My News

March 2, 2015

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/mynews

Part of the Higher Education Commons

For supplemental articles, click on the link in the recommended citation.

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/mynews/25

This newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Office of Marketing and Communications at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in My News by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.
Maj. Gen. David Rubenstein Featured Speaker for Healthcare Symposium

Rubenstein will visit the Performing Arts Center (PAC) on Wednesday, March 4 from 2 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. to speak on the topic, “A Young Leader’s Toolkit: Know Oneself to Better Lead Others.”

The event is sponsored by the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health (JPHCOPH).
Dmitri Tymoczko, a professor of music at Princeton University, has discovered an unlikely way to study and classify chords: with geometry.

Tymoczko will present his theories and findings in a presentation titled, “The Geometry of Music” on March 5 at 5:30 p.m. in the IT Building, Room 1004. The presentation is sponsored by the Campus Life Enrichment Committee (CLEC), which focuses on bringing cultural lectures and programs to the campus community. A reception will precede the presentation at 5 p.m.
Georgia Southern University’s Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) will host Sexual Assault & Spring Break Awareness Week on campus from March 2–5. The week aims to unify individuals against sexual violence with two major events scheduled throughout the week as part of the campaign.

Georgia Southern Welcomes Celtic Musicians
Natalie MacMaster and Donnell Leahy to the PAC

The Georgia Southern University Performing Arts Center (PAC) is pleased to welcome Natalie MacMaster and Donnell Leahy to the PAC Stage, 847 Plant Drive, as they present their Celtic musical talent in “Visions from Cape Breton and Beyond: A Celtic Family Celebration” on Friday, March 6 at 7:30 p.m.
Georgia Southern Celebrates 30 Years of Glory

Glory, one of Georgia Southern’s bald eagles, will turn 30 on Saturday, March 7, and the Center for Wildlife Education is planning a celebration.

“Turning 30 is a big day for Glory,” said Casey McCall Corbett, education coordinator at the Wildlife Center. “We want to make it all about her.”

Corbett says the day won’t be especially busy, but the Wildlife Center will host a flight show at 2 p.m. and a wildlife show at 3 p.m. featuring the Center’s bald eagles, Glory, Freedom and Franklin, and its golden eagle, Phoenix.

Panelists to Discuss Sustainability Around the World

A well-traveled and diverse panel of experts will discuss sustainability challenges and advances around the world on Tuesday, March 3 at 6:30 p.m. in Russell Union Ballroom A.

Lissa Leege, Ph.D., director of the Center for Sustainability, conceived the idea of the panel while leading a Global Sustainability study abroad course in Italy in summer 2014.

“We see so many different approaches to sustainability in different cultures. We have much to learn from each other around the world,” Leege said.
Dress In Blue Day
March is Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month. On Friday, March 6, dress in blue to bring awareness to this preventable disease and celebrate True Blue Friday.

Spring Forward This Weekend
Don't forget to set your clocks forward an hour this weekend! Daylight Saving Time begins on Sunday, March 8!

On Campus...
- Eagles Baseball Sweeps #18 Georgia
- Dr. Matthew B. Flynn Publishes New

In the Media...
- Georgia Southern reaches 20-wins with 77-58 win over Appalachian State – WJCL
Book

Don't miss the Eagles in their final basketball home game

COSM participates in Arbor Day Celebration

Eagles Softball Wins Back to Back

International Journeys at the Library: Turkey, March 11 at 5 p.m.

---

Join the Faculty and Staff Google+ Community

GSInfo Community is a voluntary, private network designed to foster a friendly online workplace environment, encourage camaraderie and facilitate cross-organizational relationships.

[Learn More >]

---

Copyright © 2015 | Georgia Southern University | All rights reserved.

Produced by the Office of Marketing & Communications, MY News is an internal faculty and staff email publication which correlates with campus news on GeorgiaSouthern.edu/MyNews. Published on Mondays, MY News is designed to communicate campus news and announcements plus faculty, staff and student recognition stories.

If you have a story idea or would like to request news to be featured, email marketing@georgiasouthern.edu. The deadline to request MY News articles is Thursdays at Noon.