

Georgia Southern University

Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

---

The George-Anne

Student Media

---

10-30-1933

The George-Anne

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "The George-Anne" (1933). The George-Anne. 100.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne/100>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Media at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in The George-Anne by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

The George-Anne

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE SOUTH GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE

VOL. 7

COLLEGEBORO, GA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1933

NO. 3

OUR COLLEGE

NEWS ... VIEWS

President Wells attended several of the regional G. E. A. meetings last week.

The literary societies are getting lined up for the fall term debate. Come on, teams, we want some competition.

Miss Caro Lane and Mr. Barron are the faculty members who have conducted chapel lately.

The Math Club will initiate its new members tonight. Those receiving are: John Herrington and Margaret Owens from the Calculus class; John Gaissert, J. T. Alexander, J. D. Cherry, Fleming Roach, Hershel Sessions, Gordon Fountain from the Analytic class.

Social life at T. C. is on the threshold of a new era if the precedent set by the reception last Saturday night is carried out.

A delegation of students will represent the college at the B. S. U. convention at Bessie Tift College next Friday through Sunday.

Miss Sophia reports no patients in West Dormitory.

Coach has at last succeeded in arousing quite a bit of enthusiasm within his intra-mural league.

Mrs. Barnes and a party composed of Sallie Mae Davis, Sara Doerner and Lourine Nichols are away on a visit to the World's Fair.

Mr. Winburn has returned from Charlotte, N. C., where he went to see his daughter, Miss Bess Jones Winburn, who played two leading roles, those of Kathleen Dungannon and Moonyeen Clare, in a stage production of "Smilin' Through." The newspapers gave Miss Winburn much praise for her remarkable talent and ability. Congratulations, Mr. Winburn.

Dean Henderson had charge of vesper October 22.

Dining hall assignments for the second six weeks will be made this week, effective probably Wednesday.

"Hurrah! The circus has come to town!" T. C. folks experienced again the thrill of monkeys, clowns, balloons and peanuts last Friday night. "And a good time was had by all!"

If variety is the spice of life, we are learning to depend on the music department for our spice when it comes to chapel programs. Last Friday morning this department enter-

(Continued on page 2)

"THE PRETENDER" BE GIVEN FRIDAY

ANITA TULLY AND BERGMANN PLAYERS NEXT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY EVENINGS.

As a double feature of its regular lyceum schedule, the College will present two attractions this week—on Friday evening, November 3rd, "The Pretender," and on Saturday evening, November 4th, "She Stoops to Conquer." These productions will be rendered by Miss Anita Tully and the Bergmann Players.

This company is the same that has supported Miss Tully on the company's trans-continental tours of the colleges and universities of America. This is the Players' tenth season under the personal direction of Gene Bergmann, and it is estimated that they have given over 3,000 performances, sometimes giving as many as three in one day at that many institutions.

Anita Tully has played the lead roles in a number of New York productions, namely "Daughter of the Sun," Rachel Crother's "39 East" and others. She was at one time a member of the famous Washington Square Players in New York and supported the late Robert B. Mantell in Shakespearean repertoires. Miss Tully ranks among our most gifted actresses of today, having at her command a gamut of emotion ranging through

(Continued on page 3)

Miss Lane Sponsors New Health Service

The health of every student on T. C.'s campus will be more carefully guarded this year than in previous years.

A physical examination is required of every student enrolled and smallpox and typhoid vaccination is also compulsory. For this work an examination room has been provided adjoining Miss Lane's office in the gymnasium. This room is fully equipped with an examination table, supply cabinet, scales and other necessary supplies. There is also an entrance and waiting room for both the young women and the young men.

A doctor is in Miss Lane's office every afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock, not only for the purpose of giving the physical examination, but also to advise students about certain physical deficiencies. This medical service is provided for by a part of the student activity fee.

The administration is very anxious that every student co-operate in this new venture and avail themselves of the opportunities offered by this new health service. The persons connected with this new project would also appreciate suggestions from anyone so that T. C. can be the most healthful spot in Georgia.

Blue Tide to Invade Rollins This Week

Our blue and white-clad grid-iron warriors depart Friday for their first intersectional battle of the year—that with Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., Saturday night. The Teachers, losers by a score of 12-0 in the game of last year, are decided favorite to take it on the chin again this season.

Rollins has been defeated but once in two years—and got sweet revenge for that two weeks ago.

We are the under-dog. But, Teachers, WE WANT THEIR SCALPS! You have a great record and a good team. We are sending you away to win! BEAT ROLLINS!

HALLOWE'EN FETE PROVES A SUCCESS

The Woman's Athletic Association was host to the student body and faculty at a most enjoyable Halloween carnival Saturday night, October 28, in the gymnasium.

The gymnasium was attractively decorated throughout with orange and black streamers, jack-o-lanterns, cats, witches and bright marigolds. The college orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

After assembling in the gymnasium the guests were carried by the pool where a weird boatman rode each across the water in a creaky boat to the fortune teller. Here a witch unraveled the fortunes for each person from her ball.

Having their fortune revealed, the guests then entered the gymnasium by the basement, where they met ghosts, skeletons and witches galore in the "chamber of horrors." Each person was invited to feel the dead man's eyeballs and smell grandpa's liver.

The next feature was the introduction of Bluebeard and his seven wives. Each wife told horrifying stories. From here the "haunted house," with its story of murder and its many ghosts, became the next attraction.

Refreshments, consisting of candied apples, peanuts and candy were served the guests in the shadows down by Lake Wells. After refreshments, dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

This well planned and cleverly carried out party was one of the best social affairs of the year, and much praise is due the members of the Woman's Athletic Association for their work.

He—Do you really love me or do you think you do?

She—Why of course I do, I haven't done any thinking yet.

DR. CARVER WILL BE HERE TUESDAY

NOTED NEGRO EDUCATOR FROM TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE WILL SPEAK AT CHAPEL.

Dr. George Washington Carver, director of the department of agricultural Research of Tuskegee Institute and one of the most noted chemists of the entire Southland, will be the speaker at chapel Tuesday morning.

This chapel lecture should prove the most beneficial of any yet, since Dr. Carver has had such a colorful career. He was born in Missouri, the son of slave parents, and was kidnapped and carried into Arkansas. Although he was bought back from his owners for a horse valued at three hundred dollars, he never saw his parents again.

Dr. Carver worked his way through high school and is a graduate of Iowa State College and the Menchianic Arts. He first taught at this college and has been a teacher at Tuskegee Institute since 1896. He was accorded membership in the Royal Society of Arts, London, in 1919. In 1923 he was awarded the Signarm medal. Recently he was given a prize of fifty thousand dollars for some outstanding work in scientific research, which prize he returned, saying that he enjoyed the work too much.

We are indeed fortunate in having such a man as Dr. Carver come to us and everyone should take advantage of the opportunity by hearing him.

Athletic Association Has Been Organized

The Woman's Athletic Association which was organized on our campus by Miss Caro Lane held its first meeting of the year Monday night for the preparation of this year's work.

The officers are:
President—Helen Oliff.
Vice-President — Mary Margaret Blitch.
Secretary and Treasurer—Kathryn Yeomans.

Swimming Director—Mary Wolff.
Basketball Director—Blair Salter.
Volleyball Director—Nina Pye.
Tennis Director—Virginia Edenfield.
Soccer—Open.

The purpose of the association is to promote athletics for all the young women of the campus instead of only a few.

Much enthusiasm was shown for this type of work last year and with this competent group of leaders and the new material in the physical education department there should be an incentive for every girl to win as a token, one of the bars offered by the association for efficiency and all-around interest.

THE GEORGE-ANNE

Published Semi-Monthly by the Students of the South Georgia Teachers College, Collegeboro, Ga.

Subscription Price
$1.00 Per Year 10c Per Copy

LEONARD KENT .....Editor
J. W. Riggs .....Business Manager
Helen Olliff..Asst. Business Manager
J. D. Purvis ....Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

Josephine Murphy ...Feature Editor
Jim Wrinkle .....Sports Editor
Charlotte Taylor .....Social Editor
Louise Quantock ...Exchange Editor
Addie B. Parker .....Alumni Editor
James Chapman .....Freshmen
George Carter .....Reporters
Charles Sheppard .....Sophomore
George Boswell .....Reporters
Alton Ellis .....Typist
Marvin McKneely .....Typist

Robt. Donaldson ....Faculty Advisor

FOR A BETTER PLACE
TO LIVE

The George-Anne wishes to express appreciation to the organizations which are trying to improve the beauty as well as the cleanliness of our campus. The student council is especially concerned about the physical life of the college and is trying to promote such student interest toward the development of a healthful and beautiful campus.

However, there are some things which could be improved immediately. Everyone should co-operate with everyone else in trying to get rid of the mosquitoes which infest our rooms at night. Something could be done with the lake located below Lake Wells—so far this second body of water has been merely a breeding place for frogs and mosquitoes. An oil cover could be put on top of the water. And thus destroy the breeding places. This is not the only place, however, where mosquitoes are breeding, but it is one of the sources. If you see a tin container holding water, empty the contents and punch holes in the bottom of the can. Be a member of the brigade that is going to make our campus a healthy place to live.

Then, too, do your part in keeping the grounds free from rubbish and papers of all kinds—place your papers in one of the numerous paper containers. Once a spirit of a "clean campus" is instilled in the students we can be assured of one of the most beautiful spots anywhere.

We feel that the pile of boards and radiators and other undesirable and detracting objects behind the gymnasium could be moved or destroyed. This would especially add to the view one gets from the gym looking toward the new golf course. There is no reason why some other place shouldn't be more suitable for this rubbish. We offer this as a suggestion which we hope will go into effect.

ALMA MATER

One of the greatest things the students could do in order to cultivate more school spirit is to learn the Alma Mater. There is no better place to do this than in chapel. You do not have to be a recognized singer to be able to sing the school's song. When you hear the band start playing T. C.'s song, which embodies the very soul of the institution, stand up and sing.

For the convenience of everybody, the following are the words of the Alma Mater:

ALMA MATER

I

Down among the murmuring pines,
Where all nature smiles,
Old T. C. holds up a standard,
Known for miles and miles.

Chorus:

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward,
Ne'er her standard fail,
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail to T. C. All hail.

II

From the blue and broad Atlantic,
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting for old T. C.'s spirit;
May she ever grow.

Contemporary Comment

COLLEGE JOURNALISM

"You must live with your conscience, and a newspaperman or writer without a conscience is a worse menace than a smallpox epidemic." This is a quotation from the current number of the Service Bulletin, a publication of the National College Press.

College journalism, to the minds of a great many people both on campuses and off them, seems to symbolize a dangerous, vicious thing—the epitome of flaming youth. The college publication and its staff is thought of as a sort of literary volcano, held peculiarly capped and subdued, per haps by faculty supervision and censorship, but ready at all times to pour forth seething torrents of radicalism and obscenity. The staff's intention, as these people see it, is to shock, to destroy, and to make mockery of sacred things.

To the professional fault-finder, probably the very impartiality of modern college reporting is a sign of its utter depravity. Because streamers do not cry out that the participants in the latest riot are hoodlums, the interpretation is made that the college paper approves of what has been done. Its opinion expressed, save only when an occasional attack is launched by over-zealous editorial writers upo some long established institution. Cries of "Un-American! Radical, Red Criminal!" are then the knockers' chorus.

If what has been said against it is true, how is it then that such a statement as the one quoted at the beginning of this article can be found in a publication issued by leading college papers merely for circulation among themselves? Are consciences still extant in American colleges?

College journalism does preserve a good conscience. It preserves, too,

The Real Meaning
Of Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en, the evening of October 31st, for young people a time of gayety and pranks, a night to play at being witches, ghosts and fairies. That evening is so-called because it is the eve of the Christian festival of All Saints, which fall on November 1st. The name means Holy Eve, and originally set apart, as Lowell expressed it in his poem, "All Saints," to honor the memory of—

All saints—the unknown good that rest

In God's still memory folded deep.
The bravely dumb who did their deed,

And scorned to blot it with a name;
Men of the plain heroic breed,
That loved Heaven's silence more than fame.

The building of bonfires, cracking of nuts, bobbing for apples floating in tubs of water, and telling of fortunes and ghost stories, which are now Hallowe'en customs, are all relics of paganism. About thirteen centuries ago, pagans celebrated November 1st as "All Spirits Day," when spirits, both good and evil, were believed to be on earth. The Druids also celebrated their harvest festival about that time, and many strange ceremonies were performed. Even after the pagans adopted Christianity they still observed many of their old customs, including those which have survived as the Hallowe'en diversions of today. In past years the ceremonies peculiar to the occasion in Scotland were of a highly superstitious nature, and Burns humorously described them in his poem, "Hallowe'en."

AUTUMN PRECEDENCE

The laughter of stars
Grows suddenly cold,
The pale hands of the moon,
With faint, feeble hold
On the dawn give way
To the crisp, burnished gold
Of an autumn day.

OUR COLLEGE

(Continued from page 1)

tained with the following program: Duet, Helen Enecks and Polly Mincey; Sonta-Mozart, Marie Lang; second piano, Mrs. Barnes; vocal solo, James Townsend, accompanied by Mary Townsend; two piano duet, Leland Cox and S. D. Duncan; piano duet, Mattie Cain and Helen Godbee, saxophone solo, Shelby Monroe, accompanied by Helen Enecks; "Keep on Hopin'," directed by Mrs. Henderson.

OUTSTANDING BOOKS

(Continued from page 3)

New York City. Unfolded within its pages are the scandals, wastes, political deals and misdeals of Tammany Hall under Wood, Tweed, Kelley, Croaker and Murphy. Tammany that is today one of the biggest factors in the politics of the United States.

a certain idealism. These very good qualities give to it the urge to right wrongs and to campaign against the false and the deceitful. They may—and they occasionally do—lead it into dangerous ways, but these things and not the desire for goods or for power are the college journalism of today.

.. Poet's Corner ..

TO ROOSEVELT

Absolute knowledge have I none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son

Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter just last week,
Written in the finest Greek,
From a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo,
Who sad the negroes in Cuba knew
Of a colored kid in a Texas town
Who got it straight from a circus clown

That a man in Klondike heard the news

From a gang of South American Jews
Of some one in Borneo
Who calimed to know

Of a swell society female fake
Whose mother-in-law would undertake

To prove that her seventh husband's sister's niece

Had stated in a printed piece
That she has a son who has a friend
Who knows when the depression is going to end.

The Spotlight

No. 5

Nearly every time you see him he is busy at something because he is a very business-like person and knows how to make the most of time. And yet there are times when he is the most unconcerned person imaginable, especially when dancig or "on a date." Having a good time is one of his main objects in life, but he is not shallow-minded. He possesses the most valuable traits of character that anyone could wish for: ambition, ability, courage and leadership. He holds several responsible positions on the campus and holds them well. He has many friends, is a good mixer and a member of a fraternity and the "Bachelors' Club." He takes a major part in all literary activities, debating, plays and the school paper. He would be an asset to any campus and we are extremely proud to have him here.

No. 6

When someone wants music they immediately ask, "Where is she?" As a matter of fact she has become a standard by which other pianists on the campus are measured. She is especially good on popular music and has played over the radio several times. Her music is her life and she believes in getting the most out of a piano. But there is another side. She is extremely fond of good music and listens to it every time the opportunity presents itself. Everything that is beautiful brings from her an exclamation of joy. One of her hobbies is the movies, which she attends regularly. She has many friends and is to them what a friend could be. Her greatest aspiration is to become a famous radio star and she certainly has the ability. Let's all wish her luck.

One of the nice things about home is that it gives you some place to wish you were when you are away.

SPORTS

B.-P. I. ADDED TO PROFS' VICTORIES

OPPOSING TEAM HELD TO A SCORE OF 39-13 BY TEACHERS' POWERFUL ELEVEN.

An inspired Brewton-Parker football team out-drove, out-fought and out-played the strong Teachers' eleven here Friday, but bowed in defeat by a score of 39-13 in a game featured by two dazzling runs of more than sixty yards each by Hines, the Teachers' half-back.

On the first play of the game, Friedman, hard-driving Brewton-Parker back, threw a scare into the Blue Tide by dashing through center for twenty-five yards.

The first period went scoreless, but early in the second, Anderson, who had placed the ball deep in Brewton-Parker territory by a twenty-five-yard pass to Spears and a run of fifteen yards, went over for a touchdown. Martin's kick was good.

Spears swept around left end for a score made possible by Riggs' recovery of a Brewton-Parker fumble and the visitors drove from mid-field to a touch down over left tackle by Friedman—the first time the Teacher's line has been crossed this year. Mathews' end run was good for the point and the half ended Teachers 13, B.-P. I. 7.

Hines, entering the game at half time, received a kick on his forty-yard line, shook off two men and behind good interference, ran the left side line for sixty yards and a touchdown. Taking the next B.-P. I. punt on his thirty-yard line, he made another spectacular run of seventy yards and another score a few minutes later. Score: Teachers 25, B.-P. I. 7.

Hines completed a twenty-five and twenty-yard pass to Spears, who ran the twenty-yard pass for the fifth Teacher score. Hale blocked a B.-P. I. punt and Anderson made the score 38-7.

A multitude of Teacher substitutes entered the game at this time and Brewton-Parker blocked Wrinkle's punt behind the goal line for a touchdown. Score: Teacher 38, B.-P. I. 13.

"THE PRETENDER" BE GIVEN FRIDAY

(Continued from page 1)

the most delicate fantasy, poignant tragedy and gayest comedies.

Mr. Bergmann, producer of this organization, has had equal experience in New York productions and road of merit. His most noteworthy performance was with the Shuberts production of "Easy Street" in which he played the leading role. He also played the leading role in "Cappy Ricks," and "Out of the East."

In fact every member of the company has had years of experience on the professional stage and each have been selected for the particular part they are to portray.

Teachers Lose Their First Game

The Teachers lost their first game in four starts last Friday at the hands of Cochran, there, 6-0. The loss of this game practically eliminates the Teachers' hopes of a conference championship.

Cochran's victory was deserved; outplayed the Teachers during most of the 60 minutes, but could only score once. The Teachers offense never got started to clicking, but their defense was good, except for those long passes completed over the secondary head.

Cochran's score came in the first quarter, the result of a blocked punt, recovered on the 20-yard line. A line play, a reverse lateral, and an end run brought the ball up to the two-yard line. Two smashes at tackle got one yard, and first down on the Blue Tide's one-yard line. Two more plays were stopped but the third "buck" went over by inches.

Cochran's superiority was due to the magnificent defensive work of the secondary, to the blocking of three punts and to the completion of numerous passes.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

Work of the Y. M. C. A. has made notable forward strides in certain of its divisions this year. The organization has pledged itself to the National Association of Y's; taken additional orientation work; provided membership cards; secured able and worthwhile lecturers, and is preparing to organize at least one active HiY.

H. M. Rohrer, state Y secretary, and Claude Nelson, in charge of student Christian work in Georgia, have visited the college recently and conducted chapel, discussed all phases of the local Y work with the cabinet members and held conferences with students.

Mr. Nelson, a Rhodes' scholar, consented to take charge of various classes, and in addition to his two enlightening chapel lectures, talked to English literature, history and journalism groups during his two-day visit here.

The Y. M. C. A. has taken in forty new members and many others are expected to join at the next meeting, Wednesday evening, and a very active year's work is planned.

REFLECTOR STAFF HAS BEEN ELECTED

The 1933-34 Reflector staff has been selected and was announced last week as follows: Editor, Josephine Murphy; assistant editor, James Wiggins; literary editor, Helen Olliff; assistant literary editor, Sadie Fulcher; club editor, Eloise Graham; assistant club editor, Bill Stewart; business manager, I. D. Nichols; advertising manager, Gordon Mays; assistant advertising manager, Frances Parker; circulation manager, Blair Salter; assistant circulation manager, Elizabeth Fletcher; art editor, Vida Thurman; photo editor, Sidney Stapleton.

ALUMNI NEWS

Here and There Among the Grads.

(By RUNNA ROUND)

A person never realizes what this or any other generation is up to until you really get out among them. In my limited realm of travel I have learned some things among the old students that I would have never predicted in my immature days at T. C. For instance, I shall cite you a few cases that might be a bit foreign to all the readers of the George-Anne:

Back in the days that Newton Wall and I were struggling through math and history classes together, one would have never thought that the future held for him the honor of being a high school Latin professor. He said to me that he was getting along pretty good with it. "And," he continued, "I at least know more than the pupils that I am teaching."

On a recent visit to one of the most outstanding students of last year's senior class I learned that it is very doubtful whether or not Scott High School would have been able to run this term if they had not gotten such a strong able character to act as chief administrator. According to all the gossip around that town I have concluded that Ralph should have never thought of anything other than educational administration.

While visiting the campus of my old Alma Mater last Monday I was able to learn of many of the graduates, but as the readers of this page also saw them it will be of no use to tell about them. "Handsome Harry" (Jack Thompson) was not there at the teachers meeting, yet if the readers attended the B.-P. I. football game they, no doubt, saw our former hero in action (versus his step Alma Mater).

Those of you who remember Charlie Parker (and those of you who do not know him may boast that fact, as it would be a black spot on your rep) will be pleased to know that he is still attempting to direct the steps of the little folks at Bickley. We have often wondered if he gives his "A's" the same way that he earned his while at T. C. If so, I know that his children do all the work while Charlie sits up and listens to their flattering remarks.

Only a few of the readers will remember Alma Jim Daniel. (That name is not to remain such very long. I saw her today and learned that she is one of those so optimistic that she thinks that two can live as cheaply as one.)

The old lady that lived in a shoe had nothing on our little friend, Ruby Herrington. Ruby is trying to give the right start to 61 little beginners at Oak Park, Ga. We admit that her job is too big but there is nothing that we can do about it. Lonnie Hollingsworth is there; he might have already changed it. Christine Lankford could take some of it, she is in that department.

Until my ship comes in, I'll just ask you, Editor, to wait for me to do more traveling. I think it best not to publish any scandal about those who are doing no better than I.

Just

RUNNA ROUND.

RECEPTION WAS GALA OCCASION

Miss Veazey, the House Council of East Dormitory and the Student Council entertained the student body and faculty with a lovely formal reception on Saturday evening, October 21st, from 8 to 10:30 o'clock in the gymnasium.

The receiving line stood before banked palms and other green foliage effectively arranged on the left side of the entrance. The gymnasium was further decorated with ferns placed at intervals along the orchestra platform and in the corners. Ivy and coral vine were beautifully intertwined along the railing and gray moss combined to make this a very beautiful setting for the affair.

Throughout the evening, a delightful musical program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Z. S. Henderson, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. W. L. Downs and Mrs. Marvin Cox. The readings were coached by Mrs. J. O. Johnston.

Mrs. Alvin Singley and Mrs. Taylor poured tea from silver urns placed on the serving table which was overlaid with an imported lace cloth. In the center of the table a silver vase held cream roses flanked by cream tapers in silver holders.

During the program and while the guests were arriving, Miss Mary Small and Miss Elizabeth Donovan, assisted by a bevy of beautiful girls, served delicious sandwiches, Russian tea and mints, further carrying out the color scheme of pink and white.

Member of the Student Council and House Council in the receiving line with Miss Veazey were: Cliff Hale, Sadie Fulcher, Jake Smith, Corinne Lanier, James Chapman, Louise Quantock, Virginia Edenfield, Mary Wolff, Helen Olliff, Josephine Murphy, Charles Wolff, Helen Godbee, Martha Smith, James Carruth, Mildred Jimmerson, John Gaisert, Sara McCollum, Leonard Kent, Bee Shafe and I. D. Nichols.

Outstanding Books In the Library

Morley, Christopher—

Swiss Family in Manhattan.

Written in the true Morley style and containing some of his best sarcasm. A delightful story dealing with a Swiss clerk and his family who while making a trip by plane are blown off their course by a storm finally landing upon the Empire State Building. Adventure with the head of the family in strange New York. Meet his lady friend and enjoy their lecture tour.

Werner, M. R.—Tammany Hall

A portrayal of Tammany Hall from its beginning up to an including some incidents in the Mayor Walker trial.

Named for an Indian chief of the Delawares, its officers still being called by Indian names, it was organized with one of its objects to fight the aristocrats under Hamilton who had their Society of the Cincinnati. Although it was not political in its beginning within ten years it was the greatest political factor in

(Continued on page 2)

The Snooper

My pal, the editor, suggested that I try to present this drivel in a more entertaining manner (how insulting). but I'm fresh out of ideas today. I have one for the next issue, though. All of you who are suffering from heart trouble or other things just write it out and slip it into the box by the George-Anne office. I'll do the rest. If you haven't any worries of your own, why not send in some of your friends'?

Now for the latest—

Polly has been going places with Cheney, and is he the possessive heman? Ask Polly what happened at the D. S. dance.

Was my face red when I ambled into the lobby of the girls' dormitory and beheld a certain co-ed being embraced by the B. E.? Need I say that Miss Veazey was conspicuous by her absence?

Although I've seen Mary walking up from supper holding hands with Al, and they're being seen everywhere together, she tells me that it's "just a beautiful friendship." What do you think?

Russian tea certainly had its effect on Miss Veazey. I hear she let some boys and girls dance after the reception the other night till almost twelve.

Did you hear Miss Newton refer the other day in chapel to "those of us who smoke?" One never knows, does one?

Have you noticed that Cherry, Parks, Arnold and Stein have joined the ranks of the suicide blonds?

Who would have thought that T. C. would have a date bureau? It took Aunt Sophie to start it, but if these blind dates don't improve, there'll be plenty of us who'll help to stop it.

Wasn't it sweet of Robert to send Sara a box of candy for her birthday?

Wonder how Newell and Ada felt after being so careful as to get out at the gate after riding home with boys and then getting caught after all?

I've been told that Charles has a silent pash for Carmen.

You don't suppose that Roach and McKneely will be going down to Mr. Scott's cane patch anytime soon, do you?

Embarrassing moments: "When 'Co' and Frances walked into biology after putting on old clothes and tromping down to the scout camp thinking they had a field trip instead of a regular lesson.

One of our co-eds made quite a conquest last week end over in Millhaven and she received a letter Tuesday saying he had a cold. Really, she shouldn't have let him linger on the porch so long saying "Goodnite."

EPICUREANS

A Dutch supper was enjoyed by the Epicureans in the social hall of the new training school last Saturday evening. Miss Small chaperoned in the absence of Miss Sophie Johnson, the sponsor of the club.

CLUBS

DUX DOMINA

The Home Economics room was the scene of a banquet Saturday, October 28th, sponsored by Dux Domina, a social club on the campus.

The Hallowe'en spirit prevailed and was carried out in the decorations and favors. After the banquet the members and dates attended the Hallowe'en party in the gymnasium.

Those enjoying this occasion were: Corinne Lanier, Jake Smith, Newelle DeLoach, Cliff Hooten, Sara McCollum, Audrey Pafford, Lottie Rountree, Gordon Fountain, Martha Pippen, Billie Simmons, Polly Mincey, Cheney Griffin, Dot Tomlin, John Herrington, Sara Remington, Bobby McLeMore, Louise Quantock, Fred Mathis, Ada Walden, Frank Quattlebaum, Eloise Bedingfield, Wink Wilkins, Eugenia Marshall, Leonard Kent, Aretha Holloway, Pete Amerson, Marion Roach, Buster Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Z. S. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Smith and Miss Veazey.

THE STUDENT'S CREED

I will blot out of my life the failures that come from wasted hours and write into it the successes that come from time well spent.

I will keep life's pages clean, and fill them with the record of knowledge gained.

I will fix my eyes upon the goal of my ambition, and will hold my hand to its task.

I will work hard, hope high, and live up to the best that is in me; and then I will be able to write at the end, "Well done."—Y. M. C. A. Handbook, Mississippi College.

Before and After the Hallowe'en Party

Come at eight-thirty
And come in a hurry—
But first brace your nerves
For dangerous crooks and curves,
For the "ghosts" will surely get you,
But when they do we'll fetch you
And give you the fun of your life!

And after—
We rowed across the lake
To an awful, awful fate.
We stumbled through the hall of horrors
And met at least a hundred sorrows,
But we had fun!

GET COLLEGIATE
WITH A COLLEGE BELT
AND BUCKLE.
SEE
BOB CHERRY

BACHELORS' CLUB

The members of the Bachelors' Club are entertaining with a banquet in the dining room of the home economics department on November 18. All the bachelors who are away from the college will return for the occasion. A very enjoyable program is being planned under supervision of Misses Bolton and Wood, sponsors.

D. L. D.'s

The D. L. D.'s entertained with a steak fry at the log cabin Wednesday, October 25th, with Miss Small as chaperon.

The members and guests enjoying this occasion were: Louise Benton, James Sullivan, Katherine Melton, Gordon Mays, Sadie Fulcher, Talmadge Ramsey, Mary Hawes, Earl Lee, Torrence Brady, S. D. Duncan, Frances Herrington, Jake Hutchinson, Carmen Brown, Hal Clements, Vida Thurman, Marvin McNeeley, Carolyn Mundy, Jake Smith, Katherine Melton, Sidney Stapleton, Louise Yoemans, Aubrey Pafford.

Dramatic Club to Give "The Trysting Place"

One of Booth Tarkington's delightful one-act plays, "The Trysting Place," will be presented in chapel by the Dramatic Club at an early date, it was decided at the regular meeting of the club Wednesday evening.

The organization has made tentative plans for other entertainments during the year, among which will be a three-act comedy drama directed by Miss Henrietta Doster and possibly another coached by Dramatic Club members.

"The Trysting Place" will be the first of a series of one-act plays given for chapel entertainments and it will not be necessary to allow outsiders to take male roles. An invitation to boys who have had dramatic experience to join was voiced by the

United 5c to $5 Store
STUDENTS
ALWAYS WELCOME

MEET AND EAT AT
THE TEA POT
COLD DRINKS SANDWICHES

Jake Fine, Inc.,

SUCCESSORS TO R. SIMMONS CO.

Department Store

Statesboro, Ga.

A SUGGESTION FOR RETIRING PROFESSORS

According to the Pennsylvania School of Journalism, in its issue of September, William Lyon Phelps, 68, instructor and professor of English literature, Yale University, since 1892, retired last June because he "has work to do." Much private work has accumulated and could not be completed while teaching. Dr. Phelps thinks of retirement as graduation and says, "I look at it the way a senior class ought to look at commencement—with regret at leaving a pleasant post, but eager and in high spirits for the future."

club president in chapel Thursday morning and twenty boys enrolled. No other members will be admitted unless they are taking private or public expression.

T. C. STUDENTS

Your Patronage

Is

Always Appreciated

McLELLAN'S

AT THE STATE THEATRE

Today-Tomorrow

WHEELER and WOOLSEY

in
"SO THIS IS AFRICA"

With

Raquel Torres

Also Comedy and Cartoon.

Wednesday-Thursday

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

in

"TORCH SINGER"

With

Rocardo Cortez, David Manners, Lyda Roberti and Baby LeRoy.

Also Comedy and News Reel.

CONTINUOUS

OPEN 2:45 P. M.

SATURDAY 1 P. M.

COLLEGE RATES

S. G. T. C. STUDENTS

Matinee 20c, 'Til 7:45 p. m.

Evening 25c

ADMISSION

FRIDAY-SATURDAY

15c ALL DAY.