Dr. Syed Hassan Ahmed receives honors

December 12, 2018

Syed Hassan Ahmed, assistant professor of Computer Science, has received several honors recently. Dr. Ahmed has been selected as a Distinguished Speaker for the Association of Computing Machinery (ACM). Any ACM student chapter may request him to speak at their event. More information on ACM Distinguished Speakers is available at <https://speakers.acm.org/about/purpose>, and Dr. Ahmed's profile is available at https://speakers.acm.org/speakers/ahmed_10503.

The Board of Governors of the IEEE Vehicular Technology Society has appointed Dr. Ahmed as Liaison to the IEEE Young Professional Society.

Springer has published Dr. Ahmed's first book since he joined Georgia Southern, and his third book overall: "Security in Smart Cities: Models, Applications and Challenges." Click here to order and find out more about this essential guide to IoT security, smart cities, IoT applications, etc.
