History

Fall 2013: Zach S. Henderson Library launches institutional repository, Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

The screenshot shows the homepage of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. The header features the university logo and the title "Digital Commons@Georgia Southern" above an aerial view of campus buildings. A navigation bar includes "My Account", "FAQ", "About", and "Home", along with the tagline "Digital Archive of Research, Scholarship & Creative Works".

The main content area is divided into several sections:

- Search: A search bar with the text "Enter search terms:" and a "Search" button. Below it is a dropdown menu labeled "in this repository".
- Advanced Search: A link to "Advanced Search" and a note "Notify me via email or RSS".
- Browse: A section with links for "Collections", "Disciplines", and "Authors".
- Author Corner: A section with links for "Submit Research", "Author FAQ", "Copyright Information", and "Data Management".
- SelectedWorks: A section with a "Request a Site" link.

The central featured area includes a large image of a building at night with the text "SelectedWorks" overlaid. To the right of this image is a "Promote" section with the text: "Henderson Library will create SelectedWorks author profiles for you" and a "Visit site" link. Below the image are social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

At the bottom, there is a section titled "Browse Research, Scholarship & University Publications" with a "Follow" button. This section contains two columns of links:

Integration

Pros

- Save time by reusing metadata
- Offer a suite of services

Cons

- Everything is connected & affected
- Limitations of two sites

Initial Marketing

- Brochures
- Meeting with College Deans
- Emails to faculty with Selected Works

Current & Future Marketing

- Sessions with faculty
- Emails to new faculty
- Events for Open Access Week
- Demos with coffee/snacks
- PlumX reports

Outcomes

Positive

- Provides multitude of services for different interests
- Separates SelectedWorks from other author profiles

Negative

- Creates confusion about integration and branding
