OLD MAIDS GIVEN A BREAK AS GIRLS ESCORTED THEIR DATES TO THE OCCASION

A Leap-Year party, sponsored by the Junior Class of South Georgia Teachers College, Saturday night in the Gym was considered one of the most outstanding social events that has been given this year. There was a charming oddness in the girls calling for their dates and escorting them to the Alumni Building. The attractive seasonal decorations carried out the Armistice theme. Red, white and blue crepe paper was artistically arranged, while Old Glory adorned the center of the room. The combination of red, white and blue carried out the Armistice theme.

The dance the student body gathered to hear it rattle, did you? Some very unique games were enjoyed by the student body. The grand march, an outstanding feature, was very pretty and attractive to those that did not participate, while those taking part enjoyed it very much.

The backstops have been constructed from the Metter highway to the college. The courts to the right of the drive will be difficult to pick a standout. The whole line played exceptionally well. The backs managed to twist and fight for several good gains. The courts to the right of the drive between the gymnasium and Lake Wells are nearing completion. It was originally planned to build three courts, but by changing the direction of the courts and with a little more space it was found that four could be easily built. The backstops have been constructed and all that the courts need now is to be packed and lined before they will be in condition to use.

The courts to the right of the drive from the Metter highway to the college will also soon be finished. There will be three courts there and it is probable that they will be covered with asphalt. They have already been leveled and it should not take long to get them in shape to play on. Only two of the old courts are in use now. These are inadequate for the large number of tennis players on the campus. The addition of seven new ones should accommodate all of the "Bill Tildens" and "Helen Wills" in school. It is expected that with the increased number of courts there will come an increase of interest and participation in this sport.

Students! We Want Your Contributions

The George-Anne is your paper. Help us make it a lively and wide awake publication. The staff will do its best to make it as good as you want it to be. We want the George-Anne to be the voice of the students. Wake up! Do some constructive thinking. Let it be your medium of expression. We need your support. Shall we have it.

The George-Anne

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE SOUTH GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE.

COLLEGEBORO, GA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1932

VOL. 6

NO. 2

T. C. DEFEATS PIEDMONT, 31-12

JUNIORS SPONSOR LEAP-YEAR PARTY

OLd MAIDS GIVEN A BREAK AS GIRLS ESCORTED THEIR DATES TO THE OCCASION

The attractive seasonal decorations carried out the Armistice theme. Red, white and blue crepe paper was artistically arranged, while Old Glory floated proudly overhead.

Some very unique games were enjoyed by the student body. The grand march, an outstanding feature, was very pretty and attractive to those that did not participate, while those taking part enjoyed it very much. The last thirty minutes of the party was devoted to a social dance, in which the majority took part. After the dance the student body gathered in one corner of the building for the delightful refreshments. This was one of the series of parties that are being given by the Junior Class, the Seniors have already given their party and the other classes will have to do some "stepping" if they beat these two events.

Prof: Why Don't you answer me? Student: I did. I shook my head.

Prof: Why Don't you answer me?

Alex: What was it?

Prof: Well, you didn't expect me to hear it rattle, did you?

Kinsey: I had a funny dream last night.

Alex: What was it?

Kinsey: I dreamed that I was eating shredded wheat and when I woke up half the mattress was gone.

Major Leroy Cowart was the Armistice Day speaker on a program sponsored by the Oglethorpe Literary Society. He stated that he was not an alarmist, but explained to the students his idea of preparedness.

Major Cowart served overseas during the World War and is now serving as the commanding officer of the 29th Coast Artillery of the Georgia National Guard, with three units in Statesboro and one in Washington. He is also a prominent Statesboro lawyer and judge of the City Court.

Tennis Courts Almost Completed

The four tennis courts between the gymnasium and Lake Wells are nearing completion. It was originally planned to build three courts, but by changing the direction of the courses and with a little more space it was found that four could be easily built. The backstops have been constructed and all that the courts need now is to be packed and lined before they will be in condition to use.

The courts to the right of the drive from the Metter highway to the college will also soon be finished. There will be three courts there and it is probable that they will be covered with asphalt. They have already been leveled and they should not take long to get them in shape to play on. Only two of the old courts are in use now. These are inadequate for the large number of tennis players on the campus. The addition of seven new ones should accommodate all of the "Bill Tildens" and "Helen Wills" in school. It is expected that with the increased number of courts there will come an increase of interest and participation in this sport.

“Oh, What Tricks Our Memories Play”

Thus said one of the old sages. Our absenteeism of students sometimes causes us quite a bit of embarrassment—especially when we are trying to say the right thing at the right time.

This conversation was engaged in last Tuesday when Mr. Wells was riding some girls to practice. Mr. Wells: “It looks like Roosevelt is going to be our next president.”

First girl: “Yes, I sure hope he is elected.”

Second girl: “I don’t, I had rather keep Mr. Wells for our president.”
THE GEORGE-ANNE
Published Semi-Monthly by the Students of the South Georgia Teachers College, Collegeboro, Ga.
Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year 10c Per Copy
SAPPH STEPHENS, Editor-in-Chief
WILLIAM EVERTT, Business Mgr.
Editorial Staff
Jim Wrinkle Sports Editor
Kathryn Lowett--Editorial Secretary
Addie B. Parker--Associate Business Mgr.
Carolyn Mandy--Exchange Editor
Roth Donaldson--Faculty Adviser

MORE NEWSPAPERS
The library is a store house of information. It offers a wealth of material for pleasure and development. Educator say that “the educated person is one who knows where to find what he wants to know when he wants to know it.” This makes the library a nucleus around which the intellectual machinery of the college.

We have a large number of reference books in our library. There are many magazines containing the best thought of the foremost men and women of the country. There are works of fiction and classical literature that have gone down the years as a heritage of the race. But the library is sadly deficient in newspapers. With the size of our present student body, it is almost impossible for every member of the 450 to keep up with current events by using only four newspapers together.
The students have already shown their interest in the library by checking out several hundred books during the past year. Now that the library is open for the fall, the students, under the guidance of the faculty put forth more effort to make the library grow. Should not the officials of the library put forth more effort to make the library grow? Students, what are you doing for your student body? Can they do this by subscribing to more daily newspapers for the use of the students?

We know of no better way of keeping in touch with the world and informed about the social, political and scientific movements of our time, than through the reading of daily papers. They are records of current history. The student who does not keep in touch with the news is himself out of tune with the age in which he lives.

We believe that the students should have the opportunity to keep informed about current happenings. Why can’t we have more newspapers in our library?

He who would do some great thing in this short life must apply himself to some great undertaking, such a consternation of his forces as to idle spectators, who live only to amuse themselves, looks like insanity.—Foster.

SECOND STRING HEROES
First string teams are the envy of every first team man, constantly striving for its foundation a virile, self-sufficient second team. In order to develop a winning first team, there must be a loyal second string. It is usually the varsity man who wins the acclaim of the crowd. Once in a blue moon a second stringer does get into the bright lights. The clubworker and the second stringer is often left out and the weary days when the schedule begins. He is called upon to take a lot of punishment. He plays anywhere and everywhere. The first team must have opportunity if it is to be a real contender and the second string man must furnish the opposition.

Finally the day of the big game comes and the "sub" steps into the shadows on the sideline. He is on his toes ready to go, and isyearning to get into the fray, but it is the club worker, he is not good enough. It often happens that a hard working second stringer sits on the bench for several years he is in school. He helps to make the team but the crowds that cheer the varsity are oblivious of the great part played by the man who never gets into the game.

We know of no higher test of real sportsmanship than that of the second string man who gives all that he has to his team, who never has his heart out when he is on the sidelines. He never has his club thrown in his face when he makes a mistake. He is always ready for his heart to be taken from his breast. He will never be found at the end of the day in the shadows in the days of glory.

We take off our hat to the loyal second string man at T. C.

They have been "weighed and found not wanting." These boys have stood by the varsity and have fulfilled some remarkable condition. They showed that they have plenty of "guts" by the way they fought in their game against Brunswick. They went through the game yelping and fighting like bulldogs. They were down there to the very end of the game, as they won—more power to them.

THINK INDEPENDENTLY
The recent election has shown that the American people are not an obstinate to party whips as they have been in the past. It has been shown that people are beginning to think more independently. They are beginning to be in doubt of the height where they can vote another ticket if the candidate and platform do not answer.

People are gaining the courage to think for themselves and to determine their political ideas and as they learn these ideals have feet of clay.

This is the spirit of independence. It carries over to the student bodies of our nation and especially to the student body at South Georgia Teachers College. It is time for us to do some thinking for ourselves and refuse to be led by the "call of the crowd" or by the sentiment of the masses.

OVER THE TEACUP
Dr. Bode was right when he spoke to the last N. E. A. meeting about Mr. Mann. He says: "It’s a cultural sense.

We have known some schools who have kept up an idea of limiting the school, beautifying the campus, etc., until they have found no time to concentrate on the primary work and then to listen to the problems of the students.

The teacher we like is Mr. Carruth. He’s always searching for the truth.

And we mustn’t forget Mr. Alvin A. He wears a clocked hat, boy, boy, boy. We pass the door and there’s Mac Mike. She’s always standing for the right.

And just over about 10 feet more sits Mr. Bob. Who’s on the job—forevermore.

There at his desk sits the president, to fulfill his plans would take the comittee, however, which evidently serves the purpose.

What we need in education must evidently be more concrete illustrations, specific examples, evidence and whatsoever.

We, the Geography Class of T. C. are studying geography without any textbooks. We have to turn in a verbatim copy of the textbook, however, which evidently serves the purpose.

When asked to express themselves for the next two hundred and sixty-two years, they are indeed "some of the things they like as well as those they dislike about the institution.

When asked to express themselves quite freely here is what some of the Freshmen have to say about the institution.

“T here can be no better index to the accomplishments of T. C. than the ideals of the College,” says Bill Bennett.

“It was there that more or less influenced me to come to this college. And I am happy to say, with all justice to the truth, that I have not for one moment regretted my decision. The system of administration is arranged in such a way as to provide every opportunity for the development of these ideals. And paralleling this opportunity is every aid requisite to their accomplishment. One of the most striking things of this college and classroom association is the splendid cooperation between the faculty and students in the promotion of these ideals. But, the large part of this responsibility rests on the student body will prepare them to meet the demands of civilization with better success. A man needs no more opportunity than T. C. offers in preparing for life."

Who’s on the job—forevermore.

Mrs. Lottie Reid says:

“Since entering S. G. T. C. at the beginning of the year the thing that has impressed me most favorably is the democratic spirit of the teachers and the student body. Almost everyone you meet on the campus has a cheery smile and word of greeting.

We know of no higher test of real sportsmanship than that of the second string man who gives all that he has to his team, who never has his heart out when he is on the sidelines. He never has his club thrown in his face when he makes a mistake. He is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand, whether it be giving aid on a math problem or just lending a friendly spirit that than exhibited at S. G. T. C. could not be found equalled anywhere. The most charming reason for the democratic spirit which seems to be one of the chief characteristics of T. C.”

John Glenn, who is brave enough to speak what he thinks, says: “Our South Georgia Teachers College does not seem, in some respects, to be growing enough in some ideals of its own.”

By

JOSEPHINE MURPHY

November 14, 1932

Student Opinions

Is the opinion of the college?

Do they like it or not? And why? What are some of the things they like as well as those they dislike about the institution?

“I am happy to say, with all justice to the truth, that I have not for one moment regretted my decision. The system of administration is arranged in such a way as to provide every opportunity for the development of these ideals. And paralleling this opportunity is every aid requisite to their accomplishment. One of the most striking things of this college and classroom association is the splendid cooperation between the faculty and students in the promotion of these ideals. But, the large part of this responsibility rests on the student body will prepare them to meet the demands of civilization with better success. A man needs no more opportunity than T. C. offers in preparing for life.”

“Since entering S. G. T. C. at the beginning of the year the thing that has impressed me most favorably is the democratic spirit of the teachers and the student body. Almost everyone you meet on the campus has a cheery smile and word of greeting. We know of no higher test of real sportsmanship than that of the second string man who gives all that he has to his team, who never has his heart out when he is on the sidelines. He never has his club thrown in his face when he makes a mistake. He is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand, whether it be giving aid on a math problem or just lending a friendly spirit that than exhibited at S. G. T. C. could not be found equalled anywhere. The most charming reason for the democratic spirit which seems to be one of the chief characteristics of T. C.”

John Glenn, who is brave enough to speak what he thinks, says: “Our South Georgia Teachers College does not seem, in some respects, to be growing enough in some ideals of its own.”

(Continued on page 4)
CLUBS

POLAR SCIENCE CLUB

The Popular Science Club will initiate its new members Thursday night in the basement of the administration building at 7:30 o'clock.

As the pledges enter the basement, they will be met by a page who will blindfold them and send them on, at shots, to the Lane of Terror, where they will find five caves. Each cave will contain one of the five sections.

After the pledges have visited each cave, their pictures will be taken off display at the next regular Popular Science Club meeting.

When the initiation is over and the pledges have become full-fledged members of the Club, the entire club will gather for a social half-hour.

Approximately sixty bids have been sent out this year and it is expected that forty-five of these will be accepted.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

A new organization, the Social Science Club, has been formed on the campus.

The purpose of this Club is to stimulate the study of the processes of human relations, and is open only to those students taking or who have taken courses numbered three hundred and above or their equivalent.

The Club meets on the second and fourth Mondays of the school month in room 9 at 7:30 o'clock. The officers elected for the first term are:

President—Eugene Kinsey.
Vice-President—Almarcin Lindsey.
Secretary—Hazel Thompson.
Treasurer—J. T. Alexander.

Dr. Hoy Taylor, head of the History Department, is sponsor of this Club.

Y. W. C. A.

Self-denial week was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. on the campus last week to raise funds for the organization.

Last week when the Y. W. C. A. announced its self-denial week it had doubts as to how such a movement would be taken on the campus. At the close of the week they find that they are satisfied.

Not only the Y. W. C. A. members took interest, but those students who are not members among the faculty proved their interest.

The Y. W. C. A. Tea Room has been closed for two weeks, but will be reopened soon in the old training school.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held in the auditorium Wednesday night. All the girls are invited and especially the town students.

The elected officers and the cabinet officers are appreciative of the time and effort given to them by the Y. W. C. A. sponsors, Mrs. B. K. Laney and Mrs. Alvin Hignite.

Calm and temperate enjoyment is the utmost that is allotted to man—Blair.

BACHELORS CLUB

Girl's do you know what it is that makes the T. C. boys ask for the second date instead of having to write a letter paper the next time you expect him to ask you for one?

According to the Bachelor's Club, the applications are written so that it might be that the desire for more quality is the main reason for so many Bachelor's being on the campus.

At the regular meeting of this inhuman organization several of the more experienced fellows were asked to describe their ideal girl, if there be such a thing. Now these responses were not 100% the truth as "Alex" said "The fatter they are the better I like 'em".

The writer knows, personally, that Mildred is hardly aware of her two inches of that dimension.

Bromidricundness is a good qualification. "Chup" likes for them to understand that he does not mind one coming from a distance to see him and on their arrival, have to go to the home of his dates in order to finish his work.

When the Chairmain called on Hodges to describe the future cook in his household, he justified himself by telling the bachelor. As luck would have it, "Big R" did not have time to tell all the interesting features of his girl in a few lines. His mind changed too often for him to be able to describe in one night the girl of his dreams.

Believe it or not, but Cliff Hade did not say that the highest qualification of his ideal was the ability to cook—something in wrong somewhere. Quoting "Chup," "My mate must be a dainty little girl with intelligence too much for "Big R" to understand.

(Continued on page 4)

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. of S. C. T. C. is in full swing and is carrying out the purpose of the organization for the year. The enrollment of the Association this year is larger than it has been in any year of its past history.

The Vesper programs are handled jointly by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. having the program in charge each second Sunday. In all activities about the campus, particularly those which have to do with character development and the training needed for the responsibilities of tomorrow, its influence is always felt, for its hands and feet are everywhere.

As a cabinet meeting held last Wednesday evening the following committees were appointed:

Program Committee: Jim Wrinkle, chairman; George Bowral, John Shoemake, and John Shipton.

Social Committee: Eugene Kinsey, chairman; Sidney Stapleton, J. D. Parris, James Carruth.

Membership Committee: Preston Sandifer, chairman; Carl Hodges, Purvis, James Carruth.

(Continued on page 4)

ALUMNI NEWS

Dear Jane—

I see that the College Board of Trustees has blown us an exciting news concern about our old crowd.

We hear every day about some graduate who is going to desert his fort and come back homes for Thanksgiving. If you don't get here then, we will tell you all about who came and what they said.

Guess everybody is sticking close to their work these days so they can make a big get-away and a huge break for T. C. on that last Thursday in November.

I promised you the last time that I would tell you about some of the fellows you were wondering about. Here goes:

We heard from Myra Brown the other day and she's still teaching at Briscoe, Ga.

Josie Hutchinson is still teaching in Sopermont and likes it fine.

Mildred Proctor comes to see often, from a distance, teaching in Graymont along with Francis Coleman and Madge Temple.

Miltie H. Harmon.

The classes of 1928 will be interested in knowing that the former Lucy Kinney, of Tifton, Ga., is married.

E. L. Miller, a former student, is attending Mercer University this year.

John Burgonde is holding scrimmages at E. C. I. in Graymont-Summit.

Elmo Mallard got married and is now teaching at Hendersonville, N. C., dropping in from time to time. He's far enough away to be homesick.

Amie Ruth Moore is away up in Macon.

Parnell Eackes is happily stationed at Pembroke. Yes, he still loves his dog.

Lucile Suddath is teaching at Pembroke. Yes, he still loves his dog.

(Continued on page 4)

FRESHMEN DEFEAT BRUNSWICK, 7-6

The Freshman team took a 7-6 victory from Glynn Academy when they invaded Brunswick Saturday while the Vanities was in Winter Park to play Rollins.

The "D" team, facing a supposedly superior foe, showed such light and determination that they couldn't be stopped. They exhibited a spirit that the Vanities might well emulate.

The field was muddy; so the game settled into more or less a punt duel. In the second quarter, a Glynn Academy lineman broke through and bludgeoned a point, one of his teammates falling on the ball of the goal line.

The T. C. Freshmen rolled up the field with full power, taking a yard march by completing a long pass from Davis to Kennedy over the goal line. Dobie pitched the extra point, giving the Teachers a 7-6 margin, which they held throughout the second half.

The whole squad deserves praise for the courage and spirit shown, but in particular do "Red" Garrett, Pete Anderson, and "Spec" Half deserve commendation.

The man with the romantic "used to be" love them as much as "we that are."

Heaps of luck,

BELITIA

(Continued on page 4)
DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

On last Tuesday morning a play sponsored by the Dramatic Club was presented to the student body in the chapel. The play “Dead Expener,” assembled by Elizabeth Smith, won second place in the state one-act play contest last year with the same cast. The action occurs in a musician’s cabin, where “Pa” (Bill Logan), “Mamie” (Billie Smith), “Calico” (Billie Smith) live. The rollicking comedic, “Pa,” helps out with the laughs when he continually asserts that everything is a “Dead Expener.” The other character was “Mamie” (A. J. Bowen), the son-in-law of “Pa.”

This play was an excellent example of amateur acting. It was one of the best chapel programs that has been presented this year.

Stephens Hear
Hon. Marvin Cox

Marvin Cox, secretary to Congressman Homer C. Parker, spoke to the Sociology Literary Society on the play evening when they gave an Arnisterie Day program.

Miss Burnsed, who has been a visitor to the college on several occasions, gave an interesting talk and one most appropriate for the occasion.

Miss Audrey Clifton offered Mr. Cox’s talk with a reading. The group sung some war songs in keeping with the Armistice program.

BACHELORS CLUB

(Continued from page 3)

cause if she has too much sense she won’t have me.” With his usual inclination toward not being specific, that he may wake up and find her
not be in an institution of that rank
not be in an institu-

Student Opinions

(Continued from page 2)

not be in an institution of that rank anyway.

Another reason I have for my initial statement is the lack of system which is prevalent everywhere—as I have been here I have learned no definite “cut” system. Even the school clock runs on a very irregular schedule. I do not know if anyone understands. I like the school. I think we have as nice a student body and faculty as can be found anywhere.
However, I do think the college has to increase its enrollment and change modern thought, will be forced to broaden its ideas before it can be a great co-educational institution.”

School Team Beats
West Main Team, 12-6

“Chug” Safe’s “Baby Blue Tide,” perhaps one of the future stars in student and class activities. One

(Continued from page 3)

...THE GEORGE-ANNE...

FOUR

NOVEMBER 14, 1932

(Continued from page 1)

Beasley got off some nice punts and carried the ball well. Fullerton can carry the ball much, but played a great defensive game. Spears did some of the most effective blocking of the year, as well as playing in the passing and the ball carrying.

The other backs deserve praise for their good work, but then seemed just a bit more worthy than they.
Piedmont won the toss and elected to defend the South goal. Farmer off 15 yards to Spearsi who returned 30 to our 35 yard line. On the first play, Beasley fumbled, and Piedmont recovered. Two plays were shuffled for no gains, but then a pass, Farmer to Harris, was good for 30 yards and first down on the Teachers 6 yard line. The first play, Farmer river for the touchdown stand-

(Continued from page 3)

Y. M. C. A.

Joe Wrinkle, Lincoln Byktn, Howard
Martin.

Welfare Committee: J. T. Alexander chairman; Miss Stapleton, Elma Bigger; Hughes Himner, Bill Stewart, Elmar Brawon, I. D. Nichols.

The Cabinet is composed of the following: Robert Winham; Charles Shafe; president; Jim Wrinkle, vice-president; K. L.
Martin, secretary; and Miss Ray, treas-

The delegation to Cochran for the B. E. A. Regional meeting comprised the following: Pauline Mincey, New-all Doakar, Torrence Brady, Lillah
Richard, Addie B. Parker, Sydney
Stapleton, Miss Vicks, Royce Mc-Duff and John Bridges.

Dean of Men. After going around to the men of Jim Wrinkle, vice-president; K. L.
Martin, secretary; and Miss Ray, treas-

The play was called back each time and the Teachers penalized-to gain the extra point. The game ended, he scored, to cut our margin of victory to 6 points. TheTeachers 25; Piedmont 6.

The drive that scored the Teachers first touchdown began just before the end of the first quarter, when Parer of Piedmont punted 40 yards to Beasley, who brought the ball back from his 30 to his 50 yard line. From here Hines and Bowling, aided by good interference, marched the ball to within one yard of the goal. The gains were usually from 4 to 10 yards, but were steady. Hines carried the ball ever from the 1 yd. line. Bowling dropped the extra point to place the Teachers in the lead 7-0.

Most of the second period was deoted to passing, and the Teachers were playing cautiously. At the end of the first half the Teachers were still leading 7 to 0.

In the third quarter the Teachers started another drive for a touchdown when Hines carried the ball in three plays from mid-field to Piedmont’s halfback line. Hines fumbled, and Fulford fell on it when it rolled over the goal line for the Blue Tide. Bowling missed the attempt for extra point. Score Teachers 31; Piedmont 6.

After the kick-off, Piedmont’s passing team bobbled the ball on a double pass and a beautiful cat-back made 2 yards. Another pass missed 15 yards. The Teachers again passed, and then a 20 yard pass made it first down on the Blue Tide’s 15 yard stripe. One line plunge was held for no gain, but Farmer to Gill, was good for a touchdown. The pass was caught near the end zone,” according to Coachcox.
A line plunge failed to gain the extra point. The game ended after the kick-off which “Spec” Hall returned 20 yards. He scored a touchdown, and the Teachers won 25-6.

Piedmont showed a good punter and passer in Farmer, and a good receiver and receiver in Gill. They threw their best running, while Higdon played the best game in the line.

The officials of the game were:
Cooper, Mount (George); Rounds;
headman, Patterson; field judge, Henderson.

Y. M. C. A.

(Continued from page 2)