JUST LOOK AT THE FACES . . .
THEY TELL THE STORY
IT DOESN'T REQUIRE COMPLICATED
VERSE OR LENGTHY EXPLANATIONS
TO EXPLAIN WHAT IS SAID
THROUGH AN EXPRESSION.

SOME OF US ARE STRIVING AND ACHIEVING AND CATCHING A REFLECTION IN THE MIRROR
THAT WE THINK IS GOOD—AND SURPRISING OURSELVES
AT OUR OWN WORTH.

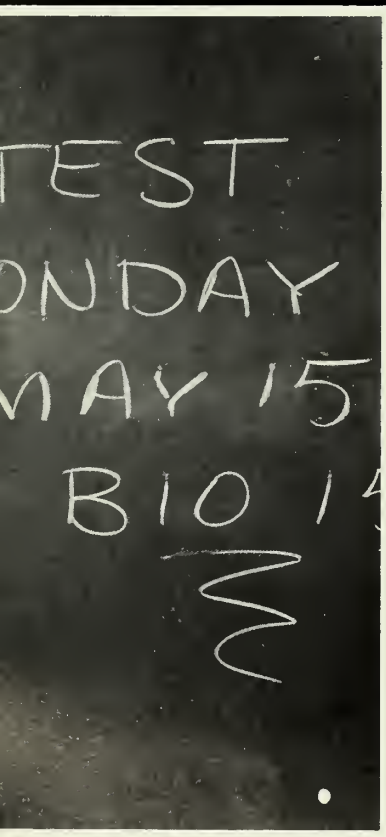

SOME OF US ARE COMPETING AND HURTING
AND FINDING THAT LAST OUNCE OF STRENGTH THAT COMES AFTER
EVERYTHING SHOULD BE GONE

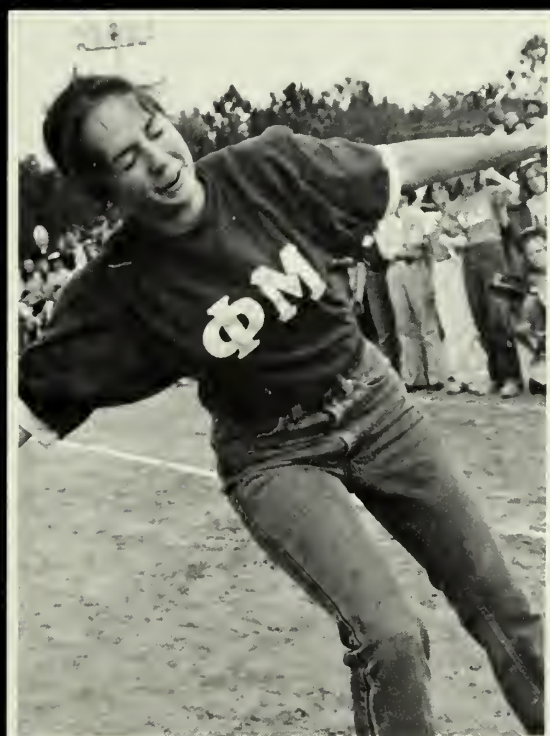

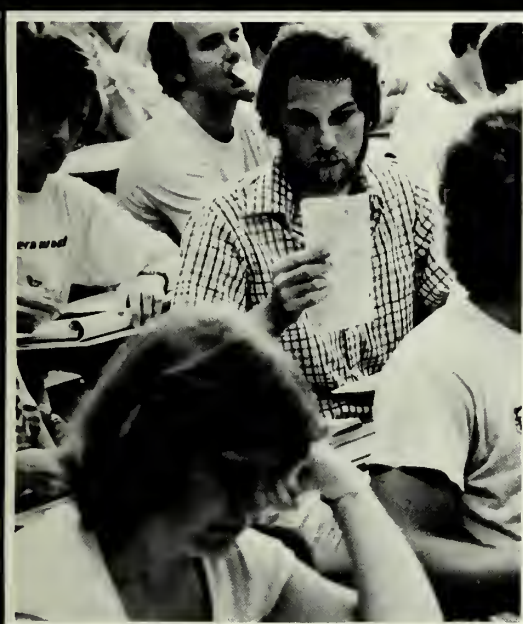

SOME OF US AIN'T DOING NOTHING
—LEAST NOT RIGHT NOW.
SOME OF US ARE LOVING AND DREAMING
AND FORGETTING EVERYTHING.
IT'S TOO WARM AND SUNNY
AND JUST PLAIN SOUTHERN OF A DAY
TO THINK ABOUT ANYTHING
BUT NOTHING.

SOME OF US ARE BROODING
AND SILENT AND MANY TIMES CONFUSED
(TELL ME, WHAT AM I DOING HERE ANYWAY?)
AND WHY DO TESTS ALWAYS COME ON MONDAYS?

SOME OF US ARE QUESTIONING
AND SEARCHING AND DOUBTING;
AND THEN SMILING AT THE FACT THAT WE FOUND OURSELVES SO AWESOME.

SOME OF US ARE TEACHING
AND LEARNING
AND ENJOYING
MUCH MORE THAN JUST MINUTES.

ALL OF US ARE DOING SOMETHING,
TRYING TO MAKE SOME SENSE
OUT OF WHAT WE'RE MOVING TOWARD AND YET EXPERIENCING THE PRESENT.

WHO ARE WE, THESE FACES?
WE WERE ALL AT GEORGIA SOUTHERN TOGETHER.

RUSH:

A Crowding Of People To One Place; Unusual Demand Or Activity.

—Webster

Weeks of exhaustive planning, decorating, and rehearsing were culminated September 8-14 as Georgia Southern's eight national sororities welcomed over 200 girls to 1977 Fall Rush Week.

The week was an introduction to Greek Life for the Rushees. Open houses, teas, skits, and parties brought difficult decisions and anxious hours as Rushees awaited Bid Day, September 14.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD

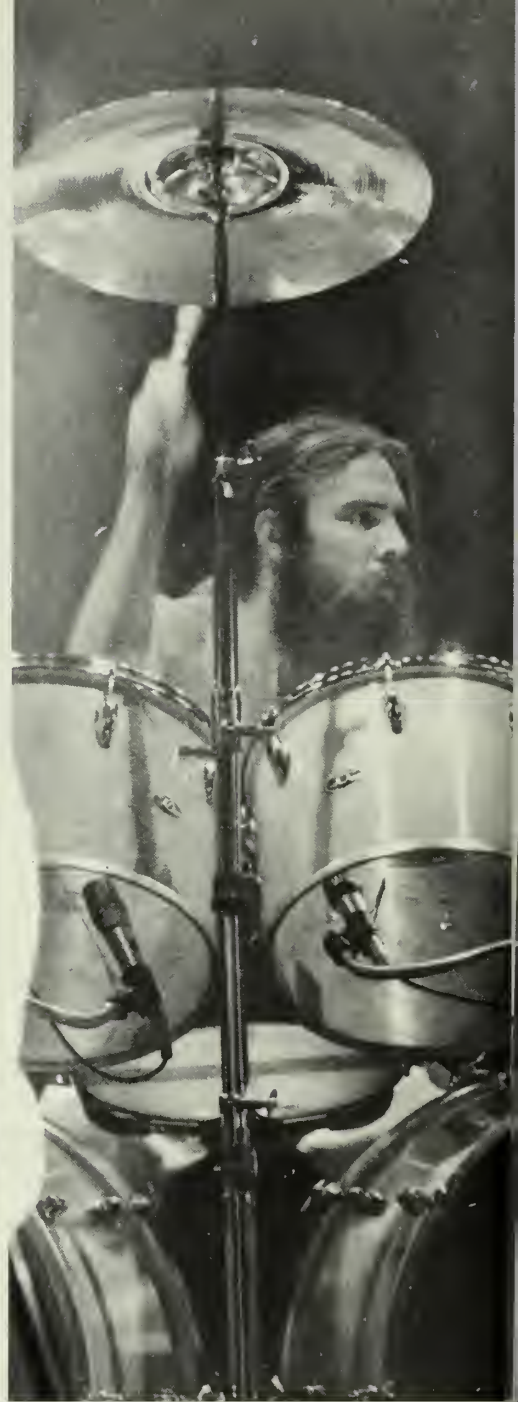

Georgia Southern rock fans turned out in record number on October 13 to hear the nations most popular proponent of "Southern Rock" . . . Lynyrd Skynyrd. Sponsored by the Student Union Board (SUB), the Lynyrd Skynyrd concert proved to be the most successful concert in Georgia Southern history, with ticket receipts totaling over $21,000.00.

As over 4,500 fans screamed their approval, Lynyrd Skynyrd performed one high energy number after another. "Sweet Home Alabama", an obvious crowd favorite, was followed by "Gimme 3 Steps" and "They Call Me The Breeze." The band played "Crossroads" then ended their performance with their classical guitar ramp, "Freebird."

Tragedy struck the band only one week after their performance here. En route from Greenville, S.C. to a concert date at Louisiana State University, the twin engine plane in which they were traveling crashed, resulting in the death of the lead singer Ronnie Van Zant, guitarist Steve Gaines, and background vocalist, Cassie Gaines.

The Georgia Southern concert opened the band's four month tour, ironically named the Tour Of The Survivors, making Georgia Southern the last college to see Lynyrd Skynyrd perform.

Come To The Cabaret!

Thursday evening, October 20, an estimated crowd of 800 people gathered in McCroan Auditorium to await the opening curtains of "Cabaret." The Broadway musical, performed by members of On The Aisle, Inc., was the first in a series of Fall quarter productions by the Campus Life Enrichment Committee (CLEC).

The musical comedy centered on the romance and disillusionment of two couples, one young and one old, in Berlin of 1929. As the rise of the Nazi Third Reich made Berlin an increasingly harsh and bitter place to live, the emcee at the cabaret reflected a very cynical humor laughing at the politics and social standards of the time.

Tractorcade Gains National Attention

A massive rally and tractorcade was held in Statesboro in order to focus state and national attention on the plight of the farmer who was caught in a squeeze between falling commodity prices and rising production costs.

The November 4, tractorcade was the biggest demonstration of farmer dissatisfaction ever in south Georgia, and the estimated ten mile line of farm machinery was meant to illustrate demands for higher product prices.

On the courthouse square at 11:15 a.m. the first tractor of the day was cheered. For the next hour and 35 minutes, a crowd of approximately 6,000 watched as the tractors rolled by in single file, moving slowly up Main St.

And the tractors kept coming. There were vintage tractors, large tractors, small tractors and farm machines which varied from a "Red Belly" Ford to a Red, White and Blue farm rig entitled Spirit of '76. The predominate vehicles in procession were the large farm rigs - the ones whose cost and operating expense was partially responsible for the farmer's money squeeze.

Hand-sketched signs were affixed to the tractors. These varied from a poke at President Carter - "If Jimmy keeps being a dilly, I'm going to buy myself a case of Billy" - to a suggestion on foreign policy - "Feed America First, the World Next."

And, many signs hit at the farmer's chief complaint: "We Don't Want Charity, We want Parity." Some warned "Starve the farmer, starve yourself." And, one offered a prayer, "God help us, because Washington won't."

The tractorcade continued through downtown Statesboro, and turned right on U.S. Hwy 80 East.

The exact number of farm vehicles involved in the massive rally varied from one source to another. Two reliable sources said they had counted tractors. One gave a figure of about 850 while the second said it was 950. City Councilman Lewis "Bo" Hook, chairman of the police committee, estimated over 2,000 farm vehicles paraded, while Larry Fields, president of the Georgia Young Farmers Association and a prime mover in the tractorcade, said the figure was over 3,000.

Around Campus In 80 Ways

Ghosts, Goblins, and Ghoulies
Prowl GSC's Campus

For the seventh consecutive year, Georgia Southern's Student Recreation and Park Society sponsored the Haunted House for GSC students as well as community participants. Opening on October 27, the Haunted House provided one scare after another until its closing on Halloween night. Unseasonably cold weather and icy rains didn't dampen the "spirits" in the House, nor did they dampen the spirits of the hundreds of participants who entered the House for the scare of their lives, making this another successful year for the student entertainers.

Of course, "Spook Night" would not be complete without the usual entourage of strangely clothed trick-or-treaters. On Monday night, October 31, approximately 100 little ghosts, goblins and ghoulies descended on Georgia Southern dormitories for the annual Afro-American Club Halloween Party. Co-sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, disadvantaged children from the Statesboro area were treated to candy, punch, and games as fortune tellers, clowns, and witches wandered among them adding to their excitement.

Halloween celebrations on campus continued as dorm dwellers hosted Halloween parties and carnivals, while others serenaded the campus with "pumpkin-carols".

Mickey Mouse, Charlie Chaplin, Batman and others made their appearances as various groups around the campus hosted masquerade parties to celebrate Halloween at GSC.

First Collegiate Production Of "The Removalist"

The first collegiate production ever of the play "The Removalist" was performed November 16-19 by GSC's Masquers.

According to Sugar Bear Bass, assistant director, the cast usually works harder on the fall show because of GSC's involvement in the American College Theatre Festival. Georgia Southern holds the record among small colleges and universities for being chosen to compete in the regional semifinals, a prelude to performance in the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Bob West, director of "The Removalist," said that this was "one of the most powerful pieces of theatre I've ever been involved with on this campus."

John Davidson Performed In Hanner

"I've been in a lot of places all over the world, but nowhere is as exciting as spending a night in Statesboro, Georgia," said John Davidson at the opening of his concert held in Hanner Fieldhouse November 11. This was the culmination of his stay on the GSC campus, during which he visited sorority lodges and Landrum Center. While at Landrum, Oliff Hall's director presented Davidson with a Detex to that dorm, "the key to more than 300 upperclass women." His remark about seeing people lying on the floor outside of the Landrum cafeteria, dying with ptomaine poison, drew understanding laughter from the students.

Davidson provided entertainment for the old and young alike with his singing. He sang a medley of fifties' songs along with his version of the popular songs "Daybreak," "I Like Dreaming," "Evergreen," "You and Me Ain't No Superstar," "Cat's in the Cradle," and his new hit "Everytime I Sing a Love Song." A medley of popular commercial tunes was his closing performance.

Prior to Davidson's appearance on stage, the Mac Frampton Triumvirate performed their arrangement of "Star Wars," "MacArthur Park," "Send in the Clowns," and "I Write the Songs."

This concert was jointly sponsored by the GSC Foundation and the Student Union Board.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN
HOMECOMING 1978
Southern Reunion

By 8:00 p.m. on Friday evening, January 27, the Hanner Fieldhouse was packed with a sellout crowd of over 5000. Fans rocked and rolled to the disco-jazz and Southern Rock as Atlanta Rhythm Section and Brick kicked off GSC's 1978 Homecoming festivities.

Brick, highly acclaimed as a foremost up and coming disco ensemble, treated the crowd with favorites including "Dusic" and "Dazz."

Atlantic Rhythm Section rocked onto the GSC stage playing such hits as "My Back is up Against the Wall", "Dog Days", "So Into You", and "Angel". Numerous cuts from their new album were introduced. After their second encore, ARS succumbed to the wishes of the Homecoming crowd, as they launched into their highly acclaimed favorite, "Doraville".

Saturday, January 28, was a day filled with many Homecoming activities, beginning with the parade at 10:00 a.m. "A Southern Reunion", this years Homecoming theme, was evident in the colorfully decorated floats and crazy cars. Clowns, animated characters, bands, and color guards contributed in making this one of the largest and most successful Georgia Southern Homecoming Parades in history.

The festivities continued into the afternoon with the annual CCC Bicycle Race around Sweetheart Circle. Dan Evatt took first place in the event with Ron Frost and Chris Novak following close behind.

By 3:00 p.m. the Fieldhouse was filled once again as fans watched the GSC Eagles fall prey to the Mercer Bears. Halftime activities highlighted the afternoon, however, as Debbie Harper was crowned Miss GSC Homecoming 1978.

A Junior, Exceptional Childhood Education major, sponsored by Gamma Beta Phi, she was escorted by Tim Amidon. Other finalists in the Queens Court included Donna Barfoot, Angel Bowen, Mitzi Neely, and Kim Patrick.

Saturday evening found students dancing to the rock and roll sounds of the Chevelles, packing the Williams Center, as Saturdays Homecoming activities drew to a close.

Alumni luncheons, receptions, and banquets filled Sunday afternoon. Special receptions in honor of GSC President-elect, Dr. Dale Lick, were among Sunday afternoon festivities, as GSC students, faculty and alumni enjoyed the closing activities of another Southern Reunion.

“In those vernal seasons of the year, when the air is calm and pleasant, it were an injury and sullenness against nature not to go out, and see her riches and partake in her rejoicing.”

—John Milton, 1644

Speakers

Students, faculty and local citizens had the opportunity to hear many speakers dealing with a variety of topics. Nikki Giovanni, poetess, spoke during Black History Week and is the author of, Black Feeling, Black Talk. James Dickey previewed his book, Deliverance. Trace Analysis was the topic of a talk by Dr. H. A. Flaschka of the Georgia Institute of Technology. Dr. Dale Lick spoke following his appointment as president. Regent Irwin Friedman made the address at the June graduation ceremony. Jessica Mitford was on tour promoting her latest book, A Fine Old Conflict.

CLEC Offered Program Variety

The October 20, performance of Cabaret was the first of several fall quarter productions provided through the College Life Enrichment Committee.

CLEC, directed by Gordon Alston, was also responsible for the fall quarter productions of the Oberlin Woodwind Quintet on November 15 and the New York Pro Arte Orchestra performance on November 22, 1977.

A unique presentation of mime and movement kicked off winter quarter productions on January 17, 1978. Renowned as foremost artists in the theater's silent world, Bert Houle and Sophie Wibaux blended outward expertise with inner feeling when they presented the artistic mime program.

On January 26 CLEC hosted the Eastern Brass Quintet for both a concert and a free workshop for interested students. The Eastern Brass Quintet showed their musical virtuosity and polished showmanship in a program that included a treasury of music from Renaissance to contemporary composed for two trumpets, French horn, trombone and the tuba.

The Edith Stephen Dance Company dazzled GSC students on February 9 in McCroan auditorium. The dancers displayed emotion through the use of spontaneous movements within a certain amount of guidelines.

The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater presented "La Boheme" on March 7 as one of the last programs to be presented by the College Life Enrichment Committee.

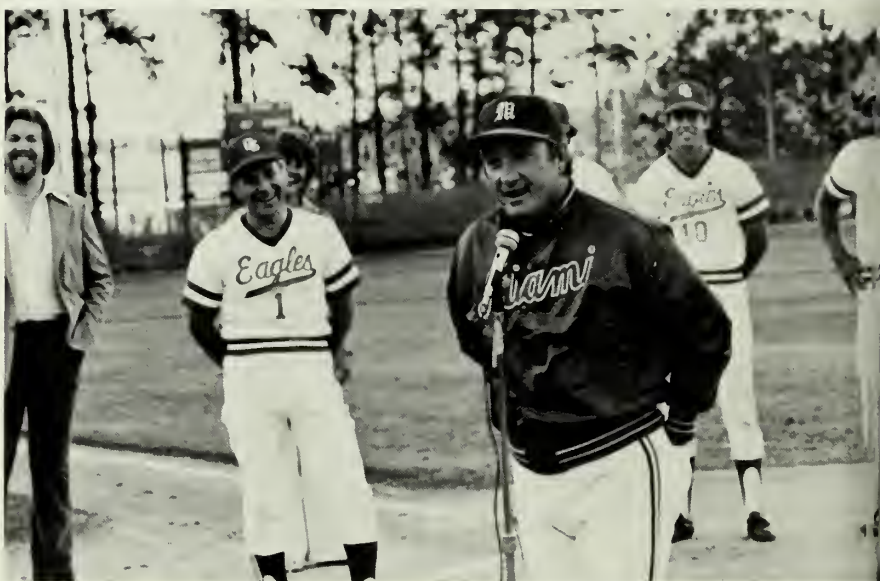

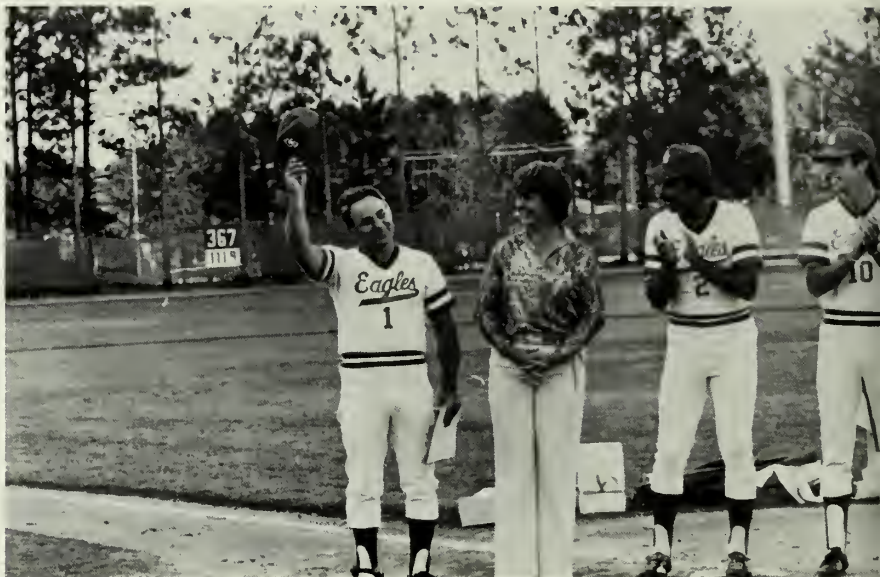

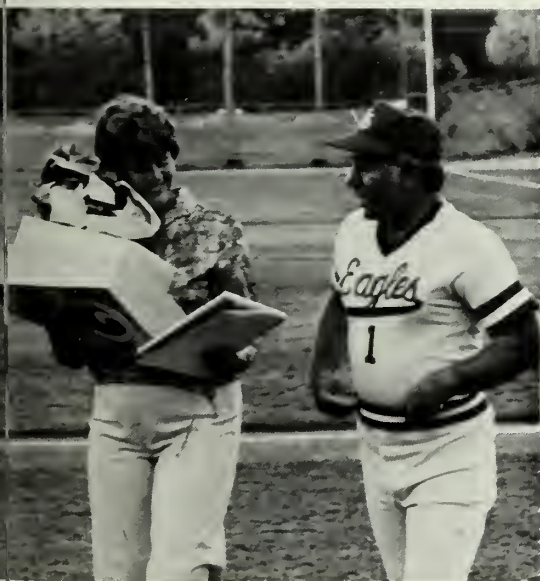

Stallings Honored For 500th Victory

Head baseball coach Jack Stallings won his 500th career victory in the first game of an April 29 double header against Mercer of Atlanta. The win was also his 100th at Georgia Southern. Coach Stallings was honored between the games of the double header by being presented a home plate mounted on a plaque, a baseball, and a cake.

The GSC Eagles, Students, Faculty, and citizens of Statesboro further honored Stallings as May 10, 1978 was declared Jack Stallings Day. A ceremony proclaiming this honor included many gifts to Stallings as well as a plaque from the mayor of Statesboro.

Miss G.S.C. 1978- Carla McMillan

Another GSC tradition was fulfilled on Saturday evening, April 22 as twenty-one girls competed for the title of Miss GSC. Carla McMillan, a freshman from Millen, Ga, was crowned queen for 1978. Carla* will represent Ga. Southern at the Miss Georgia pageant later in the year.

Runner up was Nan Jones. Talent competition winner was Pat Kelly, and swim suit competition winner was Mary Franklin Cousins.

*Sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

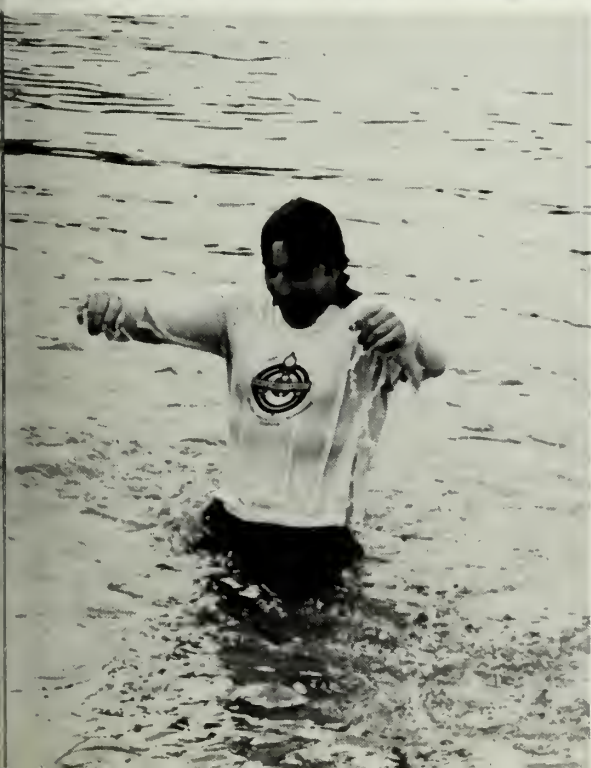

"I'D PICK MORE DAISIES"

If I had my life to live over, I would relax more. I wouldn't take so many things so seriously. I would take more chances. I would climb more mountains and swim more rivers.

I have been one of those persons who never goes anywhere without a thermometer, a hot-water bottle, a raincoat and a parachute. Not next time! I'd start barefooted earlier in the spring and stay that way later in the fall. I wouldn't make such good grades unless I enjoyed working for them. I'd go to more dances. I'd ride on more merry-go-rounds. I'd pick more daisies

—Frank Dickey

Over 400 Students Honored

"I believe the purpose of a college is to educate a student to the fullest extent of his ability," said Dr. Perry Cochran, 1977 Professor of the Year and keynote speaker of Honors Day Convocation held Monday May 8 in McCroan Auditorium.

A total of 409 students were officially honored for scholastic ability and their leadership and unselfish service to GSC and the community.

Dr. Samuel G. Riley III, associate professor of journalism, was named 1978 Professor of the Year by Gamma Beta Phi. Dr. Riley has been a member of the GSC faculty since 1974. He received his B.A. degree from Davidson College in 1961. He did his graduate work at the University of North Carolina, receiving his M.B.A. degree in 1962 and his doctorate in 1970.

Dr. Riley, who heads the journalism program at GSC, is widely published in newspapers and magazines.

My Three Angels

The week of May 10-13 found the Williams Center with some unusual guests for dinner as the GSC Masquers presented their Spring Quarter dinner theater production of "My Three Angels". This old Humphrey Bogart film, written by Sam and Bella Spewack, casts three convict trustees as the angels in a comedy in which each character is a character indeed.

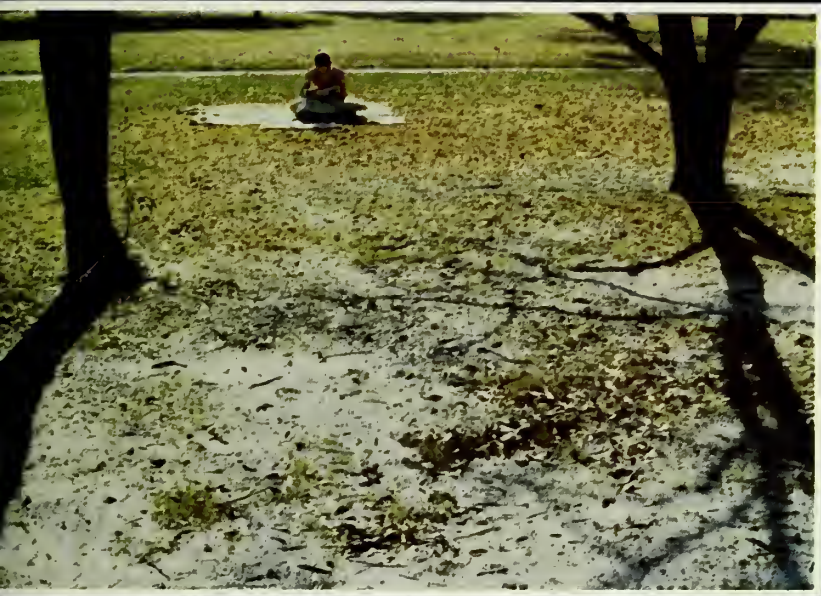

The forgivable criminal backgrounds of the three "angels" suit them for their various roles. Clearly victims of the letter of the law, they are exonerated by serving its spirit in the play.

A Panama Production

Jimmy Carter's "Week of Panama" was the biggest diplomatic extravaganza Washington had seen in years. From Canada and all over Latin America, presidents, prime ministers and ambassadors from every nation in the Western hemisphere gathered in Panama City for the signing of the canal treaty. And if Carter loses in his bid to win re-election in the Senate, he might find his hands tied by Congress in some or all of those initiatives. Despite the festivities in Panama City, the

Greek Week

1978 Greek Week was held May 1-6 with a full week of activities, and games as GSC's fraternities and sororities got together for a little friendly competition and a lot of fun. Kicking off the week-long activities was the crowning of Greek God and Goddess, Mike Ramsey, a Kappa Sigma pledge and Terry Morrisett, a Sigma Pi Little Sister. Trophies and plaques were awarded throughout the week to the winners of such events as bowling, swimming, tennis, beer chugging and Greek Sing. Highlighting the week was the announcement of Greek Woman of the Year, Sally Collins, representing Delta Zeta, and Greek Man of the Year, represented Delta Chi. A full day of tug-of-war, chariot races, relays and other games on Saturday ended another successful and fun filled Greek week.

Just Bring Your Feet— Walk-Jog-Run-A-Thon

With the first warm days of Spring, dozens of joggers began lining the campus' roads each day—braving the humidity and dodging the cars. To encourage students and faculty to start a jogging program for their health and physical fitness, the animal physiology class under the direction of Dr. Donald Olewine, sponsored a Walk-Jog-Run-a-Thon on Saturday, May 20. This event initiated three new jogging courses of 1½, 3, and 6 mile lengths around the campus. Several participants received ribbons, congratulations, and a feeling of self-accomplishment after successfully completing the course.

ORGANIZATIONAL FAIR

Students Learn of Activities Offered on GSC Campus

The fourth annual Student Organizational Fair was held October 6, 1977 in front of the Landrum Center for all students to discover the membership requirements and activities available in each organization.

Each organization presented displays of past accomplishments and present involvements and goals.

Representatives were present to answer any questions a student might have concerning their organization.

Free cokes and other refreshments were available to students attending the fair. Drawings were held and prizes included GSC concert and movie passes were given away.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERIOR DESIGN

ASID Members Go To Atlanta

Monthly meetings were held for Interior Design majors who were interested in advancing value, meaning, and skill to their art. A state-wide conference was held in Atlanta in January in which members from GSC attended.

Dr. Bak's slide show was one of the outstanding programs of the year. He spoke to the group on design and stained glass windows. Participation in the GSC Organizational Fair in the fall proved successful.

ART LEAGUE Students Enthused With Club

The Second annual Juried Student Art Show was held March 7-26 and was sponsored by the Art League of Georgia Southern. Works entered were divided into seven categories and were judged by Jim Edwards of the University of South Carolina. Only selected pieces are displayed because of the limit on space.

Members attended the annual College Art Association of America Conference in New York City January 24-28. It was primarily a job conference for graduate students and was broken down into historical and studio art sessions. The Conference rotated between five cities including New York, Chicago, Washington, D.C. and Detroit.

Working as Co-sponsor with art department, the league has brought in several touring shows. It is open to all students interested in the arts.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA
'Tom Sawyer'
Presented Here

"Tom Sawyer" was presented at GSC by Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary theatre fraternity. Around 4,000 students from elementary schools of Bulloch and several surrounding counties attended.

"Approximately $1,000 collected from the performance was offered as scholarships to participants in GSC's theatre department," said Dr. Richard Johnson, professor of speech and drama. "The profits received from the plays enable the fraternity to give benefits to the students."

Prior to the production members of the cast went to various schools and performed scenes from the play to promote interest.

Alpha Psi Omega is a national dramatics honorary fraternity established to advance the theatre arts as part of the culture. Membership is based on points earned over a minimum of two years.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

"Little Red Riding Hood"

Proves a Success

The play, "Little Red Riding Hood," was presented by members of Delta Phi Alpha honor society. They performed it once at the October Festival in Helen, Georgia, and again at the Foreign Language Christmas party.

This group consisted of students of the German Language who maintained at least a B-overall average. One of the highlights of the year was gathering every Monday at noon around the German Luncheon table.

GEOLOGY CLUB
Field Trip To Graves Mountains Is Successful

A very active year included an award received for their exhibit at the Ogeechee Fair. In conjunction with the Department of Geology, they hosted one of their most successful field trips to Graves Mountains.

The Department, Club, and Museum planned a field trip to a vertebrate locality near Savannah. This outing was planned for Spring quarter.

GSC BAND

Music Filled the Hall In Concert

The Recital Hall of the Foy Fine Arts Building filled with music as the GSC Band presented its concerts throughout the year. Programs consisted of a variety of music including marches, transcriptions, show tunes, and original works for the band.

Auditions are open to anyone interested in playing an instrument in the band. Besides regular concerts, they play in community activities and at some GSC basketball games.

GSC CHORUS

Concert Performances Held Quarterly at GSC

Toward the end of each academic Quarter, the chorus performed selections of music in the Foy Fine Arts Recital Hall. Under the direction of Dr. David Mathew, concert music was varied, representing all periods and styles of the art.

The chorus is open, by audition, to any GSC student. During the year, emphases was placed on high standard of performance and having fun through music.

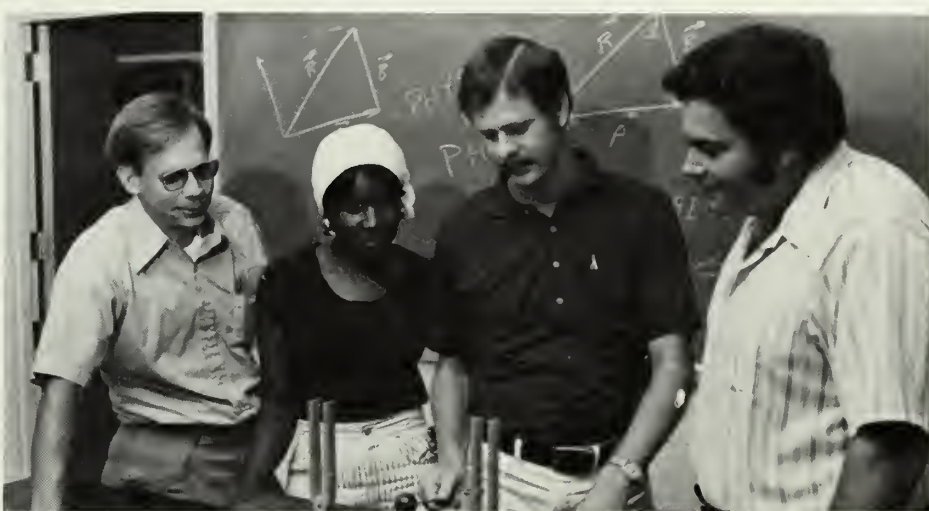

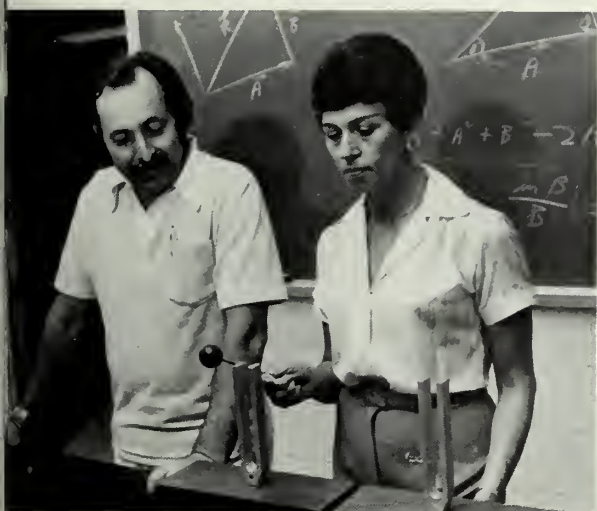

SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS

Members Explored Realm Of Physics

The Society of Physics Students is a national society designed explicitly for any student with a definite interest in physics.

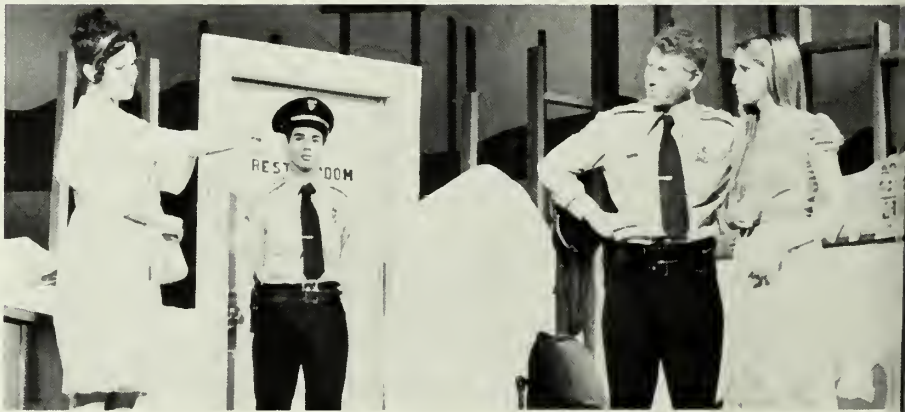

MASQUERS

"The Removalists" Began Year For Drama Group

GSC's campus drama group, the Masquers, presents at least three major productions every year, plus others such as Children's Theatre. "The Removalists" was the fall production followed by the "The Taming of the Shrew" during the winter. The spring production, a dinner theatre, was "My Three Angels." "Tom Sawyer" was one of the Children's Theatre productions.

In the 1978 Georgia Theatre Conference competition in Atlanta, a one-act play from GSC captured top honors. "Doing A Good One For The Red Man" was directed by May Houlihan and her cast included Karen White, Thom Grindle, and Esther Ziegler.

Its activities are designed to encourage a better understanding of the professional field and to facilitate additional extra-classroom interaction among students, faculty, guest speakers and practitioners of distinction.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Phi U Led An Active Year

The Beta Mu chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron kicked off the 1977-78 school year by sponsoring a booth at the annual Organizational Fair. Later fall quarter each member handcrafted an item to be sold at the craft bazaar in the Statesboro Mall. A Christmas Tea was held in the Alumni house for the Home Economics faculty as well as some administrators. Phi U also sold recipe cards during winter quarter to help raise money.

Spring quarter the chapter sponsored a make-up booth at a Kiddie Fair held on the GSC softball field.

STUDENT DIETETIC ASSOCIATION

Nutribird Is Seen Throughout The Community

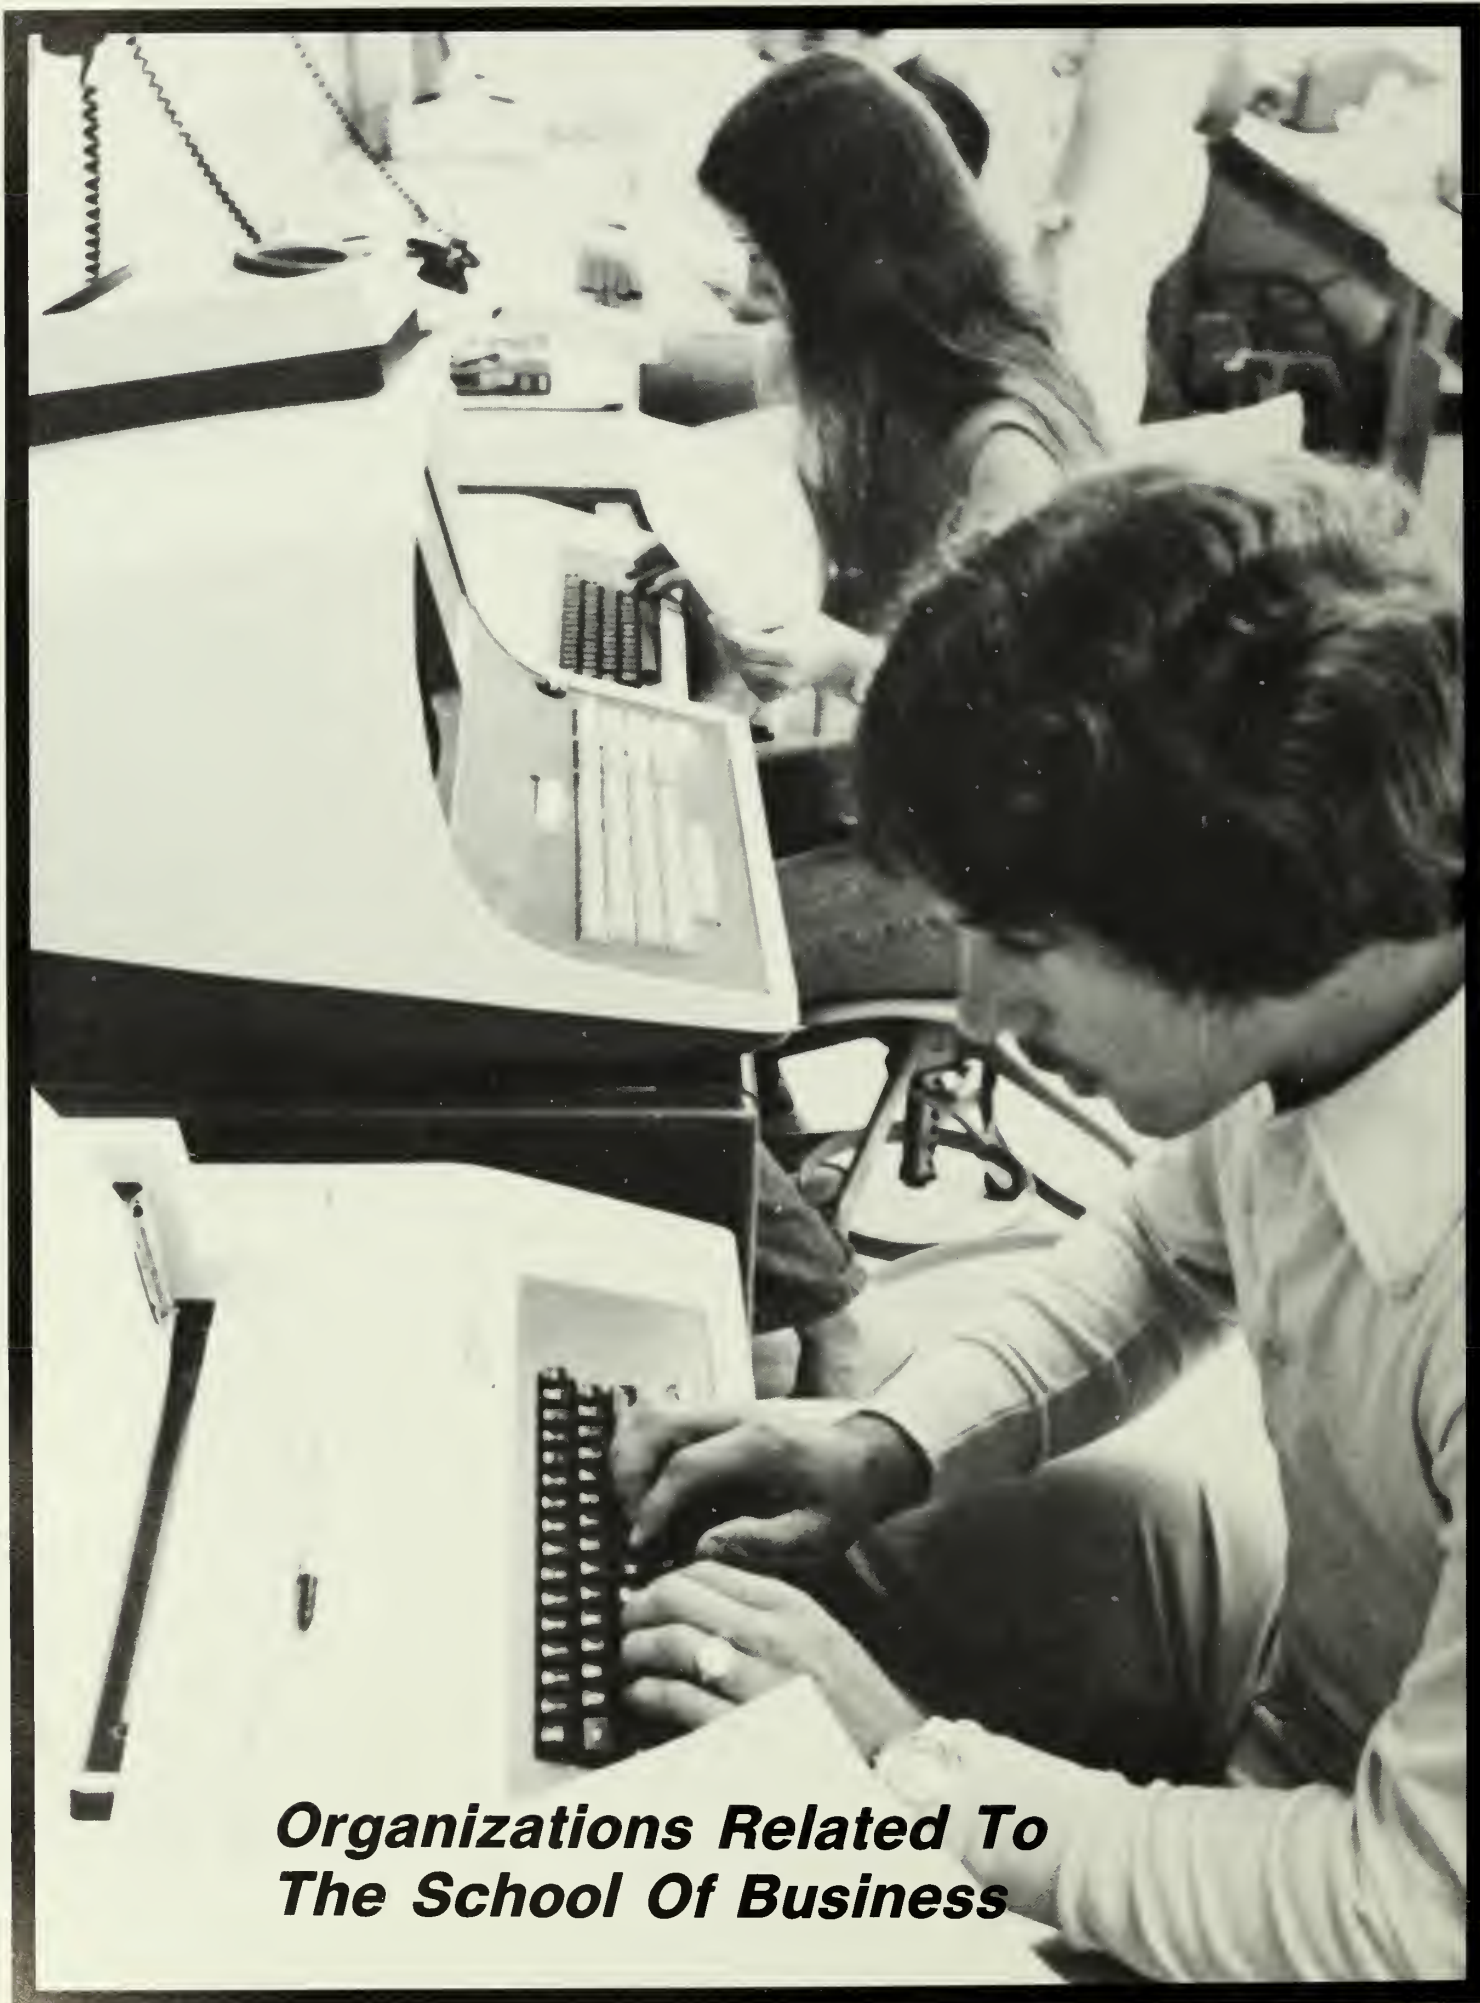

Nutrition week proved to be the most exciting and time consuming highlight of the Dietetic Association's year. They spent weeks preparing for activities including a poster contest for elementary schools and their very own nutribird. A costume was made so nutribird could visit around the community.

A seminar was held in which members learned of the relation of cancer to nutrition and films were shown relating hospital life to nutrition. A representative from CARE came to GSC to talk to the Dietetics. For an idea on nutrition in other countries, club volunteers made food for a Koren dinner and a French dinner.

They held monthly meetings with Mrs. Jennie Blankenbaker and Ms. Kay Larimer as quest speakers at various times though the year. As a projecy, the Association of Childhood Education had square dances.

This organization is open to all students interested in working with and learning about children between the ages of 2 and 12.

Education Department

Honored Dr. Mathews

On the evening of May 19, 1978 there was a dinner honoring the retirement of Dr. Walter B. Mathews.

Dr. Mathews retired from her position as the assistant dean of the School of Education in June after 20 years of service at Georgia Southern. She is nationally known for her devoted work and efforts in the field of elementary education.

In September of 1958 she joined the faculty of GSC after her service with Georgia State College for Women, where she was instrumental in developing the student teaching program for elementary education. Dr. Mathews became a professor of education when she became a faculty member at GSC. John Lindsay, teacher education program assistant, said, "Through her ingenuity, this school has developed one of the better teaching and elementary education training systems in the state."

In September of 1977 Dr. Mathews became the assistant dean in charge of curricular development. One could almost classify Dr. Mathews as specialist in this area because of her practical experience. Throughout her career she has been active in developing teacher criteria with the State Department of Education, done evaluations of education systems with teacher's education in the South and given college approval for meeting standards.

With all her outside service to the state and teaching for regular classes up until her retirement, Dr. Mathews has been a very busy woman. Her service to the education system has been most important to the learning of several generations of school students.

AFRO AMERICAN CLUB AND CHOIR

Registration Drive Begins Year

The Afro-American Club has sponsored several activities throughout the 1977-78 academic year, beginning with the registration drive at the beginning of fall quarter. One hundred and fifty members strong, the AAC is one of GSC's largest organizations.

AAC has engaged in several community projects. The annual Halloween Party for underprivileged children was held in the Williams Center Coffeehouse. The children also trick-or-treated at Deal and Anderson Halls. AAC collected and donated clothing to a needy family who had lost their home due to fire. AAC also donated a Thanksgiving Basket to the family of a former member.

Black History Week, highlighted by the performance of Nikki Giovanni, "Princess of Black Poetry," was among AAC projects. GSC's first Greek Show, a Gospel Concert, luncheons with guest speakers and the Black Forum made this week a success.

The AAC Gospel Choir traveled throughout Georgia, with engagements at several colleges and churches.

Dr. Howard Jordan, Georgia University System Board of Regents, appeared at the AAC Annual Senior Spring Banquet. Also present at this affair were former GSC President Dr. Pope Duncan & wife, Dr. & Mrs. Nicholas Quick, and Rev. T. Brimson.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Outreach Ministry Proves Rewarding

Many services and activities emerged as students combined in fellowship with God and each other to form the Baptist Student Union. Their goal is two-fold, represented by the Journey Inward-Journey Outward logo.

Part of their "Outward Journey" was helping in nursing homes and teaching underprivileged children of the community about Jesus. Each week the Choir practiced for near-by performances including the participation at the GSC Christmas tree lighting. Money was raised to support students sent out as summer missionaries.

The Fall Convention and a Lock-in were highlights of fall quarter as part of the Journey Inward which is concerned with the growth and maturity of each person in the Christian life. A winter retreat was held at Gyton for a weekend of special unity. A spring convention, weekly worship and fellowship meetings, Bible studies, and Prayer Partner socials were included to meet the needs of the BSU members.

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST

Christian Witness Encouraged

Many students learn the value of the Christian witness through their lives and their words and how to strengthen their service to Christ by the fellowship Campus Crusade organization offers.

One of the main highlights of the year was the planning and participation in the "Gathering." This was the meeting of all the religious organizations on campus together for fellowship, fun, and personal growth and witness.

CHESS CLUB

GSC Team Defeats Armstrong

The GSC chess team defeated Armstrong State $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ in an April 29 match held in the Williams Student Center.

It was the second match between the two schools, the first resulting in a 6-6 tie on March 25 at Armstrong.

In the two round contest, seven GSC contestants met four Armstrong players with Southern winning four games and drawing one. Armstrong came away with two wins and a draw. This meant that three GSC players had to play in only one of the two rounds.

George E. R. Andrews, GSC champion, defeated top Armstrong player William Strong. Walter L. Jones won one game and tied one and Dr. Robert F. Brand, playing only in the second round, also scored a victory for GSC.

GSC Foundation Surpassed Goal

"The GSC Foundation raised in excess of $62,000 in one day," said Richard Dollar, director of Resource and Alumni Development. The goal for the "A Day for Southern Campaign", on September 15 was $50,000 but the campaign actually raised about $12,000 over the amount. About 100 campus and community volunteers set out in two-person teams in order to solicit as many firms as possible and raise money.

In early November, the Foundation in cooperation with Wayne Murphy, owner of the local McDonalds, held a "McDonalds Breakfast." The proceeds of the breakfast were in excess of $700 and the project is planned for next year also.

A John Davidson Concert, held on November 11, 1978 was cosponsored by the GSC Foundation and the Student Union Board. Although the concert was a great success according to audience reaction it resulted in a financial loss of $1,500.

Another effort of the Foundation was the Savannah-Chatham County Phone-A-Thon which netted $1,911. The phone-a-thon was sponsored on November 15-16 and volunteers called more than 2,000 people. Successful phone-a-thons were also held in Glenn County and the Metro Atlanta areas later in the year.

The Philosophy of the Foundation was three-fold: 1) They updated and corrected over 400 names and addresses and expanded the alumni list. 2) The Foundation raised money to support scholarships and loans. 3) They developed an organized alumni chapter in Chatham County.

GEORGE-ANNE

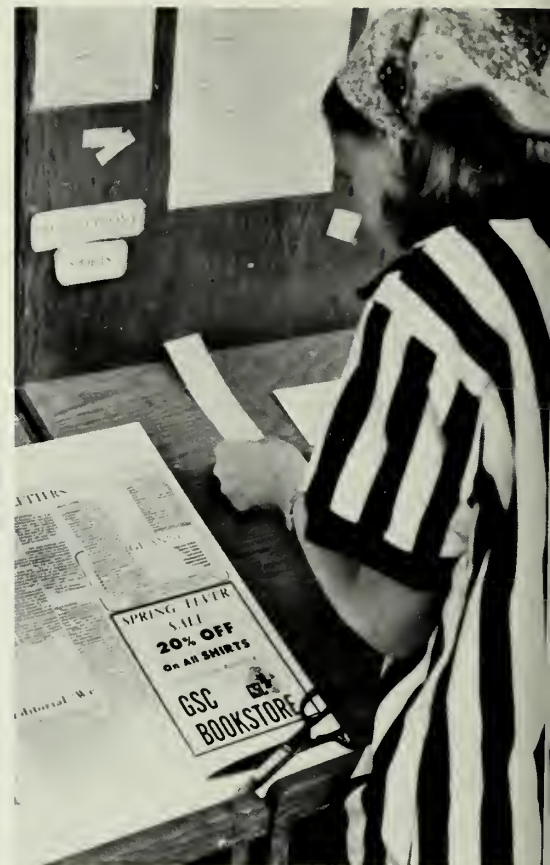

Publication Changed Format For 1978

Georgia Southern's weekly news publication is the George-Anne, consisting of news, features, sports, and editorials.

Several changes in structure and content took place during the 1977-78 year. In the past, both the ad makeup and typesetting were done elsewhere, but this year all production work except for actual printing was done by the staff.

According to the editorial staff, the purpose of the paper is to inform the students at GSC about campus news, policies, administration, and facts of interests.

The squad worked at all home games as well as travelling to numerous out-of-town games. The cheerleaders filled the gym with chants and yells at each game and during quarter breaks they performed cheers and stunts for the crowds.

The cheerleaders included Emily Sanders, Debbie Creech, Michele Dickson, David Pierce, Sandy Horton, Cheryl Hughes, and Diane Lowman.

GSC GROUP OF CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Members Strive For Growth

The primary effort for the '77-78 year was towards organizing into a cohesive and functioning unit. Members were small in number and somewhat scattered around the Statesboro area.

Weekly meetings of an inspirational nature were planned and conducted by the members which included sharing experiences or testimonies. Meetings were open to all GSC students.

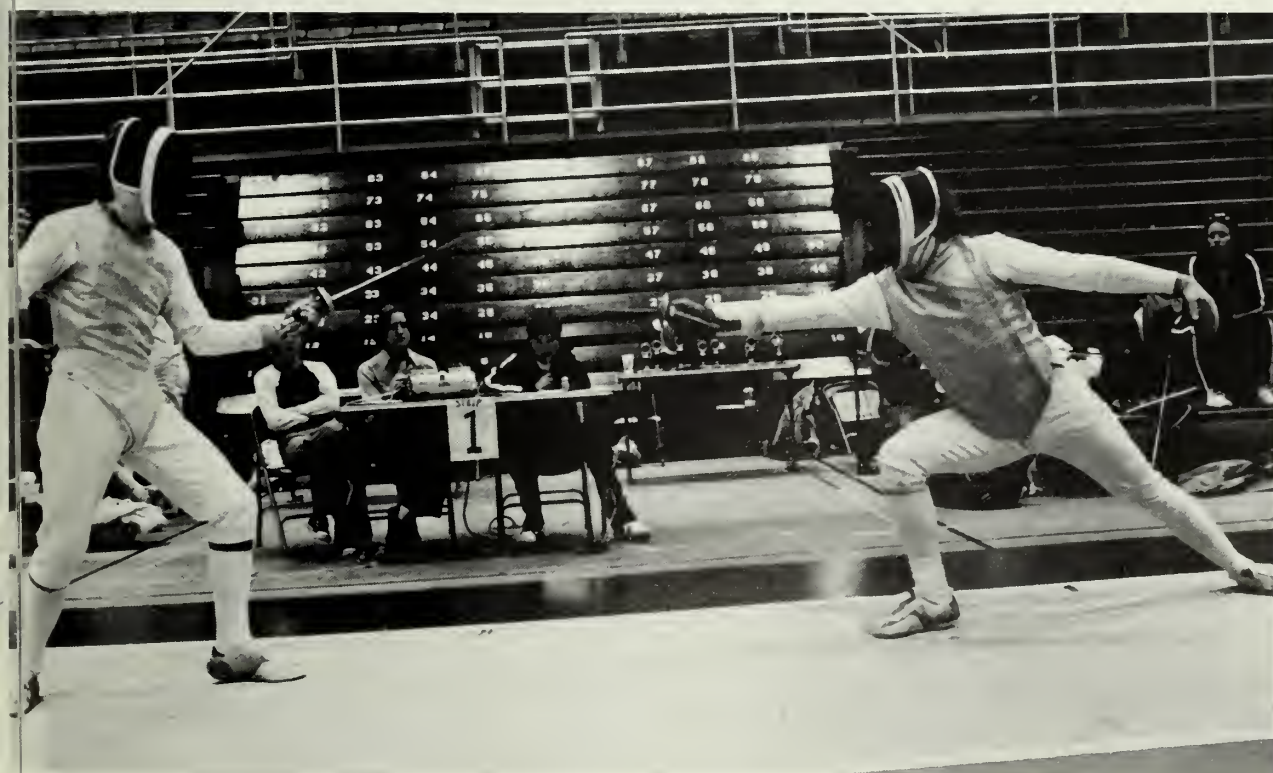

FENCING CLUB

Geoff Elder Tournament Hosted By GSC Fencers

The biggest event of the year for GSC fencers was the Geoff Elder Fencing Tournament, held February 11-12 in the Hanner Fieldhouse. It was the sixth annual, but the first hosted by GSC and had the largest turnout of the tournament's history with fencers from all parts of the Southeast entering in competition. The mens and womens saber, mens and womens epee, and mens and womens foil competitions were included events. GSC's Dave Blackburn and Shelia Morgan won the awards for best novice performance in their events. The Eagles felt the day a success as they took home five of the possible seven novice trophies.

The fencing club is open to anyone on the GSC campus interested in fencing. They have weekly meetings in which they practice developing skills in art and individual competition. These skills are used in various tournaments throughout the year.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Foreign And American Students Share Backgrounds

Foreign students and American students at GSC established lasting friendships through the informal atmosphere developed by the International Club. They became acquainted with the different cultures, presented slide shows, and planned quarterly parties.

The major event of the year was the Annual International Banquet which was opened to everyone at GSC. The members prepared food that related to their backgrounds. Participants of the banquet had the chance to sample the wide assortment of dishes.

WVGS

Station "Owned" By Students

The campus radio station, WVGS, is owned and operated by the students of GSC, and has a staff of 40 licensed volunteer air personalities and nine management positions. Its format includes jazz, classical, and album-oriented rock.

WVGS sponsors or co-sponsors a dance for charity, CCC Public Forums and debates, a flea market, concerts, the Travelers Switchboard, and weekly interviews of the faculty, administration, student body and guests of the college.

RESIDENCE HALL ASSOCIATION

Hard Work One Of Keys To Success

Hard work and high expectations were the keys to success for the Residence Hall Association during the 1977-78 year. Two of their largest projects were the annual Talent Show and their second Anything Goes Contest.

The RHA Talent Show was the culmination of individual dormitory shows, pitting the 14 "dorm winners" against one another for a "campus winner". Siobhan O'Brien of Hendricks Hall and her puppet friend Bernie won first place with a musical comedy rendition of "I Got Rhythm". Mary Lyn Owen of Warwick Hall took second place with her Snoopy performance of "Suppertime" and Alison Delany of Johnson Hall won third with a medley of Linda Ronstadt tunes.

Spring quarter's Anything Goes Contest was another success. The residence halls competed against one another in canoe races, wheelbarrow races, obstacle courses, and a tug-of-war.

Set up to promote social and educational programs involving all residence hall students, RHA also serves as representative of the halls to other organizations.

CENTRAL COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Central Coordinating Committee represents the student body in all phases of student life at Georgia Southern, coordinates student activities and facilitates communication between the administration, the faculty and the student body. As its name indicates, it is the central student organization on campus. Individuals or organizations desiring input into the total life of the campus should enlist the services of these officers. The officers maintain regular daily office hours in the C.C.C. office in the Williams Center.

1977-78 OFFICERS

Linda Gilbert - Auxiliary

Memo to: All Students

From: Your Central Coordinating Committee

Welcome to your new home: Georgia Southern. There are many organizations here to help as you live, grow, and learn; and we are one such group. The CCC, as we are called, is your Student Government. It, along with the college newspaper, the George-Anne, the radio station, WVGS (at 91.3 FM), the Student Union Board (SUB), the Residence Hall Association, and many others, is run by and directly serves you, the students.

The CCC is structured differently from any other student government in the state. We have six officers: President, Vice President, Academic Affairs, Auxiliary Affairs, Co-Curricular Affairs, and Budgetary Affairs. After these are elected Winter Quarter, four five-member executive committees are chosen from school-wide applications. Other ways for students to be directly involved in Student Government are through Faculty Senate Standing Committees, the College Judicial Board and various Ad-Hoc committees. Although our structure is unique, it is formed especially to be your voice in the affairs of GSC and provide for your direct involvement in college life.

Your Student Government is composed of people, like you, who are trying to do their best for the student body, for the CCC to work, however, we need YOUR help. Only you can provide us with suggestions, fill the committee positions, and perhaps be the next CCC officers. Only you can help mold your life here at Georgia Southern, but it takes one vital step: Involvement. College is so much more than the classroom, dorm and dining hall. It can be one of the most rewarding, exciting, and memorable times of your life — only if you will get out and get involved.

Our office is located in room 107 of the Williams Center. Please feel free to give us a call (ext. 5631) or come by to sign up, ask questions, complain or just talk. Make that first step toward involvement.

STUDENT'S INTERNATIONAL MEDITATION SOCIETY

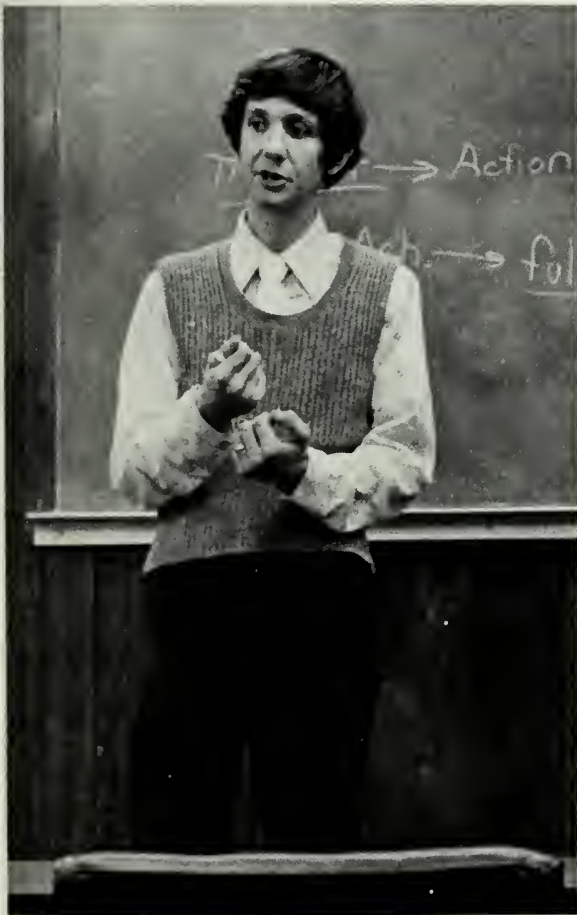

Students Involved In Reaching Full Mental Potential

Interest, information, and participation in the Transcendental Meditation Program is the main objective of SIMS. This program is to develop the full mental potential of the individual. The society exists to encourage the integration of the individual into all phases of life.

The activities of SIMS included pot-luck dinners, on-campus lectures and parties. Several seminars were held with meditation societies of various colleges in Georgia.

Those pictured are Katherine Durham, David Llylton, Byron Breedlove, David Richardson, Srin Pamarabham, Susan Ambrose, Tom Roab. In front are Lynn Guion and Brent Russell.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

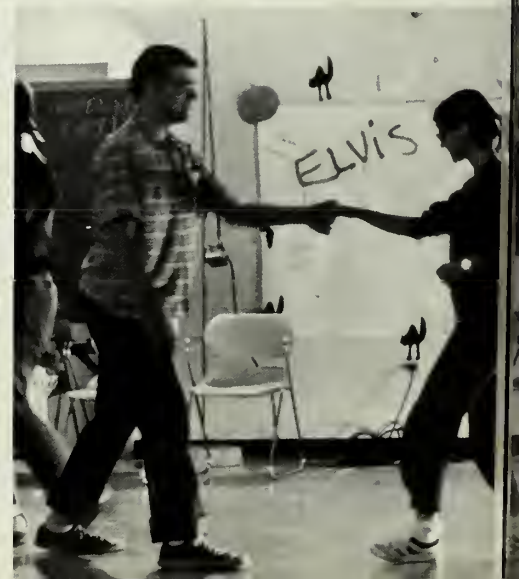

Fun And Fellowship Provide Common Bond

An essential part of the fellowship shared by Wesley Foundation students is laughter and fun times. The fall retreat at Wesley Gardens in Savannah was the group's first feeling of togetherness as some found themselves face-to-face with whip-cream pie. The left-overs of the fall retreat provided a taco supper with food and fun for everyone.

The highlight of Halloween night was a visit to Fonzie's Garage where people floated in from all over town in pigtails, bobby socks, greased hair, and T-shirts to dance to the music of the '50's.

A statewide retreat was held in Covington winter quarter with fifty to sixty GSC participants returning to tell the news of seeing snow!

Visits to homes, adoption of a granparent, and the initiating of project love are some results of their outreach ministry. A drama group, two music groups, and small group Bible studies have developed as members find common interests among themselves.

CIRCLE K CLUB

High Standards Of Life Promoted

The Circle K Club wishes to promote campus and community service projects with emphasis on the democratic way of life, spiritual values of life, better citizenship, and higher business and professional standards. The club provides the opportunities for leadership training and encourages participation in group activities. The members of Circle K also seek to develop a more intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship in order to build better communities. Through their hope of maintaining public opinion and higher idealism, the club seeks to make possible the increase of justice, patriotism, and goodwill.

ADDITIONAL GENERAL INTEREST ORGANIZATIONS

GEORGIA SOUTHERN VETERAN'S ASSOCIATION - Maintains current information on the campus of GSC relative to educational assistance programs funded through the Veteran's Administration. The organization also acts as a liaison agent between Veteran service agencies and the Veteran student population.

SOCCER CLUB - Promotes and encourages an interest in soccer. Membership is open to interested students.

NEWMAN COMMUNITY - Assists students in forming a deeper understanding of their relationship to God and others. Membership is open to interested students.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS - To stimulate in young people an active interest in governmental affairs, to foster and perpetuate the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party and to help inform voters of the issues and the candidates.

GAMMA BETA PHI

Honors Were Given And Received

One of the biggest projects undertaken throughout the year was the annual "Professor of the Year" award. Members handed out ballots at Spring Registration to all students wishing to vote.

Gama Beta Phi is open by invitation to students in the top 15% of their class. Each member is required to make four service points each quarter. One of the four must be a project outside of regular meetings.

Members helped in various school activities during the year including blood-pressure drive, Special Olympics, and attending a state convention. Their entry in the Homecoming Queen competition, Debbie Harper, took top honors. A banquet was held May 22 to close their successful year.

Social Organizations

ALPHA XI DELTA

Girls Won Money For Project

Alpha Xi Delta won a $500 first place prize in the Miller "Pick 'Em Up" contest spring quarter.

They were also involved with Philanthropy and a local TMR class.

Alpha Xi Delta also won intramural bowling and placed second in powder puff football.

Their annual formal was held in Jacksonville, Florida.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Group Won Spirit Trophy

In the spring of 1978, Epsilon Pi Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi celebrated the tenth anniversary of its local founding, in connection with the annual Parent's Weekend. Two years ago, ADPi's across the nation celebrated the 125th anniversary of its founding at Wesleyan College as the first secret society for college women.

During Sigma Chi Derby Day activities fall quarter, ADPi won the Spirit Trophy. Winter Quarter, ADPi was proud to have two girls represented as finalists in the contest for Homecoming Queen. Greek Week in May proved again to be an enjoyable time for ADPi's, as well as for all Greeks at GSC.

After a very successful 1977 Fall Rush, 23 girls pledged ADPi, then seven more pledged winter and spring quarters. The entire sorority worked together on various projects, including their philanthropy — helping crippled children, as well as fund-raising projects such as car washes, bake sales, and raffles.

The Black Diamond Ball was held in March at Charleston, SC. Later that month, officers of Epsilon Pi Chapter participated in ADPi State Day at the University of Georgia, and in the IFC-Panhellenic Workshop at Jekyll Island

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

"Service To Mankind" Was Promoted

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was chartered here at GSC on May 7, 1977. The first Greek letter organization for black women in the world, it is the first black sorority on this campus, but its membership is not limited to blacks exclusively. AKA seeks to promote the ideals of scholarship, leadership, and exemplary character. Additionally, AKA dedicates itself to "service to mankind." The national project of the organization is the "Right to Read" program.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

High Level Of Achievement In Fraternity

Alpha Tau Omega National Fraternity was founded at Virginia Military Institute in 1865. Eta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega was chartered at Georgia Southern College on May 18, 1968, becoming one of the first national fraternities in the Greek system on campus. Since its charter, Alpha Tau Omega has consistently maintained a high level of achievement in all fraternity activities, typified by the fact that the chapter has received the Alpha Tau Omega National Chapter Excellence Award for four consecutive years. In addition, this year Eta Zeta Chapter's Faculty Advisor received the Alpha Tau Omega National Advisor of the Year Award. In service, the chapter has won the Awareness Award for the last two years and was the 1976 winner of the IFC Service Award.

CHI OMEGA

Group Wins Greek Sing

Chi Omega was founded as a National Greek Women's Organization at the University of Arkansas on April 5, 1895. It is based on Hellenic culture and Christian ideals and encourages a high level of scholarships among its members.

Since Chi Omega's origin, it has grown to be truly national, with 169 chapters across the U. S. Nu Kappa was established on the Georgia Southern campus on April 24, 1976; becoming the 162nd chapter. Nu Kappa works closely with the school, other Greek organizations, and the Statesboro community to uphold Chi Omega's strong national heritage.

Chi Omega participated in Sigma Chi Derby Week, intramural sports, Homecoming, Greek Week, and several other campus activities. The sorority placed third overall in Derby Week and won many other activities including taking first place in Greek Sing during Greek Week.

Some of the Chi Omega's service projects include: collecting food for the needy at Thanksgiving, having a flea market, and working with the Special Olympics.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delts Led An Active Year

The Epsilon Omega chapter of Delta Tau Delta kicked off an active year by sponsoring a booth in the annual organizational fair. During the year they sponsored beer parties and car washes to raise money for their house and other activities.

Delta Tau Delta tied for second place with Delta Zeta for their entry, "Delta Queen," in the Homecoming float competition.

The Delts also volunteered their services to help in the Kiddie Fair spring quarter. Also during spring quarter they participated in the Miller Brewing Company's annual 'Pick 'Em Up' Contest, and they were the intramural softball champions for 1978.

KAPPA ALPHA

Chapter Revised Pledge Program

The Delta Theta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was founded in 1968 at GSC, thus being one of the oldest Greek organizations on campus.

A major accomplishment of Kappa Alpha during the '77-'78 year was the revision of their pledge program. Now, a pledge may be initiated within 8 weeks instead of the usual 10.

The big social event for the KA's was their Old South weekend during winter quarter. The fraternity enjoyed a 3-day skiing trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

Land was purchased on which they plan to build a house for the Delta Theta Chapter. Hopefully it will be completed within three years.

Order was founded in late 1865 by four young men at Washington College, Lexington, Virginia. Their purpose was to preserve the cherished precepts of chivalry and honor.

KAPPA DELTA

Time And Money Are Donated

Kappa Delta placed second in Derby Day. The president reported that they did well in all sports.

Each year they help support a crippled children's hospital in Richmond, Virginia. Other projects included helping the recreation department hold a Special Olympics for the mentally retarded, participating in the Easter Seals rock-a-thon, and having a booth in the Statesboro Fun Fair. Besides money making projects they donated time and money to Statesboro's library that had burned.

KAPPA ALPHA PSI

Senior Day Sponsored

Kappa Alpha Psi began the year with high goals of achievement in mind. Their brotherhood and hard work showed that 1977-78 was a year of learning and achievement.

To highlight the year, Kappa Alpha Psi sponsored a Senior Day at GSC. The program was designed to familiarize students in the immediate vicinity with all the programs offered by GSC. Kappa Alpha Psi also sponsored other Guideright Projects and Service Projects in the Statesboro area. Guideright was directed toward pre-high school to enhance and develop their leadership abilities. Service Projects were directed toward the elderly as an aid to the nursing homes in the area.

"As a young Colony we have had a very prosperous year. We give our praise and thanks to our Sweethearts, Kappa Kittens, for all their support given to us during the year."

THE KAPPA OF MY DREAMS

When, with every break of day
Each brother, as he kneels to pray
Will mention Kappa in his say
That's the Kappa of my dreams.
And 'ere the noon day sun is high
Will pause and think of KAY (KA-Psi)
And perform some deed in Phi Nu Pi
That's the Kappa of my dreams.

When inscribed upon the campus scroll
And on every college honor roll
The name of each youth in our fold
That's the Kappa of my dreams.
And when every place you roam
Any territory you may comb
You'll find each chapter with its home
That's the Kappa of my dreams.

When each member shows he cares
How every other Kappa fares
And our obligations jointly are shared
That's the Kappa of my dreams.
And when Greeks from every place
Admit that Kappa leads Life's race
And our achievement set the pace
That's the Kappa of my dreams.

KAPPA SIGMA

High Academic Average Obtained

Honors received during the year included a second place award in Homecoming Float competition, first place fraternity basketball award, and first academically above other fraternities at the end of fall quarter.

The Kappa Sigmas raised approximately $1,000 for the High Hope Center and the GSC baseball team in a joint marathon softball game with ATO's. Parents' weekend was held April 21-22 and Senior Awards were given.

The Annual Gong Show was a highlight of fall quarter. Kappa Sigmas' formal was held during winter quarter. The beach trip in May topped off the year.

PI KAPPA PHI

Brothers Involved In Community Projects

The Gamma Kappa Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi was actively involved in community projects during the '77-'78 year. These included the Statesboro Recreation Department's Special Olympics and, later, the Fishing Rodeo. The Brothers also helped with the Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

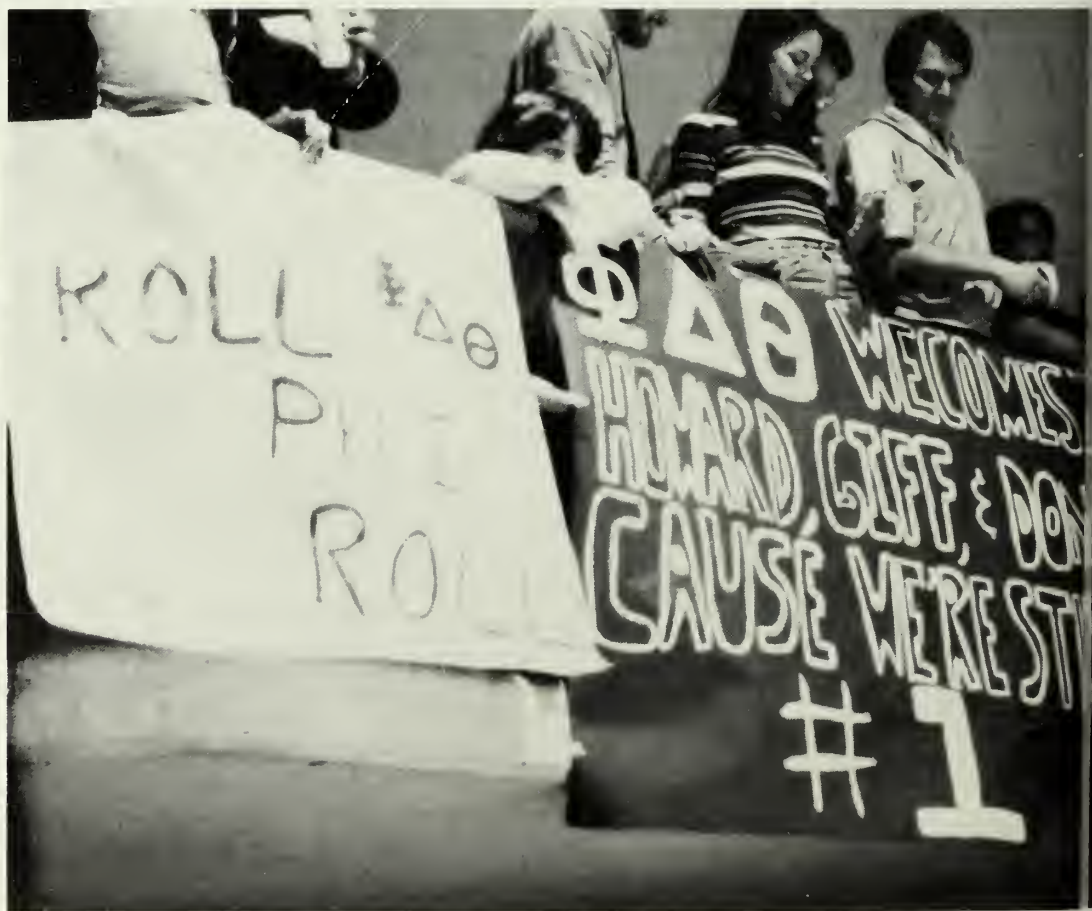

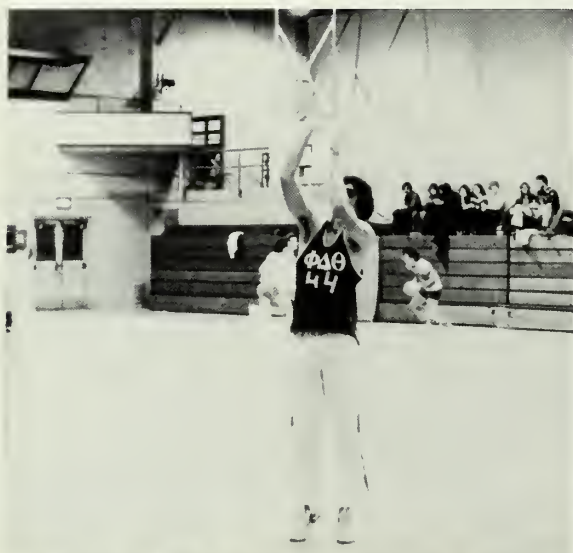

Pi Kappa Phi members won or placed in various events on campus — golf, tennis, tug-of-war, and the 400-yd. relay.

The Order was founded in December, 1904 at the College of Charleston, South Carolina. GSC's Chapter was established in November, 1968.

PHI DELTA THETA

Award Given To The Best

Founded on December 26, 1848, at Miami University - Oxford, Ohio, this is one of the oldest and most prestigious international fraternities in existence. Phi Delta Theta stresses leadership, service, scholarship, and moral growth. The Phi Delta Theta Colony was founded on August 31, 1968 by an act of the National Convention. Phi Delts are active in various aspects of college life and community service. They have received many awards, including the Frank R. Carter Award given to the best Phi Delta Theta Chapter in the State of Georgia. Phi Delta Theta is open to qualified and interested male students who share the same goals and aims of the fraternity.

Activities And Awards Fill Year

A first place award in float competition was captured during Homecoming week by this sorority. Also, an Alumni Cocktail Party was held for the Phi Mu's as part of the Homecoming festivities.

Other activities included a Walk-a-thon for Hope in November and participation in the Special Olympics. Club members took part in all the intramural sports and their entry in Miss GSC won the first runner-up honor.

They had a special pleasure in hosting the singer, John Davidson at the Phi Mu house on the day of his concert at GSC.

Homecoming Float Wins First Place

Striving to develop the fellowship of its members, this social fraternity is interested in serving its campus, community, and nation. Many activities were held throughout the year including work on a float for the Homecoming parade which won a first place solo entry award.

The biggest event sponsored by Sigma Chi was Derby Week in which the sororities competed in hunts and games for the first place title. Sigma Chi raised $500 in this year's event for the Dick Green Heart Fund.

SIGMA NU

First In Miller's "Pick 'em Up" Contest

Sigma Nu's activities were varied throughout the year, beginning with the annual Thanksgiving food drive for Statesboro's Division of Family Services. Another service project was the washing of GSC's security trucks.

The fraternity's double entry Homecoming float with Pi Mu took top honors. Sigma Nu was also the top finisher in the Miller Brewing Company's annual "Pick 'em Up" Contest.

Financially secure for building their own house, Sigma Nu have been leaders in pursuing new Greek housing. They have also started a joint weight room with Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, founded November 1, 1901 at Richmond Virginia, is the second largest college social fraternity in the world.

Chartered at GSC in February 1969, Sig Ep is a group of men dedicated to the principle of virtue, diligence, and brotherly love.

Sig Ep was involved in a variety of social, academic, athletic, and community activities.

Brothers Celebrated 10th Anniversary

Sigma Pi packed each quarter with social activities and service projects during the '77-'78 year. In the fall, they had 28 pledges, which almost doubled their brotherhood. At one time, their football team boasted a 5-1 record, but that fell at the end to 5-5.

Teamed with Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Pi had a prizewinning float in the Homecoming Parade. In sports, their basketball team had a 6-6 record while the bowling team placed in the fraternity top five. As is custom, Sigma Pi also participated in the annual Miller Pick Up contest.

During spring quarter, the brothers joined in the IFC retreat held at Hilton Head Island. In April, they celebrated their tenth anniversary on Founder's Day with a formal dance and dinner. Later they hosted their parents on Parents' Day weekend with hotdogs, hamburgers, singing, and horseshoes.

A highlight of spring quarter was the brothers' helping a local girl, Wendy, in her fight against cerebral palsy, by giving her weekly therapy.

Founded in 1897 at Vincennes University, Vincennes, Indiana, Sigma Pi is present on a number of east coast colleges and universities. On April 20, 1968, the Kappa Delta Chi organization became the Gamma Tau chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity on GSC's campus. A major function of the fraternity is the pursuit of high grades.

TKE For Life

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity was founded January 10, 1899 at Illinois Wesleyan University. The founders desired to establish a fraternity that considered personal worth and character of the individual rather than the wealth he possesses, the honors or titles he could display, or the rank he maintained on the social ladder. Today TKE follows this same motto: Not for wealth, rank, or honor . . . but for personal worth and character.

The local TKE chapter, Lambda Upsilon, has about 35 active members. Scholastically, they range between first and fifth among the 13 fraternities at GSC. As a rule, three big parties are scheduled per quarter. The highlights of the year were the annual Spring Founder's Day Dance and Banquet and their trips to Georgia Tech's Beta Pi Chapter for Spring Fest. In '78, the Lambda Upsilon chapter won the softball trophy.

TKE helped with the Gizz Kids' fund drive for the handicapped citizens of Bulloch County. They also helped with the Bulloch County Association of Retarded Citizen's Bike-a-thon. Nationally, TKE chapters raised money for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. The Lambda Upsilon chapter raised over $150 with a poster auction jointly held with Oasis Records.

Dartmouth Victory Highlights Season

It was a frustrating year for the GSC Water-Polo Team. Their 5-6 record made '77-'78 the first losing season in the five year history of the squad.

The team performed well during the beginning of the season, winning two of three matches at the Washington and Lee Tournament, with Bruce Pawloski scoring 20 goals. In the Yale Invitational, the Eagles lost a tough opener to host,

Yale, then ripped Dartmouth, 21-8, in their next match. They were soundly beaten by the University of Massachusetts in the next round and finished the tournament with a 6th place showing.

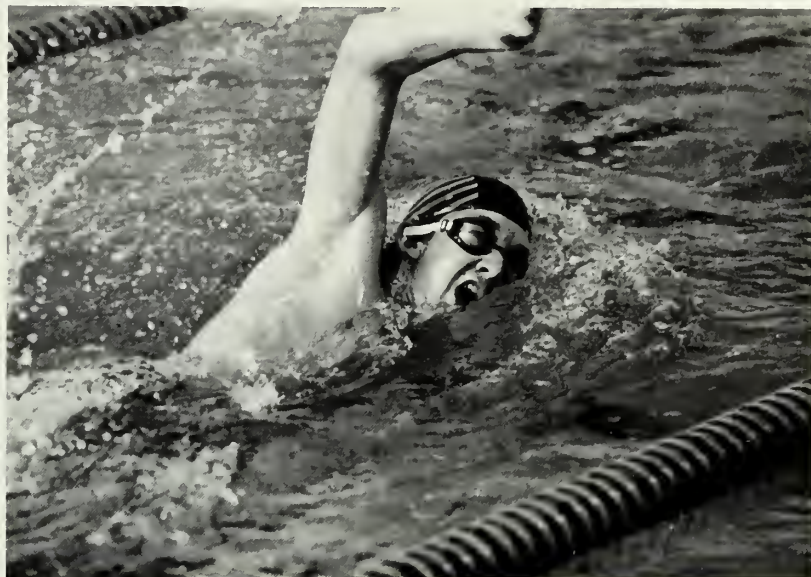

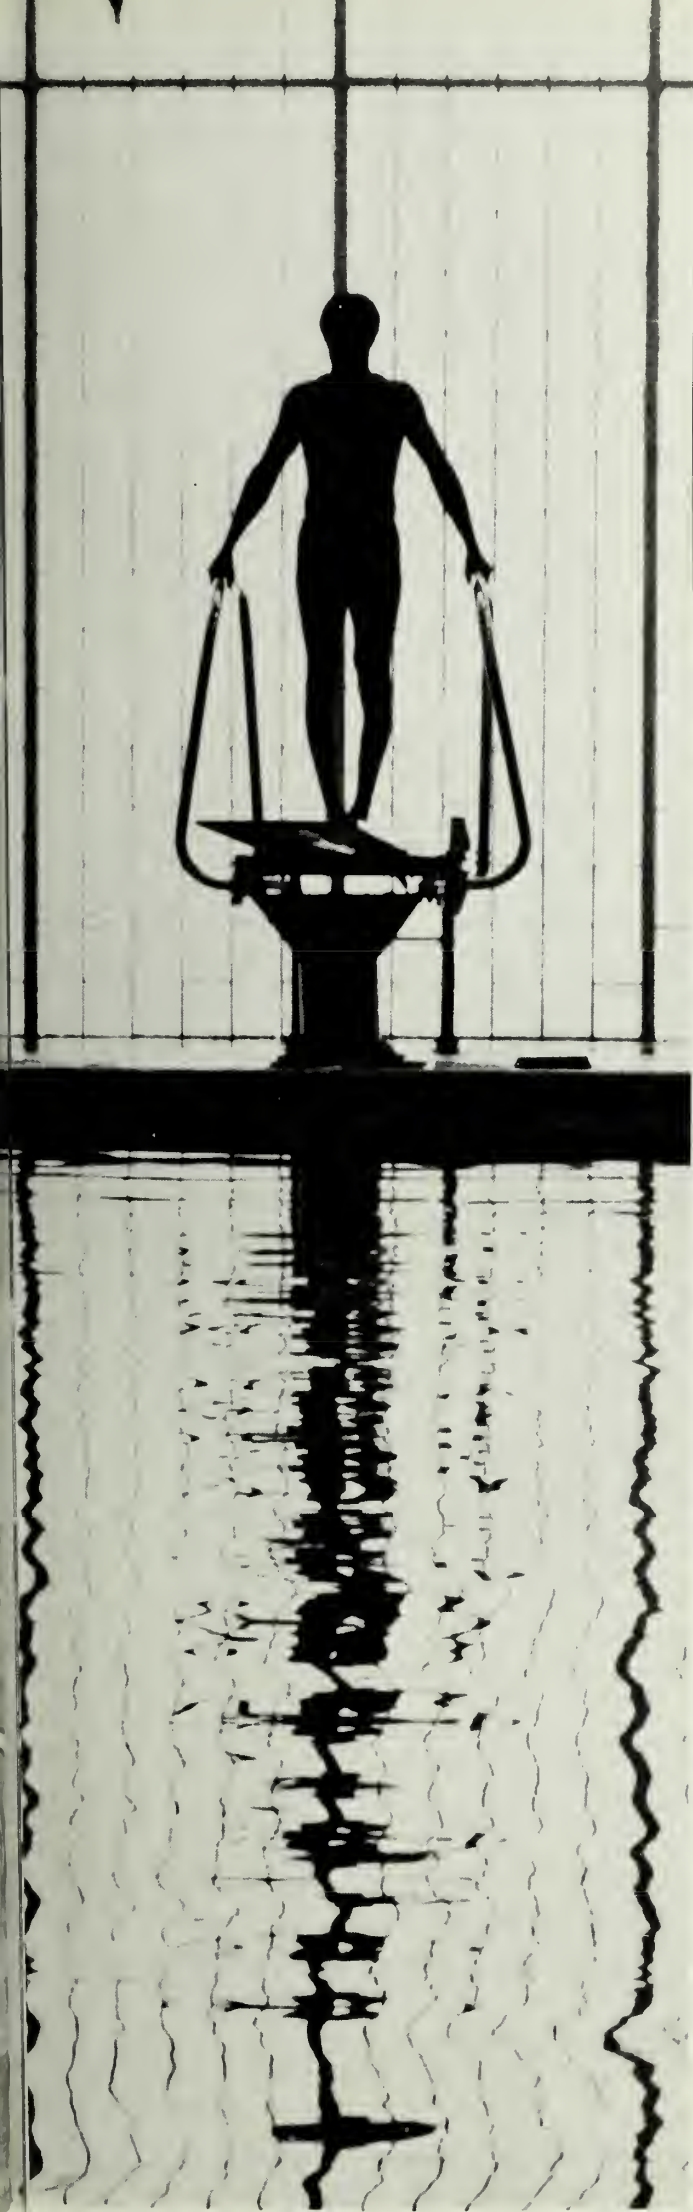

The Eagles ended the season with two away losses to Florida St., a team they convincingly defeated at Hanner Pool.

Swimmers Peak At Sunbelt Invitational

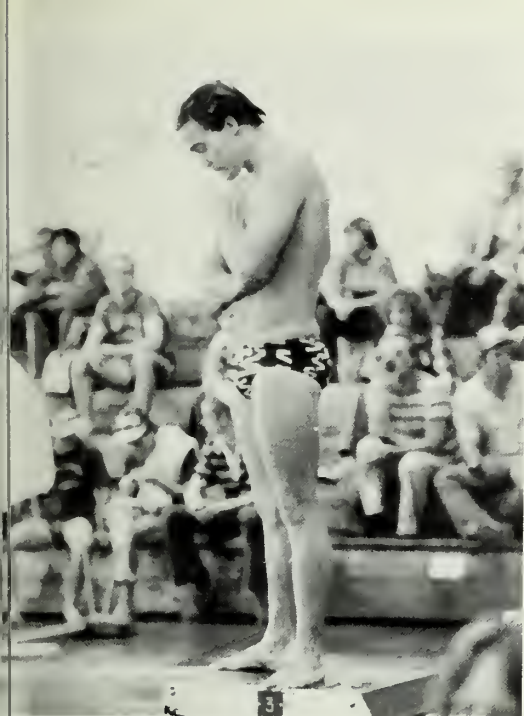

The Georgia Southern men's swimming team capped its 5-3 season with a second place peak performance in the Sunbelt Invitational Meet in Atlanta. In an effort to improve their times during this final tournament, all team members shaved their arms and legs, and two went as far as to shave their heads.

Record-setting performances were turned in by Les McGovern in the 200 and 500 yard freestyles, by Bruce Dunbar in the 200 yard breaststroke, and by Mark Miller in the 100 yard backstroke.

Lady Swimmers Place 9th In Region AIAW

Although the lady swimmers lost all five of their regular season meets, they did manage a respectable 9th place showing in the Region AIAW Championship held in Tampa. Kitty Howard reached the consolation finals in the 50 yard backstroke, placing 14th. In addition, the lady swimmers placed three doubles teams in the finals: the 200 yard relay team consisting of Kitty Howard, Susie Jones, Laura Jacque, and Cindy Osmer finished 6th; the 200 yard freestyle relay team, Jacques, Jones, Osmer, and Donna Hedrick finished seventh; and the 400 yard relay team composed of Jones, Howard, Hedrick, and Osmer placed ninth. All this prompted Edmonson to say, "All of our girls did drop their times considerably, so we feel that we finished the season on a good note."

Gymnastics

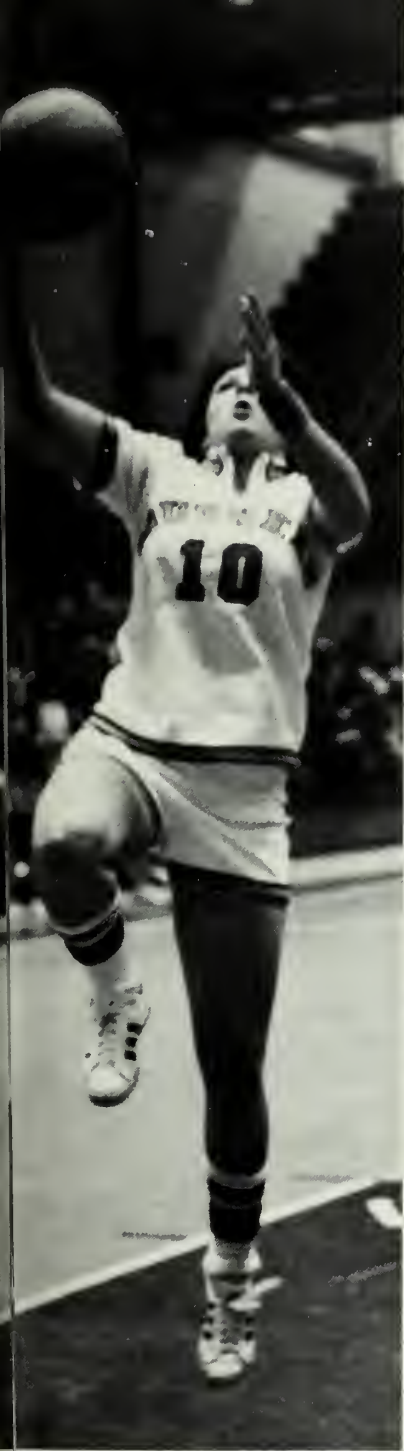

The 1978 gymnastics team wasn't actually a team, since there were fewer participants. It allowed for individual approach in meets with other teams.

Bill McBroom made the NCAA finals in Eugene, Oregon after qualifying in Penn State and placed at 9.45 in the pommel horse competition. Teammate Bob Stanley placed 8th in the competition.

Lady Eagles Post 12-14 Season

A lot was expected of this year's ladies' basketball team since all five starters from last year's winning team and six talented new faces were added to the team, but only a disappointing 12-14 record was produced.

The ladies played over .500 ball during the start of the season until the last half when they managed only four wins out of 13 games. The loss of Pam Baker due to an injury during that final stretch dealt a fatal blow to the aspirations of the team. Baker did return, however, for the final tournament, the GLAW, in which the Eagles upset Georgia State in the initial round and later became third place finishers.

Baker ended her career owning 14 of 18 individual single game, season, and career records.

—COACH LINDA CROWDER

Many thought this would be the year for the '77-'78 basketball Eagles since all five starters returned from last year's successful team, but such was not the case. The club's 11-16 record was an exact reversal from last year's.

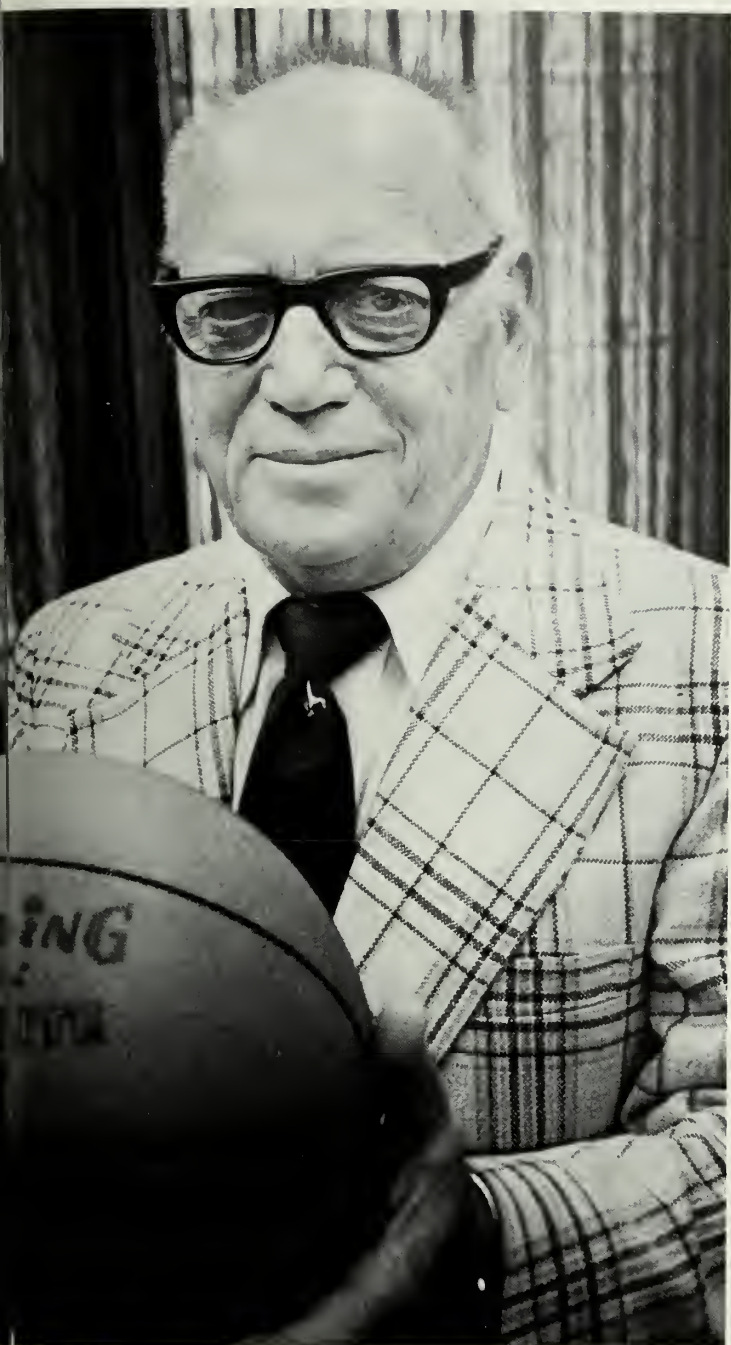

J. B. Searce, former coach at GSC from 1947-1967 returned to head the team after Larry Chapman left to become head coach at Auburn University at Montgomery.

Early in the season, the Eagles displayed good aggressive ballplay and looked as if they were going somewhere, especially after the 112-104 win over Old Dominion that raised their record to 7-4. But soon afterwards came a seven game losing streak and after being broken, the team managed only four wins out of its last nine games.

Most Valuable Player Kevin Anderson again displayed all-around talent as did teammate Matt Simpkins. Bobby Shields, the only senior on the team, performed steadily after being injected into the starting lineup.

Searce, Tom Taylor, Wilbert Young, Charles Simpkins, Matt Simpkins, Bobby Shields, Stanley Brewer, Mickey Minick, Phil Leisure, Assistant Coach Jack Schweers. 2nd Row: Trainer Tom Smith, Tony Gibson, Brad Long, Leon Parrish, Ceasar Williams, John Fowler, Jerome Anderson, Kevin Anderson, John Finks, MGR. You've got to be good to win the state championship in the first year of competition, and that's just what the GSC women's team did. They did it after surprising Georgia Tech in the first round and then by defeating Armstrong State in consecutive rounds for the championship.

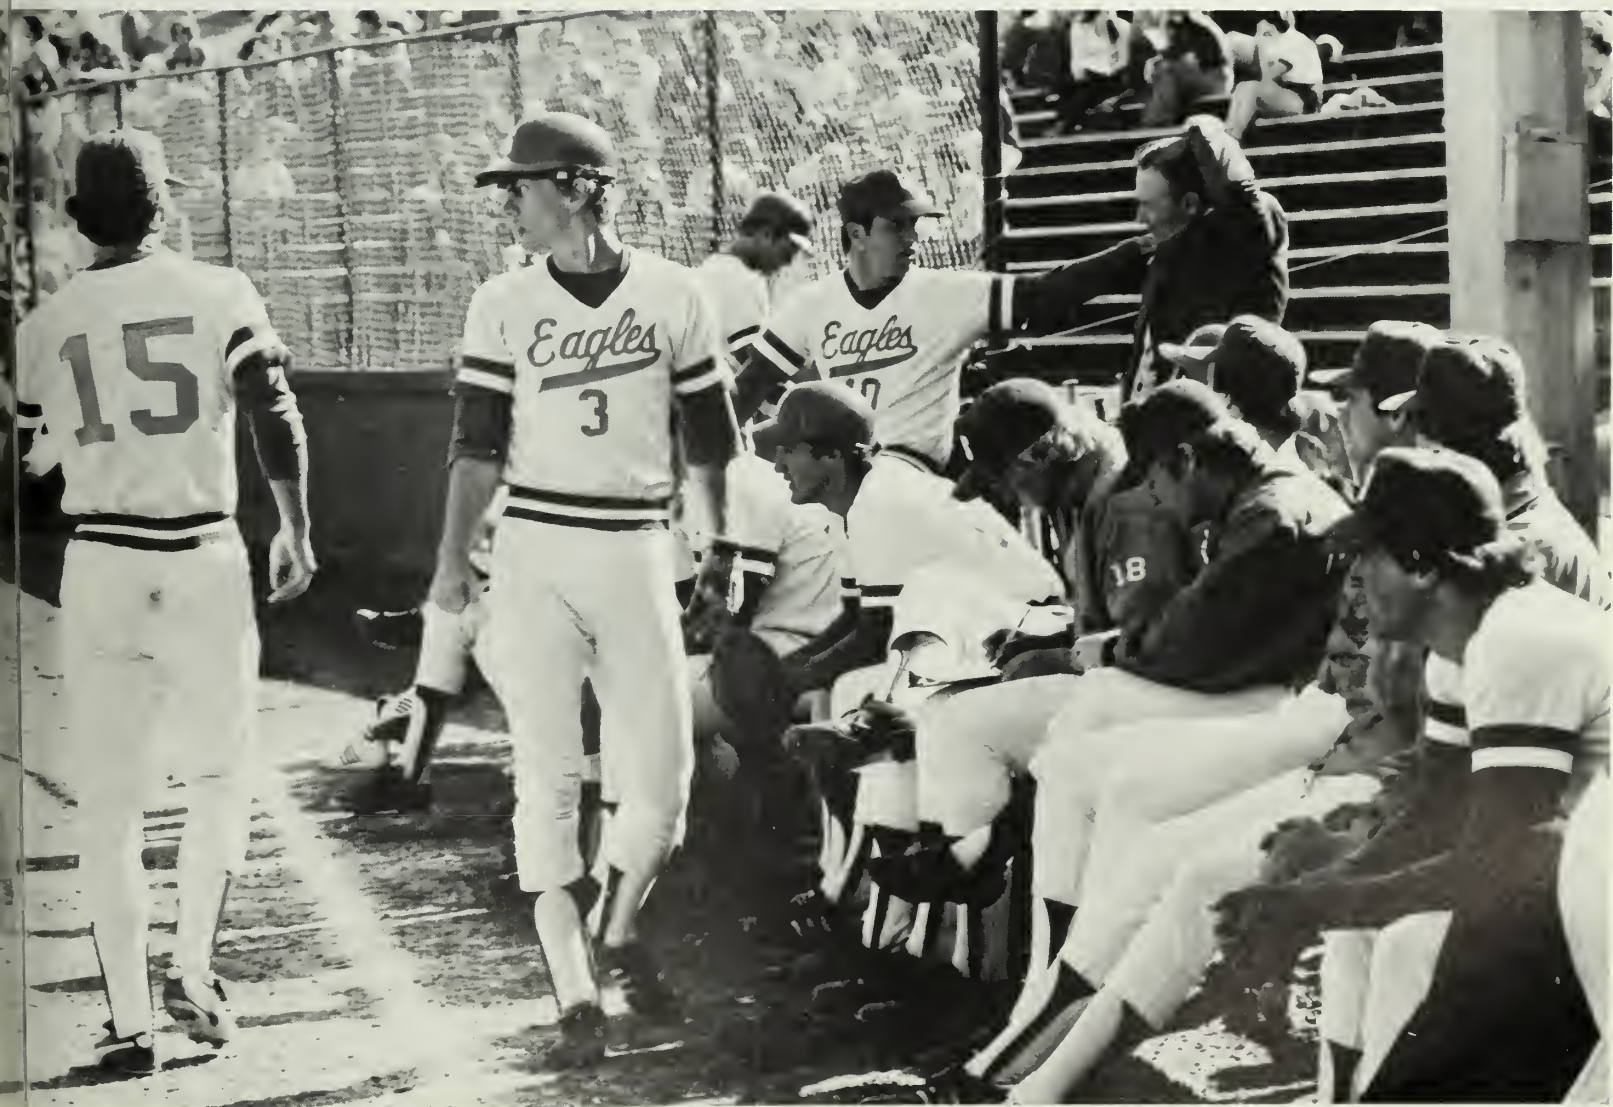

Coach Bill Speith's team finished the year with a 14-11 record after their travel to Tallahassee for regional play.

Patty Brown provided steady pitching and Kathy Stewart did a lot of hitting to pace the Eagles during their initial championship year.

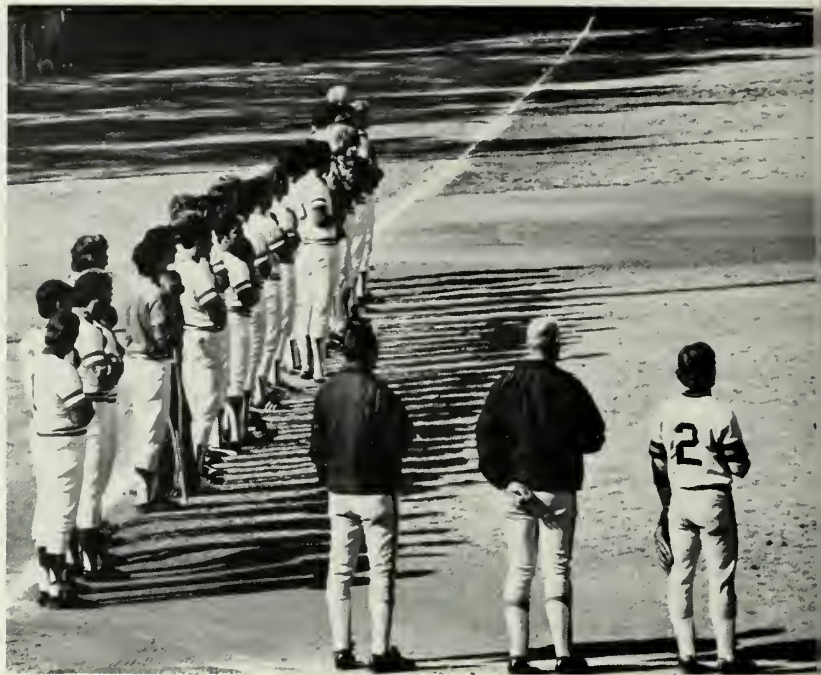

Nobody really knew what the '78 baseball Eagles would be like. Everybody was aware that Southern baseball is some of the finest found anywhere and that the Southern Team is perennially ranked in the NCAA top 20. They did it again this year with a 35-15 record and a 17th spot in the final NCAA poll.

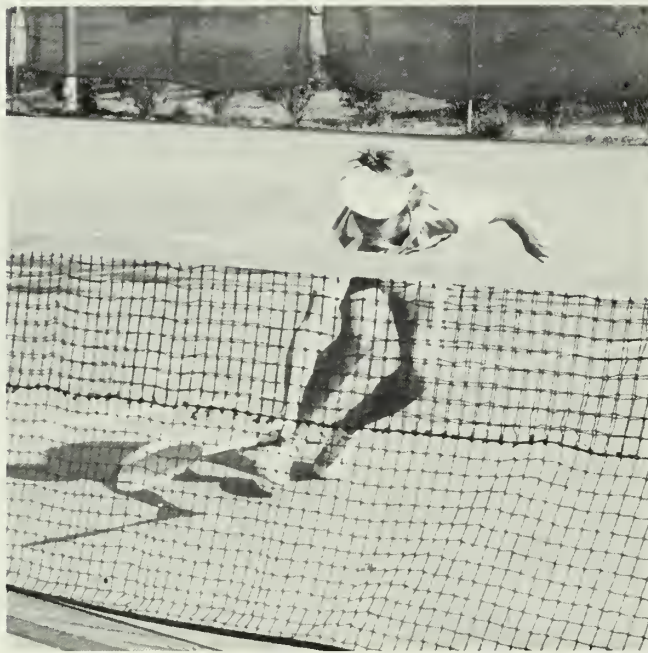

It was a good year—Mixon batted over .400, Givens won 12 and lost 2, Aguayo was named first team All-Regional as a dh, Childress had a 20 game hitting streak, and Jack Stallings won his 500th.

The Eagles started strong against first rate competition, beating Clemson 3-1 and 4-2. They split with Jacksonville and took two of three from Stetson. They took three from Mars Hill, won an amazing 26-1 rout. Then they lost two to Valdosta, split with South Carolina and FSU ran away from Georgia, and lost two at home to Miami. Had they won just one, against Miami, a play-off spot was certain. And that was the season. Although rumors and hopes of a play-off bid lingered shortly after regular season play, the bid never came and all that was left was the promises of a better record next year.

Men's Tennis Team

Wins With Hustle

Despite losing the top four players from last year's team, the '77-'78 men's tennis team enjoyed a surprisingly successful year. The team amassed 19 wins against only six setbacks, a record nearly identical to last year's talented squad.

What the team lacked in talent, they compensated for with hustle. It sounds cliché, but it's fact. Senior Doug Hull, sophomore Greg Wheaton, and freshman Steve Morris shared the number one position for most of the season, and each had their surprise wins.

But the surprise of the tennis year was David Ewing, a junior from Atlanta. After serving as an alternate player for the past two seasons, the sudden departure of expected returns thrust Ewing into a position he competently filled. He finished the year with the best singles record, 16-7.

Disappointment got its chance as the Eagles failed to make an impressive showing at the state championships held at the University of Georgia. No player made it past the second round. Even the doubles tandem of Wheaton-Morris that took a 20-1 record into the tournament was knocked out in the third round.

Dr. George Shriver's ladies tennis team finished its '78 season with a 14-11 record after finishing second in the GAIWA state tournament. Lucy Mulherin and Kim Mosely provided steady play, as did the remainder of the team.

At the outset of the season, Shriver was confident that it would be a good and exciting year. It was. Although there were periods of extreme fluctuation in overall team play, freshman Lucy Mulherin maintained steady play at the number one singles position.

Sports Summary

1978 was a good year for sports at Georgia Southern. The baseball team continued its perennial outstanding play. Coach Stallings won his 500th game, and the team batted over .300. A catcher by the name of Carmelo Arguayo was found. Mixen batted over .400. The men's tennis team was expected to be weak after the loss of five top players. The surprise play of David Ewing and strong team consistency as a whole produced a fine 19-6 record for the year.

George Shriver did an equally superb job with his women netters, as they placed second in the GIAW.

With success, there was some disappointment for both the men's and women's basketball teams. Coach J. B. Searce returned to head the men's team after previously coaching GSC to international recognition during the early 60's. But this time, the tide turned as his team was not in the top contention in the league.

Coach Linda Crowder's women's basketball team also was not on top.

But since part of the season was played without Pam Baker, who holds nearly all individual records of women's basketball, it can be understood (partially) why they finished a nod under .500. They will be back to be on top next year.

Water sports are a different kind of Southern attraction. The water polo team continued its rank as a Southeastern powerhouse, and the swimming team held its own against tough competition. The women swimmers worked hard and have promise of a stronger team next year.

A pleasant surprise was the women's softball team. In only its first year of intercollegiate competition, the state championship was won under the direction of Bill Spieth.

Buddy Alexander's golf team landed another trip to the NCAA Championships after finishing seventh in the Chris Shenkel Invitational and placing third in the Southern Championships.

Intramurals

Basketball was a popular and major sport in intramurals with 52 teams participating to win the championship.

Nobody really expected the Brew Crew, Boonesfarm, or Seagram's Seven to win the men's Intramural Basketball tournament. It's fairly obvious that they all were interested in having a good time, which is what it is all about.

Some serious teams, however, did display talent during the season. Teams like the Stooges, Kappa Sigmas, Sigma Phi's, AWB, and Afros, advanced to post-season play. The Stooges defeated the Rip Joints to win the crown, won the last four years by the Afros.

Intramural Sports Summary

Intramurals offered the chance to compete in canoeing, bicycling, cross-country, racquetball in addition to the traditional sports as basketball, flag football, and softball.

In basketball a dynasty of sports was ended as the Afro American Club Team fell during the quarter finals of the tournament.

The largest number of participants turned out for springtime softball. A record of 59 teams vied for the top award.

For the first time in our college history powder puff football appeared. Everyone soon learned that the girls can be just as tough as the guys, at least against themselves.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

When asked to comment on his philosophy of higher education, Dr. Quick pointed to the large sign hanging on the wall behind his desk. It reads:

Hello Sun!
You came up!
We knew you would!
You always do!
Hooray for you!

LICK ELECTED GSC PRESIDENT

Dr. Dale Lick was elected as the thirteenth President of Georgia Southern College. He comes to G.S.C. from Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia, where he was Dean of the School of Sciences and Health Professions.

A native of Marlette, Michigan, Lick has served at Old Dominion since 1974. Lick received his B.S. and M.S. Degrees in Mathematics from Michigan State University and his Ph.D. in Math from the University of California.

Lick's acceptance as President ends a six-month search for a successor to former President Dr. Pope A. Duncan.

Over 230 names for the president's position were screened by The Presidential Search Committee at G.S.C. By October of 1977 the list had been cut down to 130. Following the screening the list was reduced to 20-30, where specific qualifications of each individual were then checked up on.

The committee began their search from three different angles. Some candidates responded to an ad in THE CHRONICLE OF HIGHER EDUCATION; others came from invitations to the faculty and staff at GSC; and, letters were written to presidents who in turn nominated additional candidates.

Finally the candidates were narrowed to three names, who were submitted to Chancellor George Simpson in December of 1977. Simpson chose Lick as the final selection.

Dr. Nicholas Quick, the Acting president, will step down from office when Lick takes over. Dr. Quick will have a role in the vice-presidential search committee. Quick plans to return to the classroom.

STUDENT PERSONNEL SERVICES OFFERS A VARIETY OF PROGRAMS

"Student Personnel Services covers a wide spectrum," said Dean Ben G. Waller. Two of the better known programs are the Counseling Center and the tutorial sessions; other programs include housing programs, workshops for hall directors and R.A.'s, and the Student Union Board.

The Student Counseling Center offers services to students who desire and need assistance with educational and personal problems. It is located on the ground floor of Williams Student Center. Five counselors make up the department with Mr. Ford Bailey as director. The center provides academic advisement and tests that help educational and career planning. These facilities are offered to all students free of charge. The information revealed during counseling sessions is kept confidential between the student and his counselor.

Tutorial programs are also an important part of Student Personnel Services. Tutoring is exclusively for core-curriculum subjects. Those offering tutoring are biology, chemistry, geology, physics, math, English, and foreign languages. Although history tutorial is not offered, if requested by the students, one will be provided.

Graduate and undergraduate students are selected by the departments to direct the tutoring. The teaching students are paid by the housing department.

"Originally tutoring was offered just in the residence halls," said Dr. Lewis Raulerson, head of the tutoring program. "Now, it is offered to all students who need help in these particular areas, free of charge."

GSC STORY TOLD BY INSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Ric Mandes, Director of Institutional Development, stated the purpose of his division as telling the "story of Georgia Southern to the world." The relatively unknown division does this through television, radio, and newspapers.

Of the four departments comprising the Institutional Development, the Public Relations is the largest and consists of a director, a sports information director, and a director of photography. The other areas are an Office of Publications, an Office of Resource Development, and an Office of Alumni Development. Twenty-five student assistants augment the eleven full-time employees working in the division.

Off campus the division and its work is well known. However, because Mandes favors a subtle approach, the G.S.C. students are basically unaware of the division's existence and its importance.

GRADUATE SCHOOL, ROTARY FOUNDATION CO-SPONSOR SUMMER PROGRAM

The GSC Graduate School is a member of the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States. According to Dean Averitt, it is the only non-university school in the state that is a member of the Council. "All of our programs are approved by the National Council for Teachers of Education," he commented.

The Rotary Foundation Fellowship is a related program of the Graduate School that takes place on campus each summer. Graduate students from 25 to 30 countries attend classes at Southern for ten weeks, said Averitt.

An active member of the Rotary, Averitt said that the foreign students are taught English as their second language. This stems from the goal of the Rotary Foundation to promote understanding and friendly relations among people of different nations. Grammar, reading, writing, listening comprehension, and oral expression are included in the formal training of English.

Complementing the daily formal classroom instruction are individual tutorials, observation in classes of students' majors, informal discussion groups, and the forum.

The recipients of the Rotary Foundation Fellowship are eligible to study in colleges and universities of this country, added Dean Averitt.

SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

"Being the largest school of GSC, there are special programs going on constantly in the School of Arts and Sciences," said Dean Warren F. Jones. Over Christmas Dr. Rochelle A. Marrinian took some of the Anthropology students on an archaeological dig. Another project is one of the speech department, who produces a T.V. show every week.

The biology department allows students to help them in actual research. Students do this strictly on a volunteer basis, receiving no credit or pay. The teachers make a list of areas they are researching and ask for a certain number of volunteers.

"One teacher", said Jones, "locked some students in jail over the weekend." Some were the guards and others being the prisoners. This was done in the Criminal Justice Dept. in place of a term paper.

"Many field trips accompany the usual classroom studies," commented Jones. A Language professor took some of his students to Germany this past summer.

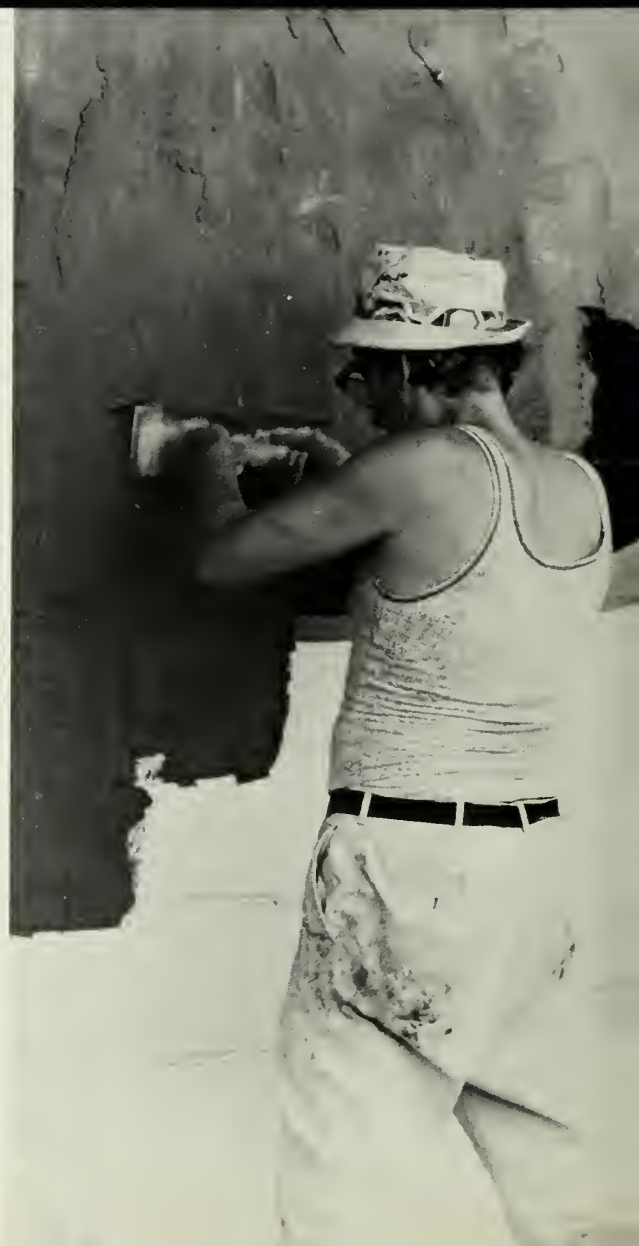

Recently a professor in the Physics Department built a solar house using techniques he had developed.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Dr. H. A. Flaschka professor of chemistry at the Georgia Institute of Technology spoke February 7, 1978 on problems and solutions in the field of trace analysis.

A division of analytical chemistry, trace analysis is used in areas such as semiconductor industry, medical diagnostics, and environmental chemistry. Flaschka talked of problems and solutions of semiconductors at Texas Instruments Company

Born in Yugoslavia, Flaschka received a Ph. D. degree in physical chemistry from the University of Graz, Austria. In 1957 Flaschka moved to the U.S.A. Since then he has served as professor of chemistry at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta. He was promoted to Regent's Professor four years ago.

Flaschka has published about 180 papers on various subjects in Physical and analytical chemistry as well as rheology. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi, and the Austrian Chemical Society. He was awarded the Fitz-Feigl-Preis in 1953 by the Austrian Microchemical Society.

DIVISION OF HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics majors have focused on some specific issues throughout the academic year. They explored both traditional and emerging careers for women and men entering professional roles. Concentration was devoted to developing leadership skills, individual Self-awareness and improving communication with others. The Home Economics Division enhanced the individual's physiological and mental health through studies of nutrition, family and child development, and related social sciences. Becoming competent in understanding complex social issues was another area in which the majors tried to develop knowledge.

The Home Economics Division contributed to the welfare of the greater community by assisting in Fun Fairs for young children, visitations to the Retardation center and Homes for the Elderly. Through visiting museums, cultural centers, and show homes, the Home Economics majors tried to acquire aesthetic sensitivity. They also gained appreciation for the consumer role and responsibilities within the free-enterprise market place.

Other highlights of the year included: cable T.V. presentations, a parenting seminar, and off campus trips. A European Field Study Course was offered in Fashion.

Achievements of individual Home Economics Majors were: selection to Who's Who, recognition for high Scholastic achievement, and substantial individual growth.

Bee farming has been a favorite hobby of Mr. John T. Rogers of the Physics Department since he moved to Statesboro. After noticing some bees around his wisteria bush, Rogers took an interest in the bees and decided to box them.

"Unfortunately, the bees died during the first winter", he said. "Keeping the bees alive was a challenge," said Rogers, determined to be successful. Purchasing more bees through the mail, he has built up thirty colonies today.

Some friends in Claxton, who raise and sell queens and bees, have been of instrumental help to Rogers and encouraged his interest in bee farming.

To help pay some of the expenses of his hobby, Rogers sells the bees' honey. Some of the honey is sold in local stores, but most is sold wholesale to brokers in Florida.

WEST INVENTS GRADUATION

For those of you who are tired of foosball and pool, the game "Graduation" may soon provide a pleasant change. After two years of planning, Dr. Robert West, professor of theatre and speech at GSC, invented the "Graduation" game in May 1977 and completed the final work on it in July.

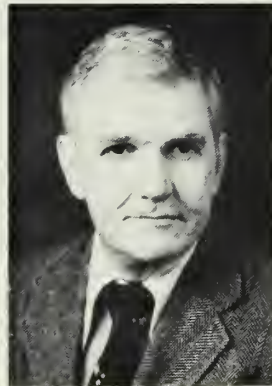

"Graduation" is designed much like "Monopoly"; it is a game of skill and chance. Up to four players enter the game as Freshmen in College and proceed around the game board until their final quarter in college is completed and they are eligible for graduation.

Fees must be played and rewards are collected in this game, but the incidents in "Graduation" pertain specifically to the life of the college student. "Graduation is not exactly a cut throat game," said West. "It will induce younger kids to actual finance and show the responsibilities involved in obtaining a higher education."

West is trying to sell his game to Parker Brothers Co. as a rival to "Monopoly". A Patent is pending on "Graduation," and West has already established a copyright. "Hopefully," he added, "it will be out by 1979."

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS Accreditation Considered A "Hallmark"

The School of Business gained accreditation in April, 1977. Dr. Origen J. James, Dean of the School of Business, views this achievement as a "hallmark" in GSC's history because it places the college as one of only 172 undergraduate business programs that are accredited throughout the nation.

The School is designated as the regional center for servicing small businesses in the coastal area and provides them with technical assistance and guidance. By July 1, 1978, there will be a local staff on campus that is associated with the agricultural cooperative extension service under the University of Georgia.

Dean James also pointed out that the School of Business has the highest enrollment of any program on campus next to the School of Arts and Sciences.

OLD HOUSE RENOVATED BY DR. NETTLETON

"The house is a fairly typical example of turn-of-the-century American Victorian architecture" stated Dr. Douglas Nettleton of the Economics Department, speaking of his home in Statesboro. The seventy-five year old house was built by Jeff Williams, grandfather of the President of Sea Island Bank in Statesboro.

Dr. Nettleton renovated most of the second floor. The upstairs had been untouched since the house was built. Nettleton put up sheet rock walls and painted them, choosing the colors himself. Some of the unnecessary petitions were torn out and Nettleton replaced some of the columns.

Fifteen rooms including three parlors and a large entry room make up the old home. One of the parlors and the bedroom over it are in the shape of an octagon.

Throughout the house are antiques that Nettleton has refinished. For the windows he made woven wood shades.

A collection of oil paintings have been distributed through the huge house. Verandas run around three sides of the house, with an eight-sided tower attached to one corner.

The huge Victorian home is located on the corner of Savannah and College avenues in Statesboro, Georgia.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Cates Headquartered At GSC

CATES, the Coastal Area Teacher Education Service, is a program associated with the School of Education. Dean Starr Miller said that out of a total of twenty-one school systems, G.S.C. is the headquarters for CATES.

The purpose of CATES is to provide staff development programs, both credit and non-credit for school personnel. Students are eligible to apply for CATES after admission to a college or university.

Through the College, students may take CATES for personal professional development, tenure and increment credit, teacher certification or for degree credit.

According to Miller, G.S.C. has been notified that its program for the preparation of school personnel has been reapproved. The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education through the Eds. degree is responsible for this reaccreditation. Programs are revisited and reapproved at regular intervals, said Miller. GSC, one of only four institutions in Georgia nationally accredited through the eds. degree, gives a professional stamp of approval to the School of Education.

DEPARTMENT OF SECONDARY EDUCATION

Students in Secondary Education had a variety of experiences teaching at Marvin Pittman School, this year. They designed and taught units to small groups of students at the Lab. school. These experiences were to help prepare them for successful student-teaching.

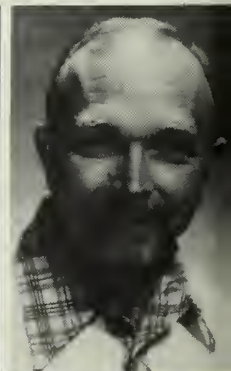

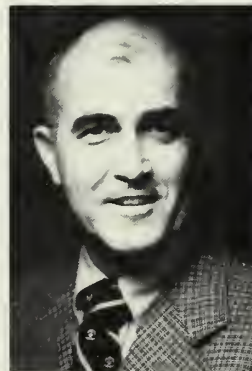

Many courses in Secondary Education for graduate students were taught off campus at locations such as Brunswick, Hinesville, Fort Gordon, and others through the CATES program. This practice allowed many teachers to take these courses who would otherwise find it difficult if not impossible to continue their professional development while teaching.

This year the Secondary Education Department sponsored a District Social Science fair at GSC.

MARVIN PITTMAN

A number of G.S.C. work students, institutional workers, and graduate assistants from the School of Education are employed at Marvin Pittman Lab. School. Some work as teacher's aids and others as office workers.

Mostly the Education Dept. works with Marvin Pittman, but other departments are also associated. Prior to student teaching, Marvin Pittman offers the Secondary Block-461, where students teach in the lab school under close supervision. The K-12 block is also offered. Physical Education, Art, and Music students that are Education majors work along with Marvin Pittman teachers.

The lab school has also served as a research project for Psychology majors. Journalism majors interview and write stories on the students and teachers of Marvin Pittman. Elementary majors spend part of a quarter in Elementary Participation. Under the guidance of Graduate Program internships are also carried out in the lab school.

Parents are aware that the students enrolled at M.P. are there for G.S.C. students. Georgia Southern students participate with lab school students, observe and do research on them.

"According to my records," said Dr. Ellis Wiley, Principal of Marvin Pittman, "we have as many college students within a year as our enrolled students. "We are here for G.S.C. students," he added.

DEPARTMENT OF SPECIAL STUDIES

The Special Studies Department, now in its fourth year, offers non-credit courses in English, math, and reading.

For a student to be required to the Special Studies Program, he must have an SAT score of 650 or less, or a PAFG (Predicted Average Freshman Grade) below 1.6. Also any other student who wishes may enroll in the courses.

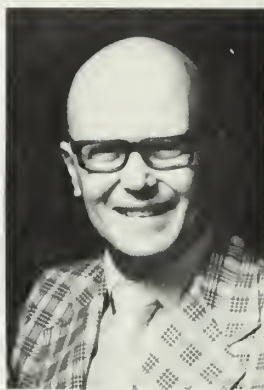

The classes do not go toward graduation requirements, but Institutional credit is given.

Classes

Late time cards, long lines and closed-out classes were a familiar greeting to returning GSC students, but to the 1,836 Freshmen registration was quite a new experience.

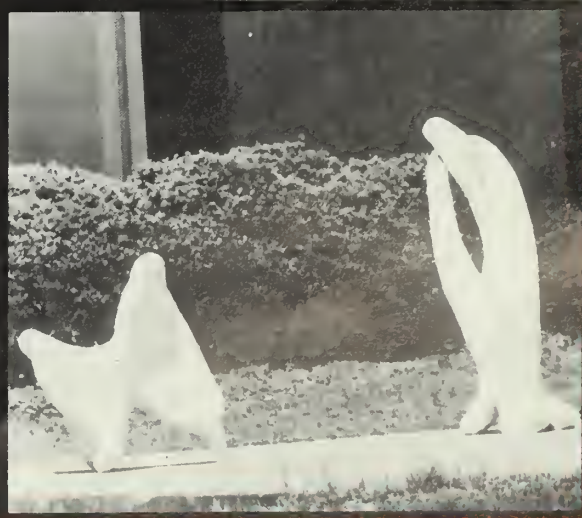

The 1977 Fall registration was the largest in the 71 year history of GSC. A total enrollment of 6,484 students surpassed the 1975 record enrollment by 250.

"We are extremely pleased with the enrollment," said Don Coleman, associate director of admissions. "We have had indications all along that we may have a large enrollment but it is great to know that we do indeed have a record enrollment for the fall."

Record enrollment figures explain the congested parking lots and longer cafeteria lines as GSC continues its expansion.

The breakdown for each class is as follows:

A Summer Treat

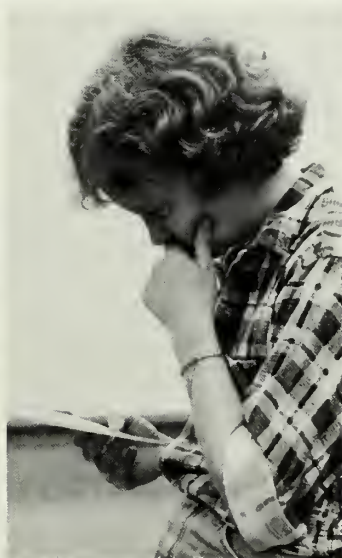

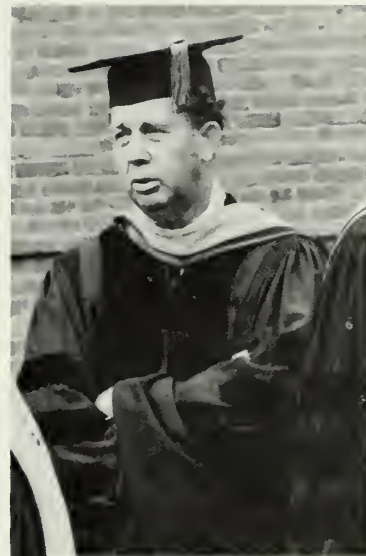

Students attending summer quarter enjoy the traditional watermelon cutting. According to tradition, the president cuts the first melon. This year Dr. Zak Henderson, President Emeritus, demonstrated his cutting technique to Dr. Dale Lick. This social event brings nearly all members of the campus community together.

“Your face is a book, where men may read strange

—Shakespeare

WHO ARE WE THESE FACES?

WE WERE ALL AT GSC
TOGETHER.

COMPLETION OF THE 1978 REFLECTOR WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE WITHOUT THE HELP OF SEVERAL PEOPLE AND ORGANIZATIONS WHICH WE FEEL DESERVE SPECIAL RECOGNITION FOR THEIR SERVICES: THE POEM "JUST LOOK AT THESE FACES" USED IN THE OPENING SECTION OF THE BOOK WAS WRITTEN BY KATHY DUNCAN. OTHER POEMS INCLUDED IN THE BOOK WERE WRITTEN BY GSC POETRY STUDENTS UNDER THE DIRECTION OF DR. JOHN HUMMA. WE WOULD ALSO LIKE TO THANK STEVE ELLWOOD AND PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICES FOR PICTURES AND THE USE OF THEIR DARKROOM; THE GEORGE-ANNE AND THE STATESBORO HERALD FOR PICTURES AND COPY; AND CURRIE PHOTOGRAPHY FOR PICTURES.
