College of Business Internship Spotlight – Kelsey Monaghan

January 2, 2018

Our College of Business students often seek internship opportunities during their junior and/or senior years of study. Internships provide our students with the opportunity to gain hands-on experience, while giving the employer an opportunity to evaluate an intern's skills, work ethic and cultural assimilation before incurring the expense of hiring the employee full time. Many of our student interns go on to work full time for the companies with which they completed an internship.

If you are interested in hosting a Georgia Southern business student as an intern, please contact Jim Davis at jimdavis@georgiasouthern.edu.

Intern Responsibilities

Prepared and completed corporate, partnership, and personal tax returns through online tax software, GoSystems and ProSystems, using documents that were provided by the client such as K-1s, 1099s, and charitable donation confirmations.

ate for what's next

My favorite part of the internship was...

"being treated equal with the staff.
From my first week of work,

I was given the same responsibilities an associate would receive.

The partners and staff were eager to share their knowledge and always willing to help guide me in the right direction with my work."

Experience matters because...

"in the accounting field, the guidance we give to one client is applicable to many others.

With the diversity of client industries such as real estate, medical practices, or even technological divisions, we must step out of our own knowledge foundations in accounting to better understand our clients and ultimately help the client be successful in their next business endeavor."
