GALLERY DISCUSSIONS

Hosted by the Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art (BFSDoArt), a panel discussion focusing on the role of the Master of Fine Arts in education and professional development, involving both students and faculty, will be held on Wednesday, September 22 from 5 - 7pm. The MFA Biennial Panelists Include:

Jane Pleak - Ceramics Professor, BFSDoArt
Onyile Onyile - Graphic Design Professor, BFSDoArt
Colleen Beyer - MFA Candidate, 2D Design
Lindsay Tyson - MFA Candidate, Graphic Design
Ilan Winsemius - MFA Candidate, 3D Design
Desmal Purcell - MFA Alumni & Art Professor, East Georgia College
Dorothy Eckmann - MFA Alumni & Education Director, Gertrude Herbert Institute of Art

Recognized as the terminal or highest degree for studio art and design professionals, the MFA degree prepares students for professional careers as artists and designers. Often MFA graduates will go to teach in higher education, work in the museum/non-profit field, hold positions at design firms, or pursue other aspects of producing artwork professionally.
