Rebecca Henderson Returns From Korea

Rebecca Henderson in South Korea

Most business students read about international business strategies, but few receive the chance to see international policies in action. Rebecca Henderson, a senior accounting major, spent a semester abroad in Daegu, South Korea. She enrolled in business courses, developed Korean language skills, and became immersed in the local culture. Henderson's decision to spend a semester abroad may give her the upper hand as she begins to take part in the global economy.

Honors Program is designed to foster the development of a critical sense of inquiry, a spirit of creativity, a global perspective and an ethic of civic responsibility. With your investment, the University Honors Program will continue to enrich the lives of students at Georgia Southern University.

Honors In Action with COBA

Honors business students take a photo with Viracon, Inc. employees in Statesboro

Dr. Trey Denton, professor of Marketing and Logistics, has developed two innovative courses for Honors students in the College of Business Administration (COBA). In the fall semester of their junior year, students focus on the successful business practice of "conscious capitalism" and how to develop a global awareness. In the spring semester, the curriculum evolves into the Honors Thesis Research Seminar, where students begin thesis projects with these business methods in mind. Dr. Denton's approach to real life problem solving and hands-on activities places a new perspective on sustainable business. Read More

Engel Appointed NCHC Treasurer

University Honors Program Director Steven Engel has been appointed Treasurer of the National Collegiate Honors Council (NCHC) and will serve on the its Executive Committee. NCHC is the national organization for honors programs and honors colleges and has an annual budget of over $1.5 million. Dr. Engel will be the first Georgia Southern representative on the NCHC Executive Committee since Bell Honors Program Director Dr. Hew Joiner served from 1994 to 2002 (including service as NCHC President in 2000-2001). Dr. Engel said, "NCHC continues to grow and serve honors directors and students across the country. I know our membership has contributed to the development of our program at Georgia Southern. And, because of the mentorship and support of Dr. Joiner, I feel prepared to take this post." His term of as Treasurer will run through 2016.

Students Will Return to Camp Twin Lakes

The students are getting ready for our fifth annual Honors Alternate Break Trip to Camp Blue Skies @ Camp Twin Lakes. Students on this trip will work as cabin counselors and activity leaders for campers attending Camp Blue Skies, a camp for adults with developmental disabilities. This week-long volunteer experience takes place at Camp Twin Lakes in Rutledge, GA, and the students are led by Dr. Jerri Kropp and Dr. Brent Wolfe. For more information on this trip, contact Dr. Francis Desiderio.
