Scottish Rite Donates \$10,000 to the RiteCare Center

April 7, 2020

For over a decade, the Valley of the Scottish Rite Masons has generously supported Georgia Southern University's RiteCare Center for Communication Disorders on the Armstrong Campus. The Valley of Savannah Scottish Rite Masons host two fundraisers each year for the RiteCare Center: the Scottish Rite Golf Tournament and the Walk for RiteCare, each year for the RiteCare Center.

This past year, $10,000 dollars was donated to the RiteCare Center to assist with funding the learning experience of Georgia Southern communication sciences and disorders graduate students as well as supporting the success of those who require speech therapy. With the donations made by the Savannah Scottish Rite Masons, the RiteCare Center is able to fund equipment and materials to create experiences that grow well-rounded speech-language pathologists that ultimately foster communicative growth and development in the clients the Center serves.

About the RiteCare Center on Armstrong Campus

The RiteCare Center is a teaching communication disorders center for students in the graduate Communication Sciences and Disorders program. Under the supervision of experienced licensed and certified speech-language pathologists, students provide low cost services to include assessment and intervention services for children and adults with communication delays or disorders.

About the RiteCare and Scottish Rite Masons

The RiteCare Center at Georgia Southern University is supported by the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite – Savannah Valley, in keeping with the national philanthropic program of the Scottish Rite Masons to support speech and hearing clinics. Today, there are numerous RiteCare clinics, centers and special programs operating or planned throughout the United States. Through this philanthropic effort, RiteCare Centers have significantly helped tens of thousands of children across the United States improve their communication skills in order to improve their lives.
