Visiting Faculty Lecture:

The thrill of discovery: Qualitative research approaches

February 09, 2015

1:00–2:30p.m.

NURS/CHEM Room 1007

Dr. Kit Chesla is a Professor at University of California, San Francisco School of Nursing. In 2008 she was named Thelma Shobe Endowed Chair in Ethics and Spirituality. Dr. Chesla's scholarship explores and illuminates how families, through their relationships and caring practices, heal and hold the chronically ill family member. Her work is also directed at articulating the ways in which health care services and structures support or impede families' ways of coping with everyday challenges of chronic illness.

Join us on Monday February 9, 2015 when Dr. Kit Chesla of the University of California-San Francisco School of Nursing discusses her scholarship on chronic illness care and qualitative research approaches in nursing.
