BACHELORS HOLD BANQUET TONIGHT

Fifty Persons Expected to be Present at the Annual Hal- loween Celebration.

Tonight when the spooks begin to prowl the Bachelors Club will be safe from their haunts in the dining room of the Home Economics Department. The occasion that brings the boys together is the annual Halloween Banquet. About twenty-five bachelors and many fair damsel will enjoy this event of the fall season. The boys are anxious to get together and to greet their brother bachelors who are invited back for tonight. Among the old men expected to return are: LaPhee Collins, T. E. Roberts, John Ellis Rountree, Bobbie Sasser, Earl Routt and and many others. The students met at 7:30 in front of the East Dormitory dresses in Hallowe'en costumes. After the game Friday morning the freshmen gave directions and added fun to the trip.

TEACHERS TACKLE ROLLINS NEXT

Supporters Expect Team to Come Back With No Less Than a Victory.

Coach Smith will be driving his men this week with one goal in sight—to defeat Rollins College next Saturday in Winter Park, Florida.

The Rollins game is one of the big games of the season and the players, the coach, the faculty, the students, and all the friends of Rollins are set to do their best in the game. A large crowd is expected to be at both colleges.

The win over Rollins will make the team eligible for a berth in the Conference.

ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT. The students and faculty are planning to attend the state convention of the Baptist Student Union, which is to be held in New York, to Europe and down to Timbuctoo in his gold and scarlet plane, carrying with him an expert pilot, Moye Stephens Jr. In flying London he told of his flight across France and Spain, crossing the Straits of Gibraltar, and climbing over the Atlas mountains. Halliburton was unusually courteous and spent much time talking to the students.

The purpose of this convention is to encourage the organization of B. S. U.'s throughout the state. All college B. S. U.'s that are now functioning will be represented.

OUR PURPOSE
Today marks the appearance of the George-Anne for the first time this year. In the past the paper has been published some what irregularly, but for the remainder of the year we intend to publish it regularly, semi monthly. We assure you we do this for the reason that the students are interested, and enthusiastic and willing to contribute, which will follow that we will have a live, wide-awake college paper.

We believe that a college publication fills a worthwhile place on any campus and feel that there is a need and use of an apparatus of Collegeboro. All the advantages of a college paper are too numerous to mention, but we shall list below some of the outstanding purposes that will guide us as we publish the George-Anne.

1. To report news, general information and specific regulations.
2. To furnish a natural means of communication and sentiment of the school.
3. To stimulate proper school pride and loyalty.
4. To reflect the spirit of the institution.
5. To provide entertainment.
6. To sponsor school activities.
7. To preserve school traditions and history.
8. To focus students' attention on worthy achievements.
9. To develop in students habits of observation, thought and self-expression.
10. To keep patrons and alumni informed about school affairs and interested in the welfare of the college.

It is with these purposes in mind that we solicit your aid and cooperation. It will be our desire, primarily, to create and sustain interest, loyalty and abundant school spirit. We shall endeavor to promote and boost all activities and movements that tend to make Collegeboro a better place in which to live. We hope that the paper will be a continuing expression for the entire student body. We want it to be the voice of the students. We want

TO THE ALUMNI

The institution is indeed fortunate that it has a large number of loyal graduates who are vitally interested in its progress and development. We believe that S. G. T. C. can name among the colleges from which students have gone out into the world, carrying with them the spirit of the institution. It is our belief that this spirit is alive within you today. With your help, we are going to attempt, through the medium of the school paper, to develop and stimulate this spirit.

We have listed in another column on this page some of the purposes of the paper. We invite your special attention to the last one, "To keep patrons and alumni informed about school affairs and interested in the welfare of the college."

May the George-Anne cause you, in your imagination, to return to the campus and again to the various activities. May it be a message to the student from the campus that it does not do this, then it will have failed in serving you as we would have it to do.

WHY GEORGE-ANNE?
Possibly some of you will wonder why this paper is given an unusual name. Therefore, we shall try to explain the reason.

In the dim and distant past a movement was started on the campus to publish a school paper. There was much discussion, pro and con, about a suitable title for the publication. Such names as High-Flyer Times, Blue and White, etc., were suggested, but none of them seemed to meet the approval of the student body. Finally someone had an "idea." It was suggested that, due to the love of praise, as its greatest asset, the paper should have a name representing both sexes on the campus. It was also suggested that, as the school was in Georgia, supported by the people of Georgia, and most of the students Georgians, the paper should have a name pertaining to Georgia. It was found that the word Georgian could be divided into two words—George-Anne. Hence, the paper was named George for the men and Anne for the women—George-Anne.

The greatest efforts of the men have always been traced to the love of praise, as its greatest catastrophies to the love of pleasure.—Ruskin.

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

(By DEAN HENDERSON)

The first issue of the George-Anne for this year brings us a printed paper. During the last two years the school paper has been printed occasionally. It is time for the George-Anne to be published every other week for the remainder of the year. By cooperation with the staff it will be possible to give to S. G. T. C. a first class college paper.

The present student body seems to be interested in the success of the college. We have a loyal group of alumni and students. The graduates are interested in the activities of the students who are here for the first time. They think of the days spent among the pines and wonder how well the new students are putting into practice the ideals of the school. This paper will help in keeping them informed. The staff wish to express to all the students the belief that the printed George-Anne will help to give a success to the paper and will serve as a medium of expression for the students. It is our purpose to make it a happy and profitable year.

We want to invite your special attention to the need and use of an apparatus of Collegeboro. All the advantages of a college paper are too numerous to mention, but we shall list below some of the outstanding purposes that will guide us as we publish the George-Anne.

RICHARD HALLIBURTON

In a picturesque and poetic nutshell here is the career of Richard Halliburton, the romantic, literary adventurer, who appeared here in 1928, and who was murdered during an automobile accident the next year.

He was born in 1893 in Carthage, Texas, and attended the University of Texas, graduating in 1915. He then went to Europe and studied languages at the Sorbonne, where he became interested in adventure and travel. He returned to the United States in 1918 and began to travel extensively, spending much of his time in the Far East and South America.

Halliburton was a brilliant writer and a skilled linguist, and his travel books were popular. His greatest work, "The Royal Road to Romance," was published in 1929 and became an instant bestseller. It was a romantic odyssey through the Orient, and Halliburton's description of the exotic lands he visited was a major factor in the popularization of the Far East.

Halliburton was also a skilled sailor, and he spent much of his time in the South Pacific, where he wrote several books about his adventures. His most famous, and most controversial, work was "The Glorious Adventure," published in 1931, which described his journey around the world on a small schooner.

Halliburton's life ended tragically in 1932, when he was killed in an automobile accident in Mexico. His death was a shock to his many fans, and his books continued to sell well after his death. He is remembered today as one of the most popular American authors of the 1920s and 1930s, and his adventures continue to inspire readers around the world.

HALLOWE'EN
Strange things may happen to one on Halloween, so superstitious folk used to believe; for they thought that witches then rode abroad on broomsticks, elves prayed pranks on sober folk, and the future might be foretold by burning over a lighted candle.

Many of these strange superstitions have come to us from our pagan ancestors of 2,000 years ago or more, for our Halloween occurs about the time of the ancient Druidic autumnal festival. This was the season of the ancient Roman festival of Mars, the goddess of fruit and gardens; so after the Roman conquest of Gaul and Britain, two of the ancient Druidic autumnal festivals were added. Later, after the spread of Christianity, November 1st was made a day for honoring all saints and the eve of that day was called "Hallowe'en" (or "All Hallows'Eve").

CLUBS

POPULAR SCIENCE CLUB

ThePopularScienceClubbegantifthyearwithtwenty-fiveoldmembersbackin school. At the four regular meetings that are held bi-monthly much interest has been shown in the work and programs of this organization. Miss Maivna Tru sell and Mr. W. S. Hanner are the faculty sponsors.

At a recent meeting Dr. R. J. DeLoach, of the college faculty, and Evron Dyer, of the State Agricultural Department, were addressed by the students of this club. The club is sure that these men can contribute many valuable features to the students through their knowledge and experience in the scientific field.

The officers of the club for the ensuing year are: President, Oscar Joiner; vice-president, Clifford Hale; secretary, Miss Martha Robertson; and treasurer, George Thrift. Students from the classes in physics, chemistry, biology, and meteorology compose this scientific society and the manner in which the students associate with the officers and committees is worthy of commendation.

MATHEMATICAl QUOTATIONS - Math Club

The Math Club will hold its regular meeting next Monday night, November 7. There are nineteen members enrolled in the club this year.

A number of bids have been sent out to the new students and the other members of the college in order to send others at the beginning of the winter term.

The officers for this year are: President, Martha Robertson; vice-president, Myrtice Alder man; secretary, Carolyn Mundy; and treasurer, and Jorie Hatcher.

Modern Mathematical Songs - Math Club

The Math Club is a sponsor of the club this year.

The plans of the organization include the production of three big plays during the year with that for a later date. How about it?

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The aims of the Home Economics Club are to widen and deepen interest of members in the field of home economics; to motivate and enrich classroom work; to strengthen the bond between the home economics department of the college, the state, and the nation; to help promote the advancement of the sciences, and to promote all-round development of its members.

This club was established on the 19th day of March, 1932. Although a new club on the campus, it has long been felt that for it. Only those students who are taking private expression lessons and those students in the home expression class are eligible for membership.

The club has elected as its officers: President, Mrs. Jesse O. Johnston, of Statesboro; vice-president, Miss Elora Lindsey; secretary, Miss Florence Kirkland; and treasurer, Miss Annie Mae Hunter; and Miss Williams.

The following people have been named as chairman of committees: Corinne Lanier, entertainment; Almartha Lindsey, publicity; Vivian George, state chairman, with Ernest Holland as co-chairman.

The meetings will be held twice a month with one meeting being devoted to the program and business, the other to a program and social combined.

meaning the "holy eve" of All Saints Day. Many of the old pagan customs were retained, and so we still crack nuts, and chop for apples, and throw apple pealings over our shoulders, and look in a mirror by the light of a candle in a darkened room, as ancient ancestors did centuries ago.

Melon: "Wind? Let's see, wind is air in a hurry!"

ALUMNI NEWS

Dear Jane:

I asked the Editor of the Alumni Bulletin if I might send you a letter to your through this paper and thereby save these a few cents. Teachers are not mean people, but it's just easier—that's all.

So I just can't resist telling you a few things about our college. What they are doing (but not why they are doing it). First of all before I started this letter, let me remind you that this College-boro moon is still tantalizing folks. Its admirers will back up in saying that this moon is far brighter, bigger, and far more dangerous than moons elsewhere. Miss Trussel may remind us that this chain is not entirely scientifically correct.

But I believe I promised to tell you about some of your old classmates, therefore I'll get on with a few shining subjects. This weekend we had several of our old students on campus it was such a delight to see them.

Hubert Dewberry, who is coaching and also principal at Jesup, gave us splendid reports of his work. He says he's being a dignified, worthy white citizen, because he believe him, because man with a double chin rarely ever leads a double life.

I also heard fine reports of the progress Doran Smith is making in Jesup (in more than one way).

Lola Burke, Vera McElvene and Earl Rountree breezed in on us Friday and Saturday. Lola is studying at Woodfield school with Earl and Vera is at West Side touching with Talmadge Roberts.

Toomboro, Georgia, must be a mighty fine place to live because four of our last year seniors are there. When Roach and Evelyn Williamson decided that two could live as cheap as one—and of course they decided to do that thing that folks most always do when they get economy in their heads. Wilbur is superintendent at Toomboro, and has with him M. Y. Hendrix and Florence Brinson.

If you could find time to chase over to Patterson, Georgia, you would surely find Della Vandallingham and Sidney Russell playing their part in that community. The last time we saw either of them they were "in the soup." It must have been vegetable soup for it was awfully thick. So that I've been kind enough to write this lengthy affair "you go then and do likewise. We want you and the other alumni of this college to write to us and give us the happenings of everybody. You know June will be creeping up and make excuses for breaking the bonds of bachelor- hood for a while. Only one show during the year do the Bachelors allow their motto, "Beware of Women," to be broken. The other occasion is the spring formal activity.

According to the chairman of the committees this event bird is to be one of the best in the history of the club. The first number on the program is, of course, a toast by the Bachelors, after which President Smith will give a welcome address. In order that all may get acquainted and to introduce of everyone present. After the first course is served, "Bud" Collins, an old Bachelors, will make a talk till which he will tell what the Bachelor Club has meant to him. After which program will be the appearance of a ghost who will tell the guests of their past and future life. This visitor will also bring other forms of amusement. It has been reported that some hidden talent in the Bachelors Club will be revealed tonight during the program.

After the courses have been served and program completed the Bachelors will be content to return to their life of womanless bliss.

on us and all will be set on fire. We don't want to say that we'll stop our efforts. We encourage it and warn you that it's a good idea to be ready for that later date. How about it?

Yours for fun,

MORE SLIPS.

Poo Ess — Don't forget to send in your subscription to the Georgia-Anne. Why wait till tomorrow? Remember that today is yesterday's tomorrow.

OLGELOTHORPE'S ENJOY Hallowe'en Program

Last Thursday night the Oglethorpe were Hallowe'en-minded. With all the lights out except a few blue lights a ghost took possession of the stage to the accompaniment of a slow, ghost-like march. As the music continued in its drone-like beat, witches grouped themselves together in celebration of witches night.

After this entertaining skit a most delightful program was given. A quartet composed of Charles Munch, Howell Martin, Herman Courson and Helen Enecks sang selections. In conclusion Kathryn Enecks gave a reading. "Little Orphan Annie." Very much interest and enthusiasm was manifested at this meeting concerning the approaching debate between the two societies.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS PLAY

The seniors presented as their chapel program last Wednesday morning the farce comedy, "That Rascal Pat." The blunderings of the Irishman, Pat, brought many laughs from the students body.

The characters were:

Pat—an Irish servant—Eugene Kinney.

James Livingston, poor, but ambitious—Ralph Stephens.

Major Puffajacke, an army officer—R. L. Marr.

Laura, his niece—Beulah Davis.

Nancy, her maid—Elizabeth Edenfield.

He—you look like a sensible girl who's going to get married.

She—Nothing doing; I'm just as sensible as I look.
