OUR COLLEGE

NEWS ... VIEWS

Marvin Cox, secretary to Congressman Homer C. Parker, spoke in chapel last Friday.

Mr. Russell, at the invitation of the Y. M. C. A., spoke at vesper last Sunday evening.

The Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a social Tuesday evening.

Evidently the girls' attempt to arouse spirit was not in vain, for "Teachers did beat G. M. C."

The physics class went to Mr. Allen's gin in town Wednesday for the purpose of seeing a deisel engine.

Mrs. Weathers, of B.-P. I., who was dietitian here this summer, visited for a short time on the campus Tuesday.

President Wells, Dr. DeLoach and Miss Newton attended the funeral of Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight on St. Simons Island Tuesday.

The visiting committee of the board of regents, Mr. Morgan, of Guyton, and Mr. Burson, of Monroe, spent a day on our campus recently.

Dr. Taylor, of the history department, was a speaker in chapel last week. He gave his interpretation of the meaning of education.

Rev. Wilcox, who is assisting in a meeting at the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Spencer, the pastor, were visitors at chapel Wednesday.

The cabinet members of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. went on a retreat Tuesday evening. They were chaperoned by Mrs. Singley, sponsor of the Y. W.

Mr. M. C. Huntley, executive secretary of the Southern Association, visited our school recently. He will make a report concerning our admittance to the association.

The boys in the West Dormitory feel very grateful to Mr. Wells, Miss Michael, and Miss Sophia for making the lobby so attractive and also for providing the long-wished for radio.

Our George-Anne editor, Leonard Kent, and literary editor, Josephine Murphy, attended the First District Press Association in Savannah last week. Leonard Kent made a talk on the "Newspaper Fraternity."

Boys, bring in your questions to the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. Rev. C. M. Coalson, of the Baptist church, has been invited to conduct a forum at this meeting. This is an experiment and we hope it will prove practical.

GREAT HOME-COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY

The Lobby in West Dormitory Takes on Home-Like Atmosphere

Since Miss Sophia Johnson has become matron of the boys in West Dormitory, the entire surroundings have taken on a more home-like and more comfortable atmosphere. Many new things have been added to the lobby and throughout the building.

The lobby has been completely done over with damask draperies and lovely light tan curtains that blend with the other furniture. Both the lobby and the living room floors have been covered with congoeum rugs of a rich brown and tan shade. All the furniture has been re-upholstered in brown ox and painted a mellow brown. The wicker furniture has been done over in enamel.

In addition to all the improvements in the furniture, an Atwater-Kent radio has been added. An attractive wall mirror, smoking stands, new tables, and a very beautiful table lamp all go to make the living room and lobby more complete. All these further carry out the color motif of cream and brown.

On the second floor a little parlor is being completed adjoining Miss Johnson's apartment. This room will have wicker furniture also and the walls will be painted a light shade of blue. The purpose of the parlor is for conference with Miss Johnson and also a place for the boys to receive special visitors.

FROSH TEST RESULTS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Highest Scores in English Placement, Content Reading and Psychological Exams Distributed Among Different Students; Boys Rank Higher in Median Scores.

Results of the English placement contest, reading and psychological examinations given to members of the Freshmen class, have been completed and median scores have been formulated. These tests were required of every freshman and were given under the direction of Dean Z. S. Henderson. In checking the results of the entire class it was found that the median score in the high school content test was 8 points better than the median score of last year's freshmen. The median score in the psychological test was found to be 9 points better than that of last year.

In the English placement test, Mildred Brannen, Jesup, and Herbert

Taylor, Dublin, tied for high score; Albert Baldwin, Dublin, was second, and Frances Lewis was third. The median score was 51.

Marvin McKneely, Griffin, and John Thayer, Statesboro, made the highest score on the reading test. Joe Stein, Colquitt, was second and Ray McKown, Maude, Oklahoma was third. The median score was 93.

On the high school content examination, John Thayer, Statesboro, came first; J. E. Bowen, Statesboro, came second, and Marvin McKneely, Griffin, third. The median score was 97.

Mildred Brannen, Jesup, ranked first on the psychological test; George A. Carter, Cusseta, made second, and Sara McCollum, Albany, made third. The median score was 101.

	Possible Score	High Score	Low Score
English Placement	100	89	14

Girls Co-operate to Aid Needy Families

Members of the Home Economics classes are aiding in the relief work of the community. Aided by Miss Bolton, they are helping to provide for those members of families who are needy.

There are some thirty articles of clothing which are to be made by members of the classes. This is being done in co-operation with the American Red Cross, who furnishes the

Home Economics Club Has Riotous Carnival

The Home Economics Club, together with the members of the Home Economics Department, were sponsors of a delightful carnival which was held in the College gymnasium Saturday night.

Among the features of the carnival were seven side shows, a dog zoo, three fortune tellers, a fish pond, and a stand where fruits, hot dogs and lemonade were sold. The College orchestra played for those wishing to dance.

ALUMNI RETURN FOR BIG EVENT

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED TO WITNESS THE TURKEY DAY FOOTBALL GAME.

Thursday, November 30th, Thanksgiving Day, will be home-coming day for alumni of South Georgia Teachers College. Many old students scattered over the state and throughout the South will be on hand for the festivities. All students will enjoy a holiday. The morning will be given over to renewing old friendships and acquaintances. Sons and daughters of T. C. will live again memories of their days on the campus.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, our own Blue Tide meets Newberry College in the annual Turkey Day football game. Both teams are so evenly matched that this game should prove the most interesting of the season and the Athletic Association extends a very cordial invitation to all alumni of the institution to attend this game.

This contest with Newberry closes a most successful football season and is a fitting climax to home-coming day.

Now, a word to the alumni: The alumni of South Georgia Teachers College pay no dues, the Athletic Association has never called upon them for help, nor do they expect to. The association wants the alumni to attend all the games, whether they be football, basketball or baseball.

It is the hope of the Athletic Association that many alumni have been able to see the four games scheduled at home this season.

The association welcomes all alumni and wants them to come back to T. C. often. A college spirit that will live forever, and athletic teams that are making history are in process of building at the Teachers College.

DR. LUCIAN LAMAR KNIGHT

The death of Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight at the close of the Georgia Bi-centennial is indeed a reminder of what he did for Georgia in revealing and preserving her history. For many years his works were enjoyed by only by scholars, but gradually they are becoming more appreciated by the masses. He did much to lift his state from the dust of the past to the highlights of the present, thus making it a better place for tomorrow.

Twenty-six years ago he wrote, "Reminiscences of Georgia." This book interested only professional students and people in organizations such as United Daughters of the Confederacy. A few years later he published "Georgia Landmarks, Memorials and Legends," in which he gave a description of the shrines and historic spots in each county in the state. His next work was "Georgia and Georgians," a somewhat systematic history in six volumes.

Between the year of 1913-1919 he compiled the official records of Georgia. From 1919-1925 he served in the capacity of state historian, during which time he laid the foundation of a work for which Georgia will be ever indebted to him.

In the spring of this year he contributed over a thousand books to our library. This meant much to the college in different ways, not only are the books a pleasure and use to the students, but they also aid in placing the college where it desires to be so far as standards are concerned. One room in the library has been given to the collection of biographies and histories of Dr. Knight, while the remainder of his books have been placed out in the library.

In view of what he did for Georgia and the school we wish the following to be placed among the archives of the school:

Resolutions on the Death of Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight
To the Members of the Family of the Beloved Lucian Lamar Knight:

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. Lucian Lamar Knight, the college has lost a friend whose life of service and generosity has meant so much to the state of Georgia and the South;

That his memory will ever be cherished by the students of South Georgia Teachers College in that his library which he gave to the college will be a source of inspiration to its students for generations to come. Be it further

Resolved, That sympathy be extended to his family and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them and a copy be printed in the college paper.

THE STUDENT BODY,
By CLIFF HALE,
JEWEL GREEN,
VIRGINIA EDENFIELD.

Ye Sons of Toil!

Landy's Aggies or Landy's boys! We have heard so much about them lately until we decided to investigate and find out who they are and what they do.

It seems that they are a group of boys working around the campus under the direction of Mr. Landrum. It is federal relief work or R. F. C., or N. R. A., or something of the sort.

Anyway they seem to be having plenty of fun as well as hard work with pay.

Several afternoons a week you see them going forth arrayed in their working clothes. They have such ragged and so few clothes on that you might well believe they were starting a "back to nature" movement.

With their hoes across their shoulders they present quite a different picture from the one portrayed in Markham's poem, "Man With a Hoe;" a picture more rather like the one pictured by Whittier in his poem, "Barefoot Boy," with cheeks of tan.

We interviewed several of these boys so as to get a few lights on the Aggies. And here is what they say in their own words:

"Mr. Landrum's Aggies are making a most wonderful drive to beautify the potential golf course. They have just completed a good piece of work known as the yellow weed drive."

"F. W. Quattlebaum makes his work a pleasure by getting the Aggies about him and pulling his well known faking that work only with him."

"If there is any doubt as to the sincerity of Professor Harold D. Roberts, consult one of the Aggies. He has told them everything."

"Freshman Rowdy Dowdy Muscle-Bound James Chapman has begun to use the heavier instruments and it is real entertainment to watch the massive body of the Greek God respond to the call that seems to the rest to utter impossibility."

"J. C. Hines has offered a point that is considered very educational. He, by experiment, has shown how work is not tiring, but laziness is. He is a very important member also in keeping Farmer Fulford steady on the job."

"Rountree Lewis, who is a new member, is welcomed by the others. Through careful consideration we find he wields a nasty hoe."

"Jake Smith has become a full-fledged Aggie through transfer from the Portal chapter."

"Mr. Scott should be named official time-keeper as he keeps their time centered to the outcome of some bogus joke. We make them all go over."

Visit the Aggies. Their style can't be cramped. They are ever onward.

WHICH ARE YOU?

If a student studies, he's a bookworm; if he doesn't, he's a fake. If he flunks, he's unlucky; if he passes, he's a cribber. If he knows his lessons, he's a smart-aleck; if he doesn't, he's a dumb-bell. If he has ideas, he's a crank; if he doesn't, he's a numb-skull. If he spends money, he's a spendthrift; if he doesn't, he's a tightwad. If he's quiet, he's conceited; if he's sociable, he's a pain. If he talks, he's a chatter-box; if he doesn't, he's an oyster. If he's religious, he's a fanatic; if he's not he's a heathen. If he dies rich, he's a skinflint; if he doesn't, he's a pauper. Now, I ask you very confidentially—which are you?

MONDAY MORNING THOUGHTS Of the Absinthe-Minded Professor

(Anonymous)

Here I sit, so stern and stiff,
And cannot help but wonder if,
To those in front, I seem to be
As dumb as they appear to me.

Mugs of freshmen all remind us,
We may look a perfect blank,
Yet departing leave behind us
Money in a solvent bank.

Oh, who has not thought, as on Monday he wakes:
"What a whale of a difference a week end makes!"

"I'm headin' for the first round-up,"
Said little Johnny Bass.
"What! You mean a rodeo?"
"No—that seven-thirty class."

"Who's afraid of the big bad prof?"
The sleepy freshman cries,
And turns off the old alarm clock
And shuts his little eyes.

And sinks back on his pillow
To dream of pleasant things,
Like lovely, gold-haired angels—
But not the kind with wings;

And thinking of the classroom,
He murmurs as in prayer,
"When the roll is called up yonder,
I will not be there."

1933 BLUE TIDE

T. C.'s Blue Tide that will meet Newberry on the home field Thanksgiving for the closing game of the season. Bottom row, left to right: Henry Bussey, Robert Griffin, James Sullivan, J. D. Cherry, Leon Park, Cliff Hale, Durward Fulford, J. C. Hines, Cohen Anderson. Middle row: Coonie Riggs, John Burgeson, Charlie Munch, Frank Quattelbaum, Pete Amerson, Marvin Smith, Emden McCranie, Harold McKneely, Melton Spears, Howell Martin. Back row: Coach B. L. Smith; James Chapman, Asst. Mgr.; Hal Clements, Mike Hendrix, Eugene Bell, Bob Cherry, James Carruth, Richard Saunders, William Garrison, J. W. Riggs, manager.

CADETS DEFEATED BY TIDE ELEVEN

The Teachers invaded Milledgeville November 18th, to defeat the strong G. M. C. team 12-9.

It made the fifth victory for the Teachers, as compared to two losses. Since G. M. C. beat Cochran 12-0, our win over G. M. C. takes a little of the sting from our 6-0 defeat by that team.

In the opening kick-off Fulford fumbled and G. M. C. recovered on the T. C. thirty-five yard line. Held for downs, the Cadets punted to the Teachers' ten-yard line. The Blue Tide failed to make a first down, and with Anderson back in punt formation, Bussey snapped the ball over his head. He fell on it back of his own goal line for a safety, giving the Milledgeville team two points.

Not on the least discouraged by this "break," the Teachers drove back up the field. Hines started the drive by intercepting a pass and going to the G. M. C. forty-yard line. The Blue Tide did not stop till Jake Hines had plunged the final few yards for a touchdown. Most of the ground was gained by Hines, but Spears made two long distance runs on reverse plays. A pass for the extra point was incomplete.

In less than two minutes the Teachers were back in Cadet territory again. T. C. kicked off, held G. M. C. for downs and then Hines returned the Cadets' punt twenty yards to the G. M. C. forty-yard line. From here the Teachers, employing a power house offense, shooting Hines off tackle, Fulford through the line, and occasionally Spears on a reverse, pushed the Cadets right back on their goal line, Hines finally going over from the five-yard line. Dropkick for the point was bad. Soon afterward,

G. M. C. took advantage of a recovered fumble on the T. C. forty-yard line to drive down the field and score. A fifteen-yard pass by Hartman (their power house) was completed over the goal line for their lone touchdown. A place kick gave them the extra point.

The Teachers were inside the G. M. C. ten-yard line five times, and five times failed to push over the marker.

A last-minute air attack by the Cadets thrilled the spectators, but Anderson intercepted one to end this rally. The game ended with the ball in the Teachers possession on the G. M. C. ten-yard line; the score being 12-9 in the Blue Tide's favor.

Basketball Team To Play Mercer

Now that the last football game is only three days away, thoughts of basketball are filling many minds.

Practice started last week for those not out for football. Coach expects every candidate to meet him Monday, December 4th, for the first official practice.

The Teachers should have a most successful season. From squads of previous seasons, Spears, Hines, J. E. Smith, Pafford, Stewart, Purvis, Amerson, Wrinkle and Shell seem to be the outstanding candidates. New men who seem to have bright prospects of making the "charmed circle" are DuBose, Donaldson, Stein, Gwynn, Carter, Arnold, Wilkes, Parks. There may be more who should be on one of these lists, but nothing can be stated definitely at this time.

The Teachers open the 1933-34 season here with Mercer, December 14th, at the College. Many other strong teams have been scheduled. A complete schedule will appear in the next issue of the George-Anne.

Blue Devils Declared Conference Winners

When Blue Devils repulse the charges, rams, butts and whatever else Nanny Goats do to score touchdowns in intra-mural football, they immediately become campus champions, especially if they counter charge and score seven points while holding the weaker sex to nothing, and that is precisely how it happened. Thursday in the final game of the season, the play for the title.

The forked-tailed Purgatorians, captained by Satan Donaldson, did most everything to Nanny Hooten's sisters, but crate 'em and ship east before claiming the game as their own.

This was the decisive battle of the league and the contest was a fitting culmination of an attractive campus athletic program. A definite schedule was arranged by team captains before the playing season and every team played a "round-robin."

Following is the final standing:

	Played	Won	Lost	Perc't
Blue Devils	6	5	1	.833
Nanny Goats	6	4	2	.666
Taboos	5	3	2	.600
Skunks	5	3	2	.600
Blue Tide Jr.	5	1	4	.200
Trojans	5	0	5	.000

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB ELECTS

The Social Science Club held its first regular meeting in Room 9 Monday evening at 7 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president, J. T. Alexander. The president being the only officer elected for this year who returned. A business session was entered into in which the following elections were made:

Vice-president, Virginia Edenfield.
Secretary, Elizabeth Collins.
Treasurer, Herschel Sessions.
Reporter, Bill Bennett.

The question of membership requirements was discussed. Upon a suggestion from Dr. Taylor, club sponsor, it was decided that to be a member one must have had the equivalent of three courses in social science, which includes history, sociology, economics and geography. Also those who are now taking sufficient work to complete the requirements will be admitted.

After the business was disposed of the following program was given:

Violin solo—Torrence Brady, accompanied by Leland Cox.

Reading, "Brotherly Love"—Isabel Cross.

Talk on college and the poor boy—Dr. DeLoach.

This is a comparatively new organization on the campus, having been created last year. However, it should be one of the most important ones. The object of the club is to discuss together the problems and events of current interest in connection with social science in general. It is of great importance that we become familiar with and develop the right attitudes toward the situations which confront us.

This is not an exclusive club and all persons eligible for membership are invited and urged to join. The next meeting will be Monday, December 4, at 7:00 p. m., in Room 9.

A Young Lady's Guide to Football

Football Field: Pretty grass-covered rectangle where 22 darling boys attempt to assassinate each other every Saturday during the fall.

Referee: White-clad man who blows whistle like a traffic cop. To be booed when he picks up ball and strides towards your goal.

Coach: Scowling figure who sits on bench and berates boys towards better efforts. Tough and to be avoided.

Team: (a) Your, fine group of splendid young men who bravely fight (b) other team composed of hoodlums and roughnecks who have all the luck.

Star: The best looking player on the squad; (b) any player you've ever had a date with; (c) the one who just carried the ball.

Rules: Incoherent writings of no significance.

Penalty: When inflicted on your team, unjust loss of yardage by a biased official; (b) When inflicted on other team, just penalty for foul violation by hoodlums.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club gave a picnic at Lovers' Hill Monday afternoon from 4 to 7. A delightful lunch was prepared. Each member carried a date. Miss Perry chaperoned.

BACHELORS CLUB

Bachelors "Off" Night was celebrated Friday, November 23rd. The dining hall proved to be the rendezvous where each bachelor took his date to dinner. The huge room was decorated in bachelor colors. Throughout the dinner the following program was carried out:

Welcome—Cliff Hale.

Solo—Newelle DeLoach.

Talk—Why Bachelors Don't Bach—Miss Sophia Johnson.

Novelty—Club.

Speech—Walton Usher.

Ralph Henderson, an old member, was officially discharged from all realms of bachelorhood. After the banquet all the members and dates met in the Training School for a social hour.

Intra-Mural Program Announced for Fall

An intra-mural athletic program for the winter term—the most intensive ever attempted here—is announced today by Coach Smith.

Basketball, according to the announcement, will be the sole activity. Teams will be organized and will spend nine weeks preparing for tournaments. Each team will be composed of eight men, five players and three substitutes. There will be two leagues, ten teams in each. These leagues will play elimination tournaments, with the best teams from each entering a championship play in early March.

This program is calculated to give physical education to 160 men and may prove a forward step in our physical training department.

EXCHANGE NEWS

We notice from the Colonnade that there have been many changes at G. S. C. W. Whoops!

At Fordham it appears that the faculty are appointed by name. Father Dean is dean, a father Whalen acts as administrator of discipline, Mr. Shouten is in charge of debating, and finally Mr. Voelkal (pronounced "vo-cal") is in charge of the glee club. —Phoenix.

At a recent luncheon in Atlanta given in honor of Mr. Richard Halliburton he stated: "When I want to write, I lie down in the middle of the floor and chew a pencil." Perhaps this suggestion will help the Freshman English classes.

And speaking of psychology, nagging and lack of independence are the two things adolescents suffer most from their parents, according to the data obtained from the adolescent psychology class at Wesleyan College.

Appeals to Students For Co-operation

The Athletic Association is bringing to Statesboro Thanksgiving, Newberry College, one of the outstanding football teams in the Southern Inter-collegiate Athletic Association.

The Athletic Association is extremely desirous to make this event a success. We must have the co-operation of the students and faculty. To make this day a success we wish the students to help us with the following:

Explain to the public why it is necessary to charge $1.00 for the game.

Help us advertise the game throughout Southeast Georgia. When you write a letter, mention the game, invite our friends.

At the game, help us keep the crowd (which we expect to be large) behind the railings, help us keep the crowd orderly.

All students sit together at the game and yell, and yell. Show the boys that they have four hundred and fifty students on the sideline backing them.

Help us make the day a happy one for visiting alumni.

If we can do these things, and we must have your help, the association can bring to Statesboro each year one of the outstanding football teams in the South.

Bragging and worrying were mentioned by a large number of students.

Suggestions have been voiced by the students at Connecticut State demanding half the royalties on their examination paper, which are sold to humorous publications.

Old Grad: "Shy, orifisher, isn't thish the way to go to the football game?"

Cop: "You bet; and if I wasn't on duty, I'd do that way too."

—Colonnade.

ALUMNI NEWS

Here and There Among the Grads.

Dear Editor:

What would be better for the column this week than hope to meet all of the old gang back at the Homecoming Day? Personally, I think that the administration should issue passes to all those who have places teaching school as they are not able to attend football games and go to the expense of a trip back to our Alma Mater. The athletic department could earn a well deserved name of a one hundred per cent Alma Papa for such a noble deed. It would be an honor to the school to have such notables as "Sixty-yard" Pritchard, "Ten-second" Dewberry, and you could have as your personal guest in the press box, Mr. Gait Krasher.

Another way in which a good homecoming would be beneficial is the fact that the alumni could get together and swap their talks about the financial conditions in their county.

Under the strict supervision of Prof. E. K. Bell, our former friend, Miss May Seigler is pushing forward in the educational field at Gillis Springs. Of course there are other fields around this community but May says her work so far is confined to that of education. By the time she has been at it as long as some of us she will be in other fields as well. All the cotton in this community is about gathered.

Help us to have a swell time Thanksgiving as I shall be expecting to see my many cohorts on that day of celebration. I hope to meet "Free Enlargement" Stapleton for a few minutes behind the gym.

Tell that guy who calls himself the circulation manager of your paper that I am expecting my copy before time for the Reflector to come out. I could at least see the pictures along with the news.

Tucker's Orchestra Play At Home-Coming Dance

George Tucker and his orchestra, composed of eight artists, have been booked to furnish the music for the Teachers' Homecoming Dance, November 30th. George is the brother of Tommie Tucker and his Californians, and what a band he has! A former student, Eddie McCall, is a member of the band. George Tucker and his band are at present playing at the Rathskellar and Jewell's in Savannah.

This orchestra has just completed an engagement at the American-Chinese Restaurant in New York City. The music will start at 9 o'clock at the Armory in Statesboro.
