Donuts with the Dean

January 27, 2012

Event for Students, Faculty & Staff

College of Education Dean Thomas Koballa wants education students, faculty and staff to have an opportunity to meet with him informally, so he's launching the first in a series of Donuts with the Dean events. "The College of Education is like no other college on campus. Because we're all focused on teaching, leading and serving in the broad field of education, we're more like family than an institution," Dean Koballa said. "These events are designed to be informal times when students, faculty and staff can talk with me and we can get to know each other better," Koballa continued.

The first event is scheduled for Thursday, February 2, from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., in the lobby outside the Instructional Resources Center on the second floor. Pictured is Dean Thomas Koballa.
