College Programs Receive National Rankings

January 9, 2020

Georgia Southern University has received multiple national rankings from Intelligent.com for programs housed in the Waters College of Health Professions (WCHP). WCHP offers a variety of degree programs that aim to prepare students for careers in health professions.

Intelligent.com aims to provide students with the resources they need to make informed decisions about higher education programs.

Programs were evaluated based on curriculum quality, graduation rate, reputation and post-graduate employment. For a program to be included in the rankings, it had to be accredited through regional or national accrediting bodies.

WCHP has been recognized for the following degree programs:

Sports Management Degree Programs | Ranked #1

Dean Joyner Named Health Care Hero

January 9, 2020

The Georgia Medical Society presented its 19th Annual Health Care Heroes Awards in November. During the banquet, Waters College of Health Professions Dean, A. Barry Joyner, Ph.D., was named the recipient of the Health Care Hero Award in the Health Care Education Category.

The award recognizes individuals and organizations for their involvement in making health care better in the community by conducting or sponsoring educational activities that improve quality of life.

“While it is an honor to receive this award, it’s a true representation of the ongoing effort the Waters College of Health Professions is making in preparing students for their future roles in health care,” stated Joyner. Additionally, the award demonstrates the College’s value of not only serving the community, but continuing to provide opportunities for our students to work in collaboration with the community.”
