Sept. 8, 2021

Get vaccinated, get rewarded!

Graduate student in the Master of Public Health program Sierra Cox wins first weekly prize drawing.

Men's soccer collects 300th program victory with win over Wofford.

New parental leave policy approved.

Pay codes available for new vaccine administrative leave.

Register your department, office or student organization for 'Celebrate Together' event by Sept. 19.

Maximize your USG well-being credit by getting a COVID-19 vaccine.

This entire message may not display in your email body. Remember to click “View entire message” at the bottom of your email screen.

Wings Up, Sleeves Up! What's your vax story?

Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Computing programs receive reaccreditation.

Celebrate Hispanic and Latinx Heritage Month.

Volleyball, men's and women's soccer at home this weekend.

Professional Development: Legal Affairs Boot Camp sessions.

Foundations of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion training on Armstrong Campus Sept. 21 at 10 a.m.

Robert Strozier Faculty Lecture Series with Annie Mendenhall, Ph.D.

Foundations of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion training on Statesboro Campus Sept. 22 at 1 p.m.

Dates and times for Fall 2021 Commencement ceremonies announced.

Register for the 2021 USG Virtual Suicide Prevention Conference.

In case you missed it

In the news

In case you missed it: Britton Williams honored by Sun Belt.

GSU offering incentives to students to get vaccinated — WTOC.

Georgia Southern and South University collaborate to launch pharmacy careers faster, more affordably — All on Georgia.

STEAM standout earns $25,000 scholarship, carries forward her abuelo’s legacy as the family’s next engineer — U.K. Business Fast.

Georgia Southern expands Veteran Student Success Program with U.S. Department of Education Grant — Savannah CEO.

Georgia Southern University’s Business Innovation Group launches BIGx Accelerator — Savannah CEO.

Five Black faculty members who are taking on new assignments in higher education — Journal of Blacks in Higher Education.

Have a story, event or achievement idea for inclusion in Your Midweek Memo? Submit ideas for consideration to news@georgiasouthern.edu by Mondays at noon.