Governor’s Commendation for Customer Service
January 29, 2008
Merryll S. Penson, Executive Director of Library Services for the University System of Georgia, has written to extend her congratulations to those involved with the statewide GIL Express service, which allows faculty, staff, and students to order circulating books directly from any USG Library. The GIL Express Team has received Georgia’s Excellence Award of the Year, and Henderson Library’s own Ms. Debbie DeVage is specifically named in the announcement. This commendation recognizes meritorious actions that enhance the public image of customer service or improve the way customer service is provided in Georgia. Recipients will receive a certificate of commendation signed by the Governor. Congratulations to everyone involved with GIL Express at Henderson Library!

WorldCat in Facebook
January 29, 2008
Here’s a nifty Facebook application which will allow you to search library catalogs worldwide, including those nearest you. WorldCat is the same database that librarians use for identifying sources for interlibrary loans. It’s available freely online at http://worldcat.org/ You can add it to your Facebook page here (link updated 5-23-08).
