Army Enlisted Reservists Will Leave
Campus For Service About April 1

Will Bring To Fifteen The Number
Of Students Called to Service

Seven former students of Armstrong's present student body are now in the service of Uncle Sam. Eight others, some having been drafted and others volunteering for active duty. Eight others have volunteered for the army about April 1, according to latest reports concerning status of enlisted reservists now in college.

Ensign Robert M. Strahl
Accepts Ensign's Commission and Is In Training

Second faculty member to enter military service in the past four weeks and third since the beginning of the college year in September, Robert M. Strahl, instructor in commerce, has accepted an ensign's commission in the United States Navy.

Two Savannahians, Col. Fred W. Altstaetter and Joseph H. Harries, have already taken over the classes taught by Ensign Strahl. Col. Altstaetter is instructing the classes in economic geography and Mr. Harrison, who is assistant professor of the Citizens and Southern National Bank, is conducting in the money and banking courses.

Created a leave of absence from the college for the duration, Ensign Strahl is now training at Fort Schuyler, The Bronx, New York City.

Ensign Strahl had been an instructor at the college since 1930, when he came to the college from Concord, Ohio. He received his bachelor's degree from Muskingum College, Ohio, and taught in the high schools of the state before entering Ohio State University. He was graduated from the university with a master's degree in commerce.

While in Savannah, Miss Mayo has served as vice president of the Savannah Recorded Music Society and as a member of the junior board of the Savannah Playhouses, working on all productions last year. She also sponsored the Music and Riding Clubs at Armstrong.

Miss Mayo attended Farnville State College for Women in Virginia before going to the University of Virginia, where she received her bachelor of science degree in education. She also holds a B. S. in library science from Columbia University.

The new librarian also has a good background for the work of the library, having held positions in the University of Cincinnati library and also having served as Armstrong, like other colleges, is well represented on every war front.

It isn't sufficient to send our boys out and expect them to bring the victory home to the women. Proof of this lies in the fact that seven former Armstrong alums are not enlisted in the WAVES.

Helen Brennan, Evelyn Nathan, Marie Powers, Frances Coates, Sara Henderson and Cila Stevens are in service and Elizabeth Force will report Saturday.

Miss Brennan was a member of the Home Economics Club, girl's basketball team and girls' fencing team; Miss Nathan was a member of the Inkwell and Geechee clubs and participated in basketball and tennis during her two years at the college.

Miss Powers belonged to the Home Economics Club and basketball team, while Miss Coats was a member of the Theater Board and the Home Economics Club.

Miss Mary E. Mayo
Miss Helen E. Woodward

Miss Mayo left last Friday for Charlottesville and Miss Woodward assumed her new duties Monday of last week. In taking this position, Miss Mayo, a favorite with the students of the college, returns to her home town, Virginia. She was a member of the faculty for almost two years, having come to Armstrong in September, 1941.

LATE EDITORIAL

This is the last editorial that I will write in my capacity as editor of the INKwell. I sincerely hope that my previous editorials have brought you closer to the traditions that prevail here.

I can sincerely say that I have enjoyed working with the other members of the INKwell. They are as swell a group of boys and girls that one can expect to find.

I am going into the Army at the end of the Winter quarter and Alvie Smith, the managing editor, will move into the editorship. Under him, I know that Armstrong will have one of the best papers ever put out. He has done a great deal of the work and I can think of no better than he to take over.

In closing, let me add that I have enjoyed going to school with a swell group of students. The former students of Armstrong can rest assured that the traditions they set down have been upheld to the fullest.

I have enjoyed my associations with all the members of the faculty. If the Army has the same type of teachers that we have here, then everyone can rest assured that the boys in khaki are in good hands.

Opening Notes: Any reference to anyone in this column, living or dead, is strictly, absolutely possible and extemporaneously fictitious.

For those students who cannot appreciate jokes of the Battalion and Yellow Jacket caliber, we have gathered a compilation of little moron jokes.

First Moron: My sister is a gay child. She was born in a box.

Second Moron: Gee Whilkits! It's a wonder she wasn't drowned.

First Moron: "What did you do to your forehead?"

Second Moron: "I hit myself."

First Moron: "You couldn't reach it."

Second Moron: "I stood on a chair."

The little moron thought he was going to die, so he went to the living room.

Fred: "Do you know what the genius said to the moron?"

Mika: "No."

Fred: "Hi, Mika."

Do you like moron jokes?... You do?

Well, morons usually do.

Had you heard about the moron with a headache who stuck his head through a closed window to get rid of the pain?

And have you heard the one about the little moron, a private in the army, who saluted an electric refrigerator, because he heard it was General Electric?

She couldn't get a man, so she purchased a monkey and it waiting for evolution to take its course.

Warm breath on my cheek, Soft petting of my shoulders, Little face pressed close to mine. Eek! Who let the cat in?

"Sa, that striptease dancer couldn't learn to knit?"

"No, she's been trained to drop every stitch, you know."

Lady (to instructor): "Don't you think that horseback riding gives one a headache?"

Instructor: "Oh, no; quite the reverse!"

Dean (to on-6): Are you writing that letter to a man?

Co-ed: It's a former roommate of mine. Dean: Answer my question. -Buster

"That new farm-hand is terribly dumb."

"How's that?"

"He found some milk bottles in the grass and breathed he had found a cows nest."

Fred: "Hi. Mike."

"Jack makes me tired."

"It's your own fault dear. You should stop running after him."

Have you heard the moron jokes to end all moron jokes? About the moron with eleven kids. Moron on.

She: "If I sit over in that nice dark corner with you, will you promise not to hug me?"

He: "No."

She: "And will you promise not to kiss me?"

He: "Yes."

"Are you promise not to..."

He: "Yes?"

She: "Then what in the Hell do you want to go over there for?"

-Jack O' Lantern

"Gimmie a kiss like a good girl."

"All right, but if I give you one like a naughty girl you'll like better."

"What did you do when your dress started coming off?"

"I helped her out the best I could."

-Prep

Gently he pushed her quivering shoulders back against the chair. She raised beaming eyes which faint hope and fear were struggling from her parted lips, breath came in short, wrenching gasps, reassuringly, she smiled at her.

Brazza went the dentist's drill.

Girls’ Basketball Team Ties For Senior School Loop Title

Win Five With But One Loss

By BETTY COLE

Orchide to the girls’ basketball team for their fine record to date. Five out of a possible six games have been triumphs. The final scores for all five games were

Armstrong 19; High School 29.
Armstrong 20; High School 34.
Armstrong 34; Pape Golds 20.
Armstrong 46; Pape Blacks 27.
Armstrong 27; St. Vincent Bliss 17.

Special attention should be called to Virginia Jones, captain, who by her cool thinking and fast action, plus her body itself to be a very valuable asset to the team.

Very fine performances have been exhibited also by Jo Goodin, Sue Tatoyer, and the five guards, Carolyn Young, Carol Hume and Margaret Persse has been completely competent.

In the Fall, Carolyn Hume exhibited also by Jo Goodin, Sue Tatoyer, and the five guards, Carolyn Young, Carol Hume and Margaret Persse has been completely competent.

The mixed doubles tournament in the Fall was won by Roul. She followed co-ed tactics taking: Colote Norris, Jo Goodin, Virginia Jones, Carolyn Young, Marshall, Charlotte Guest, Marie Lyons, Mary Murphy and Ann Perry.

Increasing steadily in its number is the Riding Club. This Club, which started doubtfully with approximately six or eight riders, has about doubled its membership.

A moonlit ride has been planned. It is expected that the new members have learned to ride well enough the plans will be carried out.

In the Spring, the swimming team will go into action. Just why the swimming schedule will consist of will not be announced later.

Incidentally, since every other possible sport has been explored this year, how about a bowling team, possibly?

Tom Cone Wins Tennis Title

Defeats Fred Thigpen In Finals For Title

Tom Cone, by virtue of striking victories over almost hapless opponents, emerged victorious from the men’s singles tennis tournament conducted a few days ago. Cone’s toughest opposition came from Fred Thigpen, who had likewise encountered but small opposition. Much less coveted than the score would imply, the final match between Cone and Thigpen was a good one, with both showing skill in serves and return. Cone won by 6-1, 6-0, 7-6, counts.

Possibly, the best match of the tournament came in the quarter-finals in the match between Floyd Pichler and Alan Rosolito. Carrying along after a 6-3 win in the first game, and leading in the second 6-1, Pichler failed to win but one game while Rosolito took seven to win the set. 15-8, Pichler was able to win the last set and the match by a 6-4 count.

Another good match was in the semifinal pairing of Thigpen and Pichler. Thigpen lost by 6-3, 6-4 counts.

Robert Bermond, Sammy Reed, G. H. I pley, Charles Bagg, Arthur Maving, Jack Newton, Roy Kahil, Mills Bell and Robert Neiko also played in the tournament.

A mixed doubles tournament is also under way and the last of the matches will be played today or tomorrow.

Mr. Hawes said of the departing professor, "Mr. Strahi was a capable instructor and was popular among the faculty and student body of the college. We accept his resignation with regret." He was commissioned a lieutenant.

Charles B. Kentler, now Private C. B. Kentler of the United States Marine Corps, is now under re- \n seconded by Kentler. Kentler was instructor of English and was faculty advisor for the football team.

Students Wholeheartedly Support Reopened “Nut”
College Store Open From 10:35 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

In answer to the prayers of the Armstrong students the “Nut” has been reopened either for business.

The evening before the college, a safe investment, the establishment is being operated on a non-profit basis by the Home Economics Club.

Daily hours of the “Nut” are from the beginning of the second period, 10:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. During regular school hours the business is carried on by the Home Economics girls and in the afternoon hours by volunteer groups of the male students.

The cheery atmosphere of the “Nut” is a welcome change from that of the “Dumpy” and the students have found little trouble in making place the new hangout.

Not only is there a home atmosphere prevalent but also good food which the hungry student can put away.

The Nut is open at all.

FUN HEADQUARTERS

Dr. Everett L. Bishop, on returning recently from Loyola University, where he completed an intensive course in International Relations and Diplomacy, has been named to membership in Sigma XI, an honorary national scientific research society.

Dr. Bishop was elected to Sigma XI by the chapter at the State University of Iowa, on which he received his Ph. D. degree in June, 1942, before joining the faculty of the local junior college.

The Armstrong graduate is now working on the formation of a defense group to take care of communication and liaison and to inform the general public relative to their own self-preservation in case of an emergency. He is now a member of the commander staff and staff specialist in the protective services.

Port Arthur, Country Defense Council, has been named to these posts by Robert Groves, chairman of the council.

upon by our own men. Sometimes the Japs would attack in a company with a lot of noise, and again they would quickly try to get away through our lines—but they never got away where we were.”

After being wounded and sent back to a base hospital out of the combat zone, Lieutenant Simpson ran into Lieutenant (jg) Tom Evens, a Navy lieutenant, who was on a destroyer that also had been wounded. Both alumni of the University of Georgia, the two men saw a lot of each other before being sent back to the United States.

Upon graduation from the University of Georgia in June, 1941, Lieutenant Simpson was selected student of the U. S. Marines and to attend the officers training was commissioned a second lieutenant upon completion of that course in the Marine Corps as a first lieutenant. He is the son of John W. Simpson.
