Savannah Scottish Rite contributes to the RiteCare Center

December 7, 2022

The Scottish Rite of Savannah recently donated more than $7,000 to Georgia Southern University's RiteCare Center (RCC) for Communication Disorders. Scottish Rite of Savannah Chairman Jim Arnold presented a check to staff and students at the RCC this past October. The money provided offers the graduate student clinicians access to new therapeutic and diagnostic materials. These new materials will allow student clinicians to gain experience administering evaluations and following various evidence-based therapy techniques protocols that they will encounter in their careers. These materials further support RCC's mission by offering up-to-date materials to the clients RCC serves.
