

5-8-2019

Health & Kinesiology News

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/health-kinesiology-news-online>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "Health & Kinesiology News" (2019). Health and Kinesiology, Department of - News. 68.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/health-kinesiology-news-online/68>

This article is brought to you for free and open access by the Health and Kinesiology, Department of - Publications at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in Health and Kinesiology, Department of - News by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Langdon Presents Work During the WCHHSS Scholarship Lecture Series

May 8, 2019

Pictured Left to Right: Brian Culp and Jody Langdon

Department of Health Sciences and Kinesiology Associate Professor, Jody Langdon, Ph.D., in collaboration with Brian Culp, Ph.D., professor in the Department of Health Promotion and Physical Education at Kennesaw State University, recently presented their work, “Understanding Previous Experience as an Antecedent to Providing Autonomy Support as a Coach,” at the Wellstar College of Health and Human Services Scholarship Lecture Series (WCHHSS). Langdon and Culp’s work investigated the personal experience of prospective coaches as athletes and how a coach’s experience may influence their ability to be autonomy supportive in their own coaching practice.

Posted in Faculty Highlights, H&K News and Announcements