Georgia Southern Chorale is asking for alumni, parents, and friends to help support student travel to our competition in Europe, 2019. Our hope is that with your support all 32 talented student musicians will be able to travel across Austria and Germany this upcoming May and June, ultimately bringing home a big victory for the Eagles!

With your help, we can reach our goal of raising $5,000 through our crowdfunding site. Every dollar will help us reach our goal and your support is greatly appreciated!

STUDENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS
On March 10, Jordan Knapp (M. M. Performance) was awarded third place and a prize of $150 in the annual competition for the Pro-Mozart Society of Atlanta. Mr. Knapp, a piano student at the Georgia Southern University Statesboro campus, performed a program of Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart. Mr. Knapp is a student of Dr. David Murray.
On March 11, the GS keyboard area presented their semi-annual recital on the Statesboro campus. Students performed a selection of pieces by early keyboard composers, ranging from Giles Farnaby to J. C. Bach. Pictured above (L. To R.): Dr. David Murray; Audrey Wade, B.M. Composition; Jesse Smith, Applied Music Minor; Jordan Knapp, M.M. Performance; Catherine Shatto, B.M. Performance; and Brenden DeArman, B.A. Music.
CONGRATULATIONS!

Senior Trombone Performance majors, Anthony Weber and Jonathan Tang have been accepted into the Graduate Programs at both the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and Florida State University to pursue Masters Degrees in Trombone Performance.

Anthony Weber also auditioned and was accepted to the Thornton School of Music at the University of Southern California to pursue a Masters Degree in Trombone Performance.

We wish Anthony and Jonathan good luck in the enviable task of having to choose which school to attend for their graduate studies.

Jonathan Tang has been accepted to participate in the Southeast Trombone Symposium in June hosted by the Schwob School of Music in Columbus, GA. The Symposium is open by audition to only 35 trombone students from around the world. The symposium, sponsored by the International Trombone Association, features Master Classes and recitals from the world's leading orchestral and solo trombonists.

Free Admission

The Georgia Southern University Percussion Ensemble will be performing their spring concert on Wednesday, April 17, in the Carol A. Carter Recital Hall - Foy Music Building - on the Statesboro GSU campus. The performance begins at 7:30 pm, and will feature the following compositions: Conversation I, by Toshio Mashima (an innovative, yet relatively unknown work), Impulsion, by David J. Long, and Scenario for Percussion, by Elliot Del Borgo. Also included will be three transcriptions by GSU faculty member Stephen Primatic (Savannah campus): Prelude Op. 3 No. 2, by Rachmaninoff, a special arrangement of Comedians Gallop, by Kabalevsky, and a percussion ensemble version of a DMB tune about insects. So save the date, come out in support of live music, and enjoy what promises to be a fun-filled evening of percussion performance! The concert is free and open to the public.
The Georgia Southern University Jazz Ensemble will perform our final concert of the semester on Thursday, April 18 at 7:30 PM at the Statesboro First Baptist Church located at 108 N. Main Street.

Concert repertoire includes works from Gordon Goodwin, Richard Rodgers, Alan Baylock, Freddie Hubbard, Fred Sturm, Stan Kenton, Mike Tomaro, John Kenner, and even an exciting theme from a Japanese television cartoon!

We are also excited to have a special guest artist join us for one of our featured works.

Come join us for the final concert of the academic year. As always, the concert is free and open to the public.
