Sociology Faculty and Student Present Research

January 16, 2015

Dr. Adrienne Cohen, undergraduate student Justin Morales (class of 2014) and a colleague, Pam Brown, from Winston Salem State recently published an article, "Student journals: A means of assessing transformative learning in aging related courses" in the journal Gerontology and Geriatric Education based on research they conducted in death and dying classes here at Georgia Southern University. Mr. Morales worked on the coding, analysis, and thematic development of the data collected and also helped with the writing of the article.
