Faculty Welfare Committee Meeting Minutes
December 5, 2008
7:15 to 8:45 AM
COBA 3311

Members in Attendance: June Alberto, Jim Braselton, Jean-Paul Carton, Terry
Diamanduros, Laura Gunn, Greg Harwood, Amy Heaston, Patricia Humphrey, David Lowder, Marla Morris, LeVon E. Wilson, Bill Yang.

Others in Attendance: Trent Maurer

Committee Chair, Dr. Jean-Paul Carton, called the meeting of the Faculty Welfare Committee to order at 7:15 AM

1. Approved agenda -

2. Disruptive behavior survey:
   Trent Maurer presented information about work being done by a Faculty Learning Community (FLC) on the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning. This year they are doing research on classroom behavior, classroom management and classroom incivility. There is some previous research data available but it is mainly anecdotal.
   Among the findings in the research are:
   • there is a perception that disruptive behavior has been increasing;
   • there is a perception that there is a general increase in incivility in society;
   • disruptive behavior contributes to faculty stress and faculty burnout;
   • some faculty report a perceived lack of support from administration.
   One observational study showed:
   • in 68% of classes, student disruption kept students from hearing the professor at least once;
• students perceive 50% more disruptions than their professors do, especially in large classes;
• in 62% of courses students either came late or left early;
• only 10% of students were engaged in a sustained manner in classes where there were high levels of disruption.

The FLC wanted to find out what Georgia Southern faculty and students perceive by using a survey. There is a faculty version of the survey and a student version of the survey but most questions are the same on each. The student version is aimed at undergraduates. To date, 113 faculty have taken the survey but less than 90 students have taken it. The survey will be extended through the spring in the hope of getting more responses.

The committee suggested various methods that might be used to communicate information about the survey to the students including using GSU 1210.

Discussion continued on how the survey results could assist the committee in making suggestions for the Faculty disruptive behavior guide currently being prepared in collaboration with the Office of Judicial Affairs.

3. Disruptive behavior reporting process at other institutions:
Kim Coleman was not in attendance so there was no report.

4. Disruptive behavior handbook suggestions
Suggested changes to the “Responding to Disruptive or Threatening Student Behavior: A Guide for Faculty” draft document had been previously distributed to the committee. These were reviewed and approved.

Additionally it was suggested that the second paragraph on page 8 be modified to include wording that the threat is verified “by Judicial Affairs.”

It was also suggested that the sentence on page 2 beginning with “Threats to safety/challenges…” replace the similar sentence on 6 so that the wording is identical in both instances and that “should” will be replaced by “must” in each.

5. Spring 2009 FWC schedule of meetings
Based on the received responses about members' schedules, it appears that meetings in the Spring semester will be at the same time.

6. Old business
No old business

7. New business
It was suggested that the committee should look at how the frequency of student evaluations might be reduced in order to save resources.

It was also suggested that the committee should look at the change in the health insurance rates and whether the change is permanent or temporary. It was stated that this is a matter for the University System Faculty Council.
8. The meeting was adjourned at 8:20

Respectfully submitted,

Dec 8th. David Lowder

Faculty Senate Welfare Committee Minutes
January 23, 2009, 7:15 – 8:20am, Russell Union 2073

Committee members present: Jean-Paul Carton (Chair, CLASS), June Alberto (CHHS), Jim Braselton (COST), Joan E. Broome (LIB), Terry Diamanduros (COE), Greg Harwood (CLASS), Amy Heaston (Provost), Pat Humphrey (COST), David Lowder (LIB), Marla Morris (COE), LeVon Wilson (COBA), and Bill Yang (COBA).

- The meeting started at 7:15am. The agenda and the minutes of the Dec. 5, 2008 meeting were approved unanimously.

- Pat Humphrey reported on her Jan. 15, 2009 meeting with Jean-Paul Carton, Georj Lewis and Patricia Buckner. A table was distributed which recorded (anonymously) the disruptive behavior incidents reported from 2004 to 2008. It indicated that among 12 incidents reported, students were found responsible in 11 of them.

FWC Meeting Notes (01/15/09)

Pat Humphrey (COST) and Jean-Paul Carton (CLASS) met with Patrice Buckner (Director, Student Affairs) and Georj Lewis (Dean of Students) Thursday, January 15 to discuss requests from the FWC to them regarding the document on disruptive behavior. We’d had several requests pending for a while.

1. What is the frequency of reports of disruptive behavior, and potential sanctions?

Judicial Affairs (JA) began using a data base system to track student infractions (in general) in 2004. Data entry in the data base was “sketchy” for some time, and lacked details. There are a total of 12 reports of disruptive behavior in class (roughly two per semester). In all but one case, the student was held responsible. The sanctions ranged from disciplinary probation and a required letter or apology to required anger management classes, suspension, and being banned from campus. Obviously, only the most serious cases are being
2. What exactly is the composition of the Judicial Board? What are the terms, etc?

Patrice and Georg said the composition was included in the Judicial Board Constitution which is an appendix to the Student Conduct Code. Pat followed up checking on this - all she could see in Section 1 is that it is "composed of faculty, staff, and student members." There is no mention of how many of each. Further in Section 3, it says terms for faculty members are three years and they must be full-time faculty. No mention is made of terms or qualifications for staff members. Patrice responded via email after the meeting that this information would be included in the draft handbook soon.

3. Who exactly is the hearing officer? Is this Patrice or someone else?

Again, the indication from Patrice and Georg was that this was also included in the SCC. Upon follow-up, page 4 of the SCC says this means any person(s) authorized by the Director of JA to recommend whether a student has violated the SCC and to recommend sanctions. That's the only definition I can find - perhaps to clarify our earlier question - where, exactly, does the hearing officer come from? Must he/she be a member of the Judicial Board, the Director of JA, or what? Could this be a student member?

Another question arose, namely, Article III, Section 1 of the JB Constitution says the Chair of the Board is appointed by the Dean of Students. Who is this currently?

4. Can we include some “templates” or case studies in the manual so faculty (and staff) have a better idea of what has transpired in the past?

Patrice and Georg will discuss this with Legal Affairs.

5. The JA website with the flowchart of the process is really unclear. It seems to say the same thing whether or not a student accepts responsibility and requests a full board hearing (or not).

Response from Patrice: We will add more information to our flow chart and presentation on the web page in order to clarify the process more. The may become a summer project for our office.

The remaining questions were communicated via e-mail to Patrice and
The updated draft of “Responding to Disruptive or Threatening Student Behavior: A Guide for Faculty” was distributed in advance and discussed at the meeting. The committee agreed to submit it as an information item for the agenda of the Feb. 16, 2009 Faculty Senate Meeting.

Jim Braselton presented his concerns about student evaluations (cf. 12/5/08 meeting agenda under New Business). Main points: cost and usefulness of information obtained from the procedure. Amy Heaston indicated that there had already been discussions with the deans and chairs about other ways to evaluate teaching and they had been encouraged to include these in annual evaluations and tenure and promotion reviews. She will look into the exact wording of the BOR guidelines on student evaluations before we continue the discussion at our next meeting.

The question of whether the last health care premium increase is to be permanent was also discussed. Pat Humphrey will take it to the USG committee in March.

New Business: Pat Humphrey addressed the issue of the nature of the Lecturer/Senior Lecturer positions at Georgia Southern (these positions are different from those of temporary instructors). Amy Heaston will provide the committee with a survey of Lecturer/Senior Lecturer review policies at other USG Institutions before our next meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 8:20am.

Library Committee Meeting Minutes - Friday, January 30, 2:30 P.M.

Voting Committee Members Present: Dr. Tim Giles, Library Chair, CLASS; Ms. Debra Skinner, LIB, Dr. John Hatem, COBA; Dr. Anthony Parrillo, JPHCOPH; Dr. Quentin Fang, COST.

Voting Committee Members Absent: Dr. Marie Botkin, CHHS; Dr. Hyo-Joo Han, CIT; Dr. Gregory Chamblee, COE; Dr. Patrick Wheaton, CLASS.

Non-Voting Committee Members Present: Dr. Bede Mitchell, Dean of the Library; Mr. Sam Gaston, SGA.
Guests: Dr. Linda Bleicken, Vice President and Provost, Academic Affairs; Mr. Jonathan Harwell, Librarian AC.

The Library Committee met to discuss the draft of the report prepared to respond to the Faculty Senate charge to investigate how additional funding might be identified to provide improved resources commensurate with those of a doctoral research institution for Henderson Library.

Dr. Giles called the committee to order at 2:30 and directed the committee's attention to changes made since the most recent draft had been distributed on January 29th. Specifically, these changes involved moving some items from the report's "Conclusions" section to the "Recommendations" section. Dr. Giles made these changes after conferring with Dr. Marc Cyr, Faculty Senate Moderator, who had pointed out that a motion to go before the Faculty Senate should make specific recommendations. From this discussion, Dr. Giles and Dr. Cyr also decided it would be interesting to see how much funding could be generated from following the University of Texas--Pan American model of charging $2.50 per-credit-hour for library funding. The committee, then, considered these revised recommendations:

- Funding could be accessed through a per-credit-hour charge. Doing so even at a rate of $2.50 per credit hour for all students could generate over $1.1 million;

- Funding could be accessed if students were required to purchase their own laptops. Freeing up some of the $75 per semester technology fee could be then be directed to Henderson Library Resources;

- Students in online programs could be charged a library resource fee;

- Henderson Library should be allowed a stronger role in Georgia Southern University fundraising, especially online since the library receives so many hits;

- Every year the library committee shall conduct a library comparison of comparable in-state and out-of-state peer institutions to assess the distribution of library funds and report the results to the faculty senate, noting how Georgia Southern University is addressing these expenditure gaps.

Some discussion, of course, ensued. Mr. Gaston, the SGA representative, objected to tuition increases for all students and to reallocation of the technology fee to library resources. Mr. Harwell pointed out that the technology fee by definition can be used for electronic resources. Other committee members assured Mr. Gaston that these ideas were only recommendations, that a change to tuition would have to go before the Board of Regents, and that students would be consulted. On the other hand, students in online programs could be assessed a fee for library resources since such an increase would be programmatic, and these students increase the library’s operating costs in terms of providing materials for those who are not on campus.

On the idea of reallocating some of the student technology funding from hardware, Dr Hatem suggested that point be broadened so that the recommendation would be to consider how the technology fee is being spent, especially as it pertains to how much is currently being spent on computer hardware. Further discussion on this point included the costs of textbooks and the extent to which more laptops on campus could encourage the use of much less expensive e-books for courses.

On the final recommendation, Dean Mitchell commented that in a sense, the Library Committee currently reports on the state of the Henderson Library in respect to comparison with other institutions. However, he saw nothing wrong with further formalizing that responsibility.

The meeting concluded with Dr. Giles asking the committee members present if they were comfortable with presenting the revised recommendations to the faculty senate; they agreed to support the recommendations. Dean Mitchell volunteered to revise the recommendations and e-mail them to the committee by Monday, February 2, 2009. Dr. Giles promised to submit the revised recommendations and the revised report by Monday afternoon, February 2, 2009, so that the recommendations would appear on the agenda for the February faculty senate meeting.

I. CALL TO ORDER: Dr. Robert Fernekes called the meeting to order on Thursday, November 13, 2008 at 9:01 AM.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA: The agenda was approved as written.

III. GRADUATE COMMITTEE CHAIR’S REMARKS – Dr. Jill Lockwood

Dr. Fernekes turned the floor over to Dr. Jill Lockwood, who called in for the meeting. Dr. Lockwood shared some comments she had received regarding the proposed changes to Graduate Faculty Status. There was discussion among the committee as to why these changes would be beneficial or needed. Several options were proposed.

IV. A. OLD BUSINESS - No old business was discussed.

B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES

i. Academic Standards & Policies Committee- Dr. Fernekes began by discussing the requirements for Continuous Enrollment. He has received or heard feedback from Deans, Graduate Program Directors, and Associate Deans on this topic. He distributed the proposed revisions for the committee’s approval. After some deliberation, Dr. Richard Flynn made a motion for an amendment that some of the wording be changed. Dr. Lisa Schultz provided the second. A motion to approve the Continuous Enrollment document, with the amendments, was given by Dr. Vladan Jovanovic. Dr. Flynn provided the second. The amended version is as follows:

Thesis/Dissertation Enrollment Requirements

All students who have registered at least once for courses titled thesis or dissertation must be continuously enrolled every semester thereafter, including the term of graduation. Check with your major advisor to see if your college has additional continuous enrollment requirements that apply.

Dr. Fernekes continued by discussing the Graduate Faculty Status of Member and Affiliate. After hearing the discussion during Dr. Lockwood’s remarks, the committee agreed that the subcommittee should incorporate language describing how an Affiliate demonstrates experience in teaching a graduate course. They would also like for each College to develop their own plan to determine who is qualified to be nominated for Graduate Faculty. Dr. Fernekes will continue to collect written comments for revisions. Dr. Mack indicated that he wanted time for the Dean’s Council to review the document. After the Dean’s Council reviews the draft, Dr. Fernekes and Dr. Mack will discuss possible revisions, and then Dr. Fernekes will work with the subcommittee to develop the next draft.

The Electronic Thesis and Dissertation (ETD) Student Guide was then discussed. Dr. Mack reported that the Program Directors and Department Chairs reviewed the guide, and they did not have any problems with the document. Dr. Flynn recommended some wording be changed on page 8 under “Overall Document Structure”. The committee agreed on the revisions, and Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the document with the amendment that the rewording is made. Dr. David Rostal provided the second. The motion was passed to approve the ETD Student Guide as amended. Revision is as follows (revision in bold):

A thesis or dissertation written in manuscript style must also include the following if required by your degree program.

ii. Curriculum Committee- Dr. Robert Vogel reported that the subcommittee met “virtually” to discuss the program and course proposal items. He stated that there were some technical issues in the program proposal from CIT, but that they have been resolved between CIT and the Registrar’s Office.

iii. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee- There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

v. NEW BUSINESS:

1. College of Science and Technology
New Course:
EDSC 5151G – Physics for Teachers: Mechanics and Themodynamics
EDSC 5152G – Physics for Teachers: Waves, Electricity and Magnetism
EDSC 5161G – Space Science for Teachers: Our Earth and Solar System
EDSC 5162G – Space Science for Teachers: Stars, Galaxies and the Nature of the Universe

Course Deletions:
GEOL 5430G – Geological Evolution of the Coastal Plain
GEOL 5821G – Museum Methods
Justification: GEOL 5430G and GEOL 5821G have not been taught for over five years. The courses are no longer offered, and the faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography agree that they should be deleted.

TMFG 5433G – Quality Control and Test
Justification: The TMFG 5433G (Quality Control and Test) course was a course in the Apparel Manufacturing program. The Apparel Manufacturing program has been eliminated.

Selected Topics – Study Abroad Courses:
BIOL 5099G – Arthropod Diversity of the Swiss Alps
BIOL 5099G – Arthropod Ecology of the Swiss Alps

2. College of Education

New/Revised Programs:
Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)
Justification: Candidates seeking initial certification in the MAT programs in Middle Grades and Secondary Education must complete all the key assessments that reflect the NCATE/PSC standards. Candidates seeking certification in Middle Grades Education must also complete the key assessments that address the National Middle School standards for initial and advanced programs. In order to ensure that candidates complete the courses that include these key assessments, a change is being made in Step 4 to include those courses; they include the key assessments that are aligned with the NCATE/PSC standards. The changes in Step 4 result in a new Step 5 section.

Information Only:
- Online delivery of M.Ed. in Educational Leadership
- Online delivery of M.Ed. in Higher Education Administration

New Courses:
- EDMS 6131 – Becoming an Advanced Teacher
- SPED 8131 – Critical Issues in Special Education

Course Revisions:
- COUN 7432 – prerequisites
- COUN 7433 – prerequisites

- SPED 7232 – Methods of Instruction in Learning Disabilities
- SPED 7331 – Advanced Characteristics of Mental Retardation
- SPED 7332 – Advanced Methods of Instruction in Mental Retardation

Justification: The state of Georgia no longer offers certification in specific areas of disability. The courses have essentially been replaced as follows:
- SPED 7131 replaced by SPED 7631.
- SPED 7132 replaced by SPED 7632.
- SPED 7231 replaced by SPED 7631.
- SPED 7232 replaced by SPED 7632.
- SPED 7331 replaced by SPED 7631 and 7634.

   - SPAN 5030G – Contemporary Spanish Drama: From Stage to Screen
   - WRIT 5030G – Writing Grants and Proposals

4. College of Information Technology
   - New Program Proposal:
     - Online Master of Science in Computer Science Justification: The Department of Computer Sciences has been teaching graduate courses and supervising Masters degrees for over twenty years through a concentration option in the Department of Mathematics. The enrollment has always been minimal (2-5 per year).

Even before the computer science faculty were transferred from the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science to the new College of Information Technology, then Dean Solomon had requested development of an independent Masters degree. That proposal was developed over a period of several years, was submitted, and approved by the University Graduate Committee in 2006.

However, after concerns were raised about the uniqueness of the degree relative to other state offerings, the Department of Computer Sciences decided to revise the proposal to focus on an entirely on-line degree. The faculty also chose to focus initially on a single concentration in Database and Knowledge Systems.

The proposal is submitted herein for the consideration of the Committee.

MOTION: Dr. Vogel stated that the Curriculum Committee discussed the Programs and Courses submitted by the Colleges and recommended approval. Dr. Mack stated that there were typographical errors and formatting issues on some of the program and course documents, and indicated that they needed to be corrected. Dr. Mack also indicated that the Computer Science program proposal would likely need to update the letters of support with newer ones. With the amendment that the corrections will be made, Dr. Flynn provided a motion to approve the Programs and Courses submitted by the Colleges. Dr. Jovanovic provided the second. The motion to approve all Programs and Courses with the amendment that all corrections be made was passed.

VI. ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION: There was no round table discussion.

VII. DEAN’S UPDATE: Dr. Mack announced that the Graduate Committee’s WebCT site will be changing to a GeorgiaVIEW site, and that the transition will not take place until the end of the Fall 2008 semester. Once everything has been moved over into GeorgiaVIEW, the members will all have access.

He then stated that Hobson’s Connect Training has begun for the Colleges, and they are still in the process of getting everyone trained. Dr. Mack said that the training is going very well.

VIII. ANNOUNCEMENTS: Mr. Wayne Smith, from the Registrar’s Office, stated that all curriculum course and program changes should be effective Fall semester (with the exception of accreditation issues, state mandates, federal mandates, and system mandates).

ix. ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on November 13, 2008 at 10:25 AM.

Respectfully submitted,
Audie Graham, Recording Secretary

Minutes were approved November 25, 2008

xi. APPROVAL OF AGENDA: Dr. Lockwood stated that Dr. Bruce Schulte, COST requested that the order of the Agenda be changed so that discussion of the Biology Department agenda items be moved to the beginning of the meeting since Dr. Schulte had to be somewhere by 9:30 AM. There was a motion to approve this request, and with no objections the motion was passed.

xii. NEW BUSINESS:

1. College of Science and Technology

   Program Revisions:

   M.S. Biology

   Justification: Our current graduate curriculum had a limited number of graduate-only courses and relatively little structure. Based on assessments by the faculty and feedback from previous graduate students, more graduate-only courses with greater structure were deemed warranted and desired. We have established two required courses BIOL 7521 (Research Methods) and BIOL 7530 (Biometry) that will be taken in the first year of study. We also have increased our offerings of graduate-only courses, BIOL 7133 (Molecular Biology), BIOL 7233 (Applied Biology) and BIOL 7333 (Evolutionary Ecology), and require that one of these three classes be taken for the MS degree. Students may elect to take more than one of these 7000-level classes. We have restricted the number of credit hours of BIOL 7890 (Directed Study) and of BIOL 7893 (Biological Problems) to 6 hours toward the 30 hour degree. Finally, we have retained our requirement of at least two hours of BIOL 7610 (graduate seminar), 3 hours of BIOL 7895 (Research) and 3 hours of BIOL 7999 (Thesis).

Dr. Dick Diebolt suggested a minor change be made at the bottom of the M.S. Biology program page. The sentence appears as: “The degree is conferred when the student has passed the thesis defense, and the final written version of the thesis has been approved by the committee.”

Wording in the M.S. Biology Program page was changed to: “The degree is conferred at the end of the semester, after the student has passed the thesis defense and the final written version of the thesis has been approved by the committee.”

MOTION: A friendly amendment was made to approve the M.S. Biology Program submitted by the College of Science and Technology with the understanding that the wording of the above sentence be changed. With no objections from the Committee, the motion to approve the M.S. Biology with the amendment was passed.

Department of Biology

BIOL 5146G - Developmental Biology
BIOL 5232G - Medical Physiology

BIOL 7410 - Insect Hematophagy

Justification: Listed courses have not been offered in the past five years and are not expected to be offered again.

MOTION: The motion to approve all of the courses from the College of Science and Technology, Department of Biology was passed.

Please note the strikethrough on BIOL 5431G - Virology under Course Deletions. There was an oversight from the Department of Biology regarding this course. Dr. Shahnam Navaee stated in an email following the Graduate Committee Meeting that BIOL 5431G is an active course and should not be deleted. He has requested that the item be removed from the Agenda. The strikethrough of this Course Deletion will appear on the Amended January 22, 2009 Graduate Committee Agenda.

XIII. GRADUATE COMMITTEE CHAIR’S REMARKS – Dr. Jill Lockwood

Dr. Lockwood announced that she has accepted the position as Interim Director for School of Accountancy and that she would no longer be eligible to be Chair of the Graduate Committee. She stated that she will miss serving as Chair on this wonderful Committee and that she felt the committee was doing fantastic work.

Dr. Lockwood then stated that she would like to continue to be a part of the Revised BluePrint subcommittee, and asked if the Graduate Committee would allow her to continue to serve. She said that the subcommittee is getting close to a report and that she has asked Dr. Richard Flynn to write a part of the report that states the importance of preserving the integrity of our on-campus graduate programs to be included in the report. She stated that the report may be ready by next month for the Graduate Committee to review. There will be a number of others who will have input, including the Provost, President’s Council, the Deans, and Program Directors. Once all of the feedback is received the Revised BluePrint Draft will be written and then submitted to the Graduate Committee for approval, and then go on to Faculty Senate. Dr. Flynn made a motion to allow Dr. Lockwood to serve on the Revised BluePrint subcommittee, and the motion was passed.

The Election of a new Chair was then discussed. Dr. Timothy Mack reported that Dr. Robert Fernekes volunteered for the position. The floor was open for nominations. Mr. Jonathan Harwell made a motion to elect Dr. Fernekes as the new Chair. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion for Dr. Fernekes to serve as the new Chair of the Graduate Committee until the end of the 2008-2009 academic year, to fulfill Dr. Lockwood’s term, was passed. Dr. Lockwood then asked the Committee if they would like for her to continue chair the meeting, since Dr. Fernekes was not present. The Committee approved of Dr. Lockwood continuing the meeting.

xiv. A. OLD BUSINESS - No old business was discussed.

B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES

i. Academic Standards & Policies Committee- Dr. Mack handed out copies of the Graduate Faculty Model Draft #4. He stated that he has shown both the Program Directors and Dean’s Council this Draft. Dr. Richard Flynn asked if any of the procedures would change when applying for Graduate or Affiliate status, and Dr. Mack assured him that all procedures will remain the same. After some further discussion there was a motion to approve Draft #4 of the Graduate Faculty Model. With no objections from the Committee, the motion was passed.

ii. Curriculum Committee- Dr. Robert Vogel reported that the subcommittee met “virtually” to discuss the program and course proposal items. He stated that they had no problem with the Colleges’ submissions, and recommended approval.

iii. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee- There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

xv. REMAINING NEW BUSINESS:

1. College of Education

Revised Programs:

Ed.S. in Teaching and Learning

Justification: Candidates entering the Ed.S. often have difficulty enrolling in the ESED 8130 prior to ESED 8131 and ESED 8232; therefore, the prerequisites for ESED 8131 and ESED 8132 are being changed to allow candidates who have not completed ESED 8130 to enroll in ESED 8131 and ESED 8132 concurrently.
Ed.S. in Educational Leadership
Justification: The Program of Study description has been revised to offer spring and fall admission, instead of fall admission only. This new admission required the placement of one of the courses in a summer offering, instead of a spring offering for the cohort program.

M.Ed. in Higher Education Administration
Justification: The programs of study have been revised and updated to better reflect program flexibility, while maintaining program quality. Aside from the course content requirements, no other changes were made on the programs of study.

Proposed Change: Adjust the nine course requirement to six required courses and three elective courses which must be approved by the program coordinator/advisor.

Rationale for change: The six courses that would remain are the courses that have key assessments and/or are maintained nationally: 7132 Contemporary College Student, EDLD 7431 Higher Ed. Administration, EDLD 7432 History of American Higher Education, EDLD 7430 American Higher Education, EDLD 8431 Higher Education Law, EDLD 8735 Higher Education Practicum.

Higher Education Administration Electives: Currently students have 0 semester hours of elective course work.

Proposed change: Allow students the option to complete 9-semester hours of elective course work in a specific discipline or teaching field.

Rationale for change: This option will allow students greater opportunity for career development and flexibility with course planning. Students who pursue the teaching option would be able to meet the minimum requirement to teach at a post-secondary institution, as well as earning an advanced degree required for career advancement in higher education administration.

M.Ed. and Ed.S. Programs in School Psychology
Justification: The proposed changes involve a restructuring of the School Psychology program such that the current M.Ed. (36 hrs) and Ed.S. (33 hrs) are combined into one Ed.S. program (75 hrs). The increase in credit hours reflects the addition of courses that are needed to meet the training standards of the National Association of School Psychologists. An interim M.Ed. degree would be awarded after successful completion of 36 hrs and a passing score on a written School Psychology Comprehensive Exam. The proposed changes would enable students to complete the program in 3 years instead of the 3.5 years that it currently takes students to complete both the M.Ed. and Ed.S degrees. School Psychology Ed.S. programs approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (including regional institutions, such as Georgia State University (78 total hrs), The Citadel (75 total hrs) and Winthrop University (75 total hrs), are 3 year programs. The proposed changes meet the required training standards of the National Association of School Psychologists. These changes will better align with NASP standards and will enable the program to be more competitive with other School Psychology programs in the state and the nation.

Core Requirements Changes:
READ 7131—This course will be offered as an alternate to EDUC 7130. READ 7131 Approaches to Reading Instruction would be a useful course for school psych students given changes that are occurring in field with Response-to-Intervention which involve school psychologists working closely with general education teachers to address reading difficulties of students who have been identify as being at-risk for reading problems.

EDUR 7131—This is moved to the Research Sequence Requirements

Specific Requirements Changes:
COUN 7333—This existing course is being added as a required course to the POS in order to provide students with training in basic counseling skills. NASP recommends that students are trained in counseling. This change is consistent with Georgia’s shift to a Response to Intervention model (academic, behavioral, and socio-emotional interventions) and NASP standard domain 2.7 for training in mental health services. School psychologists are and will be required to provide these types of interventions. Our program must provide the necessary training for these interventions.

PSYC 7331—This course is being removed as an alternate course to COUN 7338. It is a course that is difficult for ESPY students to take because of the time that it is offered (during the day while our courses are in the evening) and limited offering and enrollment. COUN 7338 is offered at a time that is available for ESPY students.
EDUF 7235—This course is being removed as a required course because NASP focuses on how training program link diversity and multiculturalism to the roles, duties and responsibilities of school psychologists. Diversity would be addressed in all courses in an integrated fashion and specifically in the course revisions proposed for ESPY 8132.

ESPY 7132—This change involves a minor revision that involves the title and catalog description. The change in title more correctly reflects the content of the course. The course does not include interpretation. The changes also meet the requirements of the National Association of School Psychologists’ Standard 2 Domain 2.1 Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability. See course revision form.

SPED 6230—This course is being removed as an alternate course to ESPY 7132. ESPY 7132 focuses on assessment used by school psychologists in the schools and is consistent with the standards established by NASP. ESPY 7132 is also a prerequisite for other courses in the school psychology program.

PSYC 7236—This course is being removed as a required course and will be replaced by ESPY 7133. The content and title of the PSYC 7236 course has changed since it was initially added to the School Psychology M.Ed. POS. There is no NASP standard domain that focuses on this content. The current program revisions to replace this course with ESPY 7133 will provide students with a course that is more knowledge-based in school psychology content and more applicable to the practice of school psychology. School psychologists could not complete their duties without the knowledge provided in the ESPY 7133.

ESPY 7133—This course will replaced PSYC 7236 on the POS (see explanation above). This also involves a change in title and catalog description. The proposed changes in title and catalog description indicate that the focus of the course will be on childhood psychopathology and its implications for schools. This is more consistent (than the current title and catalog description) with the standards of the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP). Specifically, NASP’s standards indicate that training programs in school psychology need to prepare students in understanding human psychopathology and social as well as cultural influences on behavior as outlined in Training Standard Domain 2.7. School psychologists could not complete their duties without the knowledge provided in the ESPY 7133. See course revision form.
ESPY 7230—This change will involve only a minor revisions in the title and catalog description change. It is needed to better reflect the focus of the course which is the recognition and diagnosis of developmental delays and disorders in early childhood including infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Such focus is needed for school psychology students and future educators given the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA) Part C: Infants and Toddlers with Disabilities. This is consistent with the National Association of School Psychologists Standard Domain 2.1 Data-Based Decision Making and Accountability and 2.4 Socialization and Development of Life Skills as well as Best Practices in School Psychology Vol. V. See course revision form.

Specialized Content Requirements Changes:
ESPY 8130—This existing course is being added as a required course to the POS and will involve a minor revision in title and catalog description. The title change is revised to include training in RTI in the course which reflects changes that are occurring in the field. These changes reflect the current state of problem solving approach in assessment and conceptualization in school psychology. Candidates will learn about the relationship of curriculum-based assessment, progress monitoring, and Response-to-Intervention (philosophy and models) to other procedures and steps in a comprehensive assessment. Candidates will learn how to administer, score, and use curriculum-based assessment. In addition, they will learn how CBA fits into the complete screening/assessment/intervention process. Candidates will be exposed to different RTI models. The changes also meet the requirements of the National Association of School Psychologists’ Standard 2 Domains 2.1 Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability, 2.3 Effective Instruction and Development of Cognitive/Academic Skills, and 2.5 Student Diversity in Development and Learning. See course revision form.

ESPY 8131—This change involves a minor revision in catalog description and pre-requisite change. The conceptualization and report writing have been moved to the ESPY 8132 to allow for a more thorough and detailed focus on practice of administration. This will give the candidates more exposure to different assessment tools and more experience with each. The changes also meet the requirements of the National Association of School Psychologists’ Standard 2 Domain 2.1 Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability. See course revision form.
ESPY 8132—This change will involve a revision in the title and catalog description. These changes reflect the current state of formal assessment and conceptualization in school psychology. When understanding a child and how they function in a school environment; one must incorporate all aspects of the child. These changes help to emphasize the integration of the child’s cognitive development, social, family, race, ethnicity, gender, religion, sexuality, social class, and disability/exceptionality. The changes also meet the requirements of the National Association of School Psychologists’ Standard 2 Domains 2.1 Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability, 2.3 Effective Instruction and Development of Cognitive/Academic Skills, and 2.5 Student Diversity in Development and Learning. As indicated earlier, diversity will be addressed in this course. See course revision form.

ESPY 8133—This change involves a minor revision in the catalog description and a pre-requisite change. These changes reflect the current content taught in assessment course sequence. Candidates will gain the basic knowledge need to support this course in the ESPY 7132 Classroom Based Performance and Psychometrics. The changes also meet the requirements of the National Association of School Psychologists’ Standard 2 Domains 2.1 Data-Based Decision-Making and Accountability, 2.4 Socialization and Development of Life Skills, and 2.5 Student Diversity in Development and Learning. See course revision form.

ESPY 8135—This existing course is being added as a required course to the POS to provide students with training in crisis intervention. It meets NASP training standard domain 2.7 Prevention, Crisis Intervention and Mental Health. NASP recommends that school psychologists are trained in crisis intervention. School psychologists are often expected to be on crisis teams in the schools and to respond when a crisis occurs. Without the course, NASP would not consider approval of the school psychology program.

MAT and Re-designation of the BSED in Family and Consumer Sciences to the MAT
Justification: The B.S.Ed. in Family and Consumer Sciences is being re-designated to the MAT in order to align the program leading to initial certification with the other secondary education teaching fields (See MAT Study Concentration One). A new Family and Consumer Sciences methods course has been developed for the Family and Consumer Science MAT candidates.

In the Middle Grades Study Concentration Two, changes are being made to correct the order of the middle grades methods courses.
In addition, there is one error in Step Two of the Secondary Education concentration (Study Concentration One). A phrase was included there by mistake and needs to be deleted.

Deletion of the BSED in Family & Consumer Sciences with Transition Plan to the MAT

Justification: The B.S.Ed. in Family and Consumer Sciences is being redesignated to an MAT in order to be aligned with the other secondary education programs. Delete BSED program effective Fall 2013 so that current BSED students can finish their program. Transition Plan is attached.

Transition Plan to MAT in Family and Consumer Sciences

November 10, 2008

The following plan is intended for students seeking initial certification in Family and Consumer Sciences (grades 6-12). This outlines who can enter and complete the B.S.Ed. in Family and Consumer Sciences and who must consider the MAT (or non-degree graduate) program.

- Freshmen who enter Fall, 2009:
  - The last class to be admitted into the B.S.Ed. in Family and Consumer Sciences
  - NOTE: These students must complete their programs by the end of Spring, 2013

- Freshmen as of Spring, 2010:
  - Must complete the appropriate BA or BS program and then achieve teacher certification through the MAT option (or related non-degree graduate certification option).

- Fall, 2009:
  - The term that the new MAT program will begin enrolling students and offering courses.

- Academic years 2009-2010, 2010-2011, 201102012, 2012-2013:
  - Cross-listed undergraduate/graduate courses will be offered by the COE to serve both BSED and MAT students.

- Transfer students can enter the BSED if it is possible for them to complete their Programs by the end of Spring, 2013.

- All students currently enrolled in the B.S.Ed. in Family and Consumer Sciences may continue in the program as long as they complete their program requirements by the end of Spring, 2013. Students who delay their program (i.e. course retakes, withdrawals, light course loads) will not be allowed to graduate with a B.S.Ed.
Degree past Spring, 2013.

Other:
Advisement Information for BBA students interested in teaching and the MAT
Justification: Updating advisement information in the catalog, for BBA students interested in teaching. During their undergraduate study, students may choose to use their electives to complete prerequisite courses for the MAT or nondegree certification.

For students who plan to seek teacher certification after completion of the B.B.A. program, BEED 5130 Cooperative Vocational Education must be completed to meet NCATE standards for Business Education certification.

General Information for MED Programs – Statement of Purpose
Justification: The M.Ed. in Higher Education Administration program has proposed an increase, from 200 to 250, in the number of words permitted in an applicant’s personal statement of purpose. Upon approval of that proposal, a change will also need to be made in the general information pages of the Catalog so that on page 351, item #5 states that up to 250 words are allowed.

COE Graduate Education Programs Admission and Retention
Justification: The Catalog currently contains something similar on COE’s graduate Teacher Education Program (TEP) (see 08/09 Catalog page 132) but nothing for non-TEP graduate programs. The attached copy, at the beginning of COE’s graduate program information in Catalog (see 08/09 Catalog page 344), will clearly apply to all graduate programs, not just those that are teacher education.

New Course:
MSED 6737 Family and Consumer Sciences Methods

Course Revisions:
ESED 8131 – prerequisites
ESED 8132 – prerequisites
ESED 8537 – prerequisites
ESED 8538 – prerequisites
ESED 8539 – prerequisites
MOTION: There was a motion from the Graduate Committee to accept the Programs and Courses submitted by the College of Education. The motion to approve all Programs and Courses was passed.

MOTION: A motion was made to approve all of the Programs and Courses submitted by the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health. With no objections, the motion to approve all Programs and Courses was passed.

Dr. Mack thanked Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health for submitting their Course Deletions. He reminded the Committee that he sent out a spreadsheet last year with over 280 courses that are listed in the University Catalog that have not been taught in the past five years, and asked that the Colleges carefully review these courses. Dr. Flynn requested that Dr. Mack post the spreadsheet on GeorgiaVIEW. Dean Cindy Chance stated that the College of Education has been submitting Course Deletions and asked Dr. Mack to adjust the spreadsheet to reflect only the Courses that have not been deleted. Dr. Mack agreed to update the spreadsheet and post it on GeorgiaVIEW.

3. College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences

New/Revised Program:

M.A. Spanish

Justification: In the Department of Foreign Languages we have set new goals to reflect the reality of language needs in today's society. Our program now focuses on preparing students to have functional linguistic and cultural proficiency in a second language so that they enter the workplace with the levels of proficiency required use their language skills successfully. We have streamlined our M.A. program to meet these needs, making it more flexible and effective. Our current program, at 42 credit hours, far exceeds both university and peer institutional requirements. We propose to reduce this requirement to 30, with the expectation that this more realistic requirement will entice students into the program and facilitate an expeditious completion.

New Courses:

- SPAN 6237 - 20th-21st Century Culture and Literature in Spain
- WRIT 5650G - Writing for Publication

Dr. Mack commented that the Catalog Description on a number of submissions states that “Graduate students will be assigned extra work that undergraduates will not be required to do.” Dean Cindy Chance suggested that a list of possible items be added which would highlight the outcomes a faculty member would expect from a graduate student, rather than an undergraduate, after completion of the course. Another option that was discussed was including a statement that read “the extra requirements would be listed on the syllabus”, leaving it up to the faculty to determine what was specific to their course. The Committee agreed that the objective was to have consistency in the Course Catalog Descriptions. A motion was made to close the discussion. With no objections, the discussion was closed.

Dr. Diebolt asked Dr. Eric Kartchner if a Non-Degree Option would be offered for the M.A. Spanish. Dr. Kartchner recommended that the Program Pages conform to the same language as the other Program Pages. The Program Page for the M.A. Spanish that includes the Non-Degree Option is below:
SPANISH, M.A., 42 30 HOURS

Total Hours: 36 + 6 hours Thesis

Advising: Department of Foreign Languages, Graduate Advisor, Dr. Donnie D. Richards, Georgia Southern University, P.O. Box 8081, Statesboro, GA 30460, (912) 478-5281, fax: (912) 478-0652, email: dondean@georgiasouthern.edu

Candidates for the M.A. in Spanish must complete a total of 42 30 hours.
1. Thesis Option: 30 24 hours required of graduate-level SPAN course work + 6 hours of electives + 6 hours Thesis (note that at least 50% of all graduate courses taken must be above the 5000 level).
In cooperation with a thesis advisor and committee, the student will write an M.A. thesis (minimum of 60 pages, not counting Notes and Works Cited). The student must pass an oral examination consisting of a discussion of the thesis and of questions related to it. In depth and scope, the thesis must demonstrate originality in research as well as independent and critical judgement in interpreting materials. The major professor shall supervise the research, direct the writing of the thesis, and approve the thesis in its final form. Prior to final approval, the members of the thesis committee will have read the thesis. Both second and third readers shall report all comments to the major professor. Prior to beginning the thesis, the students should have the supervisor complete a Thesis Prospectus Form to be approved by the department and the Graduate College. Upon completion of the thesis there will be a thesis defense administered by the major advisor and at least two other members of the Spanish faculty as determined by the candidate and the advisor.

2. Non-Thesis Option: After completing 30-24 hours of required graduate-level SPAN course work, students who do not plan to enter a Ph.D. program will take 12 additional hours instead of writing the thesis plus an additional 6 hours in Spanish or in a related field as approved by the graduate director (note that at least 50% of all graduate courses taken must be above the 5000 level). Students choosing the non-thesis option will prepare a paper (of fifteen-twenty pages) that they write in their last six hours of course work to present before a faculty forum, followed by a question and answer session. The paper and the presentation will be assessed by a panel consisting of the student’s teacher for the course and two other professors.

3. All degree candidates will take a comprehensive examination over course work and a masters reading list which will be placed in their hands upon entering the degree program.

OTHER PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Language Requirement

All degree programs leading to the Master of Arts degree require a reading knowledge of a second foreign language. Either French, German, Japanese or Latin is generally required, but another language may be specified by the major professor when the latter is appropriate to the area of research proposed by the student in the thesis prospectus. A foreign national may not use English or his or her native language to satisfy the language requirements.

Georgia Southern University offers the following two options for graduate students who need to complete a foreign language requirement:

1. The language requirement may be satisfied by a minimum grade of "C" in the fourth course of a college-level foreign language that is approved by the student's advisor.

2. A student primarily interested in reading research in his or her field should prepare to take the Foreign Language Graduate Reading Exam administered by the Department of Foreign Languages. The student must register for the exam with the Department of Foreign Languages no later than the last week of the semester before the test is to be taken.

3. All degree candidates will take a comprehensive examination over course work and a masters reading list which will be placed in their hands upon entering the degree program. The examination will be based on material selected in advance by the student and approved by the examiner. The exam will have a limit of two hours, during which time the student will be expected to prepare a reasonably accurate written translation of several passages selected by the examiner. The use of dictionaries during the exam will be permitted. The examining committee for foreign languages shall report "pass" or "fail" to the College of Graduate Studies.

Summary of changes from Art Department (two memos)
Summary of changes from Foreign Languages Department

The Departments of Art and Foreign Language’s Memos that were submitted by the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences could not be voted on by the Committee. The documentation was never submitted to the University to have these items placed on the Agenda.

Course Deletions:
ANTH 5531G - Anthropological Theory
ANTH 5435G - Rural South
Justification: ANTH 5435G -- We will be offering a new graduate seminar in Rural South for the PsyD program (SOCl 7435) and so the graduate section of the current course is no longer needed.
ANTH 5531G -- We are eliminating this class at the undergraduate and graduate levels. There is a similar course in the catalog (ANTH 4231) that covers both theory and methods.

ART 7331 - Art of Asia
ART 7335 - Native American Art
Justification: 1. Courses no longer taught; faculty with specialized content no longer on faculty at Georgia Southern University.

GCM 5514G - Lithographic Reproduction Laboratory
Justification: GCM is restructuring its program to increase efficiency and to strengthen students learning opportunities; we will offer students a choice of two or four production courses changed from requiring only one reflecting the change of technology in the field. Three of the existing courses are structured as a single course for a total of 3 hours credit each. The current Lithographic course is 4 credit hours with lecture and lab courses combined (GCM 5434 & GCM 5514). All of the current lab experience will be placed in the revised Lithographic course, GCM 5434. The lecture will be reduced from three hours to two and the lab will be 3 contact hours. Additionally, some of the content from GCM 5434 will be moved to the new GCM 3231 Print Media Production Processes course.
SO CI 5431G - Sociological Theory
Justification: This course is being eliminated because the old course is being renumbered to a 3000 level class.

6. College of Science and Technology
Department of Geology/Geography
New Courses:
EDSC 5131G - Earth Science I
EDSC 5132G - Earth Science II

Dr. Diebolt questioned Section 7 of the New Course Forms for Courses EDSC 5131G or EDSC 5132G, regarding the $350 online fee that graduate students would have to pay when enrolled in these Courses. The wording in Section 7 of the New Course Forms is below:

No additional resources are required. Faculty have already been involved in development of the course and will be available to instruct. Also, in terms of resources, since these are online courses the online fee of $350 per student credit hour can be charged to students taking the courses. Hence, these courses will generate sufficient funding to pay for them to be taught by the department.

After some discussion the Committee agreed to change the wording to read as follows:

No additional resources are required. Faculty have already been involved in development of the course and will be available to instruct. Also, in terms of resources, since these are online courses the online tuition will be assessed to students taking the courses. Hence, these courses will generate sufficient funding to pay for them to be taught by the department.

MOTION: A motion was made to approve the Courses submitted by the Department of Geology/Geography with the understanding that the course fee has been approved by the University and the understanding that the above wording will be changed on the New Course Forms. With no objections from the Committee, the motion to approve the Courses was passed.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA
A Morris/L. Smith motion to approve the agenda was passed unanimously.

III. VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
Dr. Amy Heaston presented the following agenda items for the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

New or Revised Programs
Latin American Studies Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
Request to delete from the Interdisciplinary Minor in Latin America Studies, LAST 5436 Latin American Societies. This course has not been taught for a number of years and there are no plans to teach this course in the future.

Latin American Studies Concentration
JUSTIFICATION:
Request to delete from the Interdisciplinary Latin American Studies Concentration, LAST 5436 Latin American Societies. This course has not been taught for a number of years and there are no plans to teach this course in the future.

A Jackson/R. Smith motion to approve these program revisions was passed unanimously.

IV. COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
Dr. Marla Morris presented the following agenda items for the College of Education.

New Course
READ 4232 - New Literacies and Technology
This course provides an overview of the intersections between new technology-based literacies and school-based literacies. We will also examine how recent innovations in technology education have affected our definitions of literacy, both in- and outside of school, and discuss both the positive and negative effects of "new literacies" on educational contexts. Students will be expected to actively participate in this learning community and create technology-based lessons that they can use as professional literacy educators. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in READ 2230 or READ 3235. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The undergraduate degree program in special education requires an additional reading course so that their students receive the "highly qualified" distinction in reading.

A Morris/Jackson motion to approve this new course was passed unanimously.

New or Revised Program
B.S.Ed. Special Education
JUSTIFICATION:
The program is being changed to add the area of Reading as an option for a concentration in order to be "Highly Qualified." With the Reading changes, the total number of hours for the program changes from 132 to 129 hours.

A Morris/Jackson motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

V. COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES
There was no representative present to present the following agenda item for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

New Course
RELS 3335 - Introduction to the New Testament
This course introduces the fundamental ideas, themes, and trajectories represented in New Testament texts. We shall examine the historical, cultural, and religious contexts of the New Testament and broaden our understanding of the various claims of its texts. We shall also question and reflect upon the New Testament's contemporary relevance. Close attention will be paid to the texts. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Essential for the RELS minor. A course in the Hebrew Bible already exists; a course in the New Testament completes the coverage of the entire Bible. This course has already been taught as a special topics course and always fills. Students who are not RELS minors take this course, too.

A R. Smith/Jackson motion to TABLE this item was passed unanimously. Dr. Marla Morris opposed the title for this course. Since there was not a representative present to discuss this, it will be brought back up as Other Business at the January 2009 meeting.

VI. ALLEN E. PAULSON COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
Dr. Shahnam Navaee presented the following agenda item for the Allen E. Paulson College of Science and Technology.

➢ Department of Biology

Field trips to locations around Montepulciano will emphasize these topics. Assessment will be based on class participation, a journal on these topics, exams on readings and a class presentation. This course will be taught concurrently with Plants and Civilization (BIOL 1335), though upper level students will be expected to learn significantly more of the underlying plant biology and will be assessed with separate, more detailed exams than their lower level counterparts.

BIOL 5099S - Arthropod Diversity of the Swiss Alps

JUSTIFICATION:
Field expedition for the study of arthropod diversity in the Swiss Alps including (1) classroom and preparatory lab work at GSU (gathering of scientific references, material, and general knowledge necessary to prepare a successful expedition abroad), and (2) travel to the Swiss Alps where each student will carry out an individual project (collecting, observing organisms, documenting, analyzing data, presenting results in a seminar format). Assessment based on participation and understanding of the scientific process behind a field expedition (data collection, analysis, and presentation).

GSU does not offer any class abroad specifically designated for biologists. The objectives of this course are to prepare future biologists for field work in socially and culturally different areas. This Summer Term A study-abroad class will be co-taught with Arthropod Ecology of the Swiss Alps.

- Department of Construction Management and Civil Engineering Technology
- New or Revised Programs
B.S. Civil Engineering Technology

JUSTIFICATION:
The following two changes are necessary for the improvement of the Program. 1) MATH 1112 – Trigonometry is considered the preferred course for majors to complete in Area A, but MATH 1113 – Pre-Calculus may also be used. In the past, only MATH 1113 was considered acceptable. 2) Changing from CHEM 1145 to CHEM 1147 will provide additional coverage of key topics that support subsequent CET coursework (e.g. TCET 3141) and reflects the same change made to the MET Program previously. Credit hours have been adjusted to match the changes made to the suggested chronology. Other minor typographical changes/corrections have also been made to correct previous errors.

A L. Smith/Morris motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

B.S. Construction Management

JUSTIFICATION:
This change involves the removal of TCM 4740 – Internship as a substitute for TCM 4540 – Senior Project. These two courses are not viewed as equivalent educational experiences by faculty, alumni, and industry partners. One typographical change has also been addressed (i.e., “courses” instead of “course”).

A L. Smith/R. Smith motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously. Dr. Amy Heaston suggested changing the Program Page to show a better understanding of the substitution courses.

Department of Geology and Geography

Course Deletions

GEOL 5430 - Geological Evolution of the Coastal Plain
GEOL 5821 - Museum Methods

JUSTIFICATION:
GEOL 5430 and GEOL 5821 have not been taught for over five years. The courses are no longer offered, and the faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography agree that they should be deleted.

A R. Smith/Skinner motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.
New or Revised Program
B.A. Geography

JUSTIFICATION:
The B.A. Geography degree currently specifies MATH 1112 – Trigonometry or MATH 1113 – Pre-Calculus to fulfill the Core Curriculum Area A mathematics requirement. We propose expanding the Area A mathematics options for the B.A. Geography degree to include MATH 1101 – Introduction to Mathematical Modeling and MATH 1111 – College Algebra. This revision will better align our BA program with those of other University System of Georgia institutions and with typical programs at peer and aspirational institutions. It is important to note that STAT 2231 – Introduction to Statistics I is the only subsequent math course in the BA Geography curriculum; MATH 1101 or MATH 1111 meet the prerequisite requirements for STAT 2231. This revision will enable the BA Geography program to attract major students from a broader student population.

A L. Smith/Jackson motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously upon receipt of revised Justification.

New Courses

MATH 5337 - Difference Equations
This course is an introduction to the theory and applications of difference equations. Topics include the difference calculus, first order linear difference equations, results and solutions of linear equations, applications, equations with variable coefficients and nonlinear equations that can be linearized. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students.

Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2242 and MATH 2331. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The elective MATH 5337 is proposed to provide an introduction to “difference equations”. The course is of special significance in describing mathematical models in fields such as numerical analysis, computer science, probability, control theory, economics, mathematical biology, genetics and other areas. Due to its relevance in various fields, many students in mathematics and applied sciences would benefit from the course. With a more capable and increasing undergraduate and graduate student population in the Department of Mathematical Sciences, and with growing interdisciplinary interests, the proposed course would be important to our students and college.

MATH 5437 - Mathematics of Computer-Aided Design
The study of the theory and techniques used for the computer generation of curves and surfaces. Topics include Bernstein/Bezier and B-spline curves and surfaces, transformations and projections, affine spaces and maps, geometric continuity, curvature, subdivision and interpolation. This course is recommended for students in mathematics, engineering and computer science. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2242. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The elective MATH 5437 is needed to provide an introduction to the theory and techniques used in the computer representation of curves and surfaces. These have a wide variety of applications in the aircraft, automobile and computer graphics industries, and therefore would be of cross-disciplinary appeal to students in engineering and computer science, as well as mathematics. Indeed, both the Chairs of the Computer Science and Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Technology Departments at Georgia Southern endorse the course and would recommend it to their students. Due to the mathematical content and applications to several applied fields, the proposed course would be useful and important for our department and college.

Course Revisions

FROM:  MATH 3333 - Modern Algebra I
The fundamental algebraic structures: Groups, rings and fields.

TO:  MATH 5333 - Modern Algebra I
This course is an introduction to the fundamental algebraic structures: groups, rings and fields. Topics covered include: binary operations, groups (permutation groups, subgroups, cyclic groups, group homomorphisms, factor groups), rings (integral domains, ring homomorphisms) and fields. The historical and mathematical connections to the secondary mathematics curriculum will be incorporated as appropriate. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students.

JUSTIFICATION:
The catalog description is being revised to better describe the topics covered in the course. The course number is being revised from MATH 3333 to MATH 5333 to put it in sequence with MATH 5334 (Modern Algebra II) and to allow graduate students to take the course.

FROM:  MATH 5530 - Math for Scientists and Engineers
A survey of topics useful in the study of areas of applied mathematics such as physics, engineering and computer science. Topics include vector calculus, linear algebra, complex variables, numerical methods, Fourier series and partial differential equations. For non-math majors only. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment determined by the instructor that undergraduates will not be required to do. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2243 and MATH 3230.

TO: MATH 5530 - Mathematics for Scientists and Engineers
A survey of mathematical topics useful in the study of areas of applied sciences such as physics, engineering and computer science. Topics include: linear algebra and matrices, ordinary differential equations, partial differential equations, Fourier series, vector calculus, complex variables, numerical methods, probability and graph theory. For non-math majors only. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2242.

JUSTIFICATION:
The title revision is a minor change from “math” to “mathematics”. The catalog description and prerequisites are being revised to accommodate the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Technology department who plan to include the course in their graduate curriculum. In particular, their students typically only have a background in mathematics at the level of the proposed prerequisite.

FROM: MATH 5334 - Modern Algebra II
A continuation of Math 3333. Applications and deeper properties of the fundamental algebraic structures, isomorphisms of groups, rings and fields, quotient structures, vector spaces and Euclidean constructions. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment determined by the instructor that undergraduates will not be required to do. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 3333.

TO: MATH 5334 - Modern Algebra II
A continuation of the study of the fundamental algebraic structures. Topics to be covered include: isomorphism of groups, rings, fields, a deeper study of quotient structures and the isomorphism theorems, field of quotients, factorization of polynomials over a field, arithmetic properties of rings of polynomials over fields, extension fields, algebraic extensions, geometric constructions and the classic problems. Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 5333 or MATH 5333G.
JUSTIFICATION:
The catalog description is being revised to better describe the topics covered in the course. The prerequisite is being revised to be consistent with the course number change of MATH 3333 (Modern Algebra I) to MATH 5333/5333G.

A Saye/Higgins motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 3230 and MATH 2331.

JUSTIFICATION:
The catalog description and title are being revised to reflect changes in the topics covered in the course. The prerequisite MATH 2331 (Elementary Linear Algebra) has been added because elementary matrix techniques are needed in the course.

FROM: MATH 5339 - Partial Differential Equations
An in-depth study of analytic and numeric solutions to partial differential equations with at least three independent variables, and Green's functions. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 3230 and MATH 5338.

Graduate students will be given an extra assignment not required of undergraduate students. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2243 and MATH 3230.

JUSTIFICATION:
The catalog description is being revised to more accurately describe the topics covered in the course. The prerequisite MATH 5338 (Applied Mathematics) is being removed because the material in that course is not needed, and MATH 2243 (Calculus III) is added to be sure that students have studied “partial derivatives”.

Athletic Training Major
JUSTIFICATION:
To come into compliance with accreditation recommendations. During the last site visit from the accrediting agency CAATE, Commission on Accreditation for Athletic Training Education, it was recommended that we change all printed program materials from “sports medicine” to “athletic training”.

An Aasheim/Morris motion to approve these program revisions was passed unanimously pending approval at Enrollment Management.

Nutrition and Food Science Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
Removing the laboratory classes would allow the department to service the student interested in the minor. Because of the growth of the major and size restrictions in the labs, it is difficult for minors to enroll in the laboratory classes.

An Aasheim/Jackson motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

XV. OTHER BUSINESS
• A Moore/Higgins motion to request Strategic Planning Committee to review issues relative to dual enrollment and how it affects accreditation and institutional effectiveness, as well as concern about graduate faculty status to teach graduate courses was passed unanimously.

XVI. ADJOURNMENT
There being no further business to come before the committee, a Saye/Jackson motion to adjourn the meeting at 4:05 p.m. passed unanimously.

Respectfully Submitted,

MINUTES OF THE FACULTY WELFARE COMMITTEE
2073 Russell Union Building, February 6, 2009, 7:30 a.m.
Members in Attendance: Jean-Paul Carton (Chair; CLASS), June Alberto (CHHS), Marla Morris (COE), David Lowder (LIB), Joan Broome (LIB), Greg Harwood (CLASS), Bill Yang (COBA), Jim Braselton (COST); Pat Humphrey (COST), Laura Gunn (COPH), LeVon Wilson (COBA). Also in attendance: Amy Heaston, representing the Provost's Office.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 a.m. and Greg Harwood was appointed to be the recording secretary for the session.

Members voted to approve the agenda.

Student Evaluations: The committee discussed the current policy of administering course evaluations to students for every class each semester, its relationship to the Board of Regents Policy, whether it might be possible to substantially reduce costs by not administering evaluations so frequently in all cases, and whether a different policy would hurt the effectiveness or purpose of the evaluation.

It was noted that the BOR statement regarding student evaluations is very general and leaves substantial latitude for ways in which it might be handled.

Amy Heaston noted that she had discussed the issue briefly with the Provost, who wishes to examine the subject in the Senate Executive Committee next week.

Jim Braselton noted the perception that very few questions on the current instrument directly concern teaching effectiveness, which is the only purpose for the evaluations specifically mentioned in the BOR policy.

Jean-Paul Carton questioned whether another system would work just as well, perhaps 2/3 or 3/4 of the classes or only doing one section of multiple-section classes.

Jim Braselton pointed out that his main concern was that the current process was expensive in terms of both money (for the scantrons) and time (taken out of class to administer the evaluations and to process the information). He questioned whether the benefits of doing every class every semester were commensurate with the cost, and if the same benefits could be had by reducing the number of administrations, especially for tenured faculty.

Pat Humphrey noted that a Faculty Senate committee had examined the evaluation instrument several years ago and determined that there was no problem with the questions.

Various members noted that there were very different perceptions in various departments and colleges of how much weight the student evaluations carried in making decisions such as promotion and tenure or if it was the main (or even... sole) means of evaluating teaching. In some units, peer review occurred and carried substantial weight; in others it was not, and the student evaluations were the most important factor.

Amy Heaston noted that if peer review was not being done in a department, it was that department’s choice not to do it. She commented that there had been talk about doing student evaluations through SharePoint, which could possibly reduce the cost of dealing with scantrons. She will report on the actual cost of using the scantrons and any possible developments with SharePoint.

Jim Braselton noted the importance of determining the actual goal of the student evaluations. Was it simply to meet a BOR mandate? Or/and to determine tenure or promotion? Or/and to appease student government.

Jean-Paul Carton suggested working up a proposal as a draft motion for the Senate that would include a statement about the cost of administering the evaluations, the possible shortcomings of our current way of administering them, and possible recommendations for changes. He assigned Jim Braselton to head this project, who will be assisted, at Jim’s request, by Marla Morris.

Amy Heaston noted that it might be useful to find out what policy other USG institutions had regarding frequency of administration for the student evaluations.

Lecturers and Senior Lecturers: The committee discussed the status of the new classification of lecturers and senior lecturers permitted by the BOR and which are now beginning to be used in small numbers in certain areas of the University: COST, math, chemistry, physics, and Writing and Linguistics in CLASS. The main concern was that there are no specific University policies in the handbook regarding expectations for reappointment or promotion to Senior Lecturer other than the statement in the BOR Handbook.

The committee examined the BOR statement regarding Lecturers and Senior Lecturers, and statements that have been formulated by other USG institutions.

Amy Heaston clarified differences between Temporary Faculty and Lecturers: (1) temporaries have no contracts and are hired with the understanding that their employment will only be for one year, while lecturers could be a multi-year appointment, depending on annual evaluations, with greater longevity in service; (2) “serial” temporaries face the problem of having their load reduced every 3 years to meet BOR requirements, while lecturers do not; (3) temporaries are intended to allow more flexibility in hiring in cases where chairs are scrambling to fill a position due to resignation, etc., while the purpose of lecturers is to alleviate the number of full-time or “serial” temporaries. She also pointed out that the title of Lecturer was often more attractive to potential applicants than Temporary or non-tenure-track Instructor.

Dr. Heaston noted that the BOR has placed a cap on lecturers constituting no more than 10% of the instructional staff at a University, and that if they later apply for a tenure-track position, none of their time as a lecturer counts toward tenure. Pat Humphrey noted that her main issue was that the University currently had no written policy regarding review for lecturers, especially for the sixth-year comprehensive review if they wished to apply for the position of Senior Lecturer. Some (but not all) USG institutions have made such policies. She volunteered to draw up a draft for the committee’s consideration based on the BOR requirements and policies formulated by other institutions.

Greg Harwood noted that it would be particularly important to clarify expectations for service, as these varied widely among the USG institutions that had instituted written policies.

Old Business: There has been no news from Judicial Affairs regarding the committee’s draft Faculty Handbook for Dealing with Disruptive Student Behavior. The draft Handbook has gone forward to the Senate Executive Committee, and will be on the full Senate agenda for the February meeting.

It was discussed that once the Handbook was approved in final form, that it should be linked to various places, such as the Provost’s web site, the web site of Judicial Affairs, etc.

New Business: There was no new business.

A motion was made to adjourn the meeting, and having passed, the meeting was adjourned at 8:35 a.m.

Submitted by Greg Harwood, Recording Secretary
b. Addition of a detailed description of the Judicial Board. Add how many members from each constituency, terms, appointment procedures, etc.

c. Subcommittee to work on single document to make revisions and other pieces that the committee wants for the document to be able to report to Faculty Senate by February.

d. Request for additional data concerning behavior cases on campus. Additional data on campus to look at trends. Jean Paul spoke with Georj Lewis about getting this data but not sure when data will come out. Georj reported to Jean-Paul that there were approximately 700 judicial cases per year and only four last year on classroom disruptions.

e. Pat suggested changes on page 7 to beef up what might happen during student’s discipline and in the case of the reporting individual who should be notified at each step of the process. Reporting person should be emailed and sent hard copy of the process. The reporting person should be notified as the process moves along. Per #3 “If hearing is requested, a hearing is conducted by either a University Administrator of the University Judicial Board.” Pat suggested that we should know who is on the board, how many people, how these people are selected and what about the reporting individual. Pat also suggested that the appeals process needs to be clarified and the reporting person should also have the right to appeal. Also pg. 5, if campus police is called, the office of Judicial Affairs needs to be notified.

These changes were accepted by the Faculty Welfare Committee.

3. Disruptive Behavior Reporting Process:

a). Web Resources:
http://students.georgiasouthern.edu/judicial/judicial_process_faculty.htm. The FWC felt that more information about what happens at what step of the way is needed and that clarification on the process, especially in terms of what happens when the student agrees to accept responsibility for the charges, could be accessed by clicking on each template box on this web page. This will be a recommendation of the committee.

b). Process at VA Tech. Kim Coleman reported that she spoke with Tom Brown and Edward Spencer at VA Tech (acting VP for Student Affairs). She explained the history of how they separated the offices of Student Affairs from the Office of Judicial Affairs (which is also a recommendation that Kim Coleman made to the committee, to which Amy Heaston was very cautious about and warned not to do so). The history at VA Tech that led up to this separation of offices began in 1989 when the reports began to increase and the Dean of Students Office became overwhelmed. In 1998, therefore, they developed a separate office of Judicial Affairs where persons (who are not attorneys) are trained however to handle legal issues on the charges that come before them. Kim Coleman also reported that there is much collaboration on VA Tech’s campus between campus police and the local police, faculty and various offices on campus. Kim also reported that the reporting mechanism for incidents for faculty is separate from the reporting mechanism for the general community. Safe Watch is the mechanism for reporting for anybody on campus at VA Tech who comes across or witnesses an incident, i.e. suicidal ideation, depression, student misconduct etc., and these issues are reported the Dean of Student Affairs.

The discussion at this point turned on whether Patrice could get more help in her job here at Georgia Southern by separating the two offices as they did at VA Tech (that is, the office of Student Affairs and the Dean of Students Office because Kim feels as if there is a conflict of interest in these offices). Amy Heaston cautioned against this.

Jean Paul suggested that we might see in writing what can be proposed to solve perceived problems. The committee discussed the difficulty of a smoothly working process in complex cases such as disappearing or depressed students because they are adults and cannot be forced to go to counseling. At any rate, issue 3b (Disruptive behavior reporting Process) has not been resolved by this committee at this time. To re-cap, the reporting person—as was discussed earlier in the meeting—should also have the right to appeal. In order to address this issue, the Disruptive Behavior Subcommittee will look at other institutions to see what their reporting process is.

c). Time table for further action on disruptive behavior. Jean Paul suggested and so did Pat that a Feb. deadline could be met whereby committee puts together an information item and draft of handbook.

Under new business a discussion about an article that Amy Heaston found in Inside Higher Education about what counts as disruptive behavior from differing perspectives (i.e. from faculty vs. student perspective). It was also discussed at this point whether the committee would like to have a visit for our next meeting in two weeks from Trent Mauer and Diana Sturges on issues related to disruptive behavior. The committee agreed to invite them at the next meeting of the FWC.

Travel Grants
Actually, the Faculty Development Committee (FDC) met briefly February 13. Almost immediately a glitch was discovered in the scoring software, so the meeting was postponed one week.

The Committee met again February 20 with seven of the nine members present, as well as Alan Altany and Patricia Hendrix from the Center for Excellence in Teaching. One of the FDC members is not on campus spring semester. The other eight had previously scored the Spring Travel Grant proposals based on the grading rubric provided by the CET online program.

Patricia Hendrix provided the amount of funding remaining for the fiscal year, adding $1,800 from an earlier grant which wasn’t used.

Forty-nine grant applications were received this cycle; the total amount requested was $53,642.32. The total scores were arranged in descending order. Each grant included the amount of funding requested. Starting from the highest cumulative scored grant, the Committee added in the amounts of funds requested by each until we arrived at a figure very close to the amount remaining for the fiscal year.

The Committee Chair asked for discussion of those grants that individuals had rated highly but were below the Committee’s funding cutoff line. After discussion, the FDC decided to fund the first 21, or approximately 43% of the total. One more was selected for funding should any of the others decide not to use their allotment. The total for those funded was $22,992.37.

Selection of Awards of Excellence in Instruction
There were 23 nominations. The scoring indicated six made a good cutoff point, so Committee selected the top six for discussion. Within the six, the scoring totals showed the top three scored within tiny fractions of each other. The Committee discussed each of the three, then ranked them. Using these rankings the top two were selected.

Other points noted during the discussion
1) The information in the notebooks the Awards nominees are asked to provide needs some tweaking and re-arranging.

2) The selection of only two winners is a vexingly difficult endeavor because all of the nominees are doing amazing things in the area of instruction. All the nominees are worthy of more recognition. Committee members were urged to think about ways to recognize all those nominated.

3) The teaching ideas presented in the notebooks are a valuable resource and need to have wider distribution. The two winners are asked to give a presentation which is attended by perhaps 40 people, many from the person's department. Alan suggested that the two selected for the Award provide about 3,000 words of text to be made into a brochure. The information in the notebooks could serve as the core of it. It was also suggested that the text of the person's presentation be included. The FDC members were asked to keep thinking about other ways to share the teaching ideas of our nominees with the faculty.

4) Trent Maurer agreed to create the first draft of a checklist for travel and instruction grant writers. The same errors recur, particularly failure to provide budget justification and identifying of someone affiliated with Georgia Southern. This is Trent's fourth and final year on the Committee and he has now read close to a thousand grant applications; all agreed he is well qualified.
I. CALL TO ORDER: Dr. Robert Fernekes called the meeting to order on Thursday, February 12, 2009 at 9:01 AM.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA: Mr. Jonathan Harwell made a motion to add a report under Section IV under Subcommittee Reports & Updates. Dr. Richard Flynn provided the second. The motion to approve the additional report for discussion was passed.

III. GRADUATE COMMITTEE CHAIR’S REMARKS: Dr. Robert Fernekes

Dr. Fernekes thanked the committee for their support as the new chair and announced that he plans for meetings to operate smoothly.

IV. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES:

i. Academic Standards & Policies Committee - Dr. Fernekes distributed copies of the Graduate Faculty Model that was approved in the January 22, 2009 Graduate Committee meeting. He stated that this is only a reminder to the Committee of what they approved, and also stated that the November 2008 and January 2009 Graduate Committee Minutes will be presented during the Faculty Senate Meeting on February 16, 2009.

ii. Curriculum Committee - There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

iii. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee – There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

iv. Revised BluePrint (Ad Hoc) Committee – Mr. Harwell began by distributing three handouts. The first handout was related to the Library Resources available for New Course and Programs. He expressed concern regarding the following statement on the course proposal forms:

University Resources Statement: Provide information concerning what university resources will be required for this course. Do we currently have faculty trained and available to teach this course? Does the university have equipment/technology/software/etc. required? Does the institution have the library resources needed by the instructor or by students taking this class? If insufficient resources currently exist to teach this course, please indicate what is needed and the unit’s plan to garner these resources.

He stated that when proposal forms are being processed, this question needs some attention. Mr. Harwell indicated that it is important to make sure that the resources are available when a New Course or Program is approved. There was some discussion among the committee of how to deal with this issue and the cost of the additional resources. Mr. Harwell concluded that he wanted to raise the level of awareness of the Library’s Resources.

The second handout was a working draft of meetings notes for internal review from the latest Revised BluePrint Ad Hoc subcommittee meeting. An amendment was made to have “Working Notes” added to the top of this document. Mr. Harwell reported that he hopes to have the next draft of the Revised Blueprint ready to present to the Graduate Committee at the March 12, 2009 meeting.

The last handout was information regarding the Georgia Southern University Library Liaisons.

   COML 5334G - Modern Drama
   Justification: This course is being dropped as part of a comprehensive revision of the English major. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American literature. These new requirements mean that courses which are infrequently taught, or those whose content will be absorbed in other courses, must be dropped to make way for the new program. COML 5334G falls into this category.

   ENGL 5130G - 20th Century Irish Literature
   Justification: This course is being deleted as part of a comprehensive revision of the English Major and the Irish Studies Minor program. The expanding Irish Studies Center and the Irish Studies Minor require a more robust and comprehensive menu of courses. We are deleting ENGL 5130G to make way for these changes.

Course Reactivations
- ENGL 5331G - British Drama to 1642
- ENGL 5332G - British Drama since 1660

Dr. David Dudley discussed the Course submissions from the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. He stated that Dr. Dick Diebolt contacted him regarding some of the New and Revised Courses. (New Courses - ENGL 5235G, ENGL 5236G, IRSH 5235G, IRSH 5236G and Course Revisions - ENGL 5136G, ENGL 5434G, ENGL 5331G, and ENGL 5332G) Dr. Diebolt informed him that Dual Listed courses must include a sentence stating that, “Graduate students will be required to do extra work as determined by the instructor”. Dr.
Dudley stated that this statement would be added to those courses and asked that the Committee approve the Course submissions.

MOTION: With the understanding that the additional sentence be added to the Course Forms listed above Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the Course submissions by the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. Dr. McMillan provided the second. The motion to approve the New Courses, Courses Deletions, Course Revisions and Course Reactivations was passed.

VI. OLD BUSINESS: Dr. Flynn stated that the current Operating Code for the Graduate Committee was never approved by the Committee. Dr. Fernekes stated that is the reason this topic is being discussed now. Dr. Fernekes turned the floor over to Dr. Mack so that he could present his “How Should the Graduate Committee Be Organized At Georgia Southern University?” PowerPoint presentation. Dr. Mack explained that he wanted to provide background information to the Committee for them to discuss, to help them determine how they would like the new structure of the Graduate Committee to operate. He discussed the Faculty Senate Bylaws and gave examples of a variety of subcommittees that are being used at other institutions. He highlighted some items that the current subcommittees have been doing and how their participation was beneficial. Dr. Mack also indicated that it was the Committee’s decision how to organize themselves. After some discussion among the Committee, Dr. Mack suggested that each member email Dr. Fernekes with their comments on how to organize the Graduate Committee. A deadline of March 5, 2009, which is one week prior to the next Graduate Committee Meeting, was set for members to contact Dr. Fernekes. Dr. Flynn made a motion to continue the current structure until the committee votes on a new structure at the next meeting. Dr. Vladan Jovanovic provided the second. The motion to continue the current subcommittee structure until the next meeting was approved.

The Committee agreed that a Statement for Dual Listed Courses needed to be implemented. Dr. Flynn made a motion to table this discussion until the approval of the new Graduate Committee structure. Dr. David Rostal provided the second. The motion to table the Statement for Dual Listed Courses was passed.

ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION: There was no round table discussion.

VII. DEAN’S UPDATE: Dr. Mack reported that the Spring 2009 graduate student enrollment is now at 2,312 and that the Fall 2008 enrollment was 2,271. He asked that the committee pass along complements to everyone involved in the increase of enrollment and also thanked the Graduate Committee.

VIII. ANNOUNCEMENTS: Dr. Fernekes made an announcement welcoming Dr. Tom Noland to the Graduate Committee. He stated that Dr. Noland is representing the College of Business Administration and has taken Dr. Jill Lockwood’s place as a member of the Graduate Committee.

IX. ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on February 12, 2009 at 10:01 AM.

X. INFORMATION ITEM (Tabled Item): The Continuous Enrollment Item that was approved in the November 13, 2008 Graduate Committee Meeting was tabled during the February 16, 2009 Faculty Senate Meeting, pending rewrite by the Graduate Committee. The statement below was sent electronically to the Graduate Committee members on February 19, 2009 for approval. The edit below adds one sentence in boldface:

Thesis/Dissertation Enrollment Requirements

All students who have registered at least once for courses titled thesis or dissertation must be continuously enrolled every semester thereafter, including the term of graduation. Summer registration is not required unless summer is the graduation term. Check with your major advisor to see if your college has additional continuous enrollment requirements that apply.
The Committee members were asked to review the proposed rewrite and send objections to Dr. Fernekes. With no objections, the rewrite was approved by the Graduate Committee.

Respectfully submitted,
Audie Graham, Recording Secretary

Library Resource Needs Related to New Courses and Programs

Jonathan H. Harwell
Collection Development & Assessment Librarian

Following are some considerations regarding responses to the following statement on the course change proposal form:

University Resources Statement: Provide information concerning what university resources will be required for this course. Do we currently have faculty trained and available to teach this course? Does the university have equipment/technology/software/etc. required? Does the institution have the library resources needed by the instructor or by students taking this class? If insufficient resources currently exist to teach this course, please indicate what is needed and the unit’s plan to garner these resources.

Library Resource Needs

The graph below shows ILL’s (interlibrary loans) obtained from other libraries in 2008. Health and medical resources currently constitute Henderson Library’s highest level of ILL borrowing, at 33.9% in 2008 (1348 out of a total of 3981 items borrowed; 96.6% of health and medical items obtained in 2008 were journal articles rather than books, but this varies widely among disciplines). Providing additional courses, especially online, increases the expenses in supporting GSU programs, with considerations such as increased electronic licensing costs based upon FTE enrollment; costs of additional journal and/or database subscriptions; and/or increasing ILL and document delivery for the distance students.
Interlibrary Loan Borrowing in 2008

“Note that health and medical resources are divided among several categories in this graph: Communicable Diseases; Health Facilities, Nursing & History; Health Professions & Public Health; Medicine; Medicine by Body System; Medicine by Discipline; and Preclinical Sciences.

Library Expenses in Support of Distance Education (adapted from Library Committee report)

Based upon analysis by library faculty on the Online Tuition Revenue Task Force, we know that a significant portion of the Library’s expenses are used to support distance education. Regarding interlibrary loan expenses in 2008, we spent $5418.00 in fees to obtain these items, which comes to $1.35 average per item we obtained. 71.2% of these items were articles, and the rest were items to be returned to the lending libraries. The highest costs result from mailing books and other returnables to the distance learners’ homes and providing postage-paid return labels so the materials may be sent back to the library. Other costs associated with interlibrary loan include up to $600 annually in copyright fees, as well as borrowing fees paid to other libraries, most of which are in the $10-20 range per transaction. 91.2% of the items were provided free of charge from other libraries.

Of course, ILL and Document Delivery expenses are in addition to the subscription costs paid by the Library, many of which are license costs based upon enrollment FTE and which rise significantly each year due to an average of 8% annual inflation. These costs are also driven upward by annual enrollment increases, which include distance learners. Overall, these costs increase up to 10-12% annually. Hence the Spring 2009 review of all subscriptions for journals, databases, etc., responds not only to the current budget, but also to the years of flat-level budgeting for Henderson Library in the face of inflation, combined with this year’s anticipated significant reduction in year-end funds.

A recent study correlates library funding with return on investment (ROI). The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign realizes a $4.38 ROI for each dollar of library funding; this figure is based solely upon "grant income secured by faculty using library resources," but "does not include the value of library resources to faculty in teaching classes or in conducting their research." (http://liber.library.uu.nl/publish/issues/2008-3_4/7000269).

There have been a few informal surveys about this topic lately on library discussion lists. Dr. Farzaneh Razzaghi, Library Director of The University of Texas-Pan American, shared that they have a $2.50 per credit hour library technology fee from the total university enrollment, which comes to about $1 million a year for the library. All of the library’s hardware, free printing for students, and electronic databases are supplied out of this fee. Such a formula could be adapted for Georgia Southern, while factoring in the percentage of credit hours in our distance graduate programs. Our rising graduate enrollment is resulting in a higher level of research being supported by Henderson Library in our subscription and purchase expenditures. Meanwhile, the percentage of these students who are distance learners significantly affects our level of expenditures for interlibrary loan and document delivery, as well as our rising costs for licensing online resources based upon our rising enrollment.

A Moore/Aasheim motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

Revised Program
B.S. Nutrition and Food Science

JUSTIFICATION:
The changes would help us to meet new accreditation standards as well as provide more options for students. Currently, the only choice is the Didactic Program in Dietetics designed to prepare Registered Dietitians (RD). Not all of our students want to pursue the RD or are qualified to pursue the RD. New accreditation standards require that 80% of students apply for the dietetic internship the year they graduate and 60% must be accepted. Currently, we are not meeting that standard. Only those students in the Dietetic Emphasis would count towards this accreditation standard.

A Morris/R. Smith motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

V. COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Dr. Leslee Higgins presented the following agenda items for the College of Business Administration.

New Courses
MGNT 4236 - New Venture Planning

This is a project-based course in which students, working in small groups, research and develop a business plan for a new venture. With tutorial guidance, students will select an entrepreneurial idea and develop it into a comprehensive and fully detailed, written business plan. All aspects of the business must be thoroughly researched and the written plan must include three years’ financial projections. In the final week of the course, students will make a formal presentation of their plan and be interviewed by an enterprise panel with the aim of obtaining funding for the venture. The enterprise panel may include a bank manager, a business angel and/or a venture capitalist. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MGNT 3234 and MKTG 3131. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
New Venture Planning will be added to the Entrepreneurial Leadership emphasis in COBA. The course is required to enable students to build on their knowledge from Entrepreneurship and Small Business Management courses by allowing students to learn how to develop and pitch a fully comprehensive new venture plan. The course moves students from an ‘about entrepreneurship’ form of learning to a ‘for entrepreneurship’ form of learning and will, therefore, enhance their personal entrepreneurial skills, as well as, their knowledge of venture creation.

BUSA 4133 - Business Ethics

Business ethics refers to the collective values of a business organization that can be used to evaluate whether the behavior of the business’s members are considered acceptable and appropriate. This course will explore alternative views of ethics, describe the ways in which a business shapes its ethical environment, demonstrate how ethical problems arise, and help students develop codes and strategies that lead to ethical behavior. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in LSTD 2106. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Unethical behavior by business managers has become a highly visible problem. AACSB, the foremost accrediting body for business programs, has called for member schools to revitalize their commitment to ethical responsibility and to demonstrate this commitment throughout their academic programs. Although this topic has been addressed contextually in many COBA courses, we perceive that a focused coverage of the topic will be of great benefit to our students.

ECON 5131 - Teaching Economics K-12

A basic foundation in economics theory and personal finance material but with pedagogy for K-12 teachers will be emphasized. Internet usage will demonstrate understandable data sources used in presentations. Students will be required to develop lesson plans for economics concepts and demonstrate mastery of activities/lesson plans as part of their grade. Georgia Performance Standards in K-12 economics will be integrated into the course and a PLU credit will be offered. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in ECON 2105. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
To be used for Education majors as an elective and for current classroom teachers as a PLU.

A Jackson/Higgins motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

Course Revisions
FROM:  MGNT 3234 - Entrepreneurship
A study of the business formation process focusing on the behaviors of entrepreneurs and the creation of the new businesses in dynamic environments. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in FINC 3131, MGNT 3130, and MKTG 3131.

TO:  MGNT 3234 - Entrepreneurship
A study of the business formation and growth processes involved in entrepreneurship. The course also focuses on the behaviors of entrepreneurs within different entrepreneurial contexts. This is a course that engages students in interactive exercises and invites local entrepreneurs into the classroom to share their experiences of setting up and running new ventures. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MGNT 3130.

JUSTIFICATION:
We are trying to enhance the entrepreneurship emphasis by adding a more advanced course, New Venture Planning. This course will become the entry level course for entrepreneurship and small business and should, therefore, not be too restrictive. We have agreed with the Management Faculty that some of the prerequisites should be removed to allow better access for students wishing to take the course (particularly those in other Colleges).

FROM:  ECON 4131 - Applied Econometrics and Regional Analysis
Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in ECON 2106 and BUSA 3131.

TO:  ECON 4131 - Applied Econometrics and Regional Analysis
Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in ECON 2106; and BUSA 3131 or STAT 2231.

JUSTIFICATION:
Economics has degree programs in both the BBA and BA. The statistical requirement differs by degree core requirement, but either BUSA 3131 or STAT 2131 will be accepted as a prerequisite.

FROM:  ECON 4534 - Business Insurance
A study of alternative methods of managing financial risk of the firm using business insurance products. Although the course emphasizes insurance methods, alternatives to insurance are also examined. Financial concepts are applied to the evaluation of alternative courses of action for the firm. The course also focuses on regional insurance topics such as marine insurance, aviation insurance and crop insurance that affect southeast Georgia. Prerequisite: Junior standing.

TO:  ECON 4534 - Commercial Risk Management and Insurance
This course involves property and liability risks and the effective management of these risks with insurance. Application of property insurance to pure risk exposures including direct and indirect property. Application of liability insurance to general liability and catastrophic liability risks. Current topics in the field of commerical property and liability insurance. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in FINC 3131.

JUSTIFICATION:
The current version of the course has a much narrower focus that does not adequately prepare students in the Finance-Risk Management and Insurance track for general risk management and property-liability positions. The proposed version of the course can include the special regional topics about which our students should be knowledgeable, but will also provide them with a broader foundation in commerical risk management and insurance.
An Aasheim/Higgins motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

Revised Programs
B.B.A. Management, Emphasis in Entrepreneurship/Small Business
JUSTIFICATION:
The revision allows the program to more effectively utilize the skill set of the recently hired Freeman Chair of Free Enterprise by requiring a course in New Venture Planning.

B.B.A. Regional Economic Development
JUSTIFICATION:
Department is designing degree program to offer more economic development and economic courses, while dropping more classes from other programs which drew little to no interest from students.

B.B.A. - Specific Requirements
JUSTIFICATION:
About 30% of pre-business students are issued Special Permission Forms to take hit list courses and upper division courses concurrently. Approximately 500 exceptions are written each semester. We need to streamline the process so that faculty and staff can spend more productive time with students. The change means that Student Services can spend more quality time with students, it is easier to administer, and it is easier to understand for faculty and students. Students are capable of high performance. COBA student’s gpa mirrors the GSU student’s gpa. Also, 7 or the 9 current hit list classes are covered by using ACCT 2101: ENGL 1101, ENGL 1102, MATH 1111, MATH 1232, BUSA 1105 CISM 2530. Overall, it is easier for everyone to understand. We can rely on prerequisites to manage admittance to BBA status and we can use Banner to manage the process.

A Higgins/R. Smith motion to approve these program revisions was passed unanimously.

VI. ALLEN E. PAULSON COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
Dr. Shahnam Navaei presented the following agenda item for the Allen E. Paulson College of Science and Technology.

➢ Department of Mathematical Sciences
Course Revisions
Dr. Scott Kersey presented the following agenda item for the Department of Mathematical Sciences.

FROM: MATH 3230 - Differential Equations
Solution of first and higher order ordinary differential equations, applications and solutions of systems of linear differential equations.
Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2331 and MATH 2242.

TO: MATH 3230 - Ordinary Differential Equations
The study of differential equations involving functions of one variable. Topics include: linear and non-linear differential equations, initial value problems, existence and uniqueness theorems, systems of differential equations, stability, computational methods and Laplace transform methods. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in MATH 2242.

JUSTIFICATION:
Differential equations are an area in mathematics that involves solutions to both ordinary (one-variable) and partial (multiple variable) differential equations. The title is being revised to reflect that only ordinary differential equations are studied in the course. The catalog description is being revised to more clearly specify the topics covered. The prerequisite MATH 2331 (Elementary Linear Algebra) is being removed because most of this material is not essential to the course, and the basics can be introduced as needed.

FROM: MATH 4910 - Undergraduate Seminar
A specialized study of various topics in mathematics with the intention to engage students independent reading, writing and presentation of these topics under the supervision of mathematics faculty. 1 credit hour. Repeatable for credit.

TO: MATH 4920 - Undergraduate Seminar
A specialized study of various topics in mathematics with the intention to engage students in independent reading, writing and presentation of these topics under the supervision of mathematics faculty. 2 credit hours. Not repeatable for credit.

JUSTIFICATION:
The credit hours is being changed from 1 to 2 to reflect a change in the structure of the course that now requires more work from the students. The course number is changed from MATH 4910 to MATH 4920 to reflect this credit hour change. This course is also made “non repeatable” for credit and should only be taken once (as opposed to the old course). A typographical correction is also being changed in the catalog description: “students independent” should be “students in independent.”

A Moore/Jackson motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

Revised Programs
B.S. Mathematics
JUSTIFICATION:
The program revision is needed to reflect changes in the Mathematical Sciences curriculum. Specifically, the computer requirement is reduced from two courses to just one; the international content course INTS 2130 is allowed as an alternative to the foreign language sequence; MATH 4910 is being changed to a 2 credit hour course required one time rather than a 1 credit course required twice; the title of the course MATH 3230 (Differential Equations) is being changed to “Ordinary Differential Equations”; MATH 5339 (Mathematical Models) is being changed from a required to an elective course. Other changes are made to simplify and better clarify the degree requirements, and to allocate credit hours as needed.

B.S. Mat. Mathematics
JUSTIFICATION:
The program revision is needed to reflect changes in the Mathematical Sciences curriculum. Specifically, the computer requirement is reduced from two courses to just one; the international content course INTS 2130 is allowed as an alternative to the foreign language sequence; MATH 4910 is being changed to a 2 credit hour course required one time rather than a 1 credit course required twice; the title of the course MATH 3230 (Differential Equations) is being changed to “Ordinary Differential Equations”; MATH 5339 (Mathematical Models) is being changed from a required to an elective course. Other changes are made to simplify and better clarify the degree requirements, and to allocate credit hours as needed.

Mathematics Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
To make our Minor program more accessible, we are allowing the option of MATH 2243 or MATH 2332 and we are changing MATH 2331 from a prerequisite to a course in the Minor program.

A Higgins/Jackson motion to approve these program revisions was passed unanimously.

Department of Mechanical & Electrical Engineering Technology
Course Revisions
FROM: TMFG 2131 - The Manufacturing Enterprise
A national award-winning private enterprise simulation course with innovative hands-on application activity in organizing, owning, and operating a company. Students from a variety of majors study the typical enterprise organizational responsibilities and interrelationships, and operate a laboratory factory, developing, producing, and marketing a competitive product for profit.

TO: TMET 3431 - Free Enterprise Simulation
A synergistic, hands-on, activity-based study of the planning, setup, and operation of a private enterprise. Students will study and experience the full scope of leadership and functional management roles as they organize, own, and operate a simulated private enterprise company by developing, producing, and marketing a competitive product for actual profit.

JUSTIFICATION:
TMFG 2131 formerly served as the introductory foundation for the Industrial Management major is being revised to serve students of COBA interested in Entrepreneurial Leadership. The revised course will now serve as a unique example of the worldwide university trend of embedding entrepreneurial education within disciplines and outside business colleges. The course title is to be revised so as to de-emphasize manufacturing and to reflect its increasing free enterprise emphasis. The course is to be numbered as 3000-level to parallel the other courses that will comprise the new entrepreneurial academic emphasis, and to adjust to the new base of students who will be of junior-senior standing. The subject of the course is to be changed to be consistent with the other courses offered in the Mechanical Engineering Technology Program.

The Program Revision form is submitted to reflect the proposed change. This change is requested to better serve students of COBA interested in Entrepreneurial Leadership.

Engineering Studies Programs (Non-Degree)
JUSTIFICATION:
The Mathematics Department has changed the title of Differential Equations (MATH 3230) course to Ordinary Differential Equations.

A Higgins/Aasheim motion to approve these program revisions was passed unanimously.

B.S.E.E.T. Electrical Engineering Technology
JUSTIFICATION:
After reviewing the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering Technology degree program, it was determined that the title of Bachelor of Science in Applied Electrical Engineering would better represent the curriculum currently being offered. The program name change is consistent with the revised name of the Master degree associated with the program (recently changed from Master of Technology to Master of Science in Applied Engineering). The revised program name is expected to enhance the marketability of the degree by better defining the nature of the program to the general public (hence future students). This name revision will also provide better job opportunities for the graduates of the program, attract students and companies to this region.

This course will address the visual arts of northern Europe during the Renaissance, the 14th through the 16th century. The class will primarily cover the painting, printmaking, and sculpture of Germany, Flanders, France, and the Netherlands. The class will begin by establishing the artistic traditions of the medieval era and exhibit how the early Northern Renaissance artists both operated within these traditions and made marked innovations to the visual vocabulary, and will conclude with the 16th-century North's responses to the Protestant Reformation and to the influence of works of the Italian Renaissance. The class will be held in a lecture format with images projected during lecture for a combination of visual and verbal information. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in ART 2531 and ART 2532 or permission of instructor. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Elective to fulfill required upper division course work (9 hours) in art history for BA, BFA degree programs.

GCM 3231 - Print Media Processes
An intermediate technical study of lithography, flexography, screen and specialty printing and digital outputs processes and the image preparation requirements for each. The course will provide experiences that demonstrates the similarities and differences of print media and discuss criteria for choosing one versus another. Students will gain a greater understanding of the mass production options available for graphic communication. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in GCM 1131, GCM 1321, and GCM 1411. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The GCM program has been deficient of an intermediate level technical course related to the production of graphic communications. Students currently get production experiences in the first course, GCM 1131, and may not see it again until their senior year. Providing an intermediate level of production content better prepares students for their internship experience.

An Aasheim/L. Smith motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

GCM 2722 - Industrial Practicum Laboratory
GCM 5514 - Lithographic Reproduction Laboratory
JUSTIFICATION:

GCM 2722 - Surveys from alumni have indicated that the lecture and lab courses should be compressed into one course, GCM 2721. While GCM is restructuring its curriculum, this is the opportunity to improve the course and the overall program. This lab was totally arranged with a local business where the student would observe and participate as much as possible. This part of the lab will be incorporated in a reduced fashion into GCM 2721.

GCM 5514 - GCM is restructuring its program to increase efficiency and to strengthen students learning opportunities, we will offer students a choice of two of four production courses changed from requiring only one reflecting the change of technology in the field. Three of the existing courses are structured as a single course for a total of 3 hours credit each. The current Lithographic course is 4 credit hours with lecture and lab courses combined (GCM 5434 & GCM 5514). All of the current lab experience will be placed in the revised Lithographic course, GCM 5434. The lecture will be reduced from three hours to two and the lab will be 3 contact hours. Additionally, some of the content from GCM 5434 will be moved to the new GCM 3231 Print Media Production Processes course.

An Aasheim/R. Smith motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

FROM:  COMM 2332 - Introduction to Mass Communication
TO:   COMM 2332 - Media and Society
JUSTIFICATION:
Over the past 20 years, the field of mass communication has undergone a massive transformation. While changes in media ownership rules are credited with limiting diverse viewpoints, changes in technology offer access to an exorbitant amount of information with multiple viewpoints. It is imperative that students understand the role that media plays in society and in their individual lives. On a daily basis students actively select and choose to which media messages they will attend. This introductory course examines the historical significance of mass communication as well as introducing students to a life long endeavor of being media literate. The introductory course that is currently offered is too limited in scope to adequately address the needs that are crucial for college students today.

B.S. Journalism
JUSTIFICATION:
Revision needed to align program with accreditation requirements as detailed by ACEJMC advance team.

B.S. Broadcasting, Administration Emphasis
JUSTIFICATION:
This program revision is in response to the consistent demand from students for courses in digital filmmaking. Many current students have voiced interest over the years of wanting more creative video work as opposed to that which has been the focus of broadcasting in television, specifically news. With the drop in administration emphasis students in the Broadcasting area and the increasing interest in film, this revision of emphasis is appropriate to address students needs as well as balance the broadcasting area as we progress to keep pace with the current industry shifts toward multimedia convergence and interdisciplinary training.

B.S. Broadcasting, Information Emphasis

Deptartment of Foreign Languages
Dr. Eric Kartchner presented the following items for the Department of Foreign Languages.

FORL 2090 - Intermediate Foreign Language
Study of a foreign language at the Intermediate level. Continued building upon proficiency skills (speaking, writing, listening, reading) and cultural understanding. Focus on development of the ability to create with the language, to resolve simple situations, to ask and answer questions, and to begin to describe in detail and to narrate. Prerequisite: One year of elementary language study in the language at the college level or permission of instructor. 1-3 credit hours.
JUSTIFICATION:
We do not currently have an Intermediate level FORL course to accommodate the study of second year languages not regularly offered by the university. We have a 1000 level and a 3000 level, but, currently, since we don’t have a 2000 level, we are forced to register students for a 3000-level class when that does not clearly reflect the linguistic sophistication of the class. Creating a FORL 2090 would allow us to resolve this problem.

SPAN 3132 - Spanish Phonetics and Phonology
A detailed analysis both in theory and in practice of Spanish speech patterns, vowels, consonants, and intonation. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in SPAN 2002 or SPAN 2060 or permission of instructor. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
We are in the process of trying to make our program more proficiency oriented. Our program is currently heavy in literature and light in other areas. This course will present a detailed analysis both in theory and practice of Spanish speech patterns, vowels, consonants and intonation, thus helping our student to overcome many of the incorrect speech patterns that they have learned in high school or transfer from their native language.

SPAN 3336 - Mexican Culture
Focuses on improving linguistic and cultural proficiency within the context of Mexican cultural content. Course content varies; may include film, music, art, literature, history, etc. Emphasis will be placed on helping students achieve consistency with paragraph formation, narration, detailed description, and resolving a situation with a complication. The linguistic goal of the course is to help students approach the point at which they can communicate at ease with a native speaker of Spanish who is unaccustomed to speaking with non-Spanish speakers. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in SPAN 2002 or SPAN 2060 or permission of instructor. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
We are in the process of trying to make our program more proficiency oriented. One of our students’ principal barriers to improved proficiency is a shortage of 3000-level courses that specifically target the linguistic functions they need to work on. This course rounds out a group of three others that we have renumbered from the 4000-level to the 3000-level in an attempt to provide a series of content-based culture courses in which the students can develop their advanced-level proficiency skills. We currently have no culture course on Mexico, arguably the most influential Spanish-speaking country. This course is an attempt to rectify that gap.

A Jackson/Higgins motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

Course Deletions
SPAN 3531 - Technology for Spanish for Business
SPAN 2131 - Spanish for Hospitality and Tourism
SPAN 5890 - Hispanic Culture through Cinema
GRMN 3230 - Introduction to German Literature
GRMN 4331 - Business German
GRMN 4332 - Current Issues and Events in Germany
SPAN 4531 - Advanced Spanish for Business II
SPAN 4534 - The Manufacturing Enterprise

JUSTIFICATION:
Upon changing the title of SPAN 4530 from Advanced Spanish for Business I to Advanced Spanish for the Professions, SPAN 3531 is no longer needed. Advanced Spanish for the Professions will cover the material covered in SPAN 4531, in addition to providing more in-depth study and analysis of Spanish vocabulary and discourse used in a variety of professions.

SPAN 2131: With our new proficiency-oriented approach to foreign language learning, it is unfeasible to offer content-specific courses before the 3000 level. Professions-related content-specific courses are offered at the 3000-level that cover the material formerly offered in this course.

SPAN 5890/5890G: This course entered the catalog in error some time ago. It duplicates a course of the same title numbered 5332/5332G.

“GRMN 3230: Introduction to German Literature”: We no longer have a sizable literature track; content taught in “GRMN 4230--Readings in German Literature.”

- “GRMN 4331: Business German”: Content taught though GRMN 3330 (proposes new course) and/or GRMN 4030.
- “GRMN 4332: Current Issues and Events in Germany”: Too narrow and impractical; content merged to changed GRMN 4330.

SPAN 4531 and 4534: Upon changing the title of SPAN 4530 from Advanced Spanish for Business I to Advanced Spanish for the Professions, SPAN 4531 and 4534 are no longer needed. Advanced Spanish for the Professions will cover the material covered in these courses in addition to providing more in-depth study and analysis of Spanish discourse used in a variety of professions.

A R. Smith/Aasheim motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

Course Reactivation
GRMN 3030 - Selected Topics in German

JUSTIFICATION:
This course would allow us to offer Selected Topics at the 3000 level.

An Aasheim/Higgins motion to approve this course reactivation was passed unanimously.

Course Revisions

Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in GRMN 2002 or GRMN 2060 or permission of instructor.

JUSTIFICATION:

This course allows us to explore a variety of themes and topics not included in our regular offerings while we continue to strengthen students’ advanced-level linguistic proficiency.

Prerequisite: GRMN 2002 or permission of instructor.

TO: GRMN 4030 - Selected Topics in German
Prerequisite: Two German courses at the 3000 level or equivalent or permission of instructor.

JUSTIFICATION:
With the introduction of “GRMN 3030: Selected Topics in German” at the 3000-level, the prerequisite for this course needs to be brought in line with that for all other 4000 level courses.

FROM: GRMN 4330 - German Heritage
A study of various aspects of the German cultural heritage, including German music, art, architecture, literature, and language.

TO: GRMN 4330 - German Culture and Civilization
Presentation and discussion of topics, issues, and events relevant to understanding the German-speaking countries. Can be repeated for credit with different content.

JUSTIFICATION:
This proposed course is an updated and merged version of the existing “GRMN 4330: German Heritage” and “GRMN 4331: Current Issues and Events in Germany” (the latter being proposed for elimination). This will give us more curricular and course design flexibility and better serve students’ needs.

TO: SPAN 2001 - Intermediate Spanish I

Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in SPAN 2001 or permission of instructor.

JUSTIFICATION:

Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in SPAN 3130 and one other 3000 level course or permission of instructor.

JUSTIFICATION:

TO: SPAN 4132 - Introduction to Hispanic Linguistics
What is language? How do languages function? How is human language different from other communication systems? Focusing on Spanish, this course also explores language acquisition, language contact and bilingualism. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in SPAN 3630 or permission of instructor.

JUSTIFICATION:
We are in the process of trying to make our program more proficiency oriented. Our program is currently heavy in literature and light in other areas. The study of Hispanic linguistics will help our students better understand the nature of the language. SPAN 4132 was formerly titled “Phonetics.” Phonetics focuses on the sound system, and can easily be understood by students immediately after completing the lower-division sequence (SPAN 2002 or 2060). We want this 4000-level course to be a true introduction to the entire array of Hispanic linguistics, not merely to phonetics and phonology.

New or Revised Programs
B.A. Modern Languages, Concentration in French, German, Spanish

JUSTIFICATION:
In the Department of Foreign Languages we have updated our goals to reflect the reality of language needs in today’s society. Our program now focuses on preparing students to have functional linguistic and cultural proficiency in a second language so that they may leave the university with the levels of proficiency required to use their language skills successfully in life. We have streamlined our major program to meet these needs, making it more flexible and effective. This program, if adopted, will allow students to take a menu of courses based on the proficiency level of the course and of the student, rather than specifying a specific course that the student must take which is often not offered when that student is prepared linguistically to take it.

French Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
The current wording confuses “hours” for “courses.” The new wording fixes the problem.

German Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
The current wording confuses “hours” for “courses.” The new wording fixes the problem.

Spanish for Business Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
Currently, the Spanish Business minor requires students to take one prescribed class and four electives and are rarely offered. In order to make the Spanish for the Professions minor more accessible to students, the Department of Foreign Languages proposes to offer a menu of courses that will satisfy the students’ need to attain functional proficiency that would allow the students to work in a variety of professions. Students would complete the Spanish for the Professions minor by taking three prescribed courses and two professions-related Spanish courses selected under the direction of a Spanish advisor.

Spanish Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
Currently, the Spanish minor requires students to take three prescribed classes and two electives. Due to schedule conflicts with the prescribed classes, many students are not able to complete a Spanish minor in a timely fashion. In order to make the Spanish minor more accessible to students, the Department of Foreign Languages proposes to offer a menu of courses that will satisfy the students’ need to attain functional proficiency. Students would complete the Spanish minor by taking any five upper-division Spanish classes. This will put the Spanish minor in line with those of French and German.

  HIST 3030 - Islam in Southeast Asia
  JUSTIFICATION:
  This course will examine the history of Islam in the geographic region of Southeast Asia (the eleven countries south of China and East of India - Burma to the Philippines) from its arrival ca. 1,000 to today. The course will compare Islam as it is practiced in this region with the religion's origins in the Middle East, examine the cultural context that has shaped Islam's history in this region, explore the religion's role in the social, political and economic lives of the region's countries where Islam is practiced (Indonesia, Malaysia, Brunei, Singapore, the Philippines, Thailand, and even among the Cham minority of southern Vietnam). The course will conclude with an examination of the relative absence of radical movements in these countries and the reasons why this is so. An overall objective of the course is to discover and define an alternative Muslim historical narrative that complements, but is also different from, the dominant national (and nationalistic) historical narratives of the countries of the region that are strongly secular.

Selected Topics Announcements are for information only.

  Dr. David Dudley presented the following items for the Department of Literature and Philosophy.

AMST 5231 - American Romanticism
A study of representative authors of the Romantic Period in American literature (1820-1865). This course focuses on the complex social, cultural, and political forces at work in these writings and in the Romantic Movement in general, and especially the influences of the earlier Romantic Period in English literature (1798-1832). This course traces the development of the major literary styles and patterns in American Romanticism, such as the archetype of the American Adam and the myth of the American Dream; the importance of American innovation in literary language and form, especially in the use of frontier dialect; and the contributions to world literature of American literary theorists, such as Poe. Graduate students will be required to do additional work as determined by the instructor. Prerequisite: ENGL 2111 or ENGL 2112. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course fills an important place in the period courses for the study of American Literature. It covers the flowering of American Literature, a period known as “the American Renaissance.” Our major has had a course in Colonial American Literature for many years, but we have not had further period courses in American Literature available to our undergraduates. With the addition of this course (and the course in American Realism), the area of American Literature from the beginnings to 1900 will finally be adequately represented.

AMST 5233 - American Realism
A study of prose works of the American Realist period from 1850-1910, including writers such as Twain, Jewett, Chesnutt, Gilman, Dreiser, Wharton, James, Crane, and Norris. Attention will be paid to canonical and non-canonical writers of the period, as well as regional and sentimental fiction. Graduate students will be required to do extra work as determined by the instructor. Prerequisite: ENGL 2111 or ENGL 2112. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The American Realist period is crucial to a comprehensive understanding of American literature. The era's ground-breaking emphasis on regional settings and dialects, the careful attention to common speech and everyday situations, and the difficult struggles Realist writers had with objective narration are important building blocks in the creation of modern American fiction. Students wanting to work not only with 19th but also with 20th Century American fiction need the literary, historical, and social background a detailed study of this period provides.

ENGL 5235 - Irish Literature to 1850
The course examines Irish literature from its beginnings in the Gaelic oral tradition to the Great Famine of the 1840s. Students gain clear understanding of how Ireland’s colorful and complex history has yielded exceptional prose, poetry, and drama. Matters considered include Ireland’s four mythological cycles; its pseudo-historical invasion narratives; and its hagiographies (accounts of saints’ lives). Students also study writings that reflect the four major stages of British colonization: Cambro-Norse, Tudor, Jacobean (or Scots-Irish), and Cromwellian. In addition, they explore literary genres specific to Ireland: dinnseanchas (place-lore literature); the aisling (nationalist vision literature); the caoineadh (bardic lament literature); and the Big House novel, which often has Gothic overtones. The course exposes participants to other important phenomena, too: the so-called stage Irishman; the peasant archetype; literature of resistance and revolution; and travel writings in the sublime tradition. All texts studied are in English or English translation. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite). 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
We offer this course as one of the foundations for the minor in Irish Studies. It serves as a historical overview and also as an introduction to more narrow historical and literary periods. It is the first half of a two-course sequence which covers the history of Irish literature.

ENGL 5236 - Irish Literature since 1850
Irish Literature since 1850 examines novels, short stories, plays, and poems produced in Ireland since the country's Great Famine. The course explores the Irish Cultural Revival that began in 1884 and lasted until the 1920s. It also considers literature about the revolutionary activity that precipitated the founding of the Irish Free State and Northern Ireland. The course ends by studying literary works that reflect changes in culture and identity caused by Ireland’s unprecedented economic boom, which began in the mid-1990s. Students gain knowledge about a range of authors, including James Joyce, William Butler Yeats, Lady Augusta Gregory, George Bernard Shaw, Samuel Beckett, Seamus Heaney, Evan Boland, and others. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of "C" in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite). 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Irish Literature since 1850 is highly desirable for a fully comprehensive Major in English; and it is essential for the Minor in Irish Studies. No student should graduate a university program in English Literature without the opportunity to study the modern literature of Ireland. Irish Literature since 1850 complements the course called Irish Literature to 1850. Together, these two courses constitute the foundational sequence for further, more specialized undergraduate study of Irish literature, such as single-author courses on Jonathan Swift, Oscar Wilde, and Brian Friel. They also undergird the two other regularly offered courses in the Irish literature rotation: Irish Women Writers and Irish Global Literatures. Many graduate students also need Irish Literature since 1850.

Increasingly, Irish literature is a significant focus within the department’s graduate program, the largest in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. At this writing, five English literature graduate students are embarked on Irish Studies theses that, in whole or part, analyze Irish literature written since 1850.

ENGL 5432 - Twentieth Century British Literature
A study of major British and Commonwealth poets, novelists, and dramatists against the background of the major social and cultural changes of the twentieth century. Graduate students will be required to do extra work as determined by the instructor. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of "C" in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite). 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
We offer this course as part of the major because most schools in our field address British Literature through a process of periodization: Medieval, Renaissance, 18th century, Romanticism, Victorianism, and 20th Century. This course covers the final period. It serves as both a historical overview and as an introduction to more narrow topics such as the Modernist and Postmodern periods, the advent of the unreliable narrator, fiction and metafiction, the carnivalesque text, etc.

IRSH 5235 - Irish Literature to 1850
The course examines Irish literature from its beginnings in the Gaelic oral tradition to the Great Famine of the 1840s. Students gain clear understanding of how Ireland’s colorful and complex history has yielded exceptional prose, poetry, and drama. Matters considered include Ireland’s four mythological cycles; its pseudo-historical invasion narratives; and its hagiographies (accounts of saints’ lives). Students also study writings that reflect the four major stages of British colonization: Cambro-Norse, Tudor, Jacobean (or Scots-Irish), and Cromwellian. In addition, they explore literary genres specific to Ireland: dinnseanchas (place-lore literature); the aising (nationalist vision literature); the caoineadh (bardic lament literature); and the Big House novel, which often has Gothic overtones. The course exposes participants to other important phenomena, too: the so-called stage Irishman; the peasant archetype; literature of resistance and revolution; and travel writings in the sublime tradition. All texts studied are in English or English translation. Prerequisite: ENGL 2111 or ENGL 2112. 3 credit hours.

RELS 3335 - Introduction to the New Testament
This course introduces the fundamental ideas, themes, and trajectories represented in New Testament texts. We shall examine the historical, cultural, and religious contexts of the New Testament and broaden our understanding of the various claims of its texts. We shall also question and reflect upon the New Testament’s contemporary relevance. Close attention will be paid to the texts. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Essential for the RELS minor. A course in the Hebrew Bible already exists; a course in the New Testament completes the coverage of the entire Bible. This course has already been taught as a special topics course and always fills. Students who are not RELS minors take this course, too.

A Higgins/Moore motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

Course Deletions
AMST 3238 - The American Dream
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being dropped as part of a comprehensive revision of the English major. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American Literature. These new requirements mean that courses which are infrequently taught, or those whose content will be absorbed in other courses, must be dropped to make way for the new program. ENGL/AMST 3238 falls into this category.

ENGL 3537 - Special Topics in English
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being dropped as part of a comprehensive revision of the English major. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American Literature. These new requirements mean that courses which are infrequently taught, or those whose content will be absorbed in other courses, must be dropped to make way for the new program. Special Topics in English is being deleted because we have another course (English 5090:Selected Topics) that can do the same work.

ENGL 5130 - Twentieth Century Irish Literature
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being deleted as part of a comprehensive revision of the English Major and the Irish Studies Minor program. The expanding Irish Studies Center and the Irish Studies Minor require a more robust and comprehensive menu of courses. We are deleting ENGL/IRSH 5130/5130G to make way for these changes.

ENGL 5333 - Studies in English Drama
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being dropped as part of a comprehensive revision of the English major. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American Literature. These new requirements mean that courses which are infrequently taught, or those whose content will be absorbed in other courses, must be dropped to make way for the new program. ENGL 5333 falls into this category. For unclear reasons, ENGL 5333 is also titled British Drama to 1900 in the Course Catalogue.

ENGL 5334 - Modern Drama
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being dropped as part of a comprehensive revision of the English major. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American Literature. The revised English major requires that students become conversant in major periods in English and American Literature. These new requirements mean that courses which are infrequently taught, or those whose content will be absorbed in other courses, must be dropped to make way for the new program. English 5436 is such a course.

IRSH 3338 - Irish Cultural Identities
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being deleted as part of a comprehensive revision of the Irish Studies Minor program. The expanding Irish Studies Center and the Irish Studies Minor require a more robust and comprehensive menu of courses as well as contraction where redundancies occur. We feel the material addressed in this course will be adequately covered in IRSH 3330 (currently being revised to IRSH 2130) Contemporary Irish Culture.
IRSH 4890 - Seminar in Irish Studies
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being deleted as part of a comprehensive revision of the Irish Studies Minor program. The expanding Irish Studies Center and the Irish Studies Minor require a more robust and comprehensive menu of courses as well as contraction where redundancies occur. Because Irish Studies is only a minor program at this point, we feel the intensive focus of a seminar style course is not as valuable for Irish Studies minors as survey type courses covering larger literary and cultural fields. Irish Studies minors will also no longer be required to complete a seminar as part of the Irish Studies Minor program.

IRSH 5130 - Twentieth Century Irish Literature
JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being deleted as part of a comprehensive revision of the English Major program and the Irish Studies Minor program. The expanding Irish Studies Center and the Irish Studies Minor require a more robust and comprehensive menu of courses. We are deleting ENGL/IRSH 5130 to make way for these changes.

Much of the course will focus on the vibrant professional theater that developed in sixteenth- and seventeenth-century London. Students will learn about some of Shakespeare’s talented contemporaries, not only Marlowe and Jonson but also Webster, Middleton, Ford, and other playwrights whose vigorous and sometimes shocking plays offer a fascinating look at early modern English theater and life. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite). A study of British drama from 1660 into the modern period, including Restoration, Neoclassic, Romantic, Victorian, and early modern plays in their historical and critical contexts. Prerequisite: None. Repeatable for credit: No.

TO: ENGL 5332 - British Drama since 1660
A study of British drama from the reopening of the theatres in 1660 to modern times. Students will study important plays from the English Restoration and Neo-Classical period (e.g., Congreve, Dryden, Goldsmith, Sheridan), the Romantic period (e.g., Shelley), the Victorian period (e.g., Wilde, Synge, Shaw), as well as plays from the 20th Century (e.g., Pinter, Becket, Stoppard). Plays will be studied in their historical and critical contexts. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite). Repeatable for credit: Yes.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course is being reactivated as part of a comprehensive revision to the English major. Part of that revision process involves fortifying the prerequisites for upper division courses and improving the course descriptions. Repeatable for Credit and Level are also being updated.

FROM: ENGL 5434 - Donne and Milton
A study of two major poets that focuses on close study and interpretation of their greatest works, creating involvement in religious and historical circumstances of the time in which they were written. Amongst the poetry are the best loved poems of all time. May be used to fulfill the single author requirement. Prerequisite: ENGL 2111 or ENGL 2112.

TO: ENGL 5434 - Milton
A study of one of the greatest and most exciting of all English poets, based on close study of his work and exploration of the religious and historical circumstances of its time. We will read all of “Paradise Lost”, a wide selection of Milton’s other poetry, and some of the most important of his prose works. May be used to fulfill the single author requirement. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in all of the following: ENGL 2231 or ENGL 2232; ENGL 2331 or ENGL 2332; and prior or concurrent enrollment in ENGL 2131 and either ENGL 2231 or 2232 (not taken as a prerequisite).

JUSTIFICATION:
Donne and Milton are not a natural pair, from any perspective. They overlap historically, but have no sympathies, literary, political, or religious. Nor do they work well as a duo: in scale alone, there is something unavoidably jarring in reading four “Songs and Sonnets” one week and two books of “Paradise Lost” the next. The brighter students find the combination arbitrary. Milton, a poet of the greatest importance, needs and deserves a course to himself. Most students who study him find his poetry exhilarating - demanding but attractive. I think it would be a popular change, as well as being an improvement on academic grounds.

FROM: IRSH 3330 - Contemporary Irish Culture
Designed to expand awareness of the rich Irish traditions in music, dance, archeology, theater, and sport. The course will center on active participation in workshops focusing on traditional Irish singing, set dancing, bodhran (Irish skin drum) playing, weaving, local archeology, hill walking, contemporary poetry and traditional folklore. Field trips to Irish cultural sites will further enhance knowledge gained in the workshop.
TO:  IRSH 2130 - Introduction to Irish Culture
This course explores the richness and diversity of the culture of Ireland, where Gaelic, Scots-Irish, and other venerable traditions exist within a globalized modern society and high-tech knowledge economy. Students gain understanding of Ireland’s storytelling, theater, art, dance, and song patrimonies; its musical styles, instruments, and performance customs; its indigenous folklore and folkways; its native and colonial-era sports; and its archeology and built environment. They also examine the country’s regional, linguistic, religious, and political variety, as well as the tensions and synergies that result from centuries of mixed culture. The course assesses the cultural impact upon Ireland of the vast, worldwide Irish diaspora, and it concludes with informed speculation about the status that traditional Irish cultural forms and practices will have, both at home and abroad, over coming decades.

JUSTIFICATION:
We currently have no lower division courses (outside of Gaelic language) for the Irish Studies Minor and need a course providing basic cultural literacy. We anticipate this course will attract students to the Irish Studies Minor, contributing to the university’s strategic goal, Transcultural Opportunities

FROM:  PHIL 3334 - Environmental Ethics
Prerequisite: None.
TO:  PHIL 3334 - Environmental Ethics
Prerequisite: PHIL 1030.

JUSTIFICATION:
Environmental Ethics is taken by many GTREP students to fulfill a core curriculum requirement for their engineering program. Many of these students have no background in philosophy and are therefore not prepared for the course materials. Furthermore, their lack of preparation hinders the learning experience for Philosophy majors who are prepared to understand the course. To help remedy this situation, we want to add PHIL 1030, Introduction to Philosophy, to make sure all students in PHIL 3334 are adequately prepared to do the course work.

FROM:  PHIL 3433 - Reason and Revolution: 19th Century European Philosophy
TO:  PHIL 3433 - Nineteenth Century European Philosophy

JUSTIFICATION:
Title change from “Reason and Revolution” 19th Century European Philosophy to “Nineteenth Century European Philosophy” simplifies the lengthy course title and more readily indicates the subject matter of the course. “Reason and Revolution” is also too prescriptive a title, implying that all of 19th century European philosophy touches on those two concepts, when, in fact, that philosophy is much more far-ranging in scope and concern.

A Warren/Jackson motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

New or Revised Programs
American Studies Minor
JUSTIFICATION:
Several ENGL course numbers have changed, some ENGL courses have been dropped, some ENGL courses have been added.

B.A. English
JUSTIFICATION:
The English major was last revised when GSU converted from quarters to semesters in 1998. Even at that time, the revision process mainly involved fitting a program that was divisible by three quarters into a format divisible by two semesters. So, in reality, the English Major has not been thoroughly revised in more than twenty years. During that time, nearly all of the colleges and universities in the University System of Georgia have changed their English majors in three fundamental ways: 1) they have revised Area F to include the English survey courses that lay the groundwork for upper division coursework; and 2) they have established required introductory and capstone courses; and 3) they have organized the Major Requirements into groups of related courses from which students must select a minimum number of hours. The rationale undergirding this approach is that in order to graduate well-prepared English majors we must insure that students have been exposed to the main areas of English and American literature. We must also make sure that students have adequate preparation to succeed in the program and then have the means to evaluate their overall performance. The English major at Georgia Southern has addressed these issues by intensifying the ENGL portion of Area F, bolstering the specific requirements that are part of the Major Requirements, and combining most of our existing courses (along with some new courses and reactivated courses) into coherent areas. In areas where we have had a weak selection of courses we have improved the selection by creating courses similar to those offered at sister institutions. Redundant courses and courses no longer of general interest have been deleted. Some courses have simply been revised to make clearer their intent. In all cases, our goal has been to make the English major rigorous yet fair, offering a balance of guided instruction with the freedom to explore, in order to produce graduates who will be proud of their B.A. in English from Georgia Southern. We think that the revisions to the English major will do just that as well as make our major at Georgia Southern a destination for students who wish to major in English

Comparative Literature Minor

JUSTIFICATION:
The English Major Program is deleting some courses and changing the numbers of others thereby necessitating these changes in the Comparative Literature Minor.

Humanities Concentration

JUSTIFICATION:
Changes in the English major necessitate these changes in the Humanities Concentration.

Humanities Minor

JUSTIFICATION:
Changes in the English major necessitate these changes in the Humanities Minor.

Irish Studies Minor

JUSTIFICATION:
The Center for Irish Studies has expanded its presence on campus in recent years and increased its course offerings for students. The changes in the composition of the minor reflect these changes.

B.A. Philosophy

JUSTIFICATION:
We want to make sure our Philosophy majors have a course in ethics. As it currently stands, a Philosophy major may take an ethics course, but has other, non-ethics choices that substitute for it. We proposing eliminating these non-ethics options and give the student a choice between 2 ethics courses as partial fulfillment of the PHIL major.

- Department of Writing and Linguistics

  Dr. Phyllis Dallas presented the following items for the Department of Writing and Linguistics.

  ENGL 1160 - First-Year Composition

  This combined composition course, which includes all of the requirements for English 1101 and 1102, covers the development of writing and research skills. Because this is a combo course, course content will be accelerated and rigorous. Evidence must be provided that the Regents’ Exam will be taken or satisfied by exemption while enrolled. A minimum of “C” must be earned. Earning less than a “C” requires taking English 1101 and 1102 again, either separately or in the combination if seating permits. This course will be offered only in Fall semesters in a limited number of sections. 6 credit hours.

  JUSTIFICATION:
  This course has been piloted for the past two falls and seeks to address the university’s mission for academic excellence through rigorous training and practice in composition.
WRIT 4790 - Internship in Writing and Linguistics
This course is an opportunity for students to gain professional writing experience. The semester prior to the internship, the student will find an internship, write a proposal that describes the internship and submit the proposal for approval to the department chair, who will assign a supervising faculty member. The student will provide periodic progress reports and either a portfolio or a final report. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in WRIT 3130, WRIT 3220, WRIT 3531, or LING 3630. 1-6 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Internships exist in a variety of majors in all colleges across the university. Writing and Linguistics students will benefit from being able to work as writers in terms of the direction they give their degree programs and for employment after graduation. The internship program can also help the Department of Writing and Linguistics to develop closer ties to industry.

WRIT 5650 - Writing for Publication
This course prepares students for writing for publication in a digital age. Students are encouraged to pursue various areas of research and interests as they learn how to locate suitable venues for publication, write query letters to publishers, format manuscripts for submission, and deal with revision and editing in today’s technological environment. Graduate students will be expected to do an extra project. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in ENGL 1102. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
This is an elective course that is appropriate for all areas of concentration within the Writing and Linguistics major and for students across the curriculum interested in the topic. The course has already been offered twice as a selected topics course and has filled both times.

A Moore/R. Smith motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

LING 2090 - Humor and Language (followed by summary by Martha Pennington)

JUSTIFICATION:
Humor is a form of verbal play that everybody enjoys. It exercises the intellect and reveals the workings of the mind in the interpretation of meaning. At its best humor pushes the limits of language and helps it to evolve. The course presents a linguistic view of humor at an introductory level. A foundation is laid at the beginning of the course connecting humor and language in evolution and child development, behavior and cognition, and production and comprehension of meaning. Humor is then examined in its many varieties and traditions, analyzed in terms of its structure and language, and considered in the light of a number of theories.

Summary of the Academic Advisory Council
Chair: Linda Bleicken
Minutes from the Academic Advisory committee Meeting
February 24, 2009

In order of the agenda:
1. Admissions - they've contracted to use Hobson's Connect for marketing/tracking graduate applicants. Mary Pascarella started in Dec to manage this...it really went "live" in January. They can have potential students create their own web pages within programs of interest and use this to organize application information. It also allows Admissions to track the number of e-mails sent/received, etc.

Overall, grad applications for Fall are down over last year, undergrad applications up, but they expect about the same number (2600) with a possibility/contingency of an extra 300. Another 500 or so are expected through EIP. Housing is up 248 applications over this time last year (new priority application deadline of March 1.)

2. Registrar - covered the enrollment report - up about 800 from last year. They'll be sending the final numbers to the USG on March 4. Summer enrollments are down from last year at this point, but many students probably didn't preregister during Fall, so this should increase. (about 7200 registered for summer so far compared to 8200 last year on April 30).

3. Distance Education - there are new reporting requirements for hybrid/tech enhanced/etc classes. They got everything taken care of for Spring last week. They'll be starting a project to (possibly) get the information direct from instructors (with enrollment verification?) as opposed to from dept chairs.
Possible changes to Calendar are coming from the USG. The USG Calendar committee made a recommendation in December to allow more flexibility in academic calendars - no more 75 day rule, and more leeway in terms of start/end dates for semesters. The proposal also includes "semesters (terms) consisting of 15 instructional weeks, including the final exam period." We can’t do this in our current scheduling framework - SACS requires 2250 minutes (excluding final) for a 3 credit course. We get exactly that in 15 weeks (150 min/wk).

4. Jayne Perkins Brown - new reporting requirements for ethnicity from the Feds. They’ve already implemented for new students. There was some discussion on how to update info on current students, faculty and staff.

5. IT Services - We’re going to be redesigning the web presence...again. My.GeorgiaSouthern will be the "main portal" for current students/faculty and GeorgiaSouthern.edu will focus externally - recruiting, alumni, etc. Phase 1 is a redesign of My - to look like a News page - lots of discussion on this one - including have faculty, etc been involved yet (no). Phase 2 will add Google apps to My. Phase 3 will redesign GeorgiaSouthern.edu. All subject to $$, of course. They’ve hired Dan Czech’s brother to be the new web developer - he starts March 2.

Faculty Welfare Committee Minutes
The committee met Friday, March 27, 2009 at 7:30 in the Board Room of the Russell Student Union. Those present were: Jean-Paul Carton (CLASS, Chair), Greg Harwood (CLASS), David Lowder (LIB), Amy Heaston (Provost and VPAA), LeVon E. Wilson (COBA), Pat Humphrey (COST), Marla Morris (COE), and Laura Gunn (JPHCOPH).

The topic of discussion was the proposed Lecturer Policy in light of the Faculty Senate’s “no” vote on the motion at the Tuesday, March 24 meeting. The Senate requested we revise the policy to address issues such as teaching load for these positions, their eligibility for Senate and University committees, how they are different from regular temporary positions, and make clearer the guidelines for promotion to Senior Lecturer. There was also discussion of Clinical Instructors, as these are also NTT positions.

Per Amy, both clinical Instructors and Lecturers are non-tenure track. As such, with new BOR policy (BOR minutes, October 2008) they have the presumption of future employment unless notified to the contrary before the deadline (that depends on how long they’ve been employed). This is a change from the past, when individuals had to be notified one way or the other about future employment. This change also pertains to TT individuals. Given this change, both these types of NTT people have the “expectation of future employment” unless notified otherwise. Handbook language already specifies that notification of these individuals must be done on the same schedule as TT individuals (Section 214). This becomes, in effect, a two-year revolving contract after about two years in the position because of the notification dates. This is a major distinction from Temporaries, where no such expectation is given. Another distinction between these NTT positions and Temporaries is the required break in service every three years for Temporaries. There was some discussion about how the “break” had become blurred by, of late, only requiring individuals to be part-time for a semester, where in the past a full “semester out” was required.

The hiring process is another point of difference between these NTT positions and Temporaries. Lecturers and Clinical Instructors are hired after a much more rigorous screening/interview process than temporaries. The NTT positions require a full search, whether internal, state-wide, or national; Temporaries require no search, nor even a formal interview.

Because of these differences, and distinctions, it was the sentiment of the committee members present that Clinical Instructors and Lecturers are eligible for Senate and University committee service.

Clinical Instructors and Lecturers have annual evaluations by their chair, and are eligible for merit raises. This is another major distinction between these positions and Temporaries. Clinical Instructors differ from Lecturers in that (at current) there is no “promotion path” for them, unless they were to be hired into a TT line.

Teaching load for Clinical Instructors and Lecturers was discussed. Faculty Senate (and FWC) cannot dictate workload assignments to the administration. We can, however, make recommendations. Pat Humphrey had proposed a statement to the effect of “Teaching assignments shall take into account the service responsibilities and professional growth expectations” for Lecturers. Not having a reply from Administration, Amy said this sounded reasonable, but that she was not the final arbiter.

We discussed the proposed raise for promotion to Senior Lecturer. Amy mentioned that Instructors don't have a promotion possibility (only merit). However, they and Lecturers are eligible for equity adjustments (when funds are available). The proposal to equate the raise to that for promotion to Associate Professor was discussed in terms of relative salary – Lecturers are (normally) hired at salaries lower than Assistant Professors. Both are eligible for merit raises. At promotion (which could be as early as four years after hire for an Assistant Professor), the new Associate Professor should still make more money. It was agreed that this reasoning should be expanded in the rationale.

There being no other business, the meeting adjourned at 8:30.

Library Committee Meeting Minutes – Tuesday and Wednesday, March 24th
(1:00 p.m.) and 25th (8:00 a.m.) 30, 2:30 P.M.
Voting Committee Members Present at March 24th meeting: Dr. Tim Giles, Library Chair, CLASS; Dr. John Hatem, COBA; Dr. Quentin Fang, COST; Dr.
Gregory Chamblee, COE; Dr. Marie Botkin, CHHS; Dr. Hyo-Joo Han, CIT; Dr.
Anthony Parillo, CHHS.

Voting Committee Members Absent: Dr. Patrick Wheaton, CLASS.

Non-Voting Committee Members Present: Dr. Bede Mitchell, Dean of the Library;

Guests: Mr. Jonathan Harwell, Librarian.

To accommodate diverse schedules, two meetings were held on consecutive days to address the same topic. As of this writing, we still await the official response from the administration to the Faculty Senate motion on how funds could be increased to support Henderson Library collections passed at the February meeting.

These meetings focused on how Henderson Library might go about allocating and managing the book budget for Fiscal Year 2010. Journals were also discussed in terms of how their subscriptions affect book purchases. Mr. Harwell led the presentation.

In general, the library staff sought feedback on the process they are undergoing to insure that Henderson Library’s budget is being spent wisely. Mr. Harwell began by presenting information that represented activity in different subject areas for interlibrary loans for journals and books. Some concern was raised over whether looking at library use in this manner would privilege one department over another; however, Mr. Harwell and Dean Mitchell pointed out that they were thinking more along the lines of making purchases to support subject areas, rather than departments.

Quite a bit of discussion ensued over the role of electronic books. Though there has been some dissatisfaction with them in the past, their popularity has been rapidly increasing. They are especially valuable for students in distance education programs because of access issues, and for the University, since otherwise making books available to these students increases Henderson Library operating costs. At present, there is not a system-wide plan to implement electronic books.

The meetings concluded with information about two forums to be scheduled at which the general faculty would be invited to express their concerns about library purchasing plans and constraints.

Respectfully submitted by Tim Giles
Summer stipends: The Committee received a total of 28 applications. The Committee had not received word on the amount of the FY 2010 budget, but speculated that it would likely not include the extra $10,500 added by the Provost last year. In addition, several Committee members noted that with travel budgets cut to bare bones all over campus, the FDC was likely to be deluged with applications for funding next year. Given those circumstances, the Committee thought it prudent to be cautious on how much of the FY 2010 budget to allocate to summer stipends.

The scoring showed a break point between the third and fourth highest rated applications, so the first three were selected for funding. Each stipend is for $3,000 plus fringe benefits, for a total of roughly $10,500.

Successful applications folders: Patricia Hendrix of the CET has placed the successful travel applications from the last round in folders for faculty to view who want to see examples.

Funding declined and reallocated: One successful travel applicant from an earlier round has since accepted a position at another college. He thought it would be improper to accept the grant money when he was leaving Georgia Southern days after his conference, so he informed the Committee that he would not be using his funding. The next highest scoring grant requested very close to the same amount, so it was decided that that grant be substituted.

Fiscal year ’10 Budget: As of April 17, there was still no word on the next fiscal year budget. Dr. Alan Altany and Patricia Hendrix from the CET Office said that as one might expect, they had had some inquiries from the summer stipend applicants as to the status of their applications. All they could tell them was that they would be told as soon as funding was approved for the next fiscal year.
Summer Travel Grants: Even with no budget, the Committee thought it best that they decide which proposals to fund so that those approved could be notified as soon as possible after the budget was made known. Seven were scored. There was a break point between the third and fourth highest. The first three were approved for funding, pending positive budget news for fiscal year 2010. The total amount requested by those three was $2,667.04

Fiscal year budget consideration: The Committee was asked by the Provost’s Office to examine the possibility of working with a budget which would always begin and end in the same fiscal year. The current practice is to fund summer stipends and travel taken between July and September out of the next year’s budget. This arrangement works well as long as the budget is about the same year to year, but in lean economic times it could present a recurring problem.

The Committee saw no reason the summer stipends could not be moved to May and June and thus be contained in one fiscal year. But the summer travel cycle was a sticking point. The decision to grant funding has to be made early enough for the travelers’ planning. This places them in one fiscal year, and the July–September travel itself would by definition take place in the next fiscal year. It was noted that those disciplines whose major national conferences were held in the late summer would be shut out of the FDC travel grants. One solution proposed was that the Committee be given the promise of a small amount of funding each year to cover summer travel. The rest of the fiscal year budget could be decided later. Dr. Altany will report back to Dr. Heaston on this.

Wider distribution of Awards of Excellence teaching strategies, recognition for all nominees: At the FDC meeting when the Awards of Excellence in Instruction materials were scored, there was agreement that the quality of all the nominees was outstanding and that many intriguing teaching ideas were presented. Alan Altany pointed out that this was often the case, and he had always thought it regrettable that, except for the cases of the winners, these ideas never reached anyone but the FDC members. He further noted that the two winners were recognized at graduation and the first fall faculty meeting, two events always well attended by their peers. But those who were nominated but did not win were barely known by anyone outside the FDC. Given the outstanding quality of the entire pool, all the nominees were worthy of more recognition. The Committee was asked to think about ways to address these issues.

One suggestion was that as FDC members read and score the Awards notebooks, they make note of ideas that stand out. After comparing notes, the Committee could then select about six or eight; the six or eight might or might not include the Awards recipients. These faculty would be asked to present short papers at a one day teaching workshop. While this idea was greeted with enthusiasm, it was thought that perhaps a better approach would be to make it a panel discussion and invite audience participation.

Another related idea was to ask that the papers be compiled into a yearly pamphlet and added to a section of the Center’s web pages. Alan Altany said he thought these were good starting points, and the Committee agreed to pursue them next year.

On the matter of recognition for all nominees, a good model was recently provided by Janet O’Brien when she sent a note to the faculty listserv concerning the Teacher of the Year Award. Just after graduation, the Committee will send a similar note which will list the entire slate of nominees in addition to the winners.

Checklist and revision of forms: Trent Maurer, the FDC’s four year member, compiled a checklist of common problems and omissions for grant applicants. The items on the checklist were approved. The checklist asked the applicants to initial each item. One member said he thought asking applicants to initial each item was a bit patronizing, but the overall sentiment of the Committee was that patronizing or not, people weren’t as likely to read the whole list otherwise. The desirable end result – stronger proposals with a better chance of being funded – was worth it.

Dr. Maurer also undertook a major revision of many of the Committee’s forms and documents. Almost all his revisions were approved. The Committee specified lengths for parts of the applications and removed sections which could not be scored in a meaningful way. Unnecessary steps were removed from the process. These changes should result in greater clarity and better defined expectations for applicants as well as Committee members.

The “Which committee funds what?” problem: During the course of the discussion of the forms changes, it was noted that many faculty are not aware of the kinds of things each of the three grant funding committees funds, and that there is overlap. Pat Walker was recently Chair of the Service Committee, and she explained some of the differences and similarities in travel funded by the two committees. She said that she had been asked from time to time for an explanation of what exactly the Faculty Development Committee does. The Committee thought that linking the three on web pages with brief descriptions of what types of things they fund would be useful.

I. CALL TO ORDER: Dr. Robert Fernekes called the meeting to order on Thursday, March 12, 2009 at 9:00 AM.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA: Dr. Robert Vogel made a motion to move Section V part A, the College of Science and Technology’s Course Revision, to follow Section III. With no objections, the motion to change the order of the agenda was approved.

III. GRADUATE COMMITTEE CHAIR’S REMARKS: Dr. Robert Fernekes

Dr. Fernekes announced that throughout the meeting he would introduce some of the items being discussed. He then asked that the Committee members begin to think of a date for the August 2009 Graduate Committee Meeting, which will begin the 2009-2010 FY Graduate Committee Meeting Schedule.

IV. NEW BUSINESS:

1. College of Science and Technology
Course Revisions:
   TMFG 5234G – Introduction to Technical Management & Leadership (prerequisite change)

MOTION: Dr. Vogel made a motion to approve the Course Revisions submitted by the College of Science and Technology. A second was made by Dr. Richard Flynn. The motion to approve the Course Revision was passed.

v. A. OLD BUSINESS:

i. Organization Structure For The Graduate Committee – Dr. Fernekes distributed two handouts to the Committee. The first handout was Section 12 of the current Faculty Senate Bylaws, which lists the Graduate Committee’s responsibilities. The second handout included Article IV, Section 13 of the Bylaws and a list of the Graduate Committee members. He said that these documents state why the members are on the Committee. Dr. Fernekes suggested that the member(s) from each college review the curriculum items submitted by their college prior to the meetings along with one or two additional volunteers from the Graduate Committee on a rotating basis. Dr. Fernekes made several recommendations and then opened the floor for discussion of the Organization Structure of the Committee. There were several suggestions. The additional subcommittees where also discussed. Dr. Lisa Schulz expressed an interest in the development of an additional Ad Hoc or subcommittee to deal with issues related to Student Affairs. Dr. Flynn made a motion for Dr. Fernekes to create a proposal of the Organization Structure, including the suggestions discussed, and place it on GeorgiaVIEW for the members to post their comments, so that it can be voted on during the April meeting. Dr. McMillan provided the second, and the motion was passed.

Dr. Flynn motioned to continue the current structure until the proposed Organizational Structure is approved in the next meeting. With no objections from the Committee, the motion was approved.

ii. Statement for Dual Listed Courses – Dr. Mack distributed a handout related to Dual Listed Courses. He stated that this handout could provide the Committee with additional guidance if they chose to change the current statement for Dual Listed Courses. The current statement is:

“Graduate students will be required to do extra work as determined by the instructor.”

The Committee agreed that a distinction should be made between graduate and undergraduate course expectations. Dr. Flynn stated that the Catalog language may need to be reviewed as well. Dr. McMillan made a motion for the Academic Standards & Policies subcommittee to create a proposed revision to the above statement and present it at the next meeting. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion for the Statement for Dual Listed Courses to be revised and presented to the Committee for approval was passed.

Dr. McMillan asked for clarification regarding the Continuous Enrollment item that was voted on and approved during the November 13, 2008
Graduate Committee Meeting, since he was not present for the meeting when it was being discussed. He asked what would happen in the event that a graduate student could not afford to pay for the tuition, due to personal matters. There is an appeals process that graduate students can use in case something precludes their ability to pay.

V. B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES:

i. Academic Standards & Policies Committee - There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

ii. Curriculum Committee - There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

iii. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee – There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

iv. Vision For Graduate Education (BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee) – Dr. Fernekes stated that the latest draft (version 7.2) of the BluePrint is currently being reviewed by Provost Linda Bleicken. Dr. Fernekes stated that the Provost has been asked to provide feedback and then it will go to both the Dean’s Council and the Graduate Committee for joint review. Dr. Fernekes then turned the floor over to Mr. Jonathan Harwell. Mr. Harwell reported that the Ad Hoc Committee worked on various drafts during the revision of the BluePrint and said that he is pleased with the current draft. It is currently being called a ‘Vision For Graduate Education.’ He stated that the Vision For Graduate Education has a good faculty perspective and that Dr. Mack has been helpful in clarifying the committee’s ideas. A sentiment was expressed that the current draft should be reviewed by the Graduate Committee before the Provost and the Dean’s Council reviews it. Dr. Mack stated that it would be helpful for Provost Bleicken to review the current draft prior to either Deans Council or Graduate Committee review so that she can verify that everything in it is factually correct. Dr. Mack also stated that it would seem sensible to ensure the factual correctness of a document before it is distributed to others, just to minimize confusion. He added that he wants to work in the spirit of shared governance, where the faculty and administration work together. Having the Dean’s Council and the Graduate Committee review different drafts could lead to a great deal of confusion. Dr. Fernekes said that the current document is a good one and it is close to being complete. He stated that he hopes to have it released to the Committee before the April Graduate Committee Meeting. Mr. Harwell was asked to highlight any changes made to the Vision For Graduate Education based on the feedback received from the Provost when the document is submitted to the Graduate Committee for approval in the April Meeting. This will ensure that the Committee is aware of all changes made during the revision process.
VI. REMAINING NEW BUSINESS:

1. Policy For Admitting Students Under Exceptional Circumstances
   – Dr. Mack distributed a handout with a policy proposal for the Committee to consider entitled ‘Degree Admission Based Upon Exceptional Qualifications.’ He explained that standardize test scores are required for admission into most of our graduate degree programs. He also stated that there have been situations where prospective students with advanced degrees such as Ph.Ds, M.Ds, and J.Ds are being told they must take or retake these tests. In some cases departments have requested this requirement to be waived. The proposed policy would require the graduate program director and the department chair to justify why the exception is being requested, and to submit this to the College of Graduate Studies for consideration. Developing a College of Graduate Studies policy that states that the College has the authority to waive the admission test scores for programs would help the admission process run more smoothly and prevent each program from having to submit their own policy. A motion was made for each committee member to take the document back to their Colleges for review and be prepared to vote on this during the April Graduate Committee Meeting. Dr. Mack was asked to provide the Committee with an electronic copy of the handout. With no objections, the motion to review and vote on this policy in the next meeting was approved.

VII. ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION: Dr. McMillan reported that his department had some concerns regarding the Graduate Admission process. He stated that the application status is not always listed in AppXtender, and that students are being told that their documents have not been received. Pearl Middleton stated that there is only one staff member processing this information for all applicants and for every graduate program. She stated that this process has a three-day turnaround. Dr. McMillan then asked if the department could request Graduate Admissions to only collect certain application documents and then release the file to the department to collect the remaining items. Mrs. Middleton said yes, the departments would just have to notify Graduate Admission of how they would like them to handle applicant’s application materials for their programs.

VIII. DEAN’S UPDATE: Dr. Mack announced that Graduate Appreciation Week is coming up. He stated that as of now (March 12th) there are a record 98 Graduate Research Symposium submissions, compared to last year’s 69 submissions. The Research Symposium is on March 31, 2009, and there will be a first and second place winner from each College. The first place winner will receive a certificate and a $250 reward. All second place winners will receive a certificate and a $100 reward. Dr. Mack then asked for volunteers from the Committee to participate as judges during the Symposium. There will be two judges needed for each College.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS: There were no announcements made.

X. ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on March 12, 2009 at 10:10 AM.

Minutes were approved on November 25, 2007
Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in ENGL 1102.

TO: WRIT 2533 - Writers on Writing
Prerequisite: None.

JUSTIFICATION:
As a 2000-level class, Writers on Writing does not need a pre-requisite; dropping the pre-req allows for both earlier recruitment of majors to the program and university-wide elective options for students.

FROM: WRIT 2535 - Writing and Place
Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in ENGL 1102.

TO: WRIT 2535 - Writing and Place
Prerequisite: None.

JUSTIFICATION:
As a 2000-level class, Writing and Place does not need a pre-requisite; dropping the pre-req allows for both earlier recruitment of majors to the program and university-wide elective options for students.

A Moore/Aasheim motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

IV. ALLEN E. PAULSON COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
Dr. Shahnam Navaee presented the following agenda item for the Allen E. Paulson College of Science and Technology.

➢ Department of Chemistry
 Course Revisions

FROM: CHEM 3090 - Selected Topics in Chemistry
1-3 Credit Hours. 1-3 Lecture Hours. 0 Lab Hours. Schedule Type A.

TO: CHEM 3090 - Selected Topics in Chemistry
1-5 Credit Hours. 0-3 Lecture Hours. 0-6 Lab Hours. Schedule Type A, B, E.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course was initially established as a lecture-only course with no lab hours (1 to 3 - 0 - 1 to 3). This change in credit hours is needed to allow the course to be used for development of new lab-based courses. Schedule Type updated to match hours.

An Aasheim/Jackson motion to approve this course revision was passed unanimously.

Selected Topics Announcements
CHEM 3090 - Biochemical Principles

JUSTIFICATION:
Description: This non-laboratory course surveys the fundamental principles of biochemistry including the structure and function of proteins, carbohydrates, nucleic acids, and lipids. Other topics include oxygen transport proteins, enzymatic mechanisms, immunoglobins, biological membranes, and recombinant DNA technologies.

Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CHEM 3090 (Analytical Principles). Corequisite: Concurrent enrollment in CHEM 3090 (Bioanalytical Lab).

Justification: This course is being offered as part of a grant awarded to the chemistry department to try new pedagogy in teaching the chemistry curriculum. This course is the follow-up to the current Selected Topics course (Analytical Principles) that was approved previously. The laboratory content of both courses is being taught in the concurrent Selected Topics course (Bioanalytical Lab) that will meet twice per week and will shift the analytical lab skills to the study of biochemical molecules. This arrangement is more in-line with current trends in the chemistry field.

CHEM 3090 - Bioanalytical Lab

JUSTIFICATION:

Description: This inquiry based laboratory course focuses on the integration of analytical laboratory skills with biochemical techniques. Topics include classical and modern methods of chemical analyses, isolation and purification of biomolecules, and applicable DNA technologies. Students develop a capstone project based on their own interests in alignment with the course objectives. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CHEM 3090 (Analytical Principles). Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in CHEM 3090 (Biochemical Principles).

Justification: This course is being offered as part of a grant awarded to the chemistry department to try new pedagogy in teaching the chemistry curriculum. It is the laboratory content for two Selected Topics courses (Analytical Principles and Biochemical Principles). The course will have laboratory twice per week and will shift the analytical lab skills to the study of biochemical molecules. This arrangement is more in-line with current trends in the chemistry field.

Selected Topics Announcements are for information only.

Course Revisions
FROM:  TENS 2146 - Electrical Devices and Measurements
        0-4 Credit Hours. 0 or 3 Lecture Hours.  0 or 3 Lab Hours.
TO:   TENS 2146 - Electrical Devices and Measurements
        0-4 Credit Hours. 0 or 3 Lecture Hours.  0 or 2 Lab Hours.
JUSTIFICATION:
The lab hours should be changed from 3 to 2 hours (3-2-4) to correspond to the current experiment performed by students in the laboratory and to allow for multiple lab offerings for each lecture section.

FROM:  TEET 3343 - Electrical Distribution Systems
A study of electrical power distribution, primarily the National Electrical Code residential and industrial, with emphasis on services, feeders, branch circuits, metering, voltage drops, sizing of conductors, demand limiting, etc. Also includes laboratory activities in support of instruction. Corequisite: TEET 3314. 4 Credit Hours. 3 Lecture Hours. 3 Lab Hours.
TO:   TEET 3343 - Electrical Distribution Systems
This course is a study of electrical power generation, transmission, and distribution. It primarily focuses on the parameters affecting the transfer of electric power over the transmission lines, with emphasis on power flow control and NEC regulations. The course also includes laboratory activities in support of instruction. Corequisite: None. 0-4 Credit Hours. 0 or 3 Lecture Hours. 0 or 2 Lab Hours.
JUSTIFICATION:
The lab hours should be changed from 3 to 2 hours (3-2-4) to correspond to the current experiments performed by students in the laboratory. To accommodate the number of students in the lecture portion of the class, multiple lab offerings are required to allow students to work in small groups because of limited lab space and equipment. The corequisite for this class (TEET 3314) is being removed because this course has already been deleted from the EET curriculum. The proposed catalog description is changed to better reflect the topics covered in the course.

FROM:  TEET 5531 - Programmable Logic Controllers
Prerequisites: TENS 2146; and TEET 2441 or ENGR 2332.
        3 Credit Hours. 2 Lecture Hours. 3 Lab Hours.
TO:   TEET 5531 - Programmable Logic Controllers
Prerequisite: TENS 2146 or permission of instructor. 0-3 Credit Hours. 0 or 2 Lecture Hours. 0 or 2 Lab Hours.
JUSTIFICATION:
The elimination of the pre-requisites of TEET 2441 and ENGR 2332 allows MET students to enroll in the course. The lab hours should be changed from 3 to 2 hours (2-2-3) to reflect the current experiments performed by students in the laboratory. To accommodate the number of students in the lecture portion of the class, multiple lab offerings are required to allow students to work in small groups because of limited lab space and equipment.

An Aasheim/L. Smith motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

➢ Pre-Professional Programs

Revised Programs
Pre-Med & Pre-Dent Program
JUSTIFICATION:
This curriculum proposal is submitted to change the requirement for the Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Program. The following paragraphs describe the present practice, problems with the present practice, and the details of the proposed change. Note that this change has already been approved by the “Enrollment Management Council” this semester, pending the approval of the Curriculum Committee.

A Higgins/Aasheim motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

Pre-Vet Program
JUSTIFICATION:
The form is submitted to delete BIOL 5146 (Developmental Biology) as one of the electives of the Pre-Veterinary Medicine program page. This course was recently deleted and no longer exists.

An Aasheim/L. Smith motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

Chair: Linda Bleicken

Academic Advisory Council Meeting

The Academic Advisory Council met March 24, 2009 at 9:00 am.

We first recognized the following recent birthdays: Fred Whitt, Amy Heaston, Charlie Hardy, Charles Patterson, and Tim Mack.

Sonya Shepherd and Pattie Beblowski presented an update on the Library’s Learning Commons. It was envisioned as a place for active learning, adaptable (hence, movable furniture), functional, with the ability to manage noise as well as provide a safe space. They now have 1900 seats with a capacity of 2300, including 29 group study rooms (three are reserved for graduate students). They daily track wireless users (peaked at over 700 in December (finals) and have 230 wired computers whose users are "counted" daily - Peak computer usage is generally Monday - Wednesday (typically over 2000 per day) and falls off toward the weekend. They also have laptops students can checkout (18) as well as two projectors, a digital camera, and a video camcorder. They also have separate rooms available for students to practice presentations and watch DVDs and VHS tapes.

Susan Davies gave the admissions report. Undergrad applications for Fall are up as well as accepts, but her projection is still in the range of 2600 - 2650 new freshmen for next year. Last year (and so far this year) the number of "late" freshman applications is down; UGA will be sending their acceptance letters out April 1 (we don't know if they will be accepting a larger class than typical). As of March 1 there were 1900 housing applications (450 more than last year). Students already with a room assignment have until April 16 to accept the offered room. Student visitations and attendance at events is up for this year. Graduate applications for Fall are down somewhat, but they're not sure if the numbers are real, or are due to incomplete applications from Spring not being updated.

Mike Deal gave the registration report. Final numbers for Spring are a total of 16,730 students (up from 15,894 in 2008). So far, 9136 students have registered for Fall and 8506 for Summer (up from 8222 last year). Honors Day is April 1.
Graduation is May 9. The graduation speaker will be Judge Avant Edenfield. Gary Means added that they are planning on having our own Freedom fly this year. Steve Hein has been training him at the football stadium for the new flight path, as well as its obstacles. They plan on some rehearsals with sorority/fraternity members as the crowd.

Steve Burrell reported on the latest proposed revisions to My.GeorgiaSouthern, and provided a mock-up design. They've hired a web designer to help them. The latest proposal was also shown to a group of students, who seemed to like it - they said it compared reasonably to MyYahoo, Apple, etc. It looks functional and cleaner than the version seen earlier. The new design will hopefully be out before the first SOAR. They have also been working on an IT strategy, and list of projects that address that. The intent is to begin making incremental changes rather than large ones. Among current projects are having deans (and related personnel) catalog current web content for its intended audience (and whether or not it is still relevant), implementing Joomla open source content management system, and piloting the use of Google applications (this will be done in early April).

Dr. Bleicken said she wanted to institute a "theme" for future AAC meetings. The April theme will be "helping retention." Alan Altany (CET), Steve Engel (Honors Program), and Chris Caplinger (First Year Experience) will be asked to address the group on their parts of the puzzle.

There being no other announcements, the meeting was adjourned at 10:15.

17) Agenda and minutes unanimously approved as read

18) Guideline Review
   a) General
      i) The committee agreed that earlier deadlines for the award nominations would serve the committee as the committee work could be spread over both semesters instead of concentrated in spring.
      ii) The date deadlines should be moved slowly over a two year period to avoid confusing or disrupting workload planning for faculty.
      iii) Committee deadlines should be posted on the web in the summer and advertised in the fall.

   b) Excellence Award
      i) New nomination deadline will be October 5, 2009 at 5 PM
      ii) New Application deadline will be November 30, 2009 at 5 PM
      iii) Amend guideline to require recipients to have a minimum of 3 years employment history with GSU and provide a statement that review emphasis will be placed upon work done while at GSU.
      iv) Self nomination will not be accepted.

   c) Grant Competition –
      i) New application deadline will be January 15, 2009 at 5 PM
      ii) An assurance that application to the IRB, IBC or IACUC as appropriate will be made prior to July 1 if funded and work will not begin until approval obtained should be included in guideline.
      iii) Proposals that are incomplete or not in compliance with the guidelines will be eliminated from the competition without review.
      iv) The budget and budget justification explanation should be moved below the narrative in the guidelines to match the application format.
      v) Update evaluation summaries to become a 5 point scale.

   d) Review process was very successful
      i) 3 reviewers of each proposal will be used to provide initial review in the first round instead of 2.
19) Publication Fund –
   i) Add "off-prints" behind "reprints' as an allowable cost.
   ii) Typographical errors provided on annotated printout for repair.

20) Committee process format for excellence awards and funding:
   a) Applications will be received by ORSSP. Access to all of the proposals will be provided for the committee.
   b) Three assigned committee members will serve as reviewers for each proposal or excellence nominee packet.
   c) Reviewers will summarize the proposals they review and provide written comments using a model review format to assure consistency. Due to vast differences in scholarly activity across the college no such model can exist for the excellence award. Committee members will also provide a rating (1-5, 5 = high) for each proposal or excellence nominee to provide an initial rating for comparative purposes.
   d) The Committee will then meet and reviewers will summarize each proposal or excellence nominee for the committee and offer comments.
   e) The committee will work toward consensus to identify the highest rated excellence nominees or proposals that will be moved forward to the second round of review.
   f) In the second round of review, each committee member will review each remaining excellence nominee or proposal and provide a merit rating on an absolute scale of 5 – 1 (1=lowest score) plus a total rank order (1 - # of nominees or proposals submitted, 1=lowest score).
   g) Final funding recommendations will be provided in total rank order to assist the committee in funding decisions in the event more or less than anticipated funding is available.
   h) Final decisions will be arrived at by consensus if possible and by simple majority vote if no consensus can be reached.

21) Catalyst Grant Reviews
   a) Dr. Schmidt gave a brief overview of the Catalyst program. It is a pilot grant program funded with University funds that provides seed money to GSU core faculty researchers who are seeking first time external funding. The program is new to the University. The Associate Vice President for Research has asked the committee to serve as the reviewing body for this round of funding. There are 9 grant applications. Each committee member would be asked to review 3 applications as one of 3 reviewers. We will meet back in 2 weeks. Reviewers will provide a synopsis of the grant and review comments. The committee will provide funding recommendations to Dr. Patterson.
   b) The reviews will be similar in scope and nature to the reviews complete for Faculty Research funding. Major differences include:
      i) Each proposal needs to have an identified granting agency to which the project result will translate into a submitted grant proposal.
ii) Proposals are presented in the format appropriate to the agency to which the applicant intends to submit. ORSSP grant coordinators have screened for format.

iii) Summer salary is allowable in this competition up to a maximum of $6000 including calculated fringe benefits.

c) Review assignments:
   i) Kathleen Comerford is an applicant to this ORSSP competition. In order to assure no conflict of interest, she recused herself from the remainder of committee business associated with the Catalyst competition.
   ii) Each member received a copy of the 9 proposals submitted for competition.
   iii) The remaining committee members chose 3 projects to review based upon expertise and interest.
   iv) ORSSP will provide an electronic copy of the review matrix.

22) Our next meeting will be in Veazey Hall on April 28 at 9:00 AM.

23) Adjournment at 11:00 AM.

Faculty Research Committee

25) Membership Roll Call

Members Present:  Members Absent:
• Norman Schmidt, chair  Charles Patterson, AVP Research
• Robert Vogel, JPHCOPH  Stephen Jenkins, COE (Emergency)
• Marian Tabi, CHHS  Kathleen Comerford, CLASS (recuse)
• Sophie George, COST
• James Harris, CIT
• Tom Noland, COBA
• Bob Fernekes, LIB
• Eleanor Haynes, ORSSP

26) Agenda and minutes unanimously approved as amended

27) Catalyst proposal review:
   a) The committee reconvened, having independently reviewed the 9 submissions by assignment in 3 person teams.
   b) The committee members present reviewed and discussed the three review sheets provided by each of 3 reviewers on each of the 9 submissions for catalyst funding.
   c) The committee ranked the proposals based upon total point scores.
   d) The committee agreed by consensus to fully fund the top two proposals.
e) The third top point value proposal can be partially funded by reducing the graduate student stipend. The committee decided to reduce the stipend by 50% to meet available funding ($6250) and reducing the faculty stipend ($500 plus fringe) to acquire the remainder. The minimum GA stipend for FY10 is $7200 allowing only a $5300 reduction to be made.

f) Ele will seek gap funding through ORSSP for the difference between the minimum GA stipend and remaining reductions. ($950)

g) If no additional funding can be secured, the reduction will be made in the offered faculty stipend.

28) Ele will return the committee recommendations to Charles Patterson. ORSSP will provide feedback letters to each applicant and funding agreements to the competition winners.

29) The committee thanked Norman Schmidt for his service as chair of the committee. It has been a highly productive year. The committee processes instituted will be helpful to succeeding committees.

30) Adjournment at 9:35 AM.
I. CALL TO ORDER: Dr. Robert Fernekes called the meeting to order on Thursday, April 9, 2009 at 9:00 AM.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA: Dr. Fernekes announced that he received a request to change the order of the agenda. He turned the floor over to Dr. Donna Hodnicki, who explained that she would like to have the School of Nursing agenda items moved to the beginning of Section IV, New Business. Dr. Hodnicki made a motion to alter the order of the agenda. A second was made by Dr. Jim McMillan. The motion to change the order of the agenda was passed.

III. GRADUATE COMMITTEE CHAIR’S REMARKS: Dr. Robert Fernekes

Dr. Fernekes announced that Provost Linda Bleicken may or may not come in during the meeting. He explained that Provost Bleicken had asked to discuss some topics with the Graduate Committee but had prior engagements that she had to attend. Dr. Fernekes stated that if she did arrive, whatever discussion as occurring would be put on hold so that the Provost could speak to the Committee.

IV. NEW BUSINESS:

1. College of Health and Human Sciences (Part 1)
   School of Nursing Policy Change:
   Remove the Women’s Health Nurse Practitioner Concentration in the Master of Science in Nursing program.

   New/Revised Program:
   Program Change: Policy changes for the MSN program
   Justification: The Women’s Health Nurse Practitioner Concentration will be removed as a graduate option in the Master of Science in Nursing program. The concentration is no longer in compliance with national criteria to offer this option. Only 2 persons have graduated from this concentration since 2000. In addition there are some Policy Changes requested for the MSN program. These are also incorporated into the catalog page with this form.

   Course Deletions: (From eliminated MSN Concentration)
   NURS 7331 – Women’s Health 2: Advanced OB
   NURS 7322 - Women’s Health Clinical 2
   NURS 7341 – Women’s Health Care 3: GYN/PC
   NURS 7342 – Women’s Health Care Clinical 3
   Justification: The Women’s Health Nurse Practitioner concentration and Post-MSN WHNP Certificate are being deleted from the Graduate Nursing Program. The 4 deleted courses above are specific to this WHNP concentration. The other courses in the WHNP concentration are still in use with other MSN options and therefore are not being deleted.

   Course Revision:
NURS 9133 – Applied Evidence Based Practice

Selected Topics Announcement:
Nursing in a Global Community: Summer Study Abroad in London, Great Britain

There was some discussion of the Course Revision, NURS 9133 – Applied Evidence Based Practice. Dr. Jim McMillan asked if the School of Nursing checked with the Library to ensure that the appropriate resources were available to support this course. Dr. McMillan also stated that there were a few typographical errors in the submissions. Dr. Hodnicki explained that this course has already been approved, and that the only revision is a title change.

MOTION: Dr. Richard Flynn made a motion to approve the Programs, Course Deletions and Course Revision submitted by the School of Nursing. A second was made by Dr. McMillan, with the understanding that the typographical errors would be corrected and placed on the Amended Agenda. The motion to approve these agenda items was passed.

Dr. Fernekes announced that Dr. Timothy Mack would like a moment to hand out something to the Committee. Dr. Mack distributed a gift of business card holders to the Graduate Committee Members. He stated that the same item was given to all the graduate students who participated in the Research Symposium during Graduate Appreciation Week.

2. College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences
   New Course:
   ANTH 7891 – Independent Study in Anthropology

   Course Deletions: (in order listed on form)
   ANTH 6335 – Anthropology and International Business
   ANTH 5436G – Latin American Societies
   ANTH 6333 – Comparative Social Organization
   SOCI 5136G – Sociology of Education
   SOCI 5231G – Sociology of Politics
   SOCI 5436G – Latin American Societies
   SOCI 5131G – Population
   AAST 5435G – Rural South
   AMST 5435G – Rural South

   Justification: Each of these courses used to have a ANTH or SOCI undergraduate section with the same title and description. Each of the undergraduate courses has already been deleted and we are cleaning up the catalog by eliminating the graduate sections that will no longer be taught.

   MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the New Course and Course Deletions submitted by the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. A second was made by Dr. Vladan Jovanovic. The motion to approve the New Course and Course Deletions was passed.

3. College of Education
Revised Program:
M.Ed. in Teaching and Learning: Concentration Two, Secondary Education
Justification: ESED 7133 Trends, Issues, and Research in Education is being added as a required course in the M.Ed in Teaching and Learning: Concentration Two: Secondary Education in order to include a course that addresses the National Board for Professional Teaching standards. The number of required hours of advanced subject-specific methods courses is being reduced from 9 hours to 6 hours. Currently, two advanced subject-specific methods courses are sufficient for M.Ed. candidates.

Master of Arts in Teaching
Justification:
- Candidates seeking admission to the MAT in Study Concentration Three: Special Education do not have to submit passing scores on the GACE Content Assessment since they do not have a teaching field prior to admission.
- Also, all candidates enrolled in the MAT in Study Concentration One complete their subject specific methods course in Step One; therefore, the statement about completing the methods course during student teaching or internship for those teaching full time is no longer valid.
- Also, in Study Concentration Three: Special Education, a footnote is being moved from Step Five to the appropriate section which is Step Four.
- Deactivate the MAT Study Concentration Four: P-12 Education with Teaching Field in Art Education effective Summer 2009 due to low enrollments. Transition Plan is attached.

Course Revisions:
ESED 7131 – prerequisites
MGED 8131 – prerequisites
MGED 8132 - prerequisites
MGED 8633 – prerequisites
SCED 8633 – prerequisites

MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the Program and Course Revisions submitted by the College of Education. A second was made by Dr. Patrick Wheaton. The motion to approve the Revised Program and Courses was passed.

4. Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health
New Elective Course Proposal:
BIOS 7535 – Data Analysis with SAS
MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the New Course submitted by Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health. A second was made by Dr. Wheaton. The motion to approve the New Course was passed.

5. College of Science and Technology
Department of Biology
Revised Program:
M.S. Biology (addition of Non-Thesis option & inclusion of more details regarding the Thesis option)
Justification: Currently students pursuing a M.S. degree in Biology are required to conduct extensive thesis research and write and defend a thesis. In the revised submitted form, a Non-Thesis option is proposed to the existing degree program to fulfill a growing educational need for those who would benefit from graduate level coursework and to fill a gap in our current graduate program. The Non-Thesis option requires 36 hours of courses that include hands-on exposure to the scientific process and scientific writing. No new courses are needed in the program.

Note that additionally, some portions of the “Other Program Requirements” for the Thesis option are also revised to better document the policies related to this option.

The Committee Members requested some changes be made to the M.S. Biology program to clearly define the transition plans if a graduate student chooses to switch from Non-Thesis over to the Thesis option; or from Thesis option to Non-Thesis. There were also some typographical errors discussed.

MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to delay voting on the Revised Program submitted by the College of Science and Technology until the suggestions have been added and typographical errors have been corrected. The Committee agreed to vote on the M.S. Biology Program Revisions virtually and include their motion on the April Minutes at a later date. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion to delay voting until edits have been made and vote virtually was passed.

Course Revision:
BIOL 7521 – Research Methods

MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the Course Revision submitted by the College of Science and Technology. A second was made by Dr. Jovanovic. The motion to approve the College of Science and Technology’s Course Revision was passed.

Department of Mathematical Sciences
New Course:
STAT 7135 – Categorical Data Analysis
Dr. Robert Vogel expressed concern that the New Course, STAT 7135 – Categorical Data Analysis, is very similar to a course in Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health. After some discussion, the committee agreed that the two College Deans should discuss the problem and then resolve the issue.

MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to table the New Course, STAT 7135 – Categorical Data Analysis, until the College Dean’s conversations are complete. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion to table the New Course submission from the College of Science and Technology was passed.

Course Deletion:
STAT 7760 – Practicum in Statistics
Justification: This course has not been offered in the last five years.

MOTION: There was a motion from the Graduate Committee to accept the Course Deletion submitted by the College of Science and Technology. With no objections, the motion to approve the Course Deletion was passed.

6. College of Health and Human Sciences (Part 2)
Department of Hospitality, Tourism and Family & Consumer Sciences

New/Revised Program:
MS in Sport Management
Justification: The faculty of sport management seek to offer the Master of Science in Sport Management degree completely online starting summer 2010. We believe that the market demand is sufficient to support our program.

New Courses:
SMGT 6131 - Management of Personnel in Sport
SMGT 6132 - Current Issues in Sport Administration
SMGT 6133 - Consumer Behavior in Sport
SMGT 6134 - Sport Sponsorship
SMGT 6135 - Revenue Generation in Sport

Course Revisions:
SMGT 6330 - Social and Ethical Issues in Sport and Leisure
(Change from lecture to Asynchronous Instruction)
SMGT 6335 - Sport Administration
(Change from lecture to Asynchronous Instruction)
SMGT 6337 - Sport Facility and Event Management
(Change from lecture to Asynchronous Instruction)
SMGT 7330 - Research Methods and Statistical Applications in Recreation and Sport Management
SMGT 7335 - Sport Law and Risk Management
Dr. Jim McMillan stated that he found some typographical errors within the College's submissions. Mr. Jonathan Harwell asked if the department has checked with the Library to ensure that resources are available to handle the online M.S. Sports Management program. Dr. Sam Todd stated that all of the items in the Library were sufficient. There was concern among some of the Committee members that the transition from face-to-face courses to online may cause some problems for some graduate students.

MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the Program, New Courses and Course Revisions submitted by the Department of Hospitality, Tourism and Family & Consumer Sciences, as long as the typographical errors are corrected and placed on the Amended Agenda. A second was made, and the motion to approve the Department of Hospitality, Tourism and Family & Consumer Sciences agenda items was passed. Dr. Flynn and Dr. Rostal opposed the approval of the M.S. in Sports Management Online Program.

7. Allowing European students with a 3 year degree European program to be admitted to GSU graduate programs - Dr. Mack stated that he has been corresponding with Pearl Middleton regarding this item, and asked that Mrs. Middleton share with the committee what she has found. There was a short discussion of how European students are admitted into graduate programs at Georgia Southern University.

v. A. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES:
   i. Vision For Graduate Education (BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee) – Mr. Harwell distributed a handout of the current draft (version 7.4) of the Vision For Graduate Education. He stated that the document reflects both the faculty and administrative perspective. He explained that the subcommittee consists of himself, Dr. Flynn, Dr. Lisa Schulz, Dr. Mary Hadley, and Dr. Jill Lockwood. Mr. Harwell stated that Provost Bleicken has reviewed the draft. He also said that Dean’s Council had not seen the latest revisions of the document. Dr. William Amponsah asked if the draft can be shared with other faculty in the departments. Mr. Harwell said yes, that they would welcome any feedback from the faculty. Dr. Mack stated that he would like the faculty to look at the document as a whole and not just focus on a particular section. The Graduate Committee shared some suggestions and requested more time to review the document. Mr. Harwell will continue to receive comments from the committee and faculty; and Dr. Mack will take the Vision For Graduate Education to Dean’s Council. Mr. Harwell hopes to have all the edits complete by the first Graduate Committee Meeting in August 2009 so that the document can be voted on. Once everything is finalized the Vision For Graduate Education will then go to Faculty Senate for their approval.

Dr. Tom Noland asked when students are notified of available graduate assistantship positions. Dr. Mack explained that the College Deans received a report of how many assistantships would be given to each College, and that it is the Dean’s decision how many assistantships each department receives. Dr. Mack stated that a list of departments that typically hire graduate assistants is located on the College of Graduate Studies website under ‘current students.’ There was some discussion of how the departments are handling their graduate assistantship positions. Dr. Noland stated that the time frame needs improvement, so that students can be aware of the vacant positions earlier.

ii. Academic Standards & Policies Committee:
Statement for Dual Listed Courses - Dr. Mack began by distributing two handouts. The first handout was one page from the SACS Review, with the statement:

“The committee recommends that courses must not be dual listed. Separate courses must be developed for the graduate student.”

The second handout was a list of dual listed courses that have been approved between 2007-2009. There was some discussion of the quality of the graduate education that is provided to graduate students in these courses, and how some programs may be affected if these courses are eliminated. It was decided that this item would be place on the August 2009 Graduate Committee Agenda for further discussion. Dr. McMillan asked if the Program Directors should begin discussing this topic over the summer break, and Dr. Mack said that he would advise them of the situation in the next Program Director’s Luncheon.

iii. Curriculum Committee - There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

iv. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee – There was no business to report from this subcommittee.

V. OLD BUSINESS:

i. Organization Structure For The Graduate Committee – Dr. Fernekes passed out the proposal for the Organizational Structure and Procedures of Subcommittees, and explained how the structure would function. Dr. Flynn stated that he did not have enough time to review the proposal prior to the meeting. Dr. Fernekes assured Dr. Flynn that time would be available to review and discuss the proposal. Dr. Jovanovic recommended that only one member from the college submitting curricular item(s) and two members from outside of the college review the agenda items. The other committee members agreed and there was a friendly amendment to have the reviewers changed in the proposal. Dr. Flynn made a motion to try out the proposed structure in the beginning of the 2009-2010 fiscal year, and vote later to finalize the Organizational Structure. Dr. Jovanovic provided the second. The motion to try out the proposed structure and vote on a final structure in Fall 2009 was passed.

ii. Degree Admission Based Upon Exceptional Qualifications – Dr. Mack stated that he received an email from Mrs. Susan Davies in Admissions, and she asked that the Graduate Committee table this item for now, because she is concerned that the wording in the current document may cause problems for admissions. He asked that Mrs. Middleton provide further explanation to the Committee. Mrs. Middleton stated that the proposal was vague and asked that a clear definition for academic qualifications be added with more concrete guidelines. The majority of the Committee felt that the purpose of the document was to set broad guidelines and then leave it up to the department to say what the specific qualifications would be. There was a discussion of how the admission process can be altered when dealing with these applicants. Dr. McMillian commented that departments (programs) that admit persons under the exceptional qualifications criteria must touch base with admissions and update the admission materials necessary for the student to be declared as having a completed admissions folder. He suggested to address Admissions concerns was to modify the admissions checklist by adding the following:

Submission for appropriate test scores (GRE, GMAT, etc)

OR

Submission of completed Exceptional Qualifications request form (or whatever it will be called).

The completed form would then satisfy that part of the admissions process and be posted in the prospective student’s folder in Banner and/or Application Xtender. The program coordinator would be notified and could evaluate the form.

Dr. Mack stated that he would meet with Dr. Fernekes, Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Middleton to finalize wording.

vi. ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION: There was no round table discussion.

vii. DEAN’S UPDATE: Dr. Mack announced that he has accepted a position at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as Dean of the School of Graduate Studies and Research. He said that he would miss everyone and that he has enjoyed working with the Graduate Committee. He hopes that the Committee as a group keeps the progress going.

viii. ANNOUNCEMENTS: Dr. Cindi Chance made an announcement that this will be her last meeting as well. She stated that beginning June 30, 2009 she will step up to Faculty, and that she is not sure who will replace her on the Graduate Committee.

Dr. Fernekes stated that the committee would meet virtually when needed, and that the next meeting would be in August 2009.

ix. ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on April 9, 2009 at 11:02 AM.

x. VIRTUAL VOTE FOR M.S. BIOLOGY PROGRAM: Following the April 9, 2009 Graduate Committee meeting, the Biology department in the College of Science and Technology revised the M.S. Biology Program to include the committee's suggestions. The program pages below were sent to the Graduate Committee members electronically on April 23, 2009. The members were asked to review the revised program and submit a virtual vote by Wednesday, April 29th to the recording secretary.

VIRTUAL MOTION: The M.S. Biology Program Revisions was approved virtually by all voting members on the committee. With no objections, the motion to approve the M.S. Biology Program was passed. The M.S. Biology revised program pages are below.

    Admission
    Students are selected for the Master of Science in Biology degree program on a competitive basis. Meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee admission. Applications are usually evaluated during the eighth week of the semester prior to the semester of admission. Applications for graduate assistantships must be received by March 15 to receive full consideration for fall. Assistantships are awarded for a maximum of five semesters and are reviewed each semester.

    Admission Requirements: For unqualified admission to the College of Graduate Studies to pursue graduate work leading to the Master of Science degree in Biology, the applicant must have:

    Regular
    1. Completed requirements for the bachelors degree in a college accredited by the proper regional accrediting associations.

2. A 2.80 (4.0 scale) cumulative grade point average or higher on all undergraduate work.

3. Scores of at least 450 on the verbal and 500 on the quantitative portions of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) are typical for applicants to the Master’s Program in Biology. Lower scores will sometimes be considered, but the applicant will need strong evidence of ability to perform satisfactory graduate work.

4. An undergraduate major or the equivalent appropriate to the proposed field of study. Adequately prepared applicants will typically have completed 24 hours of biology, 9 hours of mathematics, 16 hours of chemistry (including organic chemistry), and 8 hours of physics (or geological science).

5. Two letters of recommendation from individuals persons familiar with the applicant’s potential to complete successful graduate work.

6. A statement of career goals.

7. GRE subject test in Biology.

Provisional
Students that who fail to meet one of the requirements 2-4 above (GPA less than 2.80, GRE scores below 450 Verbal and 500 Quantitative, bachelors degree with inadequate background in biology, math, or chemistry) may be admitted provisionally. To be converted to regular status, Provisional students must earn a “B” or higher in their first 6 hours of courses to be converted to regular status Biology graduate courses, approved by the Biology Program Director, with at least 3 hours at the 7000-level. BIOL 7890 (Directed Individual Study) or BIOL 7893 (Biological Problems) cannot be taken for these 6 hours.

Non-degree
Non-degree students are accepted on an individual basis as space is available.

Thesis and Non-Thesis options are possible for the M.S. degree in Biology. The program of study and program requirements for each of the two options are outlined below.

Thesis Option

Program of Study (Thesis Option)
The graduate student and their graduate committee shall jointly develop a Program of Study that includes 24 semester credit hours in graduate course work including the required courses listed below, plus 3 credit hours of research and 3 credit hours of thesis.

OTHER PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS (Thesis Option)
Students entering the Master of Science are expected to demonstrate knowledge of a broad range of biological principles such as those covered in a general an introductory biology course. Thus, all students entering the graduate program in biology at Georgia Southern must (1) have passed the GRE advance biology test with an overall score in at least the 50th percentile OR (2) pass a qualifying exam equivalent to a final in a general biology course developed by the Department of Biology with a minimum score of 80%. Students must take the qualifying exam early in the first semester at a time established by the Graduate Program Director or Graduate Committee. during their first week of classes and Students may retake the test no more than two times during their first semester. Students that fail to pass the qualifying exam will not be re-admitted for a second semester.

Each candidate for the Master of Science degree in Biology must complete a thesis on a subject approved by his/her committee. This thesis must be presented at a public exit seminar and, within 2 weeks following the seminar, defended before the thesis committee. The thesis defense is a comprehensive examination that may include questions on the thesis, subject matter related to the thesis, and course work taken at Georgia Southern University. The degree is conferred at the end of the semester, after the student has passed the thesis defense and the final written version of the thesis has been approved by the committee.

1) Each candidate for the Master of Science Thesis option in Biology must have accomplished the following by the end of their second term to maintain their eligibility for a graduate assistantship:
   a) Identified a mentor within the Biology Department
   b) Formed a Steering Committee of the mentor and two other Biology Department Faculty
   c) Written a thesis proposal and submitted any necessary IACUC / IBC / IRB applications
d) Met with the Steering Committee formally, submitted and received approval for their thesis proposal and Program of Study with appropriate signatures.

2) Each candidate must receive approval from his/her Steering Committee and the Director of the Biology Graduate Program to take courses that do not apply to the MS Thesis Degree in Biology.

3) Each candidate for the Master of Science degree in Biology must complete a thesis on a subject approved by his/her committee.
   a) This thesis must be presented at a public exit seminar and, within 2 weeks following the seminar, defended before the thesis committee.
   b) The thesis defense is a comprehensive examination that may include questions on the thesis, and subject matter related to the thesis, and course work.
   c) In addition to the thesis, the student must provide the mentor with all forms of the data that were collected, including electronic files, and a written document detailing the contents of the data files (or other forms).
   d) The degree is conferred at the end of the semester, after the student has passed the thesis defense and the final written version of the thesis has been approved by the committee.

4) Students entering the Master of Science Thesis option in Biology can switch to the Non-Thesis option within their first two academic semesters by completing the appropriate change of degree paperwork assuming that they are in good standing. After their second academic semester, the switch to the Non-Thesis degree can occur by fulfilling the following:
   a) Filing a change of degree request with the Biology Graduate Committee with an explanation for the request and receiving approval for the change from the Biology Graduate Committee.
   b) Completing the appropriate change of degree paperwork.
   c) If any thesis-related and/or grant-related research has been undertaken, providing the faculty mentor with the following (all in hard copy and electronic format whenever possible and relevant):

xi. ADDENDUM TO THE MINUTES: Dr. Shahnam Navaee contacted Dr. Fernekes after the April 9, 2009 Graduate Committee Meeting, regarding the STAT 7135 course item that was tabled. Dr. Navaee explained that the Math Department revised the course proposal and stated that Dean Bret Danilowicz discussed the revisions with Dean Charles Hardy and both Deans are supportive of approving STAT 7135 - Analysis of Discrete Data. Dr. Navaee stated that the Math Department requested the Graduate Committee ‘un-table’ the STAT 7135 item so that the revised new course proposal could be considered for approval to go in the April Graduate Committee Minutes. Dr. Fernekes sent a message out to the Committee members on April 17, 2009, asking them if they agreed to remove the STAT 7135 course proposal from the table, and virtually vote on the item. The committee members virtually approved to ‘un-table’ and consider the revised STAT 7135 new course proposal.

VIRTUAL MOTION: All of the voting members on the committee virtually approved of the STAT 7135 New Course revisions made by the College of Science and Technology. With no objections, the motion to approve the STAT 7135 New Course was passed. The revised New Course proposal for STAT 7135 is below.

Visitors: Ms. Candace Griffith, Dr. Phyllis Dallas, Dr. Stephanie Kenney, Dr. Virginia Richards

Absent: Dr. Allison Dobson Long, Dr. Barry Munkasy, Dr. Camille Rogers, Ms. Debra Skinner, Dr. Donna Saye, Dr. Patrick Wheaton, Dr. Reed Smith

Dr. Michael Moore called the meeting to order 3:30 p.m.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA
   A Higgins/Aasheim motion to approve the agenda was passed unanimously.

III. COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
Dr. Stephanie Kenney presented the following agenda items for the College of Education.

Revised Program
B.S.Ed. Middle Grades Education
JUSTIFICATION:
Program revisions are being made to align the required courses for the concentrations in Language Arts, Reading, Science, and Social Studies with the GACE Content Examinations and the Georgia Performance Standards for the middle grades.

An Aasheim/Jackson motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

IV. COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES
Dr. Amy Heaston presented the following agenda items for the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences.

- Department of Sociology and Anthropology
  New Courses
  ANTH 4630 - Capstone Seminar in Anthropology
  This course will review and synthesize the concepts, theories, methods and ethics of archeology, linguistic anthropology, cultural anthropology, and biological anthropology. Applications of anthropological knowledge and skills, and career options, will be examined.
  Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in ANTH 1102 and prior or concurrent enrollment with a minimum grade of “C” in ANTH 2131, ANTH 3131, ANTH 3331, and ANTH 3533. 3 credit hours.
  JUSTIFICATION:
  This capstone seminar in anthropology will constitute the required capstone course for anthropology majors. Others with a concentration in anthropology may also take the course.

  ANTH 5631 - Anthropology of Language and Gender
  This course will examine the cross-cultural use of language as a central aspect in the construction, negotiation and performance of gender, and will provide students with an understanding of the complexities of language and gender from an anthropological perspective.
  Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “C” in ANTH 1102 and prior or concurrent enrollment with a minimum grade of “C” in ANTH 3331 and ANTH 3533. 3 credit hours.
  JUSTIFICATION:
This course would be an upper level/graduate elective that would be an expansion of the linguistic anthropology curriculum we currently offer. At present we offer only one language related course in the program, but we are attracting an increasing number of students with an interest in this subdiscipline.

A Higgins/Morris motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously. Note: Dr. Michael Moore will contact Sociology & Anthropology to ask if they intend to cross-list with WGST.

Course Revisions
FROM: ANTH 3531 - Biological Anthropology
Examines the interaction of biological and cultural forces in shaping human behavior and physical diversity. Key areas of study include human evolution, primatology and the physical diversity of modern populations.

TO: ANTH 2131 - Biological Anthropology
Examines social life and physical diversity in the context of hominid evolution. Key areas of study include the fossil record, basic genetics, primatology, human variation, and the evolution of communication.

JUSTIFICATION:
A 2000-level course will improve our course sequence (we currently go from 1000 to 3000 level, with no intervening 2000 level course). We selected this to be our 2000-level course because we do not build on it with upper-level biological anthropology courses. And, since it is a more science-oriented course, we think it will benefit students to take it early in their programs as it should reflect and reinforce what they are learning in required CORE science classes.

An Aasheim/Jackson motion to approve this course revision was passed unanimously.

Revised Program
B.A. Anthropology

JUSTIFICATION:
We are adding two new courses to our program: "Capstone Seminar in Anthropology" (ANTH 4630), which will be required in order to thoroughly assess how well our majors have achieved the anthropology program's Learning Outcomes; and "The Anthropology of Language and Gender" which will accommodate the growing number of students interested in Linguistic Anthropology now that we have a faculty member who specializes in that field. We are also changing the course number of the Biological Anthropology course from ANTH 3531 to ANTH 2131 in order to provide better sequencing of our classes as we did not have a 2000-level course (see reasons we chose this course on Course Revision Form). Note: The following course deletions were made on a previous submission but after the publication of the 2008-2009 catalog: ANTH 4333, ANTH 4335, ANTH 5531, ANTH 5436.

A Morris/Aasheim motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

FYE 2090 - Global Citizens

FYE 2090 will be offered in the Fall semester to continue piloting the new Global Citizens course. The working course description is: Graduates in all fields face many challenges in today's world that require the ability to think and interact globally. Doing so requires recognizing that different cultural perspectives influence the understanding of world issues. In this seminar, students investigate their own cultural perspective, the existence of global cultural diversity, and the relationship between local and global issues. Because examples are drawn from disciplinary perspectives, sections are designated by college, and students are encouraged to enroll in sections taught by faculty in their college or potential college. In preparation for subsequent coursework as upper-class students, first-year students enroll in this course in their second semester.

TO: TCM 2430 - Construction Safety
Prerequisite: Sophomore status.

JUSTIFICATION:
TCM 3330 (Quantity Estimating), is being eliminated as a prerequisite for Construction Safety (TCM 2430 - formerly TCM 4430), since the subject matter in the former is not required in the latter. The removal of the prerequisite makes sophomores eligible to take this course, hence the change of number from TCM 4430 to TCM 2430. Sophomore status is being added to prevent freshmen who are new to the program from taking the course.
FROM: TCM 4432 - Construction Administration

- Department of Geology and Geography
  Course Revisions
  FROM: GEOG 4120 - Introduction to Research
  Prerequisite: None.
  TO: GEOG 4120 - Introduction to Research
  Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.
  JUSTIFICATION:
  GEOG 4120 - Introduction to Research is required for B.S. Geography majors and is an elective for B.A. Geography majors. It is the first course in the research sequence for Geography majors doing a senior thesis. Students that are not Geography majors frequently register for the course and subsequently drop it when they find the course is inappropriate for non-majors. Adding "Permission of instructor" as a course prerequisite will eliminate this problem.

FROM: GEOG 5090 - Selected Topics - Physical Geography
TO: GEOG 5090 - Selected Topics
JUSTIFICATION:
There are currently three Selected Topics courses in Geography, each with a specific theme (GEOG 5090 - Selected Topics - Physical Geography, GEOG 5030 - Selected Topics - Regional Geography, GEOG 5031 - Selected Topics - Human Geography). The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography wish to merge these three courses into one Selected Topics course, GEOG 5090, and delete the other two courses, GEOG 5030 and GEOG 5031. This will streamline the Geography course offerings and make the course title the same as the equivalent Geology course (GEOL 5090 - Selected Topics).

FROM: GEOG 5090S - Selected Topics - Physical Geography
TO: GEOG 5090S - Selected Topics
JUSTIFICATION:
There are currently three Selected Topics course in Geography, each with a specific theme (GEOG 5090 -
Selected Topics - Physical Geography, GEOG 5030 -
Selected Topics - Regional Geography, GEOG 5031 - Selected Topics - Human Geography). The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography wish to merge these three courses into one Selected Topics course, GEOG 5090/5090G/5090S, and delete the other two courses,

FROM: GEOG 5890 - Special Problems in Geography
TO: GEOG 5890 - Directed Study
JUSTIFICATION:
The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography agree that equivalent courses in GEOG and GEOL should have similar titles. This change will make the title of GEOG 5890 the same as the equivalent Geology course (GEOL 5890 - Directed Study).

FROM: GEOL 3790 - Teaching Internship in Geology
Student internship in GEOL 1310 (Environmental Geology Lab) under the mentorship of a faculty member. Student will participate in an introductory workshop immediately prior to the start of the semester, will intern in GEOL 1310, and meet with the faculty mentor one hour each week. One credit hour per laboratory section of GEOL 1310 in which the student interns. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “B” in GEOL 1121, GEOL 1330 and MATH 1111 or permission of instructor.

TO: GEOL 3790 - Teaching Internship in Geology
Student interns in GEOL 1110 (Earth Laboratory), GEOL
1310 (Environmental Geology Lab), or GEOL 1122 (Historical Geology) will participate in teaching the course under the mentorship of a faculty member. Student interns will attend an introductory workshop immediately prior to the start of the semester, will intern in one of the above courses, and meet with the faculty mentor one hour each week. One credit hour per laboratory section in which the student interns. Prerequisites: Permission of instructor and a minimum grade of “B” in two of the following three lecture and lab sequences, one of which must be the course in which the student will intern: (1) GEOL 1121 and GEOL 1110, (2) GEOL 1330 and GEOL 1310, or (3) GEOL 1122.

JUSTIFICATION:
We wish to expand the opportunities for student internships to include all core curriculum geology courses that have a lab component. This will provide more flexibility for student scheduling, and will also provide practical experience for future earth science teachers.

Course Deletions
GEOG 5030 - Selected Topics - Regional Geography
GEOG 5031 - Selected Topics - Human Geography
GEOG 5620 - Research Seminar in Geography

JUSTIFICATION:
All Geography Selected Topics courses will now be listed as GEOG 5090, regardless of the course content. The thematic Selected Topics courses GEOG 5030 and GEOG 5031 are no longer necessary. GEOG 5620 - Research Seminar in Geography has not been taught in the last 10 years and is no longer offered.

A Jackson/L. Smith motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

Revised Programs
B.A. Geology

JUSTIFICATION:
The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography recognize that a course in statistics will benefit many Geology majors, particularly those working with large data sets or spatial statistics associated with Geographic Information Science (GIS) projects. Rather than making statistics an additional required course in the B.A. Geology program, we have added STAT 2231 - Introduction to Statistics as an additional elective in Area F.

B.S. Geology

JUSTIFICATION:

setting to allow multiple lab offerings for the lecture portion of course.  These multiple lab offerings will allow students to Therefore, these two laboratory courses need to be deleted. All of the above listed ENGR classes have not been taught in several years and are no longer part of the curriculum.

A Jackson/Aasheim motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

Revised Programs
B.S. Electrical Engineering Technology
JUSTIFICATION:
After reviewing the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering Technology degree program, it was determined that the title of Bachelor of Science in Applied Electrical Engineering would better represent the curriculum currently being offered. The program name change is consistent with the revised name of the Master degree associated with the program (recently changed from Master of Technology to Master of Science in Applied Engineering). The revised program name is expected to enhance the marketability of the degree by better defining the nature of the program to the general public (hence future students). This name revision will also provide better job opportunities for the graduates of the program, attract students and companies to this region.

B.S. Mechanical Engineering Technology (General)

XV. COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Dr. Leslee Higgins & Dr. Susan Williams presented the following agenda items for the College of Business Administration.

New Courses
ACCT 5330 - Taxation of Corporations and Partnerships
A study of the laws involving the formation, operation, and liquidation of corporations, S corporations, and partnerships. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of “C” in ACCT 3330. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Provide undergraduate students access to our course on corporate taxation. This course is currently taught in the Masters of Accountancy program.

BUSA 3100 - Essentials of Peer Advising
This block course will prepare students to become peer advisors in the College of Business Administration. The course will teach students paraprofessionals skills and knowledge to allow them to serve other students in a peer advising role. The professional staff/instructor has the obligation to provide the essential theoretical and practical information necessary for students to effectively carry out their responsibilities. Specifically, peer advisors will be provided with the information necessary to (1) give guidance to pre-business students regarding academic procedures and policies, (2) offer knowledgeable referrals to university resources available to address academic questions and issues, and (3) help pre-business students better understand and prepare for the advisement process. Cannot be applied to any COBA major or minor. Prerequisites: BBA Status, cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher, approval of COBA Associate Dean for Student & External Relations. 0 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
COBA is implementing a new advisement model in Fall 2009 that will include the use of peer advisors. This non-credit, block course is needed to provide peer advisors with the information necessary to give guidance to pre-business students regarding academic procedures and policies, offer knowledgeable referrals to university resources available to address academic questions and issues, and help pre-business students better understand and prepare for the advisement process.

BUSA 4799 - Peer Advising
Practicum in advising focuses on BBA students (1) providing guidance to pre-business students in understanding academic procedures and policies, (2) offering knowledgeable referrals to university resources available to address academic questions and issues, and (3) helping pre-business students better understand and prepare for the advisement process. May be taken twice for up to four hours of free elective credit. Cannot be applied to any COBA major or minor. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of “B” in BUSA 3100 and BBA Status, cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher, approval of COBA Associate Dean for Student & External Relations. 0 to 2 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
COBA is implementing a new advisement model in Fall 2009 that includes the use of peer advisors. This course is a service learning "practicum" through which peer advisors will give guidance to pre-business students regarding academic procedures and policies, offer knowledgeable referrals to university resources available to address academic questions and issues, and help pre-business students better understand and prepare for the advisement process.

A Moore/Jackson motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

Course Revisions
FROM: ACCT 3330 - Income Tax
Develops an understanding of the reporting of individuals, corporations, partnerships, trusts, and estates.

TO: ACCT 3330 - Income Tax
Introduction to the basic concepts of federal income tax with a focus on taxation of individuals.

JUSTIFICATION:
The topics being covered in the tax courses are being reorganized in response to a plan to develop a more comprehensive set of taxation courses.

FROM: LOGT 4263 - Seminar in Intermodal Distribution
Prerequisite: None.
TO: LOGT 4263 - Seminar in Intermodal Distribution
Prerequisite: Prior or concurrent enrollment with a minimum grade of “C” in LOGT 4231 or LOGT 4232.

JUSTIFICATION:
Basically, we are requiring students to have completed LOGT 4232 or LOGT 4231 prior to taking LOGT 4263. This avoids having students taking all three major LOGT classes during one semester. All three classes have significant work loads, and cannot be fully absorbed during a single semester. Allowing students to take either LOGT 4232 or LOGT 4231 while enrolled in this course will not cause a significant bottleneck or unreasonable hinderance to graduation.

FROM: MGNT 3130 - Management and Organizational Behavior
Examines the various perspectives on managing organizations and the basic management functions of planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. Emphasis is placed on the functions of organizing and leading. Designed to complement the planning and controlling skills taught in MGNT 3430. Organizational behavior topics such as motivation, communication, and decision-making are also covered.

TO: MGNT 3130 - Principles of Management
Provides an overview of the management function, with emphasis on managerial planning, organizing, leading, and controlling.

JUSTIFICATION:
The current name of the course is easily confused with the course MGNT 3134, Behavior in Organizations. The proposed name of the course is intended to emphasize that the course is an overview of all management functions, not simply the functions related to behavioral issues.

An Aasheim/R. Smith motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

Core Curriculum Revision Area A
Change the comment for MATH 1101 that currently reads "*Satisfies Area A in CLASS, COBA, and some CHHS Programs" to "*Satisfies Area A in CLASS and some CHHS Programs".

JUSTIFICATION:
This is to correct an error in the catalog. Under BOR policies, students cannot receive credit for both MATH 1101 and MATH 1111. The prerequisite for MATH 1232 (a required course in the pre-business program of study) is MATH 1111 or MATH 1113 or equivalent. MATH 1101 does not adequately prepare students for MATH 1232. Thus, COBA students must take MATH 1111 and will not receive credit for MATH 1101.

A Moore/Jackson motion to approve this core curriculum revision was passed unanimously.

Selected Topics Announcements

ACCT 4830 - Taxation of Corporations and Partnerships
JUSTIFICATION:
Offered for undergraduate accounting students who require course material for completion of CPA Exam or for students who plan to attend law school.

CISM 4830 - Introduction to Information Systems
JUSTIFICATION:
This course will provide an overview information systems development and will expose students to fundamental information systems concepts. It will also provide exposure to enterprise information systems fundamentals and the career opportunities available to Information Systems professionals. The course will provide students with object oriented programming and Java programming fundamentals using the Alice programming environment. The course will also include an introductory overview of SAP ERP modules and navigation. GSU IS program alumni data will be used to provide a realistic picture of entry level jobs and career progression. BUSA 1105 and MATH 1111 are recommended prerequisites for this course. The Department of Information Systems will apply for a permanent course number for this course and plans to use this course as an alternative/substitute to CSCI 1236 in the BBA--IS degree program.

CISM 4830 - ERP and Enterprise Performance
JUSTIFICATION:
This course will provide an overview of how enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems impact organizational strategic, tactical, and operational performance. Students in the course will participate in the ERP Simulation Game which facilitates a "learning-by-doing" approach to teaching ERP concepts. In this game, students run a business with a real-life ERP (SAP®); groups of students each operate a firm in a made-to-stock manufacturing supply chain and must interact with suppliers and customers by sending and receiving orders, delivering their products and completing the whole cash-to-cash cycle. Because all business decisions are entered via SAP transaction screens, the simulation enables students to better understand how SAP is implemented and used in businesses. The Department of Information Systems intends to seek SAP University Alliance approval for this course so that it could be counted toward the completion of the SAP Certificate. Prior completion of CISM 4334: ERP using SAP or MGNT 3430: Operations Management will be recommended, but not required, for this course.

Summary of the Academic Advisory Council
Chair: Linda Bleicken
No report
Overview: Chair Fred Smith presented an overview of the duties of the Faculty Development Committee (FDC). The scoring method was discussed.

Decision on funding of incomplete grant: A development of instruction grant involving solar energy was approved last year. The recipient was not able to complete his project because some materials needed were not available for purchase. He asked for funding from this year’s budget to purchase the materials. Permission was granted.

Budget memo from Provost: Alan Altany, the FDC’s liaison to the Provost’s Office, received a memo from Provost Means concerning this fiscal year budget. The Committee was given $101,640. This is about $14,000 less than in recent years, but not a severe reduction considering today’s budget climate. After all of the items already encumbered are funded, the Committee will have about $79,000 to work with.

The Provost asked the Committee not to fund summer stipends since payment is due in a time of year which causes accounting difficulties. It was noted that the summer stipends are very difficult to score anyway, so the summer stipends might not be a big loss. It is often hard to make a distinction between the standard expectation of a faculty member for redesigning existing courses and planning new ones and what is extraordinary and worthy of special funding.

The budget dead period problem also extends to summer travel grants, and the summer travel issue is not so easily resolved. In some disciplines the major conference of the year is held during the period from May to September. To not consider applications for travel during that time period would leave some faculty out of the FDC funding process.
Alan suggested that that the Committee meet with the Provost’s budgeting staff to try to find a solution.

Changes to Awards instructions: At the end of the previous academic year the Committee approved a number of changes to the instructions for materials submitted by the Awards of Excellence nominees. This year Committee received copies of the changes.

Projects from last year: Two projects from last year were to increase recognition for all of the nominees for Awards of Excellence in Instruction and to explore ways to communicate ideas from the nominees’ Awards notebooks to the faculty at large. As it is now, the two selected give a presentation, but the remaining nominees have no outlet. Regarding the second, this year as FDC members read the materials, they will make note of especially interesting ideas gleaned from the notebooks and will provide the information to Alan for possible workshop ideas or for inclusion in pamphlets.

New goal for this year: A goal for this year is to increase attendance at the Awards of Excellence lecture. Alan Altany is in charge of the lecture program for all of the Awards, those for Research and Service as well as Instruction. He has made some revisions to the programs. All will be held at the Center for Excellence in Teaching this year. FDC members all agreed to do what they can to increase attendance.

Agenda

I. The Faculty Research Committee was called to order at 4:00 PM on September 3, 2009 by the Committee Chair, Dr. Caren Town.

II. The committee voted to approve the agenda as read
A. Motion: Robert Fernekes
B. Second: Jackie Eastman

III. Roll Call

   i. Caren Town – CLASS
   ii. Elaine Marshall – CHHS
   iii. James Harris – CIT
   iv. Jackie Eastman - COBA

IV. Dr. Town welcomed the 2009-2010 (FY10) Faculty Research Committee.

A. The College of Education representative will be elected during the first week of September and should be present at our next meeting.

B. The Chair invited the committee members to introduce themselves.

V. Ele Haynes provided an orientation to the Faculty Research Committee guidelines on the website. The weblink was sent to all committee members with the agenda in advance of the meeting. Committee members were invited to review the guidelines. A copy of the guideline is included in their meeting materials.

A. Faculty Research Award (Grant) Highlights

i. Awards are available for up to $10,000 per faculty member per year.

ii. Eligible faculty represent those in the Core of Instruction as defined by the Board of Regents.

iii. Faculty may apply as PI or CoPI on only one application per fiscal year.

iv. Faculty may not apply in the year following their funding completion.

v. Committee members may not apply for funding or write letters of support for fellow faculty members.

vi. The award has in past cycles allowed for a $3000 summer stipends. While stipends are still allowable, they can no longer be paid in the summer months because of the timing for the availability of funds and the need to limit over-inflation of summer school costs. Stipend money awarded will need to be awarded as an extra compensation due in the fall semester. This will allow faculty to teach in the summer months without needing to figure the stipend amount into their available 33% of contract summer salary cap.

vii. Applications must be submitted to ORSSP by January 15, 2010. The committee should plan to have award decisions completed around May 1, 2010.

viii. In past cycles, pre-award spending has been allowed in the first summer month. Due to uncertainty in current budgets, no pre-award spending can be supported.

B. Award for Excellence in Research and Scholarly Pursuits.

i. Eligibility is open to the core of instruction.

ii. Faculty are limited to winning two awards during their career at GSU. Application must be at least 10 years apart.

iii. Faculty must be members of the GSU faculty for a period of three years prior to nomination.

iv. Faculty must be on contract within the Corps of Instruction during the academic year following election and participate in the focus on Excellence lecture series.

v. Nominations may be made by letter or email. Nominations become part of application materials. Each faculty or staff member may make one nomination.

vi. Nomination deadline is October 5, 2009.

vii. Application deadline is November 30, 2009.

C. Publication Fund Guidelines

i. Funded annually at the will of the sitting committee.
ii. Expended on a first come basis
iii. Pays up to $500 of page charges and reprints on peer reviewed journal articles
iv. Pays for up to $500 in copyright acquisition fees for books.

D. Publication Fund Special Requests
i. Dr. Robert Vance requests assistance to pay $500 in requested support for two book chapters to be published in the peer-reviewed “Special Paper Volume of the Georgia Society of America.” At the time of request the publication request form identified eligible charges as follows - “Eligible charges include reprints, page charges and copyright fees associated with the publication of an article or book. Pre-publication services are not eligible for funding.” The request was initially denied by ORSSP because it fell outside the printed guideline as a book chapter and exceeded the single request per author of $500 per year. The request has been resubmitted in two requests-One for Dr. Vance and the second for Dr. Charles Trupe. Dr. Trupe is the second author on one chapter but not the other.

1. Discussion – publication costs are not normally passed on to the author for book chapters. The current request covers voluntary contribution charges. The choice to pay this fee will affect final purchase cost of the book, but the fee is not required for publication. There is a required charge for color images of $400 for the first image and $100 for additional page containing color images in each chapter. The cost is not fixed until the page layout is complete and therefore is currently unknown. If all color figures fall on independent pages, the maximum charge to the University or authors would be $3600 for both chapters. The fund requests could defray up to $1,000 of that cost.

2. Decision: Unanimous

3. Decline the faculty request. The request does not fit the current guidelines for use of the funds. Ele will update the directions on the form to direct the fund requester to current guideline eligibility requirements on the website.

ii. Dr. John Steinberg requests assistance to complete indexing for a book in publishing. The publisher mistakenly sent the text to an indexer who has completed about half of the work. The total cost for the indexing is $1300, but the portion GSU would be required to pay would only be $468 to finish the index. The author/faculty member has been assigned significant duties on a Title VI grant, making the completion of the indexing difficult at this time without assistance.

1. Decision -- Unanimous

2. Decline the faculty request. The request does not fit the current guidelines for use of the funds. The request could be referred to the Department Chair for consideration. The current request is outside the purview of this committee.

iii. The committee discussed the merit of revising the guideline to include book page charges. Relevant issues: The publication fund has limited funding. Books, unlike journal articles, normally pay a nominal royalty. Production costs are not included in the current guideline and are more common book costs. Better publishers do not charge page charges for book chapters unless the chapter is excessively long.

1. Decision – Unanimous
2. Maintain current guideline to pay for peer reviewed journal article page charges, reprint charges, and book copyright fees up to $500 per faculty author one time per year.

VI. Funding Allocation –

A. In light of the uncertainty in the budget for FY10, the faculty research funding was provided at $62500 for the FY10 distributions.
B. The committee’s original funding allocation was $62500. The allocation was distributed as $9391.00 in excellence award costs; $3863.50 in publication funds; $49245.50 in research funds.
C. Research funding requests were ranked by the committee based upon published criteria and funds were distributed to the limit of the available funds.
D. The FY09 committee was aware that funding was reduced from the normal funding level and anticipated the potential for additional funds to be allocated as the budget became clearer. The FY09 committee ranked all 38 proposals received in order of fundability to allow for additional awards should supplemental funding becomes available.
E. The Provosts Office has provided $58500 in supplemental funding.
F. The FY10 faculty research committee voted to utilize the system developed by the chair of the FY09 committee to distribute supplemental funding.
G. The listing was reviewed by the committee with summer stipend funds in the budgets and with summer stipend money omitted from the budgets.
   i. Decision – Unanimous
   ii. Distribute the funding to researchers in ranking order without stipend to fund as many as possible. Ele will contact researchers to determine if they are able to accept the funding with the time and budget reductions and award funds accordingly.

VII. Calendaring of meetings –
A. The committee will reconvene on December 3rd at 4:00 p.m. to consider applications for the Excellence in Research and Scholarship Award nominations.
B. Committee members will set the spring meeting dates at the December meeting.

Chair: Greg Harwood (CLASS)

Library Committee Minutes – September 14, 2009

Members Attending: Greg Harwood, Marie Botkin, Hyo-Joo Han, Patrick Wheaton, Jerry Burke, Judi Repman, Tony Parillo, Quentin Fang, Debra Skinner, Bede Mitchell.
Visitors: Ann Hamilton, Jonathan Harwell, Beth Russell, Sarah Powell.
Bede welcomed and introduced the committee members. A copy of the committee roster and bylaws was distributed. (Copy attached). Meeting days and times were discussed and a second meeting will be scheduled for a Wednesday afternoon when there is enough business for the agenda.

Chairman Harwood read the committee charge as follows: Review and recommend policy for the library, including public services and the allocation of departmental funds; address other specific questions in this area that may be requested by the Senate Executive Committee; and report to the Librarian, The Senate Executive Committee, and the Senate as described in Article IV, Sec 3.

Library Budget Update:
First, Bede Mitchell provided an overview of the current situation regarding how the state mandated cuts have affected the library resources and gave an explanation of how plans were developed to hopefully eliminate this problem for FY10. He provided a memo updating the committee on FY09 library materials expenditures compared to the FY10 allocation. (Copy attached). He also stated that for FY10 the library plans to restore a more appropriate balance between book purchases and subscriptions by eliminating subscriptions identified by academic departments as lower priorities.

Bede voiced anticipation that the library will continue to be the recipient of additional e-tuition dollars that will be directed toward electronic resources. Although the amount of e-tuition dollars is undetermined at this time, additional funds could go toward restoring some titles, or even adding new high priority resources. If the additional funds materialize the committee will be informed and a process determined for how those dollars will be spent.

Secondly, Bede informed the committee that the Student Technology Committee has expressed a willingness to consider funding electronic information resources. No commitment has been given but the library has been invited to submit some requests for online resources. The request list that will be presented is being compiled from feedback received from the departments. It was noted that if the library receives such tech fee awards, they would only be a one year award and would have to be resubmitted each year for continued funding. The group discussed how this year-to-year requesting could affect the continuation of some resources. Bede reiterated the library’s desire to eliminate the imbalance with the book budget. He stated that in the past we have strived to build a balanced book collection, but we now are focusing book purchases in those disciplines where circulation and interlibrary loan/GIL Express requests are high.

Library Activities:
Bede reported that library attendance since the completion of the renovation is the highest on record. To ensure we continue to identify and respond to patron needs, we have established a Learning Commons advisory committee consisting of faculty and students.

Jonathan Harwell gave a presentation of a new beta test being conducted in our on-line catalogue. GIL-Find is a new search interface intended to be easier and more efficient to use. GIL-Find will not replace the existing catalogue interface, now to be called GIL-Classic, but will be an option patrons may use for keyword searching. The committee was asked to test GIL-Find and submit feedback to Jonathan. He indicated that he is willing to provide demonstrations to groups or classes upon request.

ACRL 2007 Academic Libraries Trends & Statistics Report:
Bede distributed a statistics report for review and discussion: ACRL 2007 Academic Libraries Trends & Statistics Reports. This report will be submitted to the Senate Executive Committee in response to a directive from the Faculty Senate to update them annually in regards to the library budget and how we rank to our peer institutions. (Copy attached.)

Announcements:
Bede reported GIL Express appears to be secure unless the USG Office of Information and Instructional Technology (OIIT) must make deep cuts later this fiscal year. He also reported that the OIIT has contracted with a new courier, STAT Courier Service, which should greatly reduce GIL Express expenses.

V. NEW BUSINESS

A. College of Education

Dr. Deborah Thomas presented the following agenda items for the College of Education.

Course Revisions:

a) FRIT 8532 – prerequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   When the ITEC program was revised as the franchise program in Instructional Technology we removed ITEC 7530 as a prerequisite for our courses with the FRIT prefix. This class had not been taught regularly and we neglected to remove the prerequisite requirement from this one.

b) EDLD 7530 – corequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   The proposed change to delete the co-requisite requirement provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study.

c) EDLD 7531 – prerequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   The proposed change to delete the pre-requisite requirement provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study. A student may take EDLD 7531 before EDLD 7530, making the prerequisite unnecessary.

d) EDLD 7532 – prerequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   The proposed change to delete the pre-requisite requirement provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study. A student may take EDLD 7532 before EDLD 7530, making the prerequisite unnecessary.

g) EDLD 7535 – prerequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   The proposed change to delete one of the pre-requisite requirements provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study. A student may take EDLD 7535 before EDLD 7530, making this part of the prerequisite unnecessary.

h) EDLD 7737 – corequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
The proposed change to delete the co-requisite requirement provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study. EDLD 7132 is no longer a required course in the Program of Study.

i) EDLD 7738 - prerequisites and corequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   The proposed change to delete the pre- and co-requisite requirements provides more flexibility to students in developing their Programs of Study. EDLD 7337 is not a required course in the current Program.

j) EDLD 8632 - prerequisites and corequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   Corequisite changes are being sought in order that the catalog match the program of study. The only prerequisite change is to Not enforce them at Registration.

k) EDLD 8633 – prerequisites

o) EDLD 8738 - prerequisites and corequisites
   JUSTIFICATION:
   Changes are being sought in order that the catalog match the program of study.

MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the Course Revisions submitted by the College of Education. A second was made by Dr. McMillan. The motion to approve the Course Revision was passed.

Revised Programs:

a) Ed.S. in Educational Leadership
   JUSTIFICATION:
   This is a performance-based program and students cannot complete the degree requirements without sufficient school/district experience (deemed to be 3 years).

b) Ed.S. in Teaching and Learning
   JUSTIFICATION:
   Candidates who are interested in the Ed. S. in Teaching and Learning currently have to have or be eligible for a Level 5 certificate in a designated teaching field; however, there are a number of applicants who hold Level 5 certification in a field that is closely related to the teaching fields listed currently in the catalogue. This plan is to provide an opportunity for those applicants to meet the admission requirement.
c) M.Ed. in Instructional Technology, certification (not the GOML program)
JUSTIFICATION:
Students interested in an M.Ed. in Instructional Technology are now admitted to the Georgia ONmyLINE (GOML) ITEC program offered by the College of Education at Georgia Southern. Courses in the GOML ITEC program carry FRIT course prefixes as shown on the ITEC GOML program pages in Catalog.

This request is for the older MED ITEC program, which lists courses with an ITEC prefix, to be made “inactive” and the page removed from catalog, pending future decisions about the ITEC program.

d) M.Ed. in Instructional Technology, no certification (not the GOML program)
JUSTIFICATION:
Students interested in an M.Ed. in Instructional Technology are now admitted to the Georgia ONmyLINE (GOML) ITEC program offered by the College of Education at Georgia Southern. Courses in the GOML ITEC program carry FRIT course prefixes as shown on the ITEC GOML program pages in Catalog.

This request is for the older MED ITEC program, which lists courses with an ITEC prefix, to be made “inactive” and the page removed from catalog, pending future decisions about the ITEC program.

e) M.Ed. in Teaching and Learning, Concentration Four: P-12 Education with an emphasis in Foreign Language (French or Spanish)
JUSTIFICATION:
Low enrollments over the past few years have led to the plan to delete the M.Ed. in Teaching and Learning, Concentration Four: P-12 Education with an emphasis in Foreign Language (French or Spanish). There are no candidates currently enrolled in this program.

f) Advisement for Students Interested in the MAT
JUSTIFICATION:
Upon approval of the deletion of the Art Education emphasis area in the MAT (at Graduate Committee on 4/9/09), the catalog text regarding advisement for students interested in teaching in art is no longer needed in Catalog.

MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the Revised Programs submitted by the College of Education. A second was made by Dr. Ardian Greca. The motion to approve the Revised Programs was passed.

B. College of Science and Technology

Dr. Shahnam Navaee presented the following agenda items for the College of Science and Technology.

Department of Geology and Geography

Revised Courses:

GEOG 5090G – Selected Topics – Physical Geography (Title)
JUSTIFICATION:
There are currently three Selected Topics courses in Geography, each with a specific theme (GEOG 5090G - Selected Topics - Physical Geography, GEOG 5030G - Selected Topics - Regional Geography, GEOG 5031G - Selected Topics - Human Geography). The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography wish to merge these three courses into one Selected Topics course, GEOG 5090G, and delete the other two courses, GEOG 5030G and GEOG 5031G. This will streamline the Geography course offerings and make the course title the same as the equivalent Geology course (GEOL 5090G - Selected Topics).
GEOG 5890G – Special Problems in Geography (Title)

JUSTIFICATION:
The faculty of the Department of Geology and Geography agree that equivalent courses in GEOG and GEOL should have similar titles. This change will make the title of GEOG 5890G the same as the equivalent Geology course (GEOL 5890G - Directed Study).

Course Deletions:

GEOG 5030G - Selected Topics – Regional Geography
GEOG 5031G – Selected Topics – Human Geography
GEOG 5620G – Research Seminar in Geography

JUSTIFICATION:
All graduate sections of Geography Selected Topics courses will now be listed as GEOG 5090G, regardless of the course content. Therefore thematic Selected Topics courses GEOG 5030G and GEOG 5031G are no longer necessary. GEOG 5620G - Research Seminar in Geography has not been taught in the last 10 years and is no longer offered.

MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the Course Revisions and Course Deletions submitted by the Department of Geology and Geography. A second was made by Dr. Greca. The motion to approve the Course Revision and Course Deletions was passed.

Department of Mechanical & Electrical Engineering Technology

Revised Course:

TEET 5531G – Programmable Logic Controllers (Prerequisites, Corequisites)

JUSTIFICATION:
The elimination of TEET 2441 and ENGR 2332 as pre-requisites and the co-requisite of TEET 3512 allows MET students to enroll in this course.

MOTION: Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the Revised Course submitted by the Department of Mechanical & Electrical Engineering Technology. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion to approve the Course Revision was passed.

VI. A. OLD BUSINESS

i. Dual Listed Courses – Dr. Heaston began by giving background information of how SACS has viewed Dual Listed Courses over the last two accreditation cycles. She explained that eliminating all “G” level courses is not the answer, but that programs should take a closer look at the new “G” level courses and review the outcomes and expectations of the graduate students compared to the undergraduate students. There was some discussion among the committee of the how to handle the syllabus for these courses and if the higher standards that graduate students are responsible for should be explained in the course description. It was agreed that in order to move forward on this issue that three items need to be addressed:

1) Development of one paragraph that will be included in the catalog to explain the expectations for all Dual Listed Courses, which will be drafted by Dr. Dick Diebolt. Copy of draft paragraph to be distributed with the agenda for the September Graduate Committee meeting.

2) Conversations of what faculty members are going to do within their “G” level courses, to meet professional accreditation requirements as applicable and SACS requirements at a minimum for graduate students. Faculty will bring feedback and examples of higher standards for graduate students to the September Graduate Committee meeting.
3) Discussion of standardized language to be included in course descriptions for Dual Listed Courses.

Dr. Fernekes asked the committee to go back to their departments and talk about the items listed above, as well as gather more feedback from Program Directors and College Deans.

Communication between the Undergraduate and Graduate Committees regarding this topic will be exchanged through the Chairs, Dr. Fernekes and Dr. Bob Jackson.

ii. Degree Admission Based Upon Exceptional Qualifications – Clarification was made that this statement would be put in the catalog. Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the Degree Admission Based Upon Exceptional Qualifications as written. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion to approve was passed. The statement is as follows:

Degree Admission Based Upon Exceptional Qualifications

Policy Draft

Applicants with exceptional experience and/or academic qualifications may be granted degree admission to the College of Graduate Studies without the submission of admission test scores. Admission approval may be granted by the Graduate Dean following a review of the recommendation by the respective Graduate Program Director and Department Chair.

Procedure:

The Graduate Program Director and Department Chair will submit to the Graduate Dean a recommendation for admission based upon exceptional experience and/or academic qualifications that outlines the justification for the admission recommendation.

Justification:

Occasionally applicants with demonstrated exceptional experience and/or qualifications apply for admission to complete a graduate degree program. This policy recognizes that, in lieu of admission test scores, the professional experience and/or academic credentials can be a better indication of the applicant’s academic success. Because this is a College of Graduate Studies policy, it will permit each graduate program to consider admission based upon exceptional qualifications without each graduate program having to develop its own stated policy.

B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES

i. Vision For Graduate Education (BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee) – Mr. Harwell distributed a handout, which was a summary of the processes that the Ad Hoc subcommittee has been through in creating the Vision For Graduate Education. He stated that the subcommittee had hoped to bring a new draft to the August Graduate Committee Meeting, but they needed more time. He shared that he has met with Dr. Heaston and received some feedback, and stated that she complimented the Ad Hoc committee on all of their hard work. The subcommittee is scheduled to meet with Dr. Heaston on September 3, 2009, from 9:00 – 10:30 a.m. The meeting will be held in the Henderson Library in the Dean’s Conference Room. Mr. Harwell stated that anyone is welcome to attend the meeting and share in the discussion. The goal of the Ad Hoc subcommittee is to have a new draft available to present at the October 2009 Graduate Committee meeting. Dr. Greca requested that the details of the Sept. 3 meeting be placed on GeorgiaVIEW. Below is the Summary of the Process.

Drafting “A Vision for Graduate Education: Georgia Southern University”

Summary of the Process, August 27, 2009
“A Blueprint for Graduate Education: Georgia Southern University” drafted by Dr. Timothy Mack, now the former Dean of the Jack N. Averitt College of Graduate Studies

Aug. 21, 2008: extended discussion of the Blueprint draft by the Graduate Committee. Dr. Jill Lockwood, as Chair of the GC, created an ad hoc subcommittee to revise the document in order to reflect faculty values. Dr. Lockwood chaired the subcommittee initially; other members are Dr. Richard Flynn, Dr. Mary Hadley, Mr. Jonathan Harwell, and Dr. Lisa Schulz.

The subcommittee set out to follow the format of the original Blueprint, and to draft a revision in collaboration with Dean Mack and, as needed, in consultation with now former provost Dr. Linda Bleicken.

The subcommittee meetings have been open to any faculty members.

Jan. 22, 2009: Dr. Lockwood announced that she had accepted the position as Interim Director for School of Accountancy and that she would no longer be eligible to be Chair of the Graduate Committee. She asked for the GC’s permission to continue to serve on the Blueprint subcommittee, and this was approved. She told the GC that the process for drafting the document involves producing a draft revision for the Graduate Committee to review. There will be a number of others who will have input, including the Provost, President’s Council, the Deans, and Program Directors. Once all of the feedback is received the Revised BluePrint Draft will be written and then submitted to the Graduate Committee for approval, and then go on to Faculty Senate. Following the meeting, Dr. Lockwood asked Mr. Harwell to chair the subcommittee.

Feb. 12, 2009: Mr. Harwell presented the GC with a report, including a working draft of meetings notes for internal review from the latest Revised BluePrint Ad Hoc subcommittee meeting. An amendment was made to have “Working Notes” added to the top of this document. Mr. Harwell reported that he hoped to have the next draft of the Revised BluePrint ready to present to the Graduate Committee at the March 12, 2009 meeting.

Mar. 12, 2009: Dr. Fernekes stated that the latest draft (version 7.2) of the BluePrint is currently being reviewed by Provost Linda Bleicken. Dr. Fernekes stated that the Provost has been asked to provide feedback and then it will go to both the Dean’s Council and the Graduate Committee for joint review. Dr. Fernekes then turned the floor over to Mr. Jonathan Harwell. Mr. Harwell reported that the Ad Hoc Committee worked on various drafts during the revision of the BluePrint and said that he is pleased with the current draft. It is currently being called a ‘Vision For Graduate Education.’ He stated that the Vision For Graduate Education has a good faculty perspective and that Dr. Mack had been helpful in clarifying the committee’s ideas. A sentiment was expressed that the current draft should be reviewed by the Graduate Committee before the Provost and the Dean’s Council review it. Dr. Mack stated that it would be helpful for Provost Bleicken to review the current draft prior to either Deans Council or Graduate Committee review so that she can verify that everything in it is factually correct. Dr. Mack also stated that it would seem sensible to ensure the factual correctness of a document before it is distributed to others, just to minimize confusion. He added that he wants to work in the spirit of shared governance, where the faculty and administration work together. Having the Dean’s Council and the Graduate Committee review different drafts could lead to a great deal of confusion. Dr. Fernekes said that the current document is a good one and it is close to being complete. He stated that he hopes to have it released to the Committee before the April Graduate Committee Meeting. Mr. Harwell was asked to highlight any changes made to the Vision For Graduate Education based on the feedback received from the Provost when the document is submitted to the Graduate Committee for approval in the April Meeting. This will ensure that the Committee is aware of all changes made during the revision process.
o Apr. 9, 2009: Mr. Harwell distributed a handout of the current draft (version 7.4) of the Vision For Graduate Education. He stated that the document reflects both the faculty and administrative perspective. He explained that the subcommittee still consists of himself, Dr. Flynn, Dr. Lisa Schulz, Dr. Mary Hadley, and Dr. Jill Lockwood. Mr. Harwell stated that Provost Bleicken had reviewed the draft. He also said that Dean’s Council had not seen the latest revisions of the document. Dr. William Amponsah asked if the draft can be shared with other faculty in the departments. Mr. Harwell said yes, that they would welcome any feedback from the faculty before August 1. Dr. Mack stated that he would like the faculty to look at the document as a whole and not just focus on a particular section. The Graduate Committee shared some suggestions and requested more time to review the document. Mr. Harwell will continue to receive comments from the committee and faculty; and Dr. Mack will take the Vision For Graduate Education to Dean’s Council. Mr. Harwell hopes to have all the edits complete by the first Graduate Committee Meeting in August 2009 so that the document can be voted on. Once everything is finalized the Vision For Graduate Education will then go to Faculty Senate for their approval.

o Aug. 26, 2009: Following a review by the Deans Council of draft version 7.4 of the Vision document, Dr. Amy Heaston, Associate Provost, and Mr. Harwell met to discuss the next steps. Dr. Heaston complimented the subcommittee’s work, requested a meeting with the subcommittee to share some additional suggestions for revision, and requested that any revision be shared with her for a second review by the Deans Council before bringing the document to the GC for approval. The October GC meeting will be the goal.

o The subcommittee’s meeting with Dr. Heaston, open to any faculty, will be in the Henderson Library Dean’s Conference Room on 3rd floor, at 9:00-10:30 a.m. on Thursday, September 3, 2009.

ii. Membership of Subcommittees (Academic Standards & Policies Committee, Curriculum Committee, and Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee) – Dr. Fernekes handed out the Proposed Organization, Structure and Procedures of Subcommittees. After some discussion the committee agreed to eliminate the individual subcommittees. Dr. Flynn made a motion to have all committee members review the curriculum items and create Ad Hoc subcommittees when needed. It was understood that members are welcome to initiate an Ad Hoc subcommittee, by making a motion during the meeting, if they feel there is a topic that needs to be addressed. A second motion was made by Dr. Vogel. The motion to have the Graduate Committee as a whole review the proposed curriculum items and have the creation of Ad Hoc subcommittees as needed was passed.

iii. Academic Standards & Policies Committee – There was no news to report from the subcommittee.

iv. Curriculum Committee – There was no news to report from the subcommittee.

v. Program Review, Assessment & Strategic Planning Committee – There was no news to report from the subcommittee.

VII. OTHER BUSINESS

Dr. McMillan stated that he would like to encourage Graduate Admissions to continue improving a smooth admission process. Mr. Toby Ziglar stated that if anyone ever has a problem to feel free to email him directly to get it resolved.
Dr. John Dyer asked what the purpose of SharePoint was and if the Graduate Committee would utilize it in anyway. Dr. Fernekes suggested that Dr. Diebolt get someone to come in and talk in the next meeting to better explain SharePoint and training available.

Dr. Diebolt reported that current Fall 2009 graduate enrollment was 2675 compared to 2274 for Fall 2008. He thanked the Graduate Committee and everyone who had a part in the increase of enrollment.

VIII. ADJOURNMENT
There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on August 27, 2009 at 10:21 AM.

Respectfully submitted,
Audie Graham, Recording Secretary

A MacKinnon/Higgins motion to approve this new course was passed unanimously.

Proposed New or Revised Programs
B.A. International Studies
JUSTIFICATION:

Department of Political Science
Dr. Christine Ludowise presented the following agenda item for the Department of Political Science.
Summary of Proposed Changes to the Justice Studies Curriculum
Rationale for Course Deletions

New Courses
CRJU 3531 - Victimology
An examination of the causes and consequences of victimization. Major emphases on victimization patterns, risk factors, the victim-offender relationship, range of injuries experienced, and the role of the victim in criminal justice proceedings. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
Victimology will serve as an upper-level elective. The addition of this course accomplishes two major goals. First, it updates our program to include an important field not currently addressed in the program. Most criminal justice programs offer this course, so its addition will bring us more in line with other major institutions. Second, the addition of this course adds to our program's social justice element.

CRJU 3532 - Organized Criminality
Provides students with a realistic understanding of the problem of organized criminality in the United States. Focuses on the theories and evolution of traditional organized crime in America, as well as an examination of new and emerging organized crime groups that attempt to acquire a stronghold on criminal enterprises and activities. Examples of organized criminality examined in the class include, but are not limited to: drug trafficking, racketeering, money laundering, environmental crime, and intellectual property crime. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course is necessary because it will provide students with a focused presentation of the origins and current roles of organized criminality, both locally and internationally. Based on the suggestive feedback from students, as well as the implementation of courses similar to this one at other universities in the United States, there is definitive utility in the implementation of this course. This is especially true for our graduates who are entering the law enforcement, judicial, and correctional areas of the criminal justice system, as it is very likely that they will have interactions with members of these organizations.

CRJU 3533 - Crimes Against Vulnerable Populations
Provides an introductory examination of criminality against vulnerable populations via an overview of current theory, research, and trends within the context of specific victimization types. Specific crimes, their impact on victims, and their social and policy implications will be examined. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course is necessary because it will provide students with a focused examination of criminality against vulnerable populations (i.e., children, victims of sex crimes, disabled adults, the elderly, inmates). This course investigates the treatment of groups termed "special populations" within the criminal justice system. This course will examine the characteristics of offenders who victimize and violate these populations, as well as the methods of handling those offenders through criminal justice procedure and policy. These victim populations are often victimized twice - by the offender and by well-meaning but misguided practitioners and the criminal justice system. This course will address and present strategies to provide appropriate services to marginalized victims of crime.

CRJU 3631 - Crime and Justice in Public Policy
Focuses on the intersection of crime and social justice in the policy process. Particular attention paid to the development of public policy, actors in the process, and the impact of public policy on society, social programs, and the criminal justice system. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The justice studies program does not currently offer a course on public policy. Our students, therefore, are lacking an important element in their educational and professional development in the field. This course is designed to provide students with techniques for analyzing criminal justice and social problems and with tools to develop solutions to those problems. Practitioners must often assess the benefits, costs, and consequences of various policy responses to crime and social problems in order to effectively implement those policies - or to argue successfully for change and transformation. As future leaders in the fields of criminal and social justice, our students need exposure to the policy process, the fundamentals of policy analysis, and a grounded understanding of the social, economic, and political contexts of crime and social policy. Many comparable and aspirational institutions have implemented public policy courses in the criminal justice curriculum. Furthermore, employers in the field expect their new hires to have at least a rudimentary understanding of the public policy process.

CRJU 3632 - The Death Penalty
Examines the political and legal controversies surrounding the application of capital punishment. Addresses the theoretical and legal foundation behind its use, historical trends, current practices, constitutional issues, implementation concerns, questions of bias, international law, and American exceptionalism. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The Justice Studies program has offered a course on the death penalty twice as a special topics course. Each time the course was offered, it was full, had a large waiting list, and received excellent student feedback. Courses on the death penalty are offered at many comparable institutions across the United States. A course on the death penalty necessarily requires an ethical evaluation because of the stakes involved and the nature of the punishment (state-sanctioned killing). The course focus on the death penalty requires addressing issues attendant to capital punishment and it places the punishment clearly within a legal and social context.

CRJU 3731 - Crimes Against Humanity

Provides an introduction to human rights violations, including crimes against humanity, genocide, and war crimes. Focuses on crimes that are part of a widespread or systematic attack directed against a civilian population, and may include such crimes as individual and collective acts of violence, extermination, enslavement, torture, and persecution. Examines the political, historical, and philosophical explanations for crimes against humanity, as well as the development of international human rights law. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:

Crimes against humanity are among the most egregious violations of social justice and have drawn increased attention from social justice and criminal justice scholars in recent decades. International human rights law and agencies developed to investigate, adjudicate, and punish individuals and governments for crimes against humanity are growing specialities in justice studies professions. This area has become even more central to the justice studies discipline given recent concerns regarding terrorism and other threats to homeland security, international attention paid to genocide and human rights violations, and controversies surrounding counterterrorism practices, international criminal courts, and other modern responses to criminal states.

CRJU 3732 - Conflict Resolution

Examines the causes of conflict and the techniques to resolve conflict among colleagues, the public, and with clients in the criminal justice field. Special emphases on collaborative resolutions, mediations, arbitration, and the development of interpersonal communication skills. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:

Conflict Resolution will serve as an upper-level elective for Justice Studies majors. As employers are expecting graduates to have better writing and oratory skills, this class provides our students with an opportunity to improve upon communication skills that can be used to decrease conflict in a variety of situations that they may face in the future as employees of criminal justice agencies, non-profit organizations, and other governmental/ quasi-governmental agencies. In addition, they will learn some of the traditional avenues for conflict resolution (e.g., mediation, arbitration) and participate in role playing exercises.

CRJU 3733 - Equality, Crime, and Justice

An introduction to forms of social stratification and how it intersects with the social realities of crime and justice. Explores the extent, causes, and consequences of institutional inequalities in power, wealth, and status within the realms of criminal offending, victimization, criminal justice processing, and criminal justice employment. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:

Social stratification has long been identified by criminologists and justice scholars as a pivotal dynamic in explaining criminal offending and victimization behaviors and as a contentious focal concern in criminal justice processing. Gender, race/ethnicity, and class, in particular, are key predictive variables in studies of both crime and the justice system. Institutional inequality courses are typical of most criminal justice programs at many colleges and universities and are considered a primary element of social justice studies. In addition, a greater understanding of the issues of diversity and institutional inequality applicable specifically to the discipline will benefit students who pursue careers in criminal justice and related fields.

CRJU 3831 - Popular Culture and Justice
Examines portrayals of crime, justice, social stratification, the criminal justice system, as well as social and political responses to those issues, in television, film, and literature. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The overall purpose of this course will be to identify for students the impact of popular culture images on societal perceptions of crime, poverty, victimization, lawmakers, and the criminal justice system. Literature, film, news, and television influence how American society and government perceives questions of social and criminal justice. According to the New York Times ("Messages with a Mission, Embedded in TV Shows" 04/02/09) a variety of philanthropic and quasi-governmental foundations are using television to influence the behavior of watchers in the areas of new legislation, education, social causes, and health issues. Many comparable academic programs have courses dedicated to "crime and the media." We believe that a broader, richer approach is needed, which is why the emphasis is on a variety of media and portrayals of both criminal justice and social justice issues. In addition, a similar course was offered as a special topics course in Justice Studies and student feedback was very positive.

CRJU 3931 - Issues in Homeland Security
Provides students with an overview of the legal, practical, and ethical challenges that accompany efforts to secure the homeland against major twenty-first century threats such as terrorism and cyber-terrorism. Course topics include, but are not limited to: threat assessment, crisis response, incident prevention, and the need to reconcile governmental strategies for disrupting attacks on the homeland with the imperative of protecting civil liberties. Prerequisite: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100. 3 credit hours.

JUSTIFICATION:
The post-9/11 world has presented a number of new challenges to American government and to law enforcement in particular. Those challenges have been accompanied by an increasing realization that threats to homeland security, broadly conceived, are likely to be central issues in the justice studies and law enforcement fields for decades to come. Academic programs throughout the United States have begun adding a focus on homeland security to their curriculums, some even going so far as to offer certificates in homeland security studies. Moreover, because of ongoing employment opportunities for our graduates in law enforcement agencies such as the U.S. Border Patrol, the Department of Homeland Security (state and federal), the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the U.S. Coast Guard, and a host of others, this course is needed to provide them with a background in homeland security, information, and training that is increasingly desired by employers.

CRJU 4632 - Senior Seminar in Justice Studies
A discussion-based, intensive reading and writing capstone course for Justice Studies majors and minors. Integrates material from the major core courses and addresses current issues and trends in the administration of criminal and social justice. Prerequisites: A minimum grade of "C" in CRJU 1100 and senior status (completion of at least 90 hours). 3 credit hours.
Justice Studies currently does not have a capstone course. This course would provide Justice Studies students with an overview of the significant concepts and information gained from their major courses. It will also provide an opportunity for students to demonstrate an advanced knowledge of current practices and research in the field. In addition, it would help the program address university and SACS recommendations on educational program outcome measures.

A Morris/R. Smith motion to approve these new courses was passed unanimously.

Course Deletions

CRJU 3332 - Community Based Corrections
JUSTIFICATION:
The material covered in this course is a somewhat more specified version of the material provided in CRJU 3331 Corrections. There is a substantial overlap in material for students who take both classes. This course will be absorbed into CRJU 3331 Corrections and an amended course description reflecting that change has been submitted. That revised course description places greater emphasis on community based correctional issues. In addition, CRJU 4031 Counseling and Supervising Offenders will incorporate aspects of the community corrections curriculum.

CRJU 3432 - Gangs, Drugs, and Criminal Justice
JUSTIFICATION:
Most of the material covered in this course is also covered in numerous courses offered by Justice Studies, Psychology, and Sociology. This causes a great deal of overlap of material for most students. Students would be best served if the material covered in this course were decentralized and taught in a variety of courses along with the implementation of more contemporary material. Aspects of this course already is or will be incorporated into the following courses: CRJU 3532 Organized Criminality, CRJU 3531 Victimology, CRJU 3431 Juvenile Justice, HLTH 3130 Substance Use and Abuse, PSYC 3236 Substance Abuse, and SOCI 3333 Deviant Behavior.

CRJU 4133 - Criminal Justice Organizations
JUSTIFICATION:
This course was created to provide a mechanism for internship students to be enrolled full-time. The course counts as a free elective - not as a major core or elective course. With the increase in on-line courses and the inclusion of the internship in the core major requirements, this course is no longer necessary.

CRJU 4732 - Politics, Government, and Criminal Justice
JUSTIFICATION:
The material covered in this course overlaps substantially with other Political Science and Justice Studies courses. This course will be replaced with the proposed class CRJU 3631 Crime and Justice in Public Policy. The new course will focus on contemporary policy issues and legislation that are relevant to social and criminal justice practitioners.

POL 4732 - Politics, Government, and Criminal Justice
JUSTIFICATION:
The material covered in this course overlaps substantially with other Political Science and Justice Studies courses. This course will be replaced with the proposed class CRJU 3631 Crime and Justice in Public Policy. The new course will focus on contemporary policy issues and legislation that are relevant to social and criminal justice practitioners.

A Higgins/Saye motion to approve these course deletions was passed unanimously.

A MacKinnon/Higgins motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

New or Revised Programs
B.S.J.S. Justice Studies
JUSTIFICATION:
The justice studies program would like to more fully emphasize a commitment to the study of both criminal justice and social justice. We would like to update our program to reflect that commitment. In addition, we would like to update the program to better reflect the current state of the field and to provide expanded opportunities for students to acquire the knowledge and skills that will enable them to be more competitive both on the job market and in academic pursuits. Finally, we believe that the proposed changes to our curriculum will expand the already distinctive nature of the justice studies program and set us further apart from more traditional criminal justice programs both in the state of Georgia and nationally.
A MacKinnon/Higgins motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

Information Technology and the Administration of Justice Second Discipline
JUSTIFICATION:
These changes to the 2nd Discipline are in name only. The Justice Studies program is offering the same classes in the 2nd Discipline but have changed the name of the courses in line with the growth and development of the Justice Studies Program and BSJS in Justice Studies. The justice studies program would like to more fully emphasize a commitment to the study of both criminal justice and social justice. We would like to update our program to reflect that commitment. In addition, we would like to update the program to better reflect the current state of the field and to provide expanded opportunities for students to acquire the knowledge and skills that will enable them to be more competitive both on the job market and in academic pursuits. Finally, we believe that the proposed changes to our curriculum will expand the already distinctive nature of the justice studies program and set us further apart from more traditional criminal justice programs both in the state of Georgia and nationally.

A R. Smith/MacKinnon motion to approve this program revision was passed unanimously.

Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Dr. Christine Ludowise presented the following agenda item for the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.
Course Deletion
SOCI 3432 - Gangs, Drugs, and Criminal Justice
JUSTIFICATION:
Must of the material covered in this course is also covered in numerous courses offered by Justice Studies, Psychology, and Sociology. This causes a great deal of overlap of material for most students. Students would be best served if the material covered in this course were decentralized and taught in a variety of courses along with the implementation of more contemporary material. Aspects of this course already is or will be incorporated into the following courses: CRJU 3532 Organized Criminality, CRJU 3531 Victimology, CRJU 3431 Juvenile Justice, HLTH 3130 Substance Use and Abuse, PSYC 3236 Substance Abuse, and SOCI 3333 Deviant Behavior.

New or Revised Programs
B.A. Sociology
JUSTIFICATION:
We are simply deleting a cross-listed class at the request of our colleagues in Justice Studies.

B.S. Sociology
JUSTIFICATION:
We are simply deleting a cross-listed class at the request of our colleagues in Justice Studies.

A Higgins/Frost motion to approve the course deletions and program revisions was passed unanimously.

Budget:  After the amounts for previously approved funding were subtracted, the Committee was left with around $77,000. This is to cover one cycle of development of instruction grants and two rounds of travel.

Grant Funding Decisions for Development of Instruction Grants:  Fourteen applications were submitted and five were selected for funding. A total of roughly $21,800 was allocated for the five. One was only partially funded due to the unusually large amount requested.

Attending:  Ann Marshall, Lori Lester, Chunsan Zhao, Tony Parillo, Alice Hall, Patricia Hendrix, Alan Altany, and Fred Smith. (note on attendance: there is no time we can all meet. We all score the grants then take turns on who misses the meeting)

Fiscal year budget problem update:  Since the last Faculty Development Committee meeting, Alan Altany, Fred Smith, and Patricia Hendrix met with Tabitha Irwin, a budget specialist from the Provost’s Office. It was decided that the Committee would continue to support the summer stipends and summer travel unless there was such a budget crises that the budget for the Faculty Development Committee was completely eliminated. Funding for the summer stipends and summer travel will be added to the grant recipients’ first pay check of the following fall semester. A note will be added to the application instructions for summer stipends and summer travel to the effect that even if the Committee approves the funding of these grants, there is a small chance they won’t be funded.

Funding decision on first round of travel grants: The Committee started with about $60,000 to fund the two remaining rounds of travel. So the Committee decided to divide the remaining funding in half and find a stopping point close to $30,000.

Patricia Hendrix, CET Secretary, had prepared a spreadsheet which included the combined Committee scores and the amounts requested.

A total of 34 grant applications were submitted, but one was withdrawn, which left 33. There was a gap in the scores indicated a good stopping point at $29,134. Of the 33, all but five were funded.

GRADUATE COMMITTEE MINUTES
Chair: Dr. Robert Fernekes
Graduate Committee Meeting Date - September 10, 2009

Present: Dr. Deborah Allen, CHHS; Dr. Jim McMillan, CHHS; Dr. John Dyer, CIT; Dr. Richard Flynn, CLASS; Dr. Delores Liston, COE; Dr. Lisa Schulz, COE; Dr. Risa Cohen, COST; Dr. Robert Vogel, JPHCOPH; Mr. Jonathan Harwell, Library; Dr. Simone Charles, JPHCOPH; Dr. Robert Fernekes, Library; Dr. Charlie Hardy, Dean, JPHCOPH, [Academic Affairs]; Dr. Dick Diebolt, COGS; Mrs. Audie Graham, COGS
I. CALL TO ORDER
Dr. Robert Fernekes called the meeting to order on Thursday, September 10, 2009 at 9:00 AM.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA
Dr. Jim McMillan made a motion to approve the agenda as written. A second was made by Dr. Lisa Schulz. The motion to approve was passed.

III. SHAREPOINT PRESENTATION BY PAM DEAL AND RON STALNAKER
Ms. Pam Deal began by asking the committee what information they would want to know about SharePoint. The major concerns were what SharePoint is, the document storage usage, training, and how it is different from GeorgiaVIEW.

Mr. Ron Stalnaker explained that SharePoint is still in the beginning stages of intranet use, and it is currently being used by project management and committees. Some of the uses consist of collaboration and sharing documents back and forth, reporting and responding to issues, and assigning tasks. SharePoint also allows the user to do contact management and integrates with desktops, so it removes the technological expertise that is needed when updating a website. It has the feature of workflow that GeorgiaVIEW does not have. This feature eliminates the paper documents that are needed when someone is requesting access to a website. Ms. Deal shared that another feature is that users can set up personal alerts to notify them of any changes to the website. Mr. Stalnaker stated that technical issues are being worked out and they are still in the planning stage.

Dr. Richard Flynn asked if there are restrictions of what Colleges can put on their websites and Mr. Stalnaker informed the committee that Marketing and Communications is addressing that issue. Dr. Fernekes asked if there is faculty involvement to help identify faculty concerns and who the point of contact would be if they have questions. Mr. Stalnaker stated that Mr. Christian Flathman, in Marketing and Communications, is setting up an advisory council and there will be faculty on the council. Ms. Deal added that the council will also have student representation.

Dr. John Dyer asked if Information Technology Services could be scheduled to meet with the Graduate Committee in a computer lab so that SharePoint’s features can be better explained and demonstrated with committee members. Mr. Stalnaker and Ms. Deal accepted and the committee agreed to use the first part of the October Graduate Committee meeting for a training session in SharePoint and that the remainder of the meeting would follow. Dr. Fernekes suggested that Dr. Dyer work with Mr. Stalnaker to get a Graduate Committee template set up to use during the training section. Different locations were discussed for the October meeting.

IV. NEW BUSINESS
A. College of Information Technology
Dr. Jim Harris presented the program agenda item for the College of Information Technology.

New Program:
Master of Science in Computer Science

JUSTIFICATION:
Despite the current economy, the outlook for software professional is quite good. According to the U.S. Department of Labor (http://www.bls.gov/oco/ocos267.htm) “Computer software engineers are one of the occupations projected to grow the fastest and add the most new jobs over the 2006-16 decade” Money magazine’s top 10 jobs of 2008 are (in order):

1. Software Engineer
2. College Professor
3. Financial Adviser
4. Human Resources Manager
5. Physician Assistant
6. Market Research Analyst
7. Computer IT Analyst
8. Real Estate Appraiser
9. Pharmacist
10. Psychologist

Also, according to the U.S. Department of Labor (http://www.bls.gov/oco/ocos042.htm), “The rapid and widespread use of computers and information technology has generated a need for highly trained workers proficient in various job functions. These computer specialists include computer scientists, database administrators, and network systems and data communication analysts. Job tasks and occupational titles used to describe these workers evolve rapidly and continually, reflecting new areas of specialization or changes in technology, as well as the preferences and practices of employers.”

Finally, according to the Georgia Tech Research News (April 2005, http://gtresearchnews.gatech.edu/newsrelease/occupations.htm) “Though Georgia’s technology industry has been in a downturn since 2001, the number of state residents employed in high tech occupations – paying high wages has actually grown during that time, a Georgia Institute of Technology analysis of employment and wage data shows. Computer systems and software specialists are enabling a lot of different industries, not just information technology services firms, said Jan Youtie, a principal research associate in Georgia Tech’s Economic Development Institute. Analyzing data from both federal and state sources, Youtie and collaborators Philip Shapira and Jue Wang found that jobs requiring high levels of education grew 12 percent in Georgia from 2001 to 2003. While these high tech occupations added approximately 9,000 jobs to the state’s economy, employment in the rest of the state’s occupations declined by two percent.” In fact, according to Youtie, Shapira, and Wang, the number of computer systems and software specialists grew 26% over that period of time.

Dr. Flynn expressed concern that the MS in Computer Science would have a negative impact on undergraduate education. He also commented on the larger class sizes for undergraduate courses, since they would only be offered at certain times instead of each semester. There was a discussion of how non-tenured faculty would possibly be teaching undergraduate courses while full faculty may be involved in the graduate courses during the development of the new graduate program.

Mr. Jonathan Harwell questioned the library resources that would be needed to support this new program. He shared a message that was sent to library contacts from Dean Bede Mitchell. The message stated:

“No one from CIT has indicated to us that anything in the way of library resources are needed to support this proposed new program. As you know, if additional information resources are necessary to support a new proposed program, the program proposal should either include specific costs in the budget request, or a plan should be developed with the Dean of the Library to redirect funds from other information resources to cover the costs of the new resources. Funding will not be available for information resources not specified in the program proposal unless the funds are raised privately.”
Dr. Harris explained that the library resources are already available through the Mathematics Department. Dr. McMillan asked if the College of Information Technology had talked with the Mathematics Department to see if their students plan to move from the Computer Science concentration over into the MS in Computer Science, if approved, and what kind of impact that would make on the MS in Mathematics graduate program.

There was some discussion of the dual listed courses involved in the proposed program. Dr. Dick Diebolt asked if the College of Information Technology would consider changing them to 6000 level courses.

MOTION: Mr. Jonathan Harwell made a motion to table the New Program submission until a later meeting date, to give the College of Information Technology time to address the issues listed below.

1. Address the concern raised about the impact of the graduate program on the undergraduate program. How can the program be implemented without negatively impacting the undergraduate program? Rethink how the narrative is written.

2. Provide a more realistic and detailed budget that reflects how current resources will be expended to support the program, what new resources will be needed, and how these expenditures will be financially supported? The narrative needs to better explain the impact of the proposed program on current resources (including faculty).

3. Confirm discussions with the Library that describes library resources that will be used or needed to support the program and can meet accreditation standards as needed and a budget of the items.

4. Provide a summary to be shared with the Graduate Committee of discussions between the Computer Science and Mathematics Departments regarding:
   a. the development of the MS in Computer Science and how it will affect the MS in Mathematics-Computer Science concentration.
   b. Whether or not the Computer Science concentration in the MS – Mathematics program would be dropped.

5. Address the concern raised regarding having three 5000G courses comprising the core requirements of the program of study. How will these courses truly be graduate level work? If the intent (as explained by the department chair) is not to allow undergraduate students to enroll, then why hasn't the program developed 6000 or 7000 level courses for the core requirements of the degree program?

A second was made by Dr. Flynn. The motion to table the MS in Computer Science Program until it is brought back for further consideration was approved.

V. A. OLD BUSINESS

i. Dual Listed Courses – A handout was distributed to the committee with the proposal of the Dual Listed Courses that was drafted by Dr. Diebolt. Dr. Diebolt reported that he reviewed other university policies along with the Board of Regents and SACS policies. The proposal is as follow:

   Policy on Dual-Listed Undergraduate-Graduate Courses

   Policy Statement: (Proposed Catalog Copy)
The Board of Regents Academic Affairs Handbook, (Section 203.02, New Academic Program, part IV.4.d) states that if courses in a proposed masters program are cross-listed as undergraduate courses it must be indicated what safeguards are employed to ensure that courses taken as undergraduates are not repeated or that requirements are significantly different for graduate students and undergraduates enrolled in the same course. Therefore, it is the policy of Georgia Southern University that new course curriculum forms and syllabi for dual-listed courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels (courses in which both graduate and undergraduate students attend the same class but receive credit under different course numbers) clearly specify how the nature of the work expected of the students and the criteria for evaluation of the work produced be appropriate with the degree level. A proposed dual-listed course (numbered 5000 – 5999 with a “G” suffix) will also include the reason(s) the course is considered as sufficiently rigorous and of such an advanced nature to challenge graduate students. It will be the responsibility of the department to determine the number of dual-listed courses or credits to meet the requirements for an advanced degree providing the number does not exceed 50 percent of the degree requirements. Academic units heads (department chairs and/or program directors will be responsible for assuring that course syllabi within their unit satisfy this policy through timely syllabi audits. The College of Graduate Studies will be responsible for ensuring that graduate degree students comply with the number or percentage of dual-listed courses or credits that are permitted to be counted toward degree requirements.

Justification:

Currently, dual listed courses are only required to include a statement that graduate students will be required to do extra work to receive graduate credit. However, there is no current formal institutional policy on dual-listed courses that specifies that requirements be commensurate with degree level. SACS Accreditation Standard 3.4.6 requires that, “The institution employs sound and acceptable practices for determining the amount and level of credit awarded for courses, regardless of format or mode of delivery”. Therefore, the policy will address the SACS accreditation standards and provide direction on dual-listed course expectations.

The nature of work and work products may vary by quality and/or quantity. The differential expectations of additional work for graduate students compared to undergraduate students should be described not in abstract terms (such as “more in-depth participation) but in terms of concrete measurable out-comes of other tangible evidence. This may include specific examples of the additional assignments with details about paper length; the number of additional readings; the length and frequency of oral presentations; portfolio expectations; studio presentations; indications of how these graduate requirements are weighted in the course grade; comparisons with undergraduate expectations. Graduate level work products may also be required to show a greater degree of analysis, synthesis or evaluation of knowledge. The quantity of graduate work may be differentiated by requiring more work products (i.e., additional assignments, projects or examination) at the graduate level compared to the undergraduate level.

Implementation:

Modify #5 (Student Assessment Procedures: Briefly describe how student learning will be assessed) on the curriculum amendment New Course Form to:

5. Student Assessment Procedures:

(a) Briefly describe how student learning will be assessed.

(b) If a dual-listed course, differentiate expectations for graduate students and undergraduate students in terms of concrete measurable outcomes.
Dean Charlie Hardy asked if specifics should be included on the implementation. After some discussion it was agreed that the proposal of the implementation did not have change, but for attention to be made to highlight the need for further detail in the justification. Dr. McMillan made a motion to approve the proposed catalog paragraph and the revisions of #5 on the curriculum new course forms. A second was made by Dr. Flynn. With no objections from the committee, the motion to approve the Dual Listed Course proposal was approved.

B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES

i. Vision For Graduate Education (BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee) – Mr. Harwell announced that the BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee met with Dr. Amy Heaston last week and that feedback was provided from Dean’s Council. He stated that they are in the process of developing a completely new draft of the Vision for Graduate Education, and that this draft will be much shorter than the previous ones. The plan is to have the new draft available to the Graduate Committee before the October Graduate Committee Meeting and to Dean’s Council, via Dr. Heaston, so that any revisions can be addressed in the October meeting.

VI. OTHER BUSINESS

Dr. Fernekes stated that the October 8, 2009 Graduate Committee meeting location will be announced and included on the October Agenda.

Dr. McMillan reminded the committee that the first presidential candidate will be on campus Friday, September 11, at 8:00 AM for a faculty forum. He encouraged faculty members in attend the meeting. Dr. Heaston stated if Friday’s meeting conflicted with anyone’s schedule then all faculty and staff may attend the Open Forum today at 4:00 PM in the Performing Arts Center.

Dr. Fernekes announced that the Fall semester Library Workshop Schedule is now online, and includes research and computer workshops.

VII. ADJOURNMENT

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on September 10, 2009 at 9:57 AM.

VIII. INFORMATION ITEM (October Meeting Location)

The October 8th Graduate Committee meeting will be held in the Professional Development Center (PDC), in room 3314, and will start with the SharePoint demonstration and discussion. Ms. Deal has reserved the room from 9:00 -11:00 AM so that the Committee may address all agenda items.

Summary of the Academic Advisory Council
Chair: Gary Means, Acting Provost
The AAC met September 22.

Sarah Smith gave a report on admissions status for Spring, Summer and Fall 2010 to date. It's extremely early to make any projections at this point. She did point out that we had a 35.6% matriculation rate of admitted students for Fall 09. They started accepting students for Fall 10 on September 10; the target (possibly a moving target) is approximately 2900 Freshmen next year. The current acceptance criteria are a minimum 1000 SAT (21 ACT composite) and a 2.0 College prep GPA. Students with SATs between 920 and 990 may be accepted into EIP (they anticipate this number to be about 500 – the same as for Fall 09).

Mike Deal (Registrar) gave the enrollment update (which would be finalized October 7). At that point, there were over 19,000 students enrolled. He also discussed coding courses/sections as on-line/hybrid/technology enhanced. This information is used at the BOR.

Steve Burrell (VP - Information Services) gave an update on this year’s Student Tech Fee process. In order to make the process more transparent, all applications will be submitted through SharePoint. The deadline for applications for money will be October 23. Deans will have until October 30 to prioritize the departments' requests. Executive Review is to take place on November 4. The Committee (6 students and 5 faculty/staff – the same members as last year) will meet November 6 and 20 to discuss the applications and make allocation decisions. In 2008-09, $3,649,388 of tech fee money was allocated. They keep approximately $500,000 for an emergency reserve fund (fire, theft, etc).

Jayne Perkins Brown presented information on graduation and retention rates. Our Fall 2003 cohort had a 6-year graduation rate of 47.7%, which continues an increasing trend. The Fall 2005 cohort had a 4-year graduation rate of 20.8%, again on an increasing trend. Our 6-year graduation rates are near the bottom of our peer and aspiration list. However, our freshman retention (81% last year) was in the middle of that list.

Acting Provost Gary Means presented information on the Graduation Rate Task Force. This is a priority from the USG office. Regent Potts will serve as chair. The task force will be comprised of two other regents, two directors of institutional research, and representatives from the System office. Their first milestones are: January 2010 – analysis of data that identifies predictors of graduation rates and June 2010 – Institutions submit three-year plans for improving graduation rates.

Faculty Welfare Committee

October 7, 2009

The Faculty Welfare Committee met on Wednesday, October 7, 2009 at 8:00 a.m. in Herty Building, Room 1107.

Members in attendance: Jim Braselton (COST), Joe Ruhland (COBA), June Alberto (CHHS), Mark Welford (COST), Sonya Huber (CLASS), Greg Harwood (CLASS), Ardiean Greca (CIT), Laura Gunn (COPH), LeVon E. Wilson (COBA)

1. The focus of the meeting was the formation of a Lecturer Policy for inclusion into the Faculty Handbook. The members in attendance agreed in principal to the following regarding a Georgia Southern Lecturer Policy.
   a. Emphasize Board of Regents policy.
   b. The committee agreed that lecturers enjoyed the same rights as faculty in regards to membership on committees such as Faculty Senate. We need to revisit BOR 8.1.1 that states rights of lecturers.
   c. We extensively discussed evaluation and promotion procedures from Lecturer to Senior Lecturer. The policy at Southern Poly seemed particularly reasonable. The locus of responsibility will be at the Department/Unit level.
d. We also hope to clarify teaching load: 12 hours or 15 hours? Contact hours or credit hours? The Committee felt that hours in determining teaching load be based on contact hours rather than credit hours.

2. Sonya will send out another revision of the draft policy.

3. Our next meeting is scheduled for October 21 at 8:00 a.m. in Herty Building, Room 1107.

4. The meeting was adjourned at 8:50.

Senate Faculty Welfare Committee
October 21, 2009
Herty Building Rm. 1107
8:00 – 9:00 A.M.
Minutes

The Senate Faculty Welfare Committee met on October 21, 2009. Members in attendance included: Sonya Huber, Chair (CLASS), Joan Broome, Recording (LIB), Jim Braselton (COST), Marla Morris (COE), Manoucher Tabatabaei (CIT), Le Von E. Wilson (COBA), June Alberto (CHHS), Cynthia Frost (LIB), Marie Botkin (CHHS), Joe Ruhlman (COBA), Greg Harwood (CLASS), Ardian Greca (CIT), Mark Welford (COST), Ming Fang He (COE), Laura Gunn (COPH).

The first order of business was to approve the agenda of the meeting.

The proposed motion calling for a revision in the language of the Lecturer and Senior Lecturer Policy statement labeled, Section 214.01 Lecturers, in the Faculty Handbook was revisited. Thanks to Greg Harwood for researching past policy and making further refinements.

The final sentence of the opening paragraph, “The position is governed by all provisions of the Board of Regents’ Policy 8.3.8.1, including being capped at no more than 20% of the corps of instruction (insert comma), [with the understanding that the administration will (ensure change to “facilitate”) reasonable distribution among schools and departments],” elicited the most discussion. Changes suggested appear in red. Greg H. noted that the phrasing in blue brackets for the final sentence was not from the BOR manual but taken from the wording in Southern Polytechnic’s manual. The word “reasonable” should stand.

Minor changes (in bold red) were suggested for the final sentence of paragraph two under Section 214.01.02 Evaluations. It should read: “The Departmental review committee shall be composed (add) of at least 3 members….. In Section 214.01.03 Promotion to Senior Lecturer, paragraph one, second sentence. It should read, “To be promoted, to senior lecturer….“ (delete comma that appears after “promoted”).

A motion to place the entire revision on hold until a new president arrives, passed unanimously.

The motion from Cliff Price (temporary instructor in Writing & Linguistics) regarding service on the Senate Faculty for temporary faculty is still on hold. The BOR is supposed to be in the process of re-examining, re-defining lecturer/instructor categories. According to Lee Davis, in the Legal Affairs Office, this issue is on the docket but there is no timeline. Therefore the committee tabled consideration of the Price motion for a period of two weeks.

During a discussion about the status of temporary faculty, several points were raised. Dr. Welford observed that, currently, there are NO Service expectations for them; Dr. Braselton noted that a statute change would be required to address this; and Dr. Ming Fang He brought up the fact that they are the MOST vulnerable faculty. Joan Broome wondered if an ombudsman position in the Faculty Senate, held by a tenured faculty member, could be created to give temporary faculty a place at the table. FWC members were receptive to the idea. Broome will formulate a motion to that effect to be submitted for consideration at the next meeting.
The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday at 10 A.M. in the Herty Building, Room 1107. Meetings will alternate between the 8 AM and 10 AM to allow equal participation for faculty who have scheduling conflicts at either of those times. Meeting adjourned at 9:00 A.M.

a. Clearly differentiate which courses are existing and which are newly developed courses. Include the course titles as well as acronyms and credit hour requirements associated with each course.

All required computer sciences courses currently exist in the Georgia Southern catalog. Online versions of CSCI 7132, Database Systems - Theory and Application and CSCI 7434, Data Mining have already been developed and CSCI 7130, Artificial Intelligence - Theory and Application, CSCI 7136, Distributed Web Systems Design - Theory and Application, and CSCI 7435, Data Warehousing are being developed this semester. Online versions for CSCI 7431 Distributed Database Systems and CSCI 7000 elective courses will be developed in the spring semester.

b. Append course descriptions for all courses (existing and new courses).

Please see Appendix I.

c. When describing required or elective courses, list all course prerequisites.

Given in "1. Curriculum".

d. Provide documentation that all courses in the proposed curriculum have met all institutional requirements for approval.

<Provided CSCI 7130, CSCI 7132, and CSCI 7136 are approved>

Currently, all courses involved in the proposed program are in the current Georgia Southern University Catalog. See Appendix I for course catalog descriptions.

e. Append materials available from national accrediting agencies or professional organizations as they relate to curriculum standards for the proposed program.

The accrediting agency for computing (ABET) accredits only undergraduate programs. The ABET accrediting standards for undergraduate programs are listed in Appendix II. ABET does not accredit graduate programs in the computing sciences. The Georgia Southern University Computer Sciences undergraduate program is ABET accredited according to these standards.

f. Indicate ways in which the proposed program is consistent with national standards.

ABET is the national accrediting agency for computer science. ABET only accredits undergraduate Computer Science programs, so there are no formal professional standards for a Master's degree program. ABET has general accrediting standards (i.e. the non-curriculum standards) and specific (i.e. curriculum) standards. We plan to apply the same evaluation instruments to our graduate program with regard to the general ABET accrediting standards as we do in our undergraduate program. An evaluation form is to be filled out by the thesis committee for the students' capstone project / thesis presentation. Student evaluations in individual courses will be given every semester. The CIT Advisory Board will conduct periodic reviews.

g. If internships or field experiences are required as part of the program, provide information documenting internship availability as well as how students will be assigned and supervised.

Our proposed program has no internship or field experience.

h. Indicate the adequacy of core offerings to support the new program.

The core offerings will be provided according to the schedule listed in Table 4.
core course CSCI 7132, Database Systems - Theory and Application, is a necessary pre-requisite course to CSCI 7136, Distributed Web Systems Design - Theory and Application and all area of concentration courses, CSCI 7434, Data Mining, CSCI 7435, Data Warehousing and CSCI 7431, Distributed Database Systems. The core course CSCI 7130, Artificial Intelligence - Theory and Application, is a required course for CSCI 7434, Data Mining. Many techniques in data mining involve AI concepts. The core course CSCI 7136, Distributed Web Systems Design - Theory and Application is a prerequisite course for CSCI 7431, Distributed Database Systems and provides the pre-requisite knowledge for students to create Web projects allowing them to apply concepts learned in upper level courses. The three core courses provide a solid foundation for students to build on in their concentration area.

Any other conditions of Provisional admission will be stated in the admission letter. Applicants with such admission status may take graduate-level courses counting toward the M.S. degree requirements. It is every student's responsibility to satisfy his or her conditions of admission as soon as possible after acceptance. Prerequisites for provisionally admitted students consist of online versions of the following undergraduate courses. A "B" or better must be earned in both.

International applicants may not be admitted provisionally.

Non-Degree

Applicants who have a high number of deficiencies may be granted Non-Degree admission to the College of Graduate Studies to take a limited number of graduate level courses.

Application Deadlines

The application deadlines for both admissions and financial aid decisions are:

<tr>
<td>Summer</td>
<td>April 1</td>
<td>February 1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Table 2: Application Deadlines

The applications available on those dates will be processed as promptly as possible, within one month of the closing date. Admission decisions will be based on the space available and the criteria and preferences explained elsewhere. Applications received after the deadline will be considered if space is available, but such applications will normally not be considered until the next appropriate application deadline.

3. Availability of assistantships:

Since this is an online program, there will be no assistantships available. There will be a graduate assistant provided for the program to help faculty and staff administer the program.

4. Student Learning Outcomes and other outcomes of the proposed program:

The student outcomes for our program are:

- An ability to analyze a problem, and identify and define the computing requirements appropriate to its solution;
- An ability to function effectively on teams to accomplish a common goal;
- An ability to use current techniques, skills, and tools necessary for computing practice;
- An ability to effectively research a topic in Computer Science and produce a significant work as either a written thesis or a software project.

5. Administration of the program:

   a. Indicate where the program will be housed within the academic units of the institution

   The program will be housed within the College of Information Technology building.

   b. Describe the administration of the program inclusive of coordination and responsibility.

   The program will be coordinated by a graduate director. The graduate director will be a full time tenured faculty member. The graduate director will be the chair of the Computer Sciences graduate committee. The graduate committee will be responsible for determining acceptance of graduates into the program and for directing administrative and curriculum changes to the program. The graduate committee will consist of three tenured or tenure track graduate faculty members (including the chair).
6. Waiver to Degree-Credit Hour (if applicable): If the program exceeds the maximum credit hour requirement for associate degrees, then provide an explanation supporting the increase in hours.

Not applicable

7. Accreditation: Describe disciplinary accreditation requirements associated with the program (if applicable).

Not applicable

8. Projected enrollment for the program.

We estimate an initial enrollment of 20, 10 in the fall 2010 cohort and 10 in the spring 2011 cohort. It is anticipated that 20% will drop from the program each year. The number of students in each cohort will rise two per year until the fourth year. The number of students was estimated by a conservative review of current market conditions. The student demand at Georgia Southern University is demonstrated by the results of a survey of upper-class undergraduate CIT students and alumni given in the Fall of 2008. Strong interest in the proposed computer sciences masters’ degree was expressed by over 80% of surveyed students with over 60% of the aforementioned being qualified for admission. We anticipate that the initial enrollment in 2010/2011 will be largely drawn from existing and former CS and IT students and alumni and information technology professionals upgrading their skills and/or waiting for better economic conditions. We anticipate the demand for the program to rise as our advertising market increases.

9. Faculty

a. Provide an inventory of faculty directly involved with the administration of the program. For each faculty member, provide the following information:

Table 3: Faculty Qualifications and Workload

Explanation of how workload will be impacted by the new program

Table 4 below shows the courses needed for a two per year cohort model. To support this model, it will be necessary to be able to offer two courses the first semester, four courses the second semester, four courses each fall, spring and summer afterwards. A temporary CS instructor will be hired to cover two undergraduate freshmen level courses in the first semester and four undergraduate freshmen level courses in the second semester freeing up current CS faculty to teach graduate sections. This would be funded through proceeds from the program. A permanent CS instructor/lecturer is to be hired before the start of the fall 2011 semester. This lecturer will teach four lower level CS courses each semester freeing current CS faculty to teach four graduate courses per semester. A search will be done the first year to fill the lecturer position. In addition, a part-time temporary faculty will teach one entry level programming course each spring. This will also be funded through proceeds from the program. There will be no increase in current faculty teaching loads. There will be an increase in service with the addition of having faculty serve on a graduate committee overseeing the admissions and advising process for the program. The graduate director will be in charge of admissions, advising and will be the chair of the CS graduate committee. For each research project course (CSCI 7899) or thesis course (CSCI 7999) completed, a faculty member will receive 1/2 hours credit. When a faculty member has accumulated 3 hours of credit, they will be given a one course (three hour) reduction in their teaching load, covered by hiring a part-time temporary instructor to cover those three hours. This will be funded through proceeds from the program.

Expected responsibilities in the program:

b. If it will be necessary to add faculty in order to begin the program, give the desired qualifications of the persons to be added, with a timetable for adding new faculty and plan for funding new positions.

A part time instructor is to be hired for the first two semesters. The instructor will have the qualifications to be able to teach introductory programming classes in Visual Basic and Java. That instructor will teach two lower level CS courses the first semester and four the second semester. This will free up current CS faculty to teach the graduate courses necessary to support the program in the first year. A new full time CS instructor/lecturer is to be hired before the start of the Fall 2011 semester. The instructor/lecturer will also have the qualifications to be able to teach introductory programming classes in Visual Basic and Java. This instructor/lecturer would teach four lower level CS courses each semester freeing current CS faculty to teach four graduate courses each semester. A part-time temporary instructor will be hired to teach one introductory programming class each spring. In the third year, a part-time temporary instructor will be hired to cover the course loads necessary to give credit to faculty teaching the project (CSCI 7899) and thesis (CSCI 7999) courses. Each time a faculty member teaches one of these two courses, they will be given a 1/2 hour credit. When they accumulate three hours credit, they will be given a one course reduction. This part-time temporary instructor should also be able to teach the introductory

11. Fiscal, Facilities, Enrollment Impact, and Estimated Budget
   a. Provide a narrative that explains how current institutional resources will be expended specifically for this program. Provide a narrative that explains how the institution will fiscally support the establishment of the new program through the redirection of new resources. Indicate whether the institution will submit a request for new funds as part of its budget request. The narrative also needs to explain the basis of the institution’s projections with regard to anticipated EFT, head count student enrollment, estimated expenditures, and projected revenues.

   The first year, it will only be necessary to provide a part time instructor to teach two lower-level CS classes in the first semester and four classes in the second semester, a graduate assistant, a modest supply budget, and training for CS faculty in online course development. In the second year, a full time instructor/lecturer will be hired along with a part-time temporary instructor who will teach one class each spring to cover lower level CS classes, freeing up CS faculty to teach the necessary graduate level classes. Faculty teaching loads will remain the same.

   Enrollments are based on two cohorts per year, a fall cohort and spring cohort. In the first academic year, each cohort is projected to have ten students. In the second academic year, 80% of the previous year’s cohort will continue and it is projected that each second academic year cohort will have 12 students. The increase of two students per cohort per academic year continues into the third and fourth years with 14 and 16 new students in each of the third and fourth year’s cohorts respectively. The “new tuition” field is based on the formula:

   This is dollar amount summed up over the year (one semester the first fiscal year - three semesters each fiscal year afterwards). The main expenditures come from new online library access ($6,600/year), a graduate assistant ($7,200/year), a part-time temporary instructor to teach two classes the first semester ($7,116) and four classes the second semester ($14,232) of the program, the graduate directors stipend ($8000/year) and a new full-time instructor/lecturer in the second academic year (initially $50,000/year + fringe benefits increasing 3%/year). There will be a 1/2 hour credit for each thesis (CSCI 7999) or project course (CSCI 7899) course taught. When a faculty member has accumulated three hours, they will be given a one course load reduction. This load reduction will be covered by hiring a part-time temporary instructor. These will be supported through the $200+/credit hour generated by the program for the department and a graduate assistant provided the administration.

The budget for the first four fiscal years based on our cohort model is shown below.

Other comments:

The proposed Master of Computer Science degree program with a concentration in data and knowledge systems will be the only such degree concentration offered in Georgia and one of only a handful across the country. The area of data and knowledge systems covers areas such as speech and vision recognition systems, expert systems, data storage systems, and information retrieval systems, such as online search engines. According to the U.S. Department of Labor (http://www.bls.gov/oco/ocos042.htm), “The rapid and widespread use of computers and information technology has generated a need for highly trained workers proficient in various job functions. These computer specialists include computer scientists, database administrators, and network systems and data communication analysts. Job tasks and occupational titles used to describe these workers evolve rapidly and continually, reflecting new areas of specialization or changes in technology, as well as the preferences and practices of employers.”
Note: A system Facilities Project Manager may contact you with further questions separate from the review of the new academic program.

Dr. Dick Diebolt explained that one of the Graduate Committee’s concerns in the September meeting was related to the 5000G courses in the original proposal. He stated that the College of Information Technology has reconsidered the courses and have submitted three revised courses and three new courses for the Graduate Committee to consider.

Dr. Jim Harris distributed two handouts to the committee. One included the Committee’s recommendations from the September meeting with responses from the department. The other was email correspondence between himself and Dr. Yan Wu, the Department of Mathematical Science’s Program Director.

Recommendations to the Computer Science Department

From the September 10, 2009 Graduate Committee Meeting:
Regarding the Master of Science in Computer Science
New Program Proposal

1. Address the concern raised about the impact of the graduate program on the undergraduate program. How can the program be implemented without negatively impacting the undergraduate program? Rethink how the narrative is written. (Added part time temps to fall 2010 and spring 2011 to teach two sections in Fall and four sections in Spring. Added a part time temp to teach an extra course in the Spring. There is now no increase in faculty teaching loads or any change in the undergraduate offerings)
2. Provide a more realistic and detailed budget that reflects how current resources will be expended to support the program, what new resources will be needed, and how these expenditures will be financially supported? The narrative needs to better explain the impact of the proposed program on current resources (including faculty). Explained how the addition of the part time temp would not increase current faculty teaching loads. Explained the extra work needed to be done through the admissions process and advisement. Added a stipend for a graduate director.

3. Confirm discussions with the Library that describes library resources that will be used or needed to support the program and can meet accreditation standards as needed and a budget of the items. Met with Bob Fernekes, Lili Li, and Jonathan Harwell on 9/18/2009 and discussed how to proceed with library resources. Received email from Lili confirming the discussions. Added a $6,600 line item to the budget to cover unforeseen future library expenses.

4. Provide a summary to be shared with the Graduate Committee of discussions between the Computer Science and Mathematics Departments regarding:

   a. the development of the MS in Computer Science and how it will affect the MS in Mathematics-Computer Science concentration.
   b. Whether or not the Computer Science concentration in the MS – Mathematics program would be dropped.

   Met with the Math graduate director Yan Wu on 9/17 and discussed the impact of our program on the Math grad program. Have an email confirming the meeting and that it is the intention of the Math department to phase out their Math/CS option.

5. Address the concern raised regarding having three 5000G courses comprising the core requirements of the program of study. How will these courses truly be graduate level work? If the intent (as explained by the department chair) is not to allow undergraduate students to enroll, then why hasn’t the program developed 6000 or 7000 level courses for the core requirements of the degree program?

   Have the course change forms ready to change all core classes from 5000 level to 7000 level.

Dr. McMillan asked how the College was able to add a stipend for a graduate director. Dr. Robert Cook explained that their College allows in state tuition to be the same as out of state and out of country tuition rates. Therefore, the College receives the additional revenue that is generated from those students. He also stated that the suggestions improved the courses. Dr. Cook explained that when the course numbers were changed, they firmed up the content of the proposal and how everything would function more smoothly. He shared that the Graduate Committee’s recommendations made the Masters of Computer Science proposal a better program.

Dr. Flynn asked if the 5000 level courses were in place for undergraduates, or if they were just created for this proposal. Dr. Diebolt stated that the three new courses would become the programs core to replace the 5000G courses in the previous proposal and the three revised courses would be in the program concentration. Dr. Flynn also asked if the 5000G level course in the pervious proposal would remain in the course inventory. It was indicated that the courses would since they are courses taken by graduate students in other degree programs.

MOTION: Dr. Flynn made a motion to approve the College of Information Technology submissions. A second was made by Dr. McMillan. The motion to approve the New Courses, Course Revisions, and the Masters of Computer Science program was approved.
B. SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS & UPDATES

i. Vision For Graduate Education (BluePrint Ad Hoc Committee) – Mr. Harwell distributed the latest draft, Version 8.3, of the Vision for Graduate Education. He explained that the revisions were based on feedback the Ad Hoc Subcommittee received from Deans and Faculty. Mr. Harwell shared that the Ad Hoc Subcommittee would remain in place to develop a Level 2 document, with the proposed name “Statement of Recommendations to the Graduate Committee”. This document would include action items and/or specific principles which have been discussed by the Ad Hoc Subcommittee, some of which have arisen from the recent feedback from Deans and Faculty, and which are beyond the scope of a vision statement. He clarified that these are two different documents that will be voted on separately. The subcommittee hopes to have the Level 2 document available to the Graduate Committee soon for them to review. Mr. Harwell stated that they will continue to accept feedback on the Vision for Graduate Education draft, and hopes for a vote on this draft at the November Graduate Committee meeting.

Dr. Fernekes added if anyone would like to join the Ad Hoc Subcommittee for them to notify Mr. Harwell.

A Vision for Graduate Education
Georgia Southern University
Draft Version 8.3
October 2009

INTRODUCTION:
The goals of graduate education at Georgia Southern University are to provide a learning environment which fosters creative thinking in the minds of our students, and to produce graduates who improve and enrich society. As stated in Georgia Southern’s mission, our programs “prepare a diverse and select undergraduate and graduate student population for leadership and service as world citizens. Faculty, staff, and students embrace core values expressed through integrity, civility, kindness, collaboration, and a commitment to lifelong learning, wellness, and social responsibility.”

Our academic distinction arises from the quality and integrity of our programs. A graduate degree from Georgia Southern is a valued statement of this distinction, as such degrees are earned only by those individuals who have achieved the standards of this community of learners.

MAINTAINING INTEGRITY AND QUALITY
The hallmarks of graduate education at Georgia Southern University are integrity and quality. Increasing enrollment must be met with resources to improve programs.

We maintain our integrity when we have students who are qualified to earn graduate degrees, who are taught by graduate faculty who are qualified to teach in graduate programs. This is accomplished by only accepting qualified students and qualified faculty. The graduate faculty within each college may define additional standards for qualified students and qualified faculty, thus empowering the college faculty in strengthening their graduate programs according to their needs.

In the future, there may be more students in online graduate programs than in traditional graduate programs. This is because there are a finite number of students who can come to the Georgia Southern campus. However, online education is not and should not be more important to Georgia Southern University than face-to-face graduate education. Faculty should be provided with the resources they need in order to sustain the high quality of graduate education at Georgia Southern, regardless of the method of delivery. A logical evolution toward online delivery is expected in some, but not all, programs.

We maintain our quality through the use of qualitative measures, including student evaluations of faculty; uniqueness of courses and programs; teaching methods; and the quality of scholarship of students and faculty. While COGS' mission includes developing, reviewing, and assessing graduate policies and programs, college-level responsibilities include assessing the dispositions of incoming and outgoing students; assessing the programs internally; providing internship programs; maintaining accreditations; providing qualified faculty; planning appropriate student/faculty ratios; delivering cutting-edge practices; and distributing an appropriate workload/teaching load.

These high-quality graduate programs should be provided with the resources needed to sustain them. Such investments in graduate education are vital to maintaining integrity and quality. For example, some of the funds from the e-tuition rate for online courses should flow back to departments and to Henderson Library, in order to directly support the needs of growing programs.

Cultivating our graduate culture

As one step in the university’s development as a doctoral-research university, Georgia Southern needs to identify and develop the values which support its graduate programs. In the effort to meet our goal to cultivate a distinct graduate culture, we should ensure that the graduate programs at Georgia Southern are effective, creative, and cutting-edge.

The growth of a graduate culture also includes the belief that the graduate student body is capable of and invested in developing critical thinking and analytical skills, intellectual curiosity, effective interpersonal skills, and professional dispositions appropriate to the program, the university, and a global society. Graduate programs should be designed to inspire students to not only attain a high level of professional training, but to develop a graduate mindset regarding research and contribution to one’s profession.

A commitment to multicultural awareness and knowledge is integral to sustainable graduate programs. Abiding by diversity-oriented and ethical policies and procedures will contribute to the growth of open, inquiry-based learning. Programs must remain motivated to sustain academic rigor and provide a transformative educational experience.

By fostering a strong bond with the undergraduate culture, it is important that each college create a graduate experience which best reflects each college’s unique and vibrant mission and strengths.

Overall, graduate education at Georgia Southern University shall:
♦ Offer programs which are of high quality, consistent with the overall mission of the university, and which build upon existing strengths;
♦ Be responsive and supportive;
♦ Have an efficient, timely and transparent admission process, which is committed to continuous assessment and improvement; and ♦ Have an open and welcoming environment for all people, so that students, staff, and faculty feel valued, respected, and appreciated.

Defining our vision and mission

The vision and mission of the Averitt College of Graduate Studies at Georgia Southern University shall be compatible with the University’s Strategic Plan and student-centered focus, as well as the Board of Regents’ Strategic Plan and Goals for Graduate Education. It is important that each college create a graduate portfolio to reflect that college’s unique and vibrant mission and strengths.

VI. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dr. Fernekes announced that there would be another SharePoint demonstration, by Mr. Harwell and Mrs. Audie Graham, at the November 12th meeting to update the committee on the SharePoint site structure.

Dr. McMillan asked if there is a Graduate Fair coming up. Dr. Diebolt said that the Graduate School Fair is in November and that it is sponsored by Career Services. He explained that the College of Graduate Studies will pay the registration fee for all departments who would like to participate in the Fair. Dr. Diebolt stated that a reminder email would be sent out to the Graduate Committee, Program Directors and Coordinators with the details.

VII. ADJOURNMENT

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned on October 8, 2009 at 10:10 AM.

Department of Biology

New Courses

- BIOL 2108H - Honors Principles of Biology II

  Overview of major organismal, evolutionary and ecological topics in biology including evolution, diversity of life on earth, plant and animal form and function, and ecology. The course also discusses how life evolved to meet changing conditions on the planet. 3 credit hours. Prerequisites: BIOL 2107 or BIOL 2107H and BIOL 2107L. Corequisite: BIOL 2108L (Note: BIOL 2108L must be the associated honors section of the lab.)

JUSTIFICATION:

This is the honors section of an existing course. We propose to have BIOL 2108H, Honors Principles of Biology II to complete an Honor's sequence of our two major core courses. The honors section of this course will provide a more in-depth discussion of the material presented in BIOL 2108, and students will be expected to conduct a project and write a paper on one topic during the semester.

A MacKinnon/L. Smith motion to approve this new course was passed unanimously.
BIOL 2320H - Honors Research Methods in Biology
Provides Departmental Honors in Biology students an overview of basic research methods, experimental design, visual presentation and analysis of biological information in a diversity of biology sub-disciplines. This course provides the foundation for understanding the analyses typically presented in biological publications as well as the precepts necessary to plan a research project effectively. 2 credit hours. Prerequisites: BIOL 2107 or BIOL 2107H and BIOL 2108 or BIOL 2108H. Any introductory Biology sequence can substitute for BIOL 2107/2108. Acceptance into the Departmental Honors in Biology Program is required.

JUSTIFICATION:
This course will provide Departmental Honors in Biology students with an overview of research methods, data and analytical techniques from a variety of biology sub-disciplines. Departmental research expertise will be emphasized so that students may make an informed choice of Honor's Thesis research in their junior/senior years. The course would provide the foundation for understanding the analyses typically presented in scientific publications, as well as the precepts necessary to plan a research project effectively.

A Higgins/Frost motion to approve this new course was passed unanimously.

BIOL 3630H - Honors Current Trends in Biological Research
Provides students in Departmental Honors in Biology with a structured introduction to current topics in biological research. The course familiarizes students with the scope of biological research and aids students in selecting an area of inquiry to pursue their capstone research requirement. Students will attend the Departmental Seminar series as part of this course. One outcome of this course is a research proposal written with a faculty mentor. Students may not receive credit for this course and BIOL 4620. 3 credit hours. Prerequisites: BIOL 2320H. Acceptance into the Departmental Honors in Biology Program is required.

JUSTIFICATION:
BIOL 3630H, Current Trends in Biological Research, will provide students a structured introduction to current topics in Biological Research. The course is intended to familiarize students with the structure and scope of biological research and aid students in selecting an area of inquiry to pursue their capstone research requirement.

A Moore/MacKinnon motion to approve this new course was passed unanimously.

Course Revisions
FROM: BIOL 2108 - Principles of Biology II
Survey of the diversity and basic biology of viruses, bacteria, protista, fungi, plants and animals. For each group, emphasis will be placed on systematic relationships at higher taxonomic levels, recognition of diagnostic structures, functional systems and reproduction.

TO: BIOL 2108 - Principles of Biology II
Overview of major organismal, evolutionary and ecological topics in biology including evolution, diversity of life on earth, plant and animal form and function, and ecology. The course also discusses how life evolved to meet changing conditions on the planet.

JUSTIFICATION:
In completing the new course form for BIOL 2108H, we realized that the current catalog description for BIOL 2108 was outdated and did not match the change in content resulting from a recent curriculum revision.
FROM: BIOL 4895H - Honors Research
Independent research under the guidance of a biology faculty member for Biology honors students. Students may register for 1-4 credit hours, but must complete 4 credit hours. Students opting to attempt the honors degree program would be precluded from receiving biology elective credit for the biology course, BIOL 4890. Prerequisites: Open to students in the Honors in Biology only. 1-4 credit hours. Prerequisite: Open to students in the Honors in Biology only.

TO: BIOL 4895H - Honors Research
Independent research under the guidance of a biology faculty member for students in the Departmental Honors program. Required for students attempting to earn Departmental Honors in Biology. Students may register for 1-3 credit hours, but must complete 4 credit hours. Students opting to attempt the honors degree program would be precluded from receiving biology elective credit for BIOL 4890. 1-3 credit hours. Prerequisite: Junior level or above; good standing in the University Honors Program (3.3 GPA or higher).

JUSTIFICATION:
We proposed this course several years ago but did not follow through with a Departmental Honors in Biology Program that included BIOL 4895H in its curriculum. We are revising the course description to align with the newly proposed Departmental Honors in Biology Program. The prerequisite change clarifies the standing of the student and grade level qualifications that are in place for departmental research opportunities. The credit hour change necessitates that students conduct their research over two semesters in order to accumulate the required 4 credit hours for BIOL 4895. This allows students to have a more in-depth research experience for their honor's experience.

FROM: BIOL 4899H - Honors Thesis
Written and oral presentation of results of individual research in partial fulfillment of the requirements for Honors in Biology. Students opting to attempt the honors degree program would be precluded from receiving biology elective credit for the biology course, BIOL 4890. Prerequisites: BIOL 4895H and a minimum GPA of 3.5 in all course work applied to the Biology degree and junior standing.

TO: BIOL 4899H - Honors Thesis
Written and oral presentation of results of independent research. Honors thesis must follow the guidelines adopted by the University Honors Program. Required for students attempting to earn Departmental Honors in Biology. A minimum grade of "C" with a completion of 4 credit hours in BIOL 4895H; good standing in the University Honors Program (3.3 GPA or higher).

JUSTIFICATION:
We proposed this course several years ago but did not follow through with a Departmental Honors in Biology Program that included BIOL 4899H in its curriculum. We are revising the course description to align with the newly proposed Departmental Honors in Biology program. The prerequisite change requires students to complete their honors research before they begin writing the thesis.

A MacKinnon/Higgins motion to approve these course revisions was passed unanimously.

Program Revisions
B.A. Biology
JUSTIFICATION:
Biology majors typically make up the largest subset of University Honors Program (UHP) students. Students have found that completing an Honors Program in Biology is less structured than expected or desired, particularly with regard to the requisite "capstone experience". This is reflected in the small numbers of students who are recognized each year for completing the UHP Honors in Biology requirements. The goal in the proposed program is to provide a structured opportunity to earn Departmental Honors in Biology. The suggested Departmental Honors in Biology Program includes Honors’ designated sections of introductory courses coupled with new and revised courses (form attached). The description of Honors requirements will be appended to the B.A. in Biology degree.

B.S. Biology
