ALUMNI TO HOLD ANNUAL LUNCHEON

FORMER PRESIDENT E. V. HOLLIS, OF MOREHEAD, KY., WILL BE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER.

The second annual alumni luncheon will be held in the dining hall Monday, June 5th, with former President E. V. Hollis as the alumni speaker.

Last spring the South Georgia Teachers College Alumni Association was organized with over two hundred former students attending. Mrs. Clarence Willis, of Swainsboro, who acted as toastmaster, was elected first president; Clayton Hollingsworth and DeWitt Edwards, of Savannah, were elected as vice-presidents; Miss Marguerite Turner as secretary, and Rev. L. O. Dasher as treasurer. New officers will be elected at the luncheon here next Monday.

President Guy H. Wells, who will preside at the meeting Monday, will give the address of welcome. The college quartet will sing several selections and music will be furnished by the orchestra. Following the address by Dr. Hollis, several of the old alumni will be called upon for short talks.

Mr. Hollis served the college here as president when the school was known as the First District A. & M. School. He was here when the college was changed into a Normal School and was succeeded by President Wells seven years ago. Since that time Mr. Hollis has been connected with the Morehead State Teachers College, Morehead, Ky.

SUMMER SCHOOL BEGINS JUNE 12TH

One of the largest enrollments ever to attend summer school at S. G. T. C. is expected to enroll on June 12 for the first six weeks session. With new additions to both dormitories, the college is able to take care of a larger enrollment than it has ever had before. Also a new training school building will be complete to add to the facilities of the institution.

It has been announced that Anderson Hall will be occupied by boys, while both East and West Dormitories will be used by the girls.

The faculty for the summer session does not have many changes over that of last year. Several members of the regular faculty will resume their duties during the summer.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta Schools; Dr. C. B. Glenn, superintendent of Birginham, Ala., Schools; Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia, and many other outstanding men have been engaged as special speakers for the summer school.

PHYSICS CLASS GIVES BROADCAST

W. L. JONES, OF STATESBORO, ASSEMBLES BROADCASTING STATION FOR PROGRAM.

All radios on the campus and many in the nearby vicinity were tuned to catch the broadcast by the T. C. physics class last Thursday morning. The broadcasting set was designed and built for class demonstration by W. L. Jones, of Statesboro. Mr. Jones is to be commended on his excellent piece of work in making it possible to present the broadcast.

The appreciation of the audience that listened in was expressed by the flood of congratulatory messages received during the broadcast.

The physics class, under the guidance of the director of physics, W. S. Hanner, has accomplished many worthwhile things. The method used in presenting the course has contributed largely to this success. The class is conducted on a very democratic basis. Any member may at any time make a contribution. The workable projects are assigned to volunteers from the class as a whole. When the radio transmitter and receiving sets were discussed in class W. L. Jones received the assignment to build and give a practical demonstration of the broadcasting station. The assignment for the receiving set went to Ernest Holland.

The broadcasting set was assembled in the physics laboratory Thursday morning. Mr. Jones gave Jim Cherry the honor of forming the program and announcing it. The program was varied, consisting of solos and duets by talented students, and addresses by members of the faculty and President Wells.

New Training School Is Nearing Completion

The new training school building, located on the east campus, is rapidly nearing completion. It gives promise of being one of the most successful buildings of the group. It is constructed along the same style of architecture as the main college building.

The buildings will contain sixteen rooms on the first floor. There will be six large class rooms, four smaller ones and four offices for the various officials and instructors.

On the second floor will be two large rooms and seven smaller ones. There is a large room with equipment for a society hall and assembly hall. Another room will be a general reception room for the various social activities of the students and faculty, teas, dances, Y. W. C. A., etc. It will also have a cook room and equipment for dinners, banquets, alumni meetings, etc.

Y. W. C. A. HONORS SENIORS FRIDAY

The Senior Class was honored by the Y. W. C. A. with a tea Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00 in the Sunken Garden.

When the guests arrived they were greeted by a receiving line composed of the old and new Y. W. C. A. cabinets and the Y. W. C. A. sponsors, Miss Caro Lane and Mrs. A. A. Singley.

A musical program was presented during the afternoon. James Hinton, Herman Courson, Torrance Brady, Newelle DeLoach and the member of the orchestra were responsible for the program.

Those included in the tea were the Y. W. C. A. and cabinet, the Y. M. C. A. and cabinet, the seniors and the faculty.

A green color scheme was carried out. Even the grass lent itself to the occasion and formed a soft background for the girls in their picturesque dresses and the boys in their light suits.

OUR HOPE

As the last issue of the George-Anne for this scholastic year goes to press, we hope that the publication has served a worthwhile purpose on the campus. We appreciate the interest that the student body has shown in the college paper and hope that next year the George-Anne will become more nearly a "student publication" with an increase in student contributions. We would like for the students to feel that it is their duty to make contributions to the paper without the staff having to make requests. In this way, every student would feel that he had played a part in the publication of the paper.

Although all of the objectives which the George-Anne has stood for have not been accomplished, we hope that we have played our part in the advancement of the majority of them. It has been the earnest desire of the staff to do its part in making a paper that the students would be proud of and that would do credit to the institution. We realize that we have striven under handicaps, and probably have not obtained our goal. Yet with a larger student body next year and more co-operation from the students, we are sure that the staff will be able to build the George-Anne into a larger and better paper.

Following are the objectives which we have tried to keep in mind in publishing the George-Anne this year:

1. To report news and general information.
2. To furnish a natural means of unifying the purpose and sentiment of the college.
3. To stimulate proper school pride and loyalty.
4. To reflect the spirit of the institution.
5. To provide entertainment by giving the students what they want to read.
6. To sponsor extra curricular activities.
7. To preserve traditions and history of the college.
8. To focus students' attention on worthy achievements.
9. To promote habits of observation, thought and self-expression among the students.

"THE END OF A PERFECT DAY"

(By President Guy H. Wells)

Nothing expresses our joy at the end of the year like the title of the song, "Perfect Day." When we look back over the year, there are many things pleasant that crowd into our memories.

First of all, we opened up school last fall with over 400 students, a hundred more than we anticipated. The enrollment for the year is within a score of 600. All these are regular college people—we have had no relic of high school work.

Most of these students are the very best boys and girls—ambitious to be and do the noblest. You will hear of these people out in life in the years to come. Most of them will be teachers—some will be leaders in the profession.

Our activities in college have been superior to any we have thus far experienced—three champion athletic teams, good intra-mural sports—boxing, tennis, swimming, boating, horse-shoe pitching—almost everything in which one loves to engage for recreation. Our chapel programs have been inspiring and sponsored mostly by students and teachers. We have made progress toward better scholarship. There are many "A" students here in their work.

We have a democratic institution. Our students learn to be good citizens by practicing and living the highest ideals. Dr. Kilpatrick and John Dewey would find here their best philosophy of education practiced.

Is it any wonder the survey group and the regents left us to continue our good work? The college has a bright future and we hope to see most of the under-graduates back next fall with many new faces with them. We wish for all a most pleasant vacation.

THE GEORGE-ANNE

This issue of the George-Anne, coming on the eve of examinations, brings the year's work to a close. A good school year, and an excellent year in extra curricular activities.

The George-Anne was re-organized last fall, changing from a mimeographed sheet to a printed newspaper comparing favorably with other college papers in the state. Much credit is due Ralph Stephens, the first editor under the re-organization, who made the paper better every issue. Credit is also due the entire staff who worked on a new project and did a good job.

No associate editor was selected last fall, and it was the intention of the staff to select someone for outstanding work on the book. Some time ago the staff selected Leonard Kent as associate editor. Kent will be given the editorship for next fall, and under his directorship the paper should go forward as it has this year.

The George-Anne was new and many problems had to be solved during the year. One of the big problems that confronts the staff is having the entire student body consider themselves as members of the staff and contribute regularly. Next year

Autograph Hounds

(By J. M.)

"Will you write in my annual?" "Say, wait! Have you written in my book?" "Please give me your autograph."

These are the words floating on the air at T. C. now. One would almost think they were in a gathering of famous notables surrounded by autograph hounds, instead of in a mere bunch of T. C. students.

The most ludicrous things appear in some annuals. For instance Wright Leggette signs himself as the brightest student at T. C. Al Altonen importunes every one to be useful if they can't be good. Some ask that when you're in the tub to remember them between each rub; while others desire to be thought of between each lick, when you're married and spanking six. What memories those will be!

No one writes what they think. Why strip the poor things of their illusions? Seems to be the current philosophy. If a girl or boy walks up and thrusts his book and a pen beneath your chin and says, "Write!" even if you do think he's a dumb sap, you meekly take the book and write something like this, "It has been a pleasure to know you this year. Best wishes for the future." In a good many cases it has been extreme pain knowing him and as for his future you don't give a snap. He may be a successful ditch-digger for all you care.

One girl says that this business of having people write on your annual is the quickest means she knows of passing a class period away. "Why," she exclaimed, "In Mr. Barron's sociology class this morning I didn't even become the least bit bored."

In one book the following heading was observed at the top of the page: "This space reserved for so and so until Doc's history class."

Some ambitious or conceited students (would you call them) put this beneath their names: "You may sell this for a couple of hundred ten years from now."

Autograph hounds! Yes, we have them, but after all it comes only once a year. And perhaps twenty-five years from now we will enjoy reading what some one has said about us, even if we don't remember that person or know what's said isn't so. Yes, twenty-five years from now, when, according to Henry Bussey's prophecy in most annuals, we will all be successful dishwashers and plowboys.

The iceman who dropped a fifty-pound cake on the landlady's foot begged to be excused for a slip of the tongue.

the staff will seek contributions from all students.

The George-Anne will begin next fall as a member of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association and the publication here will be tied up with other Georgia college papers.

The staff and the college is to be commended on the papers published this year and all who contributed are due hearty applause.

ROBERT DONALDSON,
Faculty Adviser.

News Picked Up About the Campus

CLOSING TIME HAS COME! Already one can hear the sound of long farewells echoing through the corridors, the familiar requests of come to see me this summer, and won't you autograph my annual. Thus comes the end of another nine months of college life, and students depart in different directions where some will take up their life's work as they have been preparing to do for the past several years. Others go home or elsewhere to visit their friends for a happy vacation. In another three months, one will hear again the same sound of greetings, but this time, instead of bidding our friends good-bye, we shall welcome them back again to another nine months of companionship.

MISS HELEN ENECKS APPEARED in a piano recital last Thursday evening in the college auditorium. Miss Enecks was assisted by her sister, who recently graduated from the Rocky Ford High School. Several selections were beautifully rendered by Miss Enecks, including numbers by Chopin and other famous composers.

PAVING OF THE ROADS ON THE campus has at last begun. The entire portion of the front entrance has been completed. A limerock and oil base covered with asphalt and gravel were the materials used in the paving. The back campus is to be paved as soon as preparations have been completed.

THE MEN'S REST ROOM IS TO be moved from the first floor of the Administration Building to the basement of the building. Plans are already under way for a larger rest room in that part of the basement which is used as a shop by Mr. Bennett. This movement is the result of many requests by students and faculty members.

A READING RECITAL WAS given by Miss Florice Strickland in the auditorium last Friday evening. Miss Strickland is the pupil of Mrs. J. O. Johnston and receives her certificate in oratory in June.

MRS. HENDERSON GAVE A summary of all her chapel programs in chapel Friday morning. The program consisted of a group of songs from each of the entertainments that she has sponsored during the year. Her programs are always looked forward to and we hope to enjoy them again next year.

EXAMINATIONS BEGIN IN earnest Tuesday for the Spring Term. They seem to be the necessary evils with which to call a halt to the year's work. In spite of the strenuous effort which will be manifested in preparing for them, the students hope to keep their cheerful smile until the end.

T. C. ATHLETIC YEAR REVIEWED

(By JIM WRINKLE)

The end of this school year brings to a close the best year of sports this school has ever enjoyed. All three major conference titles were won by the Teachers. Some were won by a large majority, while one was not decided till the final game, but all were finally awarded to T. C. This is an enviable record for the teams of this school to make. It is a tribute to the coach and to the participants. It shows that while competitive athletics are not stressed, the school does stand for winners in the realm of sports.

This fine record started with the football team. A fast, shifty backfield, and a fast, hard-charging line proved to be too much for most of our opponents. Five games were won and three were lost. All three of the defeats were by non-conference teams. The victories were over Gordon, Cochran, Norman Park, Piedmont, and B.-P. I. The defeats were by Tifton, Rollins and G. M. C. Outstanding men in the backfield were Bolling, Hines, Mobley, Waite, Fulford, Beasley and Spears. In the line, Hale, Shaw, Thrift, Altonen, Olliff, Riggs, Barry Sullivan and Brack were best. The basketball squad took up the good work and carried it on. A fast experienced squad greeted coach at the first practice and he put them to work early. The Teachers lost only three games during the season, and only one of them was a conference game. Rollins defeated the Teachers here by four points in one of the best games ever played on the local court. Atwater-Kent, of Jacksonville, defeated the Blue Tide there two points in a heated battle, and Douglas defeated the Teachers in Douglas by three points. The victories piled up by the Teachers include: Two over the J. E. A. of Savannah, one over Norman Park, two over Gordon, two over Douglas, three over Cochran, one over the Alabama all-stars, one over Dahlonga and two over the Parris Island Marines. The "big four" on this team were Williams, Smith, Hagin and Spears. Pafford, Yoemans, the Wrinkle brothers, Amerson, Beall and Stewart saw plenty of service.

The baseball team could not afford to let the record die, so they stepped out and won themselves a championship. They started off slow but soon got going and then breezed through the conference, and through all outside foes. They lost to Douglas, Norman Park and to Gordon. They defeated Norman Park twice, Douglas three times, Gordon twice, B.-P. I. four times, the Marines twice and Rollins twice. The men seeing the most service were Kettles, Mobley, Slayden, Hagin, Amerson, Leggette, Rountree, Spears, Wood, Sullivan and Rhodes.

The tennis team although not in a league won the majority of their games. There were several good players in school this year, and competition was keen for places on the team. Wilkins Smith was perhaps the best player, with Shell, Munch,

T. C. BASEBALL TEAM FINISHES SCHEDULE

CAPTURE CONFERENCE CROWN FOR SECOND SUCCESSIVE YEAR WITH SAFE MARGIN.

The Georgia State Conference baseball season ended recently with the Teachers again on top. This makes two successive seasons the Teachers have captured the baseball crown, and leads one to believe that the boys from T. C. can throw that "rock" around, and when they are at the bat, pound it to the far corners of the park.

The lads breezed through the conference easily without losing an outside game. When the pitching was off (very rarely), the hitting and fielding made up for it. The team hit its stride fairly early in the season and kept getting stronger.

Coach Smith states that he considered it as good as any college team in the state, and that Oglethorpe and Georgia turned down offers for games probably because of pre-arranged schedules.

The first series was away from home. Gordon defeated us one game and one was a tie. That was the last defeat for many days. Gordon defeated twice here; and then Douglas twice here; then Norman Park split a two-game series here. After that the boys defeated Rollins twice in a non-conference series. A week's road trip resulted in two victories over B.-P. I., one over Douglas and one over Norman Park, with defeats by Douglas and Norman Park. B.-P. I. was played twice here the following week and were licked both times, giving the Teachers the championship by a comfortable margin. The season ended when the boys went to Parris Island and trounced the Marines twice. These were non-conference games.

The Teachers showed two excellent pitchers in Mobley and Slayden, Mobley having a no-hit game to his credit. Both of the pitchers showed ability to hit, which is unusual in pitchers. Several other pitchers were used, but none measured up to these. In Kettles, the Teachers had the best catcher in the conference. Although he was in a batting slump at the first of the season, his defensive work was outstanding. He cut down base runners just like sharpshooter picking them off with a rifle. Nobody tried to steal on him but once. His hitting picked up considerably before the season ended.

The infield combined timely hitting with excellent fielding. About the middle of the season that infield got air-tight and stayed that way. It would have taken a well directed machine gun bullet to get by that infield after they started clicking. The infield was composed of Hagin, Amerson, Leggette and Rountree. The outfield also combined good fielding with fair hitting. Spears, Woods, Sullivan and Rhodes played in the outfield.

All in all it was a great season and the Teachers deserve praise for coming out on top with the conference crown.

FIVE T. C. PLAYERS ON ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

ed the big problem for those selecting the teams. Klontz, of B. P. I., and Cordell, of Norman Park, pushed Kettles and Davis for the two places on the first and second teams. Pete Amerson of the Teachers at the close of the season was considered the outstanding second baseman, but his early season record spoiled his chances of a berth on the all-conference selections.

Coach Smith Commends Season of Athletics

The close of the baseball season wrote finis to probably the greatest athletic season in the history of the South Georgia Teachers College. In every success there are certain characteristics, certain policies that one must follow. Athletics are no exception. The teams as a whole were composed of young men of high character—men who had courage, conviction and manhood to stand up for the manly and fair and square thing. To this type of athlete I attribute as the principal asset of our success. Of course in all groups there is generally found some individual who does not measure up to the standard of the entire group. We had one or two of this type this year, but the natural process of adjustment will cause their elimination.

May I take this opportunity to express to the faculty and student body our gratitude and appreciation for the splendid co-operation in all our undertakings.

I want to thank all the boys that labored so faithfully and honestly with me in making our athletics what they were. I have never worked with (as a whole) finer young men or group of young men. You deserve all the credit and many honors that are bestowed upon you. If the seniors who are leaving us will tackle life with the same vigor that they did their athletic opponents, success is assured.

I will greatly appreciate it if the members of the student body will hand to me the names of any good prospective athletes in your community. Also as you go home for a sports student body week during the summer months, I beseech you to urge their matriculation at the South Georgia Teachers College next September.

B. L. SMITH, Coach.

"Hold fast to that which is good" until you can grab something better.

BACHELORS GIVE "MUSICAL TEA"

"Mrs. Jiggs Gives a Musical Tea," was the clever skit given by the Bachelors Club in chapel Tuesday morning. All Bachelors were bachelors no more and for thirty minutes they were attired in gay feminine costumes with accessories—not to match.

Following the tea, where everything was said in poetry and to music as the guests danced lively about, judges were appointed and a beauty contest was held.

Each lady walked across the stage for close examination. Miss Sidney Stapleton, the attractive colored maid was named first prize winner, with Miss Leonard Kent a close second. Miss Julius Hodges, just a good old-fashioned girl, and Miss Oscar Joiner, the charming hostess, tied for third place.

The "Musical Tea" was written by Mrs. Nelle Hines, instructor at G. S. C. W. in Milledgeville. Mrs. Hines has written a number of short skits and three-act plays. They can be obtained on a royalty basis.

Shippey, Carruth, Taylor and Thompson not far behind. The team defeated B.-P. I. three times and the Parris Island Marines twice; but lost to an all-star team from Savannah twice. Tennis gained many fans at the college this year and we are looking forward to a championship team next year.

The track team in its only competition went down before B.-P. I. Lack of training and coaching were responsible. The men composing the team were Davis, Hinton, Deal, Williams, Anderson, Collins and Smith. Next year we hope to develop a real track team and take on anybody who is not afraid of getting beat.

All in all, it has been a great year for athletics at the school. Everybody has tried to co-operate in making it a good year and the players all come through to win.

More power to T. C.!

NEW TRAINING SCHOOL NEARING COMPLETION

There will be a boiler room with showers and the building will be steam heated throughout.

The new project training school will be under the direction of Mr. W. L. Downs, now at George Peabody College for Teachers. We are extremely fortunate in having so noble a personage as Mr. Downs as a faculty member. Other members of the training school faculty will be Miss Donovan, Miss Gerdine, Miss Campbell and Miss Wood.

This marks a new era in the history of South Georgia Teachers College. This new experiment in teacher training can not but prove successful under such excellent direction.
