HISTORY OF GEORGIA SOUTHERN

The roots of Georgia Southern University begin in Savannah.

In 1906, Georgia Southern founders from Bulloch County met with state legislators and leaders from competing counties at the DeSoto Hotel, where they won the bid for the First District A&M School to be located in Statesboro.

In 1935, just a half-mile away from the DeSoto, Armstrong was founded at the historic Armstrong House on Bull Street.

In both cases, local leaders like Lonnie Brannen and Albert M. Deal from Statesboro, and Lowry Axley and Thomas Gamble in Savannah, understood the impact that education would have on the workforce and the business prospects of the region, and they put their resources behind their beliefs.

In 1924, First District A&M School expanded its mission and became the Georgia Normal School, training teachers at the college level for the first time. By 1959, the Board of Regents changed the school's name to Georgia Southern College, a four-year college with diverse programs.

In 1964, Armstrong had also achieved four-year college status, and just two years later completed its new campus on the southside of Savannah. The move was controversial to many locals and city leaders because the southside was considered "out in the country." Back then, Abercorn Extension ended at a barricade right in front of the campus.

However, the move proved to be visionary, and the southside became an integral part of the city in later years.

In 1980, Georgia Southern created its first ROTC program with Mercer University's help. Four years later, the University assumed responsibility for ROTC at Armstrong, and the cadres have been linked ever since.

Today, our ROTC programs draw some of the best and brightest from around the country, and our cadets are routinely among the best in the nation.

Our ties to the military don't end there. Fort Stewart is the largest Army base east of the Mississippi, and has provided a huge opportunity for us to connect with our community. In 1998, Armstrong worked with Georgia Southern and other USG institutions to create the Liberty Center—now the Liberty Campus—which serves the large population of active-duty and veteran military and their families. Both Georgia Southern and Armstrong have been designated Military-Friendly institutions for years, a trend we will proudly continue as a consolidated University.

With the reinstatement of football in 1982, Georgia Southern began to get noticed on the national stage. During the Eagles run of championships under head coach Erk Russell, enrollment doubled.

By 1990, this explosive growth and the hard work of faculty and staff led to its designation as a university. Just six years later, Armstrong gained university status as well, and the two institutions expanded their program offerings and regional impact.

In 2017, Georgia Southern and Armstrong consolidated to become one Georgia Southern University, and is now the largest public university south of Atlanta and the fifth largest in the state. Focused on student success, the University seeks to help our students get the firsthand, experiential training that will help them enter the workforce as leaders in their fields.

POINTS OF PRIDE

Georgia Southern is now the fifth largest public university in Georgia and the largest south of Atlanta.

Georgia Southern University is now ranked as an “R2” high research institution, placing it in the top 6% of all institutions ranked by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. The “R2” designation is the second-highest classification for research institutions.

Named “Military-Friendly” school for the ninth year in a row by Victory Media, publisher of G.I. Jobs, STEM Jobs and Military Spouse magazines, and ranked number one in the best schools for military students by Best for Vets Colleges.

For the 10th year in a row, Georgia Southern University was named one of the nation’s top eco-friendly campuses in The Princeton Review’s Guide to 361 Green Colleges: 2020 Edition.

Georgia Southern ranked in the top 5% in 11 categories, including diversity and best programs by College Factual for 2021.

Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health is ranked first in the nation for a master’s degree in public health by SR Education Group.

Georgia Southern University’s Department of Biology is the largest center for biology research and education in southern Georgia.

Georgia Southern’s Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Computing opened the state of Georgia’s first undergraduate Engineering program in August 2015, with the first cohort graduating in 2019. The program is one of only 20 in the nation and one of only three in the Southeast United States.

The Armstrong Campus in Savannah was designated as the first college campus in the country to have a collegiate chapter of the National Latina Organization MANA, which represents the interests of Latina women, youth and families in the areas of education, health and well-being, financial literacy, equal and civil rights and immigration reform.

The Eagle Battalion is proud to have one of the largest Army ROTC Nursing programs in the nation. Georgia Southern’s School of Nursing is consistently ranked among the top in the country. The strong relationship between these elite programs has ensured that our nurse cadets receive top quality education and experience while being held to high academic and ethical standards, preparing them to become both Army officers and leaders in the field of medicine.

Georgia Southern University established its first permanent scientific field station known as the Effingham Wetlands. The property of about 1,400 acres, is located in Effingham and Chatham counties.

The Betty Foy Sanders Georgia Artists Collection, one of Georgia Southern University's largest permanent collections, recently celebrated its 51st anniversary. The collection was established in 1967 by former Georgia first lady Betty Foy Sanders, a Statesboro native.

Georgia Southern University received an honorable mention designation for the most recent Climate Leadership Awards from Second Nature and the U.S. Green Building Council. The Climate Leadership Awards recognize advanced leadership in sustainability, climate change mitigation and resilience at college and university campuses. The honorable mention designation is the second highest an institution can receive. The finalists included only nine four-year institutions, among them, Furman University, Duke University, two Ivy League schools and three universities from California, all widely known and supported for their commitment to sustainability. Second Nature is a national nonprofit that works to accelerate climate action in, and through, higher education.

Georgia Southern's online programs are consistently ranked among the best in the nation, including the top 10 online universities. These include No. 1 rankings for best online master of educational leadership, online Ph.D. programs, bachelor in information technology, master in Computer Science and online BSN degrees. The University also ranked first in online master of educational leadership, higher education administration, master of business administration, master of economics, master of accounting, master in coaching, doctorate in nursing practice, master in exercise science and sport management.

Georgia Southern is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) through the year 2025. This demonstrates the University's commitment to the highest educational standards.

According to a University System of Georgia report, Georgia Southern University has an annual economic impact of just more than $1 billion on the region it serves. The report says Georgia Southern is a significant part of the USG's $16.8 billion economic impact on the state of Georgia. The report said 11,535 jobs can be tied to Georgia Southern, contributing to an annual economic impact measured at $1.02 billion.

ABOUT GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Georgia Southern University is the state's largest and most comprehensive center of higher education south of Atlanta. With nearly 140 degree programs at the bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern has been designated a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 university and serves more than 26,000 students from all 50 states, Washington, D.C., and Puerto Rico as well as 102 nations.

With three vibrant campuses — the Statesboro Campus, the Armstrong Campus in Savannah and the Liberty Campus in Hinesville — Georgia Southern offers an attractive campus environment that encourages learning, discovery and personal growth. Georgia Southern is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and has earned special accreditation from professional and academic associations that set standards in their fields.

Emphasizing academic distinction, excellent teaching, research and student success, Georgia Southern enrolls both undergraduate and graduate students through nine colleges: the Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Computing, the College of Arts and Humanities, the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences, the College of Education, the College of Science and Mathematics, the Jack N. Averitt College of Graduate Studies, the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health, the Parker College of Business and the Waters College of Health Professions.

Founded in 1906, Georgia Southern has grown to three campuses: a 900-acre quintessential college setting in Statesboro, featuring Georgian-style, red-brick historic buildings and modern contemporary buildings set amid pines and oaks and home to more than 20,000 students; a 268-acre arboretum campus just minutes away from historic downtown Savannah and a short drive from the sunny beaches of Tybee Island with more than 100 programs and some 6,000 students; and a modern, state-of-the-art facility in Hinesville geared for local and military-affiliated students.

Georgia Southern fields 17 NCAA teams with storied programs that have achieved national accolades on and off the field. In addition to six FCS national football championship flags flying at Allen E. Paulson Stadium, Georgia Southern teams and individuals regularly compete for conference and national honors. In 2014, Georgia Southern moved to the Football Bowl Subdivision's Sun Belt Conference, claiming the Sun Belt crown in its first season in the Conference. In 2015, the team won the 17th GoDaddy Bowl in its first season of bowl eligibility, and recently achieved its second bowl victory at the 2018 Raycom Media Camellia Bowl. The University's athletics teams include football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, volleyball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, cross country, swimming and diving, softball, men's and women's soccer and women's rifle.

The University also has an active alumni program serving 120,000 alumni around the world. Some of the University's prominent alumni include: Otis S. Johnson, Ph.D., a two-time mayor of Savannah (Armstrong); country music star Luke Bryan; Mike Davis, executive director of the United States Golf Association; Stratton Leopold, Hollywood producer and local entrepreneur (Armstrong); Hala Moddlemog, retired president of the Metro Atlanta Chamber; and Dan Cathy, chairman, president and chief operating officer of Chick-fil-A.

THE SEAL

The Georgia Southern University seal symbolizes the University and its history. The seal depicts the Marvin Pittman Administration Building, which was built in 1907 and anchors Sweetheart Circle, the iconic lawn of picturesque live oaks, magnolias and pecan trees that are indicative of southeastern and coastal Georgia. The Circle's main entrance is featured as a brick-walled gateway, with each side topped by a lamp of knowledge. Three stars symbolize the legacy and traditions of all three campuses that comprise the University and their rich histories — the Armstrong Campus in Savannah, the Liberty Campus in Hinesville and the Statesboro Campus. The year, 1906, indicates the founding date of Georgia Southern University as the First District Agricultural & Mechanical School in Statesboro.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION AND CHAIN

The presidential medallion and chain, worn by the president of Georgia Southern University as part of the president's academic regalia, symbolizes the University and signifies the authority and responsibility of its highest executive office. Georgia Southern's presidential medallion and chain is a custom-designed, handcrafted work of art.

Professor Christina Lemon and Georgia Southern alumna Madeline Shelor collaborated on the custom design and creation of the medallion and chain using a combination of traditional methods and new technology.

The medallion is a three-and-one quarter inch circular pendant form made from sterling silver and accented with two blue Sapphire cabochon stones (smooth rounded stones). The dimensional medallion design features a cast sterling silver relief of the Georgia Southern University seal design. The center of the seal design includes a relief image of the iconic Marvin Pittman Administration building on historic Sweetheart Circle. Encircling the central seal design are stylized oak leaf and acorn motifs, the enduring emblem of strength, stability, honor and longevity. Each oak leaf is crafted in relief and hand engraved. A smaller oak leaf motif continues on the reverse side.

VISION STATEMENT

People. Purpose. Action: Growing ourselves to grow others!

MISSION STATEMENT

At Georgia Southern University, our learner-centered culture prepares us to think, lead, teach and serve. We value collaboration, academic excellence, discovery and innovation, integrity, openness and inclusion and sustainability. ## GRADUATION WITH HONORS

Undergraduate students, who accomplish a high level of academic achievement, as reflected by their grade point average, receive distinction as follows:

3.5-3.69 Cum Laude
3.7-3.89 Magna Cum Laude
3.9-4.0 Summa Cum Laude

Students graduating with honors are distinguished at commencement exercises by a blue and white honor cord attached to the left shoulder of their gowns. Their distinction is recognized by notation on their diplomas and on their academic transcripts.

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM SCHOLARS

The University Honors Program offers a special Honors curriculum to a select group of academically talented students. In addition to high academic standards, the Program requires a substantial commitment to community service and experiential learning. The diplomas of graduating University Honors Program Scholars are distinguished by the Honors designation.

NOTE: Since programs are prepared in advance of the receipt of final grades, the listing of candidates and honor recipients may, in some instances, be inaccurate. Also, in addition to GPA, there are other requirements to qualify for graduation with honors. After graduation and all final grades are recorded and all degree requirements are complete, honors are re-calculated and will be added to diplomas and transcripts, if honors are achieved.

THE SYMBOLS OF ACADEMIC TRADITION

MACE

Leading the Processional of faculty and administration is the Macebearer, the faculty member holding the rank of Professor with the highest seniority of service at Georgia Southern University.

The mace is a two-and-one-half foot shaft and sphere of cast Everdur bronze and carved American walnut. This representation of the ceremonial symbol of office and authority was designed and crafted in 1988 by Thomas P. Steadman, associate professor of art. Its angular forms and low-gloss finishes are reminiscent of the medieval battle mace from which the more scepter-like academic mace evolved.

The design of the mace blends forms suggested by native flora of south Georgia. The magnolia leaves and stems encircling the head of the mace in a double helix symbolize Georgia Southern's link with its region. A small ballast rock, found on the Georgia coast and traced to probable British origin, is embedded in the finial base of the shaft representing the foundation of the institution.

REGALIA

The academic regalia worn by faculty and administration at today's commencement ceremony traces its origin to that worn by faculty and students at medieval European universities. The robes and hoods have evolved as ceremonial garments signifying level of degree, academic field, and the awarding institution. Today's gowns for associate, baccalaureate, master's, education specialist and doctoral degrees are made of a rayon blend, always black. Associate and bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves and are worn closed. The master's gowns, also worn closed, have an oblong sleeve with a base that hangs open at the wrist.

The specialist and doctoral gown is the most elaborate, with a much fuller cut and velvet panels on the sleeves, around the neck, and down the front. These panels may be black or the color that symbolizes the subject field in which the degree was earned.

The hoods are black, three and one-half feet long, lined with the official colors of the institution, and trimmed in velvet in the color of the degree field.

Caps in the form of mortar boards are made of cotton poplin or a similar material. The tassel may be any one of three different colors—black, metallic gold, or the color representative of the major field in which the degree was earned.

DOUBLE EAGLE

The Double Eagle Society is an incentive program and a joint initiative between the College of Graduate Studies and the Alumni Association of Georgia Southern. This initiative was created to recognize our alumni who have earned two (or more) degrees from Georgia Southern: one undergraduate degree and one graduate degree or two graduate degrees.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations to the Class of 2020! This is a wonderful occasion for you and for Georgia Southern, and we are enormously proud of what you have accomplished. As you turn your tassel and look beyond your time here at Georgia Southern, I hope that you take great pride in achieving this milestone in your journey – we are so excited to celebrate with you today.

I applaud you for the hard work you've put in to get ready for the next chapter in your life. By choosing to pursue a degree at Georgia Southern, you've not only chosen to build a sure academic foundation for yourself, you've also decided to pursue the real-world, first-hand experiences that will set you apart from your peers. Many of you have engaged in significant research projects, translating your theoretical learning to solve practical problems here and now. Some of you have traveled to other countries, where you've been introduced to new cultures, languages and ideas. And some of you have immersed yourself in campus life, service and leadership, where you've learned about yourself and your impact on the world around you.

With the investment you have made in your future, you are now prepared to take the knowledge, skills, and credentials you've acquired to leave here and make an extraordinary impact on our region, our state, our nation and beyond. Your success is our success, and our world needs your talents, your passion and your innovative ideas to steer us ahead into a bright future. We are counting on you, and I have never been more confident in our future.

As you leave here today and take the next step in your journey, we welcome all of you as the newest members of Georgia Southern alumni. Eagle Nation is strong, and takes pride in our traditions, our values and the quality of our graduates. You have joined the ranks of great leaders in Georgia and around the world who represent the best of Georgia Southern. As you find success in whatever path you take, I encourage you to find ways to serve your community and impact others, so those who follow you will have the same opportunities to succeed that you have found.

Congratulations again, and best wishes to you all.

Emmy Award-Winning Journalist Skyler Henry is a Washington, D.C. based correspondent for CBS Newspath, CBS News' 24/7 newsgathering service for CBS stations and broadcasters around the world. He's covered a variety of stories including the 2020 presidential race for the White House and politics across the country. His career has taken him from Los Angeles to the nation's capital where's he's interviewed top city, state and federal officials and helped break and cover some of the country's most talked about moments.

Skyler earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Multimedia Information from Georgia Southern University in 2011. He strongly considers his time here in Statesboro as some of the most influential in his life. From his countless hours spent working at the campus radio station, 91.9 'The Buzz' in the Williams Center to his time at the RAC getting to work on projects to help encourage healthy lifestyles for the campus, all of it, Skyler credits as foundational to his career as his work covering Georgia Southern Football helped make him part of his first regional Emmy-Award winning team.

Skyler hails from Stone Mountain, Georgia and lives in Washington, D.C. and is a proud member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated.

The Jack N. Averitt College of Graduate Studies was established in 1969 under the leadership of Dr. Jack N. Averitt, a history professor and dean emeritus who served Georgia Southern University for 35 years. The College provides guidance for students in more than 65 graduate degree programs in eight colleges. Through the College, students experience hands-on training and engage in leading-edge research with world-class faculty. The College of Graduate Studies also provides the foundation for the University's graduate program growth and development, and supports excellence in graduate education, and the research and scholarly activities associated with it.

The Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health strives to improve health, eliminate health disparities and health inequities of rural communities and underserved populations globally. This is achieved through excellence in teaching, public health workforce development, research, scholarship, professional service and community engagement. The Georgia Southern public health program began in 1998. In 2004, it was established as the Jiann-Ping Hsu School of Public Health and endowed by a generous gift from Dr. Karl E. Peace, in memory and honor of his wife. Students pursuing degrees in the College can concentrate in biostatistics, community health, environmental health, epidemiology, health policy and management, and public health leadership.

The College of Education (COE) prepares students to teach, lead, counsel and model lifelong learning. Our students engage in scholarship that provides new pathways to meet the needs of a dynamic, diverse society. The College facilitates access to learning opportunities that are authentic, student-centered and technology-rich. Historically, the bachelor's degree in education is the oldest professional degree at Georgia Southern, and from 1924 to 1955, the entire institution focused exclusively on preparing future teachers. Today, the College prepares future teachers, school psychologists, counselors, school library media specialists, instructional technologists, researchers and leaders through intensive field experiences, cutting-edge technology and research-based instruction.

The Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Computing is focused on being a nationally recognized leader in engineering, computer sciences and information technology in the areas of student-centric and application-based teaching, research and service. The College trains tomorrow's innovators and entrepreneurs. These students are the problem-solvers who will lead America's fastest-growing career fields. The College's undergraduate curricula are highly interdisciplinary, consisting of innovative application-based courses that build upon and encourage collaboration among existing academic programs. The College provides an excellent education in the classroom, combined with hands-on learning through laboratories, co-ops, internships and student research.

The College of Science and Mathematics (COSM) strives for excellence and innovation in undergraduate and graduate research, teaching practice and service to our community. Our College is a leader in producing graduates to meet tomorrow's challenges. Across three campuses, COSM boasts state-of-the-art teaching and research labs, an aquatics lab, two microscopy suites, a mass spectrometry suite and additional instrumentation necessary to support our faculty members' diverse research interests and facilitate their numerous collaborations. COSM students can earn degrees in biology, chemistry and biochemistry, geology and geography, mathematical sciences, and physics and astronomy.

The College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is focused on offering students a variety of enriching opportunities that allow them to excel in the classroom and gain practical hands-on experience through challenging research projects, internships, volunteer work or field experiences. As a result, students develop skills in ethics, critical thinking, problem-solving, creativity and communication that prepare them for rewarding careers, lifelong learning and engaged global citizenship. Graduates will leave Georgia Southern prepared for careers in a diverse range of fields, from social services to psychological services, criminal justice, archeology, public service and fashion design.

EMERITUS FACULTY

President Marrero has recommended to the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia that the following Deans, faculty and staff member be granted emeritus status upon retirement:

DR. MARIA MAGOULA ADAMOS, Professor of Philosophy, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Adamos left her native Thessaloniki (Greece) for New York in 1986 to pursue her studies. After she received her B. A. from Middlebury College in 1992, she started her graduate study in Philosophy at the University of California-Santa Barbara. She wrote her dissertation, Emotions: An Aristotelian Solution, under the direction of Dr. Francis W. Dauer, who has been instrumental in promoting her in-depth understanding of the complicated logical relations of the different aspects of emotion. She received her Ph.D. in Philosophy from University of California-Santa Barbara in 2000, having earned her M.A. in 1994 from University of California-Santa Barbara. She immediately started teaching at Georgia Southern University in Statesboro, where she remained for the last 20 years, achieving the rank of full professor in 2018. Her students appreciated her passion, but also her high expectations of them. As an academic advisor to philosophy majors, she has placed some of her students in excellent graduate programs. Dr. Adamos has delivered many talks to national and international academic conferences and published several articles in academic journals on the topics of emotion, forgiveness, Aristotle's theory of emotion and ethics, and Hume's skepticism. Her research on emotion has received international renown; in 2018 she was invited as a Visiting Scholar to the University of Jadavpur (Kolkata, India) to deliver a series of lectures on her theory of emotion; there she met graduate students who not only knew her work, but were writing their own papers on her theory. Dr. Adamos' service included chairing and participating in various search and other committees, such as the Faculty Senate Undergraduate Committee, among many others. Moreover, she was the main faculty co-organizer of the First Joint Undergraduate Philosophy Conference with Armstrong State University, and the founder of the Georgia Eta Chapter of the Phi Sigma Tau Philosophy Honors Society at Georgia Southern. In addition, she has served her profession by being a member of the Editorial Board of An Anthology of Philosophical Studies, among others. For these and many other contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Dr. Maria M. Adamos merits the title Professor Emerita of Philosophy.

DR. JONATHAN M. BRYANT, Professor of History, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Bryant earned his B.A. degree from the University of Virginia (1979); his J.D. degree from Mercer University (1983); his M.A. degree from the University of Georgia (1987); and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Georgia (1992). He is exceptionally deserving of emeritus status. In his 24 years as a member of the Department of History, he has established a reputation as a scholar with an international reputation, been recognized as a popular and effective teacher, and made significant contributions to the department, college, University, and community. His book, Dark Places of the Earth: The Voyage of the Slave Ship Antelope (New York and London: Liveright imprint of W. W. Norton, 2015) was a Los Angeles Times Book Prize Finalist (2016) and won the Georgia Historical Records Advisor Council Award for Excellence in Research (2016). This book led to his serving as a guide, consultant, and interview subject for the forthcoming documentary, John Marshall: The Man Who Made the Supreme Court, which aired on Amazon Prime beginning in August 2020. In addition, Dr. Bryant authored How Curious a Land: Conflict and Change in Greene County, Georgia (1996; 2nd edition 2004), several articles and encyclopedia articles, and has presented papers to national and international audiences. Professor Bryant's scholarly achievements have led to some of his most significant service commitments, including reviewing scholarly manuscripts for major presses and serving as President-Elect and President of the Georgia Association of Historians. Dr. Bryant has been exceptionally generous with his time to local organizations; he has served as Humanities Adviser for a significant ($250,000) National Endowment for the Humanities grant for "The Owens-Thomas House: Interpreting the Dynamics of Urban Slavery in the South (2017) and has given lectures to local audiences at the Georgia Archives, Jepson Center for the Arts, and The Learning Center. Dr. Bryant has a well-deserved reputation as an effective teacher, including of large sections of HIST 2110: The US: A Comprehensive Survey (156 students) and Georgia History. Dr. Bryant has several projects planned for his retirement, including a book project currently titled "Men with Mouths Full of Law: The Creation of the Cotton South," an article on "Law and Unintended Consequences: The Short, Unhappy Life of Georgia's First County Courts, 1866-1868," and a review essay for a British journal, Reviews in History. For his many distinguished contributions, Dr. Jonathan Bryant has earned the title of Professor Emeritus of History.

DR. CONSTANCE CAMPBELL, W.E. Carter Distinguished Chair in Business Administration and Professor of Management, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Campbell received her B.A. degree from Oklahoma Baptist University (1981) and her M.S.Ed. degree from the University of Kentucky (1983). In 1992, she earned her Ph.D. from Florida State University. At the time of her retirement, she will have provided 28 years of distinguished service to Georgia Southern University. During her tenure, Dr. Campbell taught international management courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including study abroad programs in Mexico and Germany. She also hosted German students and faculty during their study abroad programs in Georgia. Additionally, Dr. Campbell was an early adopter of online teaching as a faculty member in the Georgia WebMBA program, a well-regarded entirely online degree program. Her research and scholarship focused on leadership—particularly on women leaders in STEM professions where few women arise to upper-level management positions. She completed several studies on leader derailment, attributions in the workplace, and managing high-productive, but uncivil, employees. Dr. Campbell chaired and served on numerous college and university committees, including committees that evaluated all academic programs at the University and revised the University's Statutes. For her many contributions to the department, college, University, profession, and community, Dr. Constance Campbell has earned the title of Professor Emerita of Management.

DR. ROBERT COSTOMIRIS, Associate Professor of Literature, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Costomiris earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of California-Berkeley (1977) and a Bachelor of Science degree in Plant Science from the University of California-Davis (1985). He received his Master of Arts degree (1990) and his Doctor of Philosophy degree (1995) in English from the University of Washington. At the time of his retirement, Dr. Costomiris will have provided 23 years of service to Georgia Southern University. During his tenure, he enjoyed the privilege of teaching Old English and Middle English literature—a position that allowed him to introduce undergraduate and graduate students to literature most of them did not know but which they came to admire and even love, even when it involved learning to read Middle English! He also never tired of teaching World Literature to undergraduates, especially the epic poems of Homer, Virgil, Dante, and Milton, whose deeply humane works are enduring evidence of the importance of literature in the University's core curriculum and the education of the citizens of Georgia. Dr. Costomiris' scholarship focuses on the complex relationships that develop between readers and literary works over time. He has published essays on Chaucer's use of the Bible, Langland's use of Ovid, how modern readers understand the morality of Chaucer's poetry, and a string of articles on the way 16th readers understood and used medieval literature, especially the works of Chaucer. In retirement, he will continue to study the ways Milton read Chaucer. For his numerous contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Dr. Robert Costomiris has earned the title of Associate Professor Emeritus of Literature.

PROFESSOR REBECCA DAVIS, Associate Professor of Criminal Justice and Criminology, who retired July 31, 2020. Professor Davis received her Bachelor of Science in Journalism (1987) and her Master of Arts in Political Science (1989) from Georgia Southern College. In 1992, she earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Georgia. Joining the faculty of Georgia Southern University in 1994, she was an early adopter of technology-enhanced education and was awarded numerous grants to establish and upgrade technology in the classroom. Among one of the first faculty to develop and offer courses online, Professor Davis also became an expert in website coding and was awarded a grant from the Administrative Office of the Courts to create websites for the state judicial system in southeast Georgia. After serving as an informal pre-law advisor for eight years, Professor Davis procured funding for and established the Office of Pre-Law Advising, for which she won the 2004 College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences Award of Distinction in Service. She served as the director of the Office of Pre-Law Advising for 17 years, during which time Georgia Southern's law school applicants more than doubled their acceptance rate. In addition her many service contributions, Professor Davis authored one book, Justice Leah Ward Sears: Seizing Serendipity (University of Georgia Press), co-authored another, Judge Faye Sanders Martin: Head Full of Sense, Heart Full of Gold (Mercer University Press), and published numerous articles and a book chapter. For these and many other distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Professor Rebecca Davis has earned the title of Associate Professor Emerita of Criminal Justice and Criminology.

DR. LUTHER (TREY) DENTON, Professor of Marketing, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Denton earned his B.A. in psychology and his M.B.A. from Emory University, then completed his Ph.D. in marketing at the University of Georgia. During the two years immediately preceding his career at Georgia Southern, and while completing his dissertation on the distribution of U.S. joint venture products in China, he taught marketing at Hong Kong Baptist University in Hong Kong. Joining the faculty at Georgia Southern in 1992, he taught a variety of marketing and honors courses but was the principal teacher for the International Marketing course. Every marketing major in the last 20 plus years passed through Dr. Denton's classroom as a requirement for graduation. Dr. Denton's teaching evaluations were consistently among the highest in his department. He is the recipient of two University Awards for Excellence, earning the award for Contributions to Instruction in 1995 and the award for Excellence in Service in 2016-2017. He was named Outstanding Advocate for First Year Students in 2011. Selected Parker College of Business awards include Teaching (1995), Service (2000 and 2015), and Professor of the Year (2004). Dr. Denton chaired two Presidential Search Committees (Grube and Keel) and served on a third (Marrero). He was a member of the four-person committee that drafted the proposal for the creation of a University Honors Program. He chaired the University Strategic Planning Committee for three consecutive three-year terms and led this group in a campus-wide planning initiative that pushed for higher admission standards, a freshman on-campus living requirement, a more conscious effort to promote sustainability, and fruitful initiatives to promote diversity. He is proud that under his stewardship, "kindness" remained a core value specifically espoused in the University Mission. He served as the original and sole Coordinator of Parker College Honors and served faithfully on the University Honors Program Faculty Advisory Committee. He was one of two faculty members on the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) Leadership Team that worked for more than two years to earn the University's SACSCOC reaffirmation in 2007. During his tenure, he published an eclectic set of 26 refereed journal articles on topics as wide ranging as Chinese food, banking, and gift preferences, national stereotypes and their influence on country of origin perceptions, vigilante online reviews of products, and the impact of animation in pharmaceutical advertising. He has consulted and/or provided training for many area companies including Crider Foods, Sea Island Bank, JCB, SNF Chemtall, Imperial Sugar, and Willingway Hospital. He has led strategic planning sessions for many leadership groups including the Averitt Center of the Arts, Boys and Girls Club of Bulloch County, Downtown Statesboro Development Authority, the 24th Annual Statesboro-Bulloch Leadership Conference, and numerous others. He was the Bulloch County Parks and Recreation Volunteer of the Year in 2000 and serves on the Board of Directors for the Bulloch County Boys and Girls Club. He was the faculty keynote speaker at many Scholars Day banquets and was frequently asked to speak to various groups on "Creating a Happy Organization." He was inducted into honorary societies Beta Gamma Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Phi Kappa Phi. For his many distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, profession, and community, Dr. Luther (Trey) Denton deserves the title Professor Emeritus of Marketing.

DR. RICHARD FLYNN, Professor of Literature, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Flynn received his B.A. in American Literature in 1987 from George Washington University in Washington, DC. While working as the director of the law library for the Foundation of the Federal Bar Association, he earned an M.A. in Literature (Creative Writing emphasis in Poetry) in 1980 from American University in Washington, DC and returned to George Washington, where he earned the M. Phil. (1984) and the Ph.D. (1987) in American Literature. He taught full time at Indiana State University in Terre Haute from 1988-1990. From 1990 to 2020, he was a member of the English faculty at Georgia Southern, specializing in modern and contemporary poetry and children's literature. Several of his former students have achieved success and national recognition in the academy. He has published two books, Randall Jarrell and the Lost World of Childhood (University of Georgia Press, 1990), which was named a 1992 Outstanding Academic Book by Choice, and a collection of poems, The Age of Reason (Hawkhead Press, 1993), over 30 articles and book chapters, over 30 book reviews, and over 70 conference presentations and invited talks. From 2004-2009, he was the editor-in-chief of The Children's Literature Association Quarterly, one of the leading journals in the field. Georgia Southern recognized his scholarship with the 2002-2003 Award for Excellence in Research and Creative Scholarly Activity. He has also received four summer seminar research grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities. In addition to his teaching and scholarship, Dr. Flynn has been active in national, university, and college service, serving terms on the MLA Division on Children's Literature and the Executive Board of the Children's Literature Association. During five terms on the Faculty Senate, he held the offices of Chair of the Senate Executive Committee and Moderator of the Faculty Senate, Secretary, and Librarian. He also served several terms on the University Graduate Committee, including two terms as its Chair. In 2018, he received the Award for Excellence in Service from the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. In recognition of his distinguished contributions, Dr. Richard Flynn has earned the title of Professor Emeritus of Literature.

DR. KATHLEEN H. GRUBEN, Associate Professor of Marketing and Director of the Center for Retail Studies, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Gruben earned her B.B.A. in marketing and her M.B.A. from Stephen F. Austin State University and received her Ph.D. from the University of North Texas. At the time of her retirement, she provided Georgia Southern with 22 years of distinguished service. During her tenure at the University, she gained national attention for the University through the National Retail Federation, received several awards and recognitions, provided students with countless professional development opportunities, developed a reputation as a leading expert in the promotional products industry, and raised over a half a million dollars in grants, scholarships, and funding for the Center for Retail Studies. Dr. Gruben is the recipient of numerous awards including Professor of the Year, the Martin NeSmith Outstanding Service Award, the Brown and Williams Award, and Citation for Student Engagement—all Parker College of Business awards. She earned "Outstanding Research Paper" at numerous conferences. Several students named her as a mentor through Omicron Delta Kappa where she was eventually inducted into the organization as a faculty member. Dr. Gruben was awarded research grants from Promotional Product Association International where she developed a reputation as an industry expert. These grants led to other grant opportunities to research for organizations such as the Atlanta Braves. These studies raised the University visibility through the books published from the research and citations in the media. During her time at the University, Dr. Gruben raised $521,165 in grants, scholarships, and funding for the Center for Retail Studies. The majority of this funding was invested in research and student development. In one case, she developed the Georgia Index of Retail Trade, a quarterly publication which was eventually taken over by the FDIC in Atlanta. For these and many other contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Dr. Kathleen H. Gruben merits the title of Associate Professor Emerita of Marketing.

DR. TODD HIZER, Associate Professor of Chemistry, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Hizer graduated with a B.S. in chemistry from Old Dominion University and received his Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina in 1986 with a specialization in physical chemistry. He spent four years at Claflin College in Orangeburg, S.C. before joining the faculty at Armstrong State College (now Georgia Southern University) in 1989. At the time of his retirement, Dr. Hizer will have provided over 30 years of distinguished service to the University. Dr. Hizer may best be known for his commitment to students and their success. Students knew he was "pulling for them" and would help anyone who needed it. He also encouraged them to become involved in the discipline through the American Chemical Society (ACS). Early on, he was asked to be a part of the Savannah Science Seminar, working with scientists and engineers to expose regional high school students to the University's programs and laboratories. He also worked with the Science Olympiad, the Science Bowl, and the Math Tournaments. He has judged dozens of science fairs, including the Savannah Ogeechee Regional Science and Engineering Fair, the First District Science Fair, and the Georgia State Science and Engineering Fair as well as numerous preliminary school-level science fairs. It is impossible to know how many young science students first learned of the mystery and magic of chemistry from him and chose to continue their study of it. For his numerous contributions to the department, college, University, and community, Dr. Todd Hizer is recognized as Associate Professor Emeritus of Chemistry.

DR. KAREN HOLLINGER, Professor of English, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Hollinger earned a B.A. degree in history magna cum laude from Loyola University, Chicago, in 1972. She went on to receive an M.A. in history from Loyola in 1975 and an M.A. in English from the University of Illinois at Chicago in 1981. In 1990, she obtained her Ph.D. in English with a specialization in Film Studies. Joining the faculty at Armstrong State University in 1990, she taught film studies and literature. In recognition of her teaching, she won the Propst Award for Outstanding Achievement in Teaching in 1993 and the Outstanding Contribution to the Discipline Award in 2008. During her tenure, she published over 20 articles, book chapters, book reviews, and five books: Biopics of Women (Routledge, 2020); Feminist Film Studies (Routledge, 2012); The Actress: Hollywood Acting and the Female Star (Routledge, 2006); In the Company of Women: The Contemporary Female Friendship Film (University of Minnesota Press, 1998); and Letter from An Unknown Woman, edited with Virginia Wright Wexman (Rutgers University Press, 1986). In addition to her scholarship, Dr. Hollinger served on a wide variety of university and departmental committees and was a member of the Faculty Senate. For these and many other distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Dr. Karen Hollinger has earned the title of Professor Emerita of English.

JOHN G. JENSEN, Professor of Art, who retired May 31, 2020. Professor Jensen earned his B.S. in Art Education from the University of Wisconsin (1978) and received his M.F.A. in Combined Media from the University of Arizona (1985). Beginning his esteemed career at Armstrong College in 1985 as an assistant professor in the Department of Art, Professor Jensen taught numerous courses and created lasting contributions to the department and campus seeing it through three transitions: Armstrong Atlantic State, Armstrong State, and finally Georgia Southern Armstrong campus. He has earned the admiration and respect of his students and colleagues at Georgia Southern for his unapologetic dedication, sincere collegiality, loyal professionalism, odd sense of humor, and tireless hard work. Professor Jensen's passion and dedication for teaching were honored by the University as he has received both the H. Dean Propst and the Kristina C. Brockmeier Award for Excellence in Teaching. This dedication to his students is apparent in the success they have had beyond the classroom in establishing their own careers as entrepreneurs, teachers, and recreation specialists for the City of Savannah or continuing their studies in graduate school. Professor Jensen never missed a student exhibit and taped hundreds of hours of videos for each student's senior show speech. He has also served his profession, offering local and national organizations his expertise with workshops, jurying exhibitions, and always willing to share his wide breadth of knowledge on professional panels. Artist John Jensen sculpted the reliefs of every past Armstrong president on view in Burnett Hall and continues to exhibit his work all over the country.

He has a strong regional following. Professor Jensen believes in the students at Georgia Southern and their potential, instilling a life-long love of creativity and learning as key ingredients of a good life. For his many distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, and profession, Professor John G. Jensen has earned the title of Professor Emeritus of Art.

PROFESSOR MARK BABER JOHNSON, who retired May 31, 2020. Professor Johnson received his B.M.Ed. degree from Murray State University (1982) and earned his M.M. from Louisiana State University and A&M College (1984). Joining the faculty at Armstrong Atlantic State University in 1997, Professor Johnson provided 23 years of distinguished service to Georgia Southern University. He served as the Director of Bands and Wind Studies from 1996 to 2020. Additionally, he served as the conductor of the Armstrong Wind Ensemble and Armstrong Chamber Winds, and he continues to serve as the principal conductor and music director of the Savannah Wind Symphony in Savannah, Georgia. Beloved by students, Professor Johnson was selected twice as an Armstrong State University Distinguished Faculty of the Decade. He was the 1992 national recipient of the ASBDA Outstanding Conductor award and has appeared in the Who's Who Among American Teachers registry. Moreover, Professor Johnson is in demand as a conductor, clinician, and adjudicator throughout the United States and South America. He has participated in numerous commissions of new instrumental music. Under his direction, the Savannah Wind Symphony continues to present world-premier performances of commissioned compositions from world-renowned composers. His professional affiliations include: College Band Directors National Association, Phi Beta Mu International Bandmasters Fraternity, National Band Association, Georgia Music Educators Association, Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia, International Trombone Association, and Pi Kappa Lambda National Music Honor Society. Based on his outstanding teaching and conducting and his exemplary service to the department, college, University, and profession, Professor Mark Johnson is clearly deserving of the title Assistant Professor Emeritus of Music.

DOUGLAS E. MASINI, Professor of Respiratory Therapy and Department Chair of Diagnostic and Therapeutic Sciences, who retired June 30, 2020. Dr. Masini began his career as an emergency medical technician and was trained on-the-job as an inhalation therapy assistant at Bryan Cameron Community Hospital and Heller Memorial Hospital in 1978. He attended the University of Toledo on the GI Bill, graduating in 1983 with an A.A.S. degree in Respiratory Therapy Technology. In 1984, Dr. Masini moved to Florida and assumed the duties of instructor of Respiratory Therapy at the Inhalation Therapy Services Respiratory Therapy Institute in Jacksonville, FL where he was named Instructor of the Year in 1985. In 1986, he became the Clinical Coordinator and Manager of Respiratory Services at Memorial Medical Center of Jacksonville, FL. He attended the University of North Florida and in 1990 received a B.S. degree in Liberal Studies from the University at Albany, State University of New York. He completed a M.A. degree at Tusculum College and was awarded the Shirley Beck Outstanding Graduate Student in East Tennessee award in 1997. In 1998, Dr. Masini began doctoral studies at East Tennessee State University. In 2008, he accepted the position of Program Director of Respiratory Therapy at Armstrong Atlantic State University. He was elected a Fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians in 2013. As primary or co-investigator, his research teams were awarded over $3.5 million in grants. His work on projects related to the fledgling Georgia Asthma Coalition has received local and national attention, and for this work he was selected as the recipient of the 2019 Georgia Society for Respiratory Care Morton B. Duggan Distinguished Service Award. He received the Georgia Southern University Award of Excellence in Community Service in August 2019 and was named the East Tennessee State University Distinguished Alumni from the College of Rehabilitative Health Sciences in October 2019. Prior to his retirement, he served as the Program Director of Respiratory Therapy and the Department Chair of Diagnostic and Therapeutic Sciences at Georgia Southern University. He will continue as a volunteer respiratory therapist with the St. Joseph's Candler Health System/Good Samaritan/St. Mary's Clinics, the Georgia Asthma Coalition, the Georgia Composite Medical Board, the State of Georgia Council on Respiratory Health Promotion, and as a Clinical Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine at Mercer University School of Medicine in Savannah, Georgia. For all of his many distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, profession, and community, Dr. Douglas Masini has earned the title of Professor Emeritus of Respiratory Therapy and Department Chair Emeritus.

DR. DENNIS DAILEY MURPHY, Professor of Criminal Justice and Criminology, who is retiring December 31, 2020. Dr. Murphy earned his B.A. degree in Political Science from the University of Florida (1969). He received his J.D. in 1974; his M.Ed. in Educational Administration in 1975; and his Ph.D. in Educational Administration in 1979 also from the University of Florida. Following service as a U.S. Army commissioned officer, he served five years as a full-time professor at Rutgers University and then 39.5 years at Armstrong State/Georgia Southern University. At heart a student-centered professor, he served administratively as Armstrong's Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, Interim Dean of Enrollment Services, Interim Director of Computer and Information Services, and academic Department Head. During the relatively brief inter-institutional arrangement christened "Georgia Southern University in Affiliation with Armstrong State College and Savannah State College," he served simultaneously as an Armstrong State College professor and the Georgia Southern University Director of the M.S. in Criminal Justice program. Dr. Murphy passed the separate bar examinations of three states, culminating in admission to the Florida, New Jersey, and Georgia Bars. His undergraduate and graduate courses and his several published articles typically centered on legal issues, and he was never more professionally proud than when a number of his former students went on to succeed in law school and the legal profession. For his many distinguished contributions to the department, college, two universities, and the profession, Dr. Dennis Murphy merits the title of Professor Emeritus of Criminal Justice and Criminology.

ASSISTANT DEAN CINDY H. RANDALL, Assistant Dean in the Parker College of Business and Assistant Professor of Business Administration, who retired June 30, 2020. Assistant Dean Randall earned her Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Georgia Southern College in 1978. She received her Master of Business Administration from Memphis State University in 1981. Joining the faculty at Georgia Southern in 1982, she taught classes in the quantitative area and programming languages and served on numerous departmental and college committees. In the last nine years, Ms. Randall served as the Assistant Dean for Student and External Affairs, providing steady leadership in the area of undergraduate instruction in the Parker College of Business. As a scholar, she published peer-reviewed articles in a number of well-regarded journals, which included the International Journal of Research in Marketing and the Journal of Marketing Management. Ms. Randall's commitment to the college has been recognized by her peers. She received the Eugene M. Bishop Award for Sustained Excellence (2009) and the Bank of America Faculty Award (2003). Her exemplary service to the University and college is demonstrated by her membership on the Institutional Effectiveness Team (2013-2015), Chair of the AACSB Reaccreditation Team (2011-2012), and Advisor/Treasurer to Beta Gamma Sigma (1999-2009). Throughout her 38 years at Georgia Southern, Cindy Randall has made a difference in the lives of thousands of students through teaching, mentorship, and leadership as Assistant Dean. For these and many other distinguished contributions to the department, college, and University, Ms. Cindy H. Randall has earned the title of Assistant Dean Emerita and Assistant Professor Emerita of Business Administration.

DR. DEBORAH REESE, Associate Professor of Writing and Linguistics, who retires December 31, 2020. Dr. Reese earned her B.A. in English in 1990 from the University of Texas-Arlington. She completed a 91-hour interdisciplinary M.A.-Ph.D. program in Humanities at the University of Texas-Arlington in 1999. At the time of her retirement, she will have provided 21 years of distinguished service as a dedicated faculty member on the Armstrong campus. Dr. Reese has taught undergraduate courses in subjects including basic composition, first-year writing, argumentation, introduction to communications, introduction to business/technical writing, utopian literature, detective fiction, American literature, literary nonfiction, advanced composition, and Honors English. She also taught graduate courses in rhetoric, popular literature, contemporary literature, psychoanalysis and literature, and world literature. Dr. Reese regularly presented at the Southeastern Writing Center Association meeting, along with the national Conference on College Composition and Communication. Her written scholarship appeared in peer-reviewed publications such as Southern Discourse in the Center: A Journal of Multiliteracy and Innovation and The Proceedings of the International Conference on Arts and Humanities, and in guest chapters in textbooks such as Nancy V. Wood's Perspectives on Argument. Dr. Reese enjoyed serving in a support capacity in her department. She served on numerous University and departmental committees and also supported local high schools and the DEEP Center in Savannah. For ten years, Dr. Reese coded and maintained the former department's and the Writing Center's web pages, and she developed a popular online writing lab as part of the Center's website. Dr. Reese found her passion in directing Armstrong's Writing Center and served students generously. Dr. Reese also organized writing competitions, advised and supported Sigma Tau Delta members and their ceremonies, and prepared graduate and undergraduate students to make presentations at academic conferences. For her many contributions to the department, college, University, and the community of academic writing centers, Dr. Deborah Reese has earned the title of Associate Professor Emerita of Writing and Linguistics.

DR. JORGE W. SUAZO, Associate Professor of Spanish, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Suazo earned his B.A. in English from the Universidad de Chile-Sede Ñuble (now Universidad del Bío-Bío); an M.A. in Modern Languages together with a TESOL certificate from Ohio University; and a Ph.D. in Spanish Golden Age Literature from Ohio State University. Dr. Suazo has been a member of the Georgia Southern faculty since fall 1993. He has taught all levels of Spanish both at the undergraduate and graduate levels. In addition, he directed study abroad programs in three Spanish cities: Segovia, Cordoba, and Seville. Dr. Suazo is a native of San Carlos, Chile. He arrived in the United States in 1980, invited by the Amity Institute of San Diego, California. As an Amity Scholar, he team-taught Spanish at two high schools and a college in West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Virginia before pursuing graduate studies. His areas of scholarly interest and general expertise range from Medieval Literature, Golden Age Peninsular Literature (poetry, especially metaphysical/religious poets; the picaresque novel; early-modern women literature of Spain, especially conventual literature), Spanish for the professions, and online teaching. He is actively involved in departmental, college, and university committees. Most recently he served in the Faculty Senate, representing the College of Arts and Humanities. He has participated in several technology and academic workshops, such as Teaching Online, Teaching Portfolio, and Spanish for Business. He is the founding director of the Southeast Coastal Conference on Languages & Literatures (SECCLL, 2004) and the founding editor and former editor-in-chief of The Coast Review: An Online Peer-reviewed Journal (2007), either of which cement his legacy and contribution to the Department of Foreign Languages. Dr. Suazo is an active participant in professional conferences at the local, regional, national, and international levels. He has delivered more than thirty papers in the United States and abroad. Over the course of his career, Dr. Suazo received many invitations, locally and regionally, to share his expertise in education, Spanish for business, and Chilean life and culture with the community. Dr. Suazo published selected articles in literature, culture, and pedagogy. He also published a book, Mary Symbolism in the "romances" of Francisco de Medrano (2004). For his many distinguished contributions to the department, college, University, profession, and community, Dr. Jorge Suazo has earned the title of Associate Professor Emeritus of Spanish.

DR. GAIL G. WYNN, Assistant Professor of Biology, who retired July 31, 2020. Dr. Wynn earned her A.A. degree from Armstrong Junior College (1957); her B.S. degree from Oglethorpe University (1959); and her M.S. degree in Zoology (1962) and Ph.D. in Entomology (1968) from Louisiana State University and A&M College. Dr. Wynn's association with Georgia Southern University began over 65 years ago as a student at Armstrong Junior College pursuing her interest in life sciences. While a student at Armstrong Junior College, she became an undergraduate lab instructor for a comparative anatomy class, and thus her love of teaching began. In 1991, she was recruited by the Department of Biology to become an educator, so she sold her tire company and joined Armstrong State College as an adjunct professor. In 1992, she became an Assistant Professor and a permanent member of the department. Over the next 28 years, she remained dedicated to her students as Armstrong State College became a university and eventually was consolidated with Georgia Southern University. During her 29-year tenure in the Department of Biology, Dr. Wynn taught several courses, but her greatest accomplishments were her contributions in service to the instruction of Human Anatomy and Physiology. Dr. Wynn not only taught thousands of Human Anatomy and Physiology students, but she also served as the Human Anatomy and Physiology lab coordinator and authored the lab manuals, versions of which are still in use today. Her passion, dedication, and vision for the instruction of Human Anatomy and Physiology not only influences today's students but will impact students long after she has retired. For these accomplishments and her legacy of commitment to undergraduate education, Dr. Gail G. Wynn is deserving of the title Assistant Professor Emerita of Biology.

FREEDOM

Did You Know?

The bald eagle is found only in North America.

The bald eagle became the official symbol of the United States of America in 1782.

Georgia Southern University adopted the eagle as its symbol in 1960.

The bald eagle owes its name to the Middle English term “balled,” meaning “shining white.” The adult bald eagle’s head and neck feathers are all white, giving it the name “balled eagle,” meaning “white eagle.”

The bald eagle has a wingspan of 6-8 ft., and makes its home along coastlines and large bodies of fresh water.

Eagles are mature at five years of age.

Eagles require a 25-mile hunting territory and appear to mate for life (can live as long as 50 years).

More than forty years ago, the bald eagle was nearing extinction with just 417 nesting pairs of the birds known in the United States. Today, the bird has made a remarkable comeback and is now off the Endangered Species List.

In 1983, no nesting pair of eagles could be found in Georgia. Today, Georgia has more than 177 known nesting pairs throughout the state.

Freedom is a non-releasable American Bald Eagle permitted to Georgia Southern University’s Center for Wildlife Education & Lamar Q Ball Jr. Raptor Center

Today, Georgia Southern University acknowledges the remarkable achievements of our graduates and celebrates a popular and enduring commencement tradition with the appearance of Freedom, our American bald eagle mascot. Freedom’s appearance during the singing of the Georgia Southern Alma Mater signifies the conclusion of the commencement ceremony. He serves not only as an ambassador for wildlife, but as an iconic reminder of the strength and majesty of our nation.

Freedom is a male Southern bald eagle that was found knocked out of the nest in Maitland, Florida. Only weeks old and appearing like a “brown ball of fuzz,” it was discovered that the young eagle had an injury to his beak and suffered from an infection. Rushed to the Florida Audubon Center for Birds of Prey, Freedom made a complete recovery from the infection, but the injury to his beak was permanent, preventing his release into the wild. With the permission of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Georgia Southern acquired Freedom in 2004.

Through the Georgia Southern University Center for Wildlife Education and Lamar Q Ball Jr. Raptor Center, thousands of visitors young and old are embraced by the power of Freedom. Freedom is one of three American Bald Eagles housed at the 18-acre sanctuary, located in the heart of Georgia Southern’s campus. The Center also contains numerous species of native raptors, reptiles and amphibians.
