Assistant Professor Awarded $200k ERI Grant from NSF

July 11, 2022

Dr. Prakash Bhoi, an Assistant Professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, was recently awarded an Engineering Research Initiation (ERI) grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF) for $199,998. The primary research objective of the funded work is to develop methods to produce carbon-neutral or carbon-negative hydrogen-enriched syngas. Applications of the work include power generation, fuels, and plastics.
