STATESBORO, Ga. – The Coca-Cola “Share a Coke” Summer Tour will return to Georgia Southern University this August. This is the second year Auxiliary Services has teamed up with the brand to host this event.

“Share a Coke” will take place in front of the Dining Commons on Monday, August 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Each student will have the opportunity to receive two custom, personalized mini-cans of Coca-Cola. The campaign encourages students to keep one and share the second can to spread smiles.

“We’re thrilled to welcome the ‘Share a Coke’ Tour back to Georgia Southern,” said Michael Murphy, Creative Production Manager of Auxiliary Services, “After last year’s overwhelming enthusiasm from students, we can’t wait to share this experience once again.”

The “Share a Coke” event includes Coca-Cola, Coke Zero and Diet Coke mini-can customization, music and entertainment, a selfie photo station and more activities. To find out more about the tour, visit www.shareacoke.com. Students are reminded that only legal names are to be printed on each personal can.
