ABOUT THE COLLECTION

Biographical History: Patrick Novotny received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1995 and joined the faculty at Georgia Southern that same year. He teaches and researches in the field of American politics, with a general focus on Georgia political history, political parties, and politics, and the media. Novotny's research has been published in journals such as the Harvard International Journal of Press/Politics, The Georgia Historical Quarterly, and Social Science Computer Review. His books include Where We Live, Work, and Play: The Environmental Justice Movement and the Struggle for a New Environmentalism (Westport, CT: Praeger, 2000), This Georgia Rising: Education, Civil Rights, And The Politics Of Elections In Georgia In The 1940s (Macon: Mercer University Press, 2007), and The Press in American Politics, 1787-2012 (Santa Barbara, CA, Denver, CO, Oxford, England: Praeger, an imprint of ABC-CLIO, 2014).

Scope and Content: This collection consists of the research files of Patrick Novotny, Professor of Political Science at Georgia Southern University. Materials include booklets, leaflets, newspaper articles, journal articles, and other published materials from 1929-2001. Subjects include environmental justice, 20th century Georgia politics, civil rights, and race relation.

System of Arrangement: Materials are arranged in three series according to their original organization by the collector. Series 1 includes "Where We Live, Work, and Play, Research Materials, 1973-1979," Series 2 includes the "20th Century Georgia Politics Research Materials," and Series 3 includes materials from the "Contemporary sources on the case of U.S. vs. Darby Lumber Company." Materials are further arranged into folders.
