College Golf Links Near Completion

As a unit in the present program of physical education, a nine-hole golf course is being constructed on the college campus.

The course is to occupy that section of land to the left of the front campus and drive. It is a regulation nine-hole course, being about 2,500 yards in length. From a look at the plans, it appears that par will be 33.

The holes vary in length from 170 yards to 425 yards. Three of them are par 3s.

The fairways are being cut and roughs are being cleared of heavy brush. Tees and greens are almost complete.

A golf course has been needed for some time, and quite a few students should avail themselves of the opportunity to learn the grand old Scotch game.

College Purchases Band Instruments

The college has purchased fifteen band instruments to be used at the disposal of students interested in the college band or orchestra.

The school believes that music is the background of a cultural education and thus gives students a chance to develop their musical talents.

During the past year the student body has shown much interest in the college band, but this year with co-operation and encouragement from the administration, it is believed that a bigger and better band will be organized.

Good Morning!

Good morning! For the sun is shining overhead, and the love of God is shining in our hearts. So let's smile and say, "good morning" and thank God for another day to be happy in.

And let us each make a perfect day—like an exquisite cameo, small but complete in its perfection, leaving nothing undone to make it a perfect whole.

Let us plan it carefully and live it prayerfully, as if it were our last. Let us make each tiny moment a golden link to bind it to the next. Let us make each hour a wondrous chain of sweet, sincere endeavor.

If we are to be happy with the spontaneous joy of deep-breathed gladness, we must be busy, and not only busy, but busy serving, for service is life's most glorious privilege.

To serve we must be worthy—forgetting self in great desire to help—and being worthy, keeps us busy. And so let us say, "good morning, and may we have a busy day!"

LET'S HAVE AN ANNUAL.

The time has come again when the students begin making faculty members and each other whether or not there will be an annual. It has been the custom in the past for the three upper classes to publish a yearbook each scholastic year. However, for the past two years there has been a hesitancy on the part of some in giving their support to an annual. Of course, we want an annual and it is up to the students whether or not we have a bigger and better annual or just another bound volume with just a few pictures and remembrances.

Let's try to make the annual this year a student's book with the faculty as advisors. This can be done by everybody volunteering to do his or her part and not waiting to be put on the staff. The faculty advisory will then be more eager to help a staff which co-operates perfectly.

It is not for an expensive annual which we are puling, but it is for a creditable book which will furnish many a happy and pleasant memory in the future and one which everybody can rightfully say, "I had a part."

Let's stop thinking about whether or not we want an annual, because the intellectual and college life is not circulation. We can have in our keeping a remembrance of the little pleasant things that happened otherwise.

The George-Anne is 100% for a good annual this year.

The conversation was lagging and he began all of his social graces into service.

"Did you know," he asked brightly, "that I can imitate any bird you can name?"

"Indeed," she said. "Suppose you start with a honing pigeon."

THE GEORGE-ANNE

Freshmen be present for the activities of Freshmen Week. This will greatly facilitate matters by avoiding some confusion that results from late entrance.

The George-Anne wishes to extend sympathy to Martha Robertson in the loss of her mother.

The masquerade ball sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. in the gym last Saturday night was a great success.

The annual bocce and pep-meet before our first home football game was staged Thursday night.

The orchestra delightfully entertained in chapel with a program very original in its presentation, reflecting much credit on all those taking part.

The Sunday schools of the various churches are doing much to promote part.

DR. DANIELS' ADDRESS

The address of Dr. Daniel from Clemson was one that sparkled with satisfying humorous expressions. This southern Will Rogers gave his subject "What the World Needs" in such a world he described! He would make the world better by making it laugh. Dr. Daniel makes people laugh and think at the same time. The laughing and thinking culture is the kind students should get at T. C. Distinguished speakers who give dramatic addresses on subjects that will cause greater enjoyment of life is what we need.

The Snooper

Howdy students! Everybody ready for the most authentic dirt dinner anywhere. O.K., here goes.

A certain member of the faculty was no end nonchalant the other day when he made a break before some students. Having recently purchased a new car whose doors open opulently from his old one, he grabbed a hinge instead of the door handle. Hearing a snicker and realizing his mistake, he immediately began fickling imaginary dust from the car as if that had been his sole intention all the while.

What to do when stuck? This important problem was recently solved at one of the dances in the gym in quite an original manner. After the second dance had ended and neither one had said a word, the girl brightly asked, "Do you like dogs?"

The first freshman romance seems to be a rather one-sider affair. He has her pin, and she has his ring, but things aren't going so smoothly. Methinks the lady's ardor is cooled. As a hint I'll tell you that the girl is a brunette house council member.

I hear that Miss Vassy is trying to beat Aunt Sophie's time by feeding the boys when they call. She must work on the principle that "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

D. L. D.'s

The D. L. D.'s met Saturday night in the day student's room in the East Dormitory. The meeting was called together by the president and plans made for a steak fry. The new members are Katherine Melton, Virginia Thurman and Louise Tomeran. Miss Small is the sponsor.

B. F. W. C.

The Boys' Freshman Week Committee met Monday night to plan the activities of Freshman Week. This will definitely be a rather one-sided affair. His hands are in her ring, and things aren't going so smoothly. Methinks the lady's ardor is cooled. As a hint I'll tell you that the boy is a Brunette house council member.

I hear that Miss Vassy is trying to beat Aunt Sophie's time by feeding the boys when they call. She must work on the principle that "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."
