GS holds Sexual Assault Awareness Week

Georgia Southern University has begun a week-long sexual assault awareness event, which includes the Clothesline Project, the Take Back the Night march and a survivors' rally.

The Clothesline Project is a movement meant to address violence against women. The drawings and emotional expressions on the shirts represent the survival of the violence many women have faced. Full Story.

Unisex restrooms to become standard on campus

All three consolidated campuses under Georgia Southern University will be adding unisex restrooms to their campuses starting this semester.

The restrooms will be single-occupancy and in all buildings currently undergoing construction, as well as some preexisting buildings that have not been announced. Full Story

GS Botanic Garden adds new features

There are many updates coming to the Georgia Southern University Botanic Garden including a recently completed permeable parking lot, sound wall and a new "grow zone."

The Botanic Garden, located at 1505 Bland Ave., expands over 11 acres and is home to many native flowers and herbs found around south Georgia. The Gardens are funded by student sustainability fees and donations from the Statesboro community. Full Story
