SOUTHERN COLLEGE

FOUNDED 1908

A FOUR YEAR CO-EDUCATIONAL
UNIT OF UNIVERSITY SYSTEM
TAX SUPPORTED

ALMA MATER

Down among the murmuring pine trees

Where old nature smiles,

GSC holds up a standard

Known for miles and miles.

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward,

Ne'er her standard fail,

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,

GSC, All Hail.

From the blue and broad Atlantic,

Balmy breezes blow,

Waiting for GSC's Spirit

May she ever grow.

foreword

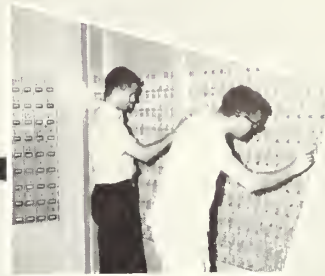

As a mirror reflects an image, the various aspects of college life at Georgia Southern College will be echoed through the pages of this 1961 Reflector. Picturing the past year to be remembered in the future is our goal.

The significance of the many activities we enjoy at college now is often overlooked, but in years to come when these moments are no longer a part of our daily lives they will be greatly missed when reflected upon. These events are experiences which are so valuable to our social, cultural, and academic lives that to not have come in contact with them would leave us as shallow individuals. We have enriched our lives by being students at Georgia Southern College.

It is the hope of the editors and the entire staff of this 1961 Reflector that the memorable events and activities that we have tried to capture between the covers of this book will remain with you always.

dedication

Mrs. Guardia, second from right, was recognized as one of nine faculty members who has served at GSC for over twenty years.

Pleasant memories of childhood reading experiences return to her students when Mrs. Guardia teaches Children's Literature.

For being a fine and able teacher to thousands of students for twenty-four years at Georgia Southern College;

For being a person who is appreciative of the aesthetic values of life and who passes them on to your students;

For being a significant part of the extracurricular program here for many years as a faculty sponsor of the English Club;

For being an outstanding example of a gentle, patient and understanding individual, who never overlooks the social courtesies of gracious living;

For being all of the foregoing and above all—

For being just you, we dedicate this 1961 Reflector to you, . . .

mrs. marjorie thomas guardia

The Frank I. Williams Center

So many events happen here that we pause for a moment to picture the colorful Frank I. Williams Center in its familiar setting. Although only two years old, this building already holds memories for hundreds of us. The Williams Center will always be remembered as the hub of campus activities; a place for us to hold club meetings, eat our meals, receive our mail, study, and relax during our daily lives at Georgia Southern College.

A trip to the library, a peek into the mailbox, eating in the dining hall, or buying supplies at the bookstore are just a few of the activities that go into making up our lives at Georgia Southern College. A number of these daily occurrences that we encounter each day are pictured here to remind us of that life, for these are what we will take with us and remember most in the years to come.

Remember the friend you stopped to have a soda with at the snack bar? Do you recall the many hours you spent studying for a big test in one of the conference rooms in the center? These routine happenings are so familiar to us today and yet they are seldom thought about unless brought to light through a camera's eye. All of these made each day new and vital, becoming locked in our memories of Georgia Southern College.

After the exciting years of college have passed and you have settled down to your challenging lives, you can always reflect back and recapture a little bit of your youth on the following pages . . .

Academic Life

When dormitory life becomes too hectic, many students head for the quiet of the Rosenwald Library to study. GSC students working on research projects are also frequent library visitors.

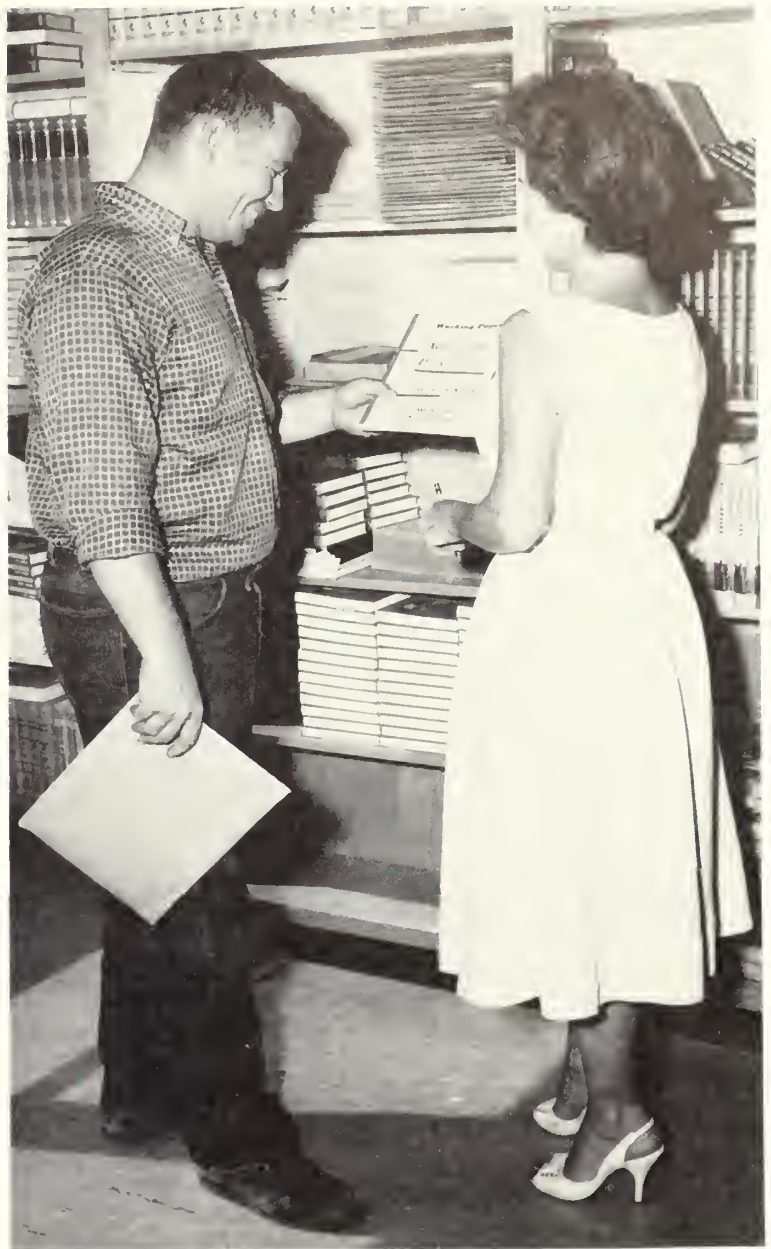

Registration in the Alumni Building is a familiar scene at the beginning of each quarter. Dr. Samuel T. Habel looks on as students sign up for one of his courses.

There comes a time in every student's day when studying is the top item on the agenda. Here, two Cone Hall occupants are caught in the act.

Those Challenging Times

Miss Marjorie Jones, bookstore manager, helps Paul Ward to locate books and materials needed for his courses.

There's not a minute to spare for these students as they work hard to complete a test by the end of the class period.

Social Life

No matter how busy a student is, there is always time to pause a moment to speak with friends.

Those Fun Times

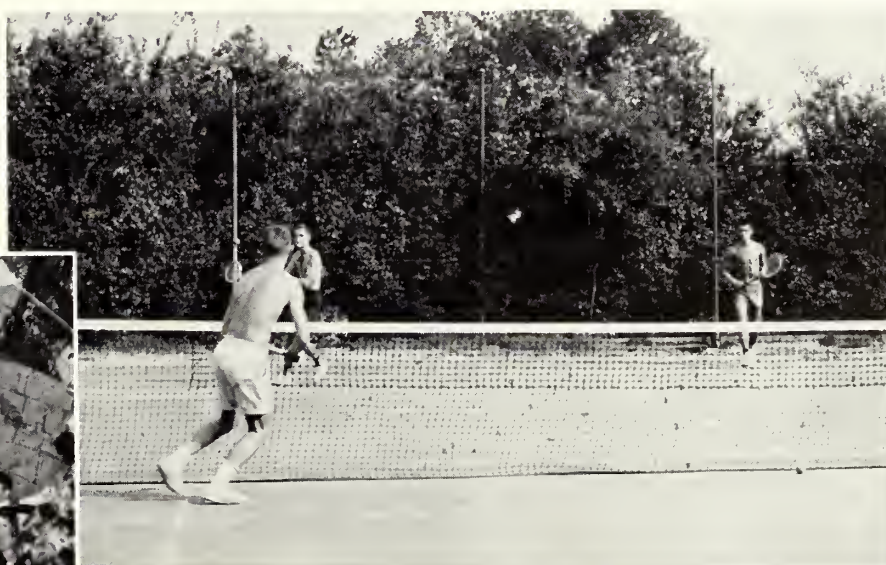

Summertime is here again and students find relief from the heat and fun in the sun while swimming in the pool.

Whether it's on the basketball court or the baseball diamond, Eagle fans can be found cheering their team on to victory.

A little refreshment and some leisurely conversation are enjoyed at the snack bar by Southern students.

Springtime weather gives many students an opportunity to develop their tennis techniques.

There is nothing more a part of social life than attending dances whether they are formal affairs or weekly events.

Daily Events

If only inanimate objects could talk, this Sanford Hall fire escape would groan while telling of the thousands of men who have used it over the years.

All The Time

The business office is the place to go whether it's for paying a bill, depositing money in the Student Bank or cashing a check. Here, Mrs. Vernon Bland waits for Diane Brannen to write out a check.

On Friday afternoons, when the George-Annes are published, students waiting on the dinner line enjoy reading their campus weekly.

The student workers in the dining hall are kept extremely busy serving the hundreds of students who eat at GSC daily.

Gail Raley fulfills the tiresome but necessary task of signing out before leaving the dormitory.

Campus Growth

The Joseph E. Carruth Building

The Herty Building

In this 1961 Reflector, we are featuring the newest building additions to our beautiful campus. These buildings and the Frank I. Williams Center, pictured on pages 8 and 9, open a new era of expansion at our college. May she ever grow.

Without its administrators, our college would not be. They have the responsibility of seeing that the school fulfills the various needs of its people. The college program must be continually expanding when progress demands, and these men and women must be able to foresee in the future the needs of the students so that they may be provided for in the present. The job of operating the college smoothly and efficiently falls onto their strong shoulders.

An idea is not "just born" in the mind of a person. Behind every idea there must be an implantation of knowledge, some experience and thought. Upon these embryos, ideas are developed. The faculty of this institution play a vital role in influencing each of us. They are the planters of these seeds of knowledge through guidance and instruction.

To be a teacher one does not essentially need a classroom or other educational aids. All he wants is a student—someone desiring to learn. Each faculty member considers his responsibility to be his students and their education.

Georgia Southern College is blessed with both capable administrators and true teachers. With their help the students will be able to uphold the beautiful heritage of Georgia Southern College passed on from generation to generation.

Dr. Henderson Speaks

To the Students of GEORGIA SOUTHERN COLLEGE:

This letter is being written early in the school year 1960-61. For a number of years the enrollment each quarter has been larger than for the preceding quarters. This is true for the fall of 1960 in that the enrollment is approximately two hundred above that of 1959. All indications point to a larger enrollment for the winter and spring quarters than any other similar quarters in the history of the college. It is easy for the college to be measured by the increase and decrease in enrollment. It is our hope that the measure of Georgia Southern will always be determined by the life record of its students and not by the size of the student body.

Through the years I have heard many students at graduation say that they really enjoyed their experiences at the college and that the one, two, three, or four years spent here were of real value to them in life. School administrators, business and professional people have remarked on numerous occasions about the fine work done by our students. It is my hope that in the years to come, when you are living over again some of your experiences when you look at your REFLECTOR, that you will find among its pages the college pictures of many of the leaders in your day.

Sincerely yours,

Zach S. Henderson
Zach S. Henderson

Dr. and Mrs. Henderson and their youngest daughter, Ann, share some of their favorite passages from the Bible.

The President

Mrs. Marjorie Henderson, Dr. Henderson and Ann often enjoy singing together.

A familiar scene on campus is Dr. Henderson walking from his home to his office in the Administration Building each morning.

Dr. Henderson's favorite pastime is growing various vegetables in his garden. This offers some relaxation away from the many responsibilities of being president.

Administrative Heads

Our administrative heads, those seven individuals to whom everyone looks up to for leadership, are the mainsprings of continual progress at GSC. Our president, DR. ZACH S. HENDERSON, has rendered diligent service to GSC for the past 37 years. PAUL F. CARROLL, our capable dean of the college, is charged with its administration and serves as coordinator of college activities. MISS VIOLA PERRY, dedicated to her work at GSC since 1925, enrolls all students and preserves the excellent credentials of the college as registrar. Our resourceful comptroller, WILLIAM M. DEWBERRY, has custody and control of college funds. The doors of the dean of students office are always open to everyone. DR. RALPH K. TYSON, dean of students, and MRS. CAROLYN GETTYS, dean of women, have vital roles in satisfying the many needs of the students. Through the endeavors of JOSEPH A. AXELSON, director of public relations, GSC has become well recognized throughout the state.

Approaching the Administration Building are Dean Paul F. Carroll, left, Miss Viola Perry, and Dean Ralph K. Tyson as they arrive in the morning ready for a day's work.

to the memory of w. s. hanner

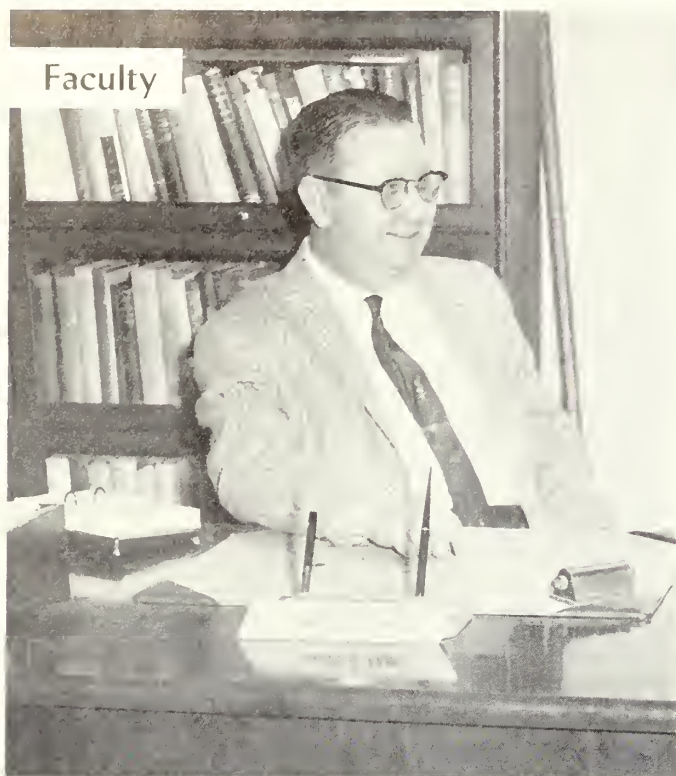

His warm greeting and friendly smile will always be remembered by the many students whom he helped and taught during his 30 years at Georgia Southern College; his life will live on in the hearts and minds of his family, co-workers, and friends.

His influence was felt in his beloved science department as well as in the athletic department he served for many years as faculty chairman.

The newly named W. S. Hanner Building will immortalize his name in Georgia Southern College's history.

Although it was completed too late for him to witness, his dream of modern facilities for the science division has become a reality in the Herty Building.

We come to college for an education—to learn that which can only be found in classrooms, books, and from our professors. The separate classes are only symbols of the divisions in our process of learning. As we pass from freshmen to seniors, we become a little wiser each year.

As freshmen, we are unsure of ourselves, eager to attack all phases of college life and happy to be independent. We discover that the educative processes are difficult.

As sophomores, we are more experienced in the ways of college life and active in campus organizations.

As juniors, we are still a little more mature, a little more knowledgeable. Most of us choose the profession for which we will concentrate our attention academically at this time.

As seniors, we are ready to follow one of two paths—the path leading toward our professional places in life, or toward further study.

As graduate students, we fulfill our desire to continue to learn and enrich the education we have gained thus far.

Graduate School

We, the forty-seven graduate students, are the first recipients of the Master of Education degree from Georgia Southern College. The Master's hood is only a symbol of the goals we have been striving to attain with hard work and fortitude. We, who received the graduate degree, have mastered an area of concentration in our specialized field.

Senior Class

As we, the seniors, look into this mirror, the past four years parade before us. We remember many of the important events as well as the seemingly insignificant ones. Now the time has come to apply all that we have learned. These years at Georgia Southern College will always remain in our hearts and minds as time passes on.

The light shines upon us and along with our images the events of our junior year are reflected. Time has gone by so quickly that it is hard to realize that one year of our college career remains. The courses in our major fields, which we have taken this year, have given us an insight into our future professions. We anticipate our senior year as the most stimulating.

We, as freshmen, are happy that the first year is over, however, many events of this year will stand out in our hearts and minds. The Rat cap reminds us of the initiation period as college students and the books are what we live by for four years. We will meet the challenges which each year brings.

An important phase of education offered here is that which a student reaps by participating in campus organizations. From the approximately 50 organizational groups, every student should be able to find one which is best suited to help him develop his capabilities.

Experience is a form of education that cannot be obtained entirely in a classroom. Willing participation in campus clubs will benefit a person by providing various forms of experience. By being active in clubs, we learn how to work cooperatively with our fellowmen to attain a common goal. This is social experience.

Some organizations have objectives which place special emphasis on occupational endeavors. These clubs present to their members the opportunity to gain experience in their chosen vocation. This is practical experience.

If a person is willing to accept responsibility then he can attain, by working zestily, a position of importance in his chosen organization. This is experience in leadership.

Of course, organizational work is enjoyable as forms of entertainment and relaxation. No matter what the reason, Georgia Southern College is, and rightly so, proud of its student organizations.

The Student Council

March 22, 1961, in the Student Council Room. Guy Marchant,
President, called the meeting to order.

The main goal of the Student Council is to involve as many students as possible into campus activities for their enjoyment.

Some of their projects this year were: helping to plan Rat Day, the coordinated Installation Banquet for Who's Who members, Student Council, dormitory councils, and class officers, and through their efforts the first name band performed here.

The Social Committee coordinates the social events on the campus and its activities encompass the social calendar, Saturday night dances, and campus-wide movies.

social committee

Through the Residence Hall Standards and Regulations Committee the students are able to voice their opinions concerning the manner in which the dormitories are governed.

The purpose of this committee is to make the rules, standards and regulations necessary to keep the dormitories working in a spirit of cooperation and harmony.

A representative from each residence hall is a member of this committee so that each dormitory will have an equal opportunity to express its desires.

HOUSE COUNCIL OFFICERS: seated: Jerry Aldridge, president. Standing: Thad Studstill, secretary-treasurer, and Tracy Rivers, vice president.

Serving as the governing body of Cone Hall, the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and monitors, in consultation with their house director, strive to promote propinquity among the residence hall inhabitants.

It participates in the March of Dimes Drive, Homecoming activities, and has the reputation of having beautiful displays each Christmas.

Their main project is a reception given for the June graduates, their parents and friends.

The purpose of the council is to improve residence hall conditions and relationships.

lewis — sanford

Working to create a friendly relationship among the students, the Lewis Hall House Council meets regularly to discuss suggestions for success of its goal.

At Christmas time the dormitory, through the efforts of the council, contributed to the Empty Stocking Fund.

The council sponsors a tea and a Saturday night dance. The highlight of its activities is a party given for the seniors by the juniors.

The Sanford Hall House Council in association with its house director, enforces the residence hall regulations.

The house council promotes the pre-election dance and participates in the annual Homecoming activities.

Also included on the council are the three house assistants. They assist the house mother with the necessary operations of running the house efficiently and are available to aid the freshmen and sophomores if necessary.

The council meets regularly to discuss ways to improve residence hall conditions.

deal — anderson

Working together in unity, the Deal Hall House Council officers and monitors, in cooperation with the house director, strive to carry out standard residence hall regulations.

Twice a year the council sponsors parties for the girls and provides refreshments. They participate in Homecoming activities as well as decorating the dormitory during the Christmas season.

Their desire is to promote good will among the residents.

The Anderson Hall House Council, in association with the house director, meets weekly for the purpose of promoting better government in the dormitory.

The job of this council is most difficult. The officers as well as the dormitory residents begin the year new to the ways of college life. They must learn to follow the rules as well as how to enforce them.

Guests were invited at Christmas to view the beautiful decorations created by the girls and all the students were asked to attend their open house.

The Men's and Women's Residence Halls Committees were organized for the purpose of bringing the leaders of the men and women who live on campus together to form a system of making better relationships among the residents of the respective dormitories.

The leaders of each dormitory speak for the men and women who have elected them and endeavor to bring about a smoothly running way of life in the dormitories through counsel with each other.

This is the second year that these committees have been in existence.

The Organizational Presidents on campus are joined together in a united group for the purpose of offering the students a functional method of club communication.

One goal of this body is to avoid a mix-up of a social event or other activities of special interest to the students.

Through this organization, these leaders strive to advance cooperation and understanding among the clubs.

The Safety and Health Committee has the responsibility of seeing that the various residence halls are free from the risk of fire.

The members of this committee also have the tasks of checking that all fire alarms are in working condition and seeing that all students understand safety procedures to be used in case of fire.

This group serves as a receiving point for student observations of incidents that would endanger the health or safety of the students. The committee attempts to remove all hazards that threaten the safety of all campus residents.

alpha gamma omicron — alpha gamma pi

Alpha Gamma Omicron, a new organization on campus, is an honor society for freshman women. It is a leadership organization promoting outstanding scholarship. A high scholastic average for the first two quarters is necessary for eligibility.

Alpha Gamma Omicron can be interpreted in the following way: Alpha is the Greek first letter correlated to the idea that freshmen are in their first year of college; Gamma means women, and Omicron is the term for outstanding.

Alpha Gamma Pi promotes scholarship among freshman men. In order to become eligible, a "B" average must be attained the first two quarters of school. Letters are sent to prospective members in the winter quarter and they are inducted during spring quarter.

In order to fulfill their purpose, the members of this fraternity participate in orientation week at the beginning of the fall quarter.

Their ultimate goal is to be able to establish a national honorary fraternity on the Georgia Southern campus.

This organization was newly formed last year.

kappa delta epsilon — alpha psi omega

Kappa Delta Epsilon, a national honorary educational fraternity for women, is the sister organization to Kappa Phi Kappa for men. To be eligible for membership, a student must attain a scholastic average of "B" and possess qualities of good character and leadership.

A major yearly project of this organization is the directing of freshman orientation classes in the fall.

Souvenirs, prepared by the members of the GSC chapter, were presented at the national convention this year.

Recognizing the dramatic ability of students is the purpose of Alpha Psi Omega. Eligibility for membership is attained after a student has participated in the local organization, the Masquers, for a sufficient length of time and has completed a certain amount of work.

Each year Alpha Psi Omega presents an award to the student who has contributed the most to the advancement of the theater on the Georgia Southern College campus.

Kappa Phi Kappa is a national honorary educational fraternity for men. The purpose of this organization is to promote the cause of education by encouraging outstanding men to study and apply its principles.

This year at the national convention one of its members was elected as a national student counselor. This member was the first southerner to hold this position in the fraternity. The post will be held for two years.

sigma alpha iota — i.a. club

The Gamma Theta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota is a national honorary music fraternity for women. The Gamma Theta Chapter has been active in campus events this year, highlighted by a tea held for the alumni during Homecoming.

During winter quarter rush is carried out followed by an initiation of the new members.

The purpose of this fraternity is to further and support the standards of the music profession by urging an interest in musical activities on our campus.

The Industrial Arts Club, which is a newly organized club on campus, was established with the following ideas in mind: to create a better understanding of industry, its processes and technology, and to gain an insight into industry as a way of modern life.

One purpose in which this organization serves efficiently is to create a feeling of fellowship among the young men majoring in the field of Industrial Arts.

Members must be Industrial Arts majors with a sincere desire to help fulfill the high purpose of the club.

The objective of the French and German Clubs is to promote interest in the foreign languages and literature.

Students who are taking French or German or who have had the language in their Georgia Southern College course of study are eligible for membership.

The programs are designed to create discussions of the different phases of French and German history.

This year both clubs sponsored a Foreign Languages Week, the first ever to be held here.

masquers — english club

Three times yearly the Masquers, the drama club, presents opportunities for our students to enjoy plays ranging from the classics to contemporary drama.

The purpose of the Masquers is to instill in their audience an appreciation for drama.

The members of this club receive an understanding of the responsibilities of producing a full-fledged dramatic play.

This year's productions included: "Ten Nights in a Barroom," spring quarter, 1960; "Twelfth Night," fall quarter; and "Royal Gambit," winter quarter.

An interest in dramatics is necessary for eligibility.

The promoting of literary interests on the GSC campus is the purpose of the English Club.

Its aims are to promote the correct usage of the English language and to create a better understanding and appreciation of literature.

Membership is a composite of students who are majoring or minoring in English.

Projects in which the club engaged during the year were contributing to the publishing of Miscellany and participating in the activities of Homecoming.

The goal of the Physical Education Majors is to aid in the development of a better health and physical education program in the schools of Georgia.

This club is composed of those women who are majoring in physical education. The PEM club endeavors to give the members an opportunity to view and discuss the problems that will confront them later as teachers.

As part of this year's activities, the club members built a Homecoming display depicting the transition from the old to the new women's gym uniform.

Through the efforts of the Science Club, two visiting guest speakers were brought to our campus. Dr. Karl Sax spoke on the subject of genetics and Dr. Howard Burkett discussed the field of organic chemistry.

The principal goal of the Science Club is to increase the students' proficiency in the sciences by lectures, field trips, and other phases of scientific inquiry.

Any student interested in the various phases of the exact or natural sciences is eligible for membership in this organization.

Alpha Rho Tau is composed of students who are interested in the visual arts. As in previous years, the Art Club again sponsored the Beauty Revue as one of the highlights of the Homecoming activities. This year's presentation was entitled "Bellerama."

Decorating and planning for the Starlight Ball was just one of many other activities sponsored by this organization. The club's Homecoming display, called "Scene from the Confederacy," won the runner-up position in the display competition.

Eta Rho Epsilon was organized on the Georgia Southern College campus in 1958. This organization is deemed a National Physical Education Club.

The goal encompasses the development of a better health and physical education program in the Georgia school systems.

The membership is a composite of both the men and women health, physical education and recreation majors.

One of its activities this year was sponsoring a Saturday night dance.

The Joe Carruth Chapter of the Student National Education Association published a State Newsletter, the first publication of its kind in the state.

Other activities included several members attending the First District GEA Meeting in Savannah and the GSC chapter acting as hosts to the First District FTA Workshop last spring.

The SNEA is the professional organization for prospective teachers. During the past years the GSC chapter has received recognition for its endeavors toward teacher recruitment.

The Home Economics Club at Georgia Southern is composed of students who are interested in home economics professionally and in homemaking.

Its purpose is to promote the development of better home management and social traits. The theme of this year's activities was "Spinning Life's Threads in Home Economics." Each program presented during the year adhered to the theme.

Membership to this club is open to all home economics majors.

The purpose of these business majors and minors is to promote service, leadership, and scholarship in business.

As part of their activities, the fraternity plans and prepares bulletin boards in the business building and sponsors a Homecoming display.

This year the club presented the Mr. Preferred Dance and published a student directory.

association for childhood education

The Association for Childhood Education Club is composed of students who are majoring in the field of elementary education. The purpose of this organization entails presenting programs and activities in such a manner as to give its members a better insight into elementary school work. Offering its members opportunities to see various problems that will confront them later in teaching is also a club objective.

Active in campus activities, two members are also sent each summer to the national convention to better maintain the high standards and values of the club.

dance — concert bands

Fifteen student musicians make up this year's Dance Band at Georgia Southern College. The band provided the music at the Starlight Ball, the Homecoming Dance, and the Sweetheart Ball. Occasionally the band features a vocalist at various affairs.

The 26 members of the Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred Grumley, made their annual tour in February to various high schools in the state. During the year the band presented two concerts on campus.

combo — philharmonic choir

Five members selected from the Dance Band compose the Combo. The group provides both dancing and listening music at smaller campus dances and off campus engagements.

The 36 voices which make up the choir participated in the first Christmas Tree Lighting Service ever held at GSC. The choir also presented Handel's "Messiah" for the student body in December. The group also participated in off campus musical programs during the year.

The Modern Dance Club strives to promote the interest of students in dance and attempts to educate the public in various realms of dance. Its members have performed for various school exhibitions, for social clubs in Statesboro, for Saturday night dances, and presented "The Last Days of Christ" last spring quarter.

To be eligible for membership, a student must display an interest in dance. The club members have the opportunity of learning interpretative dances and those of foreign countries.

The club's Homecoming display entitled "Dances Through the Ages" won first place in the display competition.

The Primitive Baptist Youth Fellowship Club endeavors to further the students' interests in religious activities. The meetings are held in order to offer young people an opportunity to voice their questions and viewpoints on religious living.

Some of the activities in which the PBYF members participated in this year were a New Year's party celebration and the sponsoring of a contestant in the newly established "Miss Starlight Ball" Contest.

The Newman Club, composed of the Catholic students at Georgia Southern, presented "Operation Abolition," a film showing Communist promoted anti-American riots among college students in the United States, to the student body this year as one of its activities. After Christmas Catholic Inquiry Classes were held on Monday evenings.

The purpose of this club is to promote the spiritual, educational, and social interests of Catholic students on campus and those interested in learning about the faith. Every quarter a corporate communion is held.

The Westminster Fellowship is organized to offer and encourage an informal fellowship that enables free discussion of questions concerning the Bible, problems of philosophy, and everyday living.

A Bible study and discussion session was held weekly which were led by students.

During the year several representatives attended a Weekend Bible Conference in Covington. Plans also included the club having a Weekend Retreat at Hilton Head.

Religious life is made more meaningful to the student through the efforts of the Wesley Foundation in combining study and service with fun and fellowship.

The highlight of this year was the State Methodist Student Movement Conference in Atlanta. Wesley Foundation also sponsored a display for Homecoming.

The Wesley Foundation, the Methodist student organization on state college campuses, invites all students to become active members.

The Methodist Church seeks to further higher education by using the college students' support of this club.

baptist student union

The linkage of the college, church, and students is the desire of the Baptist Student Union.

The unity of this organization is strengthened by a BSU Fall Convention, the annual Sweetheart Banquet, a Summer Missions Drive, and a Spring Retreat.

It seeks to keep vital in the life of a student the various organizations within the church.

During this year the club had a "Hobo Day" and is in charge of "Twilight" services every night. The club newspaper, "The Key," is published also.

G-A journalists

keep presses rolling

The George-Anne—"the best college newspaper in the state of Georgia"—is the campus weekly which reaches Southern students on Friday of each week. In its pages can be found the news of the events on campus, special features, columns, and sports.

From its first "Freshman" issue this year to its twenty-ninth edition the staff worked diligently to publish a newspaper the student body could be proud of and enjoy.

One honor the G-A received this year was having one of its front pages chosen as the "Page of the Week" in the Publishers' Auxiliary by Edmund C. Arnold, editor of his own newspaper and an expert in the field of typography.

The whirl of selling ads and creating attractive make-up designs is the important job of these three staff members. Business Manager Jerry Aldridge, left, discusses plans with Margie McDonald and Furman Cliett.

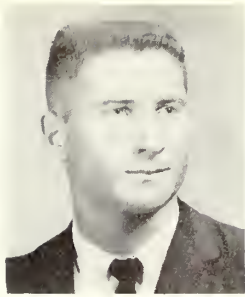

the reflector

Hours of planning, preparation, and hard work went into the make-up of this 1961 Reflector. Names, pictures, cutlines, and copy sheets are all that the staff sees for weeks and weeks. Finally that wonderful day, March 1, dawned. The last deadline is off and the editor leaves behind her in the Reflector Office hundreds of carbon sheets, used erasers, and half gnawed pencils.

The students pictured on these two pages are the ones responsible for making this yearbook what it is.

The Nu Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega was established at Georgia Southern College in May of 1960. This organization, which is a national service fraternity, was founded at LaFayette College in 1925.

Highlighting the year's activities, the fraternity members participated in such events as the registration program, the March of Dimes Drive, and a Care Clothing Drive.

Selling tickets for the Dorsey Orchestra performance and sponsoring the Homecoming Dance were also major APO activities this year.

The fraternity is dedicated to four fields of service which include: to the students and the college, to the community, to the nation, and to the fraternity.

The first APO pledge class was initiated during winter quarter.

gamma sigma upsilon

Gamma Sigma Upsilon, a service and leadership organization, was established for the purpose of fostering in students a feeling of belonging. To be eligible for membership, a student must be at least a sophomore with a "B" average.

During the summer the members of this organization correspond with newly enrolled students at GSC and at the beginning of the school year they participate in the Freshman Orientation Program. This is the second year that the club sponsored a "Stay on Campus" weekend.

debate squad — veterans' club

The Debate Squad is a newly formed group at Georgia Southern this year. Under the direction of its coach, Miss Esther Kling, the squad participated in several debates with other colleges.

The debate topic for the year was the national intercollegiate question "Resolved: That the U.S. should adopt a Program of Compulsory Health Insurance for all Citizens." All interested students may join this debating team.

The Veterans' Club on campus encourages the rapid social and educational readjustment of all veterans attending Georgia Southern College.

This group attempts to stimulate interest in all forms of campus life by engaging in social and educational projects which will better the college and the members of the club. Good fellowship and relationships among veterans, students, and members of the faculty are stressed.

During the spring quarter the club sponsored the "Ugly Man Ball," an annual event at the college. All veterans are invited to join this club.

Action can always be found on the athletic scene at Georgia Southern College. Whether it's basketball players shooting ringers, the baseball players hitting homeruns, or the gymnastics team performing their feats, the students can always find excitement and enjoyment.

Representing the college in three different competitive fields are the baseball, basketball, and the newly formed gymnastics teams. Wherever the Eagles go bearing the colors and name of Georgia Southern College, our hopes and hearts go with them.

The lively atmosphere prevailing at the baseball and basketball games and at the gymnastics meets offers students the opportunity to view clean competition as well as display school spirit.

A second phase of athletics includes a full program of physical education courses and intramural sports. These activities give our students the chance to understand and interpret the various athletic games. They learn how to play cooperatively with each other while obtaining valuable exercise.

An over-all picture of athletics at Georgia Southern College finds our students as both the spectators and participants at sports events.

Coach J. I. Clements' under-rated Eagles started slowly in March, but three months later this explosive team finished as the second best small college NAIA team in the nation.

The Eagles completed their season with an eight-game win streak to loom as top contenders for the Southeastern berth in the eight-team NAIA national tournament at Sioux City, Iowa.

The team won 21 and lost 11, the most wins in school history. Sixteen individual and team records were set, with some occurring in every statistical category.

Five Eagles were hitting over .300 paced by the booming bat of Bill Griffin with .331. Griffin's hitting streak of 21 games and J. E. Rowe's 43 hits are new standards.

Miller Finley played in 42 consecutive errorless games, including 18 last year, and his assists are the most ever recorded by a GSC outfielder.

Lefty Ray Mims posted a perfect fielding average with 18 chances, chalked up the most strikeouts in a season—99; and the most walks—55.

Clyde Miller won nine and lost one—another new record by two.

Right before their final ballgame in Iowa, Bill Mallard, Clyde Miller, and Tom Moody look over the quagmire with the umpire.

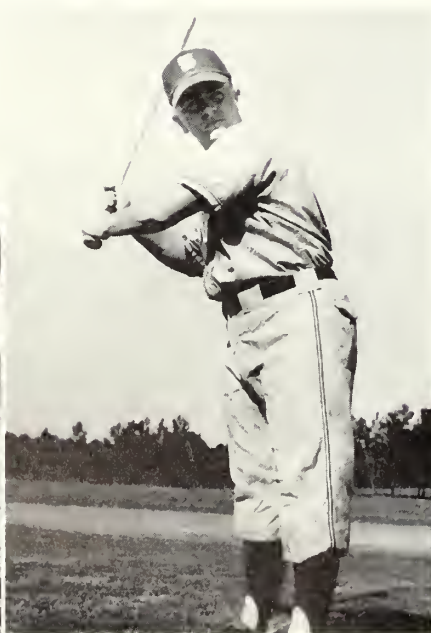

The Eagles anxiously watch the action from the dugout during one of the games in the NAIA Tournament at Sioux City.

Tom Moody makes a hit for the Eagles in their game against Whitworth College. They won the game 12 to 1.

Up and Down Season Ends for Hoopsters

The Eagle basketball team kicked off the season with a 95-80 victory over the Newberry College Indians. This game initiated one of the toughest schedules that the Eagles have had to face in years.

The team was anchored by four returning lettermen: Connie Lewis, Jim Long, Tracy Rivers, and J. E. Rowe. Coach J. B. Scarce headed the Eagle squad for the fourteenth year, coaching 12 winning teams during that time.

The season came to a close March 1 when GSC was defeated by Belmont Abbey 65-63, leaving the team record at 11 wins and 19 losses.

J. E. Rowe, Eagle guard, buckets two points with a left handed crip shot in the game against the Georgia Bulldogs.

Same forward, same pose, but different games. At both the Stetson and Jacksonville contests, Rivers was caught in this agile position scoring points for GSC.

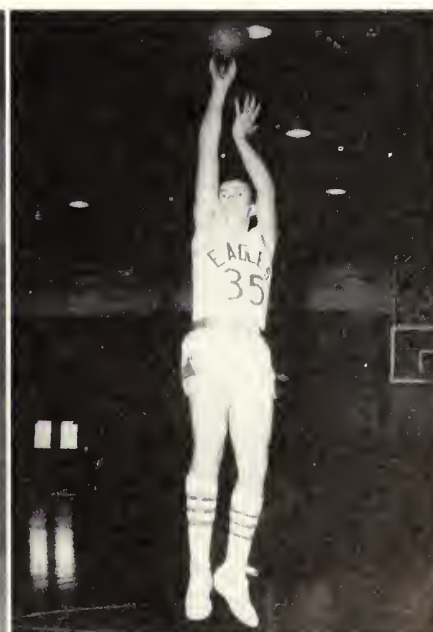

Coaches J. B. Scarce and J. I. Clements discuss Eagle basketball competition for next year.

Ever Expanding

The intramural program at GSC offers all students an opportunity to participate in a wide variety of sports activities. At the beginning of the year each student is assigned to a team. The program has a point system which determines champions in each sports category. Bowling was added during the winter quarter, bringing the total to more than 15 different sports offered under this program.

Mr. Jess White, director of the intramural program at GSC, discusses future tournament schedules with James Chivers, center, and Clay Coleman, at right.

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons intramural bowling is in full swing at the local bowling alley in Statesboro. At left is William Hinesley, foreground, and below, Faye Hodges and Marcia Smith attempt a simultaneous approach.

Gymnastics, a new sport at Georgia Southern College this year, faced one of the most ambitious schedules any beginning team could stand.

Chosen for their beauty and presented in this section are Miss Georgia Southern College of 1961 and her court, Miss Starlight Ball, and Miss Statesboro, a GSC coed.

Beauty is an aesthetic value and yet we call this section "Beauties." Who can say what true beauty is? Everyone has his own definition. In our society today, the meaning of beauty too often implies only the near-perfection of form and outward appearances of a person. The inward qualities which also affect the impression one person makes upon others are often overlooked; these, too, should be considered as ingredients of something beautiful. Beauty can only be true if the qualities such as refined character, intelligence, and high ideals are a natural part of the make-up.

The seven students in this section represent the college generation of this era. Interested in becoming well-rounded students, they enjoy participating in enriching activities offered by the college.

With the exception of Miss Statesboro, these young women were selected by their fellow students as representatives in these beauty competitions and later rose to reign as title holders.

Homecoming	194

"Southern Highlights"—a new name to a GSC Reflector. What does it mean? In this section are the events which add a finishing touch to making this year one worth remembering.

Attempting to recapture the events of three quarters, this entire publication is actually made up of the highlights of this year. Yet, there are extra special happenings which occur once a year and can only be considered as features of 1961.

Such events as the dramatic presentations, musical performances, and campus formals offer Georgia Southern students a broad and entertaining program. These events represent the cultural side of life in which every well-rounded individual needs to participate. These are a student's golden opportunities.

Feelings of sadness and times of joy are brought back when we think of those persons who have since left the college and of those who received the first GSC and Masters' diplomas.

Homecoming is a very special time when the alumni are invited to return and see the strides the college has made year after year. Will we ever forget the buzz of activity which precedes the Homecoming weekend?

All this and much more we will always remember about our lives at Georgia Southern College.

Entertainment

People in the Spotlight

One of the year's special Saturday night dances was the Sweetheart Ball sponsored by the sophomore class. The theme of the affair was "Valentine Swing."

An annual event of the year is the duo-piano concert presented by Dr. Daniel S. Hooley, foreground, and Mr. Jack Broucek. These two versatile performers play a variety of music ranging from classical to popular styles.

The appearance of the Dorsey Orchestra marked another first for GSC. This "big-name" band, under the direction of Lee Castle, played at both a concert and dance early in the fall quarter.

The GSC music division came through with another smash hit this year, "South Pacific." One of the hit songs in the show was "Honey Bun" sung by Peggy Alexander, in sailor suit, and Johnny Hathcock, standing far right.

Special Events

An annual event at graduation time is the traditional Lantern Walk. The seniors garbed in caps and gowns parade from building to building and at each stop one student describes the activities that will be most remembered about that particular building. At the end of the walk, a member of the junior class accepts the lantern for the following year.

Three GSC women received top honors in the "Miss Statesboro" Pageant in November. Trina Davis, center, was crowned "Miss Statesboro, 1960" and Sara Adams, left, was first runner-up. Both are freshmen. Anne Fulmer, secretary to the public relations director, was second runner-up.

Homecoming

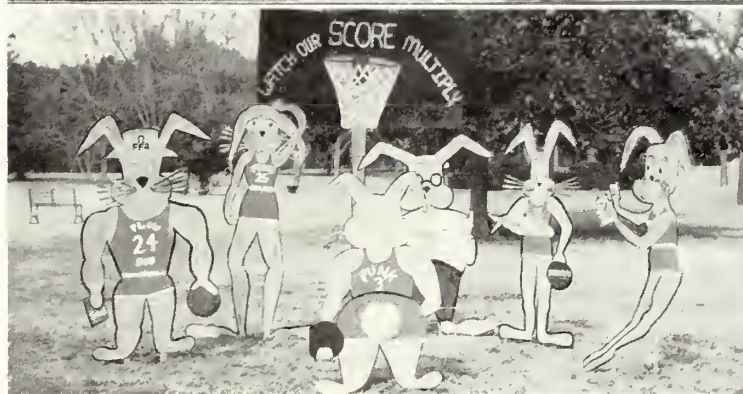

The Homecoming weekend was kicked off with the annual Beauty Revue. Miss GSC, Ethelynn McMillan, center, and her beauty court were crowned.

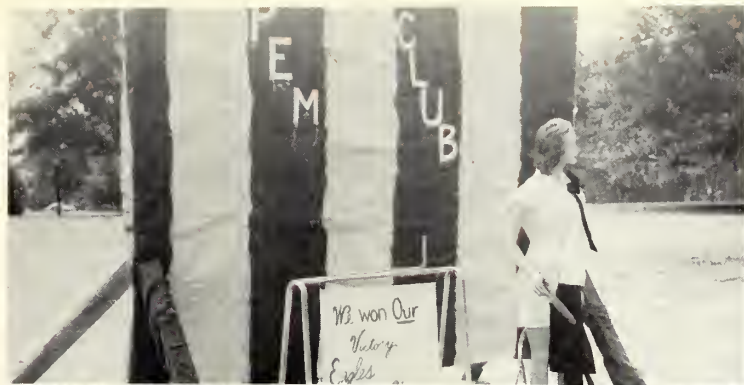

First place winner of the campus display competition was the Modern Dance Club with "Dances Through the Ages."

To you, the students, we present the advertisers and sponsors of the 1961 Reflector. Without their cooperation and support this yearbook would not have been possible. To them we pledge, in return, our unanimity and loyalty.

To our advertisers we make a promise: to serve them and fulfill their desires and requests concerning the advertisements.

For them we hope their ads will bring hundreds of sales from the readers of this 1961 Reflector. We urge our readers to patronize these advertisers.

Who are our advertisers? Just friendly and neighborly people who are always ready to serve and help us in any way possible. Through their services we can obtain the many products available in this wonderful America.

These people help Statesboro and all of Southeast Georgia maintain an upcoming position in the growth and economy of our state.

the final word

In this 1961 Reflector, we have tried to create a book of which the entire student body at Georgia Southern College may be proud. We have attempted new ideas which we hope will be accepted and approved by everyone who reads this yearbook.

A sixteen page increase in the size of the book brings the total to 224, the largest in the college's history. This, in itself, reflects its growth and progress. In addition to the color page, several pages in duotone have been featured in the beauty section. It is our desire that these innovations have helped us to present a publication which truly represents Georgia Southern College.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank certain individuals. A special thank you goes to Joe Axelson, former public relations director at GSC, who believed that we could accomplish such a gigantic undertaking and encouraged us in our efforts.

Extra credit goes to Ron Binns, Taylor Publishing Company representative, for visiting the campus often to help us over the journalistic bumps, in our desire to maintain the quality of the Reflector. There were many others who gave us invaluable aid, a list too numerous to mention here.

We have planned and worked so that whenever any one of you picks up this book all the memories you hold of this year will come flowing back to your mind as you see the events captured in pictures.

Included in this edition of the Reflector are the students, faculty, and staff who have lived and enjoyed life during this year at Georgia Southern College.
