The George-Anne
PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE SOUTH GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE.

VOL. 6
COLLEGEBORO, GA., MONDAY, APRIL 17, 1933
NO. 11

News Picked Up
About the Campus

The New Training School building is going up rapidly. The foundation has already been completed and some of the framework is in the process of erection. This large structure will provide ample room as well as better facilities for the new school. The two society halls will also be included on the second floor of the building.

A Group of Sylvania Students will have charge of the Student program Tuesday. These students will present a short one-act play with which they won the First district play contest.

Dr. Bowsdon of the State Department of Health will be on the campus Wednesday. He is highly recommended by the State Board of Health. While here, Dr. Bowsdon will address the young men of the campus.

Miss Carrie Mearis, a regional Y. W. C. A. worker with headquarters in Atlanta, was a visitor on the campus last week. She held conferences with the next year’s Y. W. C. A. officers and cabinet members.

May Day Celebrations are just one week off. Plans are already being made for the field day activities and pageant. The completion of the Cherokee sundial will be attended by those who took part in the Bi-Centennial pageant in Savannah.

The Glee Club Will Present their program in Savannah on May 9th. The Glee Club has under the direction of Mrs. Barnes since Christmas. Several solos and one-act skits have been added to their program. On May 12th the Savannah High School Glee Club will give a return engagement in the college auditorium.

Another Bird House will soon be completed on the campus. This structure is larger and more elaborate than the one that is now by the lake. It seems that birds as well as shrubbery are going to add to the beauty of the campus.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. delegates to the state convention at Camp Wilkins have been selected. This conference begins on April 21st and lasts through the 23rd. Charles Shafe, Leon Reid, Ralph Sevins and Sidney Stapleton will represent the Y. M. C. A. and Jewel Greene, Katherine Lovett and Bill Proctor will represent the Y. W. C. A. This is an annual meeting of these two organizations and several widely known Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. workers will be in attendance.

Students Begin Work on Pageant

One hundred fifty to Take Part in Bi-Centennial Pageant Thursday.

One hundred and fifty students have begun work on their part of the Bi-Centennial pageant to be held in Savannah next Thursday, which is the “Evacuation of the Cherokee Indians from Georgia.”

Miss Hester Newton, head of the department of history of the college is anxious that the people of Georgia who plan to attend the pageant and specially the people of Savannah will know of the life of the Cherokees, their manners, etc. The Cherokees were unlike other Indians of the Southland. They were a distinct and highly proud and independent people, regarding themselves as a shade better than their neighbors. Their way of life just as the whites and their dress, manners, and mode of living were very different from those of the white people. This is a type of Indian that will be portrayed by the college students.

In 1899 the federal government paid Georgia $1,250,000 for 100,000 square miles of land which included what is now Alabama and Mississippi. With the understanding that forts must be established for trading and with the understanding that forts must be established for trading and with the understanding that forts must be established for trading and with the understanding that forts must be established for trading and with the understanding that forts must be established for trading, it is this type of Indian that will be portrayed by the college students.

The admission to the play will be 35c per couple.

Large Number Expected to Gather at DeSoto Hotel for Annual Affair.

The college will hold its annual Georgia Education alumni luncheon at the DeSoto Hotel in Savannah Friday at 1 o'clock.

Miss Sylvia Perry, who has charge of the invitations, stated today that over fifty had signified their intention of attending the luncheon. Last year only fifty attended the meeting in Macon, and more than twice that number is expected in Savannah this Friday. Savannah is in the territory of the college and near the schools and homes of most of the alumni.

The program has not been definitely announced. The association hopes to have Dr. W. H. Kilpatrick, of Columbia University, as a guest at the luncheon. Plans are also being made to have the college orchestra make the trip to Savannah and play during the luncheon. The program will include an introduction of alumni. greetings from Dean Henderson and a message from President Wells on the “Progress of the College.”

Students and alumni as well as faculty members who plan to attend the luncheon should notify Miss Perry at once. Mr. Donaldson will have tickets for the luncheon for sale all next week on the campus and all Friday evening at the auditorium in Savannah.

“Taming of the Shrew” Be Presented Tonight

The Dramatic Club of the college will present “The Taming of the Shrew,” under the direction of Floris Strickland, tonight in the auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. This will be the first Shakespearean production to be presented by the students this year.

A very capable cast will appear. Bob Shell, the lanky tamer, and Corinne Lanier, the leading lady, promise some fine entertainment and a high class acting.

The other players are Ralph Gaskins, who will play the part of the father; Julia Reese, the charming little sister of the Shrew; Ernest Todd, the knife, and the capable housekeeper by Katherine Rakey; Howell Martin and Edgar Busch are the talented lovers, while Wilkins Smith and Grover Williams will supply the wit and humor.

The admission to the play will be 50c per couple.

Student Course Begins Monday

Over one hundred teachers are expected to enroll for the Spring Short Term Course which begins here Monday and continues for six weeks.

Many teachers in Georgia are teaching in schools that close April 15th. Many of these teachers who cannot attend a college a full session will attend the short session. In order to serve these teachers the college has organized regular courses carrying standard credit and adapted to the period that one can be in school. Credit is given for this work just as for other residence work. The cost of the spring course in only $5.75 which includes room, board, and matriculation fees.

The college will hold its annual Georgia Education alumni luncheon at the DeSoto Hotel in Savannah Friday at 1 o'clock.

Miss Sylvia Perry, who has charge of the invitations, stated today that over fifty had signified their intention of attending the luncheon. Last year only fifty attended the meeting in Macon, and more than twice that number is expected in Savannah Friday.

Savannah is in the territory of the college and near the schools and homes of most of the alumni.

The program has not been definitely announced. The association hopes to have Dr. W. H. Kilpatrick, of Columbia University, as a guest at the luncheon. Plans are also being made to have the college orchestra make the trip to Savannah and play during the luncheon. The program will include an introduction of alumni. greetings from Dean Henderson and a message from President Wells on the “Progress of the College.”

Students and alumni as well as faculty members who plan to attend the luncheon should notify Miss Perry at once. Mr. Donaldson will have tickets for the luncheon for sale all next week on the campus and all Friday evening at the auditorium in Savannah.

“Taming of the Shrew” Be Presented Tonight

The Dramatic Club of the college will present “The Taming of the Shrew,” under the direction of Floris Strickland, tonight in the auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. This will be the first Shakespearean production to be presented by the students this year.

A very capable cast will appear. Bob Shell, the lanky tamer, and Corinne Lanier, the leading lady, promise some fine entertainment and a high class acting.

The other players are Ralph Gaskins, who will play the part of the father; Julia Reese, the charming little sister of the Shrew; Ernest Todd, the knife, and the capable housekeeper by Katherine Rakey; Howell Martin and Edgar Busch are the talented lovers, while Wilkins Smith and Grover Williams will supply the wit and humor.

The admission to the play will be 50c per couple.
College spirit is no longer collegiate. Its place is on the athletic field and practically nowhere else.

One cause for this change in attitude is doubtless the popularity of sophistication among the modern youth. Moreover, there is a deeper reason; it is the fact that the growth of colleges into universities and universities into even greater factories of learning has impersonalized higher education.

Some of us cannot help regretting this decline in enthusiasm for our own alma mater, as the loss of something beautiful and worthy from student life. Inter-class and other college rivalry has often been called silly and some have pointed out that it points to a broadminded attitude of tolerance toward other institutions and that it is in line with the maturity of outlook demanded by our "younger generation," but there are others who take the view that what has been called in the past "college spirit" is a part of college life that has an important place and we should strive to keep it alive.

The banks used to pay you five per cent interest and now a great many of them pay you five per cent of your deposits.

OPPORTUNITY

They do me wrong, who say I come no more
When I knock and fail to find you
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake and rise to fight in

Wall not for precious chances passed away
Weep not for golden ages on the wave
But when you have a chance, seize it
At once every soul is born again.

WALTER MALONE

THE GEORGE-ANNE

Published Semi-Monthly by the Students of the Georgia Teachers College, Columbus, Ga.

Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year 10c Per Copy

RALPH STEPHENS, Editor-in-Chief
WILLIAM EVERETT, Business Mgr.

Editorial Staff
Leonard Kent, Associate Editor
Jim Wrinkle, Sports Editor
Josephine Murphy, Feature Editor
Kathryn Lovett, Social Editor
Addie B. Parker, Alumni Editor
A. W. Bacon, Associate Businessman
Carolyn Mundy, Exchange Editor

THE GEORGE-ANNE MONDAY, APRIL 13, 1933

J. Walter Hendricks was named principal, Prof. T. T. Harper, agricultural head, and a smart German woman, an old maid, Miss Schiffer, the elected teacher of development science and proved to be the hot brick of the whole organization. Miss Schiffer was succeeded by Miss Estelle Boren, one of the best women in the world. Hundreds of women are scattered all over this country who think nothing but how to run a home in the proper manner.

Elder Hendrix was succeeded by C. J. C. D'Alonzo, Baptist minister and member of the board from Toombs county, who was at that time editor of the Vidalia Advocate.

The general idea of the school was to teach boys that farming was a good business, that was the reason for acquiring three hundred acres of land. The management tried every inducement to try and get the boys to work on the farm, but all efforts failed. We had no trouble in getting them to play baseball, but you couldn't get them between the stove and the handles. One farm hand came with a "bled" shirt and a standing collar, the neighboring farmers looked at him and shook their heads. They looked at our tall Jerusalem weeds and proclaimed us a farm failure.

We put a sub-soil plow into one old poor worn out sandy field along the side of the road, broke it up and made a 1000 cakes of cotton on the acre. We went an old poor worn out sandy field along the side of the road, broke it up and made a 1000 cakes of cotton on the acre.

The board of trustees which included the governor, held its annual meeting in Savannah early in December, 1860, to receive the bids.

A train load of people went down from Bulloch county; George Brinson then a railroad magnate, headed a delegation of about fifty, mostly citizens of Statesboro, to lay the cornerstone.

The cornerstone was laid in charge of the construction plans. The requirements being that the successful bidder furnish three hundred acres of land and erect the buildings.

The state had set aside certain property for acquiring three hundred acres of land. The management tried every inducement to try and get the boys to work on the farm, but all efforts failed. We had no trouble in getting them to play baseball, but you couldn't get them between the stove and the handles. One farm hand came with a "bled" shirt and a standing collar, the neighboring farmers looked at him and shook their heads. They looked at our tall Jerusalem weeds and proclaimed us a farm failure.

We put a sub-soil plow into one old poor worn out sandy field along the side of the road, broke it up and made a 1000 cakes of cotton on the acre.

The school had its stormy formation days, but the public spirited business men of Statesboro stood by it, they believed that there was a future for it. They believed that the state or Georgia would never lay down on one of her state institutions.

These people come to school, and they and their parents spend thousands of dollars per annum among merchants of Statesboro. The people of Southeast Georgia are proud of this school and deserve it.

EDITOR GEORGE-ANNE II.

For the first time this school year the Georgia-Anne has gone to press without the editor's final touches. The editor, Ralph Stephens, has been confined to his room for several days.

The other members of the staff are all doing their assignments. We have a few lines for this week, and hope to have a few more for next week.

St. Peter is said to be an efficient gate-keeper, but he has not yet encountered One-Eyed Connolly.

The Pleiades present a beautiful appearance in the sky. Bryant says of them:

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."

On the bright star of the sky
Steeer his bark forever by.

The gentle seven.

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."

The Pleiades present a beautiful appearance in the sky. Bryant says of them:

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."

"The Pleiades are a beacon light for the telescope. . . ."
Teachers Rout Douglas In First Game By 11-2

In the first of a two-game series, ball players of South Georgia Teachers College soundly trounced the ball players of Douglas College today, scoring 11-2. The game was played at Douglas College (Douglas) Friday afternoon.

The Teachers out-played their visitor's in every department, leading in runs 11-2, hits 9-3, making 1 error less than Douglas and exhibiting a pitcher who was practically unbeat-able. The Blue Tide started the scoring in the first inning, scoring the plate twice. In the fourth Douglas tied it up, but in the sixth, the Teachers broke loose and scored five runs off of three hits, two errors and a bases-loaded situation. The Blue Tide started the scoring in the first inning, crossing the locals added two runs each, the Blue Tide ended the scoring in the first inning, crossing the plate twice. In the sixth inning, the Blue Tide scored three runs on a bases-loaded situation. The Blue Tide started the scoring in the first inning, crossing the plate twice. In the sixth inning, the Blue Tide scored three runs on a bases-loaded situation.

Fourth inning—Douglas—Johnson singled, took third on Corn's single, and scored when a wild throw from the plate on McLenon's roller to Corn, Johnson and Corn scored and Odom walked on a balk. No runs, no hits and one error.

Second Boxing Match Held Friday Night

Henry Bussey, "Cheek" Williams and Buster Deal joined Hale, Deberry and Dobie as champions of their class in the final rounds of the boxing tournament.

As you remember Hale defeated Rigney for the "heavy" crown; Bussey's the all the way through, but the title was decided by a judges' decision and the title for his weight. In the final match of the tournament, held about three weeks ago, Williams vanquished Kennedy while both lost the lightweight. So when they met for the championship, both were determined that they were in earnest. Kennedy was too anxious, charging wildly; Bussey was standing off and getting a punch occasionally. This fight was marred by many clinches.

Bussey, who had whipped Bob Flagg to get into the finals, won the title by "taking" Frank Collins in four rounds. Collins was willing to mix, but lacked the ring generalship of Deal. It was close and interesting.

In the third title match of the tournament, the third round. Bussey scored a fourth round的技术打倒了Gus Kinney. This bout looked like Bussey winning. But he was ruled a draw at the end of the regulation three rounds. Kenny, suffering from a stiff left just as the third round ended, could not make the grade for the fourth round. This bout was marred by numerous clinches.

In the non-title bout, Hughes drew a decision over Shippey. Both were willing to mix it, but Hughes showed up as the better fighter. He scored a decision over Shippey. Hughes missed too many swings, but exhibited a good left hook.

Kemp Deberry had a relatively easy time with Ambrose Nesmith. Deberry took his time working Nesmith in position and then smacking him. To offset this Nesmith kept up a steady pace and also connected with a bases-loaded double in the first round. Cliff Hale and James Hinton put on an exhibition match. This was the last match of the evening. Hinton spotted Hale about 20 to 30 pounds in weight and still fought him to a standstill. Hinton carried the ball and hit the bases-loaded double in the first round, but then Hale's weight and better condition began to take its toll. By the end of the third round it was obvious that things were going Hale's way. There was no decision rendered.

Miss Margaret Bennett, of Pitts, has skillfully operated a coal mine and a large sawmill.

THE SPOTTLIGHT

DAY STUDENTS

10. A laugh and a gurgle that is so carefree and contagious; dimples in the cheeks and a million dollar smile—red lips so carefree and contagious; dimples in the cheeks and a million dollar smile—red lips so

11. She's striking looking and extremely tall, with auburn hair. She's restrained without being aloof and what one would term as "a different kind of a girl."

12. A blond, a blond, my kingdom for a blond! And here she is—tall, slim with the proverbial soulful eyes, a happy disposition with more than her share of vitality. I respect this young darling is something of a contradiction, because the gentleman certainly seem to prefer the blond.

13. Watch out for the "dizzy" young one! Particularly this one! She's red headed and freckled faced and high tempered when you cross her. She's always just a little bit of breath about something. She always has leads to tell one. This redheaded girl goes in for all sorts of things—clothes, fashion shows, beauty contests and what not!

14. Today she's smiling and charming—but tomorrow she may be frowning and quite prouder. Yesterday she wrote a brilliant essay—but today she didn't even remember what the lesson was. On her "off days" she creates such a general disturbance wherever she goes that we consider her for the Scholarship in a reform school for bad little boys.

Everything she does is easy—else she wouldn't do it. But this fault ap- parently kindness in no way her attractiveness for she is one of the most popular girls in school.

Teachers Enter Track Meet; B.-P. L. Douglas

The teachers have entered a track team in a triangular meet with B.-P. L. and Douglas, at Mount Vernon, April 20th.

This is the first time in a number of years that a track team has represented the school. We expect the same high records of it that we do of the other athletic teams.

There are many track "stars" from various high schools in this section. We will be well represented in the sprints and middle distance races, but we seem to be weak in the weight events and other field events.

Everybody who has any idea at all of being a track man is urged to come out and practice. We need you.

Missionary: "And do you know nothing about religion?"

Cannibal: "Well, we had a taste of it when the last missionary visited us."
Mrs. Henderson Gives Easter Program

A religious concert exercise, "The Easter Story," was presented under the direction of Mrs. Z. S. Henderson last Friday morning at the Chapel bell hour. The program was as follows:

- Scripture reading and prayer by Miss. L. Henderson
- Reading—Mrs. J. O. Johnston
- Various songs were sung and the choirs were Newville School, Hotel Thompson, Helen Engees, Johnnie B. Lewis, Jimmie Hinton, Eben Yomaha, Herman Cooper, Robert Inglee, Bob Shell and Ralph Gaskins.

This is another program that was enjoyed by all the students and faculty and we are always looking forward to the next one.

Tennis Team to Play B-P. I. on April 28th

The tennis team has its next match with B-P. I. at Mount Vernon, April 28th. The team has lost and won one match to date. Guyson was to have been played Friday, but the match was cancelled. The team on its trip to B-P. I. may make a real road trip of it and play Tifton and Douglas. The big match as far as we were concerned concerns May 13th, when Savannah All-Stars come here. It will be our only chance for revenge, and already the boys are taking steps just prior to this match the team went to Parris Island to play the Marion, May 6th, and the Marion's return match here, May 11th. It is plain that we are to have several excellent matches here and away.

Tennis and M. B. will hold its annual tournament for school and college players this year beginning May 8th. Our players are eligible. It seems to us that this is a good chance of annexing a state title or two.

Open Sesame

There's another person you simply must look for. And the one who slept so much that her friends could feed her peanut butter and crackers without water. About midnight she woke up and had that satisfied feeling of having had a meal.