Georgia Southern looks to rebound at home against Western Michigan on Saturday, Sept. 12. Eagles fans are encouraged to show their True Blue Spirit this week as part of "Paint the Town Blue." The week-long event is designed to get all of Statesboro involved in the celebration of the beginning of the 2015 football season and for businesses, campus departments and members of the community
Anthony Waters to chair 42nd annual ‘A Day for Southern’ campaign

Georgia Southern alumnus Anthony Waters, Bulloch County native and familiar name in the community, will serve as the community chair of the University’s 42nd annual community celebration of A Day for Southern on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

In 1982, Waters graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration in accounting, and was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity as a student. Prior to serving as chair of A Day for Southern, Waters served as a past member of the Georgia Southern University Foundation. Waters and his wife, Sally, have passed on their dedication to Georgia Southern to their children, Loy and Lee, who are currently students at the University.

Georgia Southern hosts award-winning author Amanda Ward on Sept. 10

Award-winning author Amanda Ward will read from her newest book The Same Sky on Sept. 10 from 6:30–7:30 p.m. in the College of Business Administration (COBA) building, Room 1124.
Inspired by real, personal interviews with sheltered children fighting to cross into the United States to find their loved ones, The Same Sky presents an inspiring story of strength, courage and acceptance. The book was published in January and has already earned several accolades including one of the “Most Anticipated Books of 2015” and “Book of the Week” by People Magazine.

The event is free and open to the public. The event is sponsored by the Department of Writing & Linguistics and by the Harbuck Memorial Scholarship.

Tenth Annual Harbuck Award Ceremony on Sept. 11

The 10th Annual Harbuck Award Ceremony will take place Friday, Sept. 11, at 6:30 p.m. in COBA, Room 1124. Nominees, finalists and the winner of the annual Harbuck Memorial Scholarship will read from their entries, which were judged by writer Amanda Ward. A catered reception will follow.
