Dedication

"To imitate is to compliment," it has been said. But the imitators must know many things: that their imitation is received in the light it is intended—one of deep respect; that their attitude is accepted as it truly is—one of highest regard; that this individual being imitated walks in personality, character and wisdom, as the imitator would like to walk.

This imitation is a gentle accolade to Dr. Robert David Ward who has, does and shall continue to return this respect, this attitude, this regard to his students through patience, understanding, integrity and a talent to teach and guide students through the annals of history.

This he has done in six years at Georgia Southern as a teacher, as an advisor and as a friend.

To one worthy of imitation, we dedicate the 1962 Reflector—Dr. Robert David Ward.

Foreword

Each and every one of us is different, yet one term is commonly used to describe all of us—college student. Our college is Georgia Southern. Through its facilities we are offered opportunities to learn. As students we are expected to study, absorb, interpret and analyze. As citizens of a community we are learning to live and work with others: to lead and to follow; to observe all that we can of life.

These are our most important days. We will profit in some way from each experience. What we do with these days will decide our futures and affect the events of the time in which we live.

This is a time important to us for testing. As students we are expected to continually experiment and search for better methods and new ways to accomplish goals. As students we are allowed to make mistakes and receive no lasting repercussions.

At no other time in our lives will we be offered so much in the guise of education. How much we absorb is a personal decision, but those things which we take with us when we leave these college days will help us mold the years ahead.

The purpose of this 1962 REFLECTOR will be to show the different phases of this college life and how we use them. If we have utilized their advantages to full potential, then we have been successful as students.

THESE ARE OUR MOST IMPORTANT DAYS!

A few minutes of relaxation,
... some light refreshment ...
interesting chatter ... the coffee urn ... much to be remembered.

The Home Economics Club is an organization of majors in this field who wish to promote the development of better home management and social traits.

Last fall one of the projects of the club was a tea given for prospective majors in home economics.

The theme of this year's activities was "Paint Your Future Through Home Economics." At each meeting a program was presented which adhered to this theme.

The club entertained several guest speakers during the year. The speakers included experts on fashions, cosmetics and food preparation.

Members of the club demonstrate how to make Christmas decorations for a program at one meeting.

The senior members of the club gave a tea for the freshmen during fall quarter.

A Tribute to Dr. Daniel S. Hooley

According to school catalogs, music books, record albums, course titles and concert programs, he was known as Dr. Daniel S. Hooley, professor of music, Georgia Southern College. But to those who knew him personally: faculty, staff, parents, students, and children, he meant much more than this title could ever portray.

"Dan" Hooley lived for every day, giving of himself each minute, each hour, always for the service of others. He was an oasis of freshness for first and second graders as he took them through music to visit other countries, to meet strange people, and to hear the animals roar; this he did with his possession of musical talent and his dedication to see children smile.

From the seven-year old's smile, he would, during his day, walk to the opportunity of explaining the intricacies of developing adequate music programs to future music teachers. And he would speak to them with keen, clear intelligence about the world of music, of its art, of its beauty, and of what it had to offer life.

This was a successful man, not only in the classroom, but also in the conference room, in the coffee lounge, in the recording studio, and in the concert hall.

old man's shoulders is indeed impressive, but more impressive is the manner by which he attained these heights. And it is a simple one. Dan Hooley did not let an ounce of his talent lie dormant for one moment of his life. He moved quickly and effectively to duties, demands and responsibilities which were expected of him by his most severe master, himself.

He was at Georgia Southern for eight and one-half years. And in those years, he gained for himself, as he did in Carnegie Hall, and in the RCA recording studios, respect. This, too, was an easy gain for "Dan" in that he remained always himself, an easy, quick man, offering to all the hand of service.

Only those who knew him realize how great is the loss: the audio man in the recording studio, the student who felt his experienced hand, the laughing children learning funny new songs, his many colleagues, and his family.

But as the songbooks he authored are opened and music teachers throughout the nation say "Children, let us sing!"; as his record albums are played and studied in music studios; and as the students, who were taught by him, go out and teach others who will in turn teach others; we realize that "what Dr. Hooley had to offer" is still here and will live always in the todays and the tomorrows of the world of music.

Phi Mu Alpha

The 25 members of Phi Mu Alpha started this year with a bang by sponsoring the "Shoestring Revue" a satirical, musical production.

Other services this organization performed were: supporting and selling tickets to the concert series, hosting visiting musicians including Ralph Marterie and his orchestra and supplying pep with their musical abilities at rallies and ball games.

In furthering its purpose of advancing musical knowledge to the college and community, this group presented a radio program, "The World of Music," every Sunday.

The members of Sinfonia have a common bond in that each brother has a sincere appreciation of music and membership is by invitation.

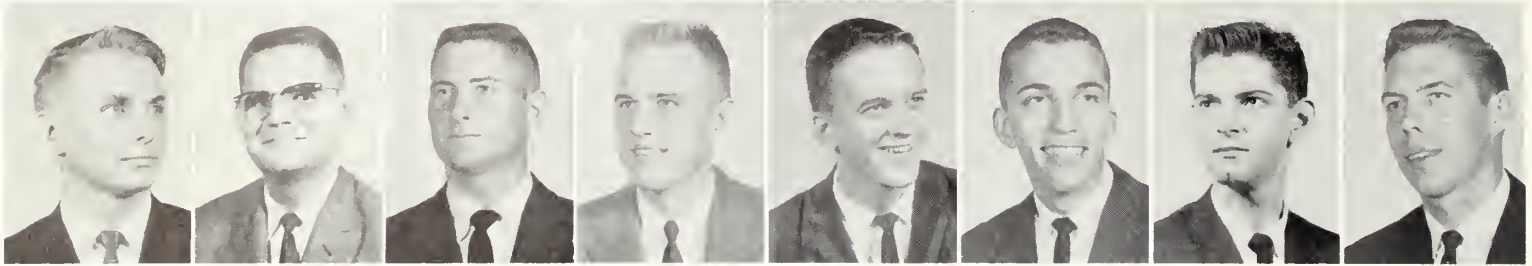

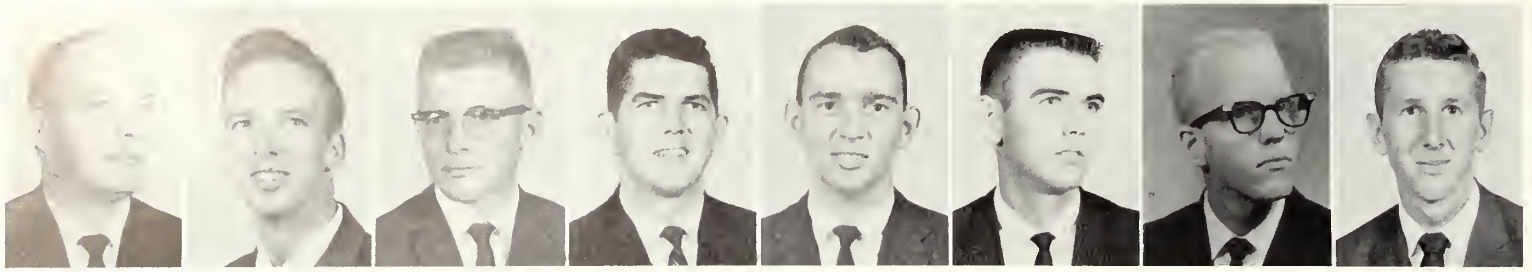

Where there's music and pep you can find Phi Mu Alpha men.

Gamma Sigma Upsilon

Gamma Sigma Upsilon became known to the new students even before they entered the college gate. During the summer, letters had begun to flow between members and newly enrolled students.

The members of this organization, who qualify by being a sophomore with at least a "B" average, acted as student advisors to the frosh during orientation week. GSU sponsored a freshman talent show in an effort to make them feel welcome and at home here.

A program initiated by the club this year was the designation of a male and female student to act as official hostesses to campus guests. The State Officers of Beta Club were invited to visit the campus by G.S.U. and mimeographed sheets of the phone numbers of all offices and buildings on campus were distributed to the house directors, faculty, and administrative staff.

For the third consecutive year, G.S.U. sponsored a "Stay-On-Campus" weekend.

GSU members meet with their advisor to plan their strategy for Freshman Orientation Week.

Circle K

Circle K, newly formed on the GSC campus, is a service organization for college men. Its purpose is to be a leadership and character building group and to serve in helpful capacities on the campus and in the community.

As part of their service program this organization sponsored a Saturday night dance during Fall quarter and acted as ushers for the Ralph Marterie Concert.

The fourteen members of this group also worked on the development of a Student loan system for Georgia Southern Students.

Membership to this club is by invitation.

The future plans of this club are to expand in membership so that they can take a position as an outstanding organization on campus.

Masquers

"Applause, applause—our only reward is applause" could serve as the motto for any of the approximately thirty members of the Masquers.

Three times yearly these dramatists at GSC bring theatre to this college campus.

This year's productions included: "See How They Run" by Phillip King, spring quarter, 1961; "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Tennessee Williams, fall quarter; and James Thurber's and Elliot Nugent's "The Male Animal," winter quarter.

A bill of student directed one-act plays was presented during spring quarter.

Any student who is interested in dramatics and who will complete five hours of backstage work is eligible for membership.

A typical scene in the "Ham" Radio Club office, only usually more people are crowded into the same space.

Amateur Radio Club

The Georgia Southern College Amateur Radio Club came to the forefront this year when they were awarded their call letters, WA4DTF, by the Federal Communications Commission on November 7, 1961. They are now working with Civil Defense in both emergency and non-emergency communications.

During the winter quarter they made a display on the procedure of Ham Radio Operation in the Williams Center.

Membership is open to any student who has the sincere desire to secure his FCC radio license and who has been accepted by a majority of the club members.

Members benefit by informative classes for instruction in the amateur radio field.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB: Top to bottom: Tommy Fouche, Vernon Ownbey, Bob Perkins, Mr. John Lindsey, advisor; Bob Revel, Terry Coleman.

Advisor John Lindsey points out their license. Seated: V. Ownbey, vice president; Bob Revel secretary-treasurer. Standing: Mr. Lindsey and Tom Fouche, president.

Eagle-Vue

The Eagle-Vue, originally the "T" Book, is published as a source of information about regulations, activities, and traditions.

Every new student at GSC receives one of these as their guide-book to life on this campus.

The Eagle-Vue is published every two years and the revisions in each book are made by a student-administrator-committee combination.

This year's staff will see the results of two years of work when the 1962-63 Eagle-Vue is published and distributed to new students in September.

Miscellany

Miscel'lany—"n o t Miscella'ny," as any staff member will tell you, is a literary review published by the Division of Languages.

The members of the staff met twice a month to discuss and criticize submitted manuscripts by students as well as works of noted authors.

This year, the Miscellany was published during spring quarter. Its purpose is to offer sincere encouragement to serious and hopeful writers among the students at the college and to provide an interesting variety of the best literary compositions available.

Included in the Miscellany are poetry, art work, fiction, and non-fiction material.

If you're looking for excitement, adventure, conflict, emotion—they can all be found in the office of The George-Anne, the campus weekly newspaper.

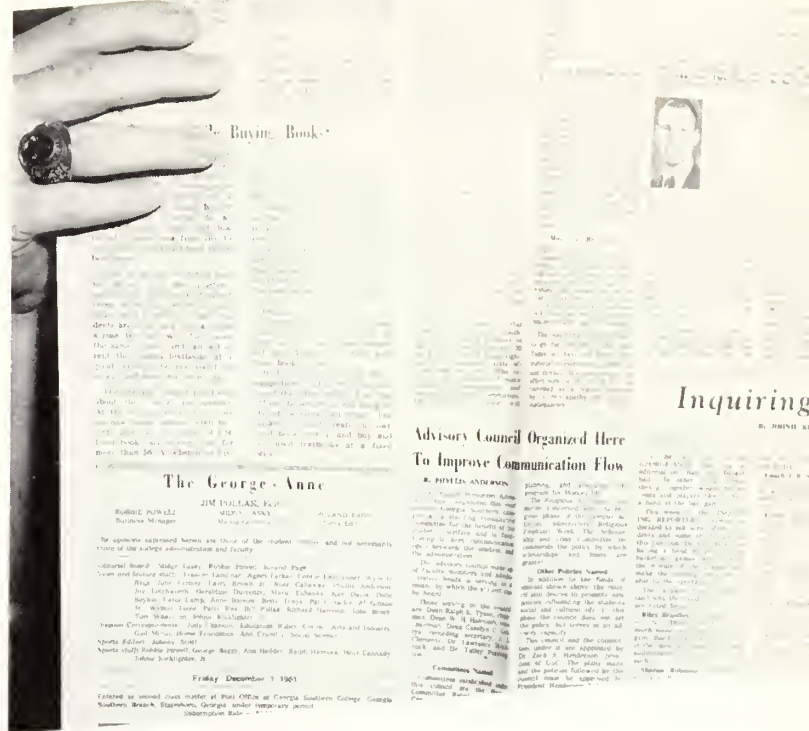

Complaints, actual gripes, jokes and serious discussion on any topic imaginable were taken up by the staff members almost every night of the week.

The pressure was greatest on Wednesday nights when that 11 p.m. deadline was quickly approaching and the staff members realized that there was no more time to fool around.

All the news that is news is reported in The George-Anne. Also included are features, pictures and special columns. One special effort this year was a series about Communism obtained from the U. S. Air Force.

Hurry up, take the picture. We can't hold this wall up much longer! . . . Staff members Harley Davidson, Nellie Pate, Katherine Wellbrock, Pat Willcox and Suzanne Fleming.

It seems like only yesterday when we had 224 pages to go to complete this book. With each deadline we immediately subtracted and the number of pages remaining melted.

Ten months, hundreds of pictures, millions of words, imagination, which we used unsparingly, are clothed between the covers of this year-book. You only think you're seeing pages!

The experiences we shared were numerous—most of them trying. But, these are the memories we'll take with us and as each year passes, they'll become more and more wonderful.

It's funny how we all found the same place to hide. Maybe Midge won't find us and give us work . . . Bill Pollak, Ronald Lasky, Jim Pollak and Pat Crowder.

Student Council

Operating within its purpose of getting as many students as possible interested in campus activities, the Student Council promoted the idea of "Operation Spirit Weekend." Different clubs were asked to sponsor such events as pep rallies, a bon fire, dance, jam session on the weekend prior to the opening basketball game of the season on campus.

Other services they provided were aiding with orientation, being responsible for class officer elections, and helping with the nomination of "Who's Who" Students.

They initiated the program of "Operation Flu Shot" and were influential in securing the services of the Ralph Marterie Orchestra for a concert and dance. This was the second big name band to appear on campus in two years.

Ralph Marterie and his Marlboro Band appeared on campus in December.

Social Committee

The Social Committee, an off-spring of the Student Council, plans its activities to fulfill its purposes of coordinating student activities on campus.

The largest project they undertook each quarter was the completion of a social calendar. This calendar lists all times, locations, and leaders at all meetings and events which take place during the quarter.

This committee acts as an agent in arranging Saturday night dances. They were in charge of the sale of the Marterie tickets. They also sponsored Friday night movies each quarter.

The eight members of the Social Committee are elected from the residence halls.

Safety and Health Committee

The Safety and Health Committee is responsible for removing all hazards which are of potential danger to campus residents.

The health and safety of the dormitory students are guarded by the regular checking of all fire alarms and other facilities and by seeing that all students understand the various safety procedures.

All campus students are asked to help this group by reporting any existing situations which could endanger the student body.

The group, upon receiving this information, then acts and plans ways to correct the improper conditions.

This committee is composed of the fire marshals from each dormitory.

Residence Halls Standards and Regulations Committee

The Standards and Regulations Committee is composed of representatives from each residence hall which are appointed by the House Council President and House Director.

The committee makes the rules and regulations to maintain high standards and a spirit of harmony and cooperation among all dormitory students.

The opinions and desires of the dormitory students are expressed in the administration of the residence halls through the efforts of the Standards and Regulations Committee.

This group accepts the responsibility of making rules and standards which the students feel must be achieved to maintain the existence of a cooperative spirit among the campus citizens.

Members of the dormitory participated in serenading the women's dorms with Christmas carols. The annual Christmas party climaxed the holiday festivities.

The men of Cone always seem to be the first to decorate their dorm at both Christmas time and at Homecoming.

As in previous years, Cone Hall, under the leadership of the council, held an open house for the June graduates and their parents.

Veazey Hall House Council

The responsibility of creating the proper rules to fit the demands of the most modern and newest dorm on campus fell into the hands of this year's Veazey Hall House Council.

Under the leadership of the council, the house funds were carefully budgeted so as to buy such supplies for the dorm as magazine and newspaper subscriptions and Christmas decorations.

Activities carried out in the dorm this year included a Christmas party and Exam "Party-Break," a coffee honoring President Henderson, an open house, and a party given for the graduating seniors by the juniors.

Lewis Hall House Council

At its weekly meetings, the House Council of Lewis Hall effected ways of governing the dormitory to make it suitable for living and studying.

During the winter quarter, a unique idea was initiated by this dorm. A morning coffee was held.

Another activity of the dorm was a very successful Christmas party. Just as the other residence halls students, Lewis hall girls contributed to the Empty Stocking Fund.

Three major projects were a part of the council's activities this year. A Christmas party, a formal tea and a Saturday night dance were sponsored by Deal Hall.

The House Council girls were responsible for the moral behavior of the residents. With their advisor, House Director Mrs. Jackson, the girls on the council were sometimes called upon to make judgments, which they hoped to be fair and just, of their fellow students.

Sanford Hall House Council

Sanford Hall House Council set the policies to be observed by the two hundred and fifty-two residents of that dormitory.

The task and responsibilities of the council members were large in that this residence hall houses both freshmen and sophomores.

Their activities this year included: sponsoring a Saturday night dance, giving a donation to the Empty Stocking Fund, and planning a Christmas party.

The House Council members were elected by the hall residents and they, in cooperation with the house director and dorm assistants, attempted to establish an atmosphere of cooperation among the boys.

This group, organized three years ago, served to set up a system of uniform government in both Cone and Sanford Halls.

These men met to share ideas and discuss problems which arose in the governing of their respective residence halls.

The purpose of this group was to establish a peaceful and cooperative relationship among all the residents of the men's dorms on the campus.

The Women's Residence Halls Committee was composed of the presidents of the house councils of Veazey, Lewis, Deal, and Anderson Halls.

These young women discussed ideas which were suggested in their respective councils and which they believed could be used successfully in another dormitory.

It endeavors to build a bridge between the finest materials that Catholic wisdom provides and the riches of a secular, educational world.

A portion of the funds for this organization was raised through "Car Washes."

The B.S.U. Choir sang at the Young-Living Sunrise Services held at the President's home.

Alpha Gamma Pi

Induction into the fraternity also took place during spring quarter.

Captain Clyde Miller, at right, picks up a few pitching hints from J. I. Clements, coach of the Eagle Baseballers.

The Georgia Southern Eagles Baseball Team wound up the 1961 schedule with an overall record of 15 wins against 11 losses.

The big spark in the hitting attack was furnished by fleet-footed centerfielder J. E. Rowe, who led the Eagles in hitting along with freshman outfielder Mike Keasler. Both Rowe and Keasler belted the ball at .354 clip.

The Eagle pitching was taken care of for the most part by four members of the staff. Tracy Rivers, Ed "Doc" Brown, Clyde Miller and Larry Crouch compiled among them a record of 15 wins to 7 setbacks.

Tracy Rivers led the staff as he collected six wins while losing three games. He was followed closely by Doc Brown who posted a 5-3 record. Brown led the Eagle hurlers in earned runs allowed as he racked up an earned run average of 2.11.

Clyde Miller, who was the big winner for the Eagles last year, posted a record 2-0. These victories added to nine straight wins last year gave Miller a school record of eleven consecutive wins.

For the fans that like to see spectacular fielding plays, Charlie Tarpley provided plenty of thrills around the first base side of the infield. Tarpley handled over 130 chances before he made an error against Davidson.

He then went on to handle a total of 193 chances with only one error. He was closely followed by Tommy Howland, the big Eagle backstop. Howland accepted 200 chances with only five miscues to post an average of .977. Rowe, an outfielder, handled 50 chances without an error to field 1.000.

Georgia Southern tied a school record by picking off 85 rebounds as it frolicked to a 104-63 basketball victory over Rollins College of Winter Park, Fla.

GSC CAGERS ROMP OVER CUMBERLAND

Georgia Southern, outclassed by hot shooting Cumberland of Kentucky in the first half, switched its defense after intermission and romped to an 80-59 victory. Southern's two big scorers were Fran Florian with 29 and Bill Pickens with 20. David Patton had 12 and E. G. Meybohm 11.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN TOPPED BY DAVIDSON

Georgia Southern suffered an 84-64 defeat at the hands of Davidson College. The Eagles built a small lead in the first half, but soon found the going rough and were behind with 10 minutes left. The Eagles never regained the lead and trailed 39-31 at halftime.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN SINKS OGLETHORPE

Georgia Southern trapped Oglethorpe in a full court press, stalling the Petrel "wheel Offense" for a 68-66 win. It was only the second loss for the high-flying Petrels. Leading the Southern surge was Fran Florian who scored 25 points and Bill Pickens with 24 points.

CRUSADERS NIP EAGLES

Two free throws by reserve Bill Ficke with 19 seconds remaining gave Belmont Abbey a 64-63 victory over Georgia Southern in a rough and tumble battle. Fran Florian chunked in 24 markers, Bill Pickens got 11 and John Burton 12 for the Eagles.

GSC TOPS PIKEVILLE BY 82-68

The Georgia Southern Eagles, coming from behind a 41-37 halftime deficit, held the Pikeville College Bears to only 27 points in the second half while scoring 45 to take an 82-68 victory. High men for the Eagles were Fran Florian and Bill Pickens with 25 points each. David Patton tossed in 15.

SOUTHERN RALLIES TO TRIM BELMONT

Georgia Southern finished its home season with a thrilling 69-63 victory over Belmont Abbey's Crusaders. Fran Florian and Bill Pickens topped the Eagle attack with 17 points each and David Patton netted 16, the last three of free throws to ice the win.

EAGLES EDGE MERCER

The Georgia Southern College Eagles battled from behind and then fought off a Mercer comeback to edge the Bears, 67-63, in a hotly contested game at Porter Gymnasium. Fran Florian and Bill Pickens collected 22 and 20 points respectively, to carry the Eagles to the win.

DOLPHINS NOT EAGLE-BAIT IN FINALE

Florian, Pickens and Burton all hit in double figures against the Jacksonville Dolphins, but to no avail. In the final game of the season, Jax U's Roger Strickland blistered the nets to pace his comrades to a 118-102 victory over the Eagles.

The Intramural program offered activity to all students in the various phases of sports events.

All men and women students are assigned to teams which are scheduled in afternoon and evening competition. The IM program has a point system which determines champions in each sport during the year.

One of the events this year in intramurals was the designation of athletics of the week. Richard J. Stebbins is the director of the Intramural program.

Named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, these persons were publicly recognized for their contributions to this institution.

Following nomination by the student body and faculty members, the selection is decided by the Georgia Southern Honors Committee.

This committee considers the following qualities in making their decision: the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise to future usefulness.

Alma Mater

Down among the murmuring pine trees
Where old nature smiles,
GSC holds up a standard
Known for miles and miles.

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward,
Ne'er her standard fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
GSC, All Hail.

From the blue and broad Atlantic,
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting far GSC's Spirit
May she ever grow.

The Final Word

The faces you see on this page represent all of you. You are the ones for whom this Reflector was published. You are the ones whom we will look to for criticism, either good or bad.

This is being written just before the last copy pages will leave the campus. After nine months of diligent work, we are happy to see them leave our hands. It has been difficult putting these pages together—getting pictures, copy, cutlines, etc. But it has been fun. It's an experience we'll never quite forget.

Many, many persons are responsible for getting out the college yearbook. If we didn't express our appreciation, the annual wouldn't be complete.

It seemed as though there was a problem or an emergency each day that passed in the development of the Reflector. However small and insignificant they were, Ric Mandes, our advisor, always had time to listen to us and he was ready with the right solutions.

Ed Jones of Taylor Publishing Company journeyed here many times to help us over technical hurdles. (It's quite possible that a tire path is worn on the route between here and Atlanta.)

To the administrative, faculty and staff members we certainly want to say thanks. They have put up with our interruptions during busy days to take pictures or to check on the name or fact.

It is our hope that each and everyone of you will be satisfied with The 1962 Reflector, for everyone who is pictured in the book put forth effort to make it what it is.
