Summer 2019 Improve Your Online Course (IYOC) Program

Registration Deadline: May 14, 2019

Applications are now being accepted for the Summer 2019 IYOC session.

The CTE's spring semester Improving Your Online Course (IYOC) was a huge success. It's now time to plan for the next section offered this summer.

Facilitated by the CTE staff, this online Quality Matters® (QM) workshop will help you support online student success:

- Faculty can update their expertise in teaching online
- Faculty can identify possible ADA and Section 508 non-compliant sections of their online courses
- Faculty can identify and implement course improvements to further engage their students, which might in turn boost future enrollment
- Faculty completing this IYOC workshop will meet the CTE prerequisite for a Quality Matters® online course review that will result in their course becoming QM certified

Although all online faculty are welcome to register, we especially invite those faculty who earned online teaching certification more than two years ago as well as faculty who teach in fully online programs. For more information, refer to our IYOC page or contact the CTE at cte@georgiasouthern.edu.

IYOC Dates: Tuesday, May 21 - Tuesday, June 11 (3 weeks)

Please do not register on the University Training Website. Please log into your Georgia Southern email account to fill out the application. Online seats are limited.
