Dining Commons sees a reduction in food waste as food waste project continues

Auxiliary Services has seen a reduction in food waste this semester as a part of a food waste project to help students make better dining decisions as well as limit the Dining Commons' overall waste.

In Fall 2017, the Center for Sustainability approved a $26,470 grant proposal to evaluate the amount of food waste that Georgia Southern University dining halls produce as well as come up with intervention strategies to help lower food waste amounts. Full Story

Georgia Southern biology faculty creates guppy kits to teach evolution

Faculty members of the Georgia Southern University Biology department created a basic kit using guppy fish to teach grade school students about evolution.

Emily Kane, Ph.D., assistant biology professor, was influenced to create the kit after reviewing surveys showing that students have poor understanding of evolution. With help from her fellow colleagues, the idea of self-guided guppy kits that are easy to use became a reality. Full Story

Sun Belt Player of the Week

Georgia Southern catcher Logan Harrell has been named the Sun Belt Player of the Week after she helped the Eagles go 4-1 and bolster their overall record to 19-8.

The junior, who hails from Pembroke, hit .529 during the span while tearing the cover off of the ball. Harrell hit launched two home runs and pushed across six RBIs, only adding to what has been an impressive 2018 campaign. Full Story
