Georgia Southern ROTC wins third MacArthur Award

The U.S. Army Cadet Command at Fort Knox, Kentucky, announced Tuesday that Georgia Southern University’s Army Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) program was one of the eight winners of the prestigious MacArthur Award for the 2014–15 school year.
Caplinger wins national First-Year Experience award

Chris Caplinger, Ph.D., director of First-Year Experience (FYE) and associate professor of history at Georgia Southern, was one of 10 educators in the nation selected for the 2016 Outstanding First-Year Advocate Award.

Georgia Southern hosts civil rights activist Joanne Bland

Joanne Bland began her civil rights activism in the early 1960s, joining Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., on the front lines of the struggle. She was in Selma and Montgomery, Alabama, and witnessed the brutal beatings of fellow marchers at the hands of police.

Bland will present her lecture, "My Piece in the Puzzle of Social Change," on Thursday, Feb. 25, at the Nessmith-Lane Conference Center.
Peace recognized for work in biostatistics and ICSA

Karl E. Peace, Ph.D., professor of biostatistics, was featured in the January 2016 issue of the ICSA Bulletin, the magazine of the International Chinese Statistical Association. Peace was recognized for his work in the field of biostatistics and for his contribution to the growth of ICSA.

Georgia Southern doctor testifies before Congress

Dr. Chad Asplund, medical director for the University's NCAA sports medicine program, recently testified before the Health Subcommittee of the House Energy and Commerce Committee to speak in support of HR 921, a bill he helped author, which would protect team physicians and athletic trainers when traveling with their teams across state lines.
Georgia Southern celebrates Arbor Day

Student volunteers, faculty and staff took time on Friday to help beautify campus and celebrate Arbor Day in Georgia as they planted more than 1,000 slash pine seedlings on the new South Campus.

On Campus...

Ticket distribution for speakers Ted Koppel, Mara Liasson and Eugene Robinson begins Feb. 29 for students, March 3 for faculty and staff

Georgia Southern professor to host webinar for National Council on Family Relations

Nineteen home games over 11 days: True Blue Week at Georgia Southern

Alumna returns to campus for bestselling book reading

In the Media...

Recyclemania underway at Ga. Southern — WJCL

Ga. Southern introduces new App — WJCL

Pendleton in town — Statesboro Herald

Gov. Deal appoints alumnus as new Superior Court judge — Atlanta Business Chronicle

No tuition increases for Georgia public colleges next year — AJC
Click! exhibit examines the history and science of cameras

New art exhibit explores consumerism, D-I-Y, and throwaway culture

Hear campus experts discuss the political candidates and issues at Political Issues Forum Feb. 24

Mardi Gras Madness comes to Georgia Southern

Department of Communication screens film about Civil Rights Legend John Lewis

Planetarium Public Evening presents "Back to the Moon for Good"

Georgia Southern Theatre & Performance celebrates love and madness with William Shakespeare’s “Twelfth Night”

FCS success paying FBS dividends for Georgia Southern — Savannah Morning News

Georgia Southern Baseball: Young, talented Eagles eyeing run at Sun Belt — Savannah Morning News

Harley Strickland crowned Miss Georgia Southern University — The Claxton Enterprise

Alumnus, founding president of Eleven Black Men of Liberty County to speak at banquet — The Coastal Courier

Alumnus Samose Mays has a smooth transition into SBCR Recreation Director Position — Bryan County News

Join the Faculty and Staff Google+ Community

GSInfo Community is a voluntary, private network designed to foster a friendly online workplace environment, encourage camaraderie and facilitate cross-organizational relationships.

Learn More >