ABOUT THE COLLECTION

Biographical History: Hugh Marion Gillis was born on September 6, 1918, to Annie Lois Walker and Jim L. Gillis Sr. in Soperton, located in a portion of Montgomery County that two months later became part of the newly created Treutlen County. Gillis graduated from Soperton High School, attended Georgia Military College, and received a bachelor's degree in agriculture from the University of Georgia in 1939.

Gillis first served in the House of Representatives from 1941 through 1944, then served eight more years from 1949 to 1956. He served a two-year senate term for 1957-58, then was reelected to the senate in 1962—winning a legislative seat he would hold for the next forty-two years. Gillis was a classic rural Democrat whose politics were probably more conservative than most of the Republicans with whom he served. He was elected to the highest office within the senate, president pro tempore, for six years total, ranking him just below the lieutenant governor as presiding officer of that body. He also served at various times as chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee and, toward the end of his career, as head of the Natural Resources Committee. After his retirement in 2004, he served on the board of the Georgia Ports Authority. [New Georgia Encyclopedia]
