, Son.

Because I'm concerned, and I've been concerned, about my reaction to all that's been happening. Sure, I'm buying bonds. I'm paying taxes. I'm doing with less sugar.

But deep down inside, down where it really matters, something hasn't taken place yet that I feel ought to take place. I'm all a welter of confusion there. It keeps me scratching my head and moping my brow when I know I ought to be clenching my fists.

You understand? It's like this: I WANT TO BE TOLD—not to buy Defense Bonds. I want to be told to buy Victory Stamps on War Bonds.

LT. THUMBS WRONG-WAY PLANE
A sadder but probably wiser second lieutenant arrived in Greenville, Miss., recently through the well-intended courtesy of Lt. Col. Joel E. Mallory, Executive Officer of the Greenville Army Flying School.

Seeing a notation on the Maxwell Field operations board, "Col. Mallory—Greenville," the lieutenant sought out Col. Mallory and asked him if he could go along as a passenger, since his home was only a few miles from Greenville.

The two took off from Maxwell Field on the routine flight during which Col. Mallory pointed out Columbus and Gainesville, (Miss.) upon arrival at the Greenville air base the lieutenant boarded a bus for town. Not long afterwards the lieutenant phoned the colonel. He had thought they were going to Greenville, N. C.

Instead of being some 300 miles from home, he was well over 600. When Col. Mallory pointed out Columbus and Gainesville, the lieutenant thought they were the Georgia towns.

COLORFUL FLAG SOLVES "WHAT SHALL I WEAR?" PROBLEM FOR CADETS
"What shall I wear today?" is the question often asked by women. Not so with the men, at least not with the men of Aviation Cadet Detachment at Turner Field. For no matter what the weather, the colored flag is hoisted to indicate the cadet dress for the day. Yellow indicates clear weather; flight caps and slacks and shirts to be worn. Green indicates rain; raincoat and garrison caps. Red stands for fair weather; the wearing of blouse, garrison cap, slacks and shirt. Blue is for cold weather; calling for the wearing of short coat, glove, agrass cap slacks and shirts. So that a

Car Rationing Not To Be So Strict In Future Is Believed
With considerable interest being shown in the question of distribution of rationed automobiles the Herald quotes excerpts from a speech made in Atlanta recently by Cyrus McCormick, chief of the automobile section, Office of Price Administration and War Relocation Administration.

Young Hendrix's assignment resulted from the training he received in the wood shop at the NYA's resident project at Savannah. It was here that he received instruction in a specific skill, sound working habits, and good safety practices which qualified him for the work he is now doing.

From nine such resident centers, providing work experience in machine work, sheet metal, auto-mechanics, welding, forging, foundry work, etc., so satisfactory that they are now able to compete with any concern of similar nature.

Not only have they payed the

Commenting on the wisdom of straightening out in the public's mind the difference between the rationing of automobiles and rationing of food, the administrator said he thought car rationing would not be so strict in the future.

Automobile rationing should be more liberal than rationing of food, he said, adding that it was hard for the public to understand this. He is natural in saying that rationing should be as strict as or stricter than rationing of food.

"Dealers should be allowed to get their money out of cars on hand in compliance with rationing regulations. Too, there is the difficulty of storing automobiles."

Dealers were gratified the situation had been cleared up, pointing to the cost of storing automobiles as the cost as well as the trouble.

The classifications carry qualifications in most cases. For example, a car is considered a luxury if it is considered on its merits. There can be no wholesale grouping he said.

1-H CLUB NEWS
The Middleground 4-H Club held regular meeting at the school house Monday, April 6, with our County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Irma Spears and two members, Mrs. L. L. Long and Miss Alice Jo Lane.

Our president called the meeting to order and presided over the business session. After the business we began work on our aprons and uniforms. This is to be our last clothing meeting so we are all working hard to finish our projects.

Our next meeting will be held here May 4 and we all expect it to start new projects.

Manufacturing Only The Best in Asphalt Products "DAPCO" with Plant on the Brampton Road in Savannah

This is one of the most progressive institutions. Manufacturers of Dapco Asphalt—in a review of business interests of the community, there is no concern more worthy of extended mention than this one.

Here the public has at its disposal the services of men who possess the know how and who obtained their manufacturing and business education in the school of practical experience. From the inception of the enterprise, quality has been the aim and the standard has been maintained from the beginning.

The plant of the company is very extensive and is equipped with the latest scientific machinery for the production of high grade asphalt products.

Their name "Dapco" stands for quality, reliability and progress in this industry and as the advances of the times have marked improvements in the trade they have kept thoroughly abreast of the times.

It is a local concern, under competent direction of men interested in local development and its sub-

L. P. MAGGIONI & COMPANY IS TERMED GREAT ASSET TO SECTION

Paying Thousands of Dollars to Local Farmers Annually for Vegetables and Produce and Paying the Top of the Market at All Times.

Then L. P. Maggioni and Company developed a system of production that enabled them to maintain the highest quality at a production cost which permits them to serve their patrons modern products at prices that cannot be quoted by other concerns who are not so well organized, or so well equipped.

Through the years they have been efficiently serving the public they have solved the problem of overhead distribution of raw materials, etc., so satisfactorily that they are now able to compete with any concern of similar nature.

Not only have they payed the top of the market for vegetables and produce to our farmers every year, but the section has benefited to little from the money that they have brought here. Their products are sold throughout the entire country.

Then, too, it behooves us to use and boost for him products and this is another reason for the popularity of these products throughout this vicinity.

We deem it most fitting and proper that we make special mention of this concern. We want to add you in appreciating what an important part it plays in the agricultural and industrial life of the community.

In the review of our commercial leaders who are adding to our onward progress, we take pleasure in complimenting L. P. Maggioni and Company upon the position they occupy in our daily life.

CHATHAM COUNTY STOCK YARD, SAVANNAH, OFFERS HIGHEST CASH MARKET SALE EVERY WEDNESDAY

Located On the Telfair Road in Savannah. Telephone 32268.
The Chatham County Stock Yard is a concern that certainly should have the support of every stockman in this section. They are rendering the very best service in every way and this, as it means something, they give you more than you pay for. They treat you as a guest, and are just as glad to have you stop in and have a friendly chat, get market prices, advice or any information that you desire as they are when you are a shipment.

Not only have they paid money to farmers in this section; they have also brought new money here. Their stock is quoted throughout the nation as well as locally. The packing concerns and markets buy all except for the feeders or stockers and all independent buyers patronize them daily.

More than that, Chatham County Stock Yards knows that country means something. They give you more than you pay for. They treat you as a guest, and are just as glad to have you stop in and have a friendly chat, get market prices, advice or any information that you desire as they are when you are a shipment.

From almost the beginning of organized society the sales have been one of the centers of activity. This has added to the progress of the community and has been a meeting place for the buyer and seller to make the exchange.

We take this opportunity to review of one of our most prominent Mr. Howard McGowan, who has been a member of the highest cash market take your livestock to the Chatham County Stock Yard. You will find this the best place to Buy, Trade or Sell.

OFFICE FOR EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Folks who live on farms can save tires, gas, oil, and parts by marketing together, and the Office of Defense Transportation wants rural owners of trucks to voluntarily eliminate unnecessary trips. It is working out suggestions for neighbors to cooperate in "transportation pools."

There'll be a certain amount of rubber made available for repairing tires for Southerners whose work is vital to the war effort, but OPA warns that this is reclaimed rubber and those whose tires are recapped with it should not drive faster than 35 miles an hour.

Curtailment of rayon production doesn't mean a lessening demand for cotton lint. The fibers which stick to seeds after ginning—linters—are used in making smokeless powder, as well as in producing sheer rayon hose.

Our Southern boys in uniforms may admire a right smart of rayon, but they'd rather have the home front without that luxury and send the product of our cotton fields to them the fighting way.

Nitric acid mixed with cotton linters and wood pulp makes the smokeless powder they need right now. Nitrogen also makes fertilizers, and that's the reason fertilizer is being rationed to us this year.

Because the Japs have stolen Far Eastern tin mines, WPB asked everyone to save collapsible tin tubes some time ago. When few cooperated, it ordered stores to sell new tubes only to customers who swapped in old tin bearing containers.

Purchasers need not turn in the same kind of tube to get tooth paste or shaving cream. An old kind of soft tin tube will do. And buyers don't have to swap when purchasing tubes containing medicines or ointments.

The Government is issuing a lot of war regulations and doesn't have time to write everyone a letter about them. That means folks on the home front must read their newspapers and keep informed; ignorance of a law isn't a valid legal defense for breaking it.

The Second War Powers went into effect last week providing severe punishment under the criminal code for violators of WPB orders—like the tooth paste tube swap—and OPA regulations like the ceiling on price of pork chops and the posting of maximum prices at filling stations.

MISS BETH MORRISON IS MARRIED TO DR. JOSEPH MCLELLY IN THOMON

Of statewide interest is the marriage of Miss Beth Morrison, daughter of Susan and Mr. John H. Morrison of Statesboro, formerly of Thomson, to Dr. Joseph Dean McElroy of Atlanta. The wedding was solemnized Sunday, April 12, at the First Methodist Church of Thomson by Rev. A. L. Gilmore, pastor of the church.

Miss Carleton Ellis of Macon and Hazelhurst, Ga., presented the organ music. Mrs. Roy J. Johnston of Atlanta and Thomson was the soloist.

The church decorations included a background of stately palms and southern shrubs interspersed with floor baskets of yellow and white gladioli, and four seven branched candelabra. Across the pulpit was an arch of eighteen white candles.

The groomsmen included Mr. Frank Morrison, brother of the bride, Mr. Ivan Miles, of Atlanta, and Mr. Julian Loeke of Thomson. Master Walter Lundy, little cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers to begin the ceremony.

Miss Anne Morrison, only sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Both she and the bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Branch of Thomson, wore aqua gowns of faille taffeta with full skirts and long tight fitting bodices. Dainty pill box hats and matching slippers completed the costumes. They carried yellow Hebert Hoover roses and purple sweet peas. Miss Dorothy Branch carried a basket of white hollyhocks of purple Satin ribbon.

Mr. John H. Morrison gave his daughter in marriage and at the altar they were met by the bridegroom and his best man, Ensign J. Haywood Morrison, Jr.

The bride, who is a striking brunette, was gown in a bouffant dress of blue satin made with fitted waist, full skirt, and long train. Her even longer wedding veil was of illusion tulle held to a band of orange blossoms in Juliet style. She wore as her only ornament the groom's gift of a string of pearls. Sentiment is attached to the fact that the handkerchief she carried with her is an heirloom. Among the brides who also carried it were the brides mother, and her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Lundy.

The brides bouquet was of dainty narcissi showered with violets tied with wide white satin ribbon.

Following the ceremony the bride and party left for their wedding trip to New Orleans and upon their return will occupy an apartment at 327 Parkway drive, near Georgia Baptist Hospital, where Dr. McElroy is a house physician.

The bride traveled in a gray Vogue model suit. She wore a small blue becoming hat with flowers and a veil. The lining of the coat and the blouse were of the same material. She wore a corsage of gardenias and tube roses.

Parties given for the bride in Thomson included a brilliant tea Thursday before the wedding at the home of Mrs. J. A. Boone, and a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Roy Johnston, Jr., and a party following the rehearsal at the home of Miss Dorothy Branan. On this occasion the brides' cake was cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Pafford of Clayton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lanier last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Courney have returned to Augusta after visiting in the city during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dell Anderson have gone to Daytona, Fla., to spend several days.

Miss Dorothy Durden spent the week-end here with her parents. Miss Margaret Remington has returned to Atlanta after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Remington.

Mrs. F. B. Thigpen of Savannah spent the week here with friends during last week.

Mrs. Hubert Amason and little daughter, Alice, left last week to go to Amason at Camp Jackson, S. C.

The chambers that bloom in the spring, tra la, will be seen in the lighter blue this season, the National Cotton Council and Cotton Textile Institute report. As evidence Susanna Foster, Paramount player, pe a in the pastel cotton chamber with huge patch pockets. The short cap sleeves and pockets are trimmed in a floral design of white cotton braid. The fitted bodice has a square neckline. A sash belt encircles the waist.

Those members and guests present were: Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Dan Lester, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Arthur Turner, Mrs. Fred Lanier, Mrs. W. S. Hanner, Mrs. D. A. The brides bouquet was of dainty narcissi showered with violets tied with wide white satin ribbon.

The brides mother, the former Miss Frances Holden of Ellijay, Ga., wore a dusty pink dress, a redingote, with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of blue delphiniums and sweetest roses.

Following the ceremony the bride and party left for their wedding trip to New Orleans and upon their return will occupy an apartment at 327 Parkway drive, near Georgia Baptist Hospital, where Dr. McElroy is a house physician.

The bride traveled in a gray Vogue model suit. She wore a small blue becoming hat with flowers and a veil. The lining of the coat and the blouse were of the same material. She wore a corsage of gardenias and tube roses.

Parties given for the bride in Thomson included a brilliant tea Thursday before the wedding at the home of Mrs. J. A. Boone, and a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Roy Johnston, Jr., and a party following the rehearsal at the home of Miss Dorothy Branan. On this occasion the brides' cake was cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Pafford of Clayton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lanier last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Courney have returned to Augusta after visiting in the city during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dell Anderson have gone to Daytona, Fla., to spend several days.

Miss Dorothy Durden spent the week-end here with her parents. Miss Margaret Remington has returned to Atlanta after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Remington.

Mrs. F. B. Thigpen of Savannah spent the week here with friends during last week.

Mrs. Hubert Amason and little daughter, Alice, left last week to go to Amason at Camp Jackson, S. C.

Miss Carleton Ellis of Macon and Hazelhurst, Ga., presented the organ music. Mrs. Roy J. Johnston of Atlanta and Thomson was the soloist.

The church decorations included a background of stately palms and southern shrubs interspersed with floor baskets of yellow and white gladioli, and four seven branched candelabra. Across the pulpit was an arch of eighteen white candles.

The groomsmen included Mr. Frank Morrison, brother of the bride, Mr. Ivan Miles, of Atlanta, and Mr. Julian Loeke of Thomson. Master Walter Lundy, little cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers to begin the ceremony.

Miss Anne Morrison, only sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Both she and the bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Branch of Thomson, wore aqua gowns of faille taffeta with full skirts and long tight fitting bodices. Dainty pill box hats and matching slippers completed the costumes. They carried yellow Hebert Hoover roses and purple sweet peas. Miss Dorothy Branch carried a basket of white hollyhocks of purple Satin ribbon.

Mr. John H. Morrison gave his daughter in marriage and at the altar they were met by the bridegroom and his best man, Ensign J. Haywood Morrison, Jr.

Be a Mother for a Day to Two Sons For a Day on Mother's Day

The tie which links mother and child is of such pure and intimate strength as to be never violated, except by those whose feelings are withered by vitiated society. Holy, simple, beautiful in its construction, it is the emblem of all we can imagine of fidelity and truth—Washington Irving.

May 10 is Mother's Day.

This is a day set aside and observed over the entire nation. It has become the custom for children to pay tangible tribute to their mothers on this day. Years of observance have developed the desire to visit Mother and give her some gifts, simple though it may be, and show and tell her how much her love means.

But this year the custom will be denied to hundreds of thousands of men who are now in the armed forces fighting for all the things for which their mothers mean to them. They will be in far-away places, in isolated war areas, with no opportunity to write, to wire, call by phone, or visit, with their mothers.

Sons of mothers here in Statesboro and Bulloch county are among those scattered over the world and unable to express their love except by the mutual knowledge that love exists and that each is thinking of the other.

But in the United States on Mother's Day, if your son is a member of the armed forces, there is a good chance that he will spend that day with the mother of a son who may be spending the day with you.

For plans are in the making to give you a chance to play "Mother for a Day" to some other mother's son.

Army, Navy, Air Corps and Marine camp areas all over the nation, the U.S.O., together with the Red Cross and the Army Officers, are co-operating to extend invitations to men to spend that day, May 10, as a Mother's Day guest in homes in this area.

Statesboro Mothers will invite other Mothers' sons at Camp Stewart to spend that day with them. Knowing that your son is being invited to the home of some mother near wherever he may be, it becomes your pleasure and delight to invite to your home the son of some mother wherever she may be.

Call or notify Mrs. W. A. (Honey) Bowen that you will play "Mother for a Day" to two "Sons for a Day" on Mother's Day.

Bulloch County Grand Jury Denounces "Pardon Racket"

Bulloch county joins the march of Georgia counties in denouncing the promiscuous pardoning of hardened criminals.

This week the April Term Grand Jury of Bulloch county expressed in its presentments its disapproval of the wholesale pardoning of criminals in Georgia, as follows:

"This Grand Jury, in line with the Grand Juries of sixty odd other counties of Georgia which have already taken similar action, desires to go on record as being opposed to the wholesale pardoning and paroling of convicted criminals, some of them in our own county. Abuse of the privilege of executive clemency tends to lower respect for the courts and to create in the criminal element a disregard for law and order which imperils the very foundations of our government. We earnestly recommend that our next General Assembly enact such legislation as will effectively correct this evil."

We commend the members of our Grand Jury for their recommending that laws be enacted to put an end to one of the most vicious practices prevalent in the state of Georgia today.

Grand Juries of more than sixty other counties have condemned what has become known as the "Pardon Racket" in this state. All of them urge that steps be taken to correct this most vicious practice.

Georgia counties are realizing more and more the dangers surrounding the pardon racket and are rallying around each other to free the state of it. It is hoped that the time is not far away when every county in the state will sound off in union demanding the complete correction of this evil.

Statesboro Hi-Owl Wins High Award in Newspaper Contest

Congratulations to the members of the staff of the Statesboro Hi-Owl, student publication of the Statesboro High School.

Announcement was made this week that the Hi-Owl had been awarded one of the highest places in high school journalism in the Southeast.

The Hi-Owl rolled up a score of 800 points out of a possible 1,000 points on the official score sheet to lead 139 schools in the Southeast in the thirtieth annual Emory University-Atlanta Journal High School Newspaper Contest.

The judging was made on the basis of campus coverage, quality of writing, headlines and make-up, editorials, special departments, advertising, and printing.

This war calls for every ounce of energy, every dime and dollar we can muster for ships and planes—and guns.

NEVILLS NEWS

The Nevills School was not in session Friday because the teachers attended the G. E. A. meeting in Savannah.

Much work is being done on the Nevills School Victory Garden. The string beans will soon be ready for serving. Tomato plants have been set in the garden. Plans are to can more vegetables this year than ever before.

Miss Madge Lee Nesmith spent the week-end in Savannah. Misses Maude White, Jessie Wynn and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller and daughters spent the week-end in Jacksonville, Fla., the guests of Mrs. Alice Miller and family.

Miss Myrtle Schwalls spent the week-end with her parents at Kite, Ga.

Mrs. Rebecca Young joined her little son, Woodie, and her mother, Mrs. Lawrence of Hickory, N. C., in a week-end outing at Savannah Beach.

Mrs. B. D. Hodges is now at her home near here after spending some time in the Bulloch county hospital and with her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Martin of Statesboro, where she received treatment for a fractured hip. Mrs. Hodges is much improved and is now receiving visitors. We hope she can soon walk again.

The Nevills teachers surfaced with the Registration at the school Monday.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week on ... TODAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 30, WILL BE UNSETTLED. FISHING GOOD.

FRIDAY, MAY 1, WILL BE CLEAR. FISHING STILL GOOD.

SATURDAY, MAY 2, WILL BE PLEASANT. FISHING PRETTY GOOD.

SUNDAY, MAY 3, WILL BE WARM. FISHING JUST FAIR.

MONDAY, MAY 4, WILL BE CLOUDY. FISHING NOT SO GOOD.

TUESDAY, MAY 5, WILL BE HOT. FISHING NOT SO HOT.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, WILL BE WARM. FISHING NOT WORTH POOLING WITH.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

We'll now believe anything. We had heard of "flying fish" ... we did not believe ... then we saw a school of flying fish and so we now know there are flying fish. We had heard of "jumping Joseph" ... we did not believe ... then we met a man named Joseph and saw him jump. We had heard of "jumping mullet" ... we did not believe ... then one night last week we saw jumping mullet ... and now we'll believe anything.

Last week Howell Sewell and Bill Bowen carried us "mullet-jumping." They made elaborate plans—a big spotlight, battery, consulted the hydrographic report to determine the expectancy of the water surface, the run of the tide, consulted the almanac to determine the phase of the moon, then hired Dan Wing, a famous negro fisherman on the Georgia coast, to go along with his mullet net so that we could bring back some mullet (after you get them in the boat you can't tell whether they jumped in, pulled in, netted in or came in by invitation).

We went along with that "show me, then I'll believe you" attitude. Other unbelievers to be shown were George and Martha Johnson, Dot Brannen and Brooks Grimes. After driving through a second down around ... just put-put-putting around in a maze of creeks. Howell directed Bill who handled that big boat like a sailor. We were just easing along ... Howell's light searching along the edge of the water ... finding ten thousand diamonds glinting in the light-drenched marsh grasses. We forgot for a moment that we were out "mullet jumping" ... then a flash of scaled silver and there at our feet on the bottom of the boat was a fish! Eureka! A "jumping mullet"! We were amazed!

A fish, a mullet, had jumped in our boat. Swiftly and surely it had "jumped" from beneath the surface of that water into our boat ... then another one and then another ... and we believed.

We admired Howell ... we admired Bill ... we admired Dan ... for not one said "I told you so."

It's a lazy man's way of fishing and we loved it. The coast that would make Bataan look like a dance floor, we arrived at "what looks like a good place." There Dan was waiting for us. Everything just right ... the moon, the wind, the tide, the water surface, the salt content ... all perfect. A big boat, motor, gasoline, paddles, net ... and all. The group of unbelievers deviated into two parts. The first outfit going out included Howell, George, Martha, Dot and Dan Wing. They put-put-putted off by the light of the moon with Howell holding the spot light. They returned in about two hours ... you're right ... no jumping mullet! Yeah, they had some mullet alright ... remember the mullet net Dan Wing brought along?

Howell was feeling pretty bad about that trip ... it was Howell who told us about going mullet jumping one night and 182 mullet jumped into his boat ... it was beginning to look as though Howell was about to be made out a teller of stories.

Now it was our turn. We got aboard and with Bill Bowen at the motor, Dan up in the front of the boat, and Howell in the middle with his spotlight. Brooks and I sat near Howell—primed to finish.

A finishing school, according to a local man, is a school that when daughter completes the course, dad is finished.

The handwriting on the wall is still sometimes prophetic—of a licking for Little Johnnie who put it there.

Advertising is expensive to those who neglect it.

Consider the postage stamp—it was licked at the beginning, but it gets there just the same.

A WAR MESSAGE FROM THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

IT'S YOUR MOVE NOW
THE MORE BONDS YOU BUY...THE MORE PLANES WILL FLY

This Axis War upon us is a matter of life or death for America, your free America! Now, as never before in all our glorious history, our Army, Navy and Marine Corps urgently need planes, tanks, ships and guns!

Literally billions of dollars are needed immediately to produce these and other weapons of defense . . . of offense . . . and of Victory! They must be produced now! The money must be secured now! Let's do it the voluntary way, the American Way, the Defense Bond way!

If we are to smash the enemy out of our seas and blast him from the air over our heads, every dollar you can spare, every dime that is not absolutely required for the necessities of food, clothing, and shelter should be, yes, must be, loaned to your Government!

We must act fast. Start getting your share of United States Defense Bonds and Stamps today. Get them regularly, day after day, week after week. If you have already bought a Bond, now is the time to get more!

Remember, every Bond you buy is a blow at the military maniacs attacking us—that every dollar you invest will come back to you with interest on that brighter, happier day when Victory is ours, and there is peace again throughout the world.

FACTS ABOUT DEFENSE BONDS—(SERIES E)

HOW MUCH DO THEY COST?	UPON MATURITY YOU GET
$18.75	$25.00
$37.50	$50.00
$75.00	$100.00
$150.00	$200.00
$300.00	$400.00
$750.00	$1,000.00

When is maturity? Ten years from the time you buy the Bond. If you need the money before then, you can cash the bonds at any time after 60 days from their issue date. A table of cash-in values is printed on each Bond. Naturally, the longer you hold the Bond, up to 10 years, the more money you'll get back. But you'll never get less than you put in.

What's the interest rate? When held to maturity, the Bonds yield 2 1/2% per year on your investment, compounded semiannually—you get $4 for every $3.

Where do I go to buy a Bond? To your local Bank, Post Office, Savings and Loan Association, or other Defense Bond Agency.

What about Defense Stamps? Buying Defense Stamps is a convenient way of saving money with which to buy a real Defense Bond. Stamps are sold for as little as 10¢, and add up to a real Defense Bond as fast as you can buy them.

When should I buy a Bond? Start now; buy regularly. If your company has a Defense Savings Plan, take advantage of it NOW. INVEST IN SAFETY—WITH PERFECT SAFETY!

Remember—You can start buying Defense Bonds by buying Defense Stamps for as little as 10¢

20 cents in Defense Stamps buys 5 cartridges.
25 cents in Defense Stamps buys a soldier's mess kit.
$1.50 in Defense Stamps buys a first-aid kit.
$2.00 in Defense Stamps buys a good warm blanket.
$10.00 in Defense Stamps buys 2 steel helmets.

The More Defense Bonds You Buy
The More Planes Will Fly

Grand Jury Presentments

There are twenty-nine (29) men in the grand jury, 16 State colored, and 11 County colored, all well and on the road at work in good health and being properly cared for.

We inspected the kitchen, convict cages and quarters of the Superintendent and Guards, mules and harness, and all other equipment, and found them in good condition.

The living quarters were in good sanitary condition and the sleeping quarters were in every way comfortable.

The equipment was in good condition and very little depreciation noted.

LOVELY PARTY GIVEN BY MRS. MORRIS AND MISS OLLIFF

An outstanding social event of the week was the lovely party given by Mrs. Frank Olliff and Mrs. Thad Morris at the home of Mrs. Morris on College Boulevard Wednesday afternoon. The beauty of the home was enhanced with the attractive arrangements of roses, sweet peas, and flowering pomegranate in the rooms where the guests played. After the bridge games a variety of sandwiches, cookies and an iced drink were served.

Those playing were Mrs. Grover Brannen, Mrs. D. A. Burrell, Mrs. Don Brannen, Mrs. C. B. Matthews, Mrs. Edwin Groover, Mrs. Billy Cone, Mrs. J. S. Murray, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. E. L. Anderson, Mrs. E. M. Kinney, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Thayer, Mrs. Percy Averitt, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. Ronald Neil, Mrs. A. E. Anderson, Mrs. Gordon Franklin, Mrs. Lehan Franklin, Mrs. Jesse Atkins, Mrs. Harry Sack, Mrs. Roger Holland, Mrs. Lannie Simmons, Mrs. Bruce Olliff, Mrs. J. G. Attaway, Mrs. Hoke Brunson, Mrs. Wallis Cobb, Mrs. Fred Lanier, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Horace Smith, Mrs. J. M. Thayer, Mrs. Frank Simmons, and Mrs. E. L. Poindester.

Those calling for tea during the afternoon were: Mrs. A. M. Gates, Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mrs. T. W. Boone, Mrs. F. W. Darby, and Mrs. Raymond Kennedy.

RECENT BRIDE ENTERTAINED WITH COCA-COLA PARTY

Mrs. H. H. Macon was hostess at a coca-cola party last week honoring Mrs. Elloway Forbes, Jr., a recent bride, at her home on Savannah Avenue.

Roses were used in profusion in the room where the guests assembled. The hostess served sandwiches, cookies, and punch.

Mrs. Macon's gift to the honor guest was a lovely crystal bowl. Mrs. Phil Hamilton, also a recent bride, was given a piece of crystal to match her pattern.

Those invited were Mrs. Brooks Simmons, Mrs. Linton Lanier, Mrs. Jim Donaldson, Miss Dot Remington, Miss Mary Frances Groover, Mrs. E. N. Brown, Mrs. Phil Hamilton.

Mrs. Olin Smith won low score and was given a party handkerchief; Mrs. John Mooney received perfume for club high, and Mrs. E. C. Oliver also received perfume for visitor's high.

Twenty club members and friends attended.

Flying Cadet Chess Faircloth, of Arcadia, Fla., spent the week-end with his parents here.

Francis Trappnell, of the Savannah Air Base, spent the week-end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morrison spent Friday in Savannah attending the G.E.A.

Corporal Morris McLemore of Camp Wheeler is spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McLemore.

Q. F. Baxter, Jr., was a visitor in Savannah on Friday and Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newsome of Savannah spent Sunday and Monday in Statesboro with her mother, Mrs. Baxter, who is very ill.

Carl Renfro of Griffin spent a few days in the city last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Renfro.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowen, Miss Dorothy Brannen, Miss Brooks Grimes, Miss Mary Will Walker, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston, Leodel Coleman and Howell Sewell spent the week-end at St. Simons.

Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. W. H. Blitch and Mrs. Bruce Olliff spent Monday in Savannah.

Mrs. Lon Blackwell of Homer, Ga., is visiting her twin sister, Mrs. J. W. Rucker. She will be here until Saturday of this week. She is also visiting her daughter, who attends the Teachers College.

WPA TO TRAIN OLDER WORKERS FOR JOBS IN DEFENSE INDUSTRIES

The Work Project Administration of Georgia has launched an intensified effort to train older workers to meet the requirements of war industry and will give all possible assistance to promoting their employment, according to State WPA Administrator Harry E. Harman, Jr.

Impetus to the training program in Georgia, he said, was given by F. H. Dryden, Acting Commissioner of Work Projects, who, calling attention to the President's proclamation of National Employment Month, urged that vocational and auxiliary shop facilities be utilized fully.

"There were 495,000 men and 134,000 women 40 years of age or older on WPA a month ago," Mr. Dryden said. "All of these are available for placement or training in private industry. They have proved that they not only are employable but are capable of contributing greatly to the strength and productivity of the Nation by their accomplishments on WPA."

Many of them lack the specialized skills now in demand, but have shown aptitude for other tasks that can be developed by proper training.

Mr. Harman pointed out that the average age of the Georgia WPA worker is 43 years for men and 44 for women. In 1939, he said, the average age of the men workers was 34; women 40, and in 1941, the age had increased to 39 for men and 42 for women. In 1939, the national average of the labor force was 32 for men, 40 for women, and last year for men was 42 and 42 for women.

Scout Camporee Begins Friday at Camp Brannen

Members of the county troops of Boy Scouts will gather at Camp Brannen, near Metter, for a two-day Camporee tomorrow, May 15, according to Holke S. Brunson, Bulloch County District chairman.

The features of the camporee will consist of nine events scheduled for Saturday morning when Boy Scouts will compete in troop inspection and drill, fire building and string burning contest, hand-camp relay race, signaling, first aid, knot-tying, messenger service relay, rope climbing, and fifty-yard dash.

The Camporee will open at 1:00 o'clock Friday when Scouts will check in until 4 o'clock. The first day will include pitching camp, gathering fire wood, cooking and eating supper, cleaning up, re-inspection, campfire and court of honor, call to quarters, and tents.

Saturday's program will include tent call, revile, tent cooking and eat breakfast, inspection, activities, hike, retreat, break camp and clean up camp site and check out.

WPA TO TRAIN OLDER WORKERS FOR JOBS IN DEFENSE INDUSTRIES

The Work Project Administration of Georgia has launched an intensified effort to train older workers to meet the requirements of war industry and will give all possible assistance to promoting their employment, according to State WPA Administrator Harry E. Harman, Jr.

Impetus to the training program in Georgia, he said, was given by F. H. Dryden, Acting Commissioner of Work Projects, who, calling attention to the President's proclamation of National Employment Month, urged that vocational and auxiliary shop facilities be utilized fully.

"There were 495,000 men and 134,000 women 40 years of age or older on WPA a month ago," Mr. Dryden said. "All of these are available for placement or training in private industry. They have proved that they not only are employable but are capable of contributing greatly to the strength and productivity of the Nation by their accomplishments on WPA."

24,183 War Ration Books Issued Here

Mr. Herbert Kingery, secretary to the local ration board, announced this week that 24,183 War Ration Books (for Sugar) were issued between May 4 and May 7 by the teachers of Bulloch county.

At the time of registration, 1,724 stamps were detached from the books for sugar on hand in the homes of customers. These stamps represented 1,724 pounds of sugar.

232 applications were filed on which ration books were not issued because of possession of excess sugar stocks.

On April 28 and 29, 43 retailers of sugar registered with an inventory of 8,650 pounds; 7 institutional and industrial users of sugar registered with an inventory of 745 pounds and did not receive sugar certificates.

On the same dates 93 retailers of sugar registered with an inventory of 4,130 pounds; 2 wholesalers of sugar registered with an inventory of 288 pounds and 51 institutional and industrial users registered with an inventory of 5,640 pounds.

The weight value of the sugar purchase certificates issued at the time of initial registration was 17,246 pounds for retailers, 15,000 pounds for wholesalers and 17,673 pounds for institutional and industrial users.

Waldo Anderson Wins Rich's Essay Contest

According to an announcement by Rich's in Atlanta, Waldo Anderson, a student of Nevils High School in Bulloch County, was the county's first prize winner in Rich's Diamond Jubilee Contest. Subject of the contest was "What Citizen of My County Has Made the Greatest Contribution to the State of Georgia?"

Mr. R. J. H. DeLoach, of Statesboro, was the citizen about whom young Anderson chose to write.

Quida Dell Wilson of Route 1, Pembroke, Ga., was second prize winner from Bulloch County and is also a student of Nevils High School.

The successful Congressional District winner from the first district was Mary Zoller of Clyo, Ga., and the English teacher, who also participated in the district award was Miss Ruth Bronell of Clyo High School located in Effingham County.

Young Anderson received a $25 Defense Bond and a trip to Atlanta to see the Georgia State Fair, May 9.

Miss Wilson received a $10 award.

Bob Sheppard Makes Survey Of Tobacco

After making an extensive survey of Bulloch county and surrounding counties, R. E. (Bob) Sheppard, tobacco warehouseman, this week advised tobacco growers to secure as many good sized tobacco plants as they can and replant their tobacco acreage which they have failed to secure a good stand.

Mr. Sheppard stated that his survey reveals that the tobacco crop in this section is much better than a great number of the growers think it is. He admitted that the dry weather has prevented growers from securing good stands and has retarded the growth in places of early planting. He pointed out that it is better that the dry spells came before the tobacco plants had reached some size. He went on to say that where growers have had to replant if they would use a teaspoonful of nitrate of soda or some good tobacco top dressing to all tobacco plants, the undergrowth plants just before the first cultivation of these plants would even up the growth with the larger plants. "With the rains we had Tuesday and Wednesday of this week," Mr. Sheppard said, "the tobacco plants will have a uniform crop of tobacco in a few days."

There seems to be lots of growers who think that the dry weather has injured the crop, that is not true," said Mr. Sheppard. "It is true that it has retarded the growth in a few cases of early setting. But I had much rather see it dry now than later when the crop gets up. That is when dry weather hurts it most. Up until now I haven't seen the first crop injured from dry weather."

Continuing, Mr. Sheppard said, "my advice to all growers is to do your very best to make a crop of good tobacco. This is the season as the outlook for price at present is exceptionally good."

FARMERS, DEALERS ASKED TO AID IN BAG CONSERVATION

Bulloch county farmers, farm organizations, grain, feed and seed dealers and other were asked this week by W. A. Hodges, chairman of the Bulloch County USDA War Board, to aid in the nationwide bag conservation program launched recently by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

Every farmer and dealer in this county, Mr. Hodges said, has an important part to play in the conservation of fabric bags (burlap and cotton) needed for agricultural purposes. He pointed out that there is a shortage of bags now, but if we take care of these we have and keep them in use, we will be doing our part to prevent the shortage and a great deal to prevent it from becoming a more serious one.

War time expansion in agriculture means that approximately 2,000,000 bags will be needed for packaging farm commodities this year. That is roughly about one bag for every acre of land used under normal conditions.

"Our part in the conservation program is to see that every bag we have on hand and in use does its full job and a great deal more. War has cut deeply into the imports of burlap from India and the stocks of this material now on hand must be shared with our military forces. We have plenty of cotton in the raw state, but mills having the facilities to make bagging materials are operating at capacity to turn out war orders."

Mr. Hodges pointed out that farmers can take the first step in bag conservation by taking stock of the bags they have on hand, by sorting by size, type and condition, and by storing them where they will be dry and safe. Farmers are urged to sell the bags they will not need.

And So He's No Longer The "Kid Brother"

And so the kid brother joins the Parachute Troops!

And now he's no longer the kid brother to his older brothers, nor is his mother and father's baby son.

He's a man in his Uncle Sam's man's army. He arrived at the decision to join the Parachute Troops in his own mind.

It was his problem and he solved it in youth's most direct method by announcing, "Mother, I've joined the Parachute Troops." And that was that. He left last night.

He left with his head held high and a snap in his walk and a grin on his face . . . but when he said "goodbye" there was a tiny wavering in his voice. He grabbed his mother and she couldn't say anything. She held him close to her and finally managed to sob "God bless you, my son." He released his mother and gripped his father's hand with a simple "so long, Dad." He turned to his older brother with a "keep 'em in the road fellow," grasped his hand hard and long and swung to the platform of the moving train. He was gone to learn to say "Good morning, Death; good night, Life."

It wasn't just G. C. Coleman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Coleman, and brother of Jim and Leodel Coleman, saying goodbye. He was the fighting youth of America telling his mother, his father, his sister, his brother, that "All's going to be well. It's you and for what you stand that we're fighting. It's to make you proud of your nation, of your government, of your home, your church, and of your sons, that we're going to fight the winning fight."

He was the hundreds of thousands of men who have left and are leaving home, church, work, play, to fight the good fight with all their might.

His mother and father and brothers are the millions of mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers who are bidding their sons and brothers "God speed," and committing them to the hands of their God in the knowledge that His presence claims the soul, and gives it quiet and repose.

It's going to be quiet around the house now. His dog, "Sonny," is going to miss him. There'll be no more clothes on the floors to pick up and there'll not be the satisfaction to his mother there once was in baking a coconut cake. And she'll catch herself calling him in the mornings to get up and get ready for breakfast, and listening for him to open the door when he comes in at night. His father will not be asking him "what do you want the car for?" and his brother will not suggest that he keep to his work instead of taking the afternoon off to play tennis.

His mother'll wish she had cooked more coconut cakes and his father will wish he'd let him have the car more, and his brother will wish he had given him more time off to play his tennis.

No . . . it's not going to be the same with "the

The Briar Patch Philosopher . . .

Dear Ed:

I got a complaint. Reckon you got a lot of them. But how come the stores in town close Wednesday after dinner? They's a stock sale on in town on Wednesdays after dinner and a lot of us farmers come to town to sell our cows and cows and we got money in our overalls and breeches that just burns to be spent. Sambody says that its cause the stores in Chatham close then, too, and that the store keepers in town are feared that if they didn't close the same time then in Chatham did that the folks in Bulloch would go to Savannah where the stores in Statesboro is closed.

Lord-o-mighty! I shore can't hitch up ole Jake and get to Chatham and back . . . not in a week. And I hear tell there's many a folk there in town, and they ain't no very good fires on the family bus and what with the gas sication like it is . . . they ain't nobody going to take a trip down to Chatham when they can get it there in town. Don't that make sense?

I sold sum hogs in Statesboro last Wednesday. I had sum money in my pocket and I wanted me to bring her sum things. But I had to go home and not get them. Then I had to come back to town next day.

You all talk a heap about saying up on tires and gas and cars and such. Then you turn right around and fix things so as how a man can't. Looks like to me "aint right."

Me and Ma saw your Ma at the Primitive Church last Wednesday night. We got a ride back into town to hear Brother Hartley preach. He's purty good. He don't mix up words like some preachers I hear. He gives it straight like the Book says it. They tell me 'bout Frank William's boy, Everett, was ordained deacon there that morning. Him and Allen Lanier, Dedrick Waters and James Jones. Its good to have some young folks deacons in the church.

I want to come in and see that there globe thing you wrote 'bout last week. Them's right fur places you was talking 'bout. 15,000 miles to that kangaroo country. Taint no wonder that our boys fighting down there in that part of the world git hungry and get too puny to fight. Caint get em nothing 't eat.

I see Franklin Drug store got 'em a flag after you wrote about the stores putting out flags. I wur in there and he's got a box of sand and a shovel in there. Told me them was the rules of the defense council. Didn't see none any where else. Says they is what it takes to put out a fire bomb. Reckon you put sum stuff in your paper 'bout Germans dropping them kinda bombs. I got me a bucket and filled it up with sand and put a handle in that ole shovel that had been under the edge of the barn for four-five years and put it on the back porch. Ma says I'm working out in the hot sun too much these days. And I ain't yet changed her ways of thinking its a good idea. I jest says twont do no harm to have a bucket of sand out on the back porch.

This is a long letter, so reckon I better stop. Ma's got sum little things for me to do.

Yours truly,

BPP

Went out to the hospital to see "Aunt" Georgia Bunce (Mrs. J. A. Bunce) one morning last week. She's been there more than three months. Mrs. Hardaway, the superintendent at the hospital, says that during all that time "Aunt" Georgia has been the model patient. Her room is next to "Judge" Harry Aiken, and when she learned that her radio worried the "Judge" a little she hasn't had it on for nearly three weeks. She rides her wheel chair down to Mrs. Hardaway's room when she wants to listen to the radio. She expects to be out of the hospital this week.

The nurses at the hospital now have a home of their own. For years it was necessary that they live in the rooms in the hospital. Now they live in that little bungalow across the street nearby. Mrs. M. V. Fletcher is their "house mother."

Hoke Brunson, secretary of the board of trustees is happy over the progress of the hospital.

Lieutenant Gilbert Cone and we became drill sergeants for a night on Tuesday night of last week when we went to Claxton with Major Thad Morris to work with the Claxton unit of the State Guard. We each had a squad of men drilling them up and down the streets of Claxton under the street lights. We were "forward marching," "column righting" like veterans . . . until we like to turn our squad into an auto and Gilbert near got his squad wrapped around a telephone post.

However, despite the element of humor that enters into the training of new men in the State

Guard, it is heartening to citizens of communities like ours and Claxton and Sylvania, Springfield, Greenville and Metter, to know that there are men who are willing to give time and thought to home defense. And it'll not take many nights like we had in Claxton to see those men straightening up and giving you a salute that'll pop your eyeballs out, as Captain Preston expresses it. Men all over the state are doing it with only one idea in mind . . . protection of home and loved ones.

Graduation time is near on us. Wonderful times of presents, dates, dances, parties. It used to be the time when Dad and Mother let you have the car for the first time by yourself and you had a real "call-up-over-the-phone date" with your best girl. Now, what with the tires and gasoline and autos tied up like they are, handsome boy-grads and pretty girl-grads will do more and more walking . . . but they can take it!

Why can't we have a parade for the boys who are being inducted into the army? An old-timer was telling us of the days of 1917 when a group of men were called into the service it was the signal for the organization of a grand parade with flags flying, band playing, and mothers, sisters, wives, and sweethearts crying and smiling and saying goodbye at the train. What if the bus now does leave at 8 o'clock in the morning. If a man can get up early to go to war, why can't we at home get up to see them off with cheers?

"I won't need these climbers for awhile"

BILL SMITH is one of 275 employees of the Georgia Power Company who have laid aside the tools of their various trades and gone off to war. They are using rifles in place of slide rules; parachutes in place of climbers and safety belts, tanks and ships in place of trolleys and buses.

They are scattered over the United States and across the seas. Of the 275, approximately 80 are in foreign soil with the army, or at sea with the navy. For example, there were two brothers, last heard of in Manila; two lieutenants and a captain in the Canal Zone; a lieutenant on a military mission to the Near East; ensigns on battleships; non-coms, privates and gobs.

The ones of us at home are also helping out. Half of this Company's 5,000 employees have taken up arms. They are Cross first aid training; lighting engineers are advisors on blackouts; home economists and rural engineers are promoting the "food for victory" activities. Our industrial engineers have materially assisted the War Production Board in assembling information for sub-contracting war orders.

As air raid wardens, fire wardens, state guardsmen and specialists in other duties of civilian defense, including the protection of public utility property, we are working wherever our particular abilities are needed.

The main job, though, is to keep the wheels rolling, in power plants and on trolleys and buses. War production of every kind depends upon power. Kilowatt hours and man hours are the essential ingredients of every manufactured article. Every plane and tank, every rifle, bomb and bullet, every ship and shell is made with electric power.

That's our responsibility—to keep the war industries going and to take care of civilian needs. Nothing will be allowed to interfere with service to war industries. For civilian users we'll do the best we can. In serving them, we are subject to limitations of supplies and materials allowed us by the Government and the war is taking many of our employees, but we will do no less than the best we can.

T. C. HIGH JUNIORS AND SENIORS HAVE BANQUET AND DANCE

The Junior class of the T. C. High School entertained the members of the Senior class with a banquet at the Jackel Hotel, followed with a dance at the college gymnasium last Friday night.

The theme for the banquet was "Pan American Neighbors" and place cards were figures of South American Seniors in gay colors. Miss Henrietta Battle, president of the Junior class, presided over the banquet.

The dance which followed the banquet was held in the college gym and there again the Pan American theme was used. The students danced under a canopy of red, white and blue crepe paper and around the walls there were interspersed cactus, sombreros and brightly colored gourds. Music was furnished by an orchestra from the college. Miss Battle and Bruce Carruth led the Grand March at the beginning of the dance. About ninety-one guests, including student teachers and faculty members were present for the occasion.

"Not Unpatriotic To Buy a New Car"

. . . Says Leon Henderson

"May I say at this point that no one eligible to buy a car should be at all uneasy or consider himself unpatriotic in obtaining a new car under the quota."

—Leon Henderson, administrator, Office of Price Administration, in a letter April 15 to Rep. Clifton Woodrum of Virginia.

Administrator Henderson's letter speaks for itself. No longer need eligible new-car purchasers fear public scorn and charges of "unpatriotism" because they apply for or receive a new car under the government's rationing program.

Nor do they need fear to approach automobile dealers and salesmen for information on rationing or for assistance in making out proper application.

By the same token, dealers and salesmen need not fear to assist eligible new-car buyers in putting their applications in proper form.

The government's new-car rationing program is designed to apportion "frozen" cars to essential motorists.

Administrator Henderson, the nation's rationing authority, has now removed any doubts about the patriotism of eligible purchasers.

Engagement Announced

The questionnaires to list civilian occupations and skills for registrants in the first selective service registrations now in the armed forces are now being mailed out, Marshall Robertson, secretary to the local board, announced today.

The county-wide school will be held in the court house at 8:30 p. m. After next week, the meetings will be held each Monday night until the course is finished. Dr. Hook stated that the school would also be conducted in about eight or 10 communities just as soon as the school was completed. These schools would also be held on Monday night.

Duties of air raid wardens, of the auxiliary firemen and policemen, handling of incendiary bombs, high explosive bombs, civilian morale and panic protection, war gases, treatment of gas, gas masks, decontamination and protective clothing, military defense and civilian protection, and air craft warning system will be included in the course. Dr. Hook stated that the 10 representatives to the school in Savannah last week and various other individuals would be called on to conduct the defense classes.

Every member of any phase of defense work will perhaps attend these schools, but Dr. Hook stated that others that would be urged to attend. He pointed out that taking care of Bulloch county's defense was a job for local people and that local people had to be prepared for it. The armed forces have all they can do to find the enemy and fight them. They cannot be had to defend civilians in this day of total warfare.

Households which had excess amounts of sugar and were not issued War Ration Books in the rationing registration were advised today by the Office of Price Administration to police their own use of sugar in accordance with the designated consumer sugar allotments.

At the present time, the OPA said, no family or individual should consume sugar at a greater rate than a person each two weeks, which is the current consumer allotment.

This rule applies to those who did not receive War Ration Books because they possessed sugar in excess of six pounds each, as well as to those who were issued War Ration Books.

No War Ration Books will be issued to persons who registered excess amounts of sugar until a sufficient number of ration periods have expired during which the consumer—if he has ration stamps—might have purchased an amount of sugar equal to his excess.

The OPA has received reports that some people who registered excess amounts of sugar think they can obtain War Ration Books as soon as the excess is gone, regardless of the length of time it was consumed.

Families who do not restrict their use of sugar to the prescribed allotments will only be penalizing themselves since a time may come when they have no sugar and will not be permitted to purchase any.

The OPA also issued a warning concerning lost War Ration Books. In the event a book is lost, a person may make application to his local rationing board for a new one, but it cannot be issued until two months after the date of his application.

Consumers are asked to exercise the utmost care of their War Ration Books. Inasmuch as no exceptions will be made to the lost book rule, persons claiming special hardship because of illness or other conditions beyond their control may take their cases up with their local rationing boards.

While the boards cannot issue new books until the two month period has elapsed, they may in a deserving case permit a person to file a Special Purpose Application for a Sugar Purchase Certificate.

A Citizen's Pledge In Wartime America

I pledge myself to the common cause by eager submission to any sacrifice that hastens Victory. I will keep physically fit and spiritually calm. I will not indulge in careless talk, in idle fears, or selfish ambitions. I will exert my greatest energies to help in the fulfillment of our War Production Program. I will give generously of my time to Civilian Defense Projects. I appreciate that business is not as usual. I accept this situation cheerfully and pledge myself to do nothing in my business which will interfere with my country's need. I recognize that the home represents the hope of America. I will help to keep it a shrine of harmony and beauty . . . a citadel of strength and courage. I will conserve materials. I will not hoard. I will systematically save so as to anticipate my taxes. I will pay these cheerfully and promptly. I will invest in War Bonds and Stamps.

That's The Stuff That's Going To Win This War

He was a neat old gentleman. A long, white beard, a walking cane, stooped just a bit. He came in the post office with a slip of paper in his hands. He approached the money order window and asked the clerk what he must do about the slip he had. "I signed it and the man told me to come in the post office once a month and take care of it." The money order clerk looked at it and guided the old gentleman to the next window where Arthur Turner, Post Master, was working. Postmaster Turner took the slip, examined it, and asked the old gentleman if he had a quarter. A quarter was produced and Arthur took a stamp and glued it in a little folder and gave it to the man. He explained that he could get the same service from his mailman once each month and that he would not have to come to town next month. The old gentleman thanked him and turned away, pleased as punch. He was making good his pledge to buy War Stamps. He had signed his pledge to buy one twenty-five cent stamp a month. He had made a special trip into town from way out in the county to fulfill his pledge. He had his pledge with him. He showed it to the Post Master who sold him a War Stamp and placed it in his War Stamp Folder. The P. M. advised him that he could buy his War Stamp once each month from his mail carrier and would not have to come to town. That's the stuff that's going to win this war.

One of the best but hardest things to remember is to forget your troubles.

Good luck has a habit of always butting in while a man is hard at work.

People who travel along on a bluff are riding for a fall.

Don't be foolish: that "stop, look and listen" at railroad crossings is not intended for the engineer.

Who Ever Hear of Fertilizing A Fish Pond?

A brand new idea is being promoted by the State Experiment Station at Auburn, Alabama, which should interest the farmers of Bulloch county, as well as in the entire state.

A farm fish pond! And you use ordinary commercial fertilizer to fertilize a fish pond. Sounds like somebody has figured out an excellent way to throw away good fertilizer. But not so.

Researchers at the Alabama Experiment Station have found that properly stocked and fertilized ponds and lakes will produce more meat per acre than land will. A good pond of ten acres will produce twice as many pounds of fish as ten acres of good pasture land will of meat. Ten acres of good pond will make six hundred pounds of edible fish; ten acres of meadow will produce only half that amount of beef.

A story in a recent issue of the Colliers Magazine points out that many ponds are overstocked and contain insufficient food for fish to grow to legal size. Poor fishing is often caused by too many small fish. The only practical and economical way yet found to increase fish production is to increase the food supply. This has been done by fertilizing the ponds like fertilizing cotton fields. Home-mixed fertilizers containing 40 pounds of sulphate of ammonia, 60 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate, 5 pounds of muriate of potash and 15 pounds of ground limestone, are applied per acre of water ten to fifteen times during the spring and summer months. Where commercially mixed fertilizers are used similar results are obtained by using 100 pounds of 6-8-4 plus 10 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre at each application. The fertilizer makes microscopic plants grow. These plants attract insects which are eaten by the fish.

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it? W. G. Kincannon of the Ogeechee Soil Conservation District points out four simple steps to assure good results.

1. Select a site of an acre or so on small water-shed so the overflow will be small. A one-acre pond will feed the average size family but no one knows yet how many acres per boy is needed to satisfy his fishing instincts.
2. Place a pipe through the dam so all the water can be drained out if the pond should ever need restocking. Most all ponds give good fishing for a very few years, and then get overstocked with numbers—which means too many small fish.
3. Stock each surface acre with about 1,500 fingerling bluegill bream and 100 black bass.
4. Fertilize the pond.

And there you have provided yourself with your own fishing preserve. You'll always be sure of catching your fish. A twelve-acre pond in Alabama provided its owners with the pleasure of catching more than 2,000 bream and 1,750 catfish in one year. They got something!

Additional information may be secured from Mr. Kincannon or the Alabama Experiment Station at Auburn, Ala.

... To Respect Its Flag, And To Defend It Against All Enemies

Flag of the free heart's hope and home! By angle's hands to valor given, Thy stars have lit the world's dome, And all thy hues were born in heaven.

The week of June 8-14 has been designated as National Flag Week. During that week civic organizations, churches and other groups will participate in observing this week.

It is a week in which citizens of the United States will renew their allegiance to the ideals symbolized by the Stars and Stripes and reaffirm their faith in the institutions of American Democracy embodied in our Declaration of Independence and our Constitution.

The theme of the 1942 Flag Week is an intensified and unified participation of all loyal Americans in our war against the enemies of the United Nations. Our sons, brothers and husbands are fighting in distant lands; all of us are sacrificing and laboring side by side with our allies. Our flag and their flags stand united in the cause of liberty and human rights.

Compliments are like perfume—to be inhaled but not swallowed.

No Rubber In Sight
Drivers who are burning up their automobile tires now can find no encouragement in the news about the rubber situation. Experts don't always agree, but most of them unite in saying there will be little or no synthetic rubber for civilian use until 1944 or 1945.

America is busily building factories for the production of synthetic rubber. When they go into production we will have a lot of rubber—for the army and navy and war production. But none, we are told, for civilian automobiles.

Judges in some cities are taking away the driver's license of those found guilty of speeding. That is one way of cutting down, not only on accidents, but also on wearing out tires. Tires last longer, and the car gives more mileage per gallon of gasoline, at 30- or 40-mile per hour gait.

We got to thinking about "Judge" Harry Aiken. The Judge has been in the hospital for a long time now and his condition is nothing over which to toss our hat. Why the deuce must it have to be some young man like him who was doing the community a great good representing them in a state government that now as never before needs men like him? Why couldn't it have been a knocker like us, or any dozen other knockers around here that we know who do nothing but take up space could be better occupied?

One of our gladioli busted out in bloom yesterday. And our nasturtiums are mighty puny.

A short convoy of army trucks blew through town yesterday about 3 o'clock . . . they got lost in town and went sailing down West Main street. They were all flying red flags. HIGH EXPLOSIVES. They were not worried about somebody bumping them.

Young men are getting scarce around here . . . and they are talking about accepting volunteers for a woman's army.

A cat wandered into our place . . . just came in.

Got the Judge on our mind again. Have you been out to the hospital recently? Go out there and pay Mrs. Hardaway your respects. You'll like her and the way she's running your hospital.

More and more of Statesboro boys are qualifying to find out that they are never as sick as they think they are.

There's not going to be a swimming pool again this year . . . priorities caught up on us . . . no steel . . . have patience, we'll have a swimming pool yet.

IOTA PI NU FRATERNITY GIVES ANNUAL BRIDGE DANCE

The Alpha chapter of the Iota Pi Nu fraternity on the local campus entertained its members and their guests with their annual banquet and dance Saturday evening, May 23. The banquet was held in the Jaekel Hotel and the dance which followed was in the college gymnasium.

The banquet tables were attractively decorated with red and white curtains and the center of the tables, programs and menus were all printed in the fraternity colors. The girls present were given printed honorary membership certificates as favors. David Bowman, president for the past year, presided over the program. Miss Mary Thomas Perry, student sponsor, was presented with a gift from the group. Officers for the next year were introduced to the group.

A patriotic theme was used in the decorations for the dance with red, white and blue crepe paper streamers suspended across the gym, forming a canopy under which the group danced. William Crouse acted as recruiting officer and registered each person entering the door, which was in the form of an army tent entrance. Around the walls were figures of sailors, marines and soldiers, representing former members of the fraternity who are now in the armed forces. The Grand March, led by President Bowman, was the first dance. The picture of the bride and groom was on the wall. The family pews were marked by white gardenias, showered in tulle and gypsophylla.

Miss Billie Turner played the wedding music. Miss Mary Neal, the maid of honor and only attendant of the bride, was gowned in orchid organly, and carried pink roses.

James Tomlinson of Waynesboro was Lieutenant Reid's best man. The ushers were J. F. Bates, E. D. Fletcher, Millard Wallen and E. J. Daniels of Millen.

Miss Brinson entered with her daughter and gave her in marriage. Her costume was of black lace, posed over flesh marquette, and her flowers were pink carnations. The bride wore a picture of brunette loveliness in her wedding dress of white satin. It was made with sweetheart neckline, close-fitting waist and a full skirt with sweeping train. The veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms to a lace cap. Her flowers were a bouquet of gardenias and roses, showered in lilies of the valley, and she carried an imported lace handkerchief of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. H. A. Jones.

Following the ceremony the wedding party assembled in the vestibule of the church to greet the guests. Mrs. Hal Thigpen of Waynesboro, brother of the groom, wore a two-piece evening frock of rose crepe. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. Thigpen, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kelley, Miss Minnie L. Jones, Miss Mary Jones Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Ellis, Miss Kathryn Mulkey, Miss Grace Gray, Miss Cornelia Phillips, Miss Mary McNeil, Mrs. J. B. Bishop, Jr., of Statesboro.

Lieutenant Reid and his bride left immediately after the bride changed to her traveling costume for River, N. C., where he is to report for duty Monday night. He completed a special course for officers at Fort Knox, Ky., Saturday. Plans for this wedding were originally made for June but due to a change in the groom's orders the date was advanced to Sunday.

Mrs. Reid is well-known here. She graduated from Ga. Teachers College and taught in the City Schools this past year.

Miss Ella Sue Trapham, Zeke Daugh and Mrs. Allen were guests of the fraternity.

Mrs. Cecil Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Dodd, Mrs. L. E. Poindexter, Mrs. Devane Watson and Mrs. Percy Averitt.

SEVENTH GRADES ARE ENTERTAINED BY GRADE MOTHERS
The members of the two seventh grades of the Statesboro schools were entertained by the grade mothers of both rooms Friday afternoon after the graduation exercises.

The pupils were served Dixie cups, cookies and suckers and each one was presented with a war savings booklet containing one stamp. About 48 pupils were present.

Mrs. Wallis Cobb, Mrs. Waldo Floyd, Mrs. Dan Blitch, Mrs. Sam Strauss and Mrs. Tommy Rushing were the hostesses.

RIGGS-OLIFF
Miss Vivien Waters and Lewell Atkins were hosts Tuesday evening at an informal party at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Emitt Atkins and Mrs. John Paul Jones on North College street. The guests first assembled at the home of Mr. Atkins for sandwiches, potato chips and coca-colas and then went to Miss Waters' home for dessert. Afterwards the entire group had a dance at Cecil's.

The guests included Frances Martin and Parrish Blitch, Betty Grace Hodges and A. B. Anderson, Julie Turner and John Groover, Bernice Hodges and Dekle Banks, Wynell Nesmith and Kimball Johnston, Carmen Cowart and John Ford Mays, Helen Mays and Worth McDougald, Martha Rose Bowen and John Darley, Helen Aldred and Buddy Barnes, and Martha Jean Nesmith and Bobby Durden.

MISS HELEN PARKER ENGAGED TO G. SMITH PERRY, JR.
General and Mrs. Homer C. Parker of Atlanta and Statesboro, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Isabel, to G. Smith Perry, Jr., of Atlanta and Lawrenceville.

Miss Parker's mother was the late Annie Laurie Mallory of Macon, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Y. M. Mallory.

Mr. Perry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Green S. Perry of Lawrenceville. His mother was Lois Wilson, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Madison Wilson of Lawrenceville.

Miss Parker was educated at Girl's High School, Atlanta; G. S. C. W. at Milledgeville and Georgia Teachers College at Statesboro. She has taught school for a number of years.

Mr. Perry was educated at Lawrenceville High School and Emory Junior College at Oxford. He is an electrical engineer connected with Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at Glenn Memorial Chapel at five-thirty o'clock, on Thursday afternoon, August sixth, at Statesboro.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Swinson of this city. She received her education at the Statesboro High School and graduated later at Georgia Teachers College. The groom is originally from Wellington, Kansas, and is a graduate of Phillips University at Enid, Oklahoma. Before going to Valdosta as pastor of the First Christian Church, he was pastor of the Central Christian Church in Fitzgerald.

The marriage will take place in June.
